"THREE LITTLE MAIDS"

"Three Little Maids," the delightful English musical comedy production that Mr. Wm. A. Colvin presents at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, September 24th, has been declared by critics of discernment to be the only legitimate successor of "The Geisha," upon the great vogue of which recent light opera successes have been founded. Its music sparkles with charm and the lines fairly bristle with merit from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

The large cast of principals is augmented by a chorus which is notable not only for its vocal ability but for the physical beauty of its personnel.

A notable cast will be headed by the favorite English comedian, Douglas A. Patterson, who will be supported by the artists: Miss Birdie Luttereil, late prima donna of the "Prince of Pilsen Company,"; Miss Clara Lloyd, late of the Rogers Bros. Co.; Miss Maud Proctor, a shining light in the world of light opera.

The beautiful results of the scenic artists are best exemplified in the three acts, the first being the Golf Links on the heath, just outside of London, the second a Dutch tea-room in London, and the third, lovely conservatory and ball room, of the titled Lady St. Mallory.

THE RAILWAYS AND THE Y.M.C.A.

Associations Have Been Established at Chapleau and Schreiber ---What an Official Says

The following is from "Association Men," the trade journal of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America, a magazine which every live association members should read. "A party of Canadian Railway officials left Montreal on July 6th, to attend the formal opening of two Railroad Associations at Chapleau and Schreiber, on the Lake Superior Division. This division is one of the most difficult to operate on the system, as for five hundred miles the road runs through a rugged and uninhabited country. Chapleau and Schreiber, two of the most lonesome and forsaken terminals on the division were chosen for Young Men's Christian Association experiment stations. The buildings are exactly alike in plan and furnishings, each having sleeping accommodation for forty-four men, three bowling alleys and two pool tables, in addition to the other usual features. The buildings cost $46,000, Chapleau was first opened and Schreiber the following day. Mr. Vaughan, assistant to the vice-president, in charge of the motive power, said, 'The company first proposed erecting boarding houses, but realizing their inadequacy to meet the need, added the social attractions of the bowling alleys and pool rooms. They intrusted the operation of the buildings to the Association because of its unselfish purpose to serve men without financial gain.' General Superintendent Brady said, 'We do not say that our men must patronize the association, but I tell you frankly that the men who prefers to hang around the saloons rather than come to these buildings, will be looked upon with suspicion.' On the return journey this group of officials mentioned eight other terminals between Fort William and Halifax, which they thought should have buildings similar to the ones at Chapleau and Schreiber. The success at these places means another system work, and one of the largest on the continent."

NORTH COUNTRY IS ABLAZE WITH THE FOREST FIRES

Lindsay Post says.—Mr. William O'Brien, of Peterborough, traveller for the Imperial Tobacco Co., arrived in town this morning from the north country, which he says is all ablaze from forest fires. He was in Kinmount Thursday and reports that a fierce fire is raging about half a mile from the exhibition grounds.

In Wilberforce on the 9th instant, Mr. O'Brien states that fires were raging on all sides and penetrated the property of Matthews & Cummings, graphite miners. The flames ignited the sheds in which the dynamite was stored and the explosion which followed entirely wrecked the plant and the surrounding buildings.

The fire in the vicinity of the village of Bancroft is assuming such proportions that the settlers are fighting it day and night, and on Wednesday the village fire brigade and engine fought the fire which threatened to sweep the place.

TWO MISSIONARIES FOR INDIA GAVE ADDRESSES

Before the Young People of the City at Murray St. Church Last Evening—Two Young Men Leave Next Month for India.

There was a large attendance at the missionary meeting at the Murray street Baptist church last night, when addresses were delivered by two young men, Messrs. Roy Benson, B.A., and Clark Tempany, B.A., graduates of McMaster university, who are leaving in October to take up missionary work in India.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the B.Y.P.U. of Murray St. church. The young peoples' societies of the different churches were represented in fairly large numbers.

The chair was taken by Rev. J. R. Webb.

Mr. Walter Garbutt gave the address of welcome to the visiting societies. It was responded to by Rev. J. H. Bonner of Gilmour church and Secretary Hassard of the Y.M.C.A. Scripture was read by Mr. Robt. Laing and prayers said by Rev. Mr. Riddiford of Park street church.

Rev. J. R. Webb introduced Mr. Tempany who spoke first. In beginning he said that the call to the foreign field had come very strongly to him. He saw the condition of this great mass of people and his desire was to assist in raising them from their low state of heathenism to christianity. He felt that India was to be saved as a nation and the political reorganization of the country was the first necessary step to be taken and India must have a political religion.

He reviewed the horrible conditions of this great country and asked those present if the call for assistance did not go out to them. There are many reform movements, he said for the abolition of the caste, but it has an awful grip on the people and they are trying to tear free from it.

India is awakening in the matter of education. Foreign universities are registering more and more India students every year. The schools of India are all filled and the colleges have all the students they can handle. But India wants more knowledge. She craves for European learning and her sons and daughters are travelling abroad in search of this.

The speaker in conclusion referred to the religion of the country and asked those present to be with them in their work.

Mr. Benson next spoke, his remarks being along the same lines as the previous speaker.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a social time was spent.

John Hill, a G. T. R. engineer at London, found a pocketbook with a cheque for $100 in it.

He will preach at St. Luke's church tomorrow. The Archbishop is an eloquent speaker and on his previous visits to Peterborough, has greatly pleased those who were fortunate enough to hear him.

FRITZ MOHL WINS FROM ROONEY THE CHICAGO WRESTLER

Fritz Mohl the stalwart wrestler, who made himself such a good boy with the Peterborough fans wrestled in Hartford, Conn., on Thursday night and was successful. Fritz was matched against Pat Roooney, the well known Chicago police wrestler, and as both men were the same size, a good match was the result.

Mohl lost the first fall in 24 minutes, being thrown with an arm-lock and head hold. The second fall went to Fritz in 14 minutes the policeman going down with a reverse body hold. The third bout was strenuous. Mohl had his man all over the stage and completely beat him in 9 minutes. A big crowd saw the match.

Mohl is matched against his old rival Lundin, and the match will be pulled off in Hartford. Lundin is a wonderfully fast man and Mohl will have to perform in great shape to beat him.

HASSAN ABDALLAH, THE BIG SYRIAN TO BE HERE MONDAY

Is Confident That He Will Defeat Hurtubise but Will Likely Get a Surprise—Local Man is in Fine Shape.

Hassan Abdallah, the big Syrian wrestler who meets Gene Hurtubise at the Brock street rink next Wednesday night, will arrive in Peterborough on Monday. He wears his picturesque costume of his native land and will no doubt come in for a lot of attention when he hits the asphalt here. The Oriental grappler has been working out with several big fellows at Montreal and it is said looks the go with Hurtubise as merely a training stunt as he believes himself much superior to the local boy. However, Hassan is likely to pull up with a dull thud like Yankee Rogers did when he first appeared here. Gene is in great shape and it must be remembered that he stayed with Yankee Rogers much longer than many men with big reputations.

Hurtubise is looked upon by some wrestling experts who have seen him as a diamond in the rough and it is predicted that he will soon be the main thing in the Canadian wrestling arena. He has learned a lot about the game lately and can be depended upon to give the Terrible Syrian a night that he will not soon forget.

The preliminaries to the big bout on Wednesday night will be a fifteen minute go between Bobby Long and "Teddy" Crowe and a fifteen minute bout between George Lilly and Geo. Wilson, two local boys.

The referee has not yet been agreed upon but a good man will be secured as the Abdallah-Hurtubise match is regarded as one of the most important of the season.

WILL PLAY WITH FORT WILLIAM

Paddy McDonough Will Return There From Chicago

Paddy McDonough, who was a member of the Wanderer hockey team last season and who has been playing lacrosse for the Shamrocks of Chicago, this summer intends returning to Fort William for the winter. He will be accompanied by W. Taylor, who played for Brantford last season.

McDonough and Taylor have been playing fast lacrosse for the Shamrocks, champions of the Chicago City League. There are three teams in the league and every player is a Canadian. The Shamrocks are managed by James O'Connor and Charles Carney, former Brantford boys.

Art. Leader, another hockey player who was with Brandon for two seasons is also on the line up of the Irishmen. —Fort William Times-Journal.

CARROLL IS REFEREE

Billy Carroll has been accepted as referee of the big wrestling bout on October 25th by Hurtubise and Charlie Conkle stated this morning that Billy was acceptable to him. Billy Carroll's ability in that line is well known and a better official for the bout could not have been secured.—Hamilton Spectator.

Earl Grey has left for Regina to go duck shooting.

THE ISSUE NOW INTERNATIONAL

Longboat Controversy Not Yet Over—Where Will it Wind up?

New York, Sept. 18.—The Times to-day says:—While it has been generally thought that there would be nothing more heard or done in the case of Tom Longboat, the Indian, who was allowed to compete in the Marathon race at the Olympic games in London, notwithstanding the fact that he had been declared a professional by the governing organization of Amateur Athletics in the United States, it became known yesterday that the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States are seriously considering the matter of severing all relations with the Amateur Athletic Union of England, which was chiefly responsible for Longboat's appearance in that race, and if the present feelings of some of the A.A.U. members do not undergo a change by the time the board of governors has its annual meeting in November, all athletic ties between the two countries will be discontinued.

The controversies at the Olympic games have nothing to do with the latest move of the Americans, according to the Times, the running of Longboat alone in the famous race that John J Hayes won being the sole cause.

SPORTING COMMENT

Its back to the razors and the shears for Jimmy Reynolds. Jim's a good fellow who wouldn't be dared.

Jimmy Reynolds has decided to give up walking stunts. He essayed to walk over the old course Port Hope to Toronto and back in 33 hours on Monday and gave up the alleged attempt just east of Bowmanville on Tuesday being over an hour behind schedule time. He was all in when he passed through town. That whole party should quit the job and find some honorable occupation.—Bowmanville Statesman.

Messrs. G. S. Galley, A. E. Fulford and G. W. Garnott attended the big athletic meet in Peterborough last night under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers of that city. The visitors report an excellent time and a first-class exhibition of athletic skill. Bobby Kerr, Longboat, Archibald, Skene and Tait, of the Olympic team, took part.—Port Hope Guide.

PRESENTATION TO MR. COWIE

Former Local Boy and His Wife Honored by Friends in California

The Daily Messenger, of Porterville, California, contains the following account of a "cotton surprise" given Mr. and Mrs. H. Cowie. Mr. Cowie is a son of Mr. Wm. Cowie, of this city:

When a couple has been married for a whole year according to the old wedding anniversary custom, they enjoy their cotton wedding. It so happened that Mr. and Mrs. Cowie, the former the foreman in the Messenger—Enterprise office, had been married just 365 days on Friday and the fact that Friday was their wedding anniversary had been treasured by some good friends for many weeks, that a surprise might be worked on these estimable couple and especially upon Mrs. Cowie.

The word was cautiously passed around and about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon a long line of ladies was seen to assemble at the Cowie home on Hockett street, each carrying a bundle containing a cotton token for the bride.

Some brought muslin by the yard, while others brought sheets, pillow cases, handkerchiefs, napkins, aprons, thread, crochet cotton, and in fact anything and everything that even looked like cotton. Mrs. Cowie met them at the door and they literally loaded her down with parcels. As they departed the large dining room table was fairly filled to overflowing with the tokens of their best wishes. The surprise was complete since it was so arranged that Mrs. Cowie and Mrs. B. L. Carpenter were to go calling and while they were discussing whether or not it was too warm of the surprise was sprung.

While the surprise was planned for Mrs. Cowie in particular it would be a hard matter to celebrate a wedding anniversary without the groom and a telephone message was sent to the printing office for Mr. Cowie. Thinking that the good wife wanted a loaf of bread for supper, the genial foreman wiped a "gob" of ink from his chin with his shirt sleeve and responded to the hello.

"Hello hello," shouted Mr. Cowie as he placed his lips to the rubber. Before he had time to receive an answer his face took on a look of suspicion and he remarked. "What—Hello Hello, Yes, this is me. Want me down there! Yes I guess so. But say—who—Yes, I'll be down in a minute if its necessary."

Mr. Cowie hung up the receiver as he remarked. "There is certainly something doing down there at my house from the noise that I heard over the 'phone. Guess the house must be full of women." He removed his apron and left the office. An hour or so later he returned, and, judging from the smile he wore, he had evidently been given a royal reception.

The presents were numerous and useful now, and some of them will be useful in the future. In fact the time limit on one article was marked to expire seven years hence.

Mount Everest of the Himalayas is the highest mountain peak in the world, being over 29,000 feet high. The 18,000,000 packets representing one year's output of "Salada" Tea would, if placed end to end produce a pyramid 5,600,000 ft. in height or 193 times higher than the highest mountain in the world. Can you grasp the magnitude of the demand for "Salada" Tea.

CANARY BIRD WAS STOLEN

Lady on William Street Would Like to Get Information About it.

About half past one or two o'clock Thursday afternoon a boy was seen by a neighbor's boy to come up on to the verandah of 280 William street, pull out the rocking chair and climb up and take the bird out of the cage.

Two prints of the boy's bare feet were seen in the dust on the chair which indicated that he would be about twelve years old. The owner of the bird highly prized it on account of it being a beautiful warbler. If anybody is asked to purchase a green bird it will likely be the one that was taken from the verandah. Anyone who can give information please call at 280 William street.

DECISION OF MAGISTRATE IS UPHELD

The conviction of "Queenie" Grant by Magistrate Dumble of Peterborough, for being an inmate of a disorderly house and her sentence by him to a year in the Mercer Reformatory, were upheld in the Divisional Court at Toronto by Chief Justice Mulock and Justices Anglin and Clute. A motion had been filed in August to quash the conviction on the ground that the Magistrate had power to sentence her for only six months but the Deputy-Attorney-General pointed out that chap. 148 sec. 67, dealing with the Andrew Mercer Reformatory, says that "any female found guilty of being an inmate of a disorderly house may be sentenced for any term less than two years; or a term not more than six months if a fine is imposed." The plaintiff has to pay the costs."

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got The New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review Does Not Hold Itself Responsible for Opinions Expressed by Correspondents

LYING BY DEPUTY

Editor of the Review:

Dear Sir,—It is a good thing to have somebody between you and the Devil. So Mr. Stratton chooses the Editor, etc. of the World. Most people will have seen yesterday's extract from the latter paper in last night's Examiner, which amongst other things states that Mr. Stratton high mindedly (?) refused a Senatorship, &c, &c. Now, I wish to ask Mr. Stratton through your columns when and by whom was he was offered this honorable position.

I would be pretty nearly all I possess that he was never offered it by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who alone, has the power to make such an offer, and I am quite confident that Sir Wilfrid would if compelled, substantiate this statement.

One more question; If the Senatorship was offered, why was it necessary to go on bended knee, to all and sundry and ask for the position not so long ago.

Lastly will "Truthful James" withdraw the seal of confidence, say from Mr. John Finlay of East Peterborough and allow him to answer the above queries.

Yours very truly,
LIBERAL.

RECORDS OF REPRESENTATIVES

To the Editor of The Review,

Dear Sir, — The articles which appear in the Examiner nearly every day now, lauding J. R. Stratton, and making a greater man of him than any other man who was born into this world, would be ludicrous, if they were not sad. If the editor keeps on in that strain he will come to believe all he writes, himself. Now let us look back some years and see what our representatives in both Houses have done for this riding.

To start with the House of Commons and that old veteran Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., what did he do in his day at Ottawa? Well, he has to his credit a postoffice and customs house.

Next comes Mr. Jas. Kendry, M.P., Unfortunately, he was in the cold shades of opposition and as a grit government is noted for not being generous in the way of a appropriations to a constituency which sends a man hostile to it, it is needless to say he has no public buildings or no public works to his credit.

Next comes Mr. R.R. Hall M.P. and to his credit stand a fine drill hall, splendid docks along our water front and several other public works.

Now turn to our representatives in the Legislature. I will start with John Carnegie, one of the brightest men who ever sat in those halls, and one whom the Mowat Government feared. Unfortunately, he was, like Mr. Kendry, in opposition, and the same rule applies in his case as to getting appropriations.

Then comes the mighty (?) Mr. Stratton, who reigned some twenty years, and let us see what he has to his credit here. When he was only an ordinary member he got money to open up back roads and money enough "to pave those roads with gold" was appropriated, but was all of it applied to the building and bettering of those roads? When he got into the Cabinet and became an Honourable, did he have any public buildings or works done here? Not any.

Then comes Mr. Bradburn, with four years as representative, and he has not only had money spent on the back roads, but has had a normal school built here.

So much for representatives. As to employment of labor, surely Mr. Stratton does not lay claim to being a large employer of labor. If he does, the public knows better.

Before closing, I would like to ask J. R. Stratton why, when he was Provincial Secretary, did he not have the Asylum, which went to Woodstock, built here? He could have had it easily enough, but in his zeal for West Peterborough, he decided to let it go to Woodstock, and he is the man who asks the intelligent people to send him to Ottawa where he would have a bigger field for his energies.

Yours, etc.,
ONLOOKER.

P. S.—One thing I forgot that Mr. Stratton claimed he got for this city, i.e., the strip of land south of the gas works, on the river front, but another gentleman claims the same honor, and which one should get the credit? Mr. R.R. Hall, certainly.

EXCURSION WAS GREAT SUCCESS

About Fifty From Chemong Village to Reserves at Rama and Georgina Island

The excursion from Chemong Indian village to the reserves at Rama and Georgina Island was a great success. The Water Lily with about fifty on board left Chemong on Tuesday morning at seven o'clock and reached Orillia at six o'clock in the evening. Tuesday night was spent at Rama where a concert was held. Wednesday was spent at Jackson park and Georgina Island where the visitors were most hospitably entertained. A tea meeting and concert was held in honor of the Chemong folk.

The return trip was made on Thursday, Chemong village being reached early in the evening. Chief Big Canoe of Georgina Island, is spoken of very highly by the Chemong people who took in the trip. He did everything in his power to entertain them.

The same trip will be taken again next year on the steamer Otonabee. The Otonabee would have been utilized this year were it not for the work going on at the Rosedale locks.

A DISTANCE WALKING RECORD OF SEVENTY YEARS AGO

John Deyell, a Pioneer Settler, Walked From Centreville to Toronto Between Sunrise and Sunset—Distance Was About Seventy-five Miles.

Talking about long distance walking, it has developed that some of the pioneers of Peterborough County who have long since passed to their reward, have set some records that have not been equalled since even by Jimmy Reynolds, Davie Hartley and the other exponents of the long distance game. In the olden days men walked long distances because they had to. They had no ambition to set records or win wagers. There were no trains to take a person from Peterborough to Toronto in two hours, no electric car, lines cutting across the country and making a journey of a hundred miles a matter of a few hours.

The story is told, and it is well authenticated, that seventy years ago John Deyell, a pioneer resident of the county, walked from his home at Centreville to Toronto in fifteen, or at the most, sixteen hours. Mr. Deyell was the grandfather of the families of that name who are now settled in Otonabee and other townships adjacent to the city. As stated above, Mr. Deyell made his remarkable walk about seventy years ago. He left Centraville at sunrise and was in Toronto, then known as York, just before the sun had set. He made the trip by way of Port Hope and walked every step of the way. It is sixty miles from Port Hope to Toronto, and fifteen miles from Centreville to Port Hope, so that this walker of seventy years ago covered seventy miles between sunrise and sunset, which would not at the most be more than sixteen hours. It was also over a rough trail that the trip was made, the greater part of it through deep forests. Travelled roads were almost unknown in those days.

There is a well authenticated record of Mr. Deyell's walk and it must be admitted that it was a remarkable feat when the conditions under which it was made are taken into consideration.

The present generation may boast of powers of endurance, but it looks as if the pioneers had it on them in a good many ways. They accomplished great things because because they had to; not because someone said they couldn't or because there was a wager up.

BUSY TIME AT NEW LOCK

250 Boats Have Gone Through the Lift Lock at Kirkfield—A Good Record

This has been a busy season at the new lift lock at Kirkfield. Already this summer two hundred and fifty vessels have been locked through them. The lock is working very satisfactorily and all the lockages have been made in quick time, the record for the season being ten minutes. The "lift" is 48 feet 3 inches so it will be seen that there was some fast work in locking a boat through in ten minutes.

OVER $1,100 WERE RECEIPTS AT EXHIBITION ON FRIDAY

An Enormous Crowd For Second Day of the Fair---Races Were Splendid and Crowd Was Well Pleased---Rain Interfered With Night Performance

A veritable sea of people moved to and fro on the exhibition grounds yesterday. There were many people from many places and the ticket sellers and ticket takers were kept on the alert all the time.

Of course, Peterborough, itself, naturally had the largest representation on hand but the surrounding places, such as Campbellford, Hastings, Havelock, Norwood, Lakefield, Millbrook and other places sent large quotas. Big crowds also came from Hiawatha and Rice Lake points. From Picton came the largest number of any outside place, 1300 arriving on the special train and practically all of them attendedthe fair.

The grounds took on the liveliest appearance they have since a fair became an annual fixture in Peterborough and in spite of the fact that hard times are prevalent it was a healthy and happy looking army of spectators, generally speaking. Looking from the grandstand one could see an almost solid mass of humanity from the main building to the stand and almost every available bit of ground seemed to be taken up by the big concourse.

The street cars kept bringing the people to the grounds all day and each was crowded as it came down. A thing noticeable about the crowd was the appearance of those who composed it. For the most part they were well dressed, intelligent people and the farmer and city man seem to be getting more of the same appearance each year. The farmer of now-a-days is, in a great many instances, quite cosmopolitan in his bearing and his improvement in this respect as the years go by is noteworthy.

Well, as usual, it rained on the principal day of the exhibition. As rain producers the 24th of May and the big day of the Peterborough Industrial Fair may lay claim to a marked supremacy over the other days of the year. Butwasn't that a nicely arranged rain yesterday. It commenced to blow pretty heavily between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, but the rain held off until the programme for the day, including the races, had been concluded, and the patrons of the fair had left the grounds.

It is almost impossible to say what class of exhibit proved the greatest attraction. The crowd kept moving from one place to another in fine fashion and there was no crushing or congestion.

TRIP THROUGH THE GROUNDS.

As one enters the grounds at the east gate the first thing that attracts his attention is the poultry tent and coops to the north of it. The poultry show with its large variety of blue blood fowl, was the centre of attraction for a large proportion of those attending. The show of birds is a good one, although not so many are in the tent as last year, which, however, saw an exceptionally large exhibit of poultry.

To the right of the poultry tent and as we go towards the main building are the outdoor commercial displays of local and out of town business firms and manufacturers. This line is muchthe longest on the grounds and extends beyond the main build-

A visit tothe fair without a look through the main building would be like eating pudding without flavor. The building is adorned with flags and other decorations and the displays of the exhibitors are commendably neat and bright. They have real publicity and selling value too, as the exhibitors have every cause to know. The art exhibition in the main building is the one in which, perhaps more attention is paid than to any other individual one. Some splendid specimens of the photographic art are shown as well as sketchings crayon drawings and paintings in water color and oil.

After the quiet interest taken in things in the main building it is a little jarring to step out of it in the direction of the grandstand, and hear the babble of the man with the games, at which "you always get something for your money," the appealing spiels of the midway men and those in charge of booths where eatables and drinkables are dispensed. But it's fair day and in a short time the noise becomes really pleasant.

The most Coney Island like part of the grounds commences just west of the mainbuilding. Here is the midway where "she eats 'em alive," etc. The attractions on the midway have been well patronized during the fair.

In the section mentioned are also the refreshment tents, the two newspaper tents, that of Secretary Hall and the stands of the men who appeal to the public to try their luck in some kind of moderately priced proposition

The grandstand has been well filled for the races and performance in front of it yesterday, and, judging from the applause, the crowd was well satisfied with both. The 57th band, under the leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon was in attendance, both in the afternoon and evening. The band played splendidly and the numbers were entertaining and appreciative.

The grandstand performance won the applause of the audience and the races provided rattling good sport the 2.50 and 2.20 being the classes contested.

Last night the grounds were illuminated and the grandstand performance and moving pictures were given. Owing to the fact that it had rained and made the grass pretty damp and as it also appeared as if there would be more rain, the attendance was not as large as it would have been under favorable conditions.

However, quite a number were in the stand and thought well of the entertainment.

The judging was practically all completed yesterday and the secretary gave a cheque for most of the prize money this morning.

THE RACES.

It has been stated in the local press that the fair directors expected the races this year would be the best ever held at any fair in Petrborough, and judging from the opening events the 2.30 and 2.20 classes with the 2.28 and 2.17 being pulled off to-day there is no doubt that their forecast will be fulfilled. Yesterday's races were fast and interesting. In the last two heats of the 2.20, Walter G, Hazel Bell and Holland Boy gave a performance that held the crowd all the time. It was hard, fast racing with the horses bunched for almost the entire distance. It was race on the stretch and that's the only place where a race for the public comes in.

Holland Boy and Hazel Bell had some exciting struggles for second place at the finish with Walter G coming under the wire in the lead in three straight heats. In the first heat Holland Boy passed the stand a good second, but in the next two Hazel Bell was driven by him at the finish, although he put up a grand duel for the money. Walter G stepped along in magnificent style winning all the heats in safe fashion. He is a nice honest performer and covered the ground excellently.

In the last heat the driver of Holland Boy claimed a foul on Hazel Bell's driver, but the judges couldn't see that the latter had done anything that wasn't legitimate and called the off the complainant to some questionable work done at the turn.

DRIVER THROWN.

The sensational feature of the first heat of the 2.50 class, in which there were six starters and which was most exciting from start to finish. When about an 1-8 of a mile had been made Dr. Cowan, of Lindsay, the owner and driver of Harry K., was thrown from the sulky, his horse breaking and jumping out when in a tight position with some of the other starters. He finished the race alone and landed under the wire in second place, the crowd applauding enthusiastically. He ran quite a bit of the way around but settled down and paced from the last turn to the finish. The position at the wire could not be allowed, needless to say, and Harry K had to be placed at the rear for the heat. His driver had both ankles sprained in the fall, but gamely stuck to his task and drove Harry K a winner in the next three heats, therefore getting first money. On account of Dr. Cowan's accident, the win was a most popular one.

The whole four heats were interesting, with Minnie G finishing second in them all. As Teddy Keswick won the first heat, however, second money was his.

The summary.—

GREAT RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT OF THE CANADIAN WEST

O.P.R. Likely to Build in Peace River Country—New Hudson's Bay Route Proposed

Special to the Review.

Winnipeg, Sept. 18.—The total number of homestead entries up to date at Winnipeg are 448 and the acreage of land taken up totals 73,000 in Manitoba since the odd numbered sections were thrown open. In Saskatchewan and Alberta there has been an enormous demand for lands, over one million acres having been taken up by homesteader since September 1st. Among the applicants were men of nearly every nationality, strong, sturdy men who waited in line all night in a large number of places to be first to obtain entrance to the choicest parcels of the fertile prairie lands. While there is yet a steady stream of parties entering for lands thrown open, the big rush may now be said to be over.

RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

President Wm. McKenzie of the Canadian Northern Railway, now in the West, has stated that the new line to Calgary from Regina will be pushed ahead at once. The early construction of this new branch feeder will open up a big lot of good farming lands much of which is already settled. The Regina-Brandon line of the same company is practically completed, and a regular passenger service will at once be put in force over this new extension. Mr. McKenzie said that with the bumper crop of this year marketed, better times than were ever experienced in the West will be in evidence.

Grand Trunk Pacific officials, including A. W. Smithers vice-president of the G.T.P., C. M. Hayes, president, W. E. Davis and J. W. Loud of the traffic department, and Mr. Kelly, chief engineer, arrived at Winnipeg Monday, and important matters in connection with their new system will be dealt with as well as the officials taking part in the inauguration of traffic over the 670 miles of new road that is now open for business. Twenty points along this new portion completed will load grain for out-going shipments from this date.

Two large parties of engineers in the employ of the Canadian Pacific railway have just returned from a summer's survey north of Edmonton and through the Peace River country. It is understood that early development may be expected in that section by the C.P.R. Co., and it was not known until the return of these survey parties that the company had this section under serious consideration.

The board of railway commissioners opened their session on Monday morning at Winnipeg. The Hon. J. P. Mabee, chief commissioner, Dr. James Mills commissioner, and James Hardwell chief traffic officer, are in attendance and a large list of cases will be dealt with throughout the week.

NEW HUDSON BAY ROUTE.

Winnipeg often entertains prominent financial heads, globe trotters and others from the crowded centres of the United States and Europe, but not often is there coming to the city such a visitor as James Baggs, of Norway House in the Hudson's Bay district, who had the pleasure of seeing a street car for the first time last week. He has been constantly in the north for the past 32 years and in his position as mate of a schooner plying between Churchill and York factory on the Hudson's bay, Mr. Baggs was able to speak authoritatively on the possibilities of the new Hudson's Bay route. He said: "Navigation is open on the average from June to November, and large steamers that will pass the straits could reach Fort Churchill much later in the season, as they could easily break through the early ice that occurs after November first." He spoke of the excellent harbor there, and that the going in of the surveyors on the new Hudson's Bay railway was causing much comment in the north country.

EXCELLENT PROSPECTS.

The high grade and volume of the crop this year has been the means of further increasing the number of inquiries received by boards of trades throughout Western Canada, from all over the United States and Eastern Canada, asking for information in connection with openings for manufacturing and commercial business. Real estate has been more active and several large deals in farms and city property are reported through the Western Canadian Real Estate Association here, an organisation that practically covers the realty interests from the Great Lakes to the Pacific coast. A few of the more important sales were.—6,000 acres, Southern Alberta, to an American syndicate for $94,000; the Lansdowne hotel at Regina for $100,000, sold by Mr. Alex. Bell, who purchased the property less that one year ago for $50,000. In Edmonton, 100 feet near Edmonton club sold for $25,000, and in Winnipeg an 80-foot frontage on Donald street, has been sold for $45,000.

The new Grain Exchange building, erected last year in Winnipeg at a cost of $500,000, opened last week and the many offices throughout the seven floors show scenes of great activity in the marketing of the half million bushels of wheat that are now daily arriving.

CIRCUS PERFORMERS IN BAD FIX AT MONTREAL

Montreal, September 18— The Arena annex was this morning the scene of a gathering of disappointed circus people who discussed the whereabouts of the manager of the show, which opened up in the rink on Monday evening.

Last evening when they arrived for the performance they found that Mr Walters, the manager, was not present and word soon went round that he had left the city. He had not showed up in the afternoon but this absence was explained by the statement that he was down town attending the business connected with the show. His wife was there last night and wanted to take command but when the performers found that Walters had drawn $1200 on Tuesday his share of the two days receipts, they came to the conclusion that there was something wrong and decided to handle affairs themselves. They made a temporary arrangement to this effect with the Arena management the show went on as usual.

This morning a meeting of the performers and of Mr. Walters' creditors was held and it was decided to run along for the balance of the week, and pay whatever dividend they can, Mr. Rutherford in the meantime putting up one hundred dollars to cover incidental expenses.

Walters came here and made arrangements for the Arena, did a lot of advance booming for the show, and engaged the turns all of which are good, in the name of Gilmore, whom he represented to be a newspaper man with lots of cash.

When the acrobats arrived they found Walters in charge with an explanation that Mr. Gilmore was in Toronto.

On Tuesday evening Walters went to the management of the Arena and asked for a settlement for the two days as he wished to let some of the performers have a portion of their money.

He was handed twelve hundred dollars as his share and asked for another hundred as the amount was a little short of what he wished to distribute. The extra was refused, however and Walters left and has not been seen since.

The performance given last night was one that pleased all present. Many of the acts are familiar to the public of Montreal but that does not detract from their merit.

The five Boises who made a big hit at Dominion park earlier in the season are there and can be seen to good advantage at short range whose tumbling acrobatic act is one of the features.

Marie de Rossett, the girl behind the gun, opens the show and there are several animal acts which are above the ordinary.

KING EDWARD'S GRANDFATHER PAID A VISIT TO CANADA

Was Here in 1793—Trip Through Country Was Accomplished in Carry-alls and Sleighs

Prince Edward, afterwards Duke of Kent, and the father of Queen Victoria, passed through Burlington, Vermont, in February, 1793. He came from Quebec, where he had had command of a regiment. His trip through the country was accomplished in carry-alls and sleighs; a courier had been sent on to Burlington to prepare for his accommodation. There were only seven frame houses in the whole village, and but one, that of Phineas Loomis, large enough to receive so numerous a party.

The Prince arrived in the afternoon with thirteen carry-alls and sleighs, and left the third day before noon. He had with him two aides and two bodyguards, a lady and a cook. The lady was to go to New York, and the Prince provided the sleigh which was to convey her with an abundance of fur robes, and placed a large dog at her feet.

A little incident occurred on the passing of the Prince and the lady from the house to the sleigh which illustrated the character and physical strength of the Prince. An awkward but stout young man was standing in the path, not making room readily for the party to advance. Prince Edward advanced and, taking him up bodily, set him on one side in the snow. At this place (Burlington) he dismissed the teamsters who had brought him from Canada, and engaged five farmers to take him on to Boston. It was said by these men that he was a jolly companion, enjoying the pork and beans, nut cakes and cheese.

Among the early settlers of the town was Colonel Stephen Keyes, a gentleman of the old school, who wore a cocked hat and kept a hotel on Water street. He proposed to pay his respects to Prince Edward, and several young men of the village made a call in the evening. Colonel Keyes introduced himself to the Prince, and then stated that he had brought with him some young gentlemen of legal and mercantile pursuits who wished to pay their respects to him. They were severally presented, and the Prince respectively bowed to each. This was apparently the commencement of a pleasant evening's entertainment. But what was their dismay when the Prince and his aides very informally and abruptly retired to their own apartments. The colonel could not brook this; in unmeasured terms he vented his indignation, and asserted that the Prince was "no gentleman."

PATRIDGES MUST NOT BE SHOT THIS YEAR

It is this year illegal to either shoot or sell partridge any place within Ontario. Last year Americans could come to Ontario pay a twenty-five dollar fee, and from September 1st to December 15th, shoot, but not sell, partridge.

These birds have been getting thinned out and the Ontario Government has so legislated that this year no one can shoot them within the province. The measure is one approved of generally on this side of the line, but will probably keep away a number of Americans who have been accustomed to cross the border for some fall sport.

INDIANS HAD JOLLY TIME

The Water Lily passed through on Tuesday with an excursion party of about forty from the Chemong Indian village, on their way to Georgina Island, Lake Simcoe.

They were a jolly party, had a phonograph, and various games for occupying the time, and were out for enjoying themselves. They spent Wednesday at the Island with friends and returned home on Thursday. Chief Joseph Whetung, and his brother, Dan were the leaders in the outing.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentatation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economize. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder men lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilization will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never loses, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

INCURABLE HEART TROUBLE

LOOKED FOR DEATH IN A SHORT TIME.

Entirely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives."

"Gentlemen,—The days of miracles are not all past and I feel that my complete recovery, from what seemed inevitable death, is practically a miracle. I suffered from severe Indigestion and Dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without fearful distress and I became almost a skeleton as the result of the suffering. I could not do any work and became so run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors. They both pronounced my case heart failure and incurable, and I looked forward for death in a short time. I not only had the doctors but after they gave me up I tried many remedies and treatments but got no better.

At this time my son asked me to try "Fruit-a-tives," and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight.

I am now so well that I have sold my farm and bought 200 acres more land. I make this statement voluntarily for the sake of humanity, and I am convinced that "Fruit-a-tives" is a wonderful remedy that will cure stomach trouble where doctors and everything else fail."

(Sgd) Henry Speers, J.P.

The doctors were all wrong. Mr. Speers had what we call "irritated heart." Indigestion and dyspepsia completely upset the stomach. Poisonous gases were formed which swelled the walls of the stomach and pressed against the heart.

"Fruit-a-tives" immediately strengthened the stomach, insured sound digestion and regulated the bowels. There were no poisons—no noxious gases remained in the system, and the heart was no longer irritated. Then the pain and fluttering stopped.

"Fruit-a-tives" is put up in two sizes 25c and 50c. If your dealer has not both, write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The Daily Review

SATURDAY, SEPT. 19, 1908.

On the Long White Road.

By VIRGINIA BLAIR.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

There had been no one at the station to meet her, and she had started out bravely to walk the two miles that lay between the town and her country home.

At first she stepped lightly, uplifted by the freshness of the wind that blew from pale green meadows and brown plowed fields and reveling in the sweetness of the orchards, pink and white with bloom.

But the bag that she carried was heavy, and after the first mile her steps lagged. When she reached the little cemetery where the old headstones tilted toward each other under the cedars she sat down on a bench by the gateway and took off her hat.

"There, I knew I couldn't make a mistake about that head of hair," said a voice over the fence.

Charlotte turned quickly.

"Why, Jerry, Jerry," she cried. "I don't think it's a bit nice of you to begin right away about my hair."

"Well, it's such pretty hair," Jerry informed her as he came around to the gate. "I don't see why I shouldn't talk about it."

"Red hair," she told him, "is never pretty."

"Yours isn't red," he insisted stoutly; "it's coppery—gold and red"—

"What's the matter at home?" she demanded, ignoring the compliment. "No one came to meet me."

He looked down at her solicitously.

"Hasn't any one told you?"

She turned pale.

"No. Is anybody sick?"

He shook his head.

"Andrews won't wait any longer for his money. He's going to foreclose the mortgage, and your mother and father drove over to your Uncle Bob's last night to see if he could help out. I don't believe they knew you were coming on this train. I didn't or I'd have come down after you."

But Charlotte was not listening.

"Andrews is going to foreclose?" she faltered. "Did he tell the reason?"

"No. Your father says he just wrote that he couldn't wait any longer for the interest—and"—

"I know the reason," Charlotte stated, with flashing eyes. "He wrote me last week and asked me to marry him, Jerry"—

The young man stared. "He did"—

"Yes, he dared"— she continued, "he told me that he knew he was much older than I and that he hadn't much education, but he had a big house and horses and automobiles, and he knew that he could make me happy, as I was poor and teaching school, and my family were in debt. Of course he didn't say it just that way, but he meant it"—

"And—you refused?" The young man's lips were set in a straight line.

"Of course. I don't love him, Jerry."

The boy's face cleared. "That's reason enough, Charlotte. I think I—I should give up if you married any one else"—

A deep stain of red touched the girl's cheeks, but she went on quietly.

"I don't know what we are going to do, Jerry. I have given father and mother every cent I have earned by teaching this year, but it has merely paid the interest."

The young man bent over her and took her hands. His chest heaved. "If you'd only marry me, Charlotte, so soon."

"But you can't, Jerry," she reminded him. "You've got your own burden of family debt, and it wouldn't be right for us to add to the worries of our parents, would it?"

"But I love you," was his plea, and for a moment she clung to him.

"I know," she whispered, "but we can keep on loving—nothing shall come between our love—Jerry."

After a little while she went on steadily:

"I thought of it as I walked along today. It seemed to me that duty stretched before me like a long white road—a weary road—and yet somewhere at the end of the road was home where I could rest and be loved. Perhaps that will be the way with our lives, Jerry. There will be a weary road to travel, but in the end we shall have our home, and love and happiness—if we are patient, Jerry."

"Dear heart," he whispered, and smoothed her hair.

And after a time he stood up in the strength of his youth.

"But I don't want to be patient," he said restlessly. "I want to build our nest like the birds in the spring. I want to put you in it, and keep you safe and warm"—

"But you mustn't, Jerry."

"So you say"— Then with a sudden, quick smile he looked down at her. "Let's be happy for one day, Charlotte. They don't expect you. Come down to the lake and I'll row you across to the lily beds."

"I can't," she protested. "I must get home and comfort them if they are there—and plan"—

"I'm going too."

"Well, you may go with me and carry my bag."

And so they began their journey along the long white road together.

At the crossroads a big red motor car passed them and stopped.

Charlotte turned.

"Let me take you the rest of the way in my car," Andrews offered.

"No," she said stiffly. "I'd rather walk."

The little fat man flushed.

"Look here," he said, "you—I wish you'd tell your folks I ain't going to bother about that mortgage. I've been feeling mean ever since I said I'd foreclose, but I did it just after I got your letter"—

Something in the pleading expression of his round, red face made Charlotte leave Jerry and go over to the side of the automobile.

"Perhaps I didn't write in a very kindly way," she said. "I have"—

A great light illumined his gloomy countenance. "Do you think you could change your mind?" he asked.

"Oh, no," Charlotte stammered, "not that, but"—

"Of course you look down on me," he said moodily. "I ain't your kind."

"I don't look down on you," Charlotte told him. "But I—I care for somebody else"—

He gave her a startled glance.

"Is it Jerry Ellsworth?" he questioned very low.

"Yes," she admitted, "it's Jerry. But we can't marry each other because both of our families are in debt and there's no chance of getting out for years. It's such poor land. But we're going to wait."

"Huh! Wait," jeered the little man, "you'll die gray headed before you're happy if you do that."

"Perhaps," she agreed, with a shadow on her face, "but you see, Jerry and I have known each other since we were babies. We lived next door to each other, and we played being married when I was in pinafores. You see, I couldn't care for any one else, Mr. Andrews."

"No, you couldn't," he admitted. Then as he sat looking down at her frail figure, at the delicate face with the halo of red-gold hair, he burst out, "Oh, look here, I'm no dog in the manger."

She looked up, startled.

"If I can't have you, I ain't going to keep him from having you," said the magnanimous Mr. Andrews. "What's the matter with Ellsworth coming into my office. I need a man to help me and I'm making a fortune in real estate. It will pay him better than farming, and it won't be long before he can pay off his family's debts and yours too."

Jerry, hearing his name, came up.

"Mr. Andrews wants you to go into his office," Charlotte repeated breathlessly.

Jerry stiffened.

The little fat man looked at him wistfully.

"See here, Ellsworth, you needn't think it's a favor to you. It's for her sake I'm doing it and for her happiness. Don't you go and let your pride spoil it."

"I think we should take it in the spirit it is offered, Jerry," she said.

Ellsworth held out his hand to the man in the car. "I'd be a cad if I didn't," he stated. "It's a pretty fine thing you are doing, sir."

"Stop that," Andrews said sheepishly, "and climb in and let me take you home," and as the lovers settled themselves in the wide back seat he flung over his shoulder the final emphatic statement:

"I ain't any angel, but I ain't a dog in the manger, neither."

YOUNG WOMEN

Young women are often great sufferers for want of proper advice at just the right time.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., has always issued to young girls a special invitation to write to her about their sickness. She is a mother, and fully understands.

In nine chances out of ten your case will be just the same as that of the young lady whose letter follows.

Miss M. R. Morin, 335 Ontario St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham.

"I was in very poor health and doctored for months, receiving very little benefit. I had lost all ambition, was nervous, and subject to dizzy spells and painful periods each month.

"A friend suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the proper medicine for me. I procured a bottle of this remedy and began taking, and before it was finished, I felt so much better that I continued its use and gave it a thorough test, with the result I am to-day well and a much healthier girl than I was three years ago. I have no more painful periods, dizziness or nervous troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

The White Elephant.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Marian Standish found it in the park one bright June morning. Of course it was not the sort of elephant that ambles dustily along in the circus procession. On the contrary, it was carved from a bit of ivory with some needlelike tools and girdled about with a narrow band of gold terminating in a small ring.

"A fob charm, and I wish I could keep it," she exclaimed covetously as she examined the delicate workmanship of the toy, which was no larger than the end of her thumb. She looked about as she continued her stroll down the green arbored path. Save for the usual aggregation of nursemaids and their young charges the park seemed deserted at this point.

Far away on a distant intersecting path a man's tall figure appeared for an instant and then vanished among the trees. Miss Standish breathed a sigh of relief as she slipped the ivory elephant into her pocketbook.

"I will watch the papers, and if it is advertised of course I shall return it. I suppose I ought to advertise it myself. Well, I will, and in the meantime I will enjoy its possession. It is the dearest thing!"

The next morning Miss Standish scanned the papers with interest. The first one she threw aside with satisfaction, the second with elation, but the third sheet contained the dreaded inquiry:

> Lost in Central park on the morning of June 15 a small ivory elephant fob charm. Initials "J. M. B." on gold band. Finder will please communicate with J. M. Beckwith, Block Building, City, and receive liberal reward.

The white elephant stood meekly on her dressing table. Marian picked it up and examined it curiously. Three tiny initials which had escaped her attention the day before were scratched upon the gold band. She also discovered that the eyes were emerald sparks and the miniature tusks were tipped with gold.

"You are too pretty to hang on a man's watch fob," she sighed disconsolately. There was a slight rattle as she laid it down, and she lifted it again and shook it briskly. There was something inside that clicked, and the knowledge that the bit of carving was not only hollow, but was evidently the receptacle of some delightful mystery was an added vexation now that she must lose it.

There was something vaguely familiar about the name of Beckwith. It seemed to conjure up visions of East Indian islands, palm fringed shores, the smell of wild jasmine and the fragrance of cassia and other spices, yet she had never been there, but she had read—where was it?

Marian Standish was the soul of honesty, but she could not resist the temptation to retain possession of the charm for another day. So she conscientiously cut out the advertisement and tucked it away in her writing desk, assuring herself that she would communicate with the owner that very evening.

She attached the charm to her own small watch fob and, thrusting the gold timepiece in her belt, set out for her morning walk, accompanied by that prize winning bulldog, Pedro, who was as hideous as his mistress was beautiful.

In due course of time they reached the park and eventually entered the same arboreal path where she had found the white elephant. Walking slowly toward her was a very tall young man, who was studying the ground attentively as he advanced.

Marian blushed guiltily, and her hand flew to the white charm swinging conspicuously against the black of her skirt, and it seemed that the stranger saw it, too, for, with a quick glance at her and beyond, his good looking face brightened with sudden interest. He removed his hat and paused.

"I beg your pardon, madam, but"— he was beginning when her chilling glance stopped the words on his lips.

"Sir!" said Miss Standish haughtily, and she swept past him, dragging the leashed Pedro, who sneered contemptuously at the presumptuous youth.

"I brought it on myself," Marian chided herself as she crossed the park toward home. "If I had not kept the charm I could not have worn it and he would not have seen it and spoken. Of course he had a right to under the circumstances. Without a doubt he is 'J. M. Beckwith,' for he was searching the path in the very spot where I found it. He probably values it highly. I fancy he picked it up in India or China, and—where have I seen his face before, and his name—it is very familiar! How very brown he was to the very finger tips, and he was well bred, too, and yet I treated him as though he were a cad! I will send it to him tonight."

But she didn't. Three days passed, and the little white elephant still swung at her belt. Three days she had walked in the park, and three times she had met the tall brown young man, who passed her with a haughtiness equal to her own.

"I suppose he thinks I am an unprincipled character," murmured Marian the third day, just after her dark blue eyes had met his brown ones in a brief glance.

That afternoon she indited a brief note to the owner of the white elephant and prepared a little box in which to send the charm to him. "I will send it the first thing in the morning," she said as she went down to dinner.

Three hours afterward she fastened the ivory elephant to the long gold chain attached to her fan and went to the Gearing dance.

Late in the evening, flushed with dancing and looking very much like a rose in her pink frock, she waited in the conservatory while her partner went for an ice. Mrs. Gearing fluttered down an aisle of orange trees with a tall young man in tow.

"Marian, dear, let me present Mr. Beckwith—Miss Standish. I shall leave you to entertain her, Johnson," she fluttered away again, intercepting the ice laden young man and carrying him captive into the ballroom.

Marian's customary sangfroid abandoned her, and she stood with guilty, downcast eyes before the owner of the white elephant. He was looking down at her with a strange expression on his face.

"Have you a dance to spare?" he asked after an awkward silence.

"I am afraid not," she replied in a low tone. Then with a quick movement she detached the charm from her chain and held it toward him in her small gloved palm. "This is yours, I believe," she added breathlessly. "I found it that day in the park, and I have intended to return it, but it was so pretty I have delayed"— Her voice faltered, and her lovely eyes filled with tears.

Beckwith was looking at her agitated face with very tender eyes.

"Don't distress yourself, Miss Standish," he said earnestly. "Of course I am delighted to find it, but there was no harm in your keeping it as long as you wished."

"Please take it now," she said hurriedly.

"How did you know it was mine?" he asked as he placed the little elephant in his pocket.

"I saw the advertisement in the paper the next morning, and then—that day—when I met you in the park—and you saw it and spoke to me—I don't know what you thought!"

"I never saw it!" he laughed cheerfully. "You had dropped this, and I was about to call your attention to it when you and the dog froze me with—looks!" He took from an inner pocket a small daintily embroidered handkerchief. Marian joined in his laugh, but she felt very uncomfortable when he returned the handkerchief to its hiding place with an air of quiet possession. A certain expression about his mouth enlightened her as to his identity.

"You must be Johnson Mordaunt Beckwith, the explorer. I have read your book on East Indian islands, and I am sure there is a portrait in the front of the book." She was radiant with interest.

"Guilty!" he admitted promptly. "Now, how am I to reward your honesty, Miss Standish?" he asked with mock seriousness.

"Tell me the meaning of the mysterious rattle within the charm. I am dying to know," she replied.

"I cannot tell you now," he said, with sudden gravity. "Perhaps some day I may, if you will let me."

* * * * * * *

Three months later, when she had consented to marry him, Johnson Beckwith told her the brief story of the white elephant.

"It was given to me as a mark of esteem by an Indian prince," he said. "In itself the elephant is one of a multitude of similar curios, but"— He detached it from his fob, and with a slight twist of his fingers the gold band slipped away and the charm fell in halves, and from one of the halves rolled a marvelous ruby. "This," continued Beckwith tenderly, "was the gift of the prince, and I placed it in here for safe keeping. I planned that some day it would be worn by my wife."

"Was it not wonderful that I should find it, Johnson?" she asked as his arms encircled her.

"It is the most wonderful adventure that has ever befallen me, darling," he said as he kissed her lips.

Saved by a Glove Button.

At one of the Monson slate quarries a derrick man stood on the brink of one of the great chasms from which the slate rock is hoisted. His duty was to catch hold of the big hook depending from the end of the boom as it swung over the bank and attach it to the crate to be sent back into the pit. Standing upon the very edge, he reached out to catch the hook which dangled near him. It was winter, and he wore thick buckskin gloves. The hook slipped from him as he leaned out, but caught into the fastening of the glove. The swing of the great boom took him off his feet in an instant and carried him out into giddy space, with his life depending on the glove holding fast. His whole weight was hung on that button, and there was a clear 175 feet of space between him and the floor of the rock below. The moments that passed before the boom could be swung back over the bank seemed like hours to him, but he got there at last safe and sound.—London Mail.

A Wonderful Remedy

ORANGE LILY is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Disorders. Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhoea, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc., etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an Applied Treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve food properties cannot help but have a beneficent influence. I receive from 10 to 50 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing; and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 35-cent box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1.00 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. Address, with stamp,

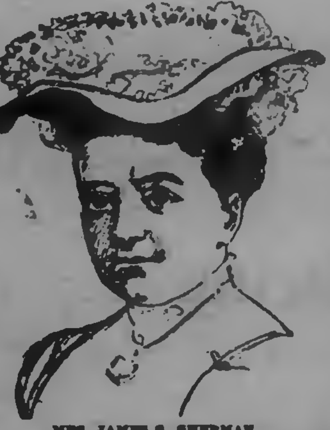
HER HOME COMES FIRST.

Mrs. Sherman Talks About Opportunities of Her Sex.

Mrs. James S. Sherman, wife of the Republican nominee for the vice presidency, in an interview lately said that in her opinion "if a woman makes a home and raises a family she has just about all she can do—well. But I do believe strongly in the fostering and encouragement of nobility in woman. It is necessary for women to be noble to bring forth a race of noble men.

"As I have looked about me during my life I have observed that the home women have the most successful sons. I mean by that, morally successful, not merely financially. I think a woman should be at home for her husband when he needs her and for her children. That is why I have never made a home in Washington. It has been necessary for my husband to travel back and forth from his home to Washington. His law practice in Utica has made it essential that he spend part of his time there. So, as I believe boys must have a home to be properly brought up, I have kept the home unchanged.

"If I had a great deal of money I should devote myself to the betterment of the conditions of poor people—putting pleasure into the lives of tired mothers, not only taking care of their babies while they work, but giving them some recreation and real joy. But as I haven't I devote my life to my family. I'm not a member of a single club, although I think them admirable, and I never have belonged to one, except during the Spanish war, when I was made president of the War Relief society in our town. And then I worked. I am eligible to membership in the Colonial Dames and D. A. R., but I've never looked the matter up. By the way, there's one thing I am very proud of—two of my ancestors were signers of the Declaration of Independence—Huntington and George Reed." "What about woman suffrage?" Mrs. Sherman was asked.



MRS. JAMES S. SHERMAN.

"Well," she smiled again and pushed back the silvery hair with long expressive fingers, "I don't like to talk about that because I feel that my opinion perhaps is worth very little. But I will say this; I don't believe in universal woman suffrage. I think there should be a character qualification. I don't want characterless women voting. Of course there are bad men, and they vote. But that's done now. That can't be changed. But there's no use in doubling the trouble. But here I am talking on this subject when really what I say is of no consequence."

Summer Colds and New Treatment.

The summer cold is a nuisance and one of which it is sometimes hard to get rid in the usual way. Whenever you contract a summer cold, before resorting to drugs try this process: If able, go out in the open air, breathe copiously and deeply and slowly for about twenty times, repeating the operation every hour until cured. If unable to go out, wrap yourself up in a blanket, even on the hottest kind of a day, and then open all the doors and windows and then do just as directed above. Some persons, having had a summer cold for six weeks, have got rid of it by this process, and colds newly contracted have also been cured in this way. Therefore, everywhere try to cultivate full and frequent lung inflation by breathing clear out, clear in and low down—that is, make all your breathing as when taking a long breath. This will have a tendency to throw off the waste material at the pores and revitalise the blood, thus imparting much wanted energy to the system.

Expensive Wedding Trips.

"I had no idea my wife had such expensive tastes," was the soliloquy of a newly married man.

"We had a delightful wedding trip, but it's remarkable how a woman who has been earning her own money can lose sight of the value of a dollar on her honeymoon.

"One of the reasons I married my wife was that I thought she would appreciate the fact that I was not a rich man, and we would have to live on a limited sum.

"The way she has let me spend the coin since our wedding day is a caution!

"Roses on the dinner table every night. Not satisfied with them once in awhile, but must have them every day! Just to make people think we were 'somebody.' What did I care whether a lot of strangers in the hotel thought we were 'anybody' or not? And roses $6 a dozen at this time of year!

"Going from Washington to New York she must have a section on the train. A seat in the coach had always been good enough for both of us before.

"Had to stop at the best hotel in every town we visited and have expensive rooms. She hates to walk, so it was a taxicab everywhere.

"Of course I bought her a souvenir from every town. Most of them she chose were silver.

"Goodness only knows," he continued to himself, "how we are going to manage if the pace keeps up. I am afraid I shall be swamped with bills.

"Nell is cross now and gone to her room to have a good cry because I talked things over with her after dinner tonight and suggested that we live within my income. Of course I'm a brute, but it had to come.

"When we reached home I had exactly $3.17, and I had calculated on $100 more than that."

How many girls cause their husbands just such thoughts after they have been married two weeks? And always the bride who has been poor!

When Tired of Life.

Look to your liver. More suicides are caused by a bad digestion than by unhappy affairs of the heart or smashed finances.

Count your blessings. You will start with thinking them nil, but if honest will decide you have more than enough to make living worth while.

Get distraction. Nothing more quickly causes life to lose its savor than deadly monotony. It matters not whether this monotony is that of not working enough or working too much.

Learn the lives of those worse off than yourself. Facing others' tragedies is the surest way to make your own seem serio comic.

Cultivate a sense of humor. It is the greatest easer of life. To get all the fun that is to be had in each day is to free us from a dread of the day to come.

Get out of doors. The woman who can have the blues hard when the sun shines and the sky is deeply blue is to be pitied.

Caught the Dean.

One of Dean Swift's friends sent him a fish by a lad. The boy burst into the room, exclaiming very unpolitely:

"My master sends you a fish."

"That is not the way a gentleman should enter," reproved the dean. "You sit here in my chair while I show you how to mend your manners."

When the boy was seated the dean went out. Then the dean knocked at the door, bowed low and said:

"Sir, my master sends his kind compliments, and hopes you are well, and begs you to accept a small present."

"Indeed," replied the boy, "return him my best thanks, and there is a shilling for yourself."

Sure to Be Life in White House.

This is an era when the family man is much to the front. All the men of the big parties seeking presidential and vice presidential honors are in the matrimonial harness and have interesting families. However the cat jumps, Washington is assured of interesting times in the White House. There is Miss Helen Taft or Miss Grace Bryan. Both are schoolgirls, with their minds apparently more on books than on dancing; but, then, when once in the home of the presidents either might think differently. Mr. Kern has an interesting family, including a grown-up daughter, and Mr. Sherman has a son not married, two daughters-in-law and several nieces. Bachelors seem at a discount when it comes to successful public men.

Making Ice Tea.

If ice tea is to be made from the tea left over from the noonday meal or any previous meal it should be strained from the leaves and put in a pitcher in the ice chest. Many leave the tea and leaves together, thinking it will be stronger. True it will, but the tannin is very injurious and such ice tea is really very harmful. The best tea is made with enough good tea to extract the flavor with boiling water in a few minutes. Tea is best served in very thin glasses with shaved or lump ice. Slice the lemon, slit a slice and place it over the rim of the glass. Place the glass on a glass tumbler coaster or in a small saucer with a silver spoon.

A Good Mucilage.

"If you make your own mucilage (one heaping teaspoonful of gum arabic to an ordinary mucilage bottle gives it pure at a cheaper rate than that bought ready made), you can dispense with court plasters, liquid or otherwise, except where an antiseptic is necessary," says Woman's Home Companion. "Ordinary cuts can be coated with this quite as effectively as with the patent preparation. Two coats thoroughly dried will stand the application of water better than anything but the adhesive plaster doctors use—an inconvenient, expensive luxury."

The unthoughtful person's talk is always gossip, which is always vulgar even if it deals with war and revolution. The thoughtful person's talk is philosophic and interesting and elegant even if it is about neighbors and servants. Wit and wisdom are not in subjects, but in speakers.—Phillips Brooks.

AN EVENING AT HOME.

A Few Jolly Games to While Away the Hours.

A funny game to arrange is to assign each man of the party to the task of writing a description of some lady's gown. The name of the person whose gown is to be described must be given, paper and pencils are passed for the purpose and about ten minutes allowed for the work.

Meanwhile the women can be working for another prize in a nonsense contest of a different sort. A very absurd but exciting one is to give each feminine competitor an empty pin paper which she is required to fill in a certain length of time. The holes for the pins will be already made.

A bowl of loose pins is placed on the table, around which the fair players gather, and each strives to get her paper filled first. The woman whose paper is full when the time limit is up, or who has filled more rows than any fellow worker, wins a pretty pincushion. The gentleman whose description is considered best by three feminine judges appointed to pronounce upon the masculine attempts receives a prize. This might be a book containing portraits of famous beauties of the past in their quaint costumes.

A NEW INVENTION.

An Attractive Frame For Hanging Up Princess Gowns.

To make an attractive frame for hanging up princess growns without mussing them take a pasteboard mailing tube about twelve inches long by two inches in diameter and cover with a piece of Dresden ribbon two inches longer than the tube and wide enough to let the edges meet down the length. Sew the edges together, turn in one inch at each end and paste inside the edge of the tube with library paste. This leaves the ends open so that a yard of ribbon one inch wide may be passed through the tube and the ends tied together in a bow. Put the gown through the ribbon until the waist line is over the tube, the waist hanging on one side and the skirt on the other. This hanger may be used for a gown where tapes at the waist are impracticable.—Good Housekeeping.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS.

Mrs. Humphry Ward's Letter to the London Times.

In glancing over Mrs. Humphry Ward's letter to the London Times the thoughtful American reader must be struck with two points: First, the gulf which separates the woman suffrage question in England and America, and, second, the evidently superficial knowledge that Mrs. Ward carried away with her with regard to the present status of the issue on this side of the Atlantic. On one point, however, Mrs. Ward is absolutely correct: The methods employed by the suffragettes have been a decided disadvantage to the movement among American women. By descending to Englishmen's vociferous street methods of claiming their rights they have placed themselves and the cause they represent in an illogical attitude. Women ever have urged that their admittance to the rights of citizenship must tend to improve politics, and those who stand for human dignity and higher aspirations must necessarily shrink from espousing a cause, however righteous, that must place them under a necessity of appearing to indorse lawlessness. That their course was advised, as stated, by great liberal leaders is no excuse for women of good judgment, and the same American women who want the vote not only as a matter of abstract right, but principally because of a much felt need in the equalization of working women's and children's oportunities, must deprecate as derogatory the turn given to the movement in Great Britain, even though it prove successful.

This much having been said, and to return to Mrs. Ward's letter, it is well to note the distinguished writer already enjoys municipal and educational franchise, and is recognized by her government as eligible and competent to sit on city, county and school boards. For all purposes of local work she is enfranchised. When she deals with the subject of woman suffrage in England she is therefore dealing with something totally different from that of woman suffrage as it stands today in America. The question before the English people is whether the last step in the ascent of women shall be taken. The question as it stands in most states of America is whether any step at all in the ascent of women is wise indeed, viewed in this light, Mrs. Ward's letter seems one long advocacy of municipal suffrage for women.

There is hardly a line in the entire letter but conveys the impression that women today have found their highest usefulness in educational and civic matters, a fact recognized in England by the privilege of municipal citizenship. This being granted, her view is that they should be satisfied and leave parliamentary suffrage—that is, control of national and international affairs—to men. This is the point reached by the discussion in England, but it is not that which it has reached here, and to confuse the two situations is likely not only to obscure the issue, but to lead to misunderstanding.

Homemade Porch Swing.

If you cannot afford a mission porch swing, which is so comfortable on the porch in summer, why not improvise one?

If you are lucky enough to have one of the old fashioned wooden settees that used to stand in our grandmothers' kitchens, the problem is solved.

Cheap and artistic cushions in denim, plaid ginghams or bandannas in harmonizing colors make as good looking a couch as if one had spent three or four times as much on it.

The woman that man admires must not be masculine and yet be brave and active, never moping and languid.

She must be frolicsome, but never reckless. She must be saucy, but never sarcastic.

She must be witty, but never rude. Above all, she must be strong, robust and healthy.

Always ready is she to do whatever man suggests and to go anywhere he fancies, not too ready, however, with her own suggestions and desires.

But—and here is the real man—she must have all these suggestions, absolutely without flaw, hidden away in the recesses of her mere feminine brain.

She must smuggle the ideas over into the man's mind in some telepathic way so cleverly that he will glory in being the first thinker.

Woman must wear the short skirt and shirt waist when occasion demands and have a disdain for frills and ruffles, but these same furbelows must be forthcoming at the evening function, else my lord is highly displeased.

The damsel must flirt without seeming to do so and must hear a lot of pretty things which, if necessary, must be forgotten immediately. Yet may she look as if the speeches had sunk deep into her soul.

All these qualities and many more men admire in women. Very modest of them, to be sure, and perfectly rational if they can in return offer a few of the perfections they exact.

Have they qualities, mental or physical, to equal their demands?

HANDY WALL CLEANER.

Cleanses the Tops of Window Casings. No Chair Needed.

A wall cleaner especially adapted for use in cleaning the tops of windows and door casings and places of a similar character which cannot be reached without considerable labor is shown here, recently patented by a Massachusetts man. The device is formed of two sections of bent spring wire, which are attached to a suitable long handle. The piece of cleaning cloth is laid over the undersection of wire, the upper portion holding it in place and preventing it from slipping. The peculiar form of the curves in the wire enables the operator to readily clean the tops of window casings, door casings, pictures, moldings and the like without the necessity of standing on a chair or stepladder. The cleaning cloth can be forced to the rear of any elevated horizontal projection so that it can be thoroughly cleaned.

When the Almanac Originated.

The origin of the word "almanac" is derived from the Arabic words al and manah—to count—and thus aptly applies to the measurement of time. Almanacs in ancient days were employed by the Alexandrian Greeks, but it is uncertain when they were actually introduced into Europe.

In 1150 A. D. Solomon Jarchus published an almanac, but the first printed one was brought out in Vienna in 1457 by the great astronomer Purbach. The most celebrated almanac maker was the dabbler in magic, Nostradamus, and since his time almanacs with predictions have been in vogue, and their weather lore and pictorial prophecies have invariably appealed to a large number of people who are apt to put unswerving belief in the cryptic remarks of Zadkiel and Old Moore.

Don't Talk It Over.

When we have a grievance it is so tempting to go and talk it over with friend or relation.

Tempting, yes; wise, no.

For, as a rule, we are so keen in the irritation of the moment for sympathy that the temptation to "paint with a big brush" is almost irresistible.

And later—well, later probably we find that there were extenuating circumstances. The culprit was not so black as we had fancied, and in our penitence we would give a great deal to be able to recall the unjust things that we said, for, rest assured, we will always be reminded of them by the person in whom we confided.

Do You Know—

That robins and sparrows like eating almonds and dried currants?

That almost all birds like biscuit broken up small?

That marsh marigolds and water lilies last longer when cut and put in water than any other flowers?

That salmon, pike and goldfish never sleep?

That there are more than 7,000,000 leaves on a big oak tree?

That when moor hens dive they swim with their wings, practically flying under water? Most birds that swim do so with their webbed feet.

Mary had a little lamb—
You've heard this fact before;
But have you heard she passed her plate,
And had a little more.

EVANGELINE.

This poem was written by Dr. A. D. Watson of Toronto, when on a visit to Lake Rosseau. It is soon to be printed with other poems, but as yet has not been published.

Dream of the golden day,
Wild wings a-flying,
Voices from far away,
Faint echoes dying:
When shall I see once more
Sunset on Rosseau's shore,
Soft halos floating o'er.
Evangeline.

Glow of the waters bright
Jewelled with islands,
Gleam of the mystic light
Flaming the highlands;
Over the western bar,
Fair shines the evening star,
And nearer, fairer far—
Evangeline.

Oft to these scenes I fly,
Stealing in silence
To where the sun-flamed sky
Purples the islands;
Wigwam and caribou,
Paddle and birch canoe,
And twilight hour with you,
Evangeline.

Shadows of leaves and flowers
Dance in the water,
Bright birds and branching bowers,
Blithesome with laughter;
Yet seems each breath a prayer,
Heaven hath its angels fair
And all its splendor there.
Evangeline.

Airily down the dark
Music comes streaming,
And, drifting in my bark,
Ecstasies dreaming,
I hear a weird refrain,
I catch the mystic strain
Floating to me again.
Evangeline.

CLAIMS LOVAT'S TITLE.

Winnipeg Man Says He Is Hereditary Chief of Fraser Clan.

John Fraser, claimant to the Lovat estates in Scotland, is camping on the outskirts of Winnipeg, preparing soon to return to England and fight his claim before the Committee of Privileges of the House of Lords. He is the son of the late claimant, whose case came up some twenty years ago, but since the death of his father he has discovered evidence, he says, which will affect the case materially. He will endeavor to prove that he is the direct descendant of Alex. Fraser, eldest son of Hugh, ninth Lord Lovat, who was born in 1670.

According to the story told by the Winnipeg claimant, a banquet was held at the house of one of the tenants of the Lovat estate at Christmas, 1688. Two sons of Hugh, ninth Lord Lovat, were invited to the banquet and spent the evening dancing. Alexander, the elder of the two sons, monopolizing the dances of a Miss Chisholm, daughter of the host. Miss Chisholm was looked upon as "the belle of the ball," and the attentions paid her by Alex. Fraser angered some of the guests, who induced one of the pipers to play the Via-tag air McThomas, a tune particularly distasteful to the Fraser family. Urged on by his younger brother Thomas, Alex. drew his dirk and attempted to slit the pipes, but in doing so wounded the piper. Telling his brother, who had fled the house, that he had killed the piper, Thomas induced him to hide in Wales. A few months later, it is alleged, Thomas forged the death certificate of his brother, and upon the death of their father succeeded to the title and estates.

That Alex. was alive at the time of the death of his father is indicated by a certificate purporting to show that he married Elizabeth Edwardes, the daughter of a Cardigan gentleman, some years after the death of his father, in 1738. Two years later John Fraser, great-great-grandfather of the present claimant was born.

John Fraser, the present claimant, came to Canada about two years ago. Until recently he was employed as a collector for a Winnipeg publishing house. His eldest son is working on a farm near here, and takes great interest in "the Great Case," as it is facetiously alluded to here.

Can't Attack Editor.

Several decisions have been given by Judge J. H. Lamont, in the Saskatchewan Supreme Court proceedings. One of these is of particular interest, namely, that in connection with Lachance v. Aiken. Having contracted for advertising space in The Phoenix, published by the defendant, J. A. Aiken, Lachance endeavored to use this space for the publication of attacks upon Aiken. This, upon the plea that, having purchased such space in The Phoenix, he was entitled to make whatever use he pleased of it. This Aiken objected to, and a Supreme Court case was the upshot. The decision of the judge is that the publisher of The Phoenix is under no obligation to publish matter attacking himself in the space he had sold for advertising purposes.

The decision stipulated that after the settlement of counter-claims, executions may issue against the plaintiff for $7.60.

The C.P.R. have enrolled 40 more men at Montreal, including 7 strikers.

Young Folks

"I HAVE A HEN."

Keeping a Straight Face Counts in This Amusing Game.

Here is a good game for the boys and girls to play. The players sit in a row or circle, a leader having been chosen, who sits at the end of the row or in the middle of the circle. He begins the game by saying, "I have a hen," and the second player repeats it after him to his left hand neighbor, who in turn repeats it to the player on his left until it has gone the round, when the last player turns to the player on his right and asks, "Has she feathers?" This question goes all the way back to the leader, who answers, "She has feathers." This answer is taken up by the second player until it has gone around, when the last player asks, "Can she walk?"

When this question reaches the leader he answers, "She can walk," and then follow in due course the question, "How does she walk?" and the answer, "Wiggledy-woggledy, wiggledy-woggledy." As the leader gives this answer he imitates with his hands the walk of a chicken, and each player does the same as he answers. The next question is, "Can she crow?" followed by the answer, "She can crow," which must be accompanied in every case by an imitation of the crow of a rooster. The great object of the game is to have it played throughout without laughter. If any player laughs while he is asking or answering a question or if he makes any mistake in the words, he must pay a forfeit.

TO MAKE BIG BUBBLES.

Mixture That Will Produce Globes of Great Durability.

This is the way to make big soap bubbles, so tough that they roll about over the carpet for ever so many minutes before they think of breaking: Into a pint of warm water shave a piece of strong brown laundry soap about an inch square. When this is thoroughly dissolved, add a tablespoonful of gum arabic and stir until melted. Then a teaspoonful of glycerin is necessary and, lastly, a quart of cold water.

If the bubble makers are not very strong and know how to keep the water out of their mouths, wonderful colored ones can be made by separating this mixture into cups and adding a pinch of different colored dye to each. For little people strawberry or currant juice for pink bubbles and orange juice for yellow are perhaps safer. The lye in the soap plus the glycerin increases the brilliancy of the bubbles, and the gum gives them elasticity. Hot water is necessary to dissolve the various ingredients, but unless cold water is added they expand and break too rapidly in the blowing.—Good Housekeeping.

A Deadly Stream.

According to Scraps, near the river Diamante, in Peru, is a most remarkable death trap in the form of a yellowish white fluid, like petroleum, as sticky as birdlime. It issues from the bare wall of a rock on a mountain side, and its source is like a tiny volcanic crater, black, bituminous and very hot. An exploring party which investigated it some years ago found floundering in it a large skunk, which had evidently been attracted to its fate by trying to reach one of the numerous miserable little birds that had been already caught in the warm adhesive bath. A great number of skeletons of birds were found on the edge of the stream and several of four legged animals, including marmots and foxes.

The Bat's Sense of Touch.

It is said that the bat has a more delicate sense of touch than almost any other animal. It flies about at night with great swiftness, and, although its eyes are nearly sightless, it seldom comes in contact with any object. This is due altogether to its highly developed sense of touch. Strange to say, this is confined to the membrane with which it flies, its so called wings. So delicate is its nervous structure that it is acted on by any object even at a considerable distance, and the bat is thus warned of its presence.

The Witch.

Muvver, you called me a witch, you know,
So I borrowed gran'muvver's hood,
'Cause witches they don't never wear any hats,
An' witches they always have black cats,
So I'm teachin' Tommy to ride on a broom,
But up in the nurs'ry I didn't have room
To do 'ist like witches should.

An' so when he's teached to ride on a broom,
Like all the witch cats do,
We'll ride through the night 'thout any light
An' give all the folks a terrible fright,
But you won't be 'fraid of your own little maid;
I'll whisper to you it's a play 'at I've played
An' I ain't a witch for true!

THE FAMOUS PANTHEON.

The Pantheon in which the attempt was made to assassinate Major Dreyfus has been called the Westminster abbey of France. Famous men of France are entombed there. On its site Clovis built a church to the Apostles. It has been sacred ground since 500 years after the birth of Christ. The church built by Clovis was destroyed by Norman pirates about the year 1000. It was replaced by the abbey of St. Genevieve, of which now only the bell tower remains. Louis XV. built the Pantheon. It was a splendid pile, the combined work of two famous French architects, Soufflot and Rondelet. It is in the form of a Greek cross. In front it has a superb portico of twenty-two Corinthian columns sixty-five feet high, reposing on a magnificent perron of twelve mighty steps. In the interior are sixteen windows, with thirty-two Corinthian columns, and high above all, more than 300 feet in the air, stretches its vast dome.

Here lie Mirabeau, Voltaire, Jean Jacques Rousseau, Marshal Lannes and many other famous Frenchmen. The building is filled with superb frescoes, and it is the goal of every ambitious Frenchman to find a resting place here among the honored dead of his race.

Napoleon the Great took the Pantheon and turned it over to the ecclesiastical authorities, who once more called the structure the Church of St. Genevieve, but it still remained in the eyes of all Frenchmen the resting place of the hero dead of their race.

Lannes was buried in its crypt. Then came Portalis, Cabanis, Vien, Lagrange, Bougainville. In all, thirty-nine Napoleonic heroes, statesmen and great citizens were put there, with grandiose processions, cannons booming, solemn music, solemn discourse, flags and flowers, with vast multitudes surrounding.

With the restoration Louis XVIII., liking the Pantheon idea without the Pantheon name, had Gros begin the great work of interior decoration. In the high part of the dome he painted the apotheosis of St. Genevieve. During this period a few statesmen and soldiers had the honor of being buried in the crypt. Soufflot was the last, in 1829; then came the popular revolution of 1830.

During the siege of Paris the crypt was used as a powder magazine. When the leaders of the commune were pressed down that way they took it for headquarters.

The ecclesiastical authorities remained in charge from the second empire until 1885. The death of Victor Hugo put them to embarrassment. The French government decreed that the great poet be put in the Pantheon crypt, and as he went in the ecclesiastical authorities went out. It has been said that Voltaire and Rousseau had been taken out years previously. Then years ago, therefore, the republic wished to know the truth. Reverently, scientifically and historically the two sepulchers were opened. They were found intact.

In 1889 parliament decreed that the remains of four more Napoleonic heroes be transported to the Pantheon. They were Lazare Carnot, grandfather of the martyred president; Marceau, "colonel at sixteen and general at twenty-one;" Baudin, the Republican revolutionary representative of 1848, and De la Tour d'Auvergne, "the premier grenadier of France."—Baltimore American.

Trying to Age Violins.

While a man in Philadelphia has been trying to invent a varnish that will make a new, cheap violin sound like a Stradivarius, a well known violinist and maker of the instruments has been working along a different line to secure the same effect. He says that age has nothing to do directly with the tone of a violin; that the amount of "bowing" it receives is what makes the tone superior. He makes use of an electrical machine which sends vibrations through the instrument, and he claims that in thirty days as much bowing can be given the violin by this means as it would get in fifty years in the ordinary way. —Pathfinder.

A Lake of Oil.

Five miles south and west of Glenn pool, Tulsa, on the Korndorfer lease, the Prairie Oil and Gas company has drilled in, at a depth of 2,340 feet, a well of high grade oil, offsetting another big well at the same depth producing the same grade of oil. This strike is remarkable in that both these wells are at least 500 feet deeper than wells in the Glenn pool and reveal entirely new sand, with every indication that the entire country thereabout is underlaid with a lake of high grade oil at a depth until now never discovered. It is possible that many if not all wells in the Creek oil fields will in time be drilled to the new sand.—Kansas City Journal.

The Blows of Chance.

Besides being chief executive, he is also head professor of Latin and, the boys say, prize long talker at chapel exercises.

One day while conducting a class in Horace he called on a certain student to read, who did so in utter innocence and absolute accuracy as follows:

"It is hard for us to endure the blows of chance."

The class burst out in a roar of laughter, and as the "Chance" joined in the dumfounded student perceived the modern significance of ancient words.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

The retirement of Hon. R. W. Scott, as Secretary of State will not cause any great regret. There has been an impression for some years that the old gentleman was not earning his pay, was in fact a pensioner, and there is a decided objection to important offices of public trust being used as snuggeries for useless pensioners. When public men have ceased to be useful and need to be pensioned, then let it be a pension clean out, but have the offices filled by men in the full active prime of their vigor.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Now if the city had a smoke-prevention by-law, something might be done towards getting rid of the prevailing nuisance.

THE BUSH FIRES

The recent drought has been the cause of much distress especially in the forest regions. Only those who have known the anxiety which comes to the community surrounded by bush fires can understand the peculiar stress suffered in Muskoka and along the St. Lawrence during the last three weeks. The farmer who has given a lifetime of toil and planning that his homestead and broad fields may be a worthy heritage sees a distant line of smoke or a lurid glare which threatens destruction of all that he has won from the soil.

The ancients regarded the household flame as sacred, guarding the fires which symbolized a city's foundation and a state's development. But sometimes the very element which signifies domestic peace and comfort turns into a hideous, devouring enemy against which modern machinery seems a puny force. "Rain" has been the one cry from the anxious watchers and only autumn showers can bring relief.—Canadian Courier.

THE FOURTH INSTALMENT OF MR. STRATTON'S EVIDENCE

Extract From the Minutes of Evidence in the Blue Book Report of the Royal Commission on Insurance.

The fourth and last instalment of Mr. Stratton's evidence. Sept. 14th, 1906.

James R. Stratton, recalled by Mr. Tilley.

Q—Is this the book for your account in the Bank of Montreal at that time?

A—Yes.

Q—And this account shows the deposit of $10,000?

A—It does.

Q—When was that deposited?

A—On the 14th October, 1905.

Q—When was this amount written in. $10,000 in the credit column?

A—I telephoned for the books yesterday as arranged with the counsel to my bookkeeper and I told him that on the 13th or 14th there was a deposit of $10,000 and he brought me the book up on the evening train last evening.

Q—He came up with it himself?

A—He came up with the two books and he said it is rather strange that when the deposit was made it was entered in the books of the Bank of Montreal and it is entered in my account, but the copying clerk in copying it did not enter it in the bank book at the end of the month. He had to go the bank yesterday afternoon to get it inserted. But you will see that the totals are correct and the balances.

Q—So that $10,000 that is now shown in the bank book in the credit column for October 14th was entered yesterday?

A—After I telephoned.

* * *

Q—Not discovered until we ask for it?

A—No.

Q—Although the book all the way through shows the checkings that have been made to see whether it comes out right?

A—Balances.

* * *

Q—In fact every cheque has a cheque mark on each side of the amount all the way through the book, from beginning to end and that $10,000 was not discovered until we asked for the book yesterday.

* * *

Q—You told us that you got the money when Mr. Pattison was with you at the bank?

A—I got the money during the day.

Q—You said before you got it when Mr. Pattison was with you?

A—I cannot remember every little detail, but I got the money during the day. It may have been before 12 o'clock, it might be one or two o'clock. I had the money at any rate.

Q—Do you say now that your former statement might not be correct and that it was before Mr. Pattison went to the bank that you got the $90,000?

A—I had the $90,000 before Mr. Pattison went to the bank.

Q—You say now it was before Mr. Pattison went to the bank?

A—Yes, there is no doubt about that.

Q—Then you had the $90,000 in your pocket?

A—I had.

Q—In bills?

A—In certificates.

Q—What certificates?

A—Thousand dollar certificates.

Q—Certificates of what, some bank?

A—The Dominion.

Q—Dominion certificates for $1,000?

A—Yes.

Q—You mean Dominion of Canada certificates?

A—Yes.

Extract from the Royal Insurance Commissioners' report, made to Parliament, 1907. Following is a photographic copy of a portion of the report:

The statements of Stratton, McCutcheon and Pattison are not reconcilable with each other, and are very unsatisfactory.

The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $80,000 and no more. The production of the bank's security for an advance to McCutcheon being insisted upon by counsel prosecuting the inquiry, it became necessary to disclose the withdrawal from the bank of the additional $10,000; its retention by Stratton on the 13th of October; its deposit in his overdrawn bank account in Peterborough on the following day and the alleged origin and destiny of the cheque for $10,000.

The inference to be drawn from these transactions and the various accounts given of them by the participants are plain and obvious.

If the cheque was given to McCutcheon in October, which is doubtful, it was not, your Commissioners are satisfied, intended that ultimately the company should pay less than the whole $90,000, or that any person but Stratton should have the ultimate benefit of the $10,000. Otherwise the $10,000 cash itself would have been immediately returned instead of being carried in Stratton's pocket during the whole of the 13th October, 1905, and taken to Peterboro and deposited there on the following day in his own overdrawn account, and the demand note would have been drawn for $80,000 instead of $90,000. Very little importance should be attached to the circumstance that the papers had been prepared. The agreement with the bank could have been made to fit the altered condition by merely striking out 'ninety' and inserting 'eighty,' or could have been entirely retyped as it was less than two folios long, and a whole day elapsed between the payment to Pattison and the completion of the arrangement with the bank.

It was stated by Stratton that the $10,000 would be returned and the transaction rearranged so as to extend the payments to be made by the company over a longer period, as soon as the work of the Commission is completed.

Having regard to all the circumstances your Commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share, to the extent of $10,000, in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Life.

BORDEN SPEAKS AT MONTREAL RECEIVES GREAT RECEPTION

He Says That if Elected He Will See That Transcontinental is Rushed Through Without Delay—Quebec Must Not Stand Aloof, Declares Monk.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—The demonstration Saturday evening in the Monument National will go down to political history as one of the most important gatherings ever held in this province, and an organized attempt to prevent Mr. Borden from speaking made the meeting all the more anti-ministerial.

The hall was packed and the representative men of the party were on the platform, almost the entire audience rising and cheering wildly when the leader and his colleagues entered the building. H. Laporte and H. E. Ekers, two ex-mayors, presided.

The first speaker introduced was F. D. Monk, his speech was an appeal to his compatriots to remember that there would be nothing more dangerous to the prestige of the race than to become isolated from the political thought or opinion of the other parts of the Dominion; for a solid Quebec, he said, would eventually bring about a solid English-speaking Canada.

In the course of his address Mr. Borden made a statement regarding the G. T. P.

The Conservative leader declared that if he came to power the Grand Trunk Pacific would be carried out in its integrity, just as if they had not been the authors of the measure themselves. There could not possibly be anything like repudiation once Parliament and the people had endorsed the undertaking, although he had nothing to take back as regards what he stated when the measure was before Parliament.

Other speakers were L. T. Marechal, the probable Conservative candidate in St. Mary's; Premier J. Douglas Hazen, Premier Roblin and Hon. W. J. Hanna.

The secret of the ten minutes' uproar was explained yesterday morning. It appears that in view of the fact that a section of the C.P.R. strikers had asked Mr. Borden to pronounce himself upon the merits of the dispute, and the leader having refused to say anything on the subject, the strikers decided to prevent him from speaking, declaring that they would howl Sir Wilfrid Laurier down too, when he came to Montreal.

The Farnham, Que., brass band accompanied the party from that place, which was visited in the morning. Some 300 were at the station there to see the tourists. The party left for Montreal.

GRITS GREET THE PREMIER BIG CROWD AT STRATHROY

Sir Wilfrid Declares That Only Bad Lands Were Given Away to Companies Because They Needed Money For Their Development.

Strathroy, Sept. 21.—That the personality of Sir Wilfrid Laurier still rings in harmony with the rank and file of the Liberal party seemed indisputable when the Prime Minister arrived at 12.30 on Saturday and found himself almost overwhelmed by the cordiality of his reception.

Ten thousand people lined the route of the parade and the cheering along the route was continuous and spontaneous.

When W. F. Innis rose to open the meeting, probably 5,000 people crowded within hearing distance of the temporary platform. W. S. Calvert and F. R. Pardee spoke briefly.

Dr. Routledge, Liberal candidate for East Middlesex; Dr. Fairbank, candidate in East Lambton, and Mr. Smith, in North Middlesex, briefly reviewed the outlook.

Sir Wilfrid was given an ovation on rising to receive the address of the Middlesex and Lambton associations, welcoming the Premier to Western Ontario. Pretty little Jean Calvert, daughter of the ex-member, presented a bouquet and received the customary kiss.

In the course of his speech, replying to the charge that the Government had given lands to companies instead of settlers, Sir Wilfrid said:

"This is my answer, and I gave it in the face of everyone in my hearing and challenge contradiction. Not one acre of land fit for immediate settlement, and on which farming operations could be undertaken at once, was given away. The only land disposed of was dry, or semi-arid, land, which required capital to develop and to induce men to settle upon it. The homes of the gophir and prairie dog were displaced by American settlers who understood the system of farming."

Hon. G. P. Graham and Hon. A. G. MacKay also spoke.

CRIME IS ADMITTED

Smart Says He Killed Indian.

Coroner's Jury at Belleville Brings in Verdict Against Prisoner.

Belleville, Sept. 21.—The inquest held at Shannonville Friday night in the case of James Sero, the Indian who was shot and killed on Wednesday night on the Mohawk reserve, ended in a verdict of wilful murder against Thomas Smart, who is now under arrest.

The prisoner had told witnesses that he would kill Sero, and told others he had killed him and was ready to swing for it.

Not only did the prisoner admit shooting his grandfather, but Mrs. Catherine Sero, wife of the deceased, and Dorothy Smart, sister of the prisoner, both swore to seeing Thomas Smart fire the shot which did kill him.

To Mrs. Sero the prisoner said he did the shooting, and was now "ready to hang like a man."

The two men were in a tussle out in the orchard when the shooting took place. Prisoner said the reason was that Sero was not treating his sister right, as a girl of her age should be inside.

The prisoner is in jail, and will be tried at the fall assizes.

Dutch Cruiser on Scene.

Willemstad, Curacao, Sept. 21.—The Netherlands cruiser Friesland arrived here from home waters Saturday morning. She exchanged salutes with the forts as she steamed into the harbor.

Get Divorced.

Sioux Falls, S.D., Sept. 21.—Decrees of divorce have been awarded here to Preston Madill, guard at the Central Prison, Toronto, and Thomas G. Marquis of Montreal.

Lumber Prices Up.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 21.—The price of lumber advanced Saturday from $1 to $2 per thousand.

"MARTYR ROBES" ARE DONNED NOW

Suffragettes Adopt New Fashion in Welcoming Prisoners.

London, Sept. 21.—The latest suffragette fashion is the wearing of "martyr robes," which consist of a white dress adorned with ribbons of suffragette colors. These martyr robes are worn when welcoming prisoners fresh from Holloway Jail and when planning onslaughts on the Government.

Last week two detachments of prisoners were released. They were greeted by a contingent of fellow workers, fifty of whom dragged their carriage in place of horses. As the last detachment consisted of Scotch prisoners, special Highland arrangements were made, and bagpipes, white heather and much plaid drapery figured in the procession.

August Bank Statement.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—The bank statement for the month of August would seem to indicate a betterment of business and financial conditions.

Deposits payable on demand aggregated nearly $180,000,000 as against $165,000,000 in July. Notice deposits also showed a small increase.

The total note circulation was fifty-nine and one-half millions, as against fifty-four and one-quarter millions.

There is slight increase in the amount of money loaned outside Canada, which for the month totalled sixty-two and three-quarter millions, against fifty-five millions in July.

There was a decrease of about one million dollars in loans in Canada. Assets and liabilities are higher than for July.

Plantations Suffer.

New York, Sept. 21.—The steamer Siberia, which arrived here Saturday from West Indian ports, ran into the recent hurricane off the Bahamas Island, the storm commencing Sept. 11 and continuing until the 14th. As the centre of the storm moved over the island it was feared on the Siberia that great damage must have been done to the Bahama plantations.

Queen Amelia's Visit.

London, Sept. 21.—Queen Amelia of Portugal will be England's next royal guest—but, of course, on a strictly private visit. The bereaved queen, whose health has been shattered by the tragedy of February last and her subsequent worries, is coming for a thorough rest and change in rural England. She is said to be only a shadow of her former self.

BELLS BLESSED AT WALKERVILLE

Interesting Ceremony by Mgr. Meunier at New R.C. Church.

Windsor, Sept. 21.—A unique ceremony took place at Walkerville yesterday afternoon when the new set of bells for Our Lady of the Lake Church was blessed and dedicated by Mgr. Meunier, acting bishop of the diocese, assisted by a score of priests from other parts of the diocese. There are three of the chimes, and the aggregate weight is about 4,500 pounds. The largest bell weighs 2,000 pounds, and was presented by Mrs. E. Chandler Walker. After the ceremony the bells were hoisted to the tower of the church, where they will remain silent until the church, which is now being rebuilt after the fire, is formally rededicated on Oct. 11.

Hears Warrant; Goes Crazy.

Alexandria, La., Sept. 21.—A mania for killing took possession of Edward Ayles, a negro prisoner, when his death warrant for the murder of his wife was read to him in jail.

He grasped a case knife, killed "Tip" Davis and Garfield Bradley, and severely wounded four other prisoners, all negroes. One of the wounded may die.

Meanwhile jail officers played a fire hose on Ayles, the cold water finally bringing him back to reason.

Cattle Lost Seeking Water.

Peterboro, Sept. 21.—Cattle losing their lives in bog-holes and swamps in search of water is the remarkable state of affairs in some parts of Eastern Ontario, according to the statements of John Glendenning of Valentine, a man well known among the dairy and live stock and agricultural districts of the province. "Scores are dying in the mire," remarked Mr. Glendenning, "and nothing can be done to save them."

Maine Towns Threatened.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 21.—Numerous forest fires in Maine are devastating thousands of acres of timber lands and causing great anxiety for the safety of the property in at least ten towns in eight counties.

The towns and villages where the damage is heavy includes Brooksville, West Hancock, Surrey, Dicksvale, Jackman, Lisbon, Scarboro, Biddeford, Eliot, Olamon, Milford, Cardville and Costigan.

AIMED AT CROW AND KILLED BOY

Thirteen Year Old Boy Meets Instant Death.

Sackville, N.B., Sept. 21.—Thirteen-year-old Edward Cook, son of Mr. Rufus Cook, was accidentally killed by a charge from a double-barrelled shotgun in the hands of Edward Wood, aged 15, at Wood Point on Saturday. Young Cook was instantly killed. The accident took place when the boys were bringing the cows from pasture. When almost a quarter of a mile from their homes they noticed a crow flying over their heads. Wood turned toward Cook to take a shot at the bird, and as he did so the gun was discharged. The full charge of the shot struck Cook in the face and he fell to the road dead.

Safe-Blowers Busy.

Ingersoll, Sept. 21.—The safe in the Grand Trunk station at Beachville was cracked Saturday night, and from the evidences of clever work it is supposed the burglars are professional cracksmen. Nitro-glycerine was evidently the explosive used and the safe was badly damaged. There was no money in the safe.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth Improves.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, reached Ottawa on Saturday night from Europe, whither he had gone to consult specialists regarding his hearing. He reports that he is somewhat better, and that doctors hold out hopes for improvement.

HON. R. P. ROBLIN

Premier of Manitoba Who Will Accompany Mr. Borden Here.

'PHONE CENTRAL IS DESTROYED

Paris is Now Without Telephones—Post Office Also Burned.

Paris, France, Sept. 21.—Fire broke out last night in the Central Telephone building and spread with such rapidity that the telephone employes were forced to fly hastily to the streets. The entire building was soon in flames, and this, together with the postoffice, which is located close to the Place Des Victoires, was totally destroyed. The loss is estimated at $5,000,000. It will take a month to re-establish the service. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is believed to have been due to a short circuit.

Incendiary Fire.

Brockville, Sept. 21.—The provincial detective force will be asked through the local crown attorney to investigate incendiary fires, two of which have occurred within the past 48 hours on the farm of Peter Cole, a peaceful tiller of the soil living five miles from here. His barns and season's crops were burned at midnight on Thursday, entailing a heavy loss. Early Saturday morning three stacks of hay in different portions of a field were ignited almost simultaneously and went up in smoke. The perpetrators left no trace, but there are strong suspicions.

CARS FOR THE G.T.P.

Big Section of Transcontinental is Opened To-day—Many Engines and Cars.

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—President Hays and party of G. T. P. officials arrived from the east Saturday and will officially open the line as far as Wainwright to-day.

The president said there were now on the way west for the service of the company 1,000 new freight cars. This would bring the total number of cars in possession of the Grand Trunk Pacific up to 7,592. Of these 5,197 were box cars, and the company would be perfectly prepared in this respect to handle the business which they would be called on to look after when the line was brought under operation. Twenty new passenger cars were also on the way west, which, with those already in possession of the company in the west, would be sufficient for the demands of the passenger department.

In the list were included several dining and sleeping cars, as well as day coaches. There were 22 locomotives available for business, which would be sufficient for the work of the fall. Other locomotives were under order and would be forwarded from time to time.

Tax Collector Arrested.

Collingwood, Sept. 21.—Tax Collector J. W. Archer is under arrest here charged with the theft of funds of the municipality.

Archer was tax collector for a number of years, but the shortage is wholly in his accounts for 1907. The deficit amounts to $669, of which the council have secured $300 by withholding the collector's salary for 1907.

The case was held over until to-morrow, and in the meantime he is released on bail of $1,000.

To Be Winnipeg's D.O.C.

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—The appointment of a successor to the late Col. Evans as D.O.C. for this military district is not yet announced officially, but in military circles it is thought probable that Col. Samuel B. Steele, D.O.C. of District No. 11, with headquarters at Calgary, will be named.

Col. Steele made his mark as commander of the Strathcona Horse in the Boer war.

MR. STRATTON'S ADDRESS

Mr. Stratton's address emphasizes one important fact, viz., that Mr. Hall M.P., whose name the does not mention obtained as Dominion representative more for Peterborough than Mr. Stratton ever thought of doing. The incomparably greater value of Mr. Hall's brief parliamentary career to Peterborough is unwittingly and unwillingly shown in Mr. Stratton's address. The latter is dwarfed in comparison. But the real issue here as we said on Saturday is Strattonism. Have we had enough of it?

REASONS FOR A CHANGE

Reports from all over the country indicate that the Opposition gains ground steadily and that the defeat of the Government is imminent. If the Government should succeed in the election it would be by a majority so precarious that it would be at the mercy of the baser elements, and wholly incompetent to give efficient and energetic administration. It would be forced to neglect the public business in order to manage its attenuated majority and give even a semblance of protection to the public treasury. Like the Ross Government of unhappy memory it could ward off death only by heroic expedients, and succeed in bye elections only by flagrant rascality. Few Liberals can desire that a second chapter of this distressing character should appear in the history of the party and for the sake of the party itself defeat should be welcomed.

It is already evident that the Government has lost its power of initiative and the fresh energy in the field of administration which the country demands. Exhausted and reactionary the Ministers take their policy from the Opposition and act only in fear of public opinion. Witness the Civil Service Act, the reorganization of the Railway Commission and rural mail delivery. All these measures were imposed upon reluctant Ministers and torn from a platform which the Government organs and spokesmen affect to despise. If the Government should come back with a bare majority all its flagging energies would necessarily be employed in the struggle to maintain its hold on power and its very feebleness would lead to increasing demoralization in the departments and increasing servitude to the professional plunderers who hang upon the skirts of every Government.

Furthermore, if the leaders of Opposition devise constructive measures and father reforms, they have a claim to the public confidence which is not cancelled when these measures are seized by Ministers and exploited as Government capital in their constituencies. For the last four or five years the best measures which Parliament has enacted have been agitated by Conservatives and independents and imposed by the force of public opinion upon a halting Administration. The Government has been in league with corporate interests, subservient to the selfish demands of hungry partisans and generally contemptuous of the social and industrial reforms which should be the natural concern of Liberal Ministers. The movement to extend the Intercolonial Railway was defeated. Sir William Mulock's determined struggle to place the telegraph and telephone services under the Post-Office Department and to organize a great system of rural telephones ended in failure and he withdrew from the Cabinet. Aside from the Lemieux Act which was not dictated particularly by concern for labour, what evidence have we had the the Government realizes that the world is developing a new social spirit as illustrated by the legislation of New Zealand and Australia and Great Britain itself?

What evidence have we in the speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he understands the age in which he lives, or ever turns his eyes towards the under dog in the social struggle? When has his voice rung out in denunciation of electoral corruption or departmental jobbery, or corporate aggression, or alienation of the public domain, or the corrupt and corrupting schemes of middlemen and grafters? Compare his utterances with those of the Republican leaders at Washington, and one would think that he lived in another age and on another continent. He has not conserved the public domain, or denounced electoral crookedness, or laid a strong hand upon waste and dishonesty in the Departments. Through his spokesmen in the committees of Parliament he has blocked investigation, he has permitted the public estate to be exploited by partisan speculators he has allowed electoral crooks to go unpunished, and even to be appointed to public offices and he had tolerated supporters who, through a whole Parliament, have dodged the election courts and escaped inquiry into the means by which they were returned. There are signs that the people are weary unto death of this sort of politics of all this wretched partisan chicanery, and of all this docile obedience to the powerful few, and will turn out Government after Government until the country is redeemed from corrupt administration, electoral rascality and government by faction and interests.—The News.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Examiner in criticizing Mr. Roblin for his land deals very unfairly, ignores the fact that they were all by public auction. Whereas the "steals" at Ottawa were by manipulation. There is not a particle of reproach attachable to Mr. Roblin.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Time for a change.

If the G.T.P. Ry. costs the country $300,000,000, how much would it cost a man to get into the Senate?

Don't be afraid to vote as your conscience dictates, for it will be a strictly secret ballot.

There can be no hold-ups, neither may a man be afraid it will ever be found out how he votes.

It is surprising what a Napoleon some men think they are. We have one amongst us who is head and shoulders above any other man — so he thinks.

They are having all the music down at the Simcoe street committee rooms now, but just wait until the evening of 26th October next!

Mr. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, makes his speeches strong, says the Montreal Gazette. Summing up at Halifax he condemned the Laurier Government for violating its promise, for demoralising the public service, for extravagance and waste of public funds, for alienating the public domain to benefit political friends, for carelessness and indifference in the administration of public affairs, for inefficiency and incompetence, for having brought discredit on the name of Canada and for lowering the tone of public life. And that proof is on record to support all the charges Mr. Roblin should be well hated in circles which profit by what causes loss and shame to other Canadians.

Returns of the foreign trade of the Dominion for the month of August show imports of $23,656,147 as compared with $33,919,620 in the corresponding months of last year, a decrease of $10,263,473. The exports of domestic produce for the month totalled $ 22,910,611, a decrease of $3,260,087. The total trade of the country for the first five months of the current fiscal year was $211,658,083, which is a decrease of $64,229,546 as compared with last year. Imports decreased by $50,179,292, exports of domestic produce by $9,634,431 and exports of coin and bullion by $3,790,204. The imports for the 5 months amounted to $115,544,848 and the domestic exports to $90,115,621.

TIME SAVER IN LAYING BRICKS

New York Man Devises a New Method Which is Called the Packet System

Here is a hint which contractors and builders of Peterborough will find worth taking. According to expert testimony it is possible to lay a considerably larger number of bricks in a given time by the new method devised by Frank B. Gilbrethe, of New York City. The plan is described as the packet system. It is now stated that the system has stood the experiments made so satisfactory that Mr. Gilbrethe is able to cut down the time of construction very materially.

The packet is so simple that the wonder is that it was not thought of many years ago. A little wooden frame or tray allows the bricklayer to place his finger underneath the brick while it is resting on its edge. Ten bricks are piled on edge on what the bricklayers call "bull headers," in two rows of ten bricks each. This is done by tenders at the car or cart. After the tenders have so stacked the bricks, they remain undisturbed until the bricklayer picks them from the packet, one at a time, and places them upon the wall.

The time saved by the bricklayer in not being obliged to pick up two pieces of a broken brick instead of a whole brick, nor especially select the best bricks for the exterior four inches of the wall, nor to discard the broken bricks are some of the advantages claimed for the packet system. Thus in the course of a day, the advantage of having all the best bricks put on the same packets and the inferior, chipped and broken pieces put on the other, amounts to a surprising increase in the total work accomplished by the gang of bricklayers.

The process is thus; the packets are filled by laborers from the car or cart. The bricks are put face up, in two rows of ten each, a weight of about ninety pounds plus the weight of the packet. The entire load is placed on specially constructed wheelbarrows. Arriving where the bricklayer is working, the packet is placed on the stock platform of the scaffold. The last step is the placing of the packet on the wall by the bricklayer, requiring but the moving of the hands and arms. The tossing of a brick in the hands of a bricklayer, so characteristic of the old method is made entirely unnecessary. The best face of the brick is always upward and there is a considerable saving of energy and time. In this way an experienced bricklayer will do two or even three times the amount of work before and a good wall is assured.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

COW TESTING AND RESULTS

Some Good Records Being Made ---An Interesting Comparison

In three herds in the North Oxford Ontario cow testing association some good records were made in the last regular monthly test. One cow gave 1340 lbs. milk testing 3.1 per cent fat, and two other cows in two other herds each gave over 1550 lbs. milk, testing 3.0 and 3.1 per cent fat.

In the Jingotville, Que, Association in each of the sixx herds recorded there were individual cows giving over 1000 lbs. milk all of them testing 3.3 and over.

Ormstown, Quebec, also had a good record, for in 10 herds tested some one cow gave 1000 lbs. milk; one went as high as 1410 lb. milk testing 3.6. Such cows are well worth keeping. But the fact remains, unfortunately, that there are probably hundreds of cows in the Dominion that are not worth keeping.

For instance, in the Dixville, Que, Association 14 cows in one herd gave a total yield of 427 lbs. of butter fat in the month; but in an adjoining farm it took 21 cows to give 403 lbs of fat during the same time. Think of it, half as many cows to feed and provide accomodation for and yet receive no more income from. The work of these associations helps farmers to discover the cows that are worth keeping, and enables them to detect and dispose of the unprofitable summer, and winter, boarder.

DAYS OF DIZZINESS

Come to Many Peterborough People.

There are days of dizziness, spells of drowsiness, headache, sideache, backache.

Sometimes rheumatic pain after urinary trouble.

Mrs. A. Graham, of 547 Water st., Peterborough, Ont., says:

"My back was so weak and tender that I could not turn in bed. A heavy, dull pain had settled across the small of it, and caused me almost constant suffering. I became weak and languid. I was run down generally and had little ambition to move around. Headaches were frequent and often accompanied by spells of dizziness. Spots would dazzle before my eye and I would be unable to see. I had tried numerous remedies without getting results. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at McDiarmid & Jury's pharmacy. I tried them and soon found relief. The kidneys were quickly regulated and each and every symptom of kidney trouble was quickly cured. I am glad to recommend Booth's Kidney Pills as I believe them to be the best and most reliable of all kidney remedies."

QUEBEC FARMERS BEHIND TIMES

Scottish Farmers do Some Criticising---Useless Dogs in New Brunswick

London, Sept. 21.—The members of the Scotch Agricultural Commission now in Canada, are sending home admirable accounts of their tour, and undoubtedly their official report will be interesting reading to Canadian farmers. They apparently found much to admire in Canada, and something to criticize, which was done with Scotch shrewdness. R. B. Greig declares Quebec farmers to be conservative and the most interesting, but worst farmers in the Dominion, while regarding Ontario farmers, he observes that a Buchan man would cut more thistles with less dash. There is plenty of room in Ontario for men with capital, though the land is not cheap. Mr. Greig points out that a quantity of land is wasted in New Brunswick for want of sheep, "because each man must keep a useless dog." The agricultural colleges are the objects of warmest appreciation.

LINDSAY HAS A FIRE FIEND

Two More Fires in the Town—Looks Like Work of an Incendiary

The Lindsay Post says:

That the town of Lindsay has within its borders a fiend in human form who is bent on the destruction of property by fire was evidenced last evening by the double attempt, apparently to burn the business section of the town in the destruction of the Benson House stables and the McConnell House sheds. Who the scoundrel is, is of course a mystery but no stone will be left unturned to run him to earth and if apprehended the punishment that will be meted out to him will be of such a nature as to put a quietus on his wicked inclinations.

There are many who believe that last night's conflagrations were not the beginning of his diabolical actions. The destruction of the Grand Union hotel stables last May was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, and it is firmly believed that this was the man who wrought such destruction last evening.

SENSATIONAL STORY BY BOY

Warkworth Youth Said Two Young Men Put Him in Oven

Crown Attorney W. F. Kerr, of Cobourg, was in Warkworth on Monday, investigating a village sensation. A young boy of that place charged two men with putting him in a bake oven and giving him an idea of "Hell and the Comforts." He produced burnt shoes, clothes, etc., but the opinion of the court was that he was a full-fledged follower of Ananias and the case was dismissed. The boy had evidently burnt them himself and imagination had done the rest.

Aero Club Experiments.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 21.—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who is now on his way to Washington to attend the Aerial Experiment Association on Sunday, said at Truro yesterday that Lieut. Selfridge's death would make no difference in the plans of the Aerial Experiment Association, either at Hammondsport or Beddeck. Flying machines Nos. 5 and 3, now being built on the tetrahedral design at Beddeck, will be tested the middle of October, when, Dr. Bell says, matters of great moment to those interested in aeronautics will be developed.

His Command Extended.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Lieut.-Col. W. E. Hodgins has had his appointment as district officer commanding Military District No. 4 extended for a period of five years. Lieut.-Col. Hodgins began his military career 42 years ago, when he entered the Military School at Toronto as a cadet. In 1897 he was appointed to succeed Lieut.-Col. OBITUARY

GEO. RAY, LINDSAY.

There passed away last evening at his home on Fair avenue, an old and esteemed resident of Lindsay in the persona of Mr. George Ray. Mr. Ray has been troubled for the past few months with a growth on the liver, and despite all efforts it kept a firm hold on him until death visited him last evening. Mr. Ray was one of our oldest citizens, being over 81 years of age. He was born in the county of Peterborough, where his father, John Wesley Ray, lived for many years. Early in life he moved to Lindsay, where he has lived for a great number of years.

Mr. Ray leaves to mourn his loss a widow and four sons and five daughters all of whom are grown up.

The funeral will take place from his residence on Fair avenue, on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.—Lindsay Post.

SONG SERVICE AT MARK ST. CHURCH

The song service was a pleasing feature of last night's service at the Mark street church and an especially good programme was rendered. The choir under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. C. H. Coon, is doing splendid work. The following numbers were given:

Male quartette, "Hark, Hark my Soul," Nevin; Messrs Speer, Coon, Calander and Collins.

Anthem, "Stand up for Jesus," by Wilson.

Mixed quartette, "Softly fades the twilight," Messrs. Speer and Calander, Mrs. Matchett and Miss Coon.

Glory Song, Gabriel.

472 SCHOLARS IN ATTENDANCE

The most successful rally in the history of the Charlotte street Sunday school was held yesterday. There was a large attendance of scholars at the morning service when the pastor, Rev. G. W. Henderson, preached an eloquent and appropriate sermon from the 17th verse of the 8th chapter of Proverbs.

The attendance at the session of the school in the afternoon was the largest since the school's inception, 472 being present. A feature of the attendance was the presence of fifteen members of the cradle roll. A unique programme was carried out, the scholars joining heartily in the singing and the responsive reading. Solos were sung by Mr. James Browne and Miss Howell and short addresses were given by Mr. Downie, B.A., Dr. M.A. Morrison and the pastor.

At the evening service a most impressive sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Henderson, to the teachers. Altogether it was a most successful Sunday school day.

FESTIVAL AT S. A. BARRACKS

Brig. Potter of Toronto Gave Splendid Addresses—Beautiful Decorations

The preparation for the harvest festival at the Salvation Army barracks this year have been carried out probably better than ever before and the result so far has been most gratifying to the officers in charge, Staff Captain Goodwin and Captain Maisey. On Saturday evening and throughout Sunday the services were of a special thanksgiving nature and were conducted by Brigadier Potter of the staff at headquarters, Toronto.

The Review paid a visit to the barracks yesterday and was surprised by the appropriate design that has been followed in all the work. The products of the field and the orchard, of the woods and the carefully kept flower plot are tastefully arranged about the hall. Staff Captain Goodwin with excellent effect has arranged the front in artistic and striking manner. The usual railing is replaced by a white rail fence with two gates. One is noticeably smaller than the other. On the former is written this passage, "Enter ye in at the straight gate." on the wider these words are found, "Keep this gate shut wide is the gate to destruction." The fence is painted white, and the lettering is in red, and is very appropriate in its suggestion.

The display of fruits and vegetables, grains and flowers is a splendid one and won very favorable comment from all those who attended the services. The mottoes on the walls are as follows: "Make ready for God's Harvest Home." "Be ready when He reaper comes." "The earth is the Lord's." "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

SALE OF GOODS.

Tonight there will be a sale of the goods which have been donated for the festival. These not only include the fruits, vegetables, etc. but also many household effects. The merchants have been quite generous in some cases and there is consequently a large amount of soap, black lead and many useful things which will appeal to the women. Staff Captain Goodwin has completed all the arrangements for tonight and many changes have been made. Booths have been prepared in which fancy goods will be sold, also ice cream, candies and practically everything which was donated for the festival.

The late Mr. T. Tattinson, of Elm Grove, Browness, Windermere, retired builder, left £22,030.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

Hard Times Blown To The Winds

PEOPLE have become tired of the hard time scare, they have found that the reality has not presented itself in such stern proportions as they had been made believe it would—like many another scare it has blown over and people have begun to feel easier. Well they may, for no better times ever faced a people than is now facing Canada. Never in the history of this store have we made greater preparations for the Autumn and winter trade than we have made for the present—never during our business career in Peterboro has any season opened up with greater activity than have past weeks done. Especially is this noticeable in our House Furnishing Department. Our stock is in the best condition now, and the daily sales show an increase over all other years. We feel confident of greater business this year than ever and the public generally feel the same. Furnish your home with any new carpets, rugs, curtains, draperies, etc. that you may need while our stock is complete. Come and see our beautiful showing in Art Rugs for all sizes of rooms—prices as low as ever.

This week we are putting on sale three lines of House Furnishings that may interest you—if they do you will benefit by lower prices than you usually pay.

WEDDING BELLS

UPTON—PURCELL

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. C. Purcell, 111 Queen street west, when her youngest daughter, Mattie H., was married to Mr. Arthur B. Upton, of Campbellford, by Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Western Methodist church. The bride looked very beautiful in a lace gown over taffeta and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her cousin, ex-Reeve Merrill, of Hintonburg, and was unattended save for her flower girl, little Miss Irene Tucker, niece of the bride, who looked sweet in white silk and blue ribbons. The bride and groom left on the 10.45 train for Toronto, Peterborough and Campbellford. On their return they will reside at 11 Queen street west. The bride received many beautiful and costly presents.—Ottawa Citizen.

FOREMAN—PUGSLEY

At noon on Saturday, Sept. 19, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Josephine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Pugsley, at their residence, 337 Bloor street west, to Mr. A.E. Foreman, of Vancouver, B.C. Rev. Mr. Matthews, brother-in-law of the groom officiated. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family only the immediate relatives were present. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Foreman left for Vancouver, where they will in future reside.—Toronto Globe.

Mr. Foreman was formerly connected with the C.G.E. company in this city and has many frinds here who will extend best wishes.

CROWE—OKE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday at Port Hope, when F. W. Crowe, of Toronto, was united in marriage to Mrs. Carrie Oke, of Port Hope. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Pedlar, 174 Walton street, with Rev. W. G. Clarke, B.A., officiating. There were many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Crowe left on the evening train for Toronto. Mrs. Crowe will be at home to her friends after Nov. 1st at 151 Beatrice street.

WORK WILL SOON BE STARTED ON NEW WOLFE STREET WHARF

Public Utility for which Grant was Made Early in the Spring will be Under way by Election Time.

It was learned today that work will soon be commenced on the new wharf at Wolfe street for which the government made a grant early in the season. When the grant was made it was expected that the work would start at once but apparently the Department of Public Works was holding back with a purpose. With the elections only a few weeks away operations are to be started on the wharf, and of course it will be pointed to as another of the big things the Laurier government is doing for Peterborough. They know how to work things at Ottawa all right.

The grant was secured early in the spring through the efforts of the Board of Works, of the city council. The wharf no doubt will be a good one. It will likely be ready for next season's navigation if the election does not happen to be postponed.

BUFFALO AUTHORITIES ARE LOOKING FOR MADOC GIRLS

Buffalo, Sept. 20.—Mr. Sisson, Superintendent of the Poor of Buffalo, is searching for the parents of Irene and Mary Lovell, fifteen and fourteen years old, respectively, who are being cared for by the poor authorities here. Before coming to Buffalo the Lovells had lived in Canada. There Irene had lived with the family of George Bacon in Madoc, Ont., and Mary had been living with Mrs. Alfred at West Toronto. When the Lovells came to this city, they took the two children from these homes, where they were receiving every attention, and brought them to Buffalo. The parents are now missing. If Mr. Sisson fails to locate the two Lovells he may endeavor to get the Canadian families which had the two girls in their care to take them back again.

BORDEN'S MEETING

Railways are Giving Low Rates

Hundreds From Outside Points Will be in Attendance---Hon. Mr. Roblin Also Coming

Single fare on both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. will prevail for the big Conservative meeting in the Grand Opera House on Friday night, when the principal speakers will be Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party, and Hon. R. P. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba. The area included in the single fare rate is a wide one, enabling persons residing within many miles of Peterborough, to attend the demonstration at small expense. The meeting promises to be one of the largest ever held here. The Conservatives of the city and county are turning out en masse and the number will be swelled by hundreds from outside points. The C. P. R. will grant single fare tickets for the round trip for the demonstration from Lambton, Bobcaygeon, Ardendale and all intermediate points, good going on all afternoon trains on Sept. 24th and on all trains on Sept. 25th, and returning September 26th. The Grand Trunk has made equally favorable arrangements.

The local Conservative Association is making great preparations for an enthusiastic welcome to the chieftain of the party and his able lieutenant, Mr. Roblin. The Manitoba Premier is one of the big men in Canadian politics today, and is an orator of much ability.

There will be a large attendance of ladies at the meeting as seats will be reserved for ladies and their escorts.

TO MR. STRATTON

In view of the report of your remarks in the Morning Times which I have every reason to believe is correct, concerning the allegations of the Conservative candidate, Mr. Burnham, respecting your connection with the Home Life Association, I wish to state that I will be glad to meet you on the public platform in this city, at your earliest convenience in order that we may discuss this matter. I am prepared to show that the Report of the Laurier Commission respecting yourself, severe as it is a lenient, instead of an unfair view of your evidence before that Commission and of your conduct. You had every opportunity then to clear yourself if you had been able, and now on the occasion of your submitting your name as a possible representative of West Peterborough, it is better that the matter be discussed in full view and hearing of the public than in the security and seclusion of your own committee room. In response to the universal demand of the electors of this riding, Mr. R. R. Gamey, M.P.P., will appear, before the conclusion of this campaign upon the public platform in this city, on which occasion also, if you wish, you may have, on the same platform, a full and fair opportunity of putting in a defence to his remarks concerning yourself.

Yours truly,
J. H. BURNHAM.

THE LOCATION OF THE WARDS

Some Information That Citizens Will Find Useful

It appears that everybody does not know the location of the wards in the city and in this connection there is sometimes doubt as to where a fire alarm is sent in from. The wards are located as follows:

East Ward, No. 5—East of the river, including Auburn.

RE SIR WILFRID

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—If the objection was raised to Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he had never been an employer of labour to any extent, what could he say? Every man has his place in life and his duty to perform and if he does it well he is doing well by all the rest of his fellowmen. A man must have time to be of service to his country in Parliament. That sort of man if he is any good and not likely to steal himself rich is the man Canada wants for that job.

CANADIAN.

MR. STRATTON'S ADDRESS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Did you ever see the like of J. R's address. He's got a whole lot of little jobs to show for his twenty years as M.P.P., and tagged on to that is a whole lot of big ones by R. R. Hall, whose name is not even mentioned. I added them all up and if the townships hadn't helped J. R. would have had about $20,000 worth to his credit. He can't blow himself on his record. It's a peanut record.

Yours,

ARCHDEACONRY WILL MEET AT LINDSAY IN NOVEMBER

Annual Conference Will be Held in St. Paul's Church in That Town on Nov. 16, 17 and 18.

Lindsay, Ont., Sept. 19th, 1908 — The Archdeaconry of Peterborough will hold its annual conference in St. Paul's church, Lindsay, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 16th to 18th, '08. During the sessions matters of interest will be discussed relating to the church and her mission. One particularly interesting feature will be the address of Rev. Canon Davidson, M.A., of Peterborough, on the Pan-Anglican Congress recently held in London, England, and which he attended as a delegate. This archdeaconary which is a division of the diocese, 38 Archdeaconaries making the diocese, consists of the rural deaneries of Northumberland and Peterborough; Durham and Victoria, and Haliburton. Each Rural Deanery is presided over by a Rural Dean. The Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, M.A., Rector of St. Luke's church, Peterborough, is the dean of the former Deanery, while Rev. Wm. C. Allan, M.A., Rector of Cavan, is the Dean of Durham and Victoria. Haliburton is at present without a Rural Dean, on account of removal to Toronto, of Rev. H. Archbold, of Minden, who by his removal vacates the office of Rural Dean. The presiding officer of the Archdeaconary is the Venerable George Warren, M. A., who is also in charge of the diocesan Mission Work of the Toronto Diocese and lives in Toronto.

The Archdeacon is appointed for life, or till he resigns, by the Archbishop, while the Rural Deans are elected by their respective Deaneries, which election is confirmed by the Bishop, who makes the appointment. The secretary of the Archdeaconery is Rev. W. J. Creighton, M.A., formerly Rector of Bobcaygeon, but now of Lakefield. Rev. J. H. Teeney of Omemee is secretary of the Deanery of Durham and Victoria; Rev. E. W. Pickford, of Norwood, is secretary of Northumberland and Peterborough, and Rev. A. C. Cummer, of Kinmount, is secretary of the Deanery of Haliburton.

The opening service of the conference will be held at St. Paul's on Monday, Nov. 16th at which Rev. J. H. Teeney, late Rector of Omemee, will be the special speaker. About 35 clergy will be expected in Lindsay during the conference, to whom, we are sure a hearty welcome will be extended by the citizens of Lindsay.

DESERTED BY HUSBAND, COMES TO PETERBOROUGH TO STAY WITH HER SISTER-IN-LAW

Deserted by her husband, Mrs. J. A. Andrews, of Pontiac, Mich., is in the city the guest of a kind relative, Mrs. W. Graham, who resides on Sherbrooke street. She arrived in the city on Saturday night having been sent here by friends in Pontiac, who took up a subscription and raised enough money to send her here.

Mrs. Andrews was seen by the Review today.

"My husband and I lived happily together until about four months ago. He was employed in Ward and Company's wholesale grocery in Pontiac and used to look after me and our little girl but he suddenly disappeared and I have not seen nor heard of him since. My source of income ceased when my husband left me. I wrote to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Graham and told her of my condition and she asked me to come and stay with her. How long I will remain here I don't know. I am very anxious to learn the cause of my husband's disappearance.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. DENCH

The funeral of the late R. L. Dench took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, Douro, to Lakefield cemetery and was under Masonic auspices. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. W. J. Creighton and a large concourse of friends followed the remains to their last resting place. A number of Peterborough Masons were in attendance and also two representatives from Peterborough lodge, AOUW., of which the deceased was a member. Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., District Deputy Master and Bro. Mulholland represented the local lodge of Workmen at the funeral.

TENT SOCIAL

The Ladies' Aid of St. James' Church will hold a Social on Thursday Night in the tent on Aylmer Street. In case the weather is unfavorable for holding it there, it will be held at the parsonage, 53 Lock St. The admission fee will be 15 cents, or two for 25 cents.

PREPARING FOR THE ELECTIONS

Sheriff Hall Will be the Returning Officer for This Riding

Sheriff Hall has been appointed Returning Officer for West Peterborough for the coming federal elections, and Mr. G. Morrow appointed to the same position for the East Riding. It is expected that the same voters' lists will be used as were prepared for the last provincial election. Opportunity will be given, however, to have any new names placed upon the lists.

FINE MEETING OF THE O.R.F.U.

Peterborough and Lindsay in the Junior Series

The most successful meeting in the history of the O.R.F.U. was held on Saturday night in the Iroquois Hotel. President Slee occupied the chair, and the newly-appointed secretary, W. M. Gladish, officially entered upon his duties.

Delegates from the following clubs were present:—Toronto Amateur Athletic Club, Central Y.M.C.A., Parkdale Canoe Club, Victorias, St. Michael's College, Island Aquatic Association, Lindsay, Eurekas, Capitals and Aura Lee. J. S Brydon, Assistant Secretary of the C.A.A.U., was also present.

Two junior districts of four teams each are to be formed in the city of Toronto. A Lindsay and Peterborough district has been formed, and there is also a junior district in east, composed of Kingston, Gananoque and Brockville. A district in Western Ontario is being arranged, with Western University of London and Petrolea, while Brampton, Guelph and Berlin have been placed in another district.

Four teams have entered the intermediate series. George Barber, representative of the Central Y.M.C.A., has been appointed convenor of this section, and he has called a meeting to be held in the T.A.A.C. club house, 24 Isabella street, on Wednesday night next.

Mr. C. M. Johnston, of the T.A.A.C., was nominated as the representative of that club on the executive of the Union. T.A.A.C. and Kingston seniors will arrange their own schedule. Westmount will be unable to enter a team in the senior series as several of their players have been removed, thus causing the team to be considerably weakened.

Mr. Donovan, of St. Michael's College, who also attended both meetings, stated that the team was entered in the junior I.P.U.

The following have been entered;—Senior—T.A.A.C. and Kingston. Intermediate—T.A.A.C., Victorias, Central Y.M.C.A. and Parkdale. Junior—T.A.A.C., Parkdale, St. Michael's, Eurekas, I.A.A.A., Aura Lee, Capitals, Lindsay, London, Petrolea, Guelph, St. Jerome's College, Brampton, Kingston, Gananoque, Brockville, Peterborough, Varsity III.

RUGBY

TOUGH TIMES

It really looks as though the T.A.A.C was up against a pretty stiff proposition. If the Peterborough club fails to connect, the Eureka-Tammany Tiger combination may decide to play intermediate, where they rightfully belong, and in the meantime some of the TAAC players will drop back to their old love — the Argos. Already some of them have done so, and it is reported that the TAAC practices have been bolstered up by means of several good press agents.—Hamilton Spectator.

Montreal, September 20 — Chancer Elliott coach of the Montreal rugby ball team, while coaching the juniors on Saturday afternoon, broke one of the small bones in his leg. He was taken to the hospital. It is expected that he will be out on crutches the end of the week.

TO ARRANGE THE MATCHES

Corney Burns Going to Toronto to Arrange the Details

Corney Burns is going to Toronto in the morning to arrange games for the championship of Ontario between the Peterborough baseball team and the St. Andrew's, champions of the Toronto Amateur League, of Toronto, and also with the Park Nine or St. Mary's, whichever win the championship of the senior league. It is proposed to have three games with each team, one in Toronto, one in Peterborough and a third game if necessary, in a neutral place. The games should draw well here.

KEENE NOW HAS A BOWLING CLUB

Bowling on the Green Will Flourish in the Otonabee Village

To the Editor of The Review.

Keene, Sept. 21st.—Keene now has a bowling club. Quite a number of the citizens have been anxious to form a club. However matters were put into shape by organization, at a meeting last Wednesday, when the following officers were elected;

President—A. St. A. Smith.
Vice-President—J. C. Reade.
Secretary-Treasurer — S. A. Smithson.

The club has leased suitable grounds and everything points to its prosperity.

SPORTING COMMENT

Jennings has decided to cut down his pitching staff for the last three weeks of the chase. From now on he will depend upon Donovan, Mullin, Summers and Winter. Killan, whose arm shows but little improvement, will not work unless it is to finish a game that is cinched or lost, while Eddie Willett, will be handled in the same manner.

"DICK" BAKER LEAVES CITY

Left This Morning for Toronto—Will be Much Missed Here

Mr. "Dick" Baker left this morning for Toronto where he will likely reside. His departure from the city will be greatly regretted by all and especially those connected with local athletics. "Dick" has always been a hard worker among the boys here and did not spare his time in assisting in every way possible. The success of the recent Harrier meet was largely due to his efforts. Peterborough friends while regretting his departure will wish him success in Toronto and at the same time will be glad to have him back any time.

TO ORGANIZE KENNEL CLUB

A meeting will be held at the Y.M.CA. on Thursday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Kennell club. All interested are requested to be present, the cooperation of the ladies as well as the men being solicited. No doubt a very successful club can be formed as there are a large number of local people interested.

WRESTLING

Saturday's Hamilton Herald contains a two column cut of Gene Hurtubise who will wrestle Charlie Conkle in the Ambitious City at an early date.

Carl Busch, who styles himself the lightweight champion of Germany and who was defeated here two years ago has written from Ft. Wayne, Ind., to a local sporting writer as follows; "I hear that there is a big German wrestler in Hamilton named Sam Zeller. would like very much to meet him at catch weights. I have improved a lot since I was in Hamilton, and am willing to meet Conkle, Barty, Thembley or any 145 pound man in Canada. I have a wrestling partner, a Turk, 6 feet tall and weighing 215 pounds, and I will agree upon him to throw any two local wrestlers in an hour. He will go on the mat with both of them at the same time. As soon as he beats one, the beaten one will retire. If there are any strong men in your city who would like to go on with him, let them write to me at Fort Wayne."

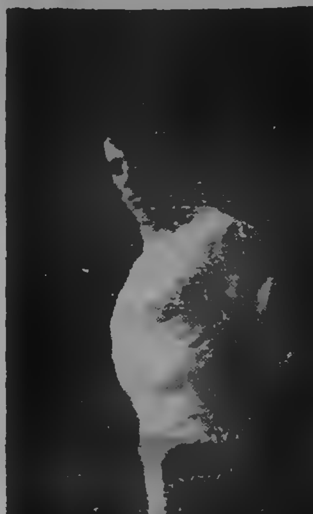
STRATHS. MAY HAVE A TEAM

The Champions are Now Looking for Rugby Honors

There is a possibility that the Strathconas may enter a team in the city rugby league. The matter is now under consideration and a decision will be reached in a day or two. The Straths "managed to cop" the city hockey championship and also the baseball pennant and will, no doubt, finish near the top if they enter the rugby arena.

THE PHENOMENAL DEVELOPMENT OF GENE HURTUBISE



By the above cut it will be seen that Gene Hurtubise, the local young giant grappler, has developed wonderfully since his bout with Yankee Rogers and is to-day a much stronger and more scientific mat artist than he was then. His legs were very strong on that occasion, but Rogers remarked that Gene's arms and upper body were not proportionately muscular.

He has been training steadily ever since with a view to developing his body and has attained splendid results. He has acquired double the knowledge of the fine points of the game. His work of development and judicious training have added fifteen pounds to his weight and he now strips at 210 pounds.

When Hassan Abdallah stalks up against Gene at Brock street rink on Wednesday night he will find that he is tackling a harder proposition than he bargained for. The Syrian is in the best of condition and expects to win without a great deal of trouble, but if he does he will have to beat a much harder man than the Gene Hurtubise who was good enough to stay with Yankee Rogers for twenty minutes, and any man who can stay with Yankee Rogers for 20 minutes has to be a good one when his victories of two falls inside of 15 minutes over Faust of Germany, Karakoff the Turk and other mat celebrities are considered.

MARATHON WINNER BUSY

He manages the athletic goods department of the New York department store in which he was a clerk when he entered for the Marathon.

He is in a vaudeville.

He is conducting a series of public "Marathon runs" for the boys and young men of New York.

Any boy who wants to join the run is welcome. All he need do is to provide a running suit and towel. One of the New York athletic clubs is furnishing dressing rooms and baths for the runners. Two runs have been held thus far and each several hundred participants.

"I advise boys under 18 not to train more than twice a week, and then not to exceed two miles. A school boy should run in the afternoon after school hours. He can do his work Wednesdays and Saturdays. After a run he should have a thorough rub down with witchhazel. If he is perspiring when he returns from the run he should take the rub down first and a cold bath afterwards. If he is not perspiring he should take the cold bath first.

"For boys over 18 I recommend a run three times a week, beginning at two miles and gradually working up to fifteen, if he finds he can stand that strain. Then he should run twelve or fifteen miles two or three times a week until his muscles are hard enough to stand the Marathon distance—twenty-five miles.

"One excellent rule applies to all athletes—avoid pastry and intoxicants. Aside from that, it is well for a man to eat any food that he craves and that agrees with him.

"Roast meats of any kind are good. Fried meats are not good. It is preferable to broil steaks and chops. All meats should be well done. Many experts advise against potatoes and other starchy foods. I must defy precedent. Potatoes are a good Irish food, and the Irish make mighty fine long distance runners. I have eaten potatoes all my life.

"In preliminary training I drink milk at every meal in preference to coffee. It is somewhat hard to digest, and for that reason should be discarded the week preceding a race.

"I can cure most boys of cigarette smoking in one lesson. I want to say to mothers that the best argument to advance to a son who smokes cigarettes is to buy him an athletic outfit. The boy will soon learn why cigarettes are harmful.

"A cigarette fiend who buys a running costume and puts it to practical use discovers immediately how much mischief the habit has wrought. The first time he attempts to run he finds a difficulty in breathing, a heaviness in the lungs that retards his progress. His cigarette heart, sluggish under ordinary conditions, will thump against his ribs like a triphammer. He becomes early exhausted and can never win a race. Let him throw the habit off and he will experience a great sense of relief.

"Never in my life have I used tobacco in any form. To the absence of nicotine from my lungs more than to any other agency I attribute my ability to win Marathon races. Diet is important, good condition is essential, a perfect heart and stomach are necessary, but possessing all of these qualities no boy or man can win running races if he smokes cigarettes."

OPENING OF THE GYMNASIUM THIS EVENING

The Y.M.C.A. gymnasium will open tonight. One of the events of the evening will be the basketball game between two of the gym. teams.

All gymnasium classes will commence on Tuesday.

DOG TROT AMUSES THE SPECTATORS

Ex-Mayor Kelland's dog race at the fair on Saturday proved great fun for the crowd. The canines were yelping anxious to get away and a good sized field started.

Charlie Pogue pulled under the wire a good first, with Clare Stewart second. The dogs went the best of half a mile.

CRICKET

A meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club will be held tomorrow night at eight o'clock at the Snowden House, for the purpose of winding up matters for the season. All the members are requested to be present.

BANNER IS ARTISTIC

A striking and artistic banner, advertising the wrestling match, between Gene Hurtubise and Hassan Abdallah has been placed over the entrance to the Brock street rink. In one corner is the Union Jack and in the other the picturesque flag of Turkey, the country to which the Terrible Syrian still vows his allegiance.

PATRIDGES MUST NOT BE SHOT THIS YEAR

It is this year illegal to either shoot or sell partridge any place within Ontario. Last year Americans could come to Ontario, pay a twenty-five dollar fee, and from September 1st to December 15th, shoot, but not sell, partridge.

These birds have been getting thinned out and the Ontario Government has so legislated that this year no one can shoot them within the province. The measure is one approved of generally on this side of the line, but will probably keep away a number of Americans that have been accustomed to cross the border for some fall sport.

Mount Everest of the Himalayas is the highest mountain peak in the world, being over 29,000 feet high. The 18,000,000 packets representing one year's output of "Salada" Tea would, if placed end to end produce a pyramid 5,600,000 ft. in height or 193 times higher than the highest mountain in the world. Can you grasp the magnitude of the demand for "Salada" Tea.

ALARMS CAME IN IN QUICK SUCCESSION

The fire brigade had three calls yesterday afternoon and one this morning which they attended to in quick order. The first one was to the sawdust pile in Ashburnham which has become wellknown as a conflagration centre. This call was telephoned in at 2.20 Sunday afternoon and the brigade had it out and were back to the fire hall at 2.45. Some boys smoking were responsible for the blaze.

The next alarm was rung in at 2.25 from box 17. It was a grass fire near the C.G.E and it was extinguished in a few minutes, the firemen arriving at the hall at 2.45.

The third one was a similar blaze at Pearl avenue and Charlotte street. The alarm was sounded at 4.14 and the brigade was back at 4.30. The last was a false alarm at 12.05 this morning. It came from box 46. At 12.20 the laddies had come back to their quarters.

HAVE GONE BACK TO OLD COUNTRY

About ten Old Country people left Peterborough for their native land last week. They were out of work here and saw that the prospects for the winter were not at all bright so they left for "Merry England." They don't believe that the times are as good here as they were lead to believe by the agents of the Laurier government who were largely responsible for their coming out.

SCHOOL GIRLS

Many teachers have little or no judgment about pushing a child beyond her endurance. They ought to know that girls especially have a danger period. Often, too often, utter physical collapse is the result, and it takes years and years to recover lost vitality.

Many a young girl has been helped over this critical period, and been prepared for a healthy womanhood by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Miss Elsie L. Hook, of Chelsea, Vt., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I am only sixteen years old, but I want to tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and your advice cured me of sideache, periodic pains and sleeplessness, also of a nervous, irritable condition after everything else had failed, and I want to thank you for it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

GOOSE GAVE THE SMUGGLERS AWAY

Let Out a "Honk Honk" Just at the Time it Should Have Been Mum

Detroit, Sept. 19.—The warning squawk of a goose once saved Rome from destruction. Things have changed. The geese have gone out of the heroine class and the unexpected and entirely uncalled for honk, honk, honk of one big white goose, which with a large consignment of other fowl was being smuggled across the Detroit River at an early hour Wednesday morning, resulted in the arrest by the United States authorities of three young men from Sandwich, Ont.

Sixteen chickens, one goose, two turkeys and a bushel of tomatoes were in the cargo, and the smugglers, who were all young men, under 21 years, gave the names of Ernest Martin, John Reno and John Carr, and their residence at Sandwich. They admitted their guilt and sadly acknowledged that they didn't consider smuggling a profitable business, as the three had not 25 cents total capital. Deputy Moore, who made the arrest, took pity on the boys and dug down in his pocket for $1.10 to pay their fare back home. Their rowboat and its cargo was confiscated by the Government.

PRACTICE SHOULD BE MADE ILLEGAL

Ottawa's Medical Health Officer Condemns a Chinese Laundry Practice

That the practice of drawing water into their mouths and spitting it out on their clothes in vogue among local Chinese laundrymen for moistening purposes, was filthy, and should be made illegal, was the opinion expressed by Dr. Law, city medical health officer, interviewed by a newspaper reporter. He stated that there was no law against the practice at present, but considered the custom an unclean one in the highest degree.—Hamilton Herald.

THE HOOK

A circus press agent says that tigers are dangerous in an angry mood. So are women.

The average young man makes love to a girl, because he thinks she thinks he ought to.

The Government has decided to go to the country. From here it looks as if a big bunch of the Grit candidates will go back to the woods at the same time.

Christmas will be here in less than three months. It may rain before the glad holiday season.

However, if it don't rain the snow will soon be here and it will be wet at any rate.

Down at Belleville they are having a backward roller skating race between two local men. That burg always did have the habit of going the wrong way.

The man who wants to know if it is hot enough, etc., has departed and the man who guesses this is Indian summer takes his place.

The sporting editor of the Lindsay Free Press will never make his mark because he already is one.

Spinsters know a lot of things they imagine they would do if they were wives, but as a matter of fact they wouldn't do anything of the kind.

LOCAL OPTION HERE IN 1910

Would Try for it Next May Were it Not for Three Fifths Clause

Peterborough, which is one of the industrial centres of Ontario, has a City Temperance League that is doing fine work in the creation of temperance public work. Temperance sentiment is steadily crystalizing there as everywhere on the banishment of the bar. Were it not for the three-fifths clause, writes a correspondent, they would certainly endeavor to have Peterborough dry next May. In consequence of that handicap they are planning for a year's preparatory work and expect to carry local option in spite of it another year. Were it not for election complications the attempt would have been made this year.—Pioneer.

A BREACH OF PROMISE CASE

Oshawa Citizen is Charged With Trifling With Lady's Affections

Oshawa, September 19.—For some time, it is alleged one of our prominent citizens has paid more or less attention to a charming lady of this town, forgetting, or at least not heeding the advice of his friends.

He now claims that he was not serious in his intentions and that he was not attached to her. But however that may have been the lady became attached to him, and as he seems to have lost interest in the matter she has attached his property which is a form of attachment that he does not enjoy.

The result is that he finds himself the defendant in a first class breach of promise case and his questionable attitude toward the lady will be given an airing in the near future.

The parties in the case are so prominent that it is feared no court room will hold the vast crowd that is desirous of attending the trial, so it will probably be arranged to secure larger quarters for the trial. The court sits here during the first week in October.

LUMBER IS SLAUGHTERED PRODUCT OF U. S. MILLS

Is Dumped into Canada—Protested But in Vain—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Said Fine Words But the Desired Remedy Was Not Applied.

"Why should the Canadian lumbermen not receive British fair-play from the Dominion Government?

"Why should other industries be aided and encouraged by means of duties and bounties and the lumbering industry be entirely neglected?

"How does the Government justify its course in allowing the lumber business in this country to be simply slaughtered by the dumping upon our market of the product of the United States mills, which lumbermen over there have been unable to dispose of during the present depression?"

These pointed questions were asked by Mr. W. J. Sheppard, Waubaushene, in an interview at the Queen's this morning.

"When the Laurier Government came into power in 1896 there was free trade in lumber," he added. "Then the United States put a duty of $2 per thousand on all lumber imported into that country. No duty was ever imposed on United States lumber coming into this country however, and we still have to meet the unfair competition.

LUMBER INDUSTRY UNPROTECTED.

"Millions of dollars worth of United States lumber is being imported here every year. Go into the lumber yards of the cities and towns all over Ontario to-day and you will see stacks of the southern pine and Michigan hemlock. That is what is killing our business at the present time.

"Why should the Government give a bonus of $7 per thousand on the manufacture of steel and the manufacture of binder twine but leave the second largest industry unprotected? It means that the thousands upon thousands of people engaged in the lumber industry must suffer and are suffering.

"The towns around the Georgian Bay and in other parts where lumbering is the most important industry are languishing because of the state of the business at the present time. The lumber cut this winter will be very small and there is going to be a good deal of suffering amongst the people who are dependent upon this industry.

"I repeat that what we demand is simply British fair play. The United States lumbermen have the protection of $2 per thousand. We have none.

Besides this we pay duty on everything we use in the business—50 cents per bushel on oats, two cents per pound on meat, 60 cents per ton on coal, etc.

"We are ready to accept free trade again but we are not content to have our business slaughtered the way it is now.

"I know that the Government's reason is that they want to provide cheap lumber for the Western settlers but why should the thousands of people in the lumber industry from the Atlantic to the Pacific be compelled to suffer in order to help another class—and people who have come in from outside at that?

USELESS PROTESTS.

"The lumbermen have gone to Ottawa and protested again and again and again against the unfair conditions in our industry, but in vain.

"We waited on the Government in 1903, in 1905 and again last spring, but got only promises of consideration.

"The Premier was evidently impressed with the case we presented in 1905. Here is what he said in the course of his reply," said Mr. Sheppard, producing a verbatim report of the proceedings at the interview with the Premier, Hon. Mr. Paterson and Hon. Mr. Templeman: "It has been my privilege for eight years of receiving many delegations on similar subjects as to-day, but I will say candidly that no subject which was to be presented has been presented so ably as yours to-day. The gentlemen who have addressed themselves to this important question have evidently given it a good deal of thought, and have presented their arguments so clearly that the Government is very much impressed with their views.

"The Government cannot help recognizing that the lumberman is taxed on everything, and has no corresponding advantage as against outside competition. The duty was removed, especially for the benefit of the consumer in the Northwest, particularly the new settlers whom we thought were entitled to special benefits and at a time also when Canadian lumber was admitted free to the United States—a condition which has been reversed since in the United States.

"That phase of the case cannot but impress itself forcibly upon us and it is a matter that will be given a great deal of thought. This is not the first delegation of this kind; we received one before the elections of which Mr. Bock reminded us. I do not know as I was so specific in my promise as Mr. Bock stated. If I remember rightly, I told my friend, Mr. Bock to have faith in the Government and that faith saves. Evidently he has interpreted that to mean $2 a thousand. We are just here as we were before; we have to consider this matter.

FAITH WITHOUT WORKS.

"I think we stated that the Government contemplated having a revision of the tariff at an early date. The session came rather soon after the election to have taken it into consideration immediately and, besides, the Minister of Finance had to be away, and could not proceed with it. The Minister of Finance for domestic reasons had to be absent, and as soon as he returns—I expect him in a very few days—the matter will be taken up again and I can only say what I said before—you must have faith in the Government.

"That was the Premier's reply," concluded Mr. Sheppard, "but, as I said, nothing has been done, and the lumbermen hold that they have been and are still suffering a great injustice."—The News.

CANADIANS HAVE NOT PROPER SENTIMENT OF THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day Not Observed in Right Spirit—Eloquent Address by His Grace the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, at St. Luke's Church Yesterday.

The spirit of the true thanksgiving was the subject of an able and inspiring sermon at St. Luke's church yesterday morning by His Grace the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, the Most Reverend S. Matheson, D.D. His Grace is on his way to the meeting of the General Synod at Ottawa and remained over in Peterborough to visit friends. A large congregation heard this eloquent speaker and his remarks were listened to with great earnestness.

Previous to announcing his text he thanked the rector of St. Luke's for his kind invitation to preach again to his congregation. He had intended to speak on the Pan-Anglican Conference which he had attended, but owing to the annual harvest festival being so near at hand he decided that a few remarks on the subject of Thanksgiving would be most appropriate.

Choosing for his text the words of the 17th verse of the 17th chapter of St. Luke's Gospel "And Jesus answering said, were there not ten cleansed but where are the nine?" His Grace pointed out what a blessing it was to give thanks, referring to the fact that Canada had much to be thankful for. The bountiful yield of the fruits of the earth and the return of commercial prosperity during the past year called for some grateful recognition by God's people.

The two most pleasureful feelings a person can have, the Archbishop said, are when a man expresses gratitude and when he gives something which probably has cost him self-sacrifice. Both of these gave pleasure. When something is given it is an evidence of the gratitude of the heart. The speaker said at the annual harvest thanksgiving an opportunity would be given to thank God in a tangible way.

He regretted the fact that the day set apart by the Government did not come earlier in the season thus making it necessary to hold harvest festivals when the church could be decorated with the fruits and flowers of the field. The flowers spoke messages of God's love. In the Archbishop's diocese a splendid service is held on Thanksgiving Day "If there was the proper sentiment in this Dominion," said the speaker, "what a beautiful thing it would be to celebrate the day as a nation returning thanks to God for His manifold blessings."

His Grace the Archbishop next spoke of the propriety of giving thanks. He said that it was proper as an antidote against this materialistic age. "People are very wise nowadays," he remarked, "and they think that they can depend upon the material. They forget that God is behind everything." He referred particularly to his people of the Northwest. They spoke of Canada's fertile lands with their millions of dollars' worth of grain and forgot God. But when that terrible enemy frost threatened them, they were reminded of the Giver of all good things and on Sunday that prayers were offered for good crops the churches were filled with people. The materialistic spirit pervaded the world.

There were many reasons to be thankful. The fruits of the country had been given in abundance and commercial prosperity was returning. The Archbishop urges his hearers to come and tell God they are thankful and to live it out in their lives. The last thing is to give a gift. He thought it was noble for the congregation of St. Luke's to give to something outside their own church and next Wednesday would give the offering to the Northwest Missions. There was no part in the world where there was a better opportunity of planting the church among white people. It is an opportunity unsurpassed but it will only last a short time. It is for the people of the East to give assistance in establishing churches in the West.

The Archbishop assisted in the evening service and the rector, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt delivered the sermon.

ON THE STOCK MARKET

Special to the Review

New York, September 21.—The recent reaction of the market was not entirely expected. Prices had undergone a prolonged and too violent an advance. In the leading shares practically all the panic losses had been wiped out and in many instances prices were not only the highest since May of last year, but the highest on record, and had risen fully 20 to 25 points and over in the first eight months of this year. The time, therefore, was ripe for reaction and only waited upon the turn of events. The big holders had been quietly realizing and while only partially successful in disposing of their surplus holdings apparently recognized that the advance had been pushed as far as possible for the time being. This change in attitude of the speculative leaders was, in fact, quite marked. Unnecessary stress was laid upon the political situation and though there was nothing disturbing in this respect still it suited some of the leaders to take pessimistic political views, probably because a bearish demonstration against stocks would check political apathy and be a good market manoeuver at the same time.

But quite apart from these motives the market was unquestionably too high, the advance had been too rapid and had overdiscounted the return of prosperity, especially as the latter had not by any means equalled expectations. In one very important respect hopes have not been fully realized and this is in regard to crops, the early estimates of cotton, corn and wheat having all been materially reduced by crop deterioration. At one time the promise was for a corn crop of 2,726,000,000 bushels and 730,000,000 bushels of wheat. The last Government reports, however, indicated a yield of 2,596,000,000 bushels of corn and only 666,000,000 bushels of wheat. Both crops are likely to exceed last year, yet a reduction of 130,000,000 bushels in estimates of corn and 660,000,000 in wheat must exert some effect upon values in general.

When grain advances stocks often decline. The cotton crop has also suffered some reduction in the earlier calculations of yield, and the sharp decline in this great staple, which is selling nearly three cents below last year must compel a modification of the unreasonable optimism which prevailed in some quarters. On the other hand, prices for wheat and corn are profitable and likely to be well sustained, since the world's supply of cereals is relatively short and there is sure to be a good foreign demand for all we can spare. All this means high prices and prosperity to the Western farmer, who will smile complacently as the Eastern consumer unwillingly pays high prices for nearly all food products. The Southern planter, however, is less favored, because his crop is not likely to be as large as expected; yet he will be compelled to accept low prices owing to the depressed condition of the cotton industry abroad and at home. Facts such as these cannot be ignored and will necessitate some discrimination in the purchase of stocks notwithstanding that the money value of our crops as a whole will be much larger than a year ago.

BOBCAYGEON MAY GO DRY

Local Option Campaign Likely to Inaugurated There

In the beautiful northern village of Bobcaygeon there is a distinct and growing sentiment against the barroom, and it is very probable that a campaign will be launched there for the submission of a Local Option by-law. In the meantime a peculiar move has been made in the municipal council, and the clerk has been instructed to prepare a by-law raising the license fee to $500. It is hardly likely that such an obvious move to sidetrack local option will influence the moral reform workers. There will be doings in Bobcaygeon.—The Pioneer.

MONUMENT TO LATE DR. BRADD WAS UNVEILED YESTERDAY

of World circles was the unveiling yesterday of the monument to the late Dr. Bradd, who was a prominent member of the local body, Sherwood Forest Camp. The members met yesterday afternoon at 2.30 at their hall, Hunter st., and proceeded from there to the grave at Little Lake cemetery, where the unveiling took place.

A large number of citizens gathered at the grave side. The ceremony was a very impressive one, the George street quartette singing several selections in harmony with the serious occasion.

An address of much interest was delivered by Sovereign Cinnamon, of Lindsay, head advisor lieutenant for Eastern Ontario. Others who took part in the ceremony were Manager Taylor, of Brantford; Jas. Kyle, treasurer, of the local camp; Clerk, A. Haskill, and Council Commander, Wm. Aitchison and W. J. Johnston, of Forest Camp.

AN INTERESTING CLIPPING FROM "UNITED CANADA"

The following has been forwarded to the Review for publication:

Peterborough, Ont.,
September 9th, 1908.
Editor of United Canada,
Ottawa, Ont.,

The oldest Liberals in this town, or even in the Trent Valley, cannot recall such a political tangle as exists here. Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., would have been elected, I believe, if left alone, but he is the victim of an old feud which is revived between Hon. J. R. Stratton and Hon. Geo. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Graham and his Deputy Minister Butler came here some time ago for the alleged purpose of inspecting the canal but the real purpose was to encourage Mr. John Finley, M.P., to remain in the field, in East Peterborough and to discredit Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. Geo Grant, M.P. Both ignored Mr. Graham and his deputy and the result is that Mr. Hall and Mr. Grant have since retired.

Mr. Stratton is wealthy and does not want campaign funds. He says openly in the street;

"I will not meekly consent longer to be made the scape goat or black sheep of the party to oblige Graham and others. My relations with Bob Gamey were no worse than Graham's relations with Byron Lott in the ballot box scandal."

These may not be the exact words but such is the canvas openly made both by Mr. Stratton and his friends since Mr. Hall's retirement. Some say Graham is jealous of Hall's popularity and prominence.

J. R. Stratton is and always has been popular in his home town, and is a factor that must be reckoned with.

Mr. George Grant of Orillia, the North Ontario M.P., who is as you know, one of the Liberal whips in the House of Commons, is quite as bitterly opposed to the Minister of Railways as is Mr. Stratton, and he has also retired.

LAND THROUGHOUT THE WEST IS BADLY IN NEED OF RAIN

Interesting Interview With Dr. Scott Who Returned on Friday After Ten Weeks Visit to Western Canada —Met Several Peterborough People.

After an absence of ten weeks touring Western Canada, Dr. and Mrs. Scott returned home on Friday evening. The trip was a delightful one and the doctor has returned to his home, having thoroughly enjoyed his holiday. All the principal places of interest right out to the coast were visited and the doctor is much impressed with the Canadian West and British Columbia.

In an interesting interview with Dr. Scott, the Review learned that the conditions in the West were very favorable at the present time, the crops, while not being what the Westerner terms a "bumper" one, was an average good one. All through the West the country is suffering from a long spell of dry weather, there having been no rain in some parts this year. The prairies in places were dried up and parched. In fact rain is badly needed almost everywhere.

Leaving here on the 11th of July Dr. and Mrs. Scott took the new steamer Assiniboine, at Owen Sound for Fort William and from there to Winnipeg, where they visited three days. Here, they met several Peterborough people. The doctor had luncheon with Mr. R. M. Dennistoun. At Brandon they visited the doctor's sister, spending a week in the "Wheat City." Brandon is very pretty and Dr. Scott stated was unlike most prairie cities. It can hardly come under that class as it is situated on the bank of a river. It is well laid out and has nine grain elevators.

After leaving Brandon, Dr. and Mrs. Scott went to Elgin in the south of Manitoba where the doctor has a brother and a sister. South of Manitoba is a great wheat land. When the doctor was there the wheat was yet green. Some heavy frosts were experienced and the crop this year would only be an average one. From Elgin they went to Maple Creek, in Saskatchewan, visiting a week with Dixon Bros. At Regina the capital of Saskatchewan, the doctor met Dr. Shaw, formerly of Keene. Regina is a thriving place and some beautiful public buildings are being erected.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott then went to Calgary where they stayed a few days before leaving for Banff, the prettiest spot, Dr. Scott stated, that he has ever seen. The C.P.R. hotel is a grand building and the scenic environments are indescribably beautiful. Laggan is another ideal summer place. Here is situated the magnificent Lake Louise.

"Just as you go over to the summit of the Rockies between Hector and Field, there is a grade in the road which required four engines to draw a train," said Dr. Scott. At the present time the C.P.R. have under construction a double loop in the shape of a figure eight which will reduce the grade and also add to the scenic attractiveness of the route.

The visitors then went to Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. At Vancouver they met Rev. P. C. Parker, a former pastor of Murray St. Baptist church and Rollie Merrell, an old Peterborough boy, who only left here a short time ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott returned by the Crow's Nest Pass to Medicine Hat, and thence to St. Paul, Minn. They spent two weeks at Mayo Bros. hospital at Rochester, Minn.

They also visited a few days in Chicago, altogether having a very extensive trip.

PETERBOROUGH FAIR RESULTS IN SURPLUS OF ABOUT $500

Receipts on Friday	$1,100
Receipts on Saturday	550
From other sources	1,450
Total receipts	$3,100
Total expenses during fair		$2,600
		$3,100

The above represents the financial statement of the Peterborough Industrial Fair. It is not meted out to a fraction of a cent but is a close statement of the receipts, expenditure and surplus in connection with the exhibition this year. By the net gain it will be seen that the fair this year has been the most successful one ever held under the auspices of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society.

For years the fall show went behind with an annual deficit but now an enterprising Board of Directors has things in charge, and by their progressive policy affairs have become quite prosperous. Last year the exhibition was an assured success had it not rained and completely spoiled the last day. At that the finances came out about even.

On the second day this fall the rain fell to some extent and the heavens looked ominous, resulting in the night show being practically spoiled, and quite a source of revenue cut off, but the last day saw favorable weather and the attendance was very satisfactory.

REASON OF SUCCESS

The directors displayed fine system in making arrangements for the fair and everything went through without a hitch. At all the directors' meetings a great deal of business was transacted and when the exhibition opened thorough arrangements for the work of all departments had been made.

The races were particularly successful. The officials were highly pleased with them and the public also expressed the opinion that they were the best ever held at a fair in Peterborough. The grand stand performance and midway were well up to the mark, while the exhibits were good in the various classes.

THE RACES

The two days' racing at the fair were most interesting and as a single attraction got the crowd a great deal more than any other. On Saturday the 2.28 and 2.17 classes were contested for and furnished lots of interest for the spectators. The most sensational finish of either day was in the second heat of the 2.17 which was a fine race all through, when Harry Direct, nosed Holland Boy out of first place after a hard fight from the word go. Around the turn and down the stretch came the horses neck and neck and when they had passed under the wire the great majority of the crowd did not know which horse had finished ahead and in fact it was about as near to a dead heat as anything could have been.

A big number of enthusiasts gathered in front of the judge stand eager to know the result and the supporters of the black horse sent up quite a cheer when it was announced that he had won the heat.

The other heats were also very exciting with Direct coming in in the lead in every heat. Holland Boy was always a good second.

In the 2.28 class it was Walter G. in three straights.

Harry K. the winner of first money in the 2.50 the day previous got second in the 2.28.

The going in this class was good all the time and every heat was a race.

Taken altogether the two days' racing were most satisfactory and the directors on the speed committee are to be congratulated on the success of the events. The races were easily the best ever seen at a fair in Peterborough;

Below is the summary of Saturday's racing;

2.28 CLASS.

Walter G., Hodgson, Orillia	1	1	1
Harry K. Cowan, Lindsay ...	2	2	2
Togo, Powell, Peterborough...	4	3	3
Idolph, Natress, Millbrook C.,	3	4	4

FUNGUS FOUND IN HARVEY WOODS ATTRACTS NOTICE

A fungus that was kind enough to develop into an elaborate and original growth, is being shown in the window of the United Agency Company, and is attracting quite a bit of attention. On Saturday Mr. J. S. Richardson, of London street, went back to Harvey township, where he has quite a tract of wooded land, to see if the bush fires had been doing any harm. He was walking through the woods in company with Mr. J. R. Bickell, when they saw the fungus on an old hemlock log.

Noting its unusual shape and size they brought it with them to Peterborough and Mr. Richardson placed it in the window of the United Agency Company this morning.

It is of a dull red color and looks as though it might be half of a big sea shell. It is 32 inches in length by 20 inches in width and weighs 8 pounds 3 ounces.

CAVAN SWAMP WAS NEVER SO DRY BEFORE

A Cavan township resident who was in the city today stated to a Review representative that the big Cavan swamp had never been known to be as dry as it is at the present time. Places which were formerly bog-holes are now almost as dry as the roads, in the city and cattle are wandering all through the swamp without the slightest danger of being mired.

Of course the new drain has considerable to do with the dryness but the long spell of dry weather is largely responsible.

LUMBER BUSINESS IS QUTIE VERY FEW MEN ARE BEING HIRED NOW

Mr. Samuel Long, with the Turner Lumber Co., at Worthington, on the North Shore, is home on a visit. It will be remembered that about three months ago, Mr. Long was lost for several days. Since then his health has not been of the best and he has come home to recuperate.

Mr. Long stated to the Review today that the lumber business was very quiet. The companies are employing very few men to go into the woods this winter. The wages are small compared with what has been paid the past few years, the highest now being $26 per month. The Turner Lumber Company will do very little logging this winter, their men will be engaged in getting out last year's cut, which were not brought to the mills last spring.

DROWNED MAN CAME FROM BOBCAYGEON

Englishman Found Dead in Toronto Bay---Body in Water for Some Time

A Toronto despatch says:—The dead body of a man was found floating in the bay just off the foot of York street yesterday about twelve o'clock. Mr. A. J. Davidson first saw it and notified the police. It was brought in and taken to the morgue. Letters found in the man's pockets were addressed to Albert Harding, Bobcaygeon, and came from a married sister in England. From their contents it is judged that he was a single man, with no relatives in this country. He was about fifty years of age.

The body had apparently been in the water for some time. The man had come from Bobcaygeon on September 11th, as in one pocket there was found a return portion of a railway ticket, reading Toronto to Bobcaygeon, with that date on it. There were also a couple of silver watches, about $3.70, and a pocket book found in his clothes. Coroner Atkins will make an investigation.

ARMY'S COLONIZATION WORK CONDEMNED BY LABOR MEN

Report on Immigration at Labor Congress in Halifax Slashes Col. Lamb's and Col. Howell's Policy in Matter of Important Labor.

Halifax, Sept. 22.—Immigration matters formed the subject of importance at the opening sessions of the 24th annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. About a hundred delegates were present yesterday.

The afternoon session was mostly taken up with W. R. Trotter's report on misrepresentation to intending immigrants from the British Isles to Canada. It was lengthy and mentioned specific charges against the Salvation Army, in fact half the report was taken up with a slashing attack of that organization.

Speaking of Government restrictions and results, Mr. Trotter said that the people of Canada, and especially the workers, had suffered many things, but they had reason to be thankful that the time was not yet when the internal policy of this great Dominion could be directed by secretaries of charitable organizations and a handful of aristocratic excursionists.

Col. Lamb replied in very moderate terms. The statements in the report he could not help saying were exaggerations in many respects. If Mr. Trotter had come to him in England and asked about the work he was doing many of them would never have been written. Immigration existed long before the Salvation Army and before trades unionism. What the army had tried to do in Canada was to bring people to the cultivation of the land.

F. H. Sherman of Alberta said the people of the west had had some experience of the kind of men brought out by the Salvation Army. It had been found out in somes of the mines that if a man was brought out by the army it was a bar to his employment; they were too often physically unfit.

"We object to the Salvation Army continuing in this work, and we object to the policy of the Government in their immigration methods," he declared.

P. M. Draper of Ottawa said the question under discussion would never down till it was settled and settled right. The bonusing of immigrants must stop and stop now. (Loud applause.)

Col. Howell was allowed the privilege of reply. He suggested careful enquiry and thought that after this he would make a study of economics. (Laughter.) He said in conclusion that he would be more careful to consult organised labor in placing men.

MACKENZIE KING CHOSEN BY LIBERALS OF WATERLOO

He Will Resign From the Labor Department to Contest Constituency—Has Accepted Nomination.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—William Lyon Mackenzie King was nominated at the Liberal convention of North Waterloo in the Waterloo town hall yesterday afternoon, his being the only name put before the meeting. The nomination was moved by Leander Bowman, Woolwich, seconded by John Hosteler, Wellesley.

A telegram was sent advising Mr. King of the nomination, and after an hour's wait his telegram of acceptance came, causing a renewed outburst of cheering.

The telegram also stated his intention to resign forthwith his post as Deputy Minister of Labor, and that he would be in Berlin to-day to remain until after election.

In accepting the nomination Mr. King said:

"My acceptance is a step which has not been taken without long and earnest consideration. My work of the past eight years, during which time the Department of Labor has grown to be one of the most important departments of the Governemnt, has afforded me too many opportunities for public service, and is too near my heart to be quickly or lightly parted from. Indeed the serious responsibility involved in giving up a position of such great public usefulness has been realized so fully that were it not outweighed by the deepest of convictions as to what is at the present time a public duty, I would certainly not sever my connection with a department with which I have been associated from its very creation."

NEWSBOYS WITHOUT CHANGE ARE BECOMING A NUISANCE

Much complaint is being made about the newsboys in the city on account of what looks like petty "grafting" on their part. In two cases out of three, it said, when a person buys a paper from a newsboy and offers a five or ten cent piece in payment, the paper vendor never has the change At any rate he says he hasn't and one is compelled to pay a nickel or ten cents for a paper which sells at one cent, or wait till the newsboy makes a round to secure the change. As most of the places of business are closed after six o'clock, a person buying a paper would rather let the newsboy keep the piece of silver than wait five or ten minutes while he hunts up the change.

A prominent citizen stated to The Review today that the boys were abusing their privileges and that the evil was becoming a growing one. As a result of the actions of the boys many persons are arranging to secure their evening papers at the news stands, instead of from the boys on the street. Of course there may be times when the newsboy is sincere when he says be has no change, but it has frequently been proved that he said so merely to make more money. When a newsboy has no change he is usually minus it for a purpose.

GIRL STOLE BIG LOT OF JEWELRY

Cooly Walked Away After Stealing $5,000 Worth of Valuables

Philadelphia, September 19—Under the very eyes of her mistress who suspected nothing a clever servant girl thief walked out of the house of John E. Marsden in West Philadelphia, yesterday with an apron full of jewelry valued at $5000.

The girl came to Mrs. Marsden on Thursday and applied for a position as a domestic. She gave her name as Mary Kelly. Mrs. Marsden engaged her and she began work immediately. As Mrs. Marsden stood on the porch yesterday seeing her son off to school the girl, dressed in street attire passed out of the house Mrs. Marsden noticed the apron tied in a bundle on her arm and asked her where she was going. She said she was going to post a letter.

As time passed and the girl did not appear, Mrs. Marsden went upstairs and examined the safe finding that all the jewelry was gone. There is no clue to the whereabouts of the girl.

LAURIER WAS AMONG HIS OWN

Was in His Element With French-Canadians at Tilbury.

Tilbury, Sept. 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier spent yesterday among his own people. Two-thirds of those who thrive in this enterprising village are French-Canadians and speak still the language of the mother country.

At Tilbury a big crowd had gathered and the Premier acknowledged the civic address briefly in French and English. The parade was witnessed by a large number, and the demonstration was not unlike that at Strathroy on Saturday.

The crowd which gathered for the speeches must have been close on to ten thousand. Sir Wilfrid spoke for about half an hour in English, repeating much of his Niagara Falls' speech. Hon. G. P. Graham followed, dealing with issues as at Strathroy.

Sir Wilfrid then spoke for twenty minutes in French, his utterances being received with enthusiasm by his compatriots who comprised possibly forty per cent. of the audience, which was swelled by excursions from Windsor, Leamington, Amherstburg and St. Thomas.

Big Strike.

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 22.—More than 400 cotton mills in Lancashire stopped yesterday as a result of the dispute over wages between operatives and employers. This means that 40,000,000 spindles are wholly or partially stopped, that more than $250,000,000 of capital is not bringing in any return, and that 140,000 operatives are without work and losing something over $700,000 in wages a week.

A Fire Investigation.

Woodstock, Sept. 22.—Early yesterday morning a big barn on the farm owned by Richard Aberson, near Plattsville, was burned. It is said the grain in the barn had been seized and sold for debt, though it had not been removed. Part of the stock was also sold on Saturday for debt. An investigation will probably be held in an endeavor to ascertain the cause of the fire.

TORONTO MAN LOSES HIS WIFE

Cincinnati, Sept. 22.—Jay Pitman, decorator, who came here from his home in Toronto, Ont., with his young bride Sunday, reported to the police yesterday that his wife was kidnapped Sunday night.

Pitman left his wife to engage an expressman to haul their goods from the depot and spent several hours after that seeing the sights of the city. When he returned she was gone, and neighbors told him that a strange man took her away.

Pitman and the police searched the city all Sunday night and yesterday without finding any trace of the young woman.

Pitman is positive she was kidnapped, though the police cannot understand why the kidnapper should also take the grips and suit cases belonging to the couple.

Aird, purporting to be a detective acting in the interests of the License Department, Toronto, was arrested here Sunday afternoon on a charge of being drunk and incapable. THE PASSING AWAY OF THE RT. REV. BISHOP CARMICHAEL

He Had Just Delivered His Message From the Pan-Anglican Congress to His Parishioners When He Collapsed—He Came to Canada in 1858.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—After giving to the parishioners of the cathedral Sunday the message of the Pan-Anglican congress at Lambeth, Bishop James Carmichael collapsed, and at 7 o'clock yesterday he passed away.

At the beginning of the services, Rev. Dr. Simonds, the vicar of the cathedral, between which body and the bishop there had been some friction, arose and welcomed the bishop on behalf of the wardens, clergy and people in a hearty way, which touched the aged prelate.

When the sermon was finished Bishop Carmichael said to the vicar, "I believe I am going to faint," and was assisted to the vestry. There he recovered and prayed with the choir before they left the chapter house. When taken home he grew rapidly worse, and three doctors were called in, his son, Dr. Carmichael, Dr. Finley and Dr. Hamilton. They saw that he was seriously ill with heart trouble, from which he had been suffering for some time. He remained conscious till 6 p.m., and thought that while he was very ill he would recover as he did from similar attacks a year ago. After that he became unconscious.

RT. REV. BISHOP CARMICHAEL.

A year ago while preaching in St. Stephen's, he became faint and had to stop the service, he recovered in a few minutes and finished his sermon. Mrs. Carmichael died about two years ago. There are four sons, Rev. Rural Dean Carmichael, Knowlton; Fred Carmichael, Bank of Montreal, Toronto; Dr. H. B. C. Carmichael, Montreal, and Saunders Carmichael, lawyer.

The late Bishop Carmichael was the author of a number of volumes on ecclesiastical subjects, including a volume of sermons on the Christian year, church union, series on the prayer book, book on design and Darwinism, and a monograph on the higher criticism. He was an active participant in work in connection with the Citizens' League, of which he was the founder, with the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, Robert Jones Convalescent Hospital, and many others of like nature. As a master of pure Irish oratory he was practically without a peer in Canada.

Dr. Carmichael was 73 years of age and one of three Irish graduates of Trinity College, Dublin, who, on the invitation of the late Dr. Cronyn, the first Anglican Bishop of Huron, came to Canada in 1858, and were ordained by him for work in his diocese. All three of these, namely, Drs. Dumoulin, Sullivan and Carmichael, became bishops.

Object to Steps.

St. Thomas, Sept. 22.—The St. Thomas Street Railway Commission, at a meeting held last night, decided to fight Dr. Helen MacMurchy's proposed bill for the lowering of street car steps. BORDEN HAS ENTERED ONTARIO GREAT WELCOME AT PEMBROKE

Accompanied by Roblin and Hanna He Opens Fight in This Province—Outlines His Transportation Policy—Criticizes Timber Land Deals.

Pembroke, Sept. 22.—R. L. Borden opened his campaign in Ontario here yesterday afternoon. He was given a warm reception by an audience of about 2,500 in the rink, and his speech, as well as those of Messrs. Hanna and Roblin, apparently made a deep impression on the people.

On the arrival of the party from Ottawa about noon a procession was formed, with the Municipal Band of Ottawa at the head, and the route was through the main street, which was liberally decorated with bunting and arches, to the residence of Gerald M. White, North Renfrew's member in the Parliament just dissolved.

Mr. Borden made his appeal to the Liberals to denounce the extravagance and corruption of the men who have misrepresented their deals, and to the Conservatives he appealed for clean elections and vigilance to detect the corrupting influences that will be brought to bear on the transportation question.

R. L. BORDEN.
Who Made His First Ontario Speech Yesterday.

He said the policy of the Conservative party always had been to perfect the means of carrying the products of the country from the producer to the market, but he made no declaration as to the Georgian Bay Canal, an issue in the constituency. Another strong feature of the address was the rehearsal of some of the Government's purchasing transactions and a comparison of the timber administration with the methods of the Whitney Government.

Mr. Borden outlined his policy in respect to transportations. The Conservative party must be the party as it had been in the past to develop our waterways and railways. His attitude and that of the party had been misrepresented in respect to the building of the G.T.P. Would it be likely that the Conservative party, which undertook the construction of the C.P.R. when the western country was unknown, would shrink from the building of a second transcontinental railway, when the country had been opened and developed?

Mr. Borden's policy had been to go further and build the whole of the road. The party would respect the contract made just as if they had made it themselves.

Mr. Hanna made a hit with the audience when he declared the cause of his activity. He declared that he was with Mr. Borden because the Laurier Government had invaded the jurisdiction and domain of the provinces in the granting of purely local charters. He also denounced the importation of weak-minded foreigners, a policy that was filling the insane asylums of the province.

The wind-up was reserved for Premier Roblin, who dealt with the timber pick-ups of the brother-in-law of Mr. Sifton and other favored Liberals.

Premier Hazen was not present, having returned to New Brunswick. Walter Beattie, president of the North Renfrew Conservative Association, had charge of the meeting.

SIMILAR DROUGHT TO PRESENT ONE PREVAILED IN EIGHTIES

An old resident of the city informed the Review today that the country experienced a dry spell similar to the present one in 1888 or 1889, he was not sure which year it was. At any rate no rain fell that autumn for several weeks and the country was just about as dry as it is at the present time. Bush fires raged throughout the province and a pall of smoke overhung the country for several weeks. Fire broke out in a woods near Peterborough and fifty acres of good timber were destroyed, before the flames were under control. The older residents of the city and county will remember the time referred to.

However, if rain does not come soon, the present drought will establish a record that will likely stand for some time.

LET HIM FINISH

His government has given to speculators only about 2,500 square miles of western timber. There is a little more left. Let him finish the job.

There are more farm lands, and more political syndicates like that which got 250,000 acres in the Saskatchewan. Let the government finish the division.

The grazing lands are not all gobbled up by irrevocable leases. Let that be finished.

Only five ascertained purchases of land for government railways from middlemen at 100 to 200 per cent. rake off have been reported. Let this good work go on.

The cost of the Transcontinental has only been multiplied by three. Surely that is not the finish.

Mr. Merwin, of 187 per cent. rake-off fame, has sold only $750,000 worth of goods to the Marine Department. Let him finish.

Mr. B. L. Wilson's companies have obtained only $800,000 or $900,000 on the contracts which the Royal Commission so beautifully denounced. It must not end there.

The Canadian Fog Signal Company has come in for only about $600,000 with profits up to 1000 per cent. Why stop there.

Only two Arctic expeditions and one Montcalm outfit have been paid for. These things must not be nipped in the bud.

At last accounts only 13 of those astonishing Wallberg contracts were in progress. That is an unlucky number and should be increased.

Surely there are more Wagners, and Nixons, Prestons and Leaches to be promoted and rewarded.

Only 78 members of Parliament have been appointed to office by Sir Wilfrid. That industry is capable of expansion.

Only one Quebec Bridge and one Laurier Tower have fallen. That is not enough.

Taxation and expenditure have only been trebled. That is merely preliminary.

Let Sir Wilfrid finish these works

STILL THE DECINE CONTINUES

The Peterborough Review is making it warm for Mr. Stratton, Liberal nominee for West Peterborough. On its front page the Review has, in large type, an extract from the Royal Insurance Commission's report, made to Parliament in 1907, in which this illustrating and (to Mr. Stratton's friends) disconcerting paragraph appears:

"Having regard to all the circumstances, your Commissioners are compelled to conclude that what really took place between Stratton and Pattison was that the former demanded and the latter conceded a share, to the extent of $10,000, in the moneys which were being paid to the latter and charged to the Home Li s."—Belleville Intelligencer.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Liberal press just now is singing a paean of triumph. It reminds us of the islanders who shoot at the storm. It's coming all the same.

The decrease in bank clearings over corresponding periods last year is at Montreal 16-6 per cent., Toronto 15.8 per cent. Winnipeg, 33.3 per cent., Ottawa 18.5 per cent., Halifax 21.5 per cent.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

In British Columbia there are seven seats. All of which were held by Liberals in the late Parliament. The Conservatives and Liberals have each nominated six candidates.

Saskatchewan Province has ten seats an increase of four. Of the six in last Parliament the Conservatives held one and the Liberals five. Nearly all the nominations have been held.

There are 18 seats in Nova Scotia of which the Conservatives hold one and the Liberals 17. The Conservatives have all but three nominations made and the Liberals all but two.

The Province of Alberta for the first time has seven seats assigned it. Both parties have all their candidates nominated. The standing (from the four seats in the last Parliament) was two Conservatives and two Liberals. Socialists are running in Calgary and Edmonton seats.

In Prince Edward Island. Prince and Kings have each one member, and Queens two members. Kings representative is Liberal, while the other three are Conservative. All the candidates are in the field, the four present members all being included.

Referring to the Liberal meeting at Bridgetown, Annapolis, the Halifax Herald (Con.) report, says:—The event has been extensively advertised for some time and Messrs. Fielding and Marcil were the attractions for drawing a crowd that would conceal the apathy which is so apparent in the grafter ranks. excursion trains from both east and west were engaged, and elaborate preparations made for "a monster open air rally." It was a keen disappointment to the local Liberals therefore, when only a score or so arrived by train to greet the leaders. The open air project had of necessity to be dropped, the platform erected for the occasion was deserted and the court house, with a seating capacity of less than one hundred and fifty, was found quite ample, to accommodate the great spendthrift's audience.

Fact is both Peterborough seats afford peculiar situations and both may turn over. The attempt to revive the political life of J. R. Stratton in the west isn't awakening any great enthusiasm, while it is a distinct disadvantage to the party outside. In the Liberal ranks in Peterborough there is a section led by R. F. McWilliams determined to fight Mr. Stratton. R. F. McWilliams was formerly mayor and is said to possess influence. Then the passing over of John Finlay, the sitting member in the east is not likely to conduce to harmony.—Toronto Telegram.

The Liberals of West Peterborough have nominated Mr. J. R. Stratton as their candidate for the house of commons. Mr. Stratton was in the Ross Government of Ontario till he was practically forced out by the exposures of Mr. Gamey. He, with Mr. Graham and Mr. Mackay was taken in when the rottenest Government Canada ever had made its last desperate effort to keep its hold of the provincial treasury. Mr. Ross and Mr. Graham are in Parliament now, invited by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. If Mr. Stratton succeeds in following them, nothing important of the old Ontario machine will be missing when Sir Wilfrid looks round on his supporters. It is a question if the people of Canada will stomach what Ontario spewed out.—Bowmanville Review.

Belleville Intelligencer says: "Is it possible," asks a moderate politician, "that any honest Reformer will vote for 'Can't your forget Something' Stratton?" It is difficult to foretell what even "honest Reformers" will do, after the Lott escapade in West Hastings. They knew that he had imported bogus ballot boxes, yet many of them voted for him. They know that Stratton suggested to a Globe reporter to forget something, when giving evidence in the Gamey investigation. Yet, in the face of this fact, he has been selected as their candidate. Do not be surprised at anything latter day Liberals may or will do.

NATURE A VERY SKILFUL PHYSICIAN

Puts Up Her Medicines In Most Tempting Form.

Have you ever tasted anything more delicious than the fresh, ripe, luscious fruits? These are Nature's medicines.

A regular diet without fruit is positively dangerous, for the system soon gets clogged with waste matter and the blood poisoned. Fruit Juices stir up Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, making them work vigorously to throw off the dead tissue and indigestible food which, if retained, soon poison the blood and cause Indigestion, Headaches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia and a host of other distressing troubles.

But there is a quicker way to stimulate the organs to do their work properly. Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" tablets every night, besides eating some fresh fruit every day. "Fruit-a-tives" combine the medicinal properties—many times intensified—of oranges, apples, prunes and figs, with the best tonics and internal disinfectants added.

Their action on Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Skin is as natural as Nature's own, but quicker and more effective. Sold by all dealers—25c. for trial box—50c. for regular size — 6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Man Who Went on Rampage in Montreal Had an Ontario of $84,224

John Dillon, the man who went on a rampage in Montreal last April and shot several people and police officers before he was shot himself in the house in which he barricaded himself left an Ontario estate of $84,224, all in stocks. His will was filed for probate in Toronto today but the date of his demise in Hotel Dieu Hospital is not given. He was formerly a Toronto book agent and his sensational escapades in Montreal created considerable interest all through Canada. unattended and only the immediate certified to by Henry Baby, of Montreal. In addition to stocks held in Ontario he owned real estate in Montreal valued at $16,530 and had $9,625 insurance on his life. The legatees are four nieces and five grandchildren who receive $10,000 and the two executors Frederick Birks and A. G. Gardner, all of Montreal, who receive $1,000 each "as a slight recognition of the services to be rendered."

CATARRH NOW CURABLE

But Never by Medicine Swallowed, Snuffs, Sprays or Douches

Catarrh is not a blood disease and that is why it cannot be cured by any medicine taken into the stomach. Catarrh is a germ trouble contracted from the germ-laden air you breathe inward. These germs fasten themselves in the tissue and air cells of the breathing organs, multiply by millions, cause sneezing, coughing, raising of mucous, discharge from the nose, difficulty in breathing, hoarseness, dryness, and stoppage of the nose, tickling in the throat and other symptoms that can only be reached by the dry air principal of Hyomei.

It medicates the air you breathe with the curative properties of the Australian Eucalyptus Forests where catarrh is unknown.

The reason you get relief in a minute or two from Hyomei is because it destroys every catarrhal germ in the air you breathe, and its deep penetrating aroma will reach the innermost recesses of the air passages, killing millions of germs a minute. Their destruction means freedom for oppressed respiratory organs. W. M dill, druggist, corner of Hunter and George streets, Peterborough, sells Hyomei under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Price $1.00.

62,000,000 GALLONS USED LAST MONTH

August Established Record for Consumption of Water in Peterborough—During This Dry Weather Corporation Alone Uses 150,000 Gallons in 10 Hours.

The water is pretty low in the river at the present time and on account of the prevailing drought it is used to a very great extent in the city for different purposes. Altogether about 150,000 gallons are used within 10 hours.

In the first place there is the corporation. The city uses about one-third of the water pumped and the big consumption is accounted for from many sources. There are seven watering carts on the go and these use the largest quantity.

There are also numerous other means of utilizing the water.

The Ottawa Journal has come out with the civic mandate that "Watering of lawns, must stop." The Review had a conversation this morning with Superintendent Henderson of the Waterworks Department during which he was asked if there was any danger of a similar injunction going into force in Peterborough.

"I don't think there is," said Mr Henderson, "but a great many householders are daily using much more water than they are entitled to.

"They have no regard for the hours during which the water may be legitimately used for lawn sprinkling, and in spite of the great demand for it during this dry weather are using it at all times, morning and night."

The Waterworks Superintendent stated that a record of the consumption of water in Peterborough had been made last month when 62,000,000 gallons were pumped.

"That is a very great quantity," he remarked, "for a place the size of Peterborough."

PREACHED IN AN OTTAWA CHURCH

Rev. J. G. Potter Occupied Pulpit at Erskine Church on Sunday

The Ottawa Journal says;

Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough yesterday preached in Erskine Presbyterian church to large congregations, taking for the subject of his remarks at the morning service, "The Growth of Christian Life". In part he said: "The Christian life is a growth and as such requires truth in the inward part for just as a tree reveals its growth through the branches, blossoms and fruit, so the Christian is known by the life he lives. His life and character constitute the fruit. As it is with the tree the growth is nourished from the ground in which it is rooted so the Christian must draw his nourishment from Christ. One cannot see the process but the results are revealed."

HAS QUALIFIED AS SIGNALLER

Secretary Pearson of St. Catharines Y.M.C.A. to Have Charge of Class

Speaking of the Y.M.C.A. work at St. Catharines the Star-Journal of that city, says;—

"On Monday morning, Sept. 14th, lists will be opened at the Y.M.C.A. for enrollment of members in the Signal corps class which will receive instruction at the Y.M.C.A., the class really being a department of the 19th St. Catharines Regiment.

"For many years past the regiment has been in a way handicapped by not having in connection with it a Signal Corps. This difficulty has largely been due to the fact that before there has never been anyone who was competent to instruct a class. Now however, Secretary H. A. Pearson, of the Y.M.C.A. who has obtained his certificate as a Lieutenant Signaller will have charge of the Signalling Class which will as soon as the eleven men sign the lists commence a fall and winter training which will be a very extensive one. Instruction will be given the class one night a week at the "Y" in the Morse code on the single flag semaphore on the double flag; instruction will also be given on the heliograph, telegraph, binoculars, big bee lantern, etc.

SOCIAL EVENING AT KNOX CHURCH

Young People Had a Big Turnout Last Evening

The young people of Knox church were well represented at their monthly social gathering which took place last evening under the direction of Miss Flossie Thompson. After the opening proceedings by Rev. Mr. Keith, Mr. Wallace Patton was elected to the office of president, which office he accepted in a very suitable address. Mr. Enos Maybee was elected to the office of third vice-president, rendered vacant by Mr. Patton's election to the chair. Before refreshments a shortp rogramme was rendered in which the mandolin club took a prominent part, much to the enjoyment of Knox church young people.

Miss Bella Barr and Mr. Donald McLean gave a very entertaining dialogue, while Mrs. Herbert McCannan and Miss Bullen favored the gather- with a duet that was heartily appreciated. The organization starts out under bright prospects for a prosperous year.

Preparations Being Made by Congregation---Harvest Festival is Concluded

St. John's Harvest Festival concluded on Sunday evening last with full choral Evensong and sermon, attended by a large congregation. It being the Eve of St. Matthew, Apostle and Martyr, the Rev. Dr. Foster based his sermon upon the life of the Apostle and evangelist.

The music throughout the festival has been splendidly rendered by the choir and they and the choirmaster have been heartily congratulated for their painstaking work.

The flower service on Sunday afternoon was a great success, the huge basket of flowers offered by the children remaining in front of the altar until after Evensong, when Mr. Jay kindly conveyed them to Nicholl's Hospital.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon to arrange for a reception to be given to Rev. Canon Davidson when he arrives from England. Mr. Jos. Mills presided and committees were appointed to make all necessary arrangements.

In all the services on Thursday and Sunday special prayers and hymns were used for Rev. Canon Davidson's safe journey home.

There are photos of the beautiful scenery at Rice Lake and of the Indians in their camp and in the act of harvesting.

In the west window are the group photos of the nurses' graduating classes of Nicholls Hospital. They are well arranged and are about the finest ever turned out by Mr. Roy.

SCREAMING OF CATS IN A TREE

Awakened Citizens on Hunter St. Near Telephone Building

The citizens of Hunter street, near the telephone building, were awakened from sleep last night about one o'clock by the deafening shrieks of two cats. The animals were up in a tree and apparently unable to get down, so started up their unearthly yells. Several persons from a nearby hotel went over to where the noise was coming from. They endeavored to get the noisy beasts down by throwing stones at them, but it was not until one of the night employees of the Bell Telephone Co. turned the hose into the tree that the loud screeching ceased. The cats jumped to the ground and tore off down the street.

WAS TAKEN FOR THE MAN OF MYSTERY

A local man who was in attendance at the London fair had a hard time dodging persons who thought he was the "Mysterious Mr. E. of the London fair,"—a personage much similar to the Mysterious Mr. Raffles of the Toronto News. The Peterborough man was collared four times and taken to the Secretary's office to be identified. Of course there was much disappointment among his captors when it was found that they had the wrong man.

In Old Bank of Montreal Building by the King's Daughters

PORT HOPE THINKS ITS WATER IS GOOD

The Port Hope Guide says: Much sickness is reported in Cobourg, caused it said, by impure water. Port Hope has certainly every reason to feel proud of her water supply, the quality of which cannot be excelled. A gentleman who had recently been on a trip to Europe, told us that the only water which surpassed Port Hope's was in Switzerland. This gentleman was a resident of Peterborough but he always liked to get down to Port Hope for a cool, refreshing drink.

LOOKED OUT OF WINDOW AND SAW MAN SLIDING OFF THE VERANDAH ROOF

A gentleman who resides on George street, opposite Central Park, was given a bad fright last night by a crook of some kind, who was evidently bent on robbery. About 2.30 o'clock the gentleman in question was awakened by a loud noise, and going to the front window he saw a man sliding down off the roof on to George street. After reaching the street he walked by the house two or three times and departing from the locality about 3.30 o'clock. He wore a dark suit and a big felt hat. Apparently the fellow hoped to enter the house by means of an upstair window, but must have slipped on the verandah roof, making a noise which gave a clue to his presence.

Several citizens report having seen two men in the vicinity of Central Park about one o'clock this morning. One of them was standing at the corner of McDonnel and George streets for a time, and later the two were seen together near the fountain.

OVER 400 YOUNG PEOPLE ATTENDED THE RECEPTION

Last night the recent arrivals among the students and teachers of the educational institutions in the city were entertained by the Epworth League of the George street Methodist church. A large number accepted the invitation that had been extended to them and about 400 young people were in attendance, many of whom were students at the new Normal school. The basement of the church where the function was held had been artistically decorated with flags and flowers and a large banner, bearing the word "Welcome". Words of welcome to the new-comers were spoken by Mr McCann for the Epworth League, Mr. Armstrong for the Sunday School and Rev. E. A. Pearson, for the church. The Sunday School orchestra under the direction of Mr. Cunningham supplied music during the evening. A duet was given by the Misses McKee, a solo by Rev. Mr. Pearson, and a quartette by the Misses Rosser, Chasty, Rehill and McLean.

The gathering closed with the doxology and benediction.

It was a great success and showed the new-comers that they were heartily welcome in the city.

PETERBORO-SOUTH AFRICAN VETERANS TO ORGANIZE

A meeting of the South African veterans residing in Peterborough was held last evening in McDonough's tobacco shop for the purpose of taking some steps to dispose of their scrip in the Canadian Northwest. All over Ontario the veterans are organizing and are taking means to sell their land given them by the Dominion Government for the services rendered their country during the South African War.

The number of veterans in Peterborough during the past year has considerably diminished there being only about twenty-five at the present while at the close of the war they numbered fifty. Most of them have removed from the city and some have died.

At the meeting last night, Mr. Vic. Hamilton acted as secretary. It was decided to hold a meeting on Friday night at 8.30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Veterans' Association. Officers will be elected and a delegate will be appointed to a meeting of veterans to be held on Tuesday evening next in Toronto. Other matters of interest to the members will also be discussed.

FISHED FOR BASS CAUGHT LUNGE

Somewhat Remarkable Catch Made at Rice Lake

The Cobourg Post says:—Last Monday Mr. Isaac Crozier, engineer at the waterworks plant, was still fishing at Rice Lake, and made a new record that will be hard to beat at that popular resort. He was fishing with a small hook and line, using a craw fish for bait, when suddenly he noticed a vigorous bite. He supposed that a bass had taken the hook and was leisurely drawing it in, but when near the surface he found that a maskinonge was caught instead of a bass. The fish was played with for some time. Mr. Crozier finally getting it close to the side of the boat, when his companion, Mr. Fowlie, reached down with his hand and caught the fish under the gills and landed it into the boat. On reaching shore the fish weighed exactly eight and a half pounds and is said to be the only maskinonge ever known to be caught with an ordinary hook and line in Rice Lake. Capt. Cameron and a number of others witnessed the exciting event.

SPORTING NEWS

OWNER OF WALTER G. PAID PRIZE MONEY BEFORE THE PROTEST WAS SETTLED

Somewhat of a friction has arisen over the payment of winnings to Walter G., owned by Hodgins of Orillia, and which has been protested, as will be seen in another column. The races at the driving park were conducted on a National Trotting Association track and under the rules of the Association.

A protest was filed by Dr. Leach, owner of Holland Boy, the horse who got second money to him in the 2.28 on the second day and by Gerald Dunsford, the driver of Hazel Belle, which obtained second place to Walter G in the 2.20 class on the first day. There is a suspicion that the protested horse is Little Hector, and if he is not, that he is crooked anyway. Whether or not such is the case cannot be stated until the matter is officially cleared up by the decision given re the protest.

The horsemen are somewhat incensed over the paying over of the prize money to Walter G before the protest had been settled, and claim the action was not a proper one, as the money should have been held until the protest was settled.

The Review is simply printing a statement of the affair and not giving an opinion one way or the other. The matter, it is hoped, is clearly enough expressed for the public to judge for themselves.

THE Y. M. C. A. IS IN LINE WILL HAVE GOOD RUGBY TEAM

At a well attended meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last night a city league rugby team was was organized. Mr. Chas. Sisson occupied the chair and Mr. Geo. Martin acted as secretary, pro tem. Mr. R. F. McWilliams was among those present. It was decided to enter a team in the city league as there is an abundance of material in the association. Physical Director Collings will manage the team and Dr. MacPherson has promised to turn out and coach the boys. There will be several of the old players on the team and it is hoped to develop enough new material to have a strong aggregation. The membership fee was placed at fifty cents for playing members and $1 for non-playing members.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Officers were elected as follows:

President—Chas Sisson.

Vice-Presidents — Stanley Canniff and Ford Turner.

Secretary-Treasurer—A. Elliott.

Manager—S. W. Collings.

Captain—C. G. Graham.

The first practice will likely be held at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon, if suitable arrangements can be made. The boys are enthusiastic and rugby promises to take a prominent place in the athletics of the Y.M.C.A.

"VAGRANT SPORTING CLUBS" SAYS PETERBORO MERCHANT

Peterborough, Sept. 22

Sporting Editor Review;

Dear Sir,—There is a matter of great interest to merchants and to a considerable portion of the general public as well, that I should like to refer to in the columns of your paper. "The poor are always with us" and especially the poor of sporting organisations.

From the standpoint of the merchant I can speak with authority. For years merchants of Peterborough, and I guess it applies to other places as well, have been pestered by persons collecting money for sporting clubs and teams in the city. The merchants must not be considered as close-fisted or ungenerous, but nevertheless, they cannot afford to be prolific suppliers to poverty-stricken sporting bodies.

The idea of full grown men forming teams or clubs without sufficient money to finance them, strikes me as ridiculous. If they haven't enough money to start their organizations, they shouldn't organize: that's all.

The merchants are sick of giving perpetual assistance to "vagrant sporting clubs. Do not think for a moment that I am condemning sport. I approve of it in every way, but I the same time I do not like to be imposed upon.

Yours very truly,

PETERBOROUGH MERCHANT

HASSAN ABDALLAH vs GENE HURTUBISE

The Sultan's Favorite Wrestler — Canadian Champion

BROCK ST. RINK WED., SEPT. 23rd.

Admission—25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, Ringside, $1.00

BOTH PRELIMINARIES SHOULD BE QUITE INTERESTING

In spite of the intense interest being taken locally in the Hurtubise—Abdallah bout, the preliminaries are not to be overlooked. Bobby Long and Crowe, who will be the first pair to go on are sure to give a rattling hot fifteen minutes' go.

They met at the opera house last winter and in a very keen half-hour bout each succeeded in getting a fall. The contest was a warm one and there promises to be something doing when the boys come together on Wednesday night.

The other preliminary will be between Jack Wilson and Lilly, an Englishman.

Wilson is a mighty husky boy and is regarded as being the strongest for his weight of any athlete in the city. This bout will also be for fifteen minutes and should even have more interest attached to it than the former, as Wilson is an unknown, as far as local circles are concerned. He is said to be strong and particularly agile and rumor has it that he has a splendid knowledge of the game. He is lighter than Wilson but is confident he can win.

GREAT PROSPECTS FOR Y.M.C.A. ATHLETICS THIS SEASON

Promises to be a Marked Awakeni[illegible]dership of New Physical Director—Gym. Work Will be Made Interesting—Wrestling Classes.

Under the direction of Mr. S. W. Collings, the new physical director gymnasium work and indoor athletics at the Y.M.C.A. promise to have a decided boom this winter. Last night the gym was open for the first time when an exhibition basketball game was played between two picked teams.

Mr. Collings was seen by the Review today and is quite enthusiastic over the prospects for amateur athletics in Peterborough.

"This is one of the best places I have ever been in," he said, "there are a number of first class men here and I am surprised that greater interest is not taken in gymnasium work."

He stated he would do all he could to stimulate an interest in this branch and will no doubt meet with success.

The gymnasium classes at the Y.M.C.A. start this evening at 7.30, when the Business Boys will have the floor for instruction. The complete schedule of classes and the time they will be held are given below:

Business and professional men — Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 5.15.

Business boys—Tuesday and Thursday at 7.30.

Collegiate boys—Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 and Saturday morning at 10.30.

Junior School Boys—Tuesday afternoon at 4.15 and Saturday morning at 9.30.

There will be indoor athletic tournaments held at regular intervals for medals to be given when the season set for the holding of the tournaments is concluded. Some other special features will also be introduced in connection with the athletic department.

WILL START WRESTLING CLASSES

Mr. Collings is an amateur wrestler of ability and has held the heavyweight championship of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, for the past two seasons. He will start wrestling classes here sometime in October, as the weather is a little too oppressive now, and provided the interest is sufficient will run off a tournament towards spring.

According to the membership the divisions arranged will be bantam feather, light, welter, middle, heavy and in the class the men of one weight will be opposed to others weighing the same. With such an able exponent of the mat game as the Y's present physical director it should become very popular in Peterborough. It is attractive athletic art, and the fascination of it is that something new is to be learned at every workout. Mr. Collings proposes to hold classes in which 24 lessons will be given covering very thoroughly the aggressive and defensive in wrestling. He comes from a gymnasium in Toronto, the Central Y.M.C.A. which has been particularly successful in the matter of producing amateur wrestling champions and out of seven classes At the last Canadian Championships tourney, the candidates from the Central won four.

Boxing lessons may also be given but this has not been decided upon yet, but will be considered by the committee. Altogether the present season should be the most successful from an athletic viewpoint, of any in the history of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

LOOKS LIKE A GREAT SEASON

Peterboro' Should Have a Great Rugby Team Next Season

In spite of the fact that there will be no senior team, rugby will have a great season here this year. The game has caught on in earnest and the city league will have a large and enthusiastic membership.

Peterborough has in the past years been most creditably represented on the gridiron and with the attention the game is likely to receive here this season a splendid bunch of players should be developed for next season.

It is quite fortunate that Dr. Macpherson, who is going to practice here has decided to give the boys some instructions in the game. He is one of the most competent rugbyists in the Dominion and no man can handle the men to better advantage.

BOBBY KERR IS OUT AFTER THE 220 YD. RECORD

"If the track is fast and weather conditions are right I will go after the Canadian 220 yard record Saturday at Varsity," writes Bobby Kerr, of Hamilton, the world's 220 metres champion in forwarding his entry for the C.A.A.U. championships, Saturday. The track is good now. Kerr is entered in the 100, 220 and quarter. Lou Sebert, the Olympic quarter miler, is entered in the 220 and quarter, and W. S. White, another Hamilton flyer is entered in the 100, and 220 and quarter. Secretary Jas. G. Brydon of the meet today received a wire from J. G. Lithgow, president of the Maritime Province Associations saying that Schaeffer, the sprinter who beat Kerr in the Canadian championships, and Hans Holmer who beat Chuck Skene in the mile, could not get away for the big meet.

Dr. J. G. Macdonald of New Glasgow, the Olympic jumper, who was second to Ahern, Britain, in the hop, step and jump, and who won the Canadian jumping championship at Halifax, will be up to defend his title against Barber and Bricker.

The Eureka rugby club will play in the ORFU. Practices will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at Belwoods park, and any new material will be made welcome, a few heavy wing men are especially needed. The Eurekas has secured the City Amateur baseball grounds, Brock avenue, for the season which should help some. Herb. Henderson of the Tammanys is out with the Eurekas.

RUGBY

A LINDSAY HOPEFUL

Alex. McKenzie, who played with the intermediate Tigers of Hamilton las season, is in Lindsay and will likely turn out with the team there He will remain in the Scugog burg if he can secure a position.

THE SYRIAN HAS ARRIVED HERE

Hassan Abdallah is in Great Shape and Confident of Beating Local Man

Hassan Abdallah, the Syrian wrestler, arrived in the city this evening on the 4.38 C.P.R. train from the east and is staying at the Oriental. He is in fine shape for his match with Hurtubise and is confident of winning. The match is attracting a great deal of interest and the attendance will be exceedingly large. Many local people believe that the big rugby player will be able to hold his own with the foreign grappler and the Peterborough boy will have a big bunch of backers on hand. The Syrian is a rough looking chap and is said to be every bit as good as his press notices would lead one to believe.

Mr. Naylor, who is managing Hassan Abdallah, and Mr. C. G. Graham, who looks after Hurtubise, have agreed upon Mr. A. C. Yokome, sporting editor of the Review, as referee, for the main bout and he will also act in that capacity for the preliminaries.

PETERBORO GIRL PLAYING WITH "ARRAH NA POGUE" CO.

Miss Josephine Sproule, formerly of this city, and niece of Mr. John Haggart, Brock street, who last year played a leading part with the "Cupid at Vassar" Opera Company, is this season with the Andrew Mack Company in the Irish play "Arrah-Na-Pogue." This is a first class troupe and Miss Sproule has been assigned the work of understudy to the lady playing the leading role. If at any time the leading lady should be unable to take her part, Miss Sproule will take her place. They opened their season at Boston on the 24th of August, where they played two weeks. No one night engagements are taken, the company playing all one and two week stands. At present they are playing in Providence, R.I.

This is Miss Sproule's third year on the stage and she is rapidly climbing to the top as an actress. She is a very clever little lady and her many friends here will be pleased to hear of her success.

Miss Sproule spent a few weeks here this summer, but was most of the holidays with her mother in Baltimore. Her company appears there the first week in October.

TEN CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER IN THE HOSPITALS

On inquiry at Nicholls and St. Joseph's hospitals the Review learned that there were six cases of typhoid fever in the former and four in the latter. This fever is not nearly so prevalent this fall as in previous years the authorities stating that the number of cases is much smaller. A few weeks ago Dr. Bingham ordered that the water be boiled, and the advice still holds good. If citizens want to safeguard against typhoid it is better to follow out the above instructions.

PERMIT TAKEN OUT FOR NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL HALL

The trustees of the St. James Methodist church have taken out a building permit for the Sunday School building of the new church to be erected at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets. As already stated, in the Review, the Sunday School building will be built first and the church later. It is proposed to have the Sunday School ready for opening early in 1909. The cost is to be $11,000 and Finnie & Gordon have the contract. The architect is Mr. J. E. Hunter. The building permit provides for a building 66 feet by 42 feet. The foundation will be of stone and the walls of brick with stone trimmings. The permit was taken out by Mr. H. C. Stabler on behalf of the trustees.

A permit has also been taken out by Mr. W. C. Ackerman for a brick dwelling on Park street south of Simcoe street. The cost is to be $1,600.

NOZZLES ARE OF GREATEST USE IN FIGHTING FIRES

Invaluable fire fighting devices are the four combination solid stream and spray nozzles which have been added to the fire fighting apparatus of the local brigade. They work on the same principle as a lawn hose nozzle and by their use a stream may be turned on full force or reduced as much as possible. It may be absolutely turned off if required. The nozzle is particularly useful in the case of putting out fires in stores where too big a stream would ruin the goods. It is in use in all city fire departments throughout the Dominion.

A white rubber coat and white helmet for the Chief and black coats and helmets for the men have been received and the local brigade both in the matter of fire fighting equipment and in appearance as well is quite cosmopolitan.

NO REGISTRATION BEFORE ELECTION

Men Who Did Not Register in May Cannot Vote at Dominion Elections

Those who did not register at the last registration in May cannot vote at the forthcoming Dominion elections. Deputy Sheriff Hall stated to the Review today that there could be only one registration in the year. The same voters' lists will be used as in the provincial elections.

A number of young men who did not register in May were of the opinion that another registration would be held before the federal election but such is not the case. Another opportunity to exercise their franchise will have to go by.

SPORTING NEWS

CONCLUSION OF THE SEASON

Eastern League Ball Finished Until Next Year

Once more the curtain has rung down on the Eastern Baseball League season.

Now the little piece of bunting that has waved over Maple Leaf Park all summer long will be hauled down. It will be carried home to wave in the breeze of other climes.

"Champions 1909" will greet the fans of the city of Baltimore, Maryland, each and every day they present themselves to see their ball team play.

Last year's champions, our own and James Caffrey's team ended the struggle in the honorable place sixth from the top and third from the bottom.

The Leafs are 165 points behind the new champion Orioles and 26 points ahead of the Bronchos, who are last.

Undoubtedly the best team won the race. They made a rather inglorious finish however, being defeated in two double-headers on Saturday and Sunday by the Providence outfit, their nearest rivals.

This was a great spurt by the Grays undoubtedly, and their bare dozen points behind the leaders is quite close enough finish to reflect credit on themselves, while allowing the winners just enough to rest secure.

Larry Schafly and his team mates had their troubles from one end of the story to the other. Everybody knows the difficulties under which they were continually laboring.

No doubt the Skeeters and Bronchos who only follow the Leafs in the standing have similar tales to tell of obstacles insurmountable over which they could exercise no control.

But losing is losing. Ours was the bitter pill and the only way is to swallow it and grin.

A bad showing generally means discrepancies and leakages and blunders somewhere. No doubt Toronto has its barnacles and weeds and shell-fish mixed in with some real ball players.

The point is to correct and improve for the season that is to come.

The Newark Indians put up a game little race for a while and gave promise of running the pennant pretty close. But inconsistency crept in and they finished third.

On Saturday they swamped the Skeeters badly and split a double-header with them on Sunday to wind up the season.

The Royals were also just a little too good for the Leafs' class, to the extent of 35 points.

The battle of the diamond is over. But the political and managerial end of the game still goes on.

TO SETTLE THE ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIP

Champions of Midland League Meet Winners of Leagues in Toronto

Unless a change is made in the arrangements the Peterborough baseball team will play the St. Andrew's of Toronto, in the first of a series of games for the championship of Ontario. The second game will be played in Peterborough and if a third one is necessary it will be played in Cobourg. The Peterborough line-up will contain Corney Burns, Jerry Edmunds, Harry Burridge, Dubby Shea, "Prunes" Quinlan, Connie Murphy, Dave Lawson, "Longboat" Anderson, Frizzy O'Brien, Freddy Clements and Hawkins. With this bunch, the Petes should be pretty nearly able to land the Ontario championship.

If the Petes are victorious over the St. Andrew's they will meet the champions of the other leagues in Toronto. The winners have not yet been decided but it is between the St. Mary's and the Park Nine. Three games will also be played in this series, one at Toronto, one at Peterborough and a third at Cobourg if necessary.

Corney Burns left for Toronto this morning to make all arrangements for the games.

LONDON HEARS MR. BORDEN FOUR THOUSAND PRESENT

Strikers Did Not Ask for Pronouncement at Montreal—Hon. W. J. Bowser of British Columbia Joins Entourage and Makes an Excellent Speech.

London, Sept. 23.—Four thousand people crowded the Princess rink to capacity last night, when R. L. Borden and the touring Provincial Cabinet Ministers spoke on the issues of the Federal campaign.

The new Cabinet member of the "big four" was Hon. W. J. Bowser of British Columbia, and he contributed greatly to the success of the gathering, by making an exceedingly able and effective speech.

When Mr. Borden entered the rink, accompanied by Premier Roblin of Manitoba; Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General of British Columbia; Major Beattie, late member for London; David Marshall, ex-M.P., West Elgin; Wm. Jackson, East Elgin, and others, an extraordinary ovation occurred, the audience arising as one man, cheering and wildly waving flags and handkerchiefs.

Major Beattie, the Conservative nominee, was the first speaker introduced by A. T. McMahen, the chairman.

Around the walls were mottoes "Preferential trade within the Empire," "No graft," "Borden and clean elections," "National Policy and adequate protection," "Welcome to our leader," "Purity in public life."

Among the prominent Conservatives on the platform and in the audience were: Hon. Adam Beck, Sir John Carling, Alex. F. McLaren, ex-M.P., Stratford; J. E. Armstrong, ex-M.P., Hon. Dr Reaume, ex-Mayor Judd, T G. Meredith, T. W. Crothers, candidate in West Elgin.

Mr. Borden first made a statement regarding the disturbance in the gallery during the Montreal meeting. It had been stated that he had been asked to make a statement regarding the C.P.R. strike and that because he had not done so some strikers became obstreperous. Mr. Borden desired to say that no such request had been made to him and he did not believe that the strikers would have caused the disturbance without first seeing him as to any dissatisfaction that might have existed in that regard.

What was the record of the Government? Upon what platform did the Liberal party appeal to the people in 1896? Where had the money gone? Had there been any great public work constructed except the deepening of the canals? Somebody mentioned Port Stanley, where there have been dredging operations and the audience laughed heartily.

Col. Gourdeau, Deputy Minister of Marine, had stated that $200,000 were thrown away in the Department in a single year. In this connection Mr. Borden quoted some of the choice paragraphs of the civil service report. Mr. Borden asked why had not the Premier met his challenge and explained why he had not carried out any of the pledges he made previous to 1896.

Dealing with the tariff, Mr. Borden laid down the Conservative policy, which was to afford such reasonable protection to Canadian industries, as will keep the people of Canada at home, and it was further desired to maintain such standards of living as are essential to the existence of a virile nation.

In the course of his address W. J. Bowser told the story of an official on the Pacific coast, who was told that the Marine Department were sending a number of gas buoys. He wired back that he had no place to put them. The answer went back that he must take the buoys, that they were bought from Merwin and that if he could not find a place to put them, he should rent a warehouse and store them.

SMITH MUST GO TO THE GALLOWS

"Crooked Neck," Who Slew Mark Malone Gets Death Penalty.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—"Crooked Neck" Smith, alias Tom Prater, murderer of Mark Malone, alias Tom Wright, his pal, was yesterday afternoon found guilty and sentenced to be hanged on Oct. 27.

The jury was out twenty minutes after a trial of about a week.

Smith shot Malone in a Chinese resort after a quarrel. He claimed it was self-defence. He got away after the shooting, but gave himself up. Both men have bad records.

Murderer Out on Bail, Disappears.

New York, Sept. 23.—Following the death in a Brooklyn hospital of Mrs. Francis R. McCabe, 20 years old, a charge of homicide was lodged against Samuel Manns, 26 years old, who is alleged to have shot her. When the police notified Raymond street jail, where Manns had been confined, of this fact, they were told that Manns had been released on bail of $500, a magistrate having accepted bail when told the man was held only on a charge of attempted suicide.

HOUSE BURNED BY BLACK HAND

One Hurt and Many Imperilled in New York Tenement.

New York, Sept. 23.—One man was seriously hurt, a dozen or more were rescued from almost certain death by policemen and firemen and the lives of a hundred more were imperilled when members of a back hand band yesterday sought to avenge two of their fellows who are now serving terms in prison.

The two men were convicted recently of attempting to blackmail tenants in the big apartment house at 333 East 113th street. Almost immediately after they had been sentenced, other persons living in the house received letters bearing the black hand signature and warning them that the house would be destroyed. Early yesterday a passing policeman saw smoke pouring from the street door and opened it to find the hall a mass of flames.

Nicola Devilo became panic-stricken when he heard the flames roaring up through the halls and sprang through a three-storey window to the street.

Operated Slot Machines.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Judge Piche dealt summarily with two Lachine hotelkeepers, Nap Derosier and Arthur Leblanc, yesterday, who were found guilty of having slot machines on their property. Both men pleaded guilty. Judge Piche gave each fifteen days without the option of a fine, together with $50 fine or two months additional.

Slot machines outside the city of Montreal have so far been operated openly in spite of the law to the contrary.

THEY CAN GET SQUARE MILE

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—A committee of the South African Veterans' Association waited upon Mr. Cory, Deputy Minister of the Interior, yesterday and ascertained that by living six months on each half section, a veteran can secure not only the 320 acres of special land grant, but also homestead and pre-emption of 320 acres additional.

The committee as the result of the interview will report to the association that it is advisable that, as the act now stands, enabling as it does a veteran to hold his land until June 20, 1911, without being obliged to perform settlement duties upon it, the value of a veteran's right of 320 acres can reasonably be computed at $8 an acre.

The committee will likewise strongly recommend that any veteran who can should, even at personal inconvenience to himself, locate his land this autumn.

COL. GIBSON IS SWORN IN

Toronto, Sept. 23.—John Morrison Gibson, B.A., ex-Attorney-General, lieutenant-colonel, K.C., notable as a rifle shot, and prominent in electric corporation circles, was sworn in yesterday at the Parliament Buildings as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

The ceremony was a private one, a lady who desired to be present being excluded. It occupied a few minutes only about 11 o'clock.

Rudolphe Boudreau, clerk of the executive council, Ottawa, read the commission, making the appointment.

Sir Charles Moss, the Chief Justice, then read the three oaths, first of allegiance, second of office, and third as keeper of the great seal.

Hon. J. J. Foy, as Attorney-General, handed over the great seal to the new Lieutenant-Governor in the absence of the Provincial Secretary, Hon. W. J. Hanna, and the ceremony was completed, except for the handshaking.

RODE IN BOX CAR

Chinamen Make Unique Attempt.

To Enter Canada at Windsor---An Inspector Loses His Job.

Windsor, Sept. 23.—When a Wabash foreman opened a car of merchandise in Detroit yesterday he found four Chinamen and three bottles of whisky which were not scheduled on the way bill. One of the bottles bore the label of a Windsor soda water manufactruer, but the contents were probably as contraband as the Celestials.

Immigration officers who were notified, suspect that the Chinks were placed in the car in the Windsor yards.

Two of the Chinamen, who could talk English, confessed that they had paid $6 each to a man for putting them in a car and that he promised them transportation to their destination for that amount. The cargo of human freight is in "cold storage" at the Wayne County jail.

A scandal has developed over the smuggling of Chinamen into Detroit. One of the inspectors, Adam Hoffman, has been suspended from duty on the charge of having paid $30 to two Windsor youths for smuggling Joe Sans, a Mongolian, and tipping it off to Hoffman that they were coming, in order that Hoffman would get the credit for the capture. The Windsorites got off, but the Chineman is still in jail.

Rain at Last.

Chicago, Sept 23.—The drought in the central States was broken yesterday by rains that extended from St. Louis to St. Paul and Minneapolis. The rainfall did not cover the entire country between these points, but it occurred at many points.

Montreal May Mediate.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—At a meeting of the City Council yesterday a resolution was passed offering the services of the Corporation of Montreal to endeavor to settle the C.P.R. strike, provided that either side desired such intervention.

Still At It.

Quebec, Sept. 22.—Lieutenant-Governor Pelletier yesterday strongly denounced international control of Canadian labor unions.

Church Conference at Berlin.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—Pastors representing congregations of the middle district of the Lutheran Synod of Canada have been in annual session here yesterday and to-day. Rev. A. Eggers, Hespeler, is presiding, and preached an inspiring sermon at a public meeting in St. Matthew's Church last evening.

The annual convention of Mennonite Church is also being held here this week in Bethany Church, which was dedicated on Sunday. The ministerial session was held yesterday, presided over by Rev. C. N. Good of Toronto, West End Mission. The conference proper opened to-day.

Fisheries Officers.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The election of officers of the International Fisheries Congress resulted: President, Prof. Hermon C. Bumpus, director-general of the Natural Museum of History, New York City; secretary-general, Dr. Hugh M. Smith, deputy U. S. commissioner of fisheries. Vice-presidents for each nation were also elected.

Prof. Edward F. Prince, Dominion commissioner of fisheries, Ottawa, was selected as the vice-president to represent Canada, and Dr. R. Rathbun, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, to represent the United States.

MR. ACLAND TO BE APPOINTED

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King's successor as Deputy Minister of Labor will be Mr. F. A. Acland, the present secretary of the Department.

Mr. Acland has frequently acted as Deputy Minister during Mr. King's absence from the capital. His appointment as Deputy Minister will probably be put through at the next meeting of the Cabinet.

Ship Ashore In Alaska.

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 23.—The U. S. bark Star of Bengal is ashore on Coronation Island with 136 men aboard, of whom 100 are Japanese and Chinese.

She is on the west side of the island and the crew has no chance to land.

The U. S. cable ship Burnside has gone to her relief, but may not be able to reach the wreck owing to the bad weather prevailing.

Brakeman Walks Off Car.

THE CHOLERA TOLL GROWS IN ST. PETERSBURG EPIDEMIC

Hospitals Are Crowded With Patients and Grave-Diggers Cannot Inter Bodies Fast Enough to Keep up With Mortality.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—The cholera epidemic, which continues to assume more appalling proportions every day, has concentrated the attention of the St. Petersburg authorities on the long-neglected task of improving the water supply and sewer facilities of the capital.

The sewers now empty into the River Neva or the open canals, traversing the city, and the water supply is taken from the river. This, in spite of the fact that Lake Ladoga, 20 miles away, offers an abundant supply of fresh water, obtainable at small expense. The mayor of St. Petersburg, at the instigation of Premier Stolypin, has appointed a commission to arrange for immediate action in these directions.

Up to noon yesterday the municipal hospitals reported for the last 24 hours, 417 cholera cases and 176 deaths. There is a total of 1,587 patients in various hospitals. These municipal statistics are most incomplete, a fact which is shown conclusively by the number of interments. At one cemetery these aggregated 424 for the last three days, or within twenty of the total number of deaths reported.

The sinister legend that the physicians of St. Petersburg caused the epidemic by poisoning the waters of the Neva as well as the fruits sold in the general markets, still persists among the people, although the press is conducting an educational campaign against this superstition. The police yesterday arrested one man for spreading this rumor, and they intend to make a summary example of him.

The cholera dead are being interred at Preobrazhenskoe, which is about one hour's distance on the railroad from St. Petersburg. A train of several coaches carrying the mourners and a dozen freight cars with the dead in crude coffins goes daily to this place. The scenes are heartrending in and about the chapel, where the service is conducted uninterruptedly night and day.

The coffins are of crude workmanship; they are made of spruce and thickly coated with tar. The identification numbers of the patients are marked with white paint.

The scarcity of grave-diggers has caused a painful delay in the past few days, 150 coffins containing bodies now being stored in the adjoining woodshed. Some of the mourners have been waiting their turn for several days.

The Rech reports a case in which a cabman made the rounds of all the hospitals Monday night with a cholera patient, who was refused admission to all of them.

PARTY BEFORE COUNTRY

Party success is of more moment to the present Federal Government than the interests of the country. It is true that no Ministerialist will make this admission, but the whole course of affairs in Ottawa furnishes abundant proof that it is the truth. The Liberal leaders seek votes first, last and all the time. That in itself is not worthy of condemnation. Every party wants to be successful. But when the Government becomes simply a vast vote-seeking machine the country has fallen upon evil days.

Governor Hughes of New York, said the other day that the only way to attain political success was to work for the public good. The Governor has done that according to his convictions. He has alienated the friendship of nearly all the professional politicians of the New York Republican party. He has smashed one of the most dangerous political machines in the United States. He has trodden on many tender feet while attempting to reach his ideal of perfect law enforcement. But popular admiration for the Governor is so great that his party was forced to nominate him for another term.

After all, it is the voters who have the final say in this country, as in New York. The vote-hunting policy is not favored by the people. It is degrading to the public man who attempts it, and it lowers his party in public esteem. Yet so many men cannot appreciate this fact. They fancy that by coddling here and nursing there, by donations to this constituency and by compliment to that, by favors to men of influence and by rewards to faithful partisans votes can be cajoled or coaxed from the electorate.

The Federal Government has shown in a hundred ways that the interest of the country is secondary to the success of the party. It is all very well to talk about the success of the Grand Trunk Pacific and other great projects. Public works will not gain the confidence of the electors like honesty and integrity. The whole question turns on the management of the national finances. Cabinet Ministers talk of a surplus of one hundred and thirteen millions in twelve years. Yet there is an addition to the public debt. A financial expert in close touch with the Treasury estimates that at least ten millions a year has been thrown away under the Fielding regime. Where has the money gone? Where else but to feed a hungry horde of camp followers in the fond hope that the expenditure would make votes.

What of the Patronage list and all its ramifications? Can any one assert that it is in the interest of the country to so restrict the market for public supplies that only party friends can benefit? Can any one say that such a policy tends towards economy? If it does not tend towards economy, it is extravagance and extravagance with public money is unforgivable. Yet money is poured out like water on public works which are only ridiculous. What of the canal from Holland Landing to Newmarket, the laughing-stock of four constituencies? What of the D'Israeli and the St. Joseph's wharves? What of the 700 items in the supplementary estimates of this year? What of the Morwins and Walbergs and Macouns at Ottawa? What of the Burrowses, Turriffs and Adamsons in the West? How many one-horse politicians have made fortunes by Government favor like MacKenzie of the Blairmore townsite?

A perusal of the minutes of the Public Accounts Committee for the last three sessions and a careful study of the Civil Service Commission's report will bring no satisfaction to Liberals of the old school who believe in economy as the cardinal political virtue. The News is not in favor of parsimony. There is a difference between that and economy. Ruskin in one of his lectures said: "Economy no more means saving money than it means spending money. It means the administration of a house or anything else to the best possible advantage." The Government has wasted the national resources in the attempt to buy party success. And the voters know it. Nor will they forget, though perhaps temporarily dazzled by Laurieresque oratory, "tremendous enthusiasm" and multitudinous brass bands.—The News.

A WORD TO THE WISE

It has been said and truly that the financial disturbance of last fall was a rich man's panic. It started with the excessive ambitions of certain rich men, it caused the downfall of a considerable number of these rich men and its traces are still noticeable in the diminished resources and curtailed expenditures of rich men generally. Probably within the knowledge of most persons there are well-to-do people who show the effect of that spectacular upheaval. They are living more quietly, operating fewer motor cars, boarding at the summer resorts instead of occupying private cottages there. Of course there are exceptions to the rule. Some wealthy men are cutting as wide a swath as ever, and are presumably justified in so doing, at least so far as the continued possession of their former incomes may be said to furnish a justification. But in general the richer element in the community was "hit" by the panic.

It would be only half a truth, however to say that the disturbance was a rich man's panic. So closely are all the classes in the community associated in our present social and industrial system and no one class can be injured without affecting the other. Many of the employees of the railroads that have cut their dividends or gone into the hands of receivers have lost their positions if only temporarily and many factory workingmen have spent a large portion of the summer now closing in enforced idleness. The shopkeepers, the merchants, of all kinds, the farmers, every class of producer and supplier, in a word—have felt the effect of the "rich man's panic." In its aftermath it has proved a poor man's panic and has touched the interests of the man who is neither rich nor poor.

The lesson to be emphasized from this is that nobody is independent of his fellows in these days. The sooner the demagogues understand it the better; and the reactionaries as well. The capitalist is dependent for the sale of the product of his mills on the family of small resources; and they, in turn, cannot ignore him as a factor of great importance in the common prosperity.—The Providence Journal.

SEXSMITH WILL WIN IN EAST

His Opponent is Not Known in Many Parts of the Country

Special to the Review

Havelock, September 23— What are the prospects for Jno. A. Sexsmith, of Belmont, Conservative candidate for East Peterborough winning out in the Dominion elections to be held this fall, against Mr. Tanner, of Lakefield, Liberal candidate for this riding?

The Liberals of this end of the riding did not have the slightest idea that Mr Tanner would be nominated, until it took place, and hardly any of, even his own party, ever heard of him before the nomination.

What chances this unknown man has in the eastern part of the riding is an unsettled question, but it may be different in the west.

Mr. Sexsmith has lowered the majority of the Liberal candidate in the past two elections and may lower it more this time, may be below the dividing mark.

WHAT BEAUTIFUL HAIR!

How often do we hear that exclamation of a certain woman's hair or a certain man's hair.

A prominent scientist and hair specialist emphatically states, and has proven, that any man or woman can have luxuriant, lustrous hair, by using a famous prescription called Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is now made and sold in Canada. Wm. Madill, the druggist, is the agent in Peterborough and the readers of the Review can buy from him for only 50 cents, a large bottle.

Wm. Madill knows that Parisian Sage will beautify the hair, cure dandruff and stop falling hair, and for that reason he sells it under a guarantee to cure or money back.

If you cannot obtain Parisian Sage where you live, you can get a bottle for 50 cents from Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., express charges prepaid.

AN EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE

Bell Telephone Employee Injured by Explosion of Gasoline Lamp

Lindsay, September 22—A serious accident occurred at Cambray this afternoon at a quarter to three o'clock by which a man named Kelman, of Tillsonburg was badly burned.

Kelman, together with a man named Storer is employed on the new Bell Telephone line which is being run to Beaverton and while using a gasoline lamp for soldering purposes the lamp exploded burning him very seriously and burning his clothes completely off his body.

Storer at once ran to his assistance and in trying to extinguish the blaze was also severely burned.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

At Strathroy the assembled Liberals greeted Sir Wilfrid Laurier with a new song, beginning—

"Sir Wilfrid's policy; It's a gem, Hurrah for victory !"

It is understood that the new composition takes the place of that onetime favorite, "Ring the knell of boodling boys," which has been retired for obvious reasons.—The Gazette.

Mr. Borden calls for clean elections. Laurier's answer is his sneer at Niagara and his latest effort in calling to his support at Ottawa such eminently pure and clean men in politics as J. R. Stratton, that arch enemy of everything clean in elections, who is practically read out of politics because he was charged as a minister of the Crown with attempting to purchase the support of a member of the Legislature of Ontario three or four years ago.

Yet this man is one of the evidences we have that Laurier is on Campaign calling for clean elections.—Hon. W.J. Hanna at Montreal.

The Moral Reformers of the Methodist church at Toronto will leave no stone unturned to banish some of the evils that have been fought for some years. Attention is now being turned to the class of men who seek election, and the following pledge will be exacted before any support can be promised any candidate.

"We, the undersigned, agree to be governed by the provisions of the constitution of the Electoral Reform League of ——— county and pledge ourselves to abstain from bribery, intimidation and other forms of corrupt practices at elections, to do all in our power to prevent such practices by others and to inform officers of the league of all violations of the law coming to our knowledge, and to use our influence and best endeavors to bring to justice those who are guilty of violating the law."

A. Claude Macdonell, MP., received a telegram from Hon. W. J. Hanna, yesterday urging the Conservatives to make the Massey Hall meeting a record breaker. "From Halifax to Pembroke," he said, "there is evidence of a political upheaval such as took place for Sir John A. Macdonald in 1878." Mr. Hanna will speak with Mr Borden at London and Toronto and also at Simcoe.

JOHN WILKINS

Mme. Emma Chatel, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want to tell you that without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I would not be alive. For months I suffered with painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the feminine organs. Doctors could do nothing for me, and said I must submit to an operation as I had a tumor. One of my cousins advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her.

"I did so and now I have no pain and am entirely cured. Your remedy is deserving of great praise."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MANY LADIES WILL BE PRESENT

At Conservative Meeting Saturday Night—Seats Can be Reserved

Many ladies will be in attendance, at the big Conservative meeting, in the Grand Opera House, on Friday night, when Mr. R. L. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, and Hon. R. P. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, will discuss the public questions, of the day.

Seats will be reserved for the ladies, and their escorts. The coming of Borden has aroused great interest, and a monster audience is assured. The 57th Regiment Band will play in the opera house, between seven and eight o'clock.

POLITICAL NOTES

Canvassing for votes in an auto. ought to get some votes for the other fellow.

Business is business. but is it the business of a business Government to give away fortunes to a few grafters. Does not the country belong to the people and is not the Government supposed to be the guardian of the people.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth has returned with his hearing so much improved that he will be able to hear something drop in North York in the near future.

One of our local undertakers has taken the platform for our friend, Jim. Rather suggestive, politically.

Make a mental note of this; "The numbered ballot went out of fashion with the Ross government."

Hon. R. L. Borden will speak in Peterborough on Friday, night, and a number from Lindsay purpose going to hear him.—Lindsay Free Press.

The Ottawa Citizen remarks; "In the course of his speech at Niagara Falls Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred to "The new policy of the Liberal party introduced by Mr. Fielding in the session of 1897." This will be news to the people of Canada who never knew that the Liberal government had a policy except the one they took over from the Conservatives in 1896 and exploited for the gate receipts."

The Toronto News, says: "The number of Liberal members who are not for one reason or another, returning to their constituencies for re-election is significant. Even a comparatively poor post office or Custom house is a surer thing than many a constituency which went Liberal in 1896."

YANKEE ROGERS

This is the first time this latest cut of the whirlwind Catch-as-Catch Can Champion has appeared—Manager Naylor is arranging many matches this year for Rogers and Hassan Abdallah.

HARRY BURRIDGE WILL CATCH IN BALL GAME HERE SATURDAY

The St. Andrew's baseball team, of Toronto will meet the Peterboroughs champions of the Midland League at Riverside Park, on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. This is the first of a series of matches for the championship of Ontario the St. Andrew's having won the championship of the senior league in Toronto. Harry Burridge late of the Youngstown Ohio, team, will do the receiving for the locals and either Clements Quinlan or Hawkins, will do the twirling. Dave Lawson Gurney Burns, Dubby Shea, Connie Murphy, Fritz O'Brien, Anderson, and all the other star performers will be on the Peterborough line-up. The St. Andrew's are a rattling good team, winning the Toronto League with comparative ease, and recently defeating a picked team from the International League. The local fans will no doubt be out in a bunch to see Harry Burridge behind the plate. He has improved a lot since jumping into pro. company, and it should be a treat to see him with the big mitt again. The game will start at 3 o'clock and should draw a big crowd of spectators.

SMOKE CAME HOME AGAIN

Chemong Runner Did Not Stay Long at Lindsay

Mr. D. Whetung, jr., of Chemong, was in the city today and stated that young Smoke, the Indian runner, had not gone to Lindsay to reside, as stated in a Lindsay paper. Smoke stayed one night at Lindsay and then hit the trail for the reserve, where he is now located.

ABDALLAH HAS GREAT STRENGTH

A remarkable feat of strength and muscle control was performed by Hassan Abdallah this morning. He was with his manager at the Little Windsor hotel, when a conversation came up about a penny of the Syrians.

Mr. Art Johnston, proprietor of the hotel, produced a penny from the cash register—by a penny, the two cent Canadian coin is meant — and Hassan rested it on his middle finger and held it with his two fingers on either side of the middle one and bringing it down twice with a bang, bent the coin as though it were a piece of soft lead. It was a good stunt and certainly indicates that the Oriental is a very powerful man.

IRONS HAS A LOT OF SPEED

Chemong Indian Runs mile in 5:05 with no Training

Mr. Don Whetung, of Chemong, is of the opinion that Irons, the Chemong Indian would make one of the best in the business if he would only get out and run.

Mr. Whetung says Irons does not apparently wish to achieve any honors in running in spite of the fact that he can cover the grounds in fine style. A short time ago he ran a mile in 5.05, and without training.

HOCKEY

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—As the result of the visit to Ottawa of Arthur Sixsmith, manager of the Pittsburg Bankers, there is likely to be the usual exodus of local hockey players to the Smoky City. It has to open the Pittsburg League on November 10th, and to wind it up about the first or second week in February. There will be four teams in the league, Bankers, Pirates, P.A.C. and Lyceums, and the organization will be run on the same lines as last year.

Sixsmith is on the still hunt for players. Salaries will run about the same as last year, and the players will be engaged from the 1st of November.

He is said to have landed Erskine Sipletti in the City League last year. Art. would also like to sign Joe Dennison and Tom Westwick, of the Emmetts. Tommie Smith may go back to Pittsburg, but Art. Throop will likely remain here. Charlie Masson may return to the Smoky City, also Edgar Dey.

The opening of the Pittsburg season so early will give the Eastern Canada stars an opportunity of sliding to Pittsburg prior to the commencement of the E. C. H. A. series. Pittsburg fans would like to see Alf. Smith and a few other Canadian players there for a game or two, and it is possible that the first games over there may be characterized by the appearance of Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto players.

RUGBY

The O.R.F.U. is meeting with trouble every day. If many more teams leave them or decide to stay out of the game this year there will be nothing left but an executive and the T.A.A.C., despite the efforts of the Toronto press to make it go.—Hamilton Spectator.

Already the knockers are predicting a bad season for the London Rugby Club. Here is guessing that if the locals can make a creditable showing that the gates will be the largest in the past four years.

Of course, there will be two teams to support this season, instead of one, but there seems to be little doubt that the junior team will more than hold its own in its class.—Advertiser.

The Kingston Standard says;

It is said, authoritively, that Peterborough will not have a senior team this year but will enter three teams in the junior O.R.F.U.

"How the O.R.F.U. can expect to get the Westmounts again this year is more than I can dope out," said a local fan, a few days ago. "When Peterborough and Westmounts were playing off for the championship they compelled the Montreal team to travel about five hundred miles to play a sudden death game on Peterborough grounds. It is no source of wonder that the O.R.F.U. is dead."

THE SYRIAN IS A BOWLER

At the Peterborough bowling alleys last night an interesting game was played between Hassan Abdallah and Archie Seymour, and Joe Hay and Fred Fitzpatrick. The Syrian was on deck in all his glory and bowled a good game, he and his partner defeating the other pair.

To-day he was at the alleys again and indulged in a few games.

CRICKET

A meeting of the Cricket Club was called for last night at the Snowden House, but there were not enough in attendance to have any business transaction. Another meeting will be held at an early date.

LONGBOAT AGAIN

Midland, September 22nd. — 4,000 people attended the games here today held under the auspices of the Midland Amateur Athletic Club. Tom Longboat was given a great reception and won the 10-mile Marathon with ease. Dunn of Orillia, finished second and Jackson, of Midland, finished third. There were nine entries, but only five men finished.

The weather at the lakes just now is beautiful, the foliage looking magnificent in shades red and yellow and the smoke, Mr. Dumble states, only adds beauty to the scene.

DIVINE SERVICE AT INDIAN CAMP

At Sugar Island, Rice Lake, on Sunday—Alderville Brass Band in Attendance

Special to the Review.

Keene, September 22.—We regret to state that Mr. John Lang, ex-M.P., is seriously ill with kidney trouble.

On Friday, September 25th, the steamer Rainbow will run an excursion from Keene and other points on this side of the lake in connection with Roseneath fair. Arrangements have been made for vehicles to convey the people from the lake shore to the fair grounds.

Divine services were held at the Indian camp, Sugar Island, Sunday. Rev. Mr. Jolling, Roseneath, and Rev. Mr. Dunkley, Hiawatha, conducted service in English, and Mr. Blaker, one of the Alderville Indians, preached a short sermon in the Indian language. The Alderville brass band attended and played sacred music. Over two hundred and fifty people attended the service.

Mrs. Sullivan, Sarnia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Foley.

Mr. Walter Robins is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. O. Hill, Peterborough, was in the village on business on Tuesday.

Mr. Fred English returned to Ottawa last week after a fortnight's visit in the village.

Misses Sadie Kempt and Annie Hope returned from a visit to Toronto last week.

The Village Improvement Society is arranging for a concert to be held in the town hall on the evening of the fair.

POTATOES ARE REPORTED SCARCE

Potatoes are said to be a short crop in the country around Peterborough this year, and in fact throughout the greater part of the province. Several local dealers when spoken to by the Review admitted that they understood the potato crop was not up to the average, although as yet they had no difficulty in getting supplies. Potatoes were being brought in freely and prices had not yet advanced. It is hard to say, however, what the cost to householders of Peterborough will be before the new crop is on the market,

SOIL TOO DRY FOR PLOUGHING

In more ways than one is the drought affecting the country. So dry is the soil that it is impossible for the farmers to do any fall ploughing and much valuable time is being lost as a result. Farmers at the cheese board to-day stated that the ground was so hard that one couldn't get a plough into it. Of course there is still considerable time ahead to do fall ploughing if the necessary rain comes. The tillers of the soil are hoping that October will be a favorable month.

BIRTH

MR. STRATTON ONCE MORE.

Mr. Stratton declines to publicly defend his indefensible conduct in taking the $10 000 which the Royal Commission found him to have misappropriated to his own use, while leaving it to be charged against the Home Life Association and those dependent upon it. He declines to discuss it because he is afraid. He declines because he knows that if he ever appeared on a public platform to discuss the matter with Mr. Burnham he would be flayed alive. His corrupt and contemptible methods in public life were well matched by his action in business life respecting that $10 000. He cannot escape, and he shall not escape, the odious charge that rests upon him by virtue of the Royal Commission's report, and his own evidence, so long as he aspires to regain public life at the expense of public decency. The people of this riding deserve better treatment and are likely to demand it. Mr. Stratton continually sneers at Mr. Burnham's poverty. Mr. Burnham, as editor of the Review, tries to earn the salary which he receives, but Mr. Burnham will say more. He will say that had he been so minded as to take $10 000 in the manner in which Mr. Stratton took it, he could have reaped the reward of his dishonesty ere this, and perhaps have posed as the rich man which his cheek and crookedness would then have made him. Mr. Stratton's excuse that the charge involves private, not public business is answered by the fact that he was cited to appear before a Parliamentary Commission and there compelled to uncover his misconduct. Why does he not say that that Commission had no right to investigate his private business? But the excuse is vain! A man's character as a man is always an issue when he seeks to represent his fellowmen, or indeed at any time. The Globe established that fact with Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, even if it had never been established before. Is any sort of man good enough for the people? For any man to say so is to insult the public whose support he asks for. There is many a man who by hard and humble toil has spent his strength in gaining his own and his family's daily bread and at his life's decline has had the proud and pre-eminent satisfaction of laying his head to its last rest amid the tears of those who knew that he had remained true to his manhood—who loved him more for what he had not done than for what he might have done had he been unworthy. It is such as these that are the real heroes of life. The bombast and parade of wealth divorced from decency, and from even the careless tribute of the usual "good name" is no longer possible.

Already it is openly boasted that West Peterborough will be won by "cash." Those who gather to prey upon the weakness or poverty of their fellowmen are already flitting about in preparation for the harvest. Mr. Burnham had not a word but of praise for Mr. Gillespie, but he declines to be coerced into praise of Mr. Stratton, who would have been well advised if he had remained in the retirement of private life.

WEDDING BELLS

LUSH—BEATTIE

A very quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at St. Luke's church when Miss Edith L. Beattie, youngest daughter of Mr. Wm. Beattie, 247 Concession street, Ashburnham, was united in marriage to Mr. John Lush, son of Mr. N. Lush 509 Aylmer street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major, of All Saints' church, in the absence of the Rector, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, from the city. The bride and groom were unattended and only the immediate friends and relatives were present. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of brown over a waist of white net over taffeta and wore a hat to match.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lush left on the eight o'clock train for Toronto where they took a steamer trip. On their return to the city they will reside at 586 Bethune street.

HOLDSHIP—O'LEARY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at nine o'clock at St. Joseph's church, Douro, when Miss Margaret O'Leary, daughter of the late John O'Leary, Indian River, was united in marriage to Mr. John William Holdship, of Montreal.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. M. J. O'Leary, assisted by Rev. M. O'Leary, brothers of the bride. Rev. Father Keilty, the parish priest, was present in the sanctuary.

The bride looked charming in a gown of brocaded silk, with trimmings of allover lace and silk tassels. She wore a white hat to match. The bridesmaid was May McCaffery, of Toronto, who was attired in a dress of mauve silk trimmed with allover lace and ribbon. The groom was supported by Mr. Maurice O'Leary, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the guests drove to the residence of the bride's mother, where a dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of and hearty congratulations bestowed upon the bride and groom. The guests numbered fifty, those from a distance being Mrs. Kelly and Miss Holdship of Ottawa, Mr. John O'Leary and sister, of Jackson, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Barry, of Hastings, Father Kelly and a number of others from Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Holdship left to-day for Montreal, Mrs. Holdship travelling in a suit of green lady's cloth with hat to match.

IT IS ILLEGAL TO SELL SCRIP

No Sales or Agreements Can be Made Till the Warrants are Issued

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Several land agents have opened up offices in Toronto to make a specialty of acquiring options on the scrip which will shortly be issued to South African veterans for grants of 320 acres of Dominion lands in the Northwest. There are all kinds of fancy prices being offered the Toronto veterans for their rights, and some sales made.

But under the Act, all such options or sales, at the present time are illegal. No agreement for sale of these lands can legally be made until the warrants for the grants are issued by the Government at Ottawa. No warrants have been issued yet, the applications are going in by the hundreds. There are eight thousand veterans scattered somewhere round the world entitled to these grants. Those nearest home are certainly losing no time getting in their papers.

LIBERALS OF NORWOOD ARE NOT PLEASED

At the Shelving of Mr. Findlay---Bright Prospects for Mr. Sexsmith

Special to the Review

Norwood, Sept. 23.—Norwood Liberals are rather disappointed that their candidate, the present member, has been so unceremoniously put on the shelf. They look upon the action of the convention as somewhat unwarranted.

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, Conservative candidate for the Commons, has been in Norwood several times lately, and expects to poll a large vote here. He is receiving considerable encouragement and hopes to gain a Conservative victory at the polls. The eastern part of this riding will certainly give him a handsome majority.

WILL NEXT C.A.A.U. WRESTLING BOUTS BE HELD IN PETERBORO

When he was here for the Harriers meet, Secretary Crowe, of the A.A.U. suggested that the C. A. A. U. wrestling championships might be held here under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. It would be a fine thing for Peterborough and no doubt would be a big success, both from an athletic and financial standpoint.

A number of entries for the various classes could be made from Peterborough and it is likely some clever wrestlers will be developed from the classes to be conducted at the Y.M.C.A. this winter by Mr. Collings, the physical director.

Peterborough is achieving a provincial reputation as a town where sports are well supported and it would be quite an honor if so important an athletic fixture as the C.A.A.U. championship wrestling tournament could be brought here. Seeing that the C.A.A.U secretary has given some encouragement in the matter everything possible should be done to have the tournament here.

MISS FIDGETY AND BLUE STREAK IN A COLLISION

While in a Matched Race at Toronto—Both Were Damaged to Some Extent.

A Toronto despatch says:—The most exciting incident of aquatic sport in and around Toronto this season put an abrupt end to what promised to be a motor boat race of superlative excitement on Saturday. Those two keen rivals in aquatic speed, Art Holden of Miss Fidgety and Jack Robinson of Blue Streak had brought these quaint little flyers together Saturday in a match race over the Queen City Yacht Club course, and were busy battling it out side-by-side, when Blue Streak cut across Miss Fidgety's bow, while both boats were going full speed opposite the Argonaut Club house. Miss Fidgety, going like a young express train, poked her sharp snout beneath Blue Streak's stern and hurled her clean over. The little blue flyer's nose went down and her stern, with its flashing propeller, up. A second later the oilskin-clad crew, Clifford Graham and Robinson, bobbed up uninjured and were rescued by Art Holden and Bob Shaw, of the Miss Fidgety. The remarkable speed with which the flying Miss Fidgety was checked, was a feature of the mishap. She did not go sixty feet beyond the overturned Blue Streak. That the sudden flip did not throw either Robinson or Graham into the engine, or that the tarpaulin with which they were buttoned into the cockpit did not hold them and drown them, was another remarkable feature.

WHO WAS TO BLAME?

What caused the accident?

"We mistook an Argonaut buoy for the flag we had to round, and in our excitement misjudged our lead and Miss Fidgety's speed, and were struck as a consequence," said Robinson, after the incident.

"We were beating them, and to prevent us getting by they were zigzagging across the course," asserted Holden and Shaw.

"It was Blue Streak's fault," says Vice-Commodore Armstrong, of the Q.C.Y.C., who was out on the course with his motor boat and saw it all. "Blue Streak turned a short buoy and got a lead on Miss Fidgety on the first leg. Miss Fidgety had gained this back and was going by, when Blue Streak's helmsman commenced to jockey. Fidgety slowed up and crossed Blue Streak's stern. Then Blue Streak came back across the other boat's, and Miss Fidgety's crew, holding their course, rammed her."

A GRAND RACE.

The race, as far as it went, was a spectacular affair. Both boats were tuned up to concert pitch. They were sent away together. Blue Streak sneaked through the water with but little fuss, while Miss Fidgety digging in her nose and throwing two broad feathers of spume. She was going, however, and had drawn out a trifling lead, when Blue Streak turned the short buoy. That she had pulled the lead down when the accident occurred is emphasized by the upset. Both boats were going 21 miles an hour when the bump occurred. Miss Fidgety lost a portion of her stern, while Blue Streak had four planks stove in. They will meet again in an open race next Saturday.

WRESTLING

Toronto, Sept. 23.—A young woman who was announced as Miss May Cullen, of Toronto, won the $25 forfeit posted by the manager of Miss Cora Livingstone, the world's champion lady wrestler, last night. There was no end of hair-pulling slipped in with much good wrestling for good measure, and the young women, both clever at the head-spinning game, had the audience on its feet during the entire ten minutes of the bout.

THINKS SYRIAN IS BETTER MAN

Manager Naylor Has Confidence in Abdallah Putting it Over Hurtubise

Mr. W. B. Naylor, the manager of Hassan Abdallah, arrived in the city this morning. Mr. Naylor is probably the only man in Peterborough at the present moment who has seen Abdallah wrestle. He has also seen Hurtubise go, both when he met Rogers last May, and no later than the first part of this month. He was seen by the Review this morning and expressed himself as follows:

"I will admit that Gene has improved wonderfully since his bout with Rogers. But in going up against Abdallah I think he is meeting a stronger and more scientific wrestler. In other words, I consider the Syrian the better man of the two."

Twenty laborers on the Parliament buildings at Regina have gone on strike.

WHO WILL MEET WRESTLER CORA?

A local man, who takes quite an interest in sport, has returned from Toronto where he saw Cora Livingstone, the female champion wrestler. He say she apparently has a splendid knowledge of the game, and when wrestling displays much science and speed.

He suggested to the Review today that a match between Cora and a local feminine grappler would be of interest, but as far as the Review's knowledge goes, there is no one in Peterborough to meet here.

If any member of the fair sex would like to make a match with the champion, she should send her name to the sporting editor of the Review.

HASSAN ABDALLAH ATTRACTS ATTENTION IN ORIENTAL GARB

Terrible Syrian Arrived in City Yesterday Afternoon and Expects to Win From Hurtubise To-night—Review Has Talk With Interesting Stranger—A Grand Battle Assured.

Hassan Abdallah, the far famed wrestler from the hazy Balkans placidly puffed his Mogul cigarette last night as he sat in his chair at the Oriental and quietly chatted in broken English with a Review reporter. It was quite evident that the Sultan's royal wrestler has had many eyes turned on him before as he did not seem to be the least bit disturbed or even more than mildly interested by the big crowd of curious persons who gazed on him. And, in his flowing robes of the Orient he represented quite a picturesque appearance.

Abdallah arrived here on the afternoon CPR train and says he is in the best of shape. He doesn't speak English without some hesitation and although it is comparatively easy to follow him most of the time, it is sometimes hard to make out what he means, but the reporter found him affable and willing to talk.

He stated that he was a wrestler of the Graeco-Roman type, although he no doubt has a good knowledge of the catch as catch can game also.

He asked some questions concerning Hurtubise and when told that he was 6 feet 3 inches in height and stripped at 210 pounds, he simply smiled and shrugged his shoulders. He apparently is in no way alarmed by the formidable proportions of the big son of Canada and acts like a man who has unbounded confidence in his ability to win. But when the two come together at the Brock street rink to-night the result may alter Hassan's opinion of the young stalwart he will exchange grips with.

Gene is in the greatest trim he ever has been in his life and has all kinds of strength, speed and science. He expects to win and will go straight after his dark-skinned opponent from the call of time. The interest of the local followers of the game is at fever heat and an immense assembly is expected to be on hand to cheer the husky young Canadian heavyweight to victory.

THE PRELIMINARIES

The big go will be preceded by a fifteen minute match between Bobby Long and T. Crowe and another of the same length of time between Jack Wilson, the 140 pound champion of Peterborough, and Lillie, an English lightweight who is said to shape up well in his work-outs. The sporting editor of The Review will referee all the bouts.

HASSAN ABDALLAH.

The Terrible Syrian, who has been beating his opponents so easily—He meets Gene Hurtubise to-night and does not regard him as a serious proposition.

RUNNING

TAIT'S FAST TIME

Twenty-eight runners started in the West End's two and one-half mile handicap last night which was won by V. Puttock, with 2 minutes' handicap. Most of the men showed a decided improvement over their time made in last week's handicap. Jack Tait who holds the record for the course, which is exactly 2 1-2 miles, showed his form when he ran the distance in 12 minutes and 32 seconds, just 18 seconds slower than his record, made last Good Friday, which was an ideal day for a run, while last night the roads were quite slippery on account of the dampness. Tait was obliged to run on the sidewalk most of the way.—Toronto World.

SPORTING COMMENT

The Canadian Olympic lacrosse team will play at Quebec, Thursday, October 1st and the men will go aboard the Empress of Britain that evening. They will go direct to London and after playing in the Olympic tourney, will make a tour of the old country, playing in all the important lacrosse centres.

The prospective change in the date of Thanksgiving day is playing havoc with the sport arrangements. Hamilton will lose a holiday football game as was pointed out on Saturday, but as the Herald road race is to be run on Thanksgiving day, the sporting community is not worrying very much. In Montreal, the Herald and the Star had both arranged for road races. The latter is going to run a race on Thanksgiving day and the former on the King's birthday. As both these days fall together, Montreal is likely to have a surfeit of racing.—Hamilton Herald.

The forest fires of Minnesota, Michigan and Northern Ontario have cost the messenger pigeon fanciers of Toronto perhaps $1,000. The dense pall of smoke which has hung over the country has been the means of hundreds of birds, perhaps five hundred, being lost.

Out of 260 birds sent to Camlachie, 155 miles, only four returned the same day, and not more than six all told. The training race from Woodstock, 90 miles, saw 60 birds start and only 5 finish, two hundred and sixty started in two races from London, 125 miles, and 18 finished.

The birds become lost in the smoke and fly until they are exhausted, when they fall to the ground and die, or are the victims of hawks, etc.

W. Newton's Gold-Medalist won the London to Toronto fly of 125 miles, with A. Brown's Jolly Tar second, Dydo and Smith's White Queen third.

HALLEY'S COMET IS COMING BACK

Celestial Wanderer Approaching the Earth—Some Scientific Observations

Washington, Sept. 21.—Astronomers at the Naval Observatory are not paying much attention to the return of Halley's comet, which is now approaching the earth. This comet makes an appearance every seventy-five years, and is the oldest celestial wanderer known to earth people, having been observed, according to old records, previous to the beginning of the Christian era. Scientific observation since the inception of the modern science of astronomy show that its orbit varied little and that it may be confidently expected according to schedule time.

While Washington astronomers are not taking observations, several western observatories have made preparations to photograph the comet, and should their efforts develop anything of value, the Naval Observatory will later take up the comet quest.

With the announcement of every returning comet, superstitious people immediately begin to entertain absurd fears of what might happen in case of collision. While not denying that such a collision is possible, and that conditions might develop which would render it disastrous most astronomers assert that such a disaster is so remote as to be almost unthinkable.

Some scientists believe that life was extinguished on the earth more than once by fires generated by comets and that the growth of human, animal and vegetable life had to begin all over again and took millions of years to reach its present development.

WHAT IS A COMET?

A comet in brief, is a bit of some planet which has cracked off and is flying rapidly through space. It is intensely hot. It generates enormous heat by its friction going through the ether. Every such comet, while measuring perhaps thousands of miles in diameter at the head, carries with it a sort of burning atmosphere of its own, which precedes it for some distance and trails out behind it for hundreds of thousands of miles. This forms what is known as the "tail" of the comet.

Some comets have been discharged to have tails millions of miles in length which stretch across the heavens.

Meteorites, which are fragments of comets, have destroyed ships at sea and made huge holes in the earth. Many of these have fallen in the southwest, which seems to be a favorite place for meteorites, and the desert of Arizona is pitted with holes which many miners believe were made by such visitors.

The earth came in contact with the tail of a comet on June 30, 1861. The tail was 118 degrees long. Many people thought it caused the civil war. The comet appeared low down towards the horizon of the northwest and went over to the southwest. The whole heavens as we see them are only 180 degrees. So our comet struck across almost the whole heavens.

We were buried into the substance of that comet's tail 300,000 miles. And there was not the slightest thing by which anybody could know what happened. There was not even a haze. The tails of comets are so thin, so tenuous, that it is almost impossible to put it in words. Through the nucleus or head of a comet the light of fifth magnitude star passes without any diminution.

There are dozens of lost comets known to astronomy. These monsters of the sky hove into sight, astonished everybody by their brilliancy had their orbits calculated and then when the astronomers predicted they were going to reappear they never returned and the astronomers were covered with confusion.

LINDSAY MAY GET TWO FACTORIES

Two Industrial Concerns Want to Locate in That Town

The Lindsay Warder says;

Two more industries wish to locate in Lindsay.

At the conclusion of last night's regular committee work Clerk Knowlson read two letters from men who are desirous of establishing a manufacturing business in the town. One was from D. S. McMullen, Chatham, who wished to recommend an American friend of his as a bringer of an industry to this section of the country of which any Canadian town might be proud. The goods, which were of a kind largely imported into Canada and subject to a heavy duty, were to be manufactured, were kept secret, but it was stated that they were manufactured in only a few places in the States and the secret of their composition was known only among a small company.

For their manufacture a large brick or concrete building would be required. The man who possessed the secret of the industry would be pleased to come to the town and try to form a company.

The other letter was from J. W. Hewston Co. asking for inducements to establish a shoe manufacturing business in town. He would be willing to come to town if the town was interested in his proposition.

WRITS TO BE RETURNABLE ON DEC. 3rd

The proclamation dissolving Parliament appears in the Canada Gazette It is followed by another making the election writs returnable on December 3rd, and by still another summoning the new Parliament to meet on Thursday, December 3rd. But inasmuch as it does not contain the magic phrase "For the despatch of business," the convocation is only pro forma. There is nothing, however, which would prevent Parliament meeting on that date if it should be so decided later on by the Government.

SUN CROSSES THE EQUATOR

And Autumn Begins---Equal Proportion of Day and Night Now

According to the astronomers autumn began to-day, although the average person regards the first of September as the beginning of the fall season. The sun, Rev. Dr. Marsh informed the Review today, crossed the equator at 6 o'clock this morning and just at the present time we are enjoying an almost equal proportion of daylight and darkness. September 21st is generally regarded as the date when the sun crosses the equator, and autumn begins but such is not always the case.

THE GALT WOOL MARKET; PRICES NOW AND THEN

One year after the National Policy of Protection had been put in force by the late Sir John A. Macdonald the woollen mills of Waterloo county showed every sign of prosperity. And the wool market in touch with the manufacturing interests identified with it reflected the satisfactory conditions prevailing on the farms of this district. From the issue of the Weekly Reporter, of June, 25th, 1880, we take this item:

> THE WOOL MARKET — The price of wool took a spurt in the Galt market on Saturday last, and sold at figures as high as 31 1-4 per pound, on that day. A large quantity was delivered. These figures were purely the result of competition among buyers, however, and were not maintained on Monday. The market on that day opening at 28c on the average, which price has since been maintained. In Toronto it has been quoted at 27c to 28c during the week.

Compare 31 1-4 cents per lb. with 12, the figure of today. And we are told that in June, 1880, "a large quantity was delivered and competition was keen among buyers." Are any buyers to be seen on our market today, tumbling over one another to take the products off the hands of wool growers? Keep our woollen factories going, give the home industry a show, and there will be a different tale to tell. The Laurier Government is not giving the farmer a chance to raise wool at a profit. It's the foreigner who gets into our market with manufactured goods to shut out our people who is favored. Why should the people of South Waterloo—especially the electors of Hespeler—not condemn the policy adhered to by Fielding and endorsed by Laurier.—Galt Reporter.

SQUEEZING THE SPONGE

As a very important source of national strength and security, it is essential that we should cherish our public credit. Our method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible to avoid occasions of useless expense and the accumulation of debt.

It is essential that we should make vigorous efforts in time of prosperity to discharge the debts which have accumulated during a lean period so as not ungenerously to throw on posterity the burdens which we should bear.

To pay debts there must be revenue and to have revenue there must be taxes.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier says that during the past twelve years his government has had enormous surpluses amounting in all to to $113,000,000. He omits to say that this $113,000,000 has been spent by his government, and furthermore that the public debt has increased by $20,000,000.

In 1896 the expenditures amounted to $42,000,000 and in 1908 it amounts to over $100,000,000.

In 1896 Sir Wilfrid Laurier said;—"I promise you that if you put our party into power we will reduce the annual expenditure by $200,000,000 or $3,000,000 per annum," while Sir Richard Cartwright said that "It is a disgrace and a shame to the government that they should ask for an expenditure of $38,300,000 for federal purposes; the thing is unjustifiable."

In 1908 the Laurier Government spent $68,000,000 more than the Conservative Government did in 1896.

In 1896 the revenue which consists almost entirely of customs and excise duties and which are the taxes paid by the people, amounted to $21,759,285, while in 1908 it is $11.70.

To meet the enormous increase in expenditure under the Laurier Government, the taxes during the past twelve years have doubled per head In 1896 the tax per head was $5.46 in 1908 it is $11.70.

In 1896 Sir Wilfrid Laurier said; "We are the party of low taxation. Let us not forget that every dollar taken by the Government in the form of taxation each year is taken from you. As every pound of nails, every axe, every yard of cloth you buy from your merchant is the medium through which you pay taxes to the Dominion Government."

In the above record of expenditures the cost of the country's share of the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific has not been included. What has the country to show for the enormous expenditures? What will the outcome be if the present administration is retained in power to preserve its present policy of ruinous expenditures?

LIBERAL METHODS IN COLCHESTER RIDING

Chairman of Board of Revisers Charged With Striking Conservatives off List.

Halifax, Sept. 21—The latest election crime charged against the Liberal machine is that of robbing eight Conservatives in Colchester of the right to vote, and the Liberal worker who did it has been convicted on two charges.

On the first he has been fined two hundred dollars, and is compelled besides to pay seventy-two dollars in costs or go to prison for three months and in the second he is fined two hundred dollars and must pay thirty-two dollars in costs. His name is Daniel McLaughlin. The first offence charged was that McLaughlin, who is a strong Liberal, as chairman of the board of revisers deliberately returned an incorrect list. The case was instituted by the Conservatives. The facts as brought out by a large number of witnesses in the trial at Truro show that at the revisers' court eight Conservative applications, which were considered by the revisers among others, were satisfactorily proved and qualified and accepted by the revisers. Two of the revisers signed the revised list, including these names and yet McLaughlin who was entrusted with the forwarding of this list to the county clerk at Truro, omitted these eight names in making up the list thus depriving those duly qualified voters of the privilege of the franchise.

McLaughlin was fined, as stated above, on this charge and was then arrested on a second charge that of neglecting to revise the list. He was also convicted in this case, and another fine of two hundred dollars and thirty dollars costs was put upon him yesterday making five hundred and two dollars in all. McLaughlin's daughter, Maud, acted as clerk of the revisers' court, and kept a record of the decisions in each applicant's case. But in her evidence she admitted that after being subpoenaed in this trial she had burned the records and afterwards prepared a new record omitting the proven facts in regard to these names.

The disclosures in these cases have produced a profound impression, as indicating the methods employed to utilize the machinery of election law for partizan purposes. The persons who have thus criminally been deprived of their rights as citizens are of the highest respectability in the community. Their applications were bitterly opposed by McLaughlin but the two other revisers overruled him and decided the names should go on the list.

HAVELOCK PEOPLE DIGGING TRENCHES TO PREVENT FIRES

The residents of Havelock have become greatly alarmed during the past week, fearing forest fires. They are burning very near the city and the people are afraid that their property is in danger of being wiped out. The fires have been raging now for weeks and unless rain comes soon, much damage will be done. The citizens are taking precautions to prevent the fire from coming into the town and a resident of that village in the city this morning, stated that they were digging trenches as a safeguard.

FORMAL OPENING NOT ON FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2ND

The date for the formal opening of the new Collegiate was to have been Friday, October the second. However, this arrangement had to be cancelled owing to the fact that the seats have not yet been placed in the Assembly hall. It was thought that everything would be in readiness for the second Friday of the month but Dr. Morrison who has charge of the arrangements stated to the Review last night that the date could not be definitely settled as yet.

The event will be an interesting one and it is expected that the Hon. Mr. Pyne, Minister of Education, will be present and give an address.

Full particulars as to the nature of the proceedings will be reported at next months Board of Education meeting when the committee will report

FIRE IS TWO FEET IN THE GROUND AT INDIAN RIVER

The bush fires are still raging near Indian River. Mr. Louis Mendal was there yesterday and states that the fires are burning with unabated fury. The earth is so dry that the fire extends into the ground about two feet and it will take a long period of wet weather to extinguish it. Indeed it is not likely that the fire will be completely out till the snow falls. Mr. Mendel states that big trees are destroyed with surprising rapidity and that the fire moves through the forest at a much faster rate than one would imagine. Fortunately it is not very close to any buildings and not much damage is expected in this connection. A large number of fences have been destroyed.

THE HOOK

Longboat may go on the stage. Of course any piece in which he would appear would have a long run.

Smoke, the Chemong runner has gone to Lindsay to reside. We thought they had enough smoke up that way already.

They had been discussing fish and fishing when Jenkins suddenly asked;

"Did I ever tell you about Pitti Sing, my pet fantail Japanese gold fish? Bought her from Jake Hope for $45 dollars and she is no longer than your finger.

"But about her intelligence; of course she comes when called, and eats out of your hand and all that childish nonsense; but here's something she did which indicates, thought reasoning, brainwork.

"One day the candlestick fell from the mantel onto the thick glass bowl in which Pitti Sing was dreaming. The candlestick cracked the bowl and knocked a small hole in it. Pitti Sing, all alone in the drawing room, saw the water that was essential to her existence flowing through the hole, and what do you think she did? She plugged up the leak with her tail, and in that position I found her on my return an hour or so later.

'She had saved her life, but the end of her tail, from exposure to the air, was all shriveled and cracked. I had to massage it with cold cream before the poor little thing could swim again."

There was painful silence for a few minutes; then when Dumply remarked that it looked like rain everybody but Jenkins followed him out.

Ma, she's strong for prohibition; pa once claimed he didn't mind.
'Cause he had no taste for whisky, nor for wines of any kind.
He could get along without them, so
he told us every day;
But ma seemed to kind of doubt it or at least she talked that way.

Once the checks that pa kept signin'
at the club came here by mail,
And one mornin' ma went through them an' her face got sort of pale.
Late that night I heard them talkin'
after I had went to bed.
And they seemed to be excited, but I didn't know what they said.

Ma, she's strongfor prohibition, for she says all men are weak;
Pa don't do muchnow but listen—don't appear to care to speak.
An' the checks that he keeps signin'
at the club, don't come no more.
When it's time for him to settle,
as they used to come before.

Belleville, Sept. 22.—Capt. Roys, of the steamer Aletha, was on trial here today charged with taking his boat on Lake Ontario without a permit, she having the right to go on the Bay of Quinte and River St. Lawrence only.

Steamboat Inspector Davis testified that the Aletha had gone to Cobourg without permission.

It was also charged that the Aletha had on three occasions carried more passengers than the law allowed her to. After some evidence had been submitted the magistrate dismissed one of the latter charges and case was then enlarged for a week when argument will be heard.

PARTRIDGE HIT A HORSE ON THE SIDE OF HEAD AND DIED

Somewhat Remarkable Incident Near the City Yesterday —A Story for the Rounds.

A new way has been found for killing partridges and in this respect a horse owned by Mr. John Mervin may become valuable. Yesterday afternoon the horse in question attached to a buggy, was standing in Mr. Mervin's yard, at Mr. Mervin's residence, on the Monaghan road. A partridge blew in from somewhere and it was apparently flying "blind" for it came to a sudden stop by hitting the horse on the side of the head. The animal was not used to such playfulness on the part of feathered creatures and immediately started to cut up. He made one or two wild prances, upset the buggy and did considerable damage. The vehicle and harness both required repairs after the horse had been quieted down.

The strange part of the tale, however, is that the partridge was dead when picked up. The contact with the horse's head had apparently knocked it out of existence.

It is probable, however, that the bird was injured before it struck the horse.

CABMAN HAD TO PAY IT BACK

Trouble in Kingston Over High Rates Being Charged

The Kingston Whig says; The cabman who made an overcharge in a fare yesterday, paid back the money to the complainant and the latter did not take the case to court, deciding to give the "cabbie" another chance. The complainant left the city at noon and it was when he was driven to the station in the forenoon that the overcharge was made. The citizen was well up in the cab tariff, however. He handed the man a twenty-five cent piece, when he had placed his suit case in the waiting room, whereupon the cabman told him that the price would be fifty cents. He paid it under protest, but had no difficulty in getting his money back.

PRACTICAL RELIGION IS NEEDED

The Kingston Whig says;

"Practical religion is what we need in the world today," said Rev. H. R. Luck, the new pastor of Colborne Street Free Methodist church in his sermon on Sunday morning. During his discourse he made a strong appeal for the unsaved, and laid down a course for the Christian to pursue. Both services were well attended and proved most helpful.

Rev. Mr. Luck pointed out the many temptations placed in the way of people by the evil one. People would make good resolutions he said sign pledges and join the church, but these resolutions would be broken, and they would fall away from the church when tempted by the devil. And then failure would be the result.

"The only way to get religion is to drive the devil out," added the preacher. "And then you will have no trouble in keeping your good resolutions. When you get saved, you will want to stay with Jesus. It is the practical religion that we want. We should show our salvation as people talk and mingle with us. We should always show it in our conversation. If you hear some one say something about somebody else, let it stop at that. Do not talk about your neighbors. When God saves you He does away with all this. It is then that we talk salvation.

"We should show our religion by devotion to the cause of God. When a person is saved he finds it a very easy matter to get to class meeting but before it was not that way. When he is saved he will always find a way to get there. God touches his heart and he will go. He will go early and get blessed. He will find a way even though he has to go without his supper. No sacrifice will be too great in order to see souls saved.

"We should not only show our salvation but we should tell others what God has done for us. The great trouble with the most of people is that we do not rid ourselves entirely of the evil spirit and we cannot testify. If God has saved you from the world tell others about it. If He has saved you from drink or tobacco, give Him the glory for it because it may be the means of saving others who have fallen in the gutter. Some people are satisfied to get up and say that they are saved. If He has helped you, tell about it and it will help others."

DON'T FAIL TO HEAR BORDEN AND ROBLIN AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE TO-MORROW NIGHT

WARRANT IS BEATEN

Ex-Convict of Toronto Found Dying.

As Result of Ungovernable Temper Had Killed Wife and Was Wanted by Police.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—Andy McGuire, a painter, living at 52 Cottingham street, died in St. Michael's Hospital yesterday afternoon after having been found at noon lying by the roadside on Bathurst street above St. Clair avenue. Death was due to lead poisoning.

On Tuesday afternoon he returned to the house and assaulted his wife, so she claimed, dragging her about the house by her hair. He threatened to use a knife upon her, she says, but the other members of the family prevented this. After he had left a warrant was secured for his arrest on a charge of aggravated assault.

Yesterday morning a man was noticed lying on the boulevard on Bathurst street. He was thought to be asleep. At noon, as he had not moved, one of those living in the neighborhood approached and found him to be unconscious.

The police ambulance was called and the man, who was found to be McGuire, was taken to his home. He was denied admission there and he asked to be taken to Dr. M. M. Crawford's a few doors away. Just then the policeman with the warrant came along and the doctor suggested that the police should send him to the hospital. This was done.

McGuire was 50 years of age. He was a man of violent temper, and had served two terms in the penitentiary. His first sentence, one of 10 years, was given for shooting old man Tucker. Good conduct shortened this term a little, but when he got out, he shoved a girl in front of a train at Cobourg, just as it was pulling into the station, and was sentenced to 21 years, and was released on parole about five years ago, after having served 19 years. Shortly after his release he married his present widow.

"Breakers" Are Attacked.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—Between five and six hundred C.P.R. strikers made an attack on the strikebreakers last night as they were leaving the Angus shops.

About twenty street cars were waiting near the shops for the men to come out from work. As soon as they began to pour out from the shops to the cars, the strikers made a rush and tried to prevent them reaching the cars. A free fight took place, which was broken up by a squad of forty police, who charged the strikers with their batons and drove them back.

Geo. T. Bell Is President.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—The American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents yesterday elected Geo. T. Bell of Montreal president of the association.

Mr. Bell is general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway.

S. G. Hatch, of the Illinois Central Railway, was elected vice-president, and C. N. Burt of Boston was re-elected secretary.

Toledo was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Got His Free Trip.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—William Sangster appeared in the Court of King's Bench on the charge of having murdered Pierre Delorme on the Black river road last autumn and was acquitted. Sangster surrendered himself to the police at New York, confessing to the murder, but when he arrived in Montreal he said that he had simply wanted a free trip to Montreal. The crown withdrew the charge, and the prisoner was released.

For Poisoning Cattle.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Sam Kolak, 22 years of age, was arrested by Patrol Sergt. Beattie upon his arrival in the city from Newmarket, where he was wanted for poisoning cattle.

LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION ENTHUSES TWO GREAT POLITICAL MEETINGS HELD

Conservative Speakers Are Accorded a Rousing Reception at Two Toronto Halls---Forceful Criticisms of the Laurier Government---Borden Defends Foster---Roblin Makes Telling Speech.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Queen's Park would not have been too ambitious an arena for the Borden meeting last night, and the Conservative leader can flatter himself upon the biggest crowd ever gathered to hear a speaker in Toronto. Massey Hall was full and the doors closed at 7.30, and the crowds outside were guided to Victoria Hall where a great overflow meeting filled that building also.

R. L. Borden was in better form, it was said, than he has appeared yet in this campaign, and many doubted if he had ever made a better speech. It was a fighting address, with plenty of snap and fire and more aggressive than Mr. Borden is usually credited with giving.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL BOWSER.
The "pose" of Borden's new speaker.

It may be that he felt the great tides of popular feeling that are gradually rising in the country swelling into the billow crest of last night's demonstration, and was moved to unusual earnestness of speech.

Both he and Hon. R. P. Roblin spoke in unmeasured terms of The Globe newspaper, a former editor sat on the platform and listened to the denunciation of the Crow's Nest iniquity, and the present editor was even more severely assailed.

Soon after the Massey Hall doors were opened, the multitude crowded in so rapidly that an overflow meeting at Victoria Hall was decided upon, and it, too, was soon filled to the limit.

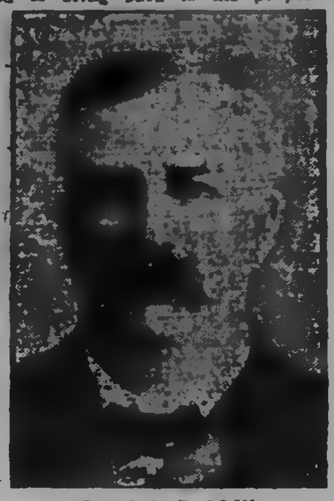
The applause lasted two minutes and three-quarters when Mr. Borden appeared.

The leader's speech was punctuated with salvos of applause. In the course of his remarks he made the following statements:

Above the ties of party allegiance must be kept in sight the necessity that honest men of all parties shall insist on honest expenditure of the public funds, honest administration of the public domain and decent appointments to office, based on character and public service.

I charge that the administration has used the public domain in the west for the benefit of their party friends, systematically and under the forms of law.

The day is coming, and it is not far distant, when there will be not only investigation into some of these timber transactions, but restitution. The Conservative party stands pledged to bring back to the people of Canada all these lands which have been alienated by collusion and fraud.



PREMIER ROBLIN.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier asks that he be allowed to finish his work. Why didn't he let the Civil Service Commissioners complete their work? The report of this commission would, in Great Britain, put any Government out of power within ten days. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding say we are muck-rakers. Were these Civil Service Commissioners muck-rakers, and if they were who made the muck?

"The work of the Opposition in one case, that of the North Atlantic Trading Co., saved $600,000 to the people of this country."

"Canada should at all times retain absolute and complete control of immigration, and the Government made a false step when it handed over to Japan the control of immigration from that country."

We ought to manufacture all the articles which can be reasonably and usefully manufactured in this country. We don't believe in sending our raw material abroad and then sending our good Canadian money to foreign countries to buy articles made out of the raw material of this country, bringing our people into competition with the pauper and unfair labor of other countries.

I have known Mr. Foster for 12 years and I have yet to hear of one public act of that gentleman which was not honest, straightforward, creditable to himself and creditable to this country.

Even if everything said of Mr. Foster by the editor of The Globe were true, I would esteem him above that same gentleman who, on the Sabbath Day preaches righteousness and every other day defends the wrong.

Attorney-General Bowser of British Columbia was warmly greeted. The keynote of his address was voiced in the sentence:

"I appeal to the laboring men to stand by the west in this agitation. We are going to keep it up till the people of this country come to understand that we are dealing with the question in the interest of the white people of Canada."

Premier Roblin discussed Manitoba questions and wound up with a spirited attack upon The Globe.

THE PREMIER AT CLINTON

Sir Wilfrid Addresses Audience of Three Thousan.

Clinton, Sept. 24.—The first rain that has fallen over this magnificent county of Huron commenced to fall lightly as Sir Wilfrid Laurier stepped forward yesterday afternoon to address 3,000 people from Huron, Bruce and Perth.

Sir Wilfrid was in good form and his voice could be well heard to the outskirts of the crowd. He was aggressive, though covering practically the same ground as in initial speech of the campaign at Niagara Falls.

Proceeding he said: "I have devoted my life to make a nation out of the scattered elements which comprise the population of this Dominion."

Dealing with the school question the Premier pointed out that in the elements which comprised the peoples of the coutary there were differences of opinion, custom and religion. The people move in different grooves. Fair concession was the sacrifice every citizen must make upon the altar of his common country.

One In Every 38 a Pauper.

London, Sept. 24.—One person in every 38 of the population of England and Wales is a pauper, according to the Government returns on the condition of pauperism on Jan. 1, 1908.

The number of casual paupers was then the highest on record and the number of able-bodied men relieved at public expense, owing to the fact that they were out of work and for other causes, showed an increase of 22 per cent., as compared with 1907.

One noticeable feature of the report is that far more married couples without children, than married couples who have children, have been relieved.

Fight After Funeral.

Windsor, Sept. 24.—The funeral of Mrs. Emma Henier, who died at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Cavanaugh, was no sooner finished than a hand to hand fight occurred between Cavanaugh and Forbes, another grandson, who lives in Detroit, over a little jewelry and a few trinkets that the woman left. Forbes demanded the stuff and Cavanaugh refused it. Inasmuch as he had taken care of Mrs. Henier for the past four years and had defrayed all of the funeral expenses he said he was entitled to the little that was left.

Trainmen's Picnic.

Berlin, Sept. 24.—Toronto, York, London, and St. Thomas people came yesterday, between 700 and 800 strong, to celebrate in Berlin's beautiful park the 25th anniversary of the organization of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Grey Goes to Kootenays.

Moosejaw, Sask., Sept. 24.—The Governor-General, who has been shooting north of the city this week, will leave for the west to-day. He will go over the Crow's Nest line to Kootenay landing.

FARMER HAD NO RIGHT BUTTING IN

Magistrate Says School is Sacred and Lectured Farmer.

St. Catharines, Sept. 24.—John E. Bradley, one of the trustees of school section No. 12, Thorold Township, taught by Miss Mabel Powell, had William Haines before a magistrate recently for wilfully entering the school one day and using threats.

It appears that a number of the pupils of the school took a boy belonging to Haines to an outhouse and stripped him of his clothing for a bit of fun, it is presumed. Haines was informed of the proceedings, and at once went to the school with a whip for the purpose of administering justice there.

The magistrate said that the school was as sacred as the church, and therefore the law had to be upheld. The fine and costs which Haines will have to pay will amount to $16.70.

S.S. Teacher Turns Burglar.

Leicester, Eng., Sept. 24.—John F. Spencer, a former Sunday school teacher who recently was sentenced to a year's imprisonment for a series of robberies, has confessed to the burglary of Brooksby Hall, the country residence of Capt. David Beatty, whose wife was the daughter of the late Marshall Field of Chicago. Jewelry to the value of $20,000 was stolen.

Collision at Welland.

Welland, Sept. 24.—About 7.30 yesterday morning Grand Trunk passenger train bound south ran into the rear end of standing freight here, badly wrecking the engine of the passenger train and demolishing the caboose and one flat car, which were both set on fire and entirely consumed. No one was hurt. The collision was caused by fog.

Toronto Canton Second.

Denver, Col., Sept. 24.—Prizes in the I.O.O.F. drill contest of patriarchs militant were awarded yesterday as follows:

Medals For Old Settlers.

Quebec, Sept. 24.—Over 200 medals were distributed last night at Laval University to the families of Canadian settlers who have been occupying ancestral homes for over 200 years.

Labor For Bryan.

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 24.—With but one dissenting voice the members of the Workingmen's Federation of the State of New York, in session at Convention Hall yesterday, endorsed the Democratic party.

THE PAY ROLLS WERE STUFFED

Superintendent of B.C. Electric Company Placed Under Arrest.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 24.—A sensation in the business community was caused yesterday by the arrest of James Milne, general superintendent of the B.C. Electric Railway in Vancouver and Victoria.

Milne was formerly a prominent official of the street railway in Toronto and received his training in Cleveland, Ohio. He is held on a charge of false pretense, growing out of alleged falsification of the pay rolls of the company extending over a long period of time.

Two minor officials here were recently arrested on a charge of falsifying pay rolls. One was sent to jail for three months and the other jumped his bail and fled to the United States.

Officials of the street railway stated that the matter has probably extended over several months.

As official in charge of construction, Milne handled thousands of dollars annually in British Columbia cities, especially in the erection of power works.

Land For Steel Trust.

Windsor, Sept. 24.—Major B. H. Rothwell, a Detroit real estate dealer, but formerly of Brantford, has secured an option on 78 acres of land below Sandwich for New York parties, and it is believed the purchase of the property will be made as a site for a big blast furnace likely to be operated by a corporation friendly to the steel trust. The option is to run to Dec. 1 and calls for $60,000, if executed.

Counterfeiters In Ottawa.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—A number of counterfeit bank bills have been circulated in Ottawa. Inquiries instituted by the police showed that a gang, comprised of two women and two men, had been concerned in floating the bills. From what can be learned they had $3,500 in counterfeit money, but it is understood only about $100 was let go in this city. The police expect to round up the gang shortly.

Wonders of Wireless.

Honolulu, Sept. 24.—The prospect of early wireless communication between the western coast of the United States and the local station recently equipped for service, is made probable by the announcement that the operator in this city had overheard several messages between San Francisco and vessels at sea or other coast stations.

Martyrs to Science.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 24.—In order to test the efficacy of vaccination in cholera cases several graduate students of St. Petersburg University have voluntarily permitted themselves to be vaccinated, after which they drank a solution containing cholera germs.

TIMBER DEAL IS COMPLETED

Michigan Lumbermen Will Erect Huge Mill in British Columbia at Big Cost.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 24.—W. A. White, Boyne City, Mich., here, says that the White Bros. Lumber Co., incorporated with a capital of $2,000,000, under the laws of the State of Michigan, to do business in British Columbia, has acquired timber limits on the Kallanch river, Vancouver Island, at a cost of over $2,000,000.

If congress places lumber on the free list, and business conditions continue to improve, the company will erect next year, near Alert Bay, the largest sawmill in the world. It will have a capacity of 1,000,000 feet per day. The latest purchase was made a few days ago of 500,000,000 feet.

Gave His Life.

Elkhorn, Man., Sept. 24.—The body of Michael Suger, murdered Tuesday, was shipped yesterday to his home in Stirling, Ontario.

The coroner's jury especially complimented R. M. Fraser, a companion of Sager, for the courageous manner in which he rushed to the scene at imminent danger to himself, and J. Evans for his prompt work in spreading an alarm.

In conclusion, there is special reference to the devotion of the dead man to his duty in defnding his employer's property, which cost him his life.

Gold In Alberta.

Sedgewick, Alta., Sept. 24.—Rumors of gold near this town have been coming in from time to time, but have never been confirmed until this week. Almost forty claims have been staked and active development will begin at once.

The sand is easily and cheaply worked and the field is easily reached, so it will prove very profitable.

Kidnapped His Bride.

Windsor, Sept. 24.—Charging that her parents kidnapped his bride of a day, Harry Brown of Jackson, Mich., has appealed to the authorities for aid.

The couple eloped to Windsor and were married here. On their return the bride's parents got busy and are said to have abducted their daughter after calling her to the porch of her new home.

Mrs. Brown admits she had to borrow "two bits" to make up the car fare to Windsor. She claims to be nineteen, but her parents say she is only sixteen.

Merchants May Be Jailed.

Guelph, Sept. 24.—William Huckle of Hamilton, a private detective, was in the city yesterday.

He secured a written and signed statement from a girl now residing in this city, who was for some time a resident of Hamilton, where she kept a boarding-house.

The statement was given for the purpose of swearing out warrants for the arrest of two merchants on King street, Hamilton, on charges of criminal assault.

ADVICE TO STRIKERS

Lemieux Tells Them to Go Back.

Government Regrets Situation: Declares Minister of Labor—Men Will Get Fair Deal.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux returned to the city at noon for a few hours, but left again last night to be present at the political baptism of Mr. King at Berlin today.

The Minister of Labor had his attention called to a report from Toronto that at West Toronto the Railway Brotherhoods had decided to memorialize the Federal Government to intervene in the C.P.R. machinists strike.

"How can we interfere?" was the Minister's comment. "We offered our services even at the board of conciliation under the industrial disputes investigation act, but they were refused and there is nothing which the Government can do. Personally my opinion is that if the strikers would go back to work unconditionally, they would receive every consideration from both Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Mr. McNichol, indeed I have assurances to that effect.

"But it is only to be expected that the company will not negotiate at this juncture with men who are not its employes. No one regrets present position more than I do. But until public opinion in the country reaches the point where compulsory arbitration will be accepted by both capital and labor, no Government can do more under similar circumstances than we have done."

Interlocking System Prevents Wreck.

Chatham, Ont., Sept. 24.—Visions of mutilated limbs and rows of corpses flew before the imagination of several score of people on board a Chatham, Wallaceburg & Lake Erie electric car bound for the annual Kent fair, as the trolley pole flew off while the car was passing the C.P.R. tracks at Raleigh street on Tuesday afternoon, and when the fast express from the west hove in sight around a bend coming at a pretty fast clip. Passengers, including girls, jumped from the windows and rushed out of the door, but due to an interlocking system the railroad train was stopped before it arrived at the crossing.

HOW TO CURE A HEADACHE

To attempt to cure a headache by taking a "headache powder," is like trying to stop a leak in the roof by putting a pan under the dripping water. Chronic headaches are caused by poisoned blood. The blood is poisoned by tissue waste, undigested food and other impurities remaining too long in the system. These poisons are not promptly eliminated because of sick liver, bowels, skin or kidneys.

If the bowels do not move regularly—if there is pain in the back showing kidney trouble—if the skin is sallow or disfigured with pimples—it shows clearly what is causing the headache.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure headaches because they cure the cause of headaches. "Fruit-a-tives" act directly on the three great eliminating organs—bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" keep the system free of poisons.

"Fruit-a-tives" come in two sizes—25c and 50c. If your dealer does not have them write to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BRITISH PATENT RESTRICTION

America and Germany, according to figures by the British press, are the two nations that will be the most seriously affected by Great Britain's new plan to make foreign patentees manufacture their devices in that country, or give up their patents. America is a land of inventors, but the Americans have preferred to manufacture in their own country and sell their wares abroad by export. We told in these pages some years ago of the very effective scheme in Russia, where the Government encouraged American manufacturers to build large plants there and train Russian operatives to make their wares, and then made it so hot for them by petty persecutions that the Americans were driven to sell out at a fraction of the first cost and leave their factories in Russian hands. The British plan is less on the Dick-Turpin order. The main clause in the new law runs thus:

"At any time not less than four years after the date of a patent, and not less than one year after the passing of this act, any person may apply to the Controller for the revocation of the patent on the ground that the patented article or process is manufactured or carried on exclusively or mainly outside the United Kingdom."

The year specified has now expired, and the day of its expiration is "a red-letter day in the history of British trade," remarks The Evening Standard (London). This British organ gives from the records of the Controller-general the following enumeration of patents registered in the British Patent Office for the years 1906 and 1907:

Germany	2,608	2,901
United States	2,792	2,595
France	753	769
Austria-Hungary	299	257
Switzerland	190	178
Sweden	138	166
Italy	112	111

Many millions of pounds have been lost to Britain by the unrestricted sale of foreign patent articles, declares Sir Alfred Jones, president of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce and he predicts that the new act will bring the investment of $125,000,000 of foreign capital, and will prove "an important factor in solving the unemployment question." While it is impossible, in the words of The Evening Standard, "to obtain a full list of the foreign firms who have acquired land in England, in view of the coming into force of the act," certain companies have already done so, among which are enumerated the Gillette Razor Company, the Sanatogen Food Company, the Pintsch Suction Gas Plant Company, the National Cash Register Company, the Clinton Wire Cloth Company, and the Buffalo Specialty Company.

The London Times hails the results of the act as highly beneficial to England and speaks specifically as follows of the increased demand for property and labor in England on the part of foreign manufacturers:—

"There are many articles made abroad which the foreigner would be content to manufacture here if he had an English works, and, now the Patent Act compels him to build works, he will not only manufacture the patented articles there, but as a matter of convenience many others also. The demand can as yet hardly be said to have begun. Those who know that they must have works in England have already started, but the great majority of the patentees would prefer not to be encumbered with a second factory if they can get the articles manufactured here by firms already established. Manufacturers are, therefore, daily entering into working agreements, but the probability is that the majority of the patentees would prefer not to be encumbered with a second factory if they can get the articles manufactured here by firms already established. Manufacturers are, therefore, daily entering into working agreements, but the probability is that the majority of them will find in the end it is, so to speak, better to have a house of your own than live in apartments,' and in all probability twelve months hence the number of new industries established in this country will materially increase."

The London Tablet looks upon the act as likely to have "a wide-reaching and beneficent result on a measure of protection of British industry," and the London Morning Post quotes the words of Mr. Bernard Fahn, manager of the Julius Pintsch Metallic Electric Lamp Company's business, in Berlin. This firm is opening a factory at Enfield, and, speaking of the new act Mr. Fahn gave it as his opinion that it was "simply a tariff imposed to safeguard the interest of British labor, and foreign firms if they are to retain their hold on the profitable English market, must employ that labor."

"New hope and new scope," we are told by the London Daily Mail, are now given "to British enterprise and labor," and it says of the foreign manufacturers:

"They are no longer able to say to the British manufacturer, 'You shall not compete,' and to the British workman, 'You shall not work.' The law insists that the foreign patentee shall choose one or other of these alternatives.

"If he will not tolerate British competition, then he must pay British wages; if he is not prepared to pay wages, then he must accept competition."

But the London Daily Chronicle denies that the law in any sense implies the revival of protection. "The new act establishes effective equality—that is not protection," declares this paper, and quotes with approval the following words of Lord Chancellor Loreburn:

"Nothing can be more absurd or more outrageous than that a foreign patentee can come here and get a patent and use it, not for the purpose of encouraging the industries of this country, but to prevent our people doing what they otherwise would do. To allow our laws to be used to give a preference to foreign enterprise is, to my mind, ridiculous.—Literary Digest.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is not the big worker or employer that is the foundation stone of national prosperity, but the multitude of small workers. Great enterprises aside from the current of daily life are worse than useless.

The present tour of Sir Wilfrid Laurier shows how hard it is for a premier, who made it his boast that he would make Canada prosperous to make good his words amid widespread depression. The country is on its back.

Mr. R. L. Borden will be at Peterboro on the 25th and will address a mass meeting of the electors. Cheap fares are being given on the railroads, and no doubt a number of Lindsay citizens will visit Peterborough and hear the able Conservative leader.—Lindsay Warder.

A new section of the Grand Trunk Pacific, west of Winnipeg, has been opened for traffic, and the country's grain "hopper" has a new feeder. The section of the line from Winnipeg eastward, the "spout" that is needed to relieve the hopper, and bring the grain to Port Arthur and the lake ships, is, however, not yet complete. The new road will not, therefore, this season, relieve the blockade, if there is a blockade. The company built the western section. The Government is building the eastern part, and, in accordance with precedent, Laurier's work is botched work.—The Gazette.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Hard coal is selling in Hamilton for $5.75 a ton. In Kingston $7 per ton is asked. Can anyone not in the trade tell how these things should be?—Kingston Whig.

Last season the present government pooh-poohed the idea of a rural mail delivery service, but they have found that this plank in Mr. Borden's platform is so popular that they have hastened to reverse their position and the project is now being rushed on with a view to having the mail delivery in operation before election day as a guarantee of good faith.—Ottawa Citizen.

It looks as if Sir Wilfrid in his attitude towards the woollen industry, was applying to business the morals he employs in politics. But the Laurier code will not do in commercial life. You cheat your customer once, and he takes good care that the offence is not committed a second time. To go to him with a brass band and a procession and to ask him to allow you to repeat the deceit would be a waste of time and a useless expenditure of efforts.—Toronto News.

The Dominion Government has caused a summary of the new law relating to elections to be published. Some of the principal provisions are the following:

"It is made a criminal offence, punishable by a heavy fine, to take down, mutilate, or deface any proclamation, notice, voters' list or other document required to be posted up under the the provisions of the act.

"No person can make a contribution on behalf of any candidate except through the agent of such candidate.

"The bribery provisions in the act are made much more severe.

"Canvassing by persons residing outside Canada is made an indictable offence.

"Printing offices are required to give the address of the printer and publisher on every class of printed material issued in connection with an election.

"The making of a false statement with regard to the personal character of a candidate renders the person making it liable to a fine of not less than $100.

"Contributions for political purposes by any company or association are made an indictable offence."

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sabbath, September 27th, at the morning service. Preparatory service will be will be held on Friday night of this week, at 8 o'clock. Rev. H. J. Keith, B. D., of Knox church, Peterborough, will preach.—Campbellford Herald.

ECZEMA AGAIN OVERCOME

Zam-Buk Cures a Case Which for Two Years Had Defied Every Remedy Tried

A FARMER'S GRATEFUL TESTIMONY

No case of eczema, skin disease, or ulceration, should be despaired of until Zam-Buk has been applied. The case of Mr. Francis Renoit, of St. Anne's (Man.), is a powerful illustration of Zam-Buk's efficacy. He says: "I suffered from eczema for two years, and tried a great number of remedies. None of them, however, seemed to do me any good.

"The ailment was mostly in my legs, and both these were actually raw from the knees down. A small sample box of Zam-Buk was given to me, and even so small a quantity as that did me a little good. I then obtained a proper supply, and by the time I had used a few boxes I was completely cured."

Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves and embrocations in containing no animal oil or fat. It is compounded from rich, healing, herbal essences, and is an ideal natural combination of power and purity. It is highly antiseptic, and instantly kills bacilli and disease germs, which settling into wounds and skin diseases, set up festering, blood poison, etc.

For cuts, burns, bruises, ulcers, abscesses, pimples, boils, skin eruption, scalp sores, spreading sores, children's skin troubles, chafing sores, etc., Zam-Buk is unequalled. It also cures piles. All druggists and stores at 50c. a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 3 boxes for $1.25.

MR. BAILEY STUNG AGAIN

Man Has Refused to Pay Him for the Hay Off His Lot.

Chief Rossel is in receipt of another communication from W. A. Bailey, the post card writer of Peterborough. Mr. Bailey has evidently been stung again.

Peterborough, Sept. 23, '08.

Sir,—The man who cut the hay on my lot, spoke to me on Sunday evening saying he would pay me some day but he had some money he could not get in. Always the same tale in this country, nothing but robbery and imposition. The policy of slander of your newspapers is simply a cloak to cover the cunning and deceit of grafters and frauds.

Yours obediently,
W. A. BAILEY.

NO DANGER OF CHOLERA BREAKING OUT IN CANADA

A local medical man declared to-day that there is no reason whatever to be alarmed over the outbreak of cholera in Germany, coming from Russia. While many Russian immigrants come to Canada, the quarantine stations are most vigilant, and there is no danger to be apprehended.

"The period of incubation for cholera is only five days," the doctor said, "and if any one on a ship is affected with the disease, it must make its appearance long before Canadian waters are reached. Then if any other person on board is suspected of having contracted the disease he is kept under observation for five days, and his excreta are examined with a view to determining whether he has contracted the infection. If at the end of five days no symptoms have developed, the patient is discharged from quarantine as immune."

CANADA THE GREATEST LAND GOD HAS GIVEN HIS PEOPLE

Eloquent and Inspiring Sermon by Rev. W. B. Heeney, M. A., of Barrie, at Annual Harvest Festival at St. Luke's Church—A Large Congregation Returned Thanks for Bountiful Harvest.

With the true spirit of thanksgiving, the annual harvest festival of St. Luke's church was held last evening, the edifice being well filled with a devout congregation, gathered to return thanks to Almighty God for a bountiful harvest. The church with its windows banked with grain, flowers and fruit, and the presence of the products of the field throughout the building presented an attractive and festive appearance.

With apparently truly thankful hearts the people joined in the singing and the reading of the psalms, which were appropriate to the occasion. The choir under the leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon and Miss English at the organ acquitted themselves admirably, the special music being particularly well rendered.

Rev. W. B. Heeney, M.A., rector of Trinity church, Barrie, was the special preacher. He delivered one of the most eloquent and inspiring sermons that has been heard in Peterborough for some time. His clear, lucid manner of expressing himself impresses one most forcibly and he interests his hearers throughout the course of his remarks. "Go in and possess the land," formed the basis of the reverend gentleman's remarks, with particular reference to Canadians and Canada. This command should at once strike the Canadian as applicable to him. Canada, with its richness of land, great wheat areas, mines, forests and fisheries, should remind everyone of how wonderfully God has blessed this great Dominion. Sound, honest government should prevail and it should be the mission of every Canadian, he said, to possess the land for Christ as a solemn trust from Him. Plant in Canada the knowledge of God and build up the country in Christianity.

Other clergy present were Rev. J. H. Teney, of Omemee and Rev. Wm Major, of All Saints' church.

During the service, the rector, Rev Dr Langfeldt, referred in feeling terms to the sudden and lamented death of Rt. Rev. Bishop Carmichael, who passed away in Montreal on Monday last. Dr. Langfeldt also spoke in words of regret at the approaching departure from Peterborough of Rev., Wm. Major, who has been rector of All Saints' church and who leaves shortly for Montreal.

THE SERMON

"That ye may live and go in and possess the land which the Lord, your God hath given you," the words found in part of the first verse of the fourth chapter of the Book of Deuteronomy, and the first words of the last five Psalms, "Praise ye, the Lord," were the words from which the Rev. Mr. Heeney preached his sermon. He began by relating an incident that occurred some time in August. While driving in the district to the north of his town, he paused and as he stood on the edge of a valley, a gentleman pointing to something in the distance asked, "Do you know how far that is from here?" The speaker was informed that it was twenty miles. All that space, he remarked, was field after field of barley, corn and wheat. The humming of the binder could be heard and here and there one could see a cluster of houses. Preaching to the farmers of that community a few weeks later, the preacher asked them if their hearts were warm towards God for His rich blessings. The very food, on the tables, the speaker said, was the gift of God. The heathen of old recognized that all around them belonged to some Deity. Throughout the old testament is noted the closeness of God to nature and in the new testament, Christ says, "The sower went forth to sow."

The reverend speaker then referred to the little country of Palestine as compared with this great Dominion. "How the old patriarchs talked of their lands and praised God for it, and what was it?" he asked, "as compared with the vastness and richness of Canada." Taking each Province separately, the preacher spoke of the value of each in the way of minerals, forests, fisheries and wheat raising, all [illegible] Canada, a country of great wealth. "It is something to live and die for," he continued, "God has given us a land in comparison with theirs, infinitely superior." The reason of the prosperity of the old patriarchs was their thankfulness to God. They taught the word gratitude.

"God has told us to go in and possess the land," he said, "Every Canadian should realize his mission. Think of the history of Canada. It is more interesting and elevating than the best novel. Canadians should know something of its literature. We have everything for our own possession. Let us develop and conserve these resources and build up and beautify a country, pleasing in God's sight.

The duty of Canadians was to govern their country. "You hear about political corruption," remarked the speaker, "but is it not for them to say whether they will stand for it." Canadians should see that their land was governed on sound, honest principles. In the olden days, the children of Israel drove out the wicked doers. They were to prepare the way for God's Son. "Our position is the same," he added. "Christ has come. He has entrusted Canada to us, to build it up and to drive out corruption and wrongdoing."

Rev. Mr. Heeney referred to the fact that many were forgetting their Bible, and God's Book was lying unread upon the shelf. "The day we forget that Book, we are no longer Canadians," he added. "Plant in Canada the knowledge of God, that other lands may hear Canada singing His praises. That is the solemn trust Christ has given us. Life means mission and let that mission be for the King of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

During the offertory, which was for missions in the Northwest, Miss King sang a solo in excellent voice

WRESTLING MATCH

Editor of the Review

Sir,—It is really amusing, almost pathetic, to see the efforts Mr. Stratton and some of his followers are making to capture votes—it is evident every scheme known to the political fakir will be set in motion and used to the utmost to galvanize him into public life once more.

Yours.
ONE OF MANY.

AN ALL ROUND MAN

Editor of the Review

Sir,—In a town that I know in the old land, there lived a man named Charley Buntin. He was a hedger and ditcher, and took much pride in calling attention to the jobs that he did. He had been a clerk in a small town. He used to play the fife and also the fiddle. Once he was asked who had done a certain piece of work in his line, just to hear him enlarge on it, who said he, who but the clerk of old Dundee, and piper of Lee, old England's fiddler, Charley Buntin. And Mr., I thought of Charley Buntin, the hedger and ditcher, when I read Mr. Stratton's address.

Yours.
A VOTER.

MR. STRATTON TO THE PEOPLE

Editor of the Review

Sir,—Can you find anything equal to the claims set forth in the document published over Mr. Stratton's name in his paper, pleading with the people to send him to Parliament. No hifalutin published for such a purpose, that I ever saw, comes near it. He has hitched to his car, almost everything that was ever said, done, or suggested, by any public man of the county. The strenuous Roosevelt big stick and all is knocked out and should it ever come under the eye of Emperor Bill it will make him green with jealousy. Among the state papers of China, only, may we expect to find its counterpart in self-glorification, so then, when you shall hear the sound of the big instruments of brass, and the whistles of tin, you may bow down and worship, and break no commandment, for there is nothing like it, in the heavens or the earth or the waters that is under the earth.

The only thought in this long and anxious appeal to the people not centered in himself, that we can discover, is the jubilating one, that a Liberal government is going to be returned. That a Liberal government in every sense of the word, and an honest government in the true sense of the word, will be the mandate of the people on the 26th of October, we have no doubt, but it will not be the conglomeration of grafters now at Ottawa, who call themselves a Government, but a government led by that fearless and born statesman, P. L. Borden, who led the House, and the Government, in the interest of the people, nearly the whole of last session. Old Liberals who for years have been coming to the polls casting their ballot under the impression that they were voting for Brown and McKenzie, Provincial Rights,' and "A' that," have discovered their mistake and are now uniting with the honest men of the country to drive these fakirs out of public life.

Yours.

CHILD REFUSED TO GO TO SCHOOL

Mother Stood on Street Corner and Whipped Him—Boy Won Out

Quite an excitement was caused at the corner of Mark and Hunter Sts. this morning, when a well-known woman of that neighbourhood endeavored to send her boy to school. He was only a young lad, of about five years of age, but evidently has already developed a strong hatred for school. He lay down on the ground and screamed vehemently, and his mother stood over him with a whip, while he yelled and screeched until all the people in the vicinity gathered to see what was the matter. But the youngster finally won out and did not go to school.

SEVERAL THOUSAND WILL HEAR BORDEN AND ROBLIN TO-MORROW

Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition and Hon. R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba, will arrive in Peterborough to-morrow on the 11.38 C. P.R. train from the east and will be met at the station by a deputation of local Conservatives. It is expected that a large number will be on hand to give the distinguished visitors a hearty welcome.

Messrs. Borden and Roblin will be driven to their hotel and will spend the afternoon quietly. The Opera House, where the meeting will take place at night, will be open at seven o'clock and between that hour and eight o'clock the full band of the 57th regiment will render a select programme. The speechmaking will start about eight o'clock. The meeting promises to be the largest ever held here.

Hundreds are taking advantage of the cheap rates to come in from outside points for the meeting and the Conservatives of the city are turning out en masse.

Mr. Borden has aroused great enthusiasm wherever he has appeared and Peterborough will be no exception to the rule.

WATER IN STONY LAKE HAS RISEN DURING PAST WEEK

On inquiry at the Trent Canal Superintendent's office, the Review was informed that there was no danger of the people of Peterborough going without water as there was plenty in the back lakes to last for a number of years. During the past week the water in Stony Lake has risen eight inches. This is good news and will render facilities for navigation much better. The water is low near Bobcaygeon but is owing to the fact that the old dam is being removed, and there is no way of holding the water back.

A complaint reached here yesterday that the water at Campbellford was very low and difficulty was being experienced in getting water. The matter is being attended to.

TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION

In connection with the Borden Demonstration here to-morrow night, there will be a big Torch-light Procession.

It will leave the Oriental Hotel at 7.30 o'clock and will be headed by the 57th Regiment Band.

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY HELPS OVER 30,000 CHILDREN

An Ottawa despatch says;

Mr J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, superintendent of dependent and neglected children in Ontario is in the city to-day and this afternoon will confer with the officers of the local Children's Aid Society. Mr. Kelso, who was the originator of the Children's Aid Society work in Canada, when interviewed by the Citizen commented very favorably on the work as carried on in the city stating that the president, Mr. W. L. Scott, had done especially good work in securing legislation regarding juvenile delinquents. The probation work in the city was also commended.

Mr. Kelso stated that the society was realizing that juvenile delinquency was largely due to social conditions, congested or unsanitary dwellings and not to any inherent spirit of evil in the youngsters, and that the intention was to attempt the solution of the broad social difficulties.

Mr. Kelso was strongly in favor of the establishment of playgrounds and in particular supervised playgrounds in the capital. He said that in Toronto there was a move on foot to secure Mr. J. R. Crocker as general director of the playgrounds movement there. Though there were grounds in Toronto they were not under supervision. The idea of the playgrounds was to have them divided into three parts, one for children eight years and under; one for the girls and another for boys.

During the last ten years, Mr. Kelso stated the Children's Aid Society had helped over 30,000 children in Canada without removing them from their homes.

GRANTS FOR THE RURAL SCHOOLS

General Grant Has Been Distributed—Others Still to Come

The rural schools of the county have received their general grant from the Ontario government, the money being distributed by County Treasurer Elliott. The grant based upon the equipment and accommodation of the schools will be along shortly but will not be given out until the county has made the equivalent grant. This will be about the first of December. Then there is the library grant still to come. Last year a number of the school sections did not receive this grant till late in the season on account of them not complying with the act passed by the Legislature in this respect. This year however, there will be no difficulty in this respect.

THOSE SPIRIT MESSAGE

The message which Sir Oliver Lodge believe came from the spirit world have now been made public; and they bear out abundantly, what the "spirits" unitedly declare, that it is very hard to communicate with those who are still in the flesh. From all that we know today even after the spirits have had thousands of years to perfect their methods of communication, it seems tolerably certain that it will take a good while before any communication of importance will come from thence; and meanwhile the great mass of sober thinking humanity will be very chary of admitting that the spirits have been heard from at all.—Christian Guardian.

NORMALITES FREE COURSE

Between Sixty and Seventy Will be Honored With Free Course at the O.A.C.

A new rule of great interest to Peterborough Normal School students, which has just recently been legalized in Ontario under the Conservative regime of Government, is to the effect that between 60 and 70 at least scholars of those now in attendance at the local educational institution are to be sent this coming April to the Macdonald College and the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, for a period of two months' tuition absolutely free of charge.

This course is for students in training in class A, this is those who had teaching experience.

The Government not only pays all expenses for the schooling at the Macdonald College, for girls, and the Ontario Agricultural College, for boys, but also advances the necessary expenses for board and room, whilst the students are passing their two months' study time in Guelph. The present minister of education, Dr. Pyne, and the minister of agriculture, Hon. N. Monteith, are the two gentlemen to be thanked for having this new and favorable law for Peterborough students endorsed and put through by the Government.

Beauty in Footwear

Beauty in Footwear does not of necessity mean fine quality, delicate finish, stylish cut,—for many styles are beautiful, not because they are made of silk-like material in an exquisite finish and in the latest creation of style—no, not at all, shoes that are neat, comfortable and made of seasonable weight leather in a seasonable, comforable style are beautiful in every sense of the word. Fall weather, as far back as oldest of us can remember, has been, and we all believe will be yet, chilly, wet and murky—i.e. the later part of the season. Why not be sensible in your foot dress as well as the rest of your wardrobe?—buy substantial waterproof shoes in a style that increases foot comfort. Give this a moments thought and see the following lines of women's tan shoes.

BUSH FIRES MAKE GRAND ILLUMINATION

The bush fires at Indian River made a considerable blaze last night, the wind having got up and quite a conflagration was the result. It makes quite a display and the illumination is very beautiful. The fire is in the woods of Wm. O'Leary. The people are not very much alarmed as yet and, unless a heavy wind gets up, no danger is anticipated. Quite a large area of good firewood is being destroyed.

800 BASKETS OF PEACHES ARRIVES HERE EVERY DAY

The peach crop this summer, especially in the Niagara district, has been the heaviest for some years, Manager Carruthers of the Dominion Express Company, stated to the Review this morning that the shipments this season have far exceeded those of any previous summer. The midnight C.P.R. train goes through now in two sections, the first one being a fruit train.

The people of Peterborough must be preserving a lot of peaches as between eight and nine hundred baskets arrive here daily for the fruit dealers and therefore must be sold. The Canadian Express Company do not handle much fruit, as in getting them here, two transfers have to be made, one at Toronto and another at Port Hope. It is different with the Dominion. The fruit cars on the Hamilton and Beamsville railroad run right into the farms. The fruit is picked and not removed again until it reaches its destination.

"There will be fruit coming in until the end of the month," remarked Mr Carruthers.

HURTUBISE SHOWS A CHAMPION'S FORM

Snatched the Honors From Hassan Abdallah the Sultan's Royal Wrestler—First Fall for the Terrible Syrian in 14 min.—Gene Got Next Two in 2 and 4 min.

Hassan Abdallah, the Sultan's pet wrestler, will get his head in the basket if he returns to his ruler's court. The much heralded Turk, who has cruelly crushed the ambitious wrestlers of the Orient, and who appeared on the mat last night with a beautiful sash, presented by the Sultan, was defeated in short order by Gene Hurtubise, the Peterborough heavyweight.

The Terrible Syrian stripped like a champion, something after the style of the English wrestler, Jim Parr. He went splendidly for the first fall, which he secured on a further arm hold and a quick reverse to a body lock, but Gene went after him like a battering ram for the next two, and pinned the Syrian twice in six and a half minutes, the first time in two and the second in four and a half. A. C. Yokome, sporting editor of the Review, refereed, and, as in the case of all similar officials at wrestling matches in Peterborough, some of his decisions were questioned. However, Hassan Abdallah, and his manager, W. B. Nayler, and Gene Hurtubise and his manager, C. G. Graham, expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied. The timers called the time by minutes and at the end of the first ten minutes the Syrian went to the edge of the mat and took off a pair of elastic knee supporters which he had when he came on. Under ordinary circumstances he would have lost the fall, but both Hurtubise and his manager consented to the delay, so it had to be allowed. Abdallah thought he was entitled to a rest, as is customary in places where he has been wrestling, to rest for a minute after the first ten. This understanding goes at the Columbia Theatre, Boston, where he had three bouts a short time ago, and also at Sohmer Park, Montreal. Seeing he was only doing what he had been accustomed to do, and that Hurtubise and Mr. Graham were willing to have the rest allowed, he was ordered on the mat again and made continue the bout. He wanted a drink of water, but was informed he couldn't have one until after the fall had been secured.

The first preliminary was a ten minute go between Bobby Long and Ted Crowe, both of Peterborough. The boys went fast and showed a good knowledge of the game. Neither secured a fall, and as both were even up, the bout was declared a draw. Jack Wilson, of this city, and John Lillie, of London, England, then went for ten mintues with the result that Lillie was thrown three times. A lot of excitement was caused by the mill. Wilson outclassing his man. He had him positively flat for every fall.

At 9 o'clock the big fellows made their appearance, and this was the signal for great enthusiasm. Hassan Abdallah was the first to make his appearance. He was accorded somewhat of a silent reception, the audience reserving its welcome for the local hero. When he stepped into the arena the shouting and applause was intense. He was also enthusiastically received upon being introduced.

Mr. George Lynch, who acted as announcer in the usual capable manner he always does, explained that the sash that the Syrian wore was emblematic of the championship of the Orient.

There was a hush while the men advanced to the centre of the carpet to begin the match, but the crowd was soon cheering as good work was done by either man.

From the outset it was a strenuous battle. It was easily seen that Hurtubise had improved fifty per cent since his bout with Yankee Rogers. He stripped much bigger, showed a greater knowledge of the game and worked faster. In fact, his remarkable improvement was the source of wonderment to all who saw the bout. When he let loose after the first fall he got an extraordinary clip and had the Oriental thoroughly beaten. The first fall came as somewhat of a surprise, Gene being unexpectedly pinned and held.

Hassan Abdallah shook hands very lightly with his man and commenced to warily reach out for an opening. Gene did not seem the least bit afraid of the formidable reputation of his olive skinned opponent and went right after him. The Turk showed that he was a purely Graeco-Roman wrestler, and worked a lot of body locks in an endeavor to flop Gene to the mat. The latter was there with the rebound, however, and the Syrian found him a hard handful to handle to advantage. After 14 minutes wrestling Gene clapped a half Nelson on his man and the latter getting out of it, put on a further arm hold. He suddenly changed it to a body lock and gradually pressed down Hurtubise for the fall.

The crowd were somewhat depressed by the foreigner drawing first blood, and many looked upon him as the one who would be the winner.

It was a different tale to tell, however, for the second fall. Hurtubise flew right after the Terrible one and pummelled him around in great fashion. The latter covered up in defence of the onslaught, but the pace was red hot, and he was rolled over on a half Nelson in two minutes and 15 seconds.

The supporters of the local grappler set up a vociferous cheering, and continued it for quite a length of time.

The Syrian was on the defensive for the deciding fall, and it kept him busy trying to stall off Gene without devoting any time to aggressive work. After keeping him on the mat without giving him a chance of doing anything really dangerous Gene got him again in four minutes. During this time Abdallah pulled Hurtubise over his shoulder several times with a head lock from the rear, but couldn't get even a rolling fall on the hold, although the audience shouted instructions to Gene as if he were in danger.

Gene got the fall on a Nelson and body hold, and the laurels were his.

Messrs. Fred. Craig, of the Examiner, and D. B. MacRae, of the Review, acted as timekeepers.

SPORTING COMMENT

There is no doubt that Hurtubise has improved greatly. He strips much better than he did and handles himself well. He is willing to take chances without exposing himself too much to his adversary's attack. He and Fritz Mohl should put up the most interesting argument of the season.

St. John's Anglican church, Sandwich, celebrated its tercentenary on Sunday.

JUNIOR CITY LEAGUE FORMED FOUR TEAMS WILL ENTER

A junior series in the City Rugby Football League was decided upon by the executive last night at the meeting. President R. F. McWilliams was in the chair, and team representatives were present as follows:

T.A.S., J. Dennard; Y.M.C.A., Chas. Simon; Rough Riders, C. Wareham and Park Potter.

The business of the senior series was left over until the meeting on Wednesday night next.

There appears to be considerable interest among the younger boys and it was decided to form a junior section of the league. It will be composed of teams from the T.A.S., Collegiate Institute, Rough Riders and the Crescents. The membership fee will be two dollars and there will be two games each Saturday, starting on October 3rd. The schedule will be drawn up next Wednesday night. Each club is to furnish the secretary of the league with certificates of the age of all its players. The age limit is twenty years and under.

PETES SHOULD BE ABLE TO GIVE ST. ANDREWS GOOD JOLT

Harry Burridge, the star catcher of the Youngstown baseball team, will line-up with the Petes at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon when they meet the St. Andrews, of Toronto, in the first of a series of games for the championship of Ontario. Harry has always been a favorite with the local fans and will get the glad hand on Saturday when he dons the mask and big mitt and goes in to do the receiving. Clements or Hawkins will likely be on the firing line and all the Petes' crack performers will be on hand to join in the slaughter of the Toronto aggregation. The locals have a big job ahead of them, however, and are taking no chances. With such men as Burridge, Barnes, Murphy, Lawson, Quinlan, Shea, Anderson and Hawkins, the Midland league champions should be able to put their opponents away. The game is called for three o'clock and should draw a big crowd. It should be a fine contest as there will be something doing all the time. The St. Andrews look upon the Petes as a light bunch, but they are apt to receive a jolt.

WILL TRY TO HAVE LOCAL PLAYERS REINSTATED

Peterborough will have a team in the junior series of the O.R.F.U., picked from the teams in the city league, and will be grouped with Lindsay. Endeavor will be made to secure reinstatement of some of the men who were disqualified last year for playing with Peterborough against Westmount in the Inter-provincial championship.

If Dixon, Crough, Mulhern, Clarke, Quinlan, Meagher, and others come back into the fold, Peterborough should be able to get a bunch that would have a good chance to win the junior series.

The team would be strong in all departments, for, besides the older players there will be an abundance of new material to choose from, as a large number of men will be procurable from the ranks of the city league. There will be more activity in city rugby than there ever has been since the game was played in Peterborough.

ROGERS CHALLENGES CHARLIE CONKLE TO HANDICAP MATCH

On behalf of Yankee Rogers, his manager, W. B. Naylor, issued a challenge last night, to Charlie Conkle, of Hamilton, to a handicap match, Rogers to throw Conkle three times in an hour.

Mr. Naylor told the Review last night that he was very anxious to have the match made and would consent to have it pulled off in Hamilton, Conkle's home town, or any place else, for that matter.

"What do you want to put up as a side bet," he was asked.

"Anything from $200 up," was the reply. "Both myself and Rogers are anxious for this match." Conkle's showing in his bouts with Gotch has earned for him the reputation of an invincible handicap wrestler, but I feel confident Rogers can beat him in the handicap to which I challenge him. It's up to the Hamilton man to accept the defi. The conditions should be quite favorable to him and he should be able to get lots of backing on the result."

WELL KNOWN BALL PLAYER PAYS VISIT TO PETERBORO'

Mr. Walter Jayes who has so often been heard tell of in Peterborough as a star performer on the diamond arrived in the city from Toronto last night accompanied by his cousin, Mr. Wm. Jayes, and is on a visit of a few days to his uncle, Mr. John Jayes, 381 Water street. Mr. Jayes has had a particularly successful season with the Wilmington, N.C., ball team, winners of the East Carolina League. He plays centre field for Wilmington and, according to the press despatches is one of the most brilliant fielders in the League. He holds the highest average on his team, both for batting and fielding. His batting average is 326 and he has only had one error registered against him this season. This is certainly a remarkably good showing. Mr. Jayes has signed with Wilmington for next season and says he likes playing ball in the South. This was his first year in the hot weather belt.

Concerning his return to Buffalo about a week ago, at the conclusion of the baseball season, a Buffalo paper says:—

The smiling faces of both Rayster and Walter Jayes are again visible in Cold Springs after an absence of four months. They worked while away on the Wilmington baseball team, but no doubt they found it far easier than answering the many, many questions asked by their friends as well as describing the habits of the southern plantation negroes and the luscious water melons served at 10 cents a half, oysters on the half shell and soft shell crabs by the dozen for a song.

LINDSAY WILL HAVE GOOD RACES

Many Fast Horses Arrive for the Fair There---Geo. Powell's Entries.

The Lindsay Warder says:—Lovers of horse flesh in Lindsay will see some fine animals at the fair. Never before has such a bunch of the pick of the racers in the province been gathered in the town. There'll be races that will open the eyes of the natives.

The race horses have been dropping into town for the past few days and dozens of owners and trainers have been jogging their animals over the track. Entries have been pouring in and each race will have plenty of competitors for the money. It won't be a walk-away for any horse, as far as can be seen from here.

George Powell, the "grand old man" of the race track and known in racing circles from Dan to Beersheba, will have some of his horses up from Peterborough. Of course Orillia Belle will be on hand, and poking her nose among the foremost. Togo is another of Powell's horses which will be in town.

Geo. Curtis has that likely-looking horse, Pathfinder, in good trim and will probably enter in the open race. Just here it would be appropriate to mention that there were four Keswicks that carried off prize money at the Peterborough fair. Curtis was the owner of the great horse Keswick, for many years and George's name will always be connected with the great stallion.

Dr. Cowan, who was injured in Peterborough, in a race, is getting along nicely and says he will handle the ribbons behind Harry K. This horse has been showing up well this year.

Peterborough horses have hitherto been regarded with little or no respect around these diggin's, but since Geo. Powell has pitched his tepee in the Otonabee town things have been altered.

CONKLE IS IN GREAT SHAPE

For His Match With Hurtubise—Meeting is Arousing Interest

The Hamilton Herald says:—Charlie Conkle, who wrestles Hurtubise, the Peterborough mat artist and footballer, Friday, is in his best form. He had another good work out last night in the gymnasium of the West End Pleasure Club. Good natured Sam Zeller, the human hand car, was on deck again, and he was on his mettle. Zeller put up a stiff argument for about 30 minutes, after which Norman Chrysler took a turn with the Canadian champion. The curtain raiser will be a go between TenEyck, of the Alerts A.C., and Tommy O'Heir, of the Beaver Club. The second preliminary is between Billy Lunkin and W. Tyrham.

WRESTLING

AT MONTREAL

Eugene Tremblay, the local lightweight wrestler, and champion of America in his class, will clash with the English champion, Bob Somerville, at Sohmer Park, next Friday night, the opening wrestling match of the season.

Tremblay is in excellent condition at the moment, as he has already started his work, and last week was busy at several points in the United States. On Wednesday evening he defeated Wilfred Barrett, and Thursday night he defeated Harry Parker at Lawrence, Mass. He added another victory to the others on Friday evening when he defeated Chas. Rogers, at Salem, Mass. The little fellow is in great shape for his contest with Somerville, and though the Englishman is highly rated, he will have to work hard to defeat the clever and husky French-Canadian. — Montreal Star.

HURTUBISE TO WRESTLE FRITZ MOHL

It was announced at last night's wrestling match between Hurtubise and Abdallah that the winner of the bout would meet Fritz Mohl.

Mr. Chas. Graham, Hurtubise's manager, advised the Review to-day that the challenge would be accepted in spite of the fact that he realized Gene was taking on a big proposition. The match will be pulled off here. The date has not been definitely decided upon.

MR. NEILL GIVES PAIR OF BOWLS

For Competition Among the First Year Lawn Bowlers

The lawn bowlers of this city are greatly indebted to Mr. Robt. Neill for his kindness in donating a pair of bowls for competition among first year players. The games will start on Friday, September 25th, and the preliminary round must be played by Wednesday, 30th, as time is short. The players can arrange to play their games to suit best, but must keep in mind the time limit; all games not played by that date, Sept. 30th, will be counted as defaulted. Come along, boys; the water is fine.

The following is the draw:—

Dr. Eastwood vs. R. S. Morley.
W. Nofiall vs. H. Campbell.
T. Glover vs. R. Neill.
John Hall vs. H. Lastar.
G. Ferguson vs. C. D. Briggs.
J. McKenzie vs. L. Mendel.
Dr. Walmsley vs. S. A. McKone.
T. McFadden vs. Fred Simpson.
W. F. Nelson vs. E. L. Bowles.
Roily Wood vs. F. Galvin.

RUGBY

LINDSAY AT PRACTICE

The rugby enthusiasts turned out fully twenty-five strong for practice last evening and a good, stiff work-out was indulged in. The boys are rapidly training into shape and are getting the fine points of the game down in good style. J. Cinnamon held down inside wing and he is a "find" for that position. Conway at outside was most effective and Cotton shone in his punting work. Green also did splendid work at quarterback and Nesbit is also developing into a good, heady player. — Lindsay Post.

Four of ten striking blacksmiths were re-engaged at the C.P.R. Angus shops in Montreal.

FROM THE CANADIAN WEST A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Some Record Crop Returns—The Hudson Bay Survey—Grand Trunk Pacific Car Shops.

Special to The Review.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23, 1908.—His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, was a visitor to Winnipeg last week. Travelling in the private cars Cornwall and York, the Governor-General is visiting the west on a hunting expedition. William Whyte, second vice-president of the C.P.R., accompanied Earl Grey west from here, attaching his private car, Manitoba, to the special. The short tour covering the principal hunting points throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, will be given up to pleasure only.

RECORD OF REPORTS.

H. McMaster, a large farmer of Portage Plains, just west of Winnipeg, has made an enviable wheat record this year, as his threshing returns indicate. On 300 acres of summerfallow, he had an average of 40 bushels per acre, and on 500 acres, the balance of his land, an average of 30 bushels per acre, a total of 27,000 bushels of wheat on 800 acres.

On the Canadian Northern railway alone last week there was 1,720,000 bushels of wheat marketed. This makes the total inclusive from August 26 to Sept. 18, 4,934,640 bushels received by the Canadian Northern railway elevators. Last week 3,384 cars of wheat were loaded along the lines of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern railways.

HUDSON BAY SURVEY.

John H. Armstrong, chief engineer of the Hudson Bay railway survey, with headquarters at Winnipeg despatched a party of fifty men on Saturday, under the direction of E. H. Drury, C.E., where they will spend the fall and winter making the survey for the new line to tide water. The party went north via Selkirk and thence by steamer to Norway House, from which point they will make the journey down the Nelson river in a flotilla of nineteen canoes and six big York boats. During the winter five parties will be in the field, and a monthly mail service will be established between Split Lake and Norway House, which will in turn keep the chief engineer's office here advised fully as to the progress being made.

RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have let the contract for the construction of a bridge over the Old Man river between Lethbridge and Macleod, Alta. The estimated cost of the new bridge is $300,000. Thomas Kelly & Sons of Winnipeg, have been awarded the contract for the concrete work, which consists of the building of 35 massive piers, over which will span the bridging 2,000 feet in length.

Tenders will close on Monday, September 28, for the construction of two mammoth freight sheds each 50 by 500 feet, which are in addition to the other buildings already under construction for the building of the new terminals for the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railways at Winnipeg. The structural work will be of steel and the buildings will be of a most modern and up-to-date type.

G.T.P. CAR SHOPS.

The work of constructing the shops and yards of the National Transcontinental railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific is one of the largest undertakings of the kind in Canada. What this great construction work will mean to the city of Winnipeg may be easily gathered, when it is learned that the estimated cost of all the improvements is in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. The calling for tenders for the big shops of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway just east of the city has resulted in much activity in lands in the vicinity of the new suburban town site.

A general healthy tone has characterized the real estate market in the past week and with the excellent crops returns being made, there has been many exchanges and transfers of agreements of sale made. A syndicate, headed by Fred. E. Lee, of Dowagiac, Mich., have purchased a tract of 20,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $300,000. The largest sale of property in Winnipeg for the week was that of the Carleton hotel property, the price being $70,000. An additional $30,000 will be expended on the property, the idea being to make the Carleton Cafe one of the finest west of Chicago.

GREAT SKILL

Great skill is required by the man who would be a good watchmaker. Years of training and practical experience are needed before one is competent to repair a fine and complicated watch. Every watch left with us for repairs receives the best attention of skilled hands. All kinds of Clock, Jewelry and Optical repairs.

SHALL CANADA HAVE A NAVY OF HER OWN

Toronto Branch of Navy League Offers Prize for Best Essay on This Subject.

The Toronto branch of the Navy League has decided to offer a prize of $400, and invite competition for the best essay on the subject, "Shall Canada have a Navy of Her Own?"

The problem to be solved is how Canada may best participate in the naval defence of the Empire without any loss to her present autonomy. It is proposed to print the prize essay in large quantities throughout the Dominion, in order to educate public opinion on this important question.

The prize is given under the auspices of the Navy League in Canada; the professed objects of which are:

1.—To bring home to Canadians a sense of their dependence on and interest in the Naval strength of the Empire.

2.—To press upon public attention the need for a Canadian Naval Defence Force.

3.—To show how Canada can best help the Royal Navy, —loyally —in time of war.

4.—As "knowledge is power," so want of knowledge is weakness. This League seeks to remedy the prevailing lack of information on Naval matters by distributing literature on the subject to its members and the public press, and by promoting the teaching of naval history in schools.

H. J. WICKHAM,
Room 1, Mail and Empire Bld'g.
Toronto, Ont.

REGULATIONS

1—The essay should not exceed six thousand words.

2.—Essays must be typewritten.

3.—Essays must be marked with a nom de plume and accompanied by a sealed envelope, marked on the outside with the nom de plume, and containing in the inside the name and address of the author.

5.—Essays should be sent in before January 1st, 1909, to the secretary,

POLITICAL NOTES

Boost for Borden.

Attend the big meeting to-morrow night.

Seats will be reserved at to-morrow night's meeting for ladies and their escorts.

The 57th regiment band will play in the opera house, between seven and eight o'clock.

Surrounding towns will be well represented at the Borden meeting here.

Hon. Mr. Roblin, who accompanies Mr. Borden, is a gifted speaker. He is a former Ontario man.

Just about one month more, and it will be all over but the cheering and the explanations.

Peterborough will give a rousing welcome to the Conservative chieftain to-morrow. He is arousing great enthusiasm all over the country.

With all its sins, the Laurier Government is not to be blamed for the present spell of dry weather.

The advice of the woolen men to make shoddy is hardly "all wool and a yard wide."

Down in the country the voters still remember the Laurier treason to Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Imports into Canada fell off ten millions of dollars, or over 30 per cent in August, but Laurier, Pugsley, et al, go on spending.

"We are seventy-seven," said Mr. Greenway, as he "accepted" the office of Railway Commissioner, and retired with the seventy-six others from public life.

If the Conservatives are returned to power there will be a chance that the country will recover some of the western lands lost to it by the shameless timber limit scandals.

It is a beautiful sight to be practically the whole T.V.C. operating staff working tooth and nail for the government candidate. A few of them ought to stay at home for shame's sake.

While the Liberals of Nova Scotia were rending the air with denunciations of the man Hayne, who used whiskey to debauch the Colchester voters, one of their number, Daniel McLaughlin, an appointee of the local authorities was destroying records, falsifying official reports and illegally disfranchising Conservative voters in the same constituency. The facts have been proven in the courts. It is an old story. When the Liberals are loudest in shouting against impurity, they are deepest in discreditable work.—The Gazette.

At the meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the president, in the course of his annual address stated that a cord of pulpwood put in Canada for exportation to the United States netted this country from $6.70 to $8.50. If manufactured into news print it would net Canada $37.40 so that this country is losing nearly $29 on every cord exported. And still the Government will not listen to the suggestion that an export duty should be placed on pulpwood.—Ottawa Citizen.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

TRIED TO BUY GOMPERS LABOR LEADER'S STATEMENT

He Says President Vancleave of Manufacturers Had Offered Him Handsome Salary to Betray Labor Men and go Lecturing Against Unionism.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Testifying in the proceedings against himself and other labor union officers on the charge of contempt in violating the injunction decree of the District of Columbia, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday made serious charges against W. J. Vancleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Mr. Gompers declared "Mr. Vancleave had had Mr. Gompers and other federation officers shadowed by detectives and had undertaken to have Mr. Gompers bribed to desert the cause of organized labor and join it's enemies.

Mr. Gompers, in his testimony, also stated in effect that former Secretary Taft, now Republican candidate for President, had supplied the sentiment behind the injunction decree which had directed the labor officials not to publish the Bucks Stove & Range Co. as "unfair."

Mr. Gompers was asked whether there had been any general effort to break down organized labor, and he replied:

"Men have been suborned to spy on their fellow-laborers in shops, factories and mines; to report the proceedings of union meetings; to spy on the personal conduct of workmen after working hours, and to follow from place to place labor leaders visiting other cities than their homes. Money has also been used to bribe representative laborers to cease their connection with the labor organizations and direct their activities to the National Manufacturers' Association. They have not only been offered bribes in money, but have been offered substantial safeguards for the future."

After giving details of his own pursuit by detectives, Mr. Gompers then told of being approached in New York and an effort made in 1907 to bribe him in the interest of Mr. Vancleave. He was assured that he would be given a good lump sum, and that Vancleave would guarantee him beyond question that he would be cared for, for the rest of his life, even going so far as to tell him that the guarantee should be underwritten; he said that Gompers could deliver lectures in opposition to the labor movement, and that if he did not receive as much as $5,000 or $6,000 a year, Vancleave would make up the difference.

SAYS HE DID NOT MEAN TO KILL

Belleville Indian Says He Only Wanted to Break Uncle's Legs.

Belleville, Sept. 25.—The Police Court was packed to the doors yesterday morning with people, many of them Indians from the reserve, when the young Indian, Thomas Smart, charged with the murder of his uncle, James Sero, at Shannonville, on the night of Wednesday, Sept. 16, came up for a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Bedford.

The accused man, who is 24 years of age, is a fine-looking Indian, with black, curly hair. He was the coolest man in the court.

Mrs. Sero, the wife of the murdered man, swore that on her arrival home the night of the shooting she and her husband found the accused man and his sister, Dorothy Smart, at the house. The young man went out, and in a short time returned and told the witness, after calling her outside, that she would soon see a dead man fall. Then her husband came and as he grappled with Smart, the gun went off, killing the elder man.

The prisoner said that he only intended to break Sero's legs, and not to kill him. After finding that he had killed his uncle, he said that he would shoot his sister and then himself. The sister, Dorothy, however, took the gun from him and hid it.

The accused was committed for trial.

THE DROUGHT IS MORE SERIOUS

Eastern Ontario Will Suffer Heavily From Lack of Rain.

Brockville, Sept. 25.—The continued dry weather is having a noticeable effect on the offerings at each meeting of the local cheese board.

With the decreased milk supply there is a corresponding lessening of the production. The pastures are burned to the roots for lack of rain, and farmers here have resorted to surplus feeding of corn and hay.

It is the general opinion that in view of existing conditions the first part of October will witness the closing of many factories which usually continue operations until well on in November.

The source of supply for two of the large water tanks at points on the G.T.R. between Brockville and Montreal has become exhausted owing to the drought, and the company is at its wits' end to keep the engines supplied with water while making the trips between the two points. A relay of engines may be necessary to meet the difficulties.

ANGLICANS DISCUSS THE REVIVAL OF ANOINTING SICK

Well Supported Motion is Introduced to Authorize Use of Faith Cure, But Laity Vote it Down Because it Smacks of Christian Science.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—At the Anglican Synod yesterday afternoon it was moved by Canon Scott that, to meet the case of persons who desire to receive the anointing mentioned by St. James, they should authorize the use of the prayer for the administration of unction printed in the first prayer book of Edward VII.

He said there was no reason to suppose that the healing powers of the first ages bad died out. All around, sects were growing up, notable Christian Scientists, who were groping blindly after a truth which the church had neglected. In the Greek Church the custom still prevailed of anointing the body for the purpose of healing.

Archdeacon Harding, Indian Head, supported the motion. He instanced a case where the child of the Bishop of Moosonee had been cured by anointing with oil, followed by prayer.

Canon Cody, Toronto, thought it would be very unwise to tie the synod up by any pronouncement on this question of healing.

Canon Beasum of Calgary favored the resolution. In the northwest, among some Galicians and half-breeds, he had used anointing oil in 37 cases, and was able to testify that in 24 of them the prayer of the faithful and sick had been answered.

Rev. F. H. Graham, Nelson, B.C., opposed the suggested change. "It smacks too much of the Christian Science Journal which I, which we all, abhor," he said.

Archdeacon McKenzie of Brantford cited a case where, at a mother's request, anointing oil had been administered and after earnest prayer a cure had been effected. However, he would not commit himself as to the motion.

N. W. Hoyles, Toronto, saw no reason to fly in the face of the Lambeth conference. It would seem to him as a layman that if they had lost any power in prayer they should get down on their knees and pray for return of that power.

The resolution failed to carry. The clergy voted for it and laity against. A majority of both is required to carry such a motion.

A PORTFOLIO OF LABOR PREMIER'S ANNOUNCEMENT

Says That He Will Make it Separate—Holds Meeting at Berlin—Received Addresses.

Berlin, Sept. 25.—Yesterday afternoon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister of Canada, received the welcome of the Teutonic citizens of the Dominion.

In the course of his remarks, Sir Wilfrid made the important announcement that the time has come when labor will have a separate portfolio in the Dominion Cabinet. This recommendation he will make to the Government.

Incidental to the visit of the Prime Minister, William Lyon Mackenzie King, C.M.G., late Deputy Minister of Labor and the Winston Churchill of Canada, receive his immersion in the sea of Federal politics.

Like his bi-lingual leader, Sir Wilfrid, Mr. King showed his versatility by speaking first in English and then in German. The crowd was [illegible] trify the two or three thousand Germans in the audience.

Mr. King said he did not want his name tarnished by an unclean election and he appealed to his supporters to help him in keeping pure his own name and the name of Liberalism. He reminded the audience that he had not taken the step lightly. It meant something that he should give up a life position worth $5,000 a year for a principle.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux outlined the policy of the Government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was presented by Mayor Huber with the address of the town of Berlin and by Mr. Clement, with the address of the North Waterloo Liberal Association.

A LAW SUIT BRINGS SAMPLE OF GRAFT IN THE LIMELIGHT

Liberal Candidate for Hull is Sued for Recovery of Timber Limit and Admits That Although Cost Was Only $1,650, He Sold it for $100,000.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The searchlight was turned upon the timber limit deals of friends of the Government yesterday. The evidence elicited confirms everything that has been said as to the manner in which the public domain has been manipulated in the interests of the chosen few, as opposed to the many. Mr. A. W. Fraser, K.C., one of the Liberal candidates for the city, was under examination in the Superior Court, Hull, in the case in which he is defending an action taken by William J. Conroy of Aylmer, to recover an interest or equivalent in certain timber limits which the defendant acquired in 1901 from the Government.

The plaintiff, Mr. Conroy, in his declaration stated that he was instrumental in giving the defendant information as to the value of the limits in question, for which he was promised a two-fifths interest. In his examination Mr. Fraser stated that the amount paid for the limit was $1,650. He was questioned as to what he had done with it, and he replied that he had sold it. When pressed as to the price received, C. J. Brooke, K.C., on behalf of defendant, strenuously objected to the giving of this information until such a time as the plaintiff had adduced evidence to substantiate his claim to any portion of the limit or product of the sale. He characterized the examination as the attempt on the part of a man who established no interest whatever in the limit to enquire into the private affairs of the defendant.

Mr. Henry Aylen, K.C., refuted the statement, saying that the question was relevant to the declarations in the case.

Judge Rochon was appealed to in the matter and after a lengthy argument his honor reserved decision on the point. This entitled the plaintiff to an answer to the question and Mr. Fraser, in reply, stated that he had received for the limit in question, together with one-half of its area, the sum of $100,000. The purchaser was an American, O. A. Roberts, Minneapolis.

Inasmuch as Mr. Fraser had not certain documents with him, mentioned in his subpoena, the examination was postponed till Oct. 1.

DOGS CHASE THE DEER IN NORTH

Inspector Bradshaw this morning received the information that two or three dogs were roaming about in the vicinity of Dunsford and that the dogs belonging to farmers were chasing them around the woods. Of course this is contrary to the game laws of Ontario and Mr. Bradshaw will have the owners of the dogs appear before a magistrate if the nuisance is kept up.—Lindsay Warder.

Winnipeg Tragedies.

Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—John Nelson fell from the fourth storey window of the old Grain Exchange building yesterday morning and was killed.

Striker Fired; Constable Arrested.

North Bay, Sept. 25.—The charge against Doolan, the striker charged with assaulting C.P.R. Constable Chapman, was dismissed with costs against the prosecution and Constable Chapman was arrested in the court room on an assault charge.

Chapman was severely reprimanded by Magistrate Weegar for using his baton so freely, though the accused policeman himself bore evidence of strenuous times, his arm being carried in a sling, the result of a broken wrist in the melee.

The Daily Review

FRIDAY, SEPT. 25, 1908.

THE G. T. P.

Mr. Borden's criticism of the Government's Transcontinental railway policy is the same now as it was four years ago, when the question was a fresh issue at the last general elections. In the Herald's opinion his criticism was at that time sound. If it was right and proper for the Government to build and own, as a national work, the unprofitable half of the Transcontinental railway, it could not be wrong for the Government to build and own the profitable half too, and it is hard to see how it can be accounted good national policy to make a division between the country and a private corporation by which the country gets the skim-milk and the corporation gets the cream. Nor was it necessary, wise or expedient to parallel the existing Government railway between Quebec and Moncton; running rights over the Intercolonial would have answered the purpose.

Mr. Borden's criticism four years ago was just and timely. But it is useless now. It can do no good. The Government's Transcontinental railway policy is not an issue in the present campaign. It was a leading issue in the campaign of 1904, and the people by expressing confidence in the Government, virtually endorsed its railway policy. So that matter was settled. It is now too late to change the Government's plan. This Mr. Borden admits when he promises that, if the Conservatives are victorious in the coming election the Transcontinental railway will be completed as originally projected. Nothing is to be gained, therefore, by harping on the defects of the project. That is not a live issue.—Hamilton Herald.

"NOT AN OUNCE OF PROTECTION"

Knighthood and honor for Sir Wilfrid Laurier followed on the announcement of the British Preference. Many people have wondered how the Liberal party swallowed protection so easily. More have pondered on the spectacle of Sir Richard Cartwright sitting in a cabinet where "free trade as it is in England," was a curiosity and where Mr. Fielding weighed out pounds of protection in place of the ounce that used to choke his financial windpipe. It was a masterstroke of deceit, an unrivalled piece of political sleight of hand that gave us partial free trade under the loyal title of "Imperial Preference." One can almost see the winks with which these apostles of free trade introduced to their colleagues an expedient which would at once dish the Conservatives and satisfy the Protectionist wing of the Cabinet by endorsing Protection. The people wondered why Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he proclaimed the Imperial Preference announced that he asked nothing in return. Why should he. He had his reward in the submission of those members of the Cabinet who were convinced that protection could not be disturbed and in the immense prestige which it gave him as an Imperialist.

But its effect as a measure of Free Trade has been drastic and sure. The woolen industry has been struck down by it and the cotton manufacturers have struggled on with their heads just above water. And scores of other industries which could have competed with those of any other nation have languished and died under the lowering of the duties upon English made goods.

If we were paying that price in return for concessions from England which would have helped our farmers and assured good prices, and the best market for the crop which is the greatest factor to-day in Canada's prosperity, we would cheerfully have made the sacrifice. And if it were necessary to evidence our loyalty to Great Britain we would have given it willingly.

But the party, which has played with that loyalty and made it a counter in the game of politics can hardly blame the manufacturers if they prefer to have the trade policy of the country put into the hands of those who are frankly protectionist and wholly outspoken on the country's need of it.—Com.

TIMBER LIMITS

As the prairie country is mostly without trees, the whole vast region between the Red river and the Rocky Mountains is dependent for lumber supply upon relatively small and scattered areas of timber lands. Those most heavily timbered or most accessible have become immensely valuable within a few years, as settlement has advanced and railway construction has made, or is likely soon to make, the timber available.

FORMER CONDITION

Down to 1900 little was known of the Northern forests. British Columbia and Ontario supplied the small demand for lumber. For the promotion of lumber manufacture in the West the several governments had granted timber limits rather freely, but imposed such conditions of manufacture that most of the leases lapsed. The best timber limits were not within easy reach and local markets were not sufficient to encourage investment. Speculative holdings were discouraged by the terms of lease requiring operation. Leases could be terminated by Government whenever the land was required for other purposes and this did not favor purchase.

TIMBER LIMITS IN CONSERVATIVE TIMES

It was and still is, a favorite charge of Liberal leaders and their supporters that the Conservatives, when in power, granted large areas of timber limits to their friends. As a matter of fact, the leases then went to any who sought them and would comply with the conditions, which however, were so severe that 94 per cent. of all the land granted before 1896 reverted to the Crown. While Ministers now excuse their lavish and reckless timber concessions by telling of large grants made by their predecessors, the fact remains that when the Laurier administration took office only 1860 square miles remained under lease of all the timber land that had been granted by all previous Governments, Liberal and Conservative.

IT IS DIFFERENT NOW.

To-day the pick of all the Western lands are under lease. Speculative purchasers have not only been allowed to select single blocks of timber that suited them, but have been given the privilege of picking out for sale as many as fifty blocks of ten square miles each, within a region of over 7000 miles and to buy in a single transaction. Altogether there are now under lease 6400 square miles of timber lands, selected throughout practically the whole available supply south of the watershed.

Since the value of these lands is better understood, and rapid settlement makes it important to guard the timber supplies for the people, one would expect the conditions to be made more rigid, and that the Government would exercise greater vigilance over this heritage. It would be expected that timber land not yet available for lack of transportation facilities would be held until there was a demand for it from genuine operators. If standing timber was to be kept for a rise in value, it should be held by the public and not by speculators. Especially those timber regions whose extent and value were unknown to the Government and to most possible purchasers should not be sold until the department had explored the land and obtained some idea of its character and resources. If it were decided to sell this timber it was the clear duty of the Government to explore and settle its minimum value and to give ample notice to all possible purchasers with time to examine the territory. Then there would be real competition, and if the limits went to speculators they would get it fairly at a competitive price.

THEY TOOK THE OPPOSITE COURSE.

But timber land not available for operation has not been held by the Government.

It has not been explored by the Government before sale.

It has not been offered in lots of such moderate size as to bring it within the means of the average purchaser.

It has not been offered with sufficient notice and publicity to allow the purchaser to examine the lands, or even in all cases to reach them.

The sales have been so conducted as to give every possible advantage to the speculator as opposed to the genuine operator; to make competition a farce; to encourage collusive and fictitious bidding; to justify the widespread suspicion of the honesty of the proceedings, and generally to discourage the genuine lumber operator and the honest bidder and to enrich a group of machine politicians and middlemen and stood to be in the enjoyment of Government favor and patronage. Suspicions are strengthened by the Government's secret methods, by false and misleading ministerial statements; by refusal to furnish records which ought to be free to all; by deceptive practice on the part of fortunate bidders; by the most invariable success of certain groups of individuals, who, bidding under various names and in irregular ways, and with remarkable manipulations of cheques, have always managed to secure the limits they sought by very small margins over their nearest competitor.

SPECULATIVE HOLDINGS.

In 1907-8 the area covered by timber licenses was 6400 square miles. Of this quantity, 3,061 square miles, or practically half was in speculative holdings. Only (8952 square miles of timber was even partially operated and the remainder was held as reserve for lumbermen.

Out of the speculative holdings between 1400 and 1,500 square miles were acquired by a group of politicians of whom Theodore A. Burrows M.P., is the most active and the most fortunate.

Mr. T. A. Burrows is the member of Parliament for Dauphin. Manitoba, and is a brother-in-law of the Hon. Clifford Sifton, under whose dispensation as Minister of the Interior almost every acre of his timber land was obtained.

Mr. Staples M.P., speaking in Parliament, repeated the remark of a Manitoba pioneer, who pointed to the lonely tree on the prairie with the remark that it was the only tree in the western country that had not passed into the hands of the Big Four. Mr. Staples continued—"I inquired. Who are the Big Four?"

"Why," he answered, "I am surprised at you, an M.P., who has been there three sessions and do not know the Big Four: Turriff, Burrows, Adamson and Sifton."

PARTY TIES

If one of the chief objections to Sir Wilfrid's Administration is that he has grafters about him how can any elector support an addition to the list of them? It is always open to a party to choose its own candidate, and when it chooses an entirely unfit man, the members of the party who object to that sort of work can always do so. To vote for such a man in order to support this nominal leader is to put a premium on dishonesty throughout the country, and on other grounds is still more indefensible. It is necessary for people who occupy positions of trust or public confidence to rigidly observe the rules of propriety.

Boost for Borden.

The leader is here.

Borden and Roblin at Opera House to-night.

The meeting will be the largest ever held here.

The full band of the 57th regiment will head the procession, and will also provide music at the Opera House.

Those who heard Borden at Toronto say he is speaking better than ever before. Hear him to-night.

The Millbrook Mirror is about the only outside newspaper that lauds the candidature of Mr. Stratton.

The enthusiasm at R. L. Borden's Toronto meeting was so great that even the police became excited. When a Toronto policeman gets excited there has to be a real reason.—Hamilton Spectator.

The Halifax Herald says:—"The Big Four" of the North-West land grabbing combination are all in Parliament voting for the Government. Mr. Stratton, of the Gamey conspiracy is a Laurier candidate for Parliament. A. W. Fraser, the bidder under borrowed names for timber limits is a Government candidate at Ottawa. Mr. Fielding and his associates are supported by the whole gang of political dredging contractors east and west."

"The Liberal leaders, having no policy of their own, are forced to resort to the destructive argument. They have become warped in their judgment and carped in their criticism. There is a rankling feeling of soreness in their views, due to the fact that their columns are broken, and that their entire line is fighting in the last trenches. Sir Wilfrid's appeal is almost a pitiable one. With tears streaming down his cheeks, he ask for a return to the promised land in order that he may continue to dispense the milk and honey of the country to the grafter, the rake-off and the middleman."

THE "BUSY MAN'S" FOR OCTOBER

Many Articles of More Than Average Interest—A Welcome Number

Welcome as "brown October ale," to the jolly Englishman is the current number of the Busy Man's Magazine to the Canadian reader. It tells of many things of interest and is more attractive in appearance than any preceding issue. The illustrations embrace several fine cuts of the exterior and interior of the Canadian offices in London, the homes, religious ceremonies and customs of the Six Nation Indians, various scenes of mining, forest and railway camp life, of the frontier laborer, as well as the temple and meeting house of the oldest religious band in America. The fiction, both original and selected, is strong in character, delineation and plot interest. The articles from the world's leading publications are comprehensive in character and well selected, while the original contributions are bright and entertaining, among them being "A man who has helped many a Young Man in Business"; "Where progress and Education join hands"; "What Constitutes true Leadership"; "The older he grows the more active he is"; "Where Women have to cast their votes"; "The Story of the Coward," etc. The variety and timeliness of the reading matter makes the October edition of The Busy Man's Magazine a welcome visitor in any household and a prime favorite with all classes.

HAD WILD TIME WITH A BOVINE

South Verulaim Man and HisSow Were Badly Used up

The following is from the South Verulam correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent:

Last Tuesday Alex. Robertson had quite a time with a cow. The cow had been stall fed for some time, and when let out for a constitutional, was too funny. She made Alex. mad and pulled him around the field, and when near a stump, Alex. was bumped into it with such force, that it broke two of Alex's ribs. This was not all. He up with a stone and hit the cow, which rebounded and lodged in the mouth of his boy, who was standing by, and broke two of his teeth off. Finally the cow's leg was broken of and she was shot next day. She was to be exported on the train Wednesday, and is quite a loss. The entire community re-wish the father and boy a speedy recovery, and may the cow R.I.P.

GRAIN WILL SOON BE COMING DOWN

Midland Division of Grand Trunk Will Have Lot to Handle

The grain boat from Fort William for Midland with western grain was due to arrive Wednesday but has been delayed by the fog and smoke. The indications are that the Midland division of the G.T.R. will have more business than it can handle within a few days as the grain is now coming in fast and the new elevator will be in working order within a week. It will be handling a double track business on a single track road and those who should know predict heaps of trouble.

BOY BUILDERS.

Clever Lads Construct Elaborate Doll's House For Little Cousins.

It is not very often that two lusty young boys should devote their spare time to the building and furnishing of a house for dolls, and yet an instance of that kind has been unearthed in Toronto. The young architects and builders are Clarence and Archie Donald of 6 Baldwin street, aged 13 and 11, respectively. Last Christmas the boys were presented with a scroll saw outfit, and they soon conceived the idea of constructing a home for dolls, to be given to a couple of little girl cousins at Comber, in Essex County.

The house is a credit to the young workmen. They designed and built the whole thing themselves.

The house is about two feet and a half long, about two feet high to the tip of the gables, and about 18 inches deep. It consists of two storeys, each divided into two rooms. Each of these rooms is carpeted and the walls papered, and each one has a window, with real glass, and curtained, too. In each room are all the furniture necessary, even to the piano in the parlor, a clever little piece of work, indeed. There are kitchen chairs, a high chair, a divan, dining-room table and chairs, sideboard, kitchen cupboard, high chair, pictures on the walls—everything, in fact, that one could conceive of to be necessary, and everything is painted and decorated nicely. There are 33 pieces in all. The kitchen range, with pots complete, was built out of a tea can, properly fitted up and painted. There is a stair fitted up connecting the two floors, and the opening at the top has a balustrade built around it. The two children must have exercised a great deal of patience before they produced the house as it stands to-day. Many of the friends of the family have advised its being put on exhibition, and the parents are thinking of doing so. The two little girl cousins will no doubt be very pleased with their present.

MISSING TEN YEARS.

Youth Returns to Visit Town From Which He Disappeared.

About ten years ago considerable excitement was caused by the disappearance from the farm of George Allen, near Braemar, in Oxford County, Ont., of Frank Broad, a home boy who had been working there for some time. The lad disappeared one night as completely and as suddenly as if the earth had opened and swallowed him.

A few days ago he arrived in Woodstock to enquire for his former employer. He spent a day looking around Woodstock, meeting some of the former residents of Zorra now living in the city, and renewing pleasant acquaintances.

He said that he could give no explanation as to why he left so suddenly other than to get away for a change of scene and of work, and he did not care particularly whether any one would be concerned about him or not. He boarded a freight train with the intention of going down to Quebec and getting on a cattle boat bound for England. He was tangled in his directions, however, and landed in the Northwest, where he took service with a farmer and held the job for a while, then worked his way back east and took a cattle ship for England. Recently he has been mining up in the Cobalt district.

Work Is Progressing.

The work on section No. One of the Trent Valley Canal, which was commenced about the middle of April, is being rapidly pushed forward. In the division to the G. T. R. tracks near Trenton, the canal is completely dug to a depth of ten feet, and the big steam shovel is at work on a lower level. The second level being somewhat lower than the river, pumps have been installed, and are constantly at work to keep it free from water. At the next division, or dam No. 2, the blasting out of the rock chamber is completed. The blasting gang and machinery are now at cove lock No. 3, above Glen Miller bridge. Energy is now centered towards the completion of the large coffer dam, which is being built in the shape of a half-moon, and runs out more than half way across the river. The sheeting is tongued and grooved, and fitted to the rock on the bottom of the river by divers. By the first week in September it is hoped to have the coffer dam sufficiently pumped out as to be ready for the concrete.

Tramps In Ontario.

There's a tramp scare in Ontario, and the Ontario Government has been asked to send detectives to various centres to round up vagrants, but there are only four provincial inspectors and they're busy.

Generally, these requests for Government aid in chasing hobos close with these words, "the high constable has taken no action."

The Government's attitude seems to be this, that the counties should be able to handle tramps, many of whom are not at all violent, merely lazy. An expert detective is not needed in guarding or arresting tramps. Ordinary men with some strength and courage are good enough.

Historic Mansion Scorched.

The old and historic Baby mansion was partially destroyed by fire recently. The mansion was built about 1790.

There it was that the Indian chief Tecumseh remained as the guest of Gen. Brock, and during the War of 1812 the house was successively occupied by American and British generals. Three years ago it became the property of Dr. Beasley.

Austrians For Canada.

Count Vongagern and a lady have been in Ottawa to plan if possible, to bring out thousands of Austrian farmers to Canada. They want to settle peasants from Styria, Carniolican and Croatra in the west next spring, and claim the intended immigrants are well educated, good people and able to speak tolerable English.

A C.P.R. train ran through a section gang near English River, killing two men.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—Receipts of live stock as reported by the railways were 75 carloads on Thursday, composed of 843 cattle, 2206 hogs, 1637 sheep and lambs and 65 calves.

Exporters.

The best shipping cattle would not bring more than about $4.50 to $4.75, but none were wanted and none were sold. Bulls are quoted at $3.50 to $4.

Butchers.

Prices, even for the best cattle, were lower, and picked lots of heifers and steers of good weights were not quoted over $4.60; best loads, $4.25 to $4.45, medium, $3.75 to $4; common, $2.75 to $3.50; cows, $2.25 to $3.50; canners, $1 to $2.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. W. Murby reports a falling off in the receipts of stockers and feeders this week, which no doubt benefited the trade somewhat, altho prices were not any higher than last week. As usual the bulk of the offerings were inferior stuff and some of this class is still unsold. All good useful stuff was sold. We again caution shippers to be very careful in their buying and selecting. This continued dry spell has put the trade in an unbalanced condition and a big run would certainly demoralize prices. Messrs. Murby bought about 150 fair to good steers this week at the following quotations: Best feeders, 950 to 1050 lbs. each, at $3.60 to $3.90 per cwt.; best feeders, 800 to 900 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.80; best stockers, 650 to 700 lbs. each, at $2.50 to $3, medium stockers, 600 to 800 lbs. each, at $2.25 to $2.60; common stockers, 500 to 700 lbs. each, at $2 to $2.25.

Milkers and Springers.

There was as usual, a good demand for all milkers and springers of good choice quality, which sold readily at unchanged prices at $30 to $65 each, the bulk going between $40 and $50 each.

Veal Calves.

Receipts moderate and prices unchanged at $2 to $6.50 per cwt. Strictly speaking, those sold at the lower price should not be classed as veal, some of them being rough scraggy animals, that have run in the orchard, fed on sour apples and sour milk, with horns on them, 2 or 3 inches long, looking more like yearlings.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts have been large, which caused the market to be easy at following prices: Sheep, $3.75 per cwt.; lambs, $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris quoted prices unchanged at $7 for selects, and $6.75 for hogs f.o.b., cars, at country points.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 24.—Cattle—Receipts, 150 head; steady; prime steers, $6 to $6.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 3200 head; slow; sheep, steady; lambs, 25c lower; lambs, $4 to $5.75.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Beeves—Receipts, 927. Feeling, nominally steady. Dressed beef, slow at 7c to 10½c per pound for native sides. Exports to-day, 1540 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 310. Market, steady; veals, $5 to $9.50; western calves, $3.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4180. Trade extremely slow; sheep, barely steady; lambs, weak to 25c lower; sheep, $2.50 to $4.50; lambs, $4.75 to $5.75; culls, $3.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2650. Feeling, weak to 5c lower; no sales reported.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Cattle—Receipts, about 5000; market steady; steers, $4.40 to $7.60; cows, $3.25 to $5.25; heifers, $3 to $4.25; bulls, $2.50 to $4.80; calves, $3.50 to $8; stockers and feeders, $2.60 to $4.80.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,000; market 10c lower; choice heavy, $7.30 to $7.40; butchers', $7.25 to $7.40; light mixed, $6.85 to $7; choice light, $7 to $7.25; packing, $6.80 to $7.10; pigs, $3.75 to $6.25; bulk of sales, $6.85 to $7.10.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, about 18,000; market lower; sheep, $3.50 to $4.50; yearlings, $3.85 to $4.25; lambs, $3.50 to $5.50.

Fog Again Delays.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—The shipping interests are quite uneasy owing to the dense fog which has again settled down over the river from this city to Quebec.

There are quite a number of steamers held up, thus entailing a heavy loss upon shippers as well as the owners.

Freight Wreck at Austin.

Austin, Man., Sept. 25.—Descending a grade a freight from Brandon broke a flange and seventeen cars of wheat and merchandise, with a big Scotch engine, were piled in the ditch, the wreckage catching fire and destroying 26 cars and contents, valued at $50,000.

Killed In Railway Yards.

St. Thomas, Sept. 25.—Thomas McShee, a middle-aged man, was instantly killed in the Michigan Central Railway yards yesterday morning.

Gold is reported found at Sedgewick, Alberta, and 40 claims have been staked.

ARMY IS HIT BY NEW REGULATIONS

The Reason Why Salvation Army Has Cancelled Boats Which Had Been Chartered

No notification has been received at the Immigration department at Ottawa of the decision of the Salvation Army to discontinue its policy of chartering vessels to convey emigrants from the Old Country to Canada. There is no agreement between the department and the Salvation Army in regard to the manner in which people may be brought to this country. The Salvation Army is treated the same way as other booking agents and gets no special favors. In consequence the decision to discontinue the chartering of vessels does not affect the department. It makes no difference to the government whether immigrants come by ship loads or in parties on ships which are specially chartered.

It would appear to be a fair inference, however, that the restriction put in force some months ago in regard to the admission of new comers is at the bottom of the decision reached by the Army. It is understood that owing to these restrictions seven out of ten vessels chartered at the beginning of the season has been cancelled. As these restrictions are likely to be continued in force next season, the Army, it is presumed, will revert to the old plan adopted by all other booking agents—of engaging quarters for its selected people on the regular ocean liners.

THE DESBARATS NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY

The tendency of large advertisers is to avail themselves more generally of the services of an advertising agency. By doing so they get the advantage of expert knowledge free of cost. In selecting an agency its history and equipment are naturally of interest and value. In the Desbarat's Newspaper Directory, just received a sketch is given of the Desbarat's Advertising Agency, which has grown from a very unpretentious beginning fifteen years ago to be one of the leading agencies on the Continent. Mr. E. Desbarats, the Managing-Director, combines in a remarkable degree the qualities required to make an agency a great success. No one in Canada knows newspapers and newspaper values better and very few understand so well the whole system of profitable advertising. The Directory is full of information to advertisers relative to newspapers. It contains 301 pages well printed and bound in cloth and gold. A full list of all the industries in each newspaper town is given. The fullness of the information throughout reflects credit on the publishers. Although the published price of the Directory is $5.00 we understand that it will be sent to any firm who are advertising or contemplate an advertising campaign on receipt of request and 35 cents for postage, &c. The Agency's offices are at 42 Victoria Square, Montreal.

New York Man's Jaw Broke as He Whistled Popular Song

New York, Sept. 24.—The World, to-day says Joseph Krapka, 21 years old, of Winfield, L.I., went to St. John's Hospital, Long Island, city, last night, with a dislocated jaw. When the man was able to talk he told the physician he dislocated his jaw while whistling one of the latest songs. He thanked the physician and left the hospital after telling him it would be a long time before he would try to whistle anything again.

STEAM PUMP IS INSTALLED

At Leason Copper Mine at Stony Lake—Development Will go on

A Stony Lake correspondent writes as follows:—There is every reason—to believe that operations at the Leason coppper mine will go on now. The men have been laying off for the past two or three weeks waiting for the steam pump. This has now been installed and the company intend to put on two gangs of men and to run night and day. The indications are good as regards ore. The deeper they go the brighter the prospects appear to be, and now that they have got the steam pump and steam hoist installed they will be able to employ a number of men.

We had a gentleman around the other day prospecting for marl for the purpose of making cement. Messrs. James and William Robb have a large marl marsh of 35 or 40 acres and he took away some samples with him. He says it is good. It goes down 12 or 15 feet.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Smith.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and an excellent paper was given by Mrs. A. McKenzie.

THEATRICAL

THREE LITTLE MAIDS

Markedly superior to the average comic opera in comedy and music was "Three Little Maids," the widely-known success written by Paul Rubens. With Mr. Douglas A. Patterson, until recently the dramatic critic on the Toronto News, as the star, and a clever company, it was given a finished presentation at the Grand Opera House last night and from the first curtain the applause was almost unceasing. In fact the production proved a most pleasing surprise and showed that a Canadian company may be just as good as one from the large American centres. The audience was one of the most enthusiastic that has attended the Grand and the songs were applauded until they had to be rendered with a frequency that must have been somewhat monotonous for the soloists and chorus. The opera has a real plot. This is quite an unusual feature in musical plays and the innovation carried things along in an interesting way.

The song hits were numerous, the most appreciated being "Men, Humbugging Men," "The Miller's Daughter," "Love is a Game," "I'll Dream of You," "When We're Together" and "A Real Town Lady." Mr. Patterson was a scream as Lord Cheyne, and infused a humor into the part that showed an intelligent comprehension of the possibilities of the part. Miss Clara Lloyd, Birdie Luttrell and Maude Proctor, as Hilda Ada and Edna Branscombe, "The Three Little Maids" were chic and bright and appeared to splendid advantage.

The remainder of the principals did excellent work and shared the honors evenly.

The management of the Grand would be well advised in securing a return engagement of "Three Little Maids."

ENTERTAINMENT BY THE JUNIORS

At S. A. Barracks a Great Success—To be Repeated Next Thursday

So well received was the entertainment given last evening by the juniors of the Salvation Army that it will be repeated next Thursday evening. The barracks was filled with an appreciative audience and the excellent programme was greatly enjoyed. The special feature, of course, was the presentation of a piece entitled, "The King and Queen of the Harvest," by a number of little children. The part of king was taken by Master Willie Leaman and little Miss Elsie Northcotte made a charming queen. They were surrounded by a number of little girls, dressed to represent the four seasons. They sang a harvest song.

Miss Boorman occupied the chair and the following numbers were given:—

Opening song.
Piano solo, Miss Ethel Card.
Vocal solo, Miss Gadd.
Selection, "The Vesper Hymn" the band.
Vocal solo, Miss Leaman.
Song, "The Gleaners," Misses Wiffin, Ethel Card, and Mrs. Jos. Thomas Doxology.

To-night a special attraction will be at the barracks when Major and Mrs. Plant, of England, the famous musicians will be present. They will give a lecture on "How I was shipwrecked off the west coast of Norway."

On Saturday night they will give a musical evening entitled, "Around the world in a chariot of music and song." Major and Mrs. Plant will play at least a dozen different instruments, including a scriptural flute the only one of its kind in existence. They will also be present at the Sunday services.

NO TREASURE AT ORILLIA

The "Packet" Tells Treasure Hunter That He is on Wrong Scent

Fiftee nor twenty years ago a man from the United States came several times to Orillia in quest of buired treasure, which he hoped to find along the lake shore somewhere between the Hermitage and St. Germain's. The same man, or another on a like quest, i ssaid to have been there again lately. But he is on the wrong scent. There is, as he supposes, a large quantity of Orillia treasure "buried." There might be more chance of finding it, however, "nosing" around Wall street, New York.—Orillia Packet.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT ALL SAINTS'

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt Was the Special Preacher---Church Beautifully Decorated

The annual Harvest Festival services of All Saints' church were held last night and a large congregation was present. The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with products of the field and garden and that Canada has had a bountiful harvest there were evidences on every hand.

Appropriate music was rendered by the choir. Miss Rose Mulholland took the solo in the anthem very acceptably.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt of St. Luke's church was the special preacher for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Lord, of Apsley, was also present to assist Rev. Mr. Major in the services.

Dr. Langfeldt gave an excellent address and was listened to with deep interest by his auditors.

He took as his text, "The joy of the Lord is your strength." He pointed out the necessity of joy being characteristic of the Christian life. He instanced four elements of joy, viz:

"Dependence upon God's word."

"The assurance of forgiveness of sins."

"The consciousness of the efficiency and the greatness of Christ."

"The knowledge that Christ had overcome the world."

He pointed out the absolute necessity of showing our joy and especially in the Christian life.

The first social under the auspices of the T. A. S. Athletic Association will be held in the T. A. S. Hall on Monday night. d1

A DIFFERENCE

Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In the United States when a man has been proven a grafter or a briber he has to step down and out. He is not allowed to go farther either in his own check or the anxiety of friends, looking for favor. Senator Foraker has ruined himself for all time by just such, and has provided the sensation of the present Presidential campaign. We have got to learn something about this in some parts of Canada,

SIX MONTHS IN CENTRAL PRISON FOR ROBBERY

Housebreakers at "Castlenock," Sentenced This Morning—Fallon Goes to Prison—Other Youth Allowed to go on Suspended Sentence.

Willie Fallon was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison at the police court this morning and another youth of fourteen years was allowed to go on suspended sentence on a charge of breaking into "Castlenock," the home of Mrs. James F. Dennistoun and stealing a number of valuable articles. They included one dozen silver forks, a clock, three watches, two pairs of scissors, one pair of ear rings, three bracelets, a pair of gold eye glasses, a silver whistle and a lead pencil. The two prisoners appeared before the Magistrate a week ago and were remanded. Mr. G. N. Gordon defended Fallon and Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared on behalf of the other boy. They pleaded guilty and elected summary trial.

The young culprits entered the house by night about a month ago. Most of the articles were recovered at the home of Fallon. As this was the first appearance of Fallon's accomplice in police court, His Worship gave him some good advice and allowed him to go on suspended sentence.

In the case of Fallon, Mr. Gordon asked that he be sent to a reformatory, but as he is over the age that the law allows youthful criminals to be sent to Industrial Schools His Worship could not punish him in this way.

He was out on suspended sentence and has several times been proven guilty of theft. On two occasions in 1903 he was in court of stealing and has several times been proven guilty of theft. On two occasions in 1903 he was in count for stealing skins, caps and touques from a local fur store and taking sweaters from another store. Last winter he was found guilty of being one of a party who stole several articles from Mr. R. M. Roy's and Mr. E. B. Clarry's yachts.

His Worship said that he had abused the leniency of the court, and the only thing left for him to do was to send him to Central Prison for six months.

LINDSAY FARMERS BEING BITTEN BY FLIM FLAMMER

Chief Vincent is on the track of a new "skin game" which a slick stranger has been operating in the neighborhood and of which many farmers have been the victims. After making extensive enquiries the chief has decided that the game is fake from beginning to end and many have been swindled out of their hard earned money.

The operator of the new sheme has been going the rounds of the county, and according to reports has had a number of victims in and around Oakwood and Little Britain. His method of procedure is something like this:

A prosperous farmer is approached in the confidential air that these rogues find it easy to assume. The ever ready samples—in this case it has been cloth for suits—is produced and Mr. Farmer is advised that he is going to have the opportunity of his life to secure a cheap and still reliable suit of clothes. The man himself is nicely dressed and respectable looking and tells the victim that her epresents a tailoring firm in Montreal.

"These are samples of $18 and $20 suits," he says, "producing samples of cloth that 'look good,' to the prospective buyers, but they never have been advertised. To make them popular we are selling an entire suit for exactly one half price, but mind you, we are only selling one suit to each family."

The mouth of the customer to be fairly waters at the chance to reap the advantages of such an opportunity and he immediately and without an instant's hesitation, 'bites.'

Then the details of the scheme are worked out. The customer's measurements, taken, and an address, which happens to be very vague, left behind together with the assurance that the suit will be sent inside of sixty days, and this is the most important point from the fakirs' standpoint, five dollars or so is collected, merely as an "assurance of good faith."

Chief Vincent heard of the scheme and made enquiries of the Montreal police who assured him that there was no such a tailoring business in Montreal and that the thing looked queer.

Strange to say not one complaint has been made from those who have been stung. People don't like to admit it.

Arthur and Cecil Thompson of Mapleton, were fined ten dollars and costs at St. Thomas for hunting muskrats out of season.

WALTER JAYES AND HARRY BURRIDGE WITH THE PETES

Two Stars From American Leagues Will Appear With the Locals To-morrow—Big Crowd Will See the Game.

Walter Jayes, the crack outfielder of the Wilmington team, of the East Carolina League, will line up with the Petes against the St. Andrews, of Toronto, at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon. Mr. Jayes is a nephew of Mr Jack Jayes, of the Munro House, and is visiting in the city. He is a heavy stick swinger, batting over .325 this season, and during the whole season he had only one error registered against him. He looks very fast and will add great strength to the Peterborough aggregation. He will likely play centre field. Harry Burridge, the star backstop of the Youngstown team, will do the receiving. Harry has a host of friends here and they will all be on hand to see him perform. He was the leading catcher in the Midland League in 1907, and has improved greatly since going to the big league across the line. "Prunes" Quinlan will likely do the heaving for the home team and should keep the Toronto champions guessing. The team will be picked from the following players:—Jayes, Burridge, Murphy, Clements, Quinlan, Hawkins, Burns, Anderson, Maddocks, Edmunds, Lawson and Shea.

The line-up of the St. Andrews is uncertain. There is all kinds of base ball material in Toronto now and they are picking the best they can get to endeavor to conquor the Petes. They realize that they are up against a hard proposition and will have a team of stars.

The game is called for three o'clock and will attract a big crowd. Much interest centres in the appearance of Jayes and Burridge on the local diamond.

RETURNS OF BOUT WILL BE GIVEN OUT AT ORIENTAL

Gene Hurtubuise and his manager, Chris Graham, left for Hamilton this morning where the Peterborough heavyweight meets Charlie Conkle, the welterweight champion in a handicap bout to-night.

Conditions call for Conkle to throw Hurtubuise twice in an hour or forfeit the bout. As in all handicap matches if Gene gets a fall the match is his. He is confident of winning under the conditions named. He is in fine shape as was shown by the way he wrestled with Hassan Abdallah.

The returns of the bout will be announced at the Oriental. The match is likely to start about nine o'clock

The fee for playing being four games for 25 cents. They will be opened by two prominent citizens of Peterborough.

RUGBY

ATHLETICS

Montreal, Sept. 24.—The McGill fall athletic season opens with several gaping vacancies among the runners' ranks. Donahue, four times individual champion of the University has gone; Kemp, McGill's great miler; Oliver Waugh, a finished high jumper and hurdler; Powell who beat 22 feet consistently in the broad jump; Ballantyne, a discus artist; and Archie Kerr, a good distance man, have all passed.

SOCIETY MAN AND O'BRIEN

New York, September 24.—A special from Philadelphia says:—There was an old score to settle when A. J. Drexel Biddle met Philadelphia Jack O'Brien in the ring to-day at a private West Walnut street gymnasium. Last winter, as a wind-up to the indoor season of the Merion Cricket Club, Tony Biddle, as he is known in club life, met the former middleweight champion in a hot bout. The society man, poet and athlete was ill and was beaten by O'Brien.

Biddle has persistently asked O'Brien for a return match and this time neither could complain of lack of physical condition.

TERRIFIC FIGHT.

In the presence of half a dozen club men the men fought it out in four of the hardest rounds ever witnessed in this vicinity. At the end Biddle was bleeding at the nose and mouth, while his left eye gave indications of taking on mourning. O'Brien's lips were swollen, his nose was slightly flattened and a big red patch on his ribs showed where Biddle's vicious right body swings had landed. Both men were nearly exhausted and there was little to choose between them.

HOW THEY DID IT.

Biddle played continually for the body and many of his blows made O'Brien wince. The clever middleweight kept jabbing away at Biddle's mouth and nose, but the latter always came back for more.

The young society man is confident he can drop O'Brien and when he returns from the hunting trip it will be arranged for a bout of longer duration in private.

R. Roberts, fruit dealer of Fort William, ended his life by taking laudanum.

CONKLE AND HURTUBISE

Feeling in Hamilton is That Conkle Has Bitten of too Much This Time

The Hamilton Spectator says:—Hurtubise's victory last night was rather unexpected by the majority of the fans in Peterborough, and simply tends to prove that the big fellow has greatly improved in the last six months. Judging from his bout last night, Hurtubise will prove a pretty hard problem for Charlie Conkle to solve to-morrow evening in their big handicap bout at Armory hall. Conkle is to throw Hurtubise twice in an hour, and when one considers the huge difference in weight between the two and allows for the great improvement in the Peterborough man, it will be readily acknowledged that the local man will need all his cunningness and that knowledge which has put him where he is in the front row of wrestlers.

Hurtubise will arrive in Hamilton to-morrow morning, accompanied by his manager, Chris Graham. Although he is undertaking two bouts in three nights the affair last night was not at all rough or strenuous, and he will be in the best of shape for the match here. Conkle is also in tip-top shape, having been hard at work for several weeks in the West End Pleasure Club and he is confident that he will hand a rude jolt or two out to his Peterborough rival.

The Herald says:—Not many wrestling fans here think that Conkle can throw Hurtubise twice in one hour, but few think he will fare to turn the trick once. According to the Peterborough letters the feeling there is that the ex-gridiron giant will throw Conkle and win by the overland route. If Hurtubise throws the champion once that will end the bout.

TURF

The Lindsay Warder says:—Passmore has also Walter G. in the 2.20 class. The horse has a noticeable likeness to that famous stallion once owned by Aldous of Fenelon Falls, viz., Little Hector. So much so, in fact, that the owner had to take an affidavit at Peterborough that such was not the case. Walter beat Orillia Belle at Kinmount.

George Curtis has that likely-looking horse, Pathfinder, in good trim and will probably enter in the open race. Just here it would be appropriate to mention that there were four Keswicks that carried off prize money at the Peterborough fair. Curtis was the owner of the great horse Keswick for many years and George's name will always be connected with the great stallion.

Haselle Belle, formerly owned by Dr. Johnston, of Peterborough, but now the property of Pat McArthur Toronto, will be seen in one of the races. Other Toronto horses are Prairie Oyster, owned by Wales, of Toronto; Jas. Noble's Fox Puge, and it is expected a couple of others from the Queen City will contest for the mony here.

Geo. Powell, the "grand old man" of the race track and known in racing circles from Dan to Beersheba will have some of his horses up from Peterborough. Of course Orillia Bell will be on hand and poking her nose in amongst the foremost. Togo is another of Powell's horses which will be in town.

Dr. Cowan, who was injured at Peterborough in a race, is getting along nicely and says he will handle the ribbons behind Harry K. This horse has been showing up well this year.

Peterborough horses have hitherto been regarded with little or no respect around these diggin's, but since George Powell pitched his tent in the Otonabee town things have been different.

SPORTING COMMENT

Mr. James Reynolds is in Toronto to-day on business. As James is travelling by train it is expected that he will get through Newcastle without any mishap.—Port Hope Guide.

But the good old O.H.A. will be found doing business at its same old stand in the same old way. It keeps its players at home and helps them cultivate village patriotism, and incidentally it provides more good honest hockey than all the gate hunting cliques scattered throughout the other ice producing portions of the Dominion.—Toronto Telegram.

It will thus be seen that lacrosse is not like Sodom and Gomorrah in its most professional phases. Had anyone been told some months ago that you could pick eight amateurs from the ranks of the N. L. A., he would have laughed a merry ha ha. But then they are the greatest amateurs of them all. For lo, he that has been sorely tempted and comes forth pure is greater than he who has never known temptation.—Telegram.

EASY FOR TOM

Cornwall, September 24—The Federation was ignominiously turned down to-day in favor of the C.A.A.U., by the promoters of the Glengarry Marathon. The race was from Lancaster to Williamstown, about four and a half miles, and three times around the track at the latter place. Tom Longboat, the great Indian runner from the Irish Canadian Athletic club, Toronto, won the race easily.

The local promoters made the mistake of obtaining sanctions from both the Federal and the C.A.A.U. The result was that several representatives of each organization turned up and were ready to run.

Tim O'Rourke of Toronto was in charge of Longboat, and refused to allow the Indian to compete against Federationists, who included runners from the M.A.A.A., St. Patrick's Athletic club and the Nationals of Montreal. The upshot was that they were not allowed to start, but the C.A.A.U. men from Toronto, Gordon Harriers, Montreal, Valleyfield, Que., twelve in all, competed with the result that Longboat was first, Abbie Woods, of the Gordons second, La Riviere third and the rest strung out a considerable distance back. About 4,000 people witnessed the race.

MIDY

PETERBORO' MAN WITH THE ARGOS

A Toronto despatch says:—As to the Argonauts Manager Thompson claims that there is any amount of material and that it is of the right stuff, though it will take at least a couple of weeks to shape it to the best advantage. That there will be plenty of weight on the line goes without saying. The Oarsmen are taking to the gridiron as kindly as to their shells and muscle and weight are much in evidence at their practices. As regards inside football, good coaching may be able to accomplish a great deal. Of the old stand-bys, Banty Russell, Alex. Sinclair, Julius Thomson and Jeff Taylor are counted on to make good, and in addition, among the numerous others are "Red and "Pud" Kent the latter of whom has been transferred from Winnipeg, and is expected shortly; Taylor, of the Parkdale junior champions; Joe White Newport, and Leveck, Tammany Tigers; Biddy Lewis Balfour and Les Ferguson. With the majority of the Argonaut team of 1907, Nasmith, of Varsity; DeGreuby and Hugh Clarkson, of U. C.C.; Hargraft and Wilson, Ridley, Green, of Peterborough; Len Morrison Prouse, Ade Rathbun, Austin Clarkson, Macdonnell, of Queens, and a whole lot of others to choose from. T.A.A.C. look strong; but, like the Argonauts they must prove their worth before they can be set down as a Dominion championship possibility.

THE RING

Art. Edmunds leaves Sunday for New York for a bout with Abe Attell, which has been assured him.

A FALL AT LAST

Cora Livingstone, lady champion wrestler meets Florence Henry and Bessie Thompson to-night in Toronto taking on the challengers one after another, to gain falls in ten minutes or forfeit $25. Last night the champion got even with Bertha Myers, the Syracuse girl, who stayed ten minutes Tuesday night. Cora Livingstone gained a fall with a Gotch toe hold in five and a half minutes.

THE HOOK

Many a homely man has a handsome mug in a barber shop.

The American fish trust has been "busted." Probably it got the hook.

A change of weather as well as a change of government is wanted.

Someone will likely get hit by the "Swing of the Hammer" around the Liberal camp.

People around here are undecided which is needed most, a change of Government or a good rain.

As far as the cosmopolitan style of the writer goes the "Swing of the Hammer" might better be termed "A Forge in the Forest."

There was a mad dog in Ashburnham the other day. The animal had probably become desperate after attending one of the Liberal rallies.

A kick comes from Hamilton that the verandahs there encroach too much on the streets. Probably these are interfering with the growth of the hay.

Two Irishmen one day went shooting. A large flock of pigeons came flying over their heads. Pat elevated his piece, and firing, brought one of them to the ground. "Arrah," exclaimed his companion, "what a fool you are to waste your ammunition; when the bare fall would have killed him."

The French youth when he is in love, is seriously tragically so, while it lasts. It does not last long, as a rule, but it is fierce while it is on. The youth in France, who, being rejected by a young lady of a circus, suicided by locking himself in a den of lions, struck on a new line that is decidedly theatrical. It only needs colored lights, to make it quite the most fetching thing of the kind.—Bob-

CONSIDERED REWARD AN AMPLE ONE

Music Teacher Kissed Policeman Who Saved Her From Drowning.

Montrio, Cal., September 23— Although Patrick H. Herlihy, a policeman of San Francisco is brave enough in the performance of his official duties, he is avoiding his acquaintances here today because of a reward he received yesterday for saving the life of Miss Elizabeth Moor, a pretty music teacher, of Guerneville. To show her appreciation of her rescuer's brave act, she kissed him in full view of those who had witnessed the policeman's heroic action. Herlihy considers himself amply rewarded.

Miss Moor was canoeing on Russian river, a short distance from where Herlihy was fishing from a bridge, when a gale overturned the craft. Wasting no time the policeman jumped into the stream and carried the half drowned woman to the shore.

EXPERT IS HERE TO TAKE UP OUTFALL SEWER PROPOSITION

Mr. Chipman Met Board of Works Last Night—Deputation is Anxious for a Sidewalk—Much Work Ahead.

The Board of Works is going ahead with the proposition to construct a new outfall sewer. Mr. Chipman, an expert in such matters is in the city and met the Board of Works last night.

Those present were chairman, Ald. Phelan, Aldermen Tovey, Buller, Elliott, McIntyre and Mayor Rush

While waiting for Mr. Chipman the board dealt with a deputation which was present in connection with a sidewalk on Wolf street.

The Board of Works has so much work on hand now that it will be impossible to consider anything more so the deputation was informed accordingly. The deputation was not satisfied and addressed the board urging that the work be taken up.

The walk desired leads to Knox church and as there is no walk there whatever, they felt that they were entitled to a good walk. They did not forget the amount of work already on hand but they felt this was most important.

Chairman Phelan explained that he did not see how it would be possible to grant the request of the deputation this year as work will have to cease by the 15th of October as frost after that is a danger to the work

Engineer Hay said that the district was a very bad one to work in as a walk in black muck is of no use.

Alderman Buller suggested that a temporary wooden walk be laid for this fall and winter.

The engineer suggested that excavator be done this fall and filled up with gravel to last for the winter and in the spring only the concrete top would have to be laid.

This suggestion was adopted.

Father Keilty wrote to the Mayor stating that his horse went through a culvert near the Nicholls oval, but nothing serious resulted.

The culvert was repaired at once. The matter to settle with Father Keilty was left with the chairman.

NEW SEWER.

Mr. Chipman said he had seen a general plan of the system which Mr Hay had prepared and he learned what the board proposed. He said that he had not been over the ground yet and would like to take to-morrow to see what was required. He could then give an idea of the cost of the work and also his fees.

The board adjourned to meet Mr Chipman this morning and go over the ground with him.

HUNTER ST. OVERHEAD BRIDGE IS AGAIN TO THE FRONT

Quaker Oats Co. Will Waive Property Rights But Do Not Think They Should Contribute Otherwise.

The proposition to have an overhead bridge on Hunter street over the Otonabee river is to the fore again. Mayor Rush recently wrote to Mr. Robert Stuart, of the Quaker Oats Company, asking what proportion of the cost of the structure the company would be willing to bear, but the answer was hardly as favorable as might have been hoped for. The company will waive all property rights but does not think that they should contribute any further.

Mayor Rush's letter to Mr. Stuart was as follows;—

Robert Stuart, Esq.,
Chicago, Ill.;

Dear Sir—It is quite evident that in the near future a new overhead bridge across the river at Hunter street will have to be built in order to permit of the steam cars, tugs and barges to pass under and street cars over.

At a meeting of the Board of Works held a few nights ago, Alderman Bradburn and myself were requested to wait on your Mr. Denham and lay the matter before him, which we did this morning. How much do you think your company would contribute towards the erection of such a structure?

H. RUSH.
Mayor.

Peterborough, Sept. 19th.

Mr. Stuart's reply was as follows:

H. Rush,
Mayor, Peterborough:

Dear Sir—Yours of the 19th to hand. This company is in sympathy with the erection of a new bridge at Hunter street, and will gladly waive property rights for damages on our side, but think it hardly fair that this company should be expected to bear any part of the expense.

I hope to be in Peterborough within the next two or three weeks and will make an effort to see you.

With kind regards.

I remain

Yours very truly,
ROBERT STUART.
Treasurer.

J. A. MacDONALD SAYS HE WILL RESIGN IF CHARGES ARE TRUE

Editor of Globe Calls Upon J. S. Willison to Make Statement—Mr. Roblin Will Deal With the Matter To-night.

The Globe to-day has the following;—

Hon. R. P. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, speaking in Massey Hall, Toronto on Wednesday night, made reference to myself as editor of the Globe, and made a direct and explicit charge against the Globe. As reported yesterday in the Globe he spoke as follows;—

"I say of this good editor, who has been set apart for the laying on of hands and who has slandered me, that his paper, and the men who are behind his paper, have deliberately falsified records. My charge is this;—That when the Liberal Government in 1896 were reconsidering the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railroad. It was to be at an outlay of $1 830,000, and was so inserted in their charter. This paper commenced a deliberate and systematic agitation to have the grants of this railroad increased to $11,000 per mile, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a pliant, plastic tool in the hands of the Globe, consented, and this railway was built at a cost to the country of $2,000,000 in excess of the original contract. As a result of their agitation there was given the Toronto Globe 250,000 acres of the best coal land in America. I charge the Toronto Globe that they used their influence to rob the country that Robert Jaffray and his associates behind the Globe might obtain money."

If that charge is true I shall resign from the editorship of the Globe. If it can be shown as Hon. Mr. Roblin charges, that—quoting now his words as reported in the News—"The Globe did use its influence as a medium of public opinion to induce the Government to rob the people of Canada in order that Mr. Jaffray and his associates might get that money." I shall at once resign. If that charge, in any form, in substance or in fact, can be shown to be true, I shall resign. If the one man who knows all the facts at first hand, and who can speak with unquestioned authority, Mr. J. S. Willison, managing editor of the News—if he will affirm that charge to be true I shall resign.

Mr. Willison was managing editor of the Globe in 1896 and until November, 1902. The "agitation" to which Mr. Roblin refers was begun, continued and ended by him, under his oversight, and by his authority. He is under no obligation to the Globe in the matter, or to Mr. Jaffray, or to me. He sat on the platform in Massey Hall on Wednesday night and heard Hon. Mr. Roblin make his charge. If he will declare that the charge is true, or that Mr. Jaffray or any other man, either directly or indirectly, dictated the policy of the Globe on the matter in question or that such policy was determined and directed as Mr. Roblin states, I shall resign. He knows the facts. Let him speak.

I did not become responsible for the editorial management of the Globe until January, 1903. My editorial associates who have personal knowledge of affairs in 1896, assure me that the charge made by Hon. R. P. Roblin is false, wholly and absolutely false in every sentence and in every inference. If Mr. Willison fails to corroborate the charge, Hon R. P. Roblin stands before the public a slanderer, whose word is not to be believed, and whose campaign of slander against other public men is discredited. This is my answer to Mr. Roblin's challenge.

J. A. MACDONALD

Mr. Roblin will have something to say about Mr. Macdonald's statement at the meeting at the Grand Opera House to-night.

It is proposed to secure in three days 150 new senior members, starting on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and lasting until Thursday night at ten o'clock when the last returns must be handed in.

The plan proposed and being carried out is a team competition. Three teams were selected and each will have fifteen men or as many more as desired up to 25. These are already selected and will be found below;

THE RULES

The rules of the campaign are as follows;

Any men whose membership expired or expires in September or October shall count as a renewal. If it does not expire until after October 31st, it shall not count in this campaign

A junior member is one who has passed his twelfth birthday and has not passed his eighteenth birthday.

Each dollar received from a new member counts two points; each dollar received from a renewal counts one point.

The campaign shall close promptly at ten o'clock Thursday night. An alarm shall be set according to railroad time and when this alarm goes off the building will be closed and only those inside the building will be allowed to report and alphabetically.

Teams may add to their number up to twenty-five.

The team bringing in the largest number of points will be given complimentary tickets to a banquet, the date of the banquet to be announced later.

The individual who brings in five or more new members will also be given a complimentary ticket to the banquet.

DISPLAY OF LIVE STOCK AT FAIR WAS VERY CREDITABLE

Speaking of the live stock at the Peterborough fair, the Canadian Dairyman and Farming World says: Aside from horses the live stock exhibited at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition last week was not particularly strong in point of numbers. Ayrshires and Holsteins failed to put in an appearance. Some very good Jerseys were shown; the Shorthorns made quite a creditable display. There were several good specimens of Aberdeen Angus exhibited. The major portion of the judging was done on Friday with the exception of horses, most of which were left till Saturday.

HORSES.

The horses made a very creditable display, exhibits being more numerous than ever before. They took all the stalls as well as a part of the cattle sheds to accommodate the exhibits. In the heavy draught classes S. Redmond, J. F. Buckham, S. Deyell, James Baptie, D. J. Crowley, George Ward and J. Johnson were the principal winners. The principal winners in the agricultural class were John Knox, S. Deyell, E. Wood, S. Redmond, George Ward and E. Switzer.

CATTLE.

Some really good Durham cattle were to be seen, chief among which were those owned by Mr. S. Redmond. John Garbutt and J. Johnston were also successful exhibitors. Mr. J. A. McLeod, of Binbrook, exhibited the herd of Aberdeen angus. Several very creditable animals were shown. Thomas B. Gibbs was his sole competitor. In the grade beef cattle S. Redmond showed three very good animals.

The Jerseys on exhibition were not showing at their best owing to having been brought fresh from the pasture. The only exhibitors were E. White and Colin Lees. Mr. White had several very good individuals. Probably the strongest class of dairy cattle were shown as grades. S. Redmond had three entered. Two of them were good dairy cows and were a credit to the exhibition. Mr. Redmond won first also on a grade Ayrshire cow. Mr. Jas. A. Reid took first on an exceptionally nice Jersey cow.

SHEEP.

Five different breeds in all were represented in the sheep exhibits, Southdowns, Oxfords, Shrops, Leicesters and Cotswolds. Mr. H. A. Holdsworth showed an exceptionally fine exhibit of Southdowns. His sole competitor was C. H. Curtis. Holdsworth, Curtis and H. J. Hall divided the honors in Oxfords, Holdsworth winning the majority of the prizes. Shropshires were represented by C. H. Curtis, R. C. Granby, S. Redmond, the honors being pretty evenly divided between Curtis and Grandy. Leicesters were shown by W. J. Westington and Wm. McKnight; Westington carried off the best of the awards. Robert Stillman and R. Vance & Sons won the Cotswold exhibits. Stillman won the premier honors.

HOGS

The hogs were a very small exhibit. Tamworths and Yorkshires only were to be seen. W. R. Anderson, Thomas Davidson, C. H. Curtis, and W. Brumwell were the exhibitors in the Tamworth class, the honors being evenly divided among the exhibitors. O. Carver, W. Brumwell and W. B. Stewart were the only exhibitors of Yorkshires. W. B. Stewart won the special prize presented by the George Matthews Co, for the best pen of three bacon hogs.

POULTRY

The poultry made one of the best exhibits on the grounds and was the centre of much attraction. The principal winners in the poultry exhibits were, J. W. F. Hall, C. McCarte, G. Stewart, Harry Lush, Howard Outram, M. Bradburn, J. J. Chittick, R. W. Lough, W. Bennett, Jos. Kelly, R. J. Kidd, John Mathieson, J. B. Pentland, S. Oliver, E. Wigg, R. D. Robson, W. Thornton, Jas. Baptie, J. R. Hope, George Southwell, J. J. Cunningham, Miss Neill, R. A. Deyell, L. J. Stewart, S. Bickell

The weather barring a slight shower Friday afternoon was favorable and large crowds attended the exhibition. Did the fair feature its agricultural exhibits rather than the race track and grand stand purposes, it would be of greater value from the standpoint of the agricultural community and would draw more support from the farmers.

The cheese exhibit at the Peterborough fair was very large. There were seven factories exhibiting cheese. The quality of the July cheese particularly was very good. There was a large exhibit of dairy butter. The quality was exceptionally good. There was one lot of butter that was deserving of special mention. The butter was put up in fancy prints, but could not be classed with other butter owing to the form in which it was put up. Some of the butter showed the effect of overripening the cream before churning. This was noticeable in the flavor, but the grain, color and style of package was quite noticeable for its uniformity.—G. G. Publow.

GASHED LEG WITH KNIFE

Frank Hulbert, who is employed in the Cavendish Co's saw mill at Lakefield, met with a severe accident. He was cutting a piece of wood with a pocket knife, when the knife slipped and the blade entered the fleshy part of his leg above the knee, inflicting a deep gash and severing an artery. Medical aid was summoned and the bleeding stopped, but Mr. Hulbert will be laid up for a few days as a result of the accident.

VICTORY IS AHEAD

Conservatives Will Win Says Roblin

Victory in the Air—Quebec Will Show Big Turn-over—Manitoba's Premier Speaks

"Victory is in the air. From the Atlantic to the Pacific there is a sweeping conviction that a change is needed at Ottawa. Just so surely as the voters of Canada go to the polls on October 26 and are allowed to mark their ballots without undue or improper influence just so surely will Mr. Borden be Premier of Canada after October 26th".

This was the statement made to the Review to-day by Hon. R. P. Roblin premier of Manitoba, who is here to-day with Mr. Borden and will speak at the big meeting to-night.

Mr. Roblin has been with Mr. Borden since they opened the campaign at Halifax and has had every opportunity of feeling the pulse of the country.

"There is every indication," continued Mr. Roblin, "that there is going to be a great turnover. At every meeting scores of men have come forward and told us that they were going to vote Conservative this time although they had supported Sir Wilfrid in the previous elections. Those who have given us these assurances were of varied classes—large manufacturers, capitalists, professional men and working men.

The Conservatives will make big gains in the Maritime provinces, I know what the west will do, Ontario can be depended upon to do its duty and nowhere has the Conservative cause aroused more interest than in the province of Quebec. There will be a surprise there. Watch what Quebec will do on October 26th.

FIRST RALLY OF CONSERVATIVES

Will be Held in the Club Rooms on Saturday Evening

There will be a rally of Conservatives at the club rooms, George st., on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. This is the opening of the fight for clean elections. Every Conservative is wanted.

MEMBER OF CAST WELL KNOWN HERE

Mr. Clifford Robertson of "Three Little Maids" Co.—Playing Important Part in the Piece

Mr. Clifford Robertson, who was seen in the cast of "Three Little Maids" at the Grand Opera House last night in a capable portrayal of the character of M. de L'Orme, of the French Embassy, is well-known in Peterborough. He was associated for nine months of last year as teacher of singing, with Mr. R. J. Devey, of this city.

Previous to that he was with Geo. Edwards, of London, England, for six years. From there he went to New York, where he took a course in concert platform work. Mr. Robertson was with the original company of "Three Little Maids" in England. He has a musical tenor voice of lyrical quality and his two numbers, "Love is a Game," and "I'll Dream of You," were thoroughly appreciated by the audience and both numbers won him hearty encores. His numerous local friends will be pleased to see him making such a success of his part in the entertaining comedy with which he is connected.

CITY NEWS NOTES

ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE.

There is evidently great activity in real estate these days. Brown & Co., real estate agents, have during the past two weeks, turned over $22,000 worth of property. This is certainly not an evidence of hard times.

A BORDEN INCIDENT.

Mr. Borden remarked in the rotunda of the Oriental to-day, on being introduced to Mr. Daniel O'Connell, that he had heard that gentleman at the Irish banquet in Montreal and that he really did deserve the good things that were said about him. Some of Mr. O'Connell's friends present, protested against this.

WEDDING BELLS

LEONARD—EDWARDS

A very quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Edwards on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when their eldest daughter, Miss Laura, was united in marriage to Mr. Wesley Leonard. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John Bedford, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride was assisted by her sister Miss Mina Edwards. Mr. W. Leonard brother of the groom, acted as groomsman. After the ceremony, a wedding dejeuner was served, the happy couple then driving to Peterborough, and took the C.P.R. train for Toronto and other points west. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future prosperity and happiness.—Lakefield News.

SOME MUSIC WAS LEFT IN LINDSAY

Of "Three Little Maids"—Orchestra Was Complimented on its Playing

Owing to some of the orchestra parts of "The Three Little Maids," being left in Lindsay last night the orchestra of the local opera house did not make its appearance to accompany the vocalists and play for the dancing until 9.30 o'clock, after the night train from Lindsay came in.

The musical director of the company congratulated Mr. Nicholl, the leader and his musicians on their excellent playing and said the orchestra was the best that had played for the company on the tour. The score of "Three Little Maids," is an exciting one.

POLITICAL NOTES

A writ has been issued against the Chronicle Publishing Company of Halifax, by A. L. Davison, barrister, of Middleton, claiming $5,000 damages for libel. Mr. Davison is the provincial organizer of the Liberal-Conservative party, and is well-known as a temperance man and advocate of purity in elections. The charge made against him by the Chronicle and Echo, in respect of which he claims damages, is that in the Colchester bye-election he was concerned with A. R. Bayne and others, who, it is said, distributed liquor at Five Islands.

The specific charge made against Mr. Davison is that he, with one W. A. Aston, made a midnight trip to Five Islands, with a valise full of whiskey. Mr. Davison claims that the charge made against him is absolutely false, and made to injure his character and reputation.

BORDEN, BURNHAM AND VICTORY IS THE CRY

THOUSANDS GREET CANADA'S COMING PREMIER

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATIVES RALLIED AROUND THEIR LEADER

Leader of Opposition and Hon. Mr. Roblin Arouse Great Enthusiasm at Monster Meeting at the Grand Opera House

Swing of Victory is in the Air--Mr. Burnham's Supporters Confident of His Election--Conservatives Will Sweep the Country

A cheering, enthusiastic audience of over 2,000 people at the Grand Opera House last night greeted Mr. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, and Hon. R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba.

It was the biggest audience that ever assembled at a political meeting in Peterborough in recent years. Its enthusiasm was keen and sharp. There was an atmosphere of victory.

The arrangements for handling the crowd were excellent, the only trouble being that the building was not large enough. Mr. J. J. Turner informed the Review that one thousand people or more had to be turned away. They crowded around the front entrance of the theatre until it became evident that there was going to be over-congestion if something were not done. Then the doors were locked. It was the only thing that could be done.

MR. JAS. KENDRY, EX-M.P.
The Chairman at last night's big meeting

Inside, the scene was one to arouse enthusiasm. Seated on the stage were the distinguished visitors, Messrs. Borden and Roblin, the Conservative candidates for West and East Peterborough, Mr. J. H. Burnham and Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, respectively, and about fifty other stalwarts of the Conservative party. A profusion of flags, bunting and mottoes artistically arranged, added brilliancy to the effect.

The audience — well there was nothing else but audience inside the building. The pit, balcony and the "gods" were completely filled. Small Canadian ensigns were distributed lavishly; everybody had one and there were many occasions for waving them during the evening. Between two and three hundred ladies were present and manifest the deepest interest in the proceedings.

The speakers were Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mr. R. L. Borden, and Hon. R. P. Roblin. Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P.P., made an excellent chairman.

Mottoes were hung on the walls, among them being the following:

HONEST ADMINISTRATION
BORDEN, BURNHAM AND VICTORY.
PURITY IN PUBLIC LIFE.
NO COERCION.
BORDEN, OUR NEXT PREMIER.
SECRET BALLOT.
NO ORIENTAL CHEAP LABOR

Those on the platform were R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, Hon. R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba, J. H. Burnham, Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P.P. M. A. Morrison, B. F. Ackerman, R. M. Roy, R. T. SOME IMPRESSIONS

"Boodle and Bungle" sum up the attacking portions of Mr. Borden's speech. Boodle — in the list of scandals which he rapidly enumerated; it is a familiar list, but none the less an ugly one.

Bungle — in the reckless expenditure of public moneys, in the mismanagement of the Japanese immigration problem, and in impurity in election methods. Mr. Borden also paid his respects to the Globe.

Mr. Roblin contributed an attack on the administrative record of the government which his skill in interesting and arousing his audience rendered very effective. He selected half a dozen instances of maladministration and outlined their details, thus carrying on Mr. Borden's attack. Mr. Roblin's skill in holding the audience, apart from the specific statements he made, was a feature of the evening. His vigorous attack on Rev. J. A. MacDonald and the Globe aroused great enthusiasm.

THE PROCESSION

Headed by the 57th regimental band, the procession to the opera house started from the Oriental hotel, sharp at half past seven. Long before this hour the streets were lined with throngs of people awaiting the parade to commence. All along the route the crowd followed and from every vantage point the procession was viewed by huge gatherings of onlookers. The route was along Hunter street to the post office; down Water street to Charlotte street, and thence to George street to the opera house.

The band was followed by a large number of boys and young men who carried torchlights of all colors, which made a decidedly pretty illumination. The distinguished visitors drove in the first cab and the local speakers were in the second one.

Preceding the parade a fine display of fireworks was given from the windows of the Oriental. At the opera house the band rendered several selections outside before the opening of the meeting.

THE MEETING OPENS

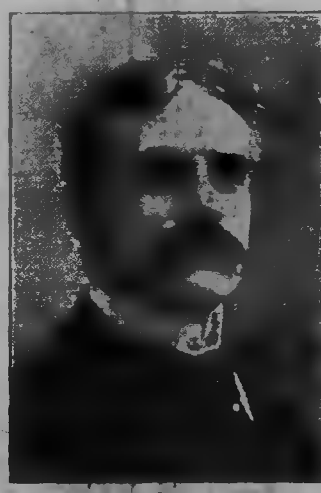
A few minutes after eight o'clock the speech-making commenced.

Mr. Kendrey spoke a few words of introduction.

"We will now proceed to open our meeting," he said, "and I have great pleasure in introducing to you the coming premier on the 26th of October." (Cheers.)

He also introduced Mr. Burnham as the candidate who would be successful in West Peterborough. (Prolonged cheering.)

Mr. Borden was the greatest statesman in Canada and his worth was appreciated by all the House of Commons. No numbered ballots will be used this time and Mr. Stratton never won an election in his life except when marked ballots were used, and by trickery. He will find great difficulty when he has to tackle Mr. Burnham. The speaker had been many years in politics in Peterborough, and he defied anyone to say that he had not fought them squarely. He said that Stratton expected to be elected by bribery and illicit means. Mr. Stratton cannot buy West Peterborough. He asked the voters to support Mr. Burnham at the coming election. He called upon the electors to support Mr. Burnham and had much pleasure in introducing him as the next speaker.



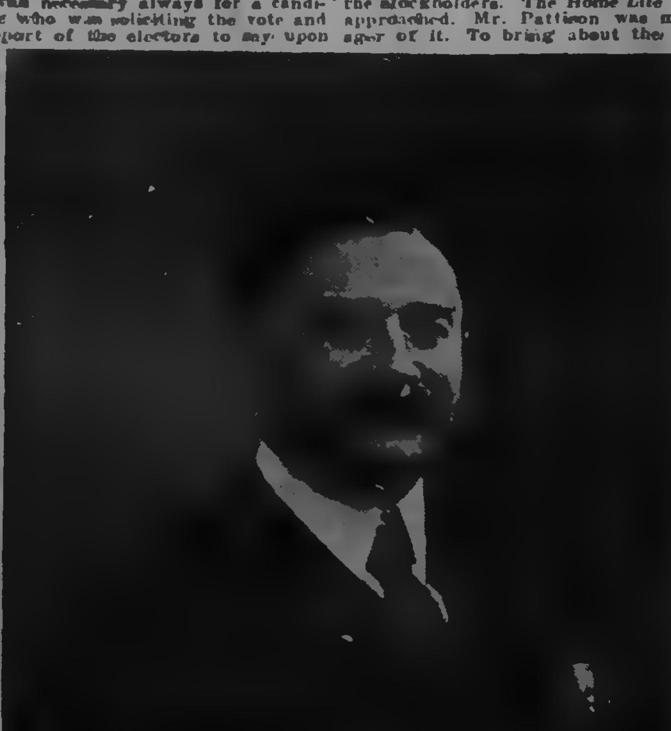
MR. R. L. BORDEN.
Leader of the Opposition, who gave a masterly oration last night.

Tumultuous applause greeted the Conservative candidate and the reception was a most flattering one and must have been very encouraging to him.

ADDRESS OF MR. BURNHAM

Takes Mr. Stratton to Task for His Conduct in Management of Home Life Co.

Mr. Burnham, the Liberal-Conservative candidate, began by apologizing to the audience for presuming upon their patience when Mr. Roblin and Mr. Borden were to speak. However, it was necessary always for a candidate who was soliciting the vote and support of the electors to say upon what grounds he did so. First of all he might say that he was chosen by the Conservative convention as the Conservative standard-bearer, or he would not now be before them at all. The question of politics he would leave altogether to his leaders. He would concern himself with the main issue between himself and Mr. Stratton, that is their suitability as representatives. It was not pleasant for a man to have to contrast himself with another man under any circumstances, but some times these things had to be done. Mr. Stratton was fond of dwelling upon his own business capacity as contrasted with that of the speaker. Mr. Burnham could say what perhaps few knew, that he had been the manager of several trust estates for a number of years, totalling not less than seventy-five thousand dollars, besides other trusts of a like character, and he had made a success of them financially and as a trustee. There had not been in any of his business transactions a shadow of a stain left upon him, and had he been so minded he could have, of course, broken his trust and enriched himself. It was needless to say that he claimed no credit for not doing so, or for behaving himself with the common honesty which is found in all walks of life, although chiefly amongst those whose daily duties are known as "the round of daily toil." He regretted, however, to have to expose the boasting of his opponent in this particular. Mr. Stratton, as president of a small insurance company in Toronto, had been haled before the Royal Parliamentary Commission, appointed by the Laurier Government, at the general demand of the newspapers, the public and Parliament, to inquire into the unsatisfactory condition of certain life insurance companies in Canada. You know, life insurance companies have presented occasionally, some strange irregularities. That with which Mr. Stratton had most to do presented perhaps, the strangest of all. The story which the speaker wished to call the attention of the audience to was briefly this: Mr. Stratton was connected with the Dominion Permanent Loan Company. He became president of the People's Life Insurance Company. These two companies acquired some of each other's securities. The People's Life began to go to pieces. It became necessary to look around for some company to unload it upon. It was necessary to get one to take over the People's Life insurance and incidentally save the stockholders. The Home Life was approached. Mr. Pattison was manager of it. To bring about the end desired by Mr. Stratton, it was necessary for the People's Life, while amalgamating with the Home Life, to get control of the latter. The reason will appear as you follow out the evidence. Mr. Pattison could accomplish this for Mr. Stratton, but his own contract with the Home Life stood in the way. He demanded $100,000 (one hundred thousand) for the ten years of his salary, yet to run, and of course for bringing about the hoped for salvation of the People's Life in the proposed amalgamation. Mr. Stratton agreed to give him $90,000 (ninety thousand.) The bargain was closed at that. Before Mr. Pattison would deliver the goods however, he wanted his money. When the great day came it was necessary for Mr. Stratton to raise that $90,000. The security for that sum, which was to be borrowed from the bank, was to be the note and agreement with the amalgamated companies, of Mr. McCutcheon, their new manager. Mr. McCutcheon was to receive a handsome salary and extras. The McCutcheon agreement was put through with the board of directors, without, at any rate, the old Home Life members of it knowing anything about the extras, which were designed to pay the $90,000. It was cunningly worked. This McCutcheon agreement and McCutcheon's note were to be the security for the repayment to the bank of the $90,000, but it was the extras, as we may call them, that were to pay that sum. So you see the new company was paying that full amount of $90,000 and bore the burden of it from that time on. Meantime, on the great day, Mr. Pattison wanted his money before the Board met and the transfer was to slide through. Mr. Stratton raised that money for the time being on his own cheque. He paid Mr. Pattison $80,000 and kept the other ten thousand himself. The evidence in the Blue Book proves it all. It is quite plain. When the Commission asked him about it, he said that he had issued a cheque back to Mr. McCutcheon for the ten thousand at the time, although at the date of giving his evidence, nearly one year afterwards, he acknowledged that he still had the ten thousand which he had deposited in Peterborough, and moreover, the liability of Mr. McCutcheon and the Home Life, had never been reduced by the ten thousand and moreover, also, Mr. McCutcheon swore that he had no idea that the amount paid to Mr. Pattison had been reduced to eighty thousand dollars instead of ninety, and also, if he had known it he would not have signed the agreement to give his note and other security for $90,000 to the bank. The report of the Commission finds that Mr. Stratton really demanded a rake-off from Pattison of ten thousand dollars and got it. The sum given Pattison for his contract was an immensely fat one, so he divided up. It is needless to say that no one but the parties concerned knew of the divvy up. Mr. Stratton, then, was guilty of a piece of pure unadulterated graft, which, if it had been a loaf of bread in the hands of a starving woman, would have been treated pretty seriously. But what was worse even than the graft, was the effort Mr. Stratton made before the Commission to cover up his graft. He swore point-blank that the sum paid Pattison was $80,000, that it was paid by his (Stratton's) cheque, for that amount, and that he himself got no consideration whatever, out of the deal. When the Commission began to enquire into the McCutcheon security the 90 instead of the 80, had to come out. Then Stratton said the sum paid Pattison was 90, and not 80, and that there was no cheque for $80,000, and that he had made "a slip." Then as to the manner of payment to Pattison. Stratton issued a cheque, he swore, for $90,000, and the cash was brought to his office. Then he swore that he had gone to the bank with Mr. Pattison, got the money there, and paid him the $80,000 there.



MR. J. H. BURNHAM.
The Conservative candidate for West Peterborough.

Then on another occasion when recalled, he "slipped" still farther and swore that he had the money before he went to the bank, that he had $90,000 in his pocket in Dominion of Canada certificates. Mr. Burnham said he had not time to go into the omission of the ten thousand from the items in Mr. Stratton's bankbook, although it was included in the balance all right. The omission had not been discovered until the Commission asked for the book, although the bank book had been checked over as usual in the bank and ticked off. The full report of the Commission on the whole affair is too long to quote here, but it is well summarized in the extract we furnish you, which shows what the Commissioners thought of Mr. Stratton. Graft and false swearing may be evidences of capacity, but is it the sort of capacity you want?

MR. BRADBURN

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., was called upon to speak and was received with hearty cheers and applause. His remarks were brief. He asked those present for the support of Mr. Burnham, and to return him in West Peterborough with an overwhelming majority. In doing so they would be supporting Mr. Borden and honest government.

Laurier Government Scored for its Mis-deeds---Policy of Boodle and Bungle

When Mr. Borden arose to speak, there was a scene of unbounded enthusiasm. The audience rose en masse and cheered and waved flags. The band struck up the "Maple Leaf Forever," and it was over a minute before the speaker could proceed.

"Mr. chairman, ladies and gentlemen," he began, "it is unnecessary for me to state how flattered I am at the hearty reception I have received tonight. I am delighted to see so many ladies present. A friend of mine down by the sea said the other day that every married lady in this country controls one vote and that every single lady controls from three to five. The presence of the ladies testified their appreciation of the Conservative cause and an intelligent interest in the public affairs of the Dominion. If the party of which he had the honor to be the leader had the support of the ladies they were assured of victory.

THE BORDEN MEETING

The Borden meeting was a tremendous success. The Grand Opera House was literally packed from pit to dome. The presence of a large number of ladies was a very pleasant feature of the evening, and was referred to by the speakers in terms of grateful appreciation. Mr. Borden spoke for over an hour in the statesmanlike manner characteristic of him. Mr. Roblin is a campaign orator of the first magnitude in every way. His finely rounded and slashing utterances carried conviction, and elicited great applause. Mr. Kendry made as usual an affable and capable chairman. A large number of representative citizens thronged the platform. Mr. Stevenson, ex-M.P., amongst others was feeling the infirmities of age and did not feel equal to attending. He called upon Mr. Borden, however, at the Oriental and renewed old times in a pleasant chat. The full report of the meeting will be found elsewhere. It was one of the greatest meetings ever held anywhere in Canada and will long be remembered by those who had the privilege of attending. Next month Hon. W. J. Hanna and Mr. Gamey will be here.

A SURVEY WILL HAVE TO BE MADE

Mr. Chipman, the expert who is here in connection with the outfall sewer matter states that a survey of the whole southern portion of the city from the Canadian General Electric Company's plant south to the river and west to the boundary line or even further will have to be made for sewer purposes, before the city can hope to successfully overcome the present difficulties or to provide for the future growth.

Mr. Chipman has requested the Board of Works to recommend the council at its next meeting to authorize the expenditure of sufficient money to have the survey work done. This will take about two weeks' time and the expense will be nothing as compared with the value of the information. When Mr. Chipman has made this survey he will then advise the Board of Works of what course to pursue.

NO PROSPECTS FOR RELIEF

From Low Water Prevailing in Lindsay River and Sturgeon Lake

The prospects of a relief from low water in Lindsay river and Sturgeon lake are not remote.

Last evening a joint meeting of the village commissioners and the council of Bobcaygeon was held to consider a letter received from the Government which notified them that the water would be let into the new dam at Little Bob as soon as the dam was completed, which would be in about three weeks. It would therefore be necessary to back the water up on the old dam which would drown the wheels now in the old Boyd mill.

The contract for the power house had been let, but the contractor withdrew his tender and the commissioners accepted a tender from Messrs. McCoy & Wilford, of this town, to go on with the work at once. The contract prices are $500 for unwatering, $3 per yard for excavating and $6.00 per yard for concrete. The village plant will be located at the north end of the dam at a 12-foot sluice-way provided in the government dam. They will put in two wheels, one of which will in all probability, be a new one.—Lindsay Post.

THE CITIZENS OF HAVELOCK FEAR AN OUTBREAK OF FIRE

There is No Fire Engine, No Water for Hose, Wells are Dry and There is No Water in the Two Creeks

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Sept. 26.—If the 1,500 souls comprising the village of Havelock were to awake in the depths of the stilly night to find the monstrous flames of fire leaping from the heights of the buildings into the starry night, to see that awful destroyer, fire, cutting its way through the centre of the village, licking up their homes, and destroying the work of years, what could they do?

This is the question which the citizens of Havelock are whispering to each other during the day and thinking and dreaming of during the silent night.

Without fire protection of any kind, what could the people of Havelock do to fight fire at the present time? No fire engine, no water for the hose at the C.P.R. station, and with half the wheels in town, with not a drop of water in and even the two creeks that run through the town, dry, what would be the prospects of putting out a fire that had made any headway?

The recent fire, which licked up in a very short time $45 000 of property when there was no wind to fan it, is a warning to Havelock to provide protection for their homes from fire that may visit them any time.

Havelock has good protection as far as it goes in the determined men which compose the famous bucket brigade, but with a strong wind it would be of no use.

At the recent fire there was no wind, and the men had time to soak well the buildings around the fire belt, but it may not be the same the next time. The village is supposed to own a large number of pails for fire purposes but they could not be found and the hardware men had a good sale of pails when they had been awakened and made their way to their shops while the flames, with no check at all, continued to spread.

The late dry spell which is causing such large fires in the north country is bringing the idea of fire protection before the people, especially when they realize what a fire with any start would do.

Some years ago the Council tried to see what the people thought about fire protection and therefore sent out circulars describing the kind of fire protection they thought best, and the cost. With each circular they sent a ballot on which to vote for or against the scheme. There were 270 slips sent out and only 85 were received back, there being 185 who did not know whether they were for or against it. Of those received 60 were marked "Yes" and 25 were marked "No." The Council did not consider that there was enough voted on the proposition for them to take action and so the matter was dropped. The Council did purchase ladders and a large number of fire pails but they were not to be found at the recent fire.

BUSH FIRES STILL RAGING IN THE NORTHERN DISTRICT

Clear Space is Burnt Direct From Chandos to Round Lake—No Water For the Threshers

Special to the Review

Havelock, Sept. 26.—The fire still continues to be very bad in the north country keeping the farmers continually on the qui vive. It is reported that a clear space is burnt direct from Chandos through Methuen to Round Lake. Besides burning a lot of valuable timber it works its way under the ground undermining the trees and causing them to fall. The farmers back of Round Lake are kept busy keeping the fire away from their homes and hay which is stacked out. They fight the fire with fire. If the fire endangers their home, they go ahead and burnt a spot out and when the main mass of fire reaches the burnt spot, it can go no further. The fire has also swept many valuable marshes which the farmers prize highly, for the marsh hay on which they nearly depend. One of the largest of these is the Gilmore marsh, where the farmers had about 150 tons of marsh hay stacked. The fire was making direct for it so they had to do something to save the hay. They therefore soak a few acres of land and burnt everything off it, and stacked the hay in the centre, and it was therefore impossible for the fire to reach it. It has been reported that the Oak Lake cheese factory was burnt, but the report is untrue. For some time there was a fire making direct for Havelock from the north-east, and many of the citizens were alarmed but it has lately changed its course and gone north-west towards Round Lake.

The dry spell has also made water very scarce, both in the village and in the country. In the village one man can go to his neighbor for water when he wants it, but in the country it is different. There are a large number of farmers who had to dig new wells recently, and even now a lot of cattle do not have near enough water.

The creek running through Havelock has dried up, thus causing the C.P.R. engines to go down three miles, where a creek has been dammed back and an engine and tank installed.

Mr. Spencer, who runs a sawmill to the north of the village, has had to draw water this year for the first time since he built the mill.

The threshers are finding great difficulty in getting water for the engines and have to go long distances for it some times.

And last, but not least, the dry spell is affecting the milkmen, and they are talking of a raise in the price of milk. Whether it is a scarcity in water for their cows or something else, it is not safe to say, but anyway, there is a great decrease in the amount of milk, which will effect the price of milk, butter and cheese.

The ground is so dry that it is impossible to plough, and the farmers are wearing a frown which only a two days' rain will wash off. Business in town is not so brisk lately either. The farmers are either afraid to leave home on account of money or they fear it is going to be a hard winter and they are saving their loose change.

MEN FOUND GUILTY OF ROBBING CARS GIVEN SEVERE SENTENCE

Grand Trunk Employees Found Guilty of Stealing Leaf Tobacco and Grain, at Belleville, Sent to Pen for Two Years

Belleville, Sept. 25.—There was an atmosphere of pained surprise in the police court room this morning, when Magistrate Masson handed out a stiff sentence to Allan Stapely and Patrick McHugh, whom he had found guilty of car robbery.

Two years in the Kingston Penitentiary was the sentence meted out.

The men in question are two Grand Trunk Railway employees, who were convicted of stealing some leaf tobacco and grain from the company's freight cars here.

When court opened this morning, Mr. Carnew, for the accused, made an able appeal on their behalf, alleging that the men did not steal from the cars, but simply picked up the tobacco and grain from off the track, where it was spilled from defective cars. He appealed for leniency on account of the men's families.

Mr. Anderson, County Attorney, in presenting the Crown's case, contended from the evidence it was clear the articles were taken from cars and not spilled out as contended by the accused.

Magistrate Masson, in summing up the evidence, stated he had no doubt the accused stole from the cars and he would have to find them guilty, which he did, and imposed the above sentence.

From their appearance it was evident that McHugh and Stapely were not prepared for such a stiff sentence. Both are married men, the former having a family of six children and the latter three.

Their wives were in court at the time and were overcome when the sentence was imposed.

The prisoners were car-tappers at the local station.

BAD WRECK IN SNOWSTORM TWENTY KILLED, MANY INJURED

C. B. & Q. Train, Running Over the Northern Pacific Lines Near Livingston, Mont., Crashes Into Freight—Not a Passenger in Smoker Escaped Death or Injury

Livingston, Mont., Sept. 26.—Plowing through a snowstorm, eastward bound, a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train, running over the Northern Pacific Railroad yesterday, crashed head-on into a freight train at Young's Point, where the trains were to pass, and in the demolition that ensued a score of persons were injured, several probably fatally.

The freight flag man failed to signal the passenger train in time to prevent the collision, it is said, because of the blinding snow.

The express car telescoped with the smoking car, and most of the fatalities and injuries were of persons in the latter car. The express car was raised over the platform of the smoking car and the superstructure swept the seats away. Not a passenger in the smoking car escaped death or injury. Passengers in other cars escaped with cuts and bruises.

On the train was the Spokane delegation to the national irrigation congress at Albuquerque. None of these were injured.

Fireman Ora Babcock jumped and was killed, striking his head. Milo Halloway, a brakeman, was killed.

The smoking car debris was hopelessly mixed with heads, bodies, legs and arms, presenting a horrible sight.

In one place seven bodies were so tightly wedged together that they were separated only with great difficulty. It was impossible to succor the wounded without trampling on the dead.

Among the injured are: R. A. Rickers, Billings, Mont., may die; Jan. S. Westerney, may die; Sam Solomowitz, both legs broken, may die; Anton Bowcits, Helena, may die.

Wrecking and relief trains were sent out from Livingston and Billings.

The freight, which was an extra west-bound, in charge of Conductor Hickey, was heading into the east end of the siding on short time when the passenger train, running into the blinding snowstorm, struck it.

Engersoll is in a serious condition.

Car Inspectors Go to Jail.

Belleville, Sept. 26.—In the Police Court yesterday morning, Police Magistrate Masson sentenced Patrick McHugh and Allen Stapley, two Grand Trunk car inspectors, employed in the local yards, to two years in the Penitentiary on two charges of entering and stealing grain and tobacco from sealed cars several days ago.

The sentence came as a big surprise. The men are both married, with families, and old employes of the road.

Marechal In Field.

Montreal, Sept. 26.—T. Marechal was unanimously nominated last evening as the Conservative candidate in St. Mary's, Tarte's old constituency. He denounced as a "monstrous doctrine" that no one could rise in this county who opposed Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Practical Joke May Kill.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Andrew Babo was taken from Buffington, Ind., to the South Chicago Hospital of the Illinois Steel Co. with his vital organs torn by a jet of compressed air. He probably will die. He is the victim of a practical joke.

More Strike-Breakers Arriving.

Montreal, Sept. 26.—The C.P.R. put on seventeen machinists yesterday morning, one of whom was a striker. One hundred and fifty British strike-breakers who sailed by the Empress of Britain will arrive in Montreal to-day.

Expressage Too Costly.

FIVE BROKERS ARE JAILED MEMBERS OF FIRM ARRESTED

Charge of Grand Larceny is Preferred Against Members of Concern in Whose Recent Failure Many Canadians Suffered

New York, Sept. 25.—Albert O. Brown, Edward F. Buchanan, W. Rhea Whitman and Lewis Ginter Young, comprising the failed firm of A. O. Brown & Co., stock brokers, were arrested yesterday on a charge of grand larceny as they were leaving a federal court-room, where they were being examined before a United States commissioner.

Samuel C. Brown, brother of A. O. Brown, and an associate member of the firm, was taken into custody while the detectives were on the way to police headquarters with their prisoners.

There the five prisoners were taken before the official photographer and their photographs, measurements and finger-prints taken for the police records.

The arrests follow the investigation into the firm's condition, which has been in progress several days under the direction of ex-Congressman C. T. Littlefield, who had been named as receiver.

The specific charge on which the warrants were issued was made by Miss Helen A. Abernethy, who declares that a few days before the failure of the firm she purchased 20 shares of Missouri, Kansas & Texas stock, valued at $600, and twenty-five shares of United States Steel, valued at $1,184, and left it with the firm of A. O. Brown & Co. for safe-keeping. She alleges that the stock now is not in the possession of the receiver, nor is it in the company's offices.

Only a few minutes before the five partners were taken into custody, the cashier for the firm had testified at the hearing that a large number of bonds should have been in the strong box at the company's office on the day of the failure. This was a flat contradiction of testimony given by previous witnesses.

Labor Congress Favors Getting Opinion on Lemieux Act.

Halifax, Sept. 26.—The Trades and Labor Congress yesterday unanimously resolved to affiliate with the Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada, and with similar unanimity endorsed the church and labor conferences that they have been promoting.

In connection with the question of immigration a resolution was adopted re-affirming the position of the congress as expressed at Victoria against all assisted immigration, enumerating among classes not desirable Chinese, Hindoos and all Asiatics. Subsequently a resolution was passed calling for the exclusion of all Asiatics from Canada.

The congress by resolution endorsed the striking machinists of the C.P.R. and recommended all local unions to render any assistance possible.

A resolution was also passed calling on the Provincial Government of Quebec to grant free education, pledging the support of the executive to carry the matter to a successful issue.

A resolution was adopted condemning the Senate of Canada for opposing co-operative corporations, which have been established in Great Britain, France and Germany for fifty years with success. Congress demanded that the Dominion Government "incorporate in our laws the inalienable rights of our people to so combine."

The following resolution was adopted: "That affiliated trades immediately affected by the Lemieux bill be requested to submit to the executive council of the congress the necessary amendments to make the bill effective from the working class standpoint, and that the executive council be instructed to obtain these amendments to the act, and that in the event of the Government refusing to grant these amendments, a referendum on the advisability of repealing the act be submitted to the trades affected by the act, and that the congress pledge itself to abide by the vote.

Keir Hardie was presented with a gold-headed cane by the congress after an address on labor and socialism.

LEMIEUX ACT FAULTY.

Men Always Forced to Take Initiative, Says Strikers.

North Bay, Sept. 26.—D. S. Lyons, secretary of the Local Federation of Trades and president of the Machinists' Union, discussing the C.P.R. strike yesterday, said:

"What we object to in the Lemieux Act is that it always forces the men to do the asking for a conciliation board. If we want wages raised we must ask the company. The company can lower our wages if they like without permission, and we have to do the protesting.

"What we want is the law changed so as to force the party altering wages to get the conciliation board to give its consent."

Libel on Canada.

London, Sept. 26.—(C.A.P.)—The Freeman's Journal says the letters from Canada are the most effective methods of restricting emigration. At present, according to these, towns are feeding hundreds of unemployed. Work for insignificant wages is not discoverable. In the mining camp of British Columbia things are becoming worse daily, there being armies of unemployed, and similar conditions prevailing in a number of camps. This, too, says The Journal, in a year with a bumper harvest.

Arrested For Fraud.

Toronto, Sept. 26.—Charged with fraudulent use of the mails Fred. George Cubbidge, ex-church usher, ex-Sunday school teacher and at present engaged in city missionary work, was arrested in Yonge street yesterday. Cubbidge has been advertising locally for workers willing to address envelopes at $5 per thousand. It further asks that as an assurance of sincerity the correspondent enclose 25 cents with the reply.

To the police Cubbidge admitted that the game was fraudulent.

British Ship Builders Lose.

KINDLING TOOK FIRE FROM STOVE

Damage Done at Home of Mrs. Irwin, Smith St. Last Night

Damage by fire to the extent of twenty-two dollars was done to the home of Mrs. Irwin, 300 Smith street, last evening. At the time the fire broke out, about 10.35, there was no one in the house. The conflagration is said to have originated from a pile of kindling wood becoming ignited from the stove. Mrs. Irwin left a hot fire in the stove beside which were hanging some clothes, when she went out.

The floor in the kitchen was considerably burned and the plaster in the wall was somewhat destroyed. The blaze was soon put out by the quick action of the brigade. The house was owned by Mr. Jas. Chatten.

MINISTRY HERE IS COMPLETED

Rev. Dr. Foster Will Finish His Work at St. John's Church To-morrow

To-morrow completes the two months services of Rev. Dr. Foster, of Steubenville, Ohio, as priest in charge of St. John's parish. The ministrations of the reverend gentleman have certainly not been of a holiday character, his whole time having been given to the parish. In the pulpit Dr. Foster presents his subjects from the Word of God, purely, with no twisting of the text, but as he stated in one of his sermons, "the plain words of scripture are good enough for me." The liturgical rendition of the services either sung or said by Dr. Foster is clear and dignified, and truly in accord with the best traditions of the old historic church.

The best wishes of St. John's congregation for his welfare will go with Dr. Foster when he leaves the city on Monday morning next.

ROBERT GANTHONY
Who will be seen in the "Tyranny of Tears" at The Grand Wednesday, Sept. 30th. Plan opens Monday at the box office.

SOMETHING ABOUT ROBT. GANTHONY

Who Will be Seen at the Grand Wednesday, Sept. 30th, in the Tyranny of Tears

When going from New York to Bermuda to open the Opera House at Hamilton, a tall, gaunt American from Arizona, took a fancy to Mr. Ganthony and gave him his confidence.

"This is my first sea voyage," he said, "and my brother told me that I should be sick, and advised me to take out my false teeth and wrap them up in a piece of paper and keep them in my pocket till I landed."

"Have you done so?" enquired the entertainer.

"No, I feel so hungry. I'll do it after breakfast."

He ate a heavy breakfast, and meeting Mr. Ganthony on deck, the entertainer asked him if he had his teeth in his pocket as he had been instructed.

"No," he said, "I feel so hungry."

"But you have just had breakfast."

"I know, but that don't seem to make no difference. When do we eat again?"

"There will be bouillon at eleven o'clock."

"Can't wait."

"Then get some sandwiches."

He had some sandwiches, then the bouillon, then a heavy lunch and dinner. That sea air to which the man was not accustomed made him voracious. He ate tremendously all the voyage. When the Bermudian landed her passengers at Hamilton, the American wished the entertainer goodbye, when the following conversation concluded the story.

"Will you be seeing that brother of yours soon?"

"Why, yes, as soon as I get back to Arizona."

"Then tell him not to advise you to put your teeth in your pocket when you start on a voyage, but to put a new set in your pocket so that when you have worn out the old set on the voyage you will have some to eat with when you get on shore."

He thought the advice good and the joke passable for he shook the actor by the hand with a smile on his face and each departed for their separate hotels.

INCORRIGIBLE BOY SENT TO MIMICO SCHOOL TO-DAY

Walter Moore, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. David J. Moore, Murray street, was sent to the Mimico school for boys this morning, at the Police Court. Moore is an incorrigible lad and it is only about two weeks ago that he was before the Magistrate and then promised to be a good boy. The Public school inspector refused to have him at school as he was such a mischief maker.

His father, in the witness box this morning admitted that he could do nothing with him.

He pleaded guilty in court to-day to stealing a bicycle, which he took apart and sold pieces of it to two bicycle dealers in this city. One merchant refused to buy the frame of the wheel until the youth could get a note from his mother. Moore cunningly wrote one in order to dispose of it. He will be confined to the Mimico school for an indefinite period not exceeding five years. He will be taken there at once.

HOAGLAND THINKS THAT JIM HARRISON RANKS WITH THE TOP NOTCH PEDESTRIANS

The following letter has been received by Jim Harrison, Peterborough's star pedestrian, from Hoagland the American champion:

Friend Harrison.—I thought I would write you and see what the prospects were for a race in Peterborough this fall. I wrote to Chris Graham and asked him to manage a race as he could surely make it a big success. We could surely get a good field of starters as you have some good men over there now. I wish you would send me the address of Stacy. There are to be some good races over here this winter and I wish you would come and take part in some of them. You are as good as anyone and sure of a prize. We are to have one in this city soon and I will keep you posted, so you can enter. I think it will be three hours a night for four nights. Send me a list and addresses of all the walkers in Peterborough. I am feeling about as usual and hope this finds you in good health.

Give my regards to all my friends, and answer soon,

Yours truly,
W. A. HOAGLAND.
6 State St.
Auburn, N.Y.

Harrison is considering whether or not he will go to the other side.

"Stacey won't be able to walk again this year," he said to the Review last night. "His doctor has ordered him not to."

CONKLE DIDN'T GET FALL HURTUBISE WON BOUT

Welterweight Champion Undertook Too Big a Task —Was to Have Thrown Gene Twice in an Hour —The Match Was Interesting

Special to the Review.

Hamilton, Nov. 26.—Charlie Conkle welterweight champion, struck somewhat of a snag last night when he undertook to throw, Gene Hurtubise, the Peterborough heavyweight, twice in an hour. The football player proved too strong for the clever local grappler, who wrestled in magnificent form, although he couldn't secure a fall during the sixty minutes.

Conkle worked like a whirlwind and went right after the big fellow from the start. He seemed to realize that he had a mighty big proposition to handle and didn't lag for an instant. He tried all the holds and locks he knew and gave a beautiful demonstration of the catch as catch can game.

Hurtubise defended himself well, however, and seemed content to stay the limit without attempting to topple the agile Charlie.

The crowd was well pleased with the match. Billy Carroll, of Hamilton, refereed satisfactorily. Hurtubise's interests were looked after by his Manager Chris Graham, of Peterborough.

Mr. Chris Graham sent the following telegram:

"Conkle couldn't get a fall, so lost the bout. Gene wrestled magnificently."

SENIOR BASKET BALL LEAGUE WAS FORMED

At the Y. M. C. A. Last Night---Officers Elected

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the senior basket ball players of the local Y.M.C.A. was held last night in the Association parlor. The physical director, Mr. Collings, was in the chair and gave a short outline of the work for the season.

It was decided to form a basket ball club which would have control of the gymnasium games during the coming season.

Pres., Ray Best.
Vice-Pres., S. Laing.
Sec.-Treas., D. Sutherland.

As a consequence of the meeting, a handicap league will be formed and a schedule run off. Any team wishing to enter the series can do so by notifying the physical director before October 1st.

An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged in connection with the league.

THE RING

San Francisco, Cal., September 25—Battling Nelson will start for Chicago on Saturday to take up some of his theatrical engagements. He has been the attraction at a melodrama here, in which he socks five or six bums in every act, and has the curtain go down with the heroine in his embrace. The leading woman in this piece is always getting into trouble over something or other and she always strikes her difficulties at a time when some of the Bowery element are around. But they can't lose Bat. He rushes in —left lower entrance —and fells them all. It does not teach the girl a bit of caution, though. The next act, finds her in trouble again and Bat. has to enter once more at the right entrance, and do the knocking down act again.

His lecturing stunt will come in when he joins the moving pictures. He is going to describe the fight in detail and point but just when the blows were most effective.

TENNIS

The finals in the mixed doubles of the St. John's A.Y.P.U. Tennis Club will be played this afternoon at the Nicholls Oval.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE ALLEYS

Mayor Rush and Mr. Vincent Eastwood Will Trundle First Balls at Y.M.C.A.

The formal opening of the new bowling alleys at the Y.M.C.A. will take place on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The first balls will be trundled by His Worship Mayor Rush and Mr. Vincent Eastwood, 1st vice-president of the Y.M.C.A. The alleys are as good as any in the province and will be largely patronized. There will be a large number present for the opening.

DUNLOP ROAD RACE ON OCT. 3

Local Y.M.C.A. Will Not Send up a Team This Year

The local Y.M.C.A. has been requested to enter men in the Dunlop road race in Toronto on October 3rd The Central Y.M.C.A. in Toronto, won the championship for two years. The West End won it last year and in case the Central wins this year the trophy will be theirs.

No team will be sent from Peterborough this year.

CAN JACK TAIT TRIM LONGBOAT

"I don't care what anybody says. I won't start Tom Longboat against Jack Tait, Fred Meadows, Sellen, and that bunch of crackerjacks, in Saturday's five mile championship at Varsity," said Tom Flanagan of the I.C. A.C., to-day. "The Indian is training for the big road race, and while I think he is a better five-miler than any of them, I am not going to ask him to run again this week against men who are right on edge for five miles. Tait and Meadows will have enough to do to look after Sellen and Black of our club, and Galbraith and Near of the Centrals without shouting for a crack at Tom Longboat. I'll let the Indian run a handicap mile with Black Smoke, of Coboconk, Henry Jackson, Wesley Peters, or Fred Simpson, or any other Indian for them, but he don't start in that five-mile race."

There will be four of the keenest sort of races Saturday, and the man who wins either one will know he has been running. The hottest one should be the five-mile between Tait, Fred Meadows, Bredin, Galbraith, and Percy Sellen. All are in grand shape. The mile race between Arnold Knox, who has been winning regularly around here, Chuck Skene, the Irishman, who has only been beaten once this summer at a mile, and Jack Tait, if he starts in it, will be a corker. It is even money, take your choice. Skene is the plugger and Knox and Tait both have whirlwind sprints. The quarter-mile race, if Bobby Kerr starts, against Lou Sebert will be the hottest quarter-mile run in Canada this season, and don't overlook Joe White in this sprint, either.

SPORTING COMMENT

Battling Nelson is writing a book on his life. He probably will supply most of the information and get his name on the cover, but the idea of the battler really writing a book, or even a letter is quite amusing.

BOWLING

There are a number of entries in for the tournament which will mark the formal opening of the Peterborough Bowling alleys. Good prizes in cash will be hung up for competition and much interest is being shown by local bowlers.

THE KNIGHTS HELD SMOKER

Two Peterborough Men Present at Jolly Gathering at Port Hope

The Port Hope Guide says.—The members of Victoria Lodge, No. 41, Knights of Pythias, gave a most enjoyable "At Home" to their friends in the Pythian Castle Hall on Queen street last Thursday evening. Last fall this prosperous young lodge secured comfortable and convenient quarters in the Stevenson Block on Queen street, which have been furnished throughout in appropriate manner. Last night's function was the first public entertaining the Pythians have done in their new premises, and it was therefore the first opportunity the public have had to inspect the hall and clubrooms which is maintained in connection with the lodge for the members.

The first part of the evening's entertainment was devoted to progressive euchre, after which lunch was served. Webster's orchestra enlivened the evening with music, and added considerably to the enjoyment of the entertainment.

After refreshments, the Chancellor Commander, Mr. W. Chestnut, took the chair and extended appropriate welcome to the lodge's guests. The prizes were then distributed, Mr. Squires, a member of Marathon Lodge of Peterborough, capturing the first prize, and the "Booby" falling to the lot of Mr. Jack Owens, of this town.

Mr. C. M. Blewett, of Peterborough, the Deputy Grand Chancellor for the district, who was accompanied by Mr. Squires, of the same place, made a few congratulatory remarks.

Thank goodness, the "Hook" is not as bad as the spelling in the Free Press.

A man whose wife was extremely jealous planned a pleasant surprise for her in the form of a trip to New York to see "The Merry Widow" and wrote a friend in this city to let him know the earliest date for which he could secure seats. "Nothing doing with the widow until the 10th. Will that suit you.

Explanations were demanded.

The man I wish to marry, says a contributor to the Designer, is one who would, if necessary, when washday comes, roll up his sleeves and bend his back over the washtub; who would be the first to turn out on cold winter mornings and build the fires; who would be ready to walk the floor at midnight with a colicky baby; who would spend many of his evenings at home instead of loafing around the barrooms, street corners or other places of amusement, talking claptrap and politics; who does not indulge in intoxicants of any kind; who does not consider that he is IT. In short, I wish to marry a MAN.

BORDEN, BURNHAM AND VICTORY IS THE CRY

and he had no apology to make. These men were Canadians and as such had a right to be interested in the public affairs of the Dominion and to do whatever they could to improve on the present conditions. This they could do by working for a change of government at Ottawa.

Mr. Borden then took up the mixing of provincial and Federal politics and said in part:

"Over and over again I see men coming to Ottawa from Toronto, being unable to secure at the latter place the favors which had been given them when the Liberals were in power in the province. A new regime has arisen in Ontario. Sir James Whitney and his colleagues have placed upon the statutes of the province more useful legislation than had been placed upon them by the Liberal government in the previous twenty-five years.

With the new regime, men who were unable to get private bills of an improper nature put through at Toronto came to Ottawa, there to secure what they could not secure from the honest government of Sir James Whitney."

POLITICAL PURITY.

Political purity was then taken up by the speaker, who declared that the Liberals had done everything in their power to prevent the placing on the statute book of laws that would have the effect of doing away with improper methods in elections. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been one of the chief offenders in fighting against such legislation.

MR. T. E. BRADBURN, M. P. P.
One of the speakers at last night's meeting

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, promised purity of administration," said Mr. Borden. "He has abandoned the public exchequer to the plundering and pilfering of unscrupulous party friends and has permitted the public domain to become the prey of his strongest partisans. The patronage system has been employed in its most extreme form to subserve party interests. The deputy minister of marine and fisheries has admitted on oath that the government could have saved $200,000 within a few years in his department alone were it not for the patronage system. It is the same story throughout the entire public service—in the appointment of public officials, in the purchasing of supplies and materials, in the administration of the railways and canals, the rewarding of party service and the advancement of party interests have been the supreme consideration overriding all regard for economy and efficiency.

"On the 26th of October the people and not the Conservative party will secure a notable victory, and the present corrupt administration at Ottawa will be relegated to the back grounds."

GROWING EXPENDITURE

Speaking of the fiscal policy of the Laurier government, Mr. Borden asked what had the Liberals done with regard to their platform of 1893. It had been said that apart from the trade policy, they had carried it out. The Conservative platform, as announced in Halifax, last year did not differ much from it. Had the government carried out its trade policy. No Liberal could deny that it had not. The party came into power in 1896 and did not dare to lay unholy hands on the great principles upon which the existing policy was founded. The Liberals had promised purity of administration, reduction of expenditures and reduction of taxation. The taxation was $73,000,000 to-day, or $900,000 a week taken out of the pockets of the people in excess of what had been said was too much. Mr. Borden said he did not object to liberal expenditure. Any Government should be prepared to expend money for honest and legitimate purposes, where it got a dollar for every dollar disbursed.

A plank in the platform of the Liberals in 1893 was that the public domain of this great country should be retained for the settler, and not for the speculator.

"My friend, Sir Wilfrid Laurier," Mr. Broden went on, "and my friend, Mr. Fielding, have been traversing this country during the last three weeks. They have had before them our attacks in Parliament, and our statements on the public platform, and with some single pretensions as to the Saskatchewan valley land deal they have failed to answer them. I want to go into one or two of these matters to-night, and I want to speak particularly to the Liberals here to-night, and I challenge any of them to contradict the statement that the Government have used the public domain of this country in the west for the benefit of their party friends, and that the Government have systematically, under the forms of law, handed over hundreds of thousands of acres of the best agricultural and timber lands in this country to party friends."

Mr. Borden challenged any Liberal member of the audience to deny it, and waited for a response to the challenge, but, of course, no one responded.

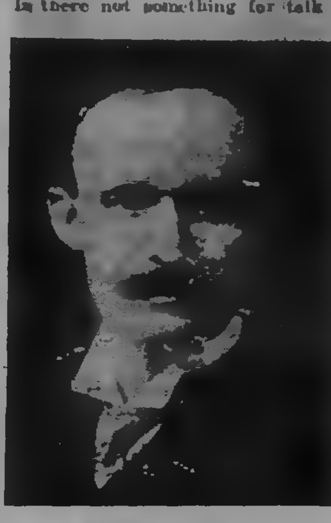
SASKATCHEWAN VALLEY LAND DEAL.

Mr. Borden went on to refer to the notorious Saskatchewan valley land deal, and such like scandals, and again asked whether there was any Liberal who would stand up before his fellow-countrymen and approve of the plunder of the public domain such as he had just called attention to.

What opportunity was there for any person to compete? There was no opportunity at all. Many of the limits were put up in the dead of winter, and the tenders closed in five weeks.

In some few cases there was a second tender or a third tender. There was a prescribed form upon which the department accepted tenders. Mr. Burrows did not use that form. Sometimes one cheque was enclosed; sometimes two. There was one cheque when there was one tender. Why did one fine two cheques? When there were two tenders, the first cheque added to the second made up enough to overtop the larger tender. When there were three cheques, the three added together would, if necessary, exceed the largest offer.

"Is there not something for talk in all that, my Liberal friends? The Imperial Pulp Company have limits worth over $1,000,000, and how much did they pay for them—about $69,000. The next tender was about $53,000, so you will see by what a narrow margin these men, by collusion in tendering, obtained their holdings. These men have committed frauds by collusion with tenderers. These matters have been brought to the attention of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Government, time and again. I moved in the House myself for a committee of inquiry—for a complete investigation into all these matters, but from that time to this, here has been no investigation, save only what we were able to attain by our own efforts in the public accounts committee. The day is coming, however, when there will be investigation and restitution called for. (Applause.) I am a firm believer in government by constitutional means only, my leadership stands pledged to bring back into the ownership and control of the people of Canada all lands that have been alienated in the manner which I have indicated. (Applause.)



DR. M. A. MORRISON
A Prominent Conservative Who Was on the Platform Last Night.

DESPOILED OF MILIONS.

Continuing, Mr. Borden declared most emphatically that he objected to the expenditure of public money for the benefit of private individuals. How many millions of dollars had gone into the pockets of the friends of the Government? Sir Wilfrid Laurier had asked to be allowed to finish his work. Why didn't he let the civil service commission finish its work? (Applause.) There had been only a partial investigation into the department of marine, and the other branches had been scarcely touched, yet the men who had conducted this enquiry, which had revealed such a bad state of affairs, Messrs. Courtney, Fyshe and Bazin, of Quebec, were all upright men, and good Liberals. The report of these men, partial though it was, was of a nature sufficient to drive any Government in England out of power. The Liberals said the Conservatives were scandal-mongers—that we were muck-rakers. The three commissioners he had referred to were muck-rakers—that is what they had been, and no men could be engaged in more patriotic work than exposing wrong-doing and misgovernment, whereby the public suffered. Lieut.-Col. Goudreau, late deputy commissioner of marine, admitted that in his department alone at least $200,000 of your money had been misused by these gentlemen, in absurd expenditures, and in other ways.

MR. J. A. SEXSMITH

IMMIGRATION.

Mr. Borden denounced the immigration policy of the Laurier Government. He wished that Mr. Hanna were present to deal with this matter, as he had heard him deal with it at various meetings. He contrasted the strict immigration laws of the United States to the loose regulations governing the immigration of foreigners into Canada. As a result of the undesirable class of immigrants into Canada, the people of the country were called upon to pay $2,000,000 per year more for the maintenance of jails and asylums than they had before the ruinous immigration of the Laurier Government came into force. Mr. Borden said that during the past ten years the government had been too insistent as to the quantity and too careless as to the quality of immigration. He declared himself as opposed to bonusing immigration on principle. It should only be applied in exceptional cases where it might be needed to induce exceptionally high-class immigration. Mr. Borden further declared that the whole subject of immigration should be subject and subject only, to the government of Canada. That control should not be divided with much less should it be surrendered to the governments of foreign nations. Certainly the matter of Japanese immigration to Canada should be settled by the authorities at Ottawa, and not by the authorities at Tokio. (Applause).

WESTERN LAND FRAUDS.

Mr. Borden then proceeded to deal with the government's mal-administration of western lands, and said that the result of the administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's government of the land in the west had resulted that men who ten years ago were not worth any more than they stood up in were to-day millionaires while men in other parts of Canada had only been able to obtain an honest competence.

It was not to the credit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Borden ventured to assert, that he (Sir Wilfrid) had dismissed the attacks made on his government in the somewhat flippant way in which he had attempted to do in the last few days.

The party system was in vogue in this country. It was the best system which the genius of the British people had been able to evolve up to the present time. Everyone recognized that until some better system had been found it became the duty of every and woman in this country to see that the party system was worked in this country in the most advantageous manner and that it brought about the highest standards of public life and government in this country.

"What does the party system amount to?" Mr. Borden asked. "It means that so far as matters are concerned upon which there may be a legitimate difference of opinion (on questions of tariff, on questions of government ownership or government control of public utilities) on all these and similar questions public opinion may be divided. But there is above all that, and it seems to me above all the ties of party allegiance one supreme consideration which must be kept in sight by the public of this country, and that is, there is he necessity to insist that honest men of all parties shall insist on honest expenditure and proper public administration for all purposes.

"I mean what I say, and if I am returned to power and do not act as I have said, I want you to turn us out at the earliest opportunity", asserted Mr. Borden.

WOOLLEN INDUSTRY.

Mr. Borden then took up the woollen industry question and referred scathingly to the statement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier before the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Montreal, when he told the woollen men of Canada to "make shoddy." This was the way they could compete with the foreign manufacturers but such advice would not be appreciated by the woollen men of Canada. The Canadian conscience was too severe for Sir Wilfrid Laurier as far as business was concerned, and on October 26th the Premier would find that the Canadian conscience was too severe for him as far as political morality was concerned. The Canadian public would not stand for shoddy politics any more than it would for shoddy woollens.

Mr. Borden closed with an earnest appeal for the electors to support Mr. Burnham and to be on the winning side on October 26th.

ROBLIN WAS IN FIGHTING TRIM

Raked the Globe and its Editor Over the Coals---Exposure of Grit Scandals

Hon. Mr. Roblin was given a very warm reception when he was announced. As an Ontario boy and a Manitoba man he was glad of the opportunity given him by his leader to address some of the citizens of this great Province of Ontario. The Premier of Manitoba paid a high tribute to the many ladies present. They gave a grace and dignity to the gathering. It was the ladies who were mostly interested in the good government of this country. He welcomed the ladies to every meeting he had the honor to address.

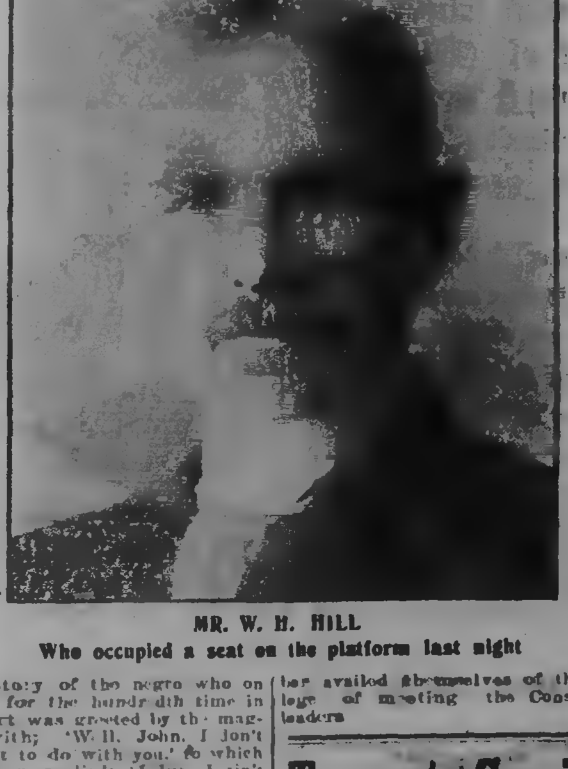
Passing on he sided with his leader in wishing all success to the two candidates chosen by the Conservatives to represent the two ridings of Peterborough, and hoped to hear of them both being elected on October the 26th.

Hon. Mr. Roblin said he was present as a citizen of Canada and not as a public man of Manitoba. He paid a high tribute to the Conservative party's leader, who was the most patriotic and most respected gentleman in the Dominion today.

Proceeding, Mr. Roblin said that he had not known that he was so important a man as he had begun to find out since he came to Ontario through the Toronto Globe and also by that great family journal published in Peterborough, known as the Examiner. As far as the latter paper was concerned he would ignore it entirely as its criticism of a public man did not bear any weight whatever. He did, however, wish to take up a few minutes in reference to the Globe. He said:

COL. J. W. MILLER
One of the Conservative Stalwarts.

"The signed statement by the editor-in-chief of the Globe in this morning's issue of that paper concerning myself and the charges made by me regarding the Crow's Nest Pass coal mines requires a further reference by me. Mr. Macdonald sets up two pleas of defence, an alibi and ignorance or no knowledge as to the facts that I allege. As to his alibi, that is the defence set up by all offenders who cannot offer any thing else to the court in defence of their indictment. As to his want of knowledge—here, Mr. Roblin told the story of the negro who on appearing for the hundredth time in police court was greeted by the magistrate with; 'Well, John, I don't know what to do with you.' to which the prisoner replied; 'Judge, I ain't responsible for your ignorance.' I repeat every word I said in my Toronto speech, and I do so because it is in a matter of public interest and refers to the public domain.



MR. W. H. HILL
Who occupied a seat on the platform last night

"Mr. Macdonald charges me with maladministration of the public domain of Manitoba, a proper charge if he has warrant or justification on which to base such a statement. I repeat again this challenge, that any man that the Globe newspaper can name from Sir Wilfrid down shall have access to every department, every book, every voucher, that has reference direct or indirect to the charges made; on condition that I shall have the right to name a man who shall have the same right to examine every paper, every record, government or otherwise, at Ottawa or elsewhere which has reference to the Crow's Nest Pass Railway deal.

WARDEN THOMPSON, M.P.P.
One of those who were on the platform

"In connection with that I charge that the Globe chloroformed public opinion in Canada in order that the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier might take $2,000,000 additional out of the public treasury over and above what was necessary to secure the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway; and that the Globe and those for whom it spoke in such chloroforming of public opinion received 250,000 acres of the best coal lands in the world; but that they returned 50,000 acres to the Government as a pretence of settlement of an alleged claim. The manifest desire of Mr. J. A. Macdonald to induce some other disinterested gentleman to pull his chestnuts out of the fire is to me evidence that the withers of the Globe have been wrung and that they realize the position which they occupy as a public journal undertaking to mould public opinion in Canada. All I require for my purpose is the opportunity of examining the public records. The time has gone by for anything else to be acceptable to this Dominion."

Hon. Mr. Roblin made another charge and that was that Mr. Macdonald could not prove an alibi. Mr. Macdonald was a member of the ministry of the great Presbyterian Church, and when a brother minister of the same church pleaded with him to let the light in upon the crimes being committed in the Yukon, he turned his back upon him (Dr. Pringle), for fear that it would reflect upon the Laurier Government if the true state of affairs existing there, to the knowledge of the Dominion Government's officials, were made public. Mr. Macdonald refused to write one line in support of Dr. Pringle and in favor of an investigation. On the other hand Dr. Pringle was blackmailed, and the Globe gave great space to that crime. He charged J. H. Macdonald with refusing to request an investigation into the crime and debauchery in the Yukon, and he would like Mr. Macdonald to answer to that charge.

He next took up the graft and extravagences of the Marine and Fisheries Department at Ottawa, and showed the people that hundreds of thousands and even millions of dollars of the people's money had been given to party friends. One man called Mervin got over $200,000, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier said at Clinton on Wednesday that he did not care if Mervin did get 60c more or 50c less than the goods could have been bought from anyone else.

The meeting closed with rousing cheers for the King, Mr. Borden, Mr. Burnham and Mr. Sexsmith.

After the meeting a reception was held on the stage when a large number availed themselves of the privilege of meeting the Conservative leaders.

WE CANNOT SAY TOO MUCH FOR PE-RU-NA

These Women Say, in Substance, That Before They Took Pe-ru-na They Were Miserable.

They Were Weak and Wretched.

After Taking Pe-ru-na They Were Restored to Health and Usefulness.

This Is the Whole Story In a Nutshell.

If Pe-ru-na Can Do Such Wonders For These Women It Can Do the Same For You.

The housewife is the one who is best able to judge of the relative merits of family medicines. It is she that knows the many uses of Peruna in the family. It is upon her testimonial that chiefly depends the popularity which Peruna enjoys.

MRS. E. T. GADDIS

Mrs. E. T. Gaddis, Marion, N. C., writes:

"Before I commenced to take Peruna I could not do any hard work without suffering great pain. I took Peruna and Manalin, and can say with pleasure they have done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken. Now I am as well as ever, I do all my own work and it never hurts me at all. I think Peruna is a great medicine for womankind."

MRS. A. E. STOUFFER

Pe-ru-na Gave Health.

Mrs. A. E. Stouffer, Capioma, Kansas, writes:

"Peruna has given me health and strength; it is the best medicine that was ever made for women. My friends say they never saw such a change in a woman. I talk to every one about Peruna. I cannot say too much for it."

MRS. CAROLINE SUNDHEIMER

Stronger Than for Years.

Mrs. Caroline Sundheimer, Clarks, La., writes:

"I am feeling quite well now. I can work again and am stronger than I have been for years, and I do believe that Peruna saved my life.

"I am very thankful to you for your advice. I will advise all I can to take your medicine."

A Remedy For Women.

It is safe to say that we have thousands of letters written to Dr. Hartman from women who repeat the same sentiment to be found in Mrs. Stouffer's testimonial: "My friends say they never saw such a change in a woman." Over and over again this sentence is penned by grateful women who are more than willing that we should use their words to assist other suffering women in finding a cure.

Peruna is a great medicine for women. It cleanses the inside of the body in much the same way that water cleanses the outside of the body.

From Grateful Women.

"I was troubled with suppressed and painful menstruation. I took Peruna according to your directions, and now I am well."—Mrs. James Eighmey, Grape, Mich.

"We have been using Peruna for some time. To speak from a standpoint of experience I can candidly say that Peruna is the remedy for female weakness.

"From a personal test and from the testimony of many others I shall not hesitate to recommend it, especially to all suffering women."—Mrs. M. F. Jones, Burning Springs, Ky.

PE-RU-NA FOR PELVIC DISEASES.

"I suffered from catarrh for many years, but since taking Peruna I feel strong and well. As I used Peruna and Manalin while I was passing through the change of life, I am positively convinced your beneficial remedies have relieved me of all my ills."—Mrs. Mathilde Richter, Doniphan, Neb.

"I suffered with pelvic catarrh until I wrote to Dr. Hartman, and after taking treatment as he advised, I can say I am cured of this most trying affliction, for which I am truly thankful. I never felt better in my life than I do at present."—Mrs. Etta Booker, Dundurn, Sask., N. W. T., Can.

CHARGED WITH NON SUPPORT OF HIS WIFE

Robt. Lingard Has Not Given Mrs Lingard a Cent for Nine Weeks.

Robert Lingard was charged with the non support of his wife, Nancy Lingard, at the police court this morning. Lingard pleaded not guilty but on his evidence that he had not given his wife any money for several weeks, His Worship reserved judgment for one week in order to allow the parties to come to some settlement.

Mrs Lingard said that she lived at 116 Sophia street. She was married on April 14th, 1908. Her husband paid the rent and bought the fuel. He had not given her a cent for nine weeks. All she had had was her son's board money, three dollars a week.

Chris. Johnston, son of the complainant said that he boarded with his mother. She would have nothing to live on if it was not for his board

Robt Lingard in the box, stated that he had not given his wife any money for six weeks. During that time he brought into the house some biscuits, cheese and beer for himself.

"Is she sober," asked the Magistrate.

"She used to be, but not now," he answered. "She took to drinking tea when I started drinking beer.

SHOOTS THREE; HOLDS POSSE

Old Man After Attempting to Murder Woman and Daughter Barricades Himself in House

Waukesha, Wis., September 26 — After holding a posse at bay all night and making a desperate fight, George Smith, 60 years old, was captured today and placed under arrest, on the charge of having shot Mrs. Julius Grabow, and her daughter, Olga, last night, and afterwards seriously wounding Sheriff Geo. Dwinnell.

Mrs. Grabow, who was shot in the head three times, is dying.

Smith is charged with having gone to the Grabow home and to have attacked the mother and her fourteen-year-old daughter. The news of the attack on the woman and girl spread rapidly and when Sheriff Dwinnell went to the house Smith was waiting for them and fired from a window. The Sheriff fell and is in a serious condition.

The shooting of Sheriff Dwinnell aroused the whole community, and a posse formed and started for the house.

Smith in the meantime, had barricaded the house closed up all the windows and doors, and by the rapid use of his rifle defied arrest until this morning when he was captured.

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY HELPS OVER 30,000 CHILDREN

An Ottawa despatch says:

Mr. J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, superintendent of dependent and neglected children in Ontario, is in the city to-day and this afternoon will confer with the officers of the local Children's Aid Society. Mr. Kelso, who was the originator of the Children's Aid Society work in Canada, when interviewed by the Citizen, commented very favorably on the work as carried on in the city stating that the president, Mr. W. L. Scott, had done especially good work in securing legislation regarding juvenile delinquents. The probation work in the city was also commended.

Mr. Kelso stated that the society was realizing that juvenile delinquency was largely due to social conditions, congested or unsanitary dwellings, and not to any inherent spirit of evil in the youngsters, and that the intention was to attempt the solution of the broad social difficulties.

Mr. Kelso was strongly in favor of the establishment of playgrounds and in particular supervised playgrounds in the capital. He said that in Toronto there was a move on foot to secure Mr. J. R. Crocker as general director of the playgrounds movement there. Though there were grounds in Toronto they were not under supervision. The idea of the playgrounds was to have them divided into three parts, one for children eight years and under; one for the girls and another for boys.

During the last ten years, Mr. Kelso stated the Children's Aid Society had helped over 30,000 children in Canada without removing them from their homes.

DOMINION ELECTIONS

GENTLEMEN:—The condition of industry in Canada is bad. The condition of workingmen is following suit. Their beautiful homes are becoming the prey of reduced circumstances. To the extent that we pay out money to other countries for work that should be done here we are traitors to our workingmen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has brought this about to such a degree that Canada has paid out in the last twelve years (being the term during which the Liberals have been in power) hundreds of millions of dollars more than she took in. It was not so under a protectionist government. Those millions should have been spent at home. Then there would have been work for our workers to that extent at any rate, and what is more, the money would have been kept in the country. As it is we have to borrow to get it back. We have to borrow for gigantic enterprises which serve to make the big money-lender, the stock gambler and the contractor rich, but what good is it doing the workingman? To add insult to his injury Sir Wilfrid Laurier has opened the gates on the East and the West to immigrants. Those on the East, our own kith and kin, have been misled by misrepresentatation and entrapped by agents who are paid a bonus for their capture. Those on the West are the untold millions of the Orient who are displacing the whites in B.C. are working East and are dispossessing Canadians of their own country. They lower the rate of wages and the standard of living. If Canada is to be kept up as she was but a few years ago she must not be allowed to fall into the class of "cheap and nasty" nations. If her people are to be well housed, well fed, well educated and above the condition of sweaters, they must demand a tariff against sweatwork, against undue immigration, against undue importation and a high protection for employers and employed alike, against the trickery of men who make their money on the stock market and by graft. The workers are slowly but surely becoming poorer than they used to be in this naturally rich and resourceful country. Why? Because the cream of all work goes to the money-lender of New York and London.

Why are the men of Canada idle? Because others will do the work cheaper in Britain and Germany and we let them invade our markets while they keep us out of theirs. The German tariff, the United States tariff, the French tariff are all vastly higher than ours. Britain protects herself where she needs it, by a Cattle Embargo and by the Patents Act, which requires patented articles (and nearly all are patented) to be manufactured there. There is never depression in France. The French have a high tariff and economise. They have always plenty for a rainy day. The Germans likewise keep their own work in their own country, but are weighed down with militarism Britain suffers because her work is being done elsewhere, although she is changing that rapidly, but she has an immense start over Canada in her already accumulated capital. The United States is the modern wonder of the world, due altogether to high protection. Protection or tariff has been well said to be the measure of the standard of life amongst the workers. Commodities in protected countries are not higher than in unprotected. Clothing under a low tariff in Canada is higher in price than it used to be under a high tariff. Certain ills due to over-expansion, the machinations of stockgamblers, etc., exist in all countries, but when an ill is plainly preventable, why not prevent it? Sending cash out of the country over and above what we take in will never make us rich. Yet we do it and must do it under our present system of trade Opening up unnecessary lands as in the West, while Ontario is not half populated or developed is of a piece with rest, but it is the delight of the money-lender. Ontario farms are rapidly decreasing in value. A huge national deficit is accumulating for this year and unless times are checked and we are restored to our own, the coming winter will be a veritable horror. The money that we are borrowing in such immense sums if spent for supplies, made in Canada, would mean work for everyone at good wages. Why then does Sir Wilfrid permit rails for the G. T. P. to be bought out of Canada and clothing that would keep our farmers growing wool and our woollen mills weaving it, to be imported without hindrance?

To say that one government is as bad as another is to say that one man or one set of men is no better as managers than another. We know this to be the reverse of correct in government, in trade, in railways or in anything else. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although the Conservative administration, as it proved, was falling to pieces, could never have got into power had he not agreed to "let the tariff alone." This pledge he contrived to evade on the ground that while the U. S., Germany, etc., were prosperous under a protective tariff, he could make Canada a brilliant and enduring exception under a low tariff and a preference. Now he is compelled to fall back on the statement that depression is worldwide and that therefore Canada must share it.

Then the boast of great enterprises! Vast sums of money have been borrowed and spent but who has got the benefit of it? Who has been made rich? Where has it gone The charge we make against the administration of Sir Wilfred Laurier is that it is in the grasp of the great money-lenders. It has ceased to represent the people. Is it any wonder men lose faith in the forms of government? Without any government at all there would be a happier people. If the times are not rescued, whether it be by a party or by a people, civilisation will be destroyed. The thunder of revolt is already heard. Religion, art, education—all will go with the frenzied efforts of men to get out of the grasp of Money which never loses, never shares its needs, into a state of freedom and the natural fruition of honest work and a resourceful soil.

I am not rich, nor am I able to live without working, as has been said, and I never The stock exchange where so many have won fabulous riches at the expense of the steady worker underneath is unknown to me. If I have no money to lose I have none to be ashamed of.

The day of the abject party man is gone. Let humanity have a chance.

I solicit your vote and influence and have the honour to remain,

Yours faithfully,

J. H. BURNHAM

AN ALARMING RECORD OF GOVERNMENTAL EXTRAVAGANCE

A FEW GRIT PLEDGES.

"We view with alarm the large increase of the annual expenditure of the Dominion and the consequent undue taxation of the people."—Liberal Platform, 1893.

"The Government takes $36,000,000 or more in the form of taxation every year—they take it from you, from me, all the people of the country—every pound of nails, every axe, every yard of cloth you buy from your merchant is a medium through which you pay to the Dominion Government.—If they, (the people) understood, the present Government would be chased out of power as the robbers were chased out of the temple."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, 1893.

"We are the party of low taxation."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1895.

TAXES MULTIPLIED BY TWO.

	1896 Conservative	1906 Liberal	1908 Liberal

Excise	7,926,006	14,010,220	15,882,151
Total	$27,759,285	$60,074,818	$73,325,962
Tax per head	$5.46	$10.00	$11.75

Increase, 1908 over 1896 .... $45,566,677, or 164 per cent.

Now, let us look at the total taxes collected in ten years under Conservative and under Liberal rule:—

Total taxes collected in ten years, 1887-96, by Conservatives	$287,931,372
Total taxes collected in ten years, 1897-1906, by Liberals	430,329,802
Excess taken by Liberal over Conservative Government	142,398,430

So, as regards the amount of taxes, there can be no doubt of the vast increase made. The taxes in 1896 amounted to $27,759,000. Let us see how this amount has been exceeded under Liberal rule:

In 1896 Taxation under Conservatives	$27,759 000
This amount was exceeded by, in 1897 by	889,000

Total excess in 11 years and 9 months, 1897-1907	$229,150,000

The year 1907 was omitted in the table as owing to fiscal changes it was only nine months. The taxation for that period was $51,565,[illegible], or $23,806,300 more than the whole twelve months of 1896.

TAXATION PER FAMILY.

WHAT THEY PROMISED.

"I promise you that if you put our party into power we will reduce the annual expenditure by $2,000,000, or $3,000,000 per annum."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, 1896.

"I repeat it now that $38,000,000, let alone $40,000,000 is in my judgment is a monstrous sum for the people of Canada to be called upon to provide."—Sir Richard Cartwright.

"I say that it is a disgrace and a shame to the Government that they ask for an expenditure of $38,300,000 a year for Federal purposes. Sir, the thing is utterly unjustifiable."—Sir Richard Cartwright.

Such were the declarations of Sir Wilfrid and his Ministers when they took office. What is their record.

GRAIN TRAIN WOULD STRETCH FROM WINNIPEG TO MONTREAL

Striking Statistics of the Wheat Crop of the Canadian West—Some Interesting Figures.

The movement of Canada's wheat crop, when figured on the basis of cars, brings forth astonishing results. Of course, it must be remembered that a great proportion of the wheat finds the seaboard mainly through the great inland waterways; that is, from western points on the Great Lakes to centres like Montreal and Buffalo.

Presuming, for a moment, however, that Canada shipped all her wheat from place of growth to tidewater by rail, the figures resulting are somewhat astonishing.

This year it has been estimated that there will be a crop of one hundred and ten million bushels; allowing ten of these millions for seeding purposes and local uses, the remaining one hundred millions will have to be transported.

If calculation is based on sixty pounds to the bushel, it is found that there are three millions tons to be carried, which at fifteen tons to the car would necessitate the use of two hundred thousand cars. Taking the average train to be composed of thirty cars, the astonishing total of six thousand, six hundred and sixty-six trains is reached.

At the Bonaventure station, Montreal, is a schedule that calls for seventy trains leaving per day. At this rate it would take ninety-five days for these trains to get out of Montreal, or, in other words, it would take a whole of one of the seasons of the year to clear the cars.

From anther point of view, it is calculated that these trains would, if standing together, end to end, reach for a distance of one thousand three hundred and sixty-five miles.

The total mileage of the Canadian Pacific Railway is about ten thousand miles. If the whole of this wheat was to be transported over that system the amount of space needed is easily calculated, while if these cars were made up into one train it would reach from Montreal to Winnipeg.

WANT THE LAW APPLIED TO THE PICTURE HOUSES

A move is being made by the large theatre proprietors of Montreal to have the moving picture shows which run vaudeville features, as well as other places of amusement which have theatrical features, come under the general law and the by-laws applying to theatres.

The Sparrow theatres, Bennet's and the Theatre National Francais unite in signing a declaration to the effect that several of the places of amusement in that city are in reality theatres, but do not pay the same tax, nor are they forced to provide the same protection to their patrons as first-class theatres, either in the way of buildings or fire apparatus.

The theatre proprietors take the ground that the institutions they complain of not being run as mere picture machine shows, and not offering the required protection from fire that the regular theatre does may bring about a catastrophe that will endanger the business of the regular theatres, and may even cause loss of life and property.

The managers of the houses interested, W. A. Edwards, manager of the Sparrow enterprises; Mr. McVean, manager of Bennett's; and Mr. Paul Gauchenve, of the Theatre National; disclaim any desire of interfering with the ordinary picture show business. They contend, however, that when a house uses scenery on a stage and presents vaudeville acts, it becomes a theatre and should pay taxes as such. Now they claim that some of the places mentioned in their complaint have not even a back door, have no fire alarms and no protection of any kind for the lives of the patrons who attend them. They, therefore, interfere with the business of the theatres, which pay high taxes, and are forced to spend thousands a year on protection. The managers who complain ask that the law be applied to these smaller houses as it is to them.

"ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ME ANY GOOD"

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Backache After Doctors Failed Utterly.

"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I suffered for years from backaches and pain in the head and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches. I take "Fruit-a-tives" occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

BRADLEY'S BUILDING.

By ANDREW PHAIL.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

It was a tiny little island. The year before Dick Staley had threatened to come back some day and carry it off in a shoe box. But such as it was it was Barton Bradley's own, and he was immensely proud of his possession.

Four years earlier his physician had ordered him to spend the summer in the woods to escape an impending attack of "nerves." He had rented this little island from its woodsman owner and had spent a delightful summer chopping his own wood, frying his own bacon and in the intervals planning the play that had brought him recognition.

His first royalties had gone to pay for the little island, and now, when Bradley pitched his tent early in May, he went to work to build a log hut that should form a more permanent camp.

Since success had come he was in a position to build a camp as elaborate as any of the electrically lighted, steam heated structures which masqueraded as camps in the fashionable colony at the upper end of the lake, but Bradley would have none of these.

As far as possible the camp should be his own handiwork. He even rebelled at the necessity for assistance in raising the logs when the walls reached a height above his ability to handle the heavy logs.

He made the island his sanctuary and a thing apart from the busy months of the winter season. No one save Staley had ever been invited to the place, and only the guide who sometimes came to see that all was well or leave mail when Bradley lacked the time to row down to the little village ever braved the "No Trespass" signs with which the shore bristled.

So it happened that Bradley, tramping over his five acre domain, was astonished to see a canoe on the shore and a girl calmly eating a late lunch under the very sign forbidding a landing.

She was undeniably a pretty girl, with crisp brown curls escaping from a tam-o'-shanter and straying over a cheek on which the red showed bravely through the tan.

Bradley approved her costume of brown. It was so unlike the frocks of the fashionables, who dressed not for the woods, but for the men in camp and with an eye for spectacular effect.

But notwithstanding the fact that Bradley approved of the slender, well built figure he resented the intrusion on his island.

He hated the fashionable crowd, and here was one at his very door, perhaps the advance guard of a horde of lion hunters who would overrun the place and gushingly assure him that they doted on his plays even while their conversation showed that they had been more intent upon the chatter in the box than upon the dialogue on the stage. It was this habit of using the boxes for social visits that had first given Bradley his distaste for society.

"It is too bad that you cannot read," he said, with what was intended to be cutting sarcasm, though insensibly his voice softened as he looked into two glorious brown eyes.

"I know what you mean," declared the girl, with a laugh and a meaning glance at the forbidding sign, "but I was tired paddling, and when I saw you at work on the hut I knew that the owner was not here, and I supposed that the sign was enforced only when the owner was here. Can you be bribed?"

She held toward him the well filled lunch box with its appetizing sandwiches and dainty cake.

"I'm human enough to be hungry," she explained, with a little laugh, "but I always carry more than I need."

Bradley looked into the brown eyes and was lost. He accepted a sandwich and sank down on a rock opposite the one on which she was sitting.

"Who is the horrible man who won't let us land on this little Eden?" demanded the girl.

"He's a New York chap," explained Bradley noncommittally. "He doesn't like the people at the upper end of the lake, and he stuck those signs up."

"Thereby preventing me from finding a refuge from the play campers," said the girl severely. "He should change the sign to read, 'No Trespassing by People Who Do Not Understand.' There are people even up there who love the woods and hate the poor imitation of Newport. Newport," she added in explanation, "is a fashionable colony down on the Rhode Island shore."

"I've heard of it," assented Bradley, the scene of whose latest comedy had been laid in that very resort. He was glad that this girl mistook him for a guide. It would be a pity to undeceive her and place their impromptu acquaintance upon a coldly formal basis.

She chatted of the lake and the woods, and Bradley more than ever admired her when she grew eloquent regarding the beauties of his beloved lake. It formed a common bond of sympathy.

The girl forgot that she was talking to a guide, and Bradley in turn forgot that she was a member of the hated colony of fashionable folk who were doing their best to make the lake as artificial as themselves.

It was a good two hours before his visitor sprang up with an exclamation of surprise that she should have lingered so long, and with a little sigh of regret Bradley watched her paddle away, handling the frail canoe as cleverly as though to the manner born.

After that she came frequently and became much interested in the building of the house. The heavy logs were all in place now, and only the lighter work remained.

The girl (Bradley soon knew her to be Miss Nannette Cowdrey) found the completion of the cabin a matter of absorbing interest. It was no better than the huts of the natives save that it was more carefully finished, and of this Nannette highly approved.

"It seems so foolish," she observed, "to go in out of the glorious woods and turn on the hot water and dress for dinner in the same frocks we wear in town. I should love to spend a summer in a camp like this with only sympathetic people around me."

She sighed to think of the impossibility of obtaining her wish and then gave her attention to superintending the fabrication of a rustic chair, deep, roomy and redolent of the woods.

For a month she was almost a daily visitor. Then one afternoon she came with a frown upon her pretty face, and as Bradley settled himself for a chat she drew a slip of printed paper from her pocket and regarded him attentively.

"A penny for your thoughts," he offered when she did not speak.

"I think that you are horrid," was the unexpected answer. "This little island has been such a haven of rest to me. Now I find that, instead of being a guide, you are a nasty, cynical playwright. I hate you!"

"Because I write cynical plays?" he asked. "I assure you that I would rather write the other kind, but they do not take with the audiences."

"I hate you because you deceived me," was the answer in a voice that was close to tears. "I saw this in a magazine."

Bradley groaned. In an evil moment he had given an interviewer a glowing description of his island without betraying its location. It had been made the basis of an absurd "human interest" magazine story.

A copy must have fallen into her hands, and more than ever Bradley was determined to get even with the imaginative person who had written the story.

"And we cannot be friends," he asked, "just because I am not a guide?"

"Because you deceived me," corrected Nannette. "You were just leading me on to talk about the imitation campers so you could put it into a play."

"Not into a play," denied Bradley, "into a romance—a private romance, I had hoped. Had I introduced myself as a city man you never could have come again. I should have raised the barrier of conventionality between us. As it was, you thought me a guide because I was building my own cabin. With a guide you felt free to come and go as you pleased. It was only for that reason I did not explain your error."

"But now that I know the truth I must come no more," she said slowly as she rose to her feet. "I am sorry that I have found out."

She looked longingly about the camp which she had helped to make so comfortable with her suggestions and aid. Then she turned and ran down to the beach, where her light canoe lay upon the sands.

She had already pushed off when he reached the beach, but at his call she checked her headway.

"May I come for you?" he called softly. "May I come for you, Nannette, and bring you back to the camp that we built for ourselves?"

For a moment Nannette paused.

"Yes," she called, finally adding, "Come soon," and then the paddle dipped deep into the water.

AN UPHOLSTERY HINT.

Embroidered Grass Linen Loops For the Summer Curtain.

It is an art to make curtain loops now. Where half a dozen kinds of different draperies are used on one floor it gives a unity to the effect to have all the loops, at least, alike.

The latest is a curtain loop made of quaintly embroidered grass linen, that lustrous material which stands any number of tubbings without losing its beauty.

Such loops may be wide or narrow. It is possible to buy straight stripes of the narrower bands ready embroidered, and they are far from costly. Shaped loops are made to order or they may be worked at home. The design should be something in keeping with the material, and the embroidery looks best if done in white cotton on a colored ground or in a cotton to match the linen. Small flowers placed close together, apple or cherry blossoms or wistaria, are always suggestive of the orient.

When cretonne, cotton, flowered taffeta or any of the colored materials sold in the shops for summer curtains are used, then the same may be made into loops, if one is carrying out the correct scheme of decoration. Draped curtains are not always preferred to straight hanging ones, especially in the city, but for summer rooms in the country nothing could be more pleasing to those who like to see that they are getting as much fresh air as possible. Looped back curtains give a room a cosier and less formal appearance than straight hanging ones, which is another reason why this style is adapted to the country houses.

Antique supports for curtain loops are being revived and are much liked for cretonne draperies. Perhaps they are not quite so large as were the huge gilded metal rosettes upon which the long trailing curtains of days gone by were draped, but in every other detail they are identical. Some even are of colored glass or crystal, in perfect imitation of the old time ones that are so highly valued.

A GOOD LETTER.

Ease the Most Conspicuous Literary Quality of a Social Letter.

Ease carried even to the point of unconventionality should be the most conspicuous literary quality of a social letter.

Elliptical expressions are proper enough in familiar correspondence, but they have no place in notes of ceremony.

Naked egotism is as much out of place in a familiar letter as in the drawing room or at the dinner table.

Extreme precision, whether of phrase, construction or punctuation, is to be avoided. It may be taken for granted that the polished letters of famous men and women have been edited, and it is a pity that we cannot have such letters just as they were written.

Letter writing is a form of social contract, and the first essential of such contact is courtesy.

One might almost as well open a note in response to a social invitation with the phrase, "Yours of even date received and contents noted," as pepper our private correspondence with the slang of the market place, the law courts or the baseball field.

We should leave out of our familiar letters that stupid legal phrase, "in evidence," because it is technical, and it does not serve as well as something truly universal.

An unconventional form that is better excluded from any but the most familiar correspondence is that in which the pronoun "I" as the subject of a sentence is omitted.

It is a pleasant surprise to read a letter that opens with a sentence directly from the heart of the writer, yet most of us are such slaves of convention that we fear to shock our correspondents by any departure from established usage.

Should Enforce Law.

Provincial Game Warden Tinsley declares that the Government should enforce the regulations demanding license fees from anglers in the Thousand Islands Park district. Some time ago attention was drawn to the fact that fishermen, largely Americans, were not paying for non-resident licenses in this vicinity. Thereafter an attempt was made to collect the fees. But the Canadian Anglers' Association and other bodies used their persuasive powers and now the licenses are not being required. It is said that people in the district feared to lose the tourist traffic.

Mr. Tinsley thinks that the non-resident license fee should be demanded in every case, and will ask the Government to again enforce the regulation.

HAWAII'S GOATS.

They Eat Up the Mountain Forests and Cause Floods.

The wild goat of Hawaii in recent years became a serious menace to agriculture in various parts of the territory. Secure among the almost inaccessible cliffs of the mountains, thousands of these nimble animals find a congenial home, and, although no systematic efforts have as yet been inaugurated for exterminating them, they are nevertheless extremely wary and difficult to approach.

California and Australia have had their scourges of rabbits, and various western states still have their troubles in combating prairie dogs and gophers, but these pests injure the agriculturist directly by attacking his growing crops, while, on the other hand, the goats of Hawaii do the same thing indirectly by ruining the mountain forests, which conserve the rainfall on which the water for irrigation purposes is dependent. This was not for a long time appreciated, but of late years, with the rapid increase in the number of goats, it has become very apparent. In some sections of the mountain districts, once heavily wooded, there is now scarcely any vegetation at all, due solely to the destructive feeding of the goats.

Goat hunting is a popular diversion in some parts of the territory and as a sport is by no means to be despised. Although the animals are numerous, it requires some hard tramping and climbing to get to their haunts, and then a true aim and good eye for distance in order to have much success. Occasionally parties are organized and a week or more spent in goat shooting, with the result that sometimes several hundred are slaughtered. Were it not for the injurious characteristics of the little animals the slaughter would seem wanton in the extreme, for no value is placed on the carcass, and it is usually left where it falls. Indeed, the character of the mountains would often make it difficult to secure the quarry after it is shot, and it is only in case of an especially large animal, which the hunter may desire to secure as a trophy, that any attempt is ever made to recover the body.

The fact that there seems to be no market for the skins prevents their being hunted for any other purpose than the sport or in order to reduce their numbers where they have become especially troublesome. Could some use be found for the skins, there is no doubt that a great number could be secured at little cost. The goats are of the common, back yard, tin can eating variety transplanted here years ago, and, finding the conditions especially congenial, they have increased very rapidly after breaking away from the dominion of man.—Forest and Stream.

Photographing the Stomach.

An improved apparatus has been made by Dr. Fritz Lang of Munich by which the inside of the stomach can be clearly photographed. The camera is actually swallowed by the patient, and when it reaches the stomach the walls thereof can be illuminated by a small electric lamp attached to the apparatus. At the bottom of the camera is wound a photographic film twenty inches long and a quarter of an inch wide. All the surgeon has to do is to pull a cord and thus run the film past the lens. The electric light is then turned on, and after the sensitive film has been impressed with the image the current is turned off and another section of the film is brought into play until the requisite number of pictures has been obtained.

Court Clerk's Big Fees.

The Chicago Bar association has declared war on the fee system of paying clerks in the supreme and appellate courts. So large have the emoluments of these offices become, reports say, that it is not unusual for some of the clerks to receive in a year from two to four times as much as the salary of a judge. The Record-Herald shows that the clerk of the supreme court nets from $25,000 to $50,000 a year, while in the appellate court the fees run up to $30,000. The Bar association demands that the offices be placed on a salary basis and suggests that $6,000 a year is quite enough to tempt good men to take the places.

The Man's Turn to Laugh.

A man in Berlin who paid $1.75 for a ticket to hear Mlle. Labia, the Italian countess prima donna, sing in "Carmen" tried to get the managers to refund his money when the prima donna failed to appear in the role, as advertised. The managers laughed at the man and pointed to a conspicuous placard hung in the lobby announcing that the star was ill and would not appear that evening. Appeal to the highest courts was made, and now the theater managers have been ordered to refund the price of the ticket and pay the costs of the suit.

To Banish Insomnia.

Chloral, morphia and the poppy must look to their laurels as aids to "nature's sweet restorer," for, according to a French contemporary, a recent invention will banish insomnia. The invention is a musical bed. The sleepless and tired man goes to bed and with his foot releases a spring which sets a musical box in motion. The apparatus begins to grind out lullabies and melodies, and in a short time the patient is snoring peacefully.—New York Tribune.

A Wonderful Remedy

ORANGE LILY is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Disorders. Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhoea, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc., etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an Applied Treatment; that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve food properties cannot help but have a beneficent influence. I receive from 10 to 50 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing; and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 35-cent box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1.00 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. Address, with stamp, CONCERNING WOMEN.

Bernard Shaw's wife is a suffragist and marched the other day in London. Her husband told her that he would get into the procession, too, if she would push a bath chair in which he would sit. He said that the funniest thing he saw in the procession was a man with a baby, marching next to a woman carrying a poodle dog. "Only one baby, and that carried by a man," he said. "Only one dog, and that carried by a woman."

There is one sudden death among women to eight among men.

One in each 1,000 couples lives to celebrate the golden wedding.

One hears of many funny devices invented by "bachelor" women as a means of protection against an inroad by the long looked for burglar. One ingenious flat owner stretches a piece of wool across the doorway when she goes out, which would, of course, be broken by an unlawful intruder. Another hangs up two men's hats in her passage to make him believe she has adequate male defenders, while a third—much more valiant—always sleeps with the pepper pot beside her bed to throw in the face of any unfortunate thief who ventures near her. The simplest way of dealing with a burglar is to bury one's head in the bedclothes and pretend to be sound asleep until he chooses to go.

Lost Arts.

Linnaeus, the great botanist, possessed the art of producing pearls by piercing the shells of oysters in a peculiar manner and probably by inserting something in the opening thus formed.

The art of making gold artificially was long sought after and is allowed to have been discovered several times. A Swede who was sentenced to death agreed to reveal the secret to Charles XII. in return for his life and showed a deposit of gold in one of his crucibles. Charles, however, was inexorable, and the successful alchemist was executed.

The art of making unbreakable glass was discovered by a Roman inventor, who was put to death for his pains by Tiberius lest this discovery should depreciate in value the elaborate gold and silver goblets, gem bestudded, which were then in fashion.

The art of mixing unfading colors was known to ancient painters, but invariably eludes the moderns. Probably the ingredients used were not similar.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Mrs. J. M. Tweedale, 12 Napanee Street, Toronto, Canada, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, had those dreadful bearing down pains, and during my monthly periods I suffered so I had to go to bed. I doctored for a long time but the doctor's treatment failed to help me. My husband saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and got a bottle for me. I commenced its use and soon felt better. I kept on taking it until I was well and an entirely different woman. I also found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made childbirth much easier for me. I would recommend your Vegetable Compound to every woman who is afflicted with female troubles."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Tweedale, it will do for other suffering women.

FINDS MUCH SOUGHT REED

Material for Making Matting Grows Along Banks of Saskatchewan

Miss Agnes Laut, who has just completed a trip down the Saskatchewan river in the interests of leading American magazines, arrived in the city yesterday from the north, and is a guest of the Royal Alexandra Hotel. In an interview with a reporter of the Free Press Miss Laut stated that the matter of chief interest in connection with her trip was the information which she had obtained in reference to the extensive growth along the banks of the Saskatchewan of a reed which has very great commercial possibilities and which may in the future add considerably to the wealth of western Canada.

"In the United States," said Miss Laut, "the scientists of the Government have been for many years engaged in the search for the reed from which matting is made in China and Japan. The United States Government has sent a number of men to Japan and China to study this reed and to inquire into the methods of manufacture. Many consignments of the plant have been made from China and Japan to the United States and the attempt has been made to cultivate it on the swamp lands of that country, which are now being reclaimed by the national government. So far all these attempts to cultivate the plant in the United States have failed. The imports of matting into the United States from China at present amount to about twenty million dollars per year.

VAST QUANTITIES OF IT.

"On my present trip through the Canadian West I was requested to keep my eyes open for any indications of this reed, which is known to scientists as the Phragites Communis. I felt assured that it was to be found in large quantities in Western Canada in the vicinity of Lake Winnipeg, and on my trip I saw a field of it which was 70 miles wide and two hundred miles long. The plant grows to a great height and is known to the Indians as the reed which grows like a tree. The Hudson Bay people call it the muskrat reed, from the fact that the rats feed on its roots. The reed grows on a bed of sand which is just above the water line. It is killed out by high water, but in the favorable season kills out the hay of the meadows. It is the exact reed which is used so largely in China and Japan for the production of matting.

"It would seem that in this reed we have in Western Canada the material for a new and important industry. If the Government of Canada should do what the United States is doing in the matter it would at once investigate the extent of territory on which the reed is to be found and send scientists to China and Japan to investigate the methods of gathering the raw material and manufacturing the matting. The amount of money involved is large, the imports into the United States amounting to twenty millions annually, as I have stated."

HUMOR AND ROMANCE.

By W. P. BRYAN.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

"William Thomas Osbon" was the way the name was written in the big family Bible, but since he had graduated from curls and short skirts and "Willie" he had been "Bill" to all the boys and "Will" to all the girls. Only the occasional appearance of a letter addressed in full reminded him that his name was both sonorous and impressive.

Like Peter Pan, Osbon never had grown up. He had arrived at the dignity of a mustache, and since his father's retirement he had more than doubled the capacity and capital of Osbon & Son, yet he was still the same light hearted, apparently care free Bill Osbon that he had been in his boyhood and his college days. Therein lay the source of his great trouble.

From the time she first could toddle about until he had left for college Betty Durand had been his almost constant companion. About the same time she had gone to a finishing school, and when they had returned Osbon found that there had arisen a great barrier between them.

Betty had developed ideals, and her boyish sweetheart—boyish still—did not measure up to her romantic standards. She still liked Osbon except when he spoke of love, but Osbon was too genuinely light hearted to play the lovesick swain, and when he spoke of love with a smile upon his lips Betty was wont to frown.

"It's utterly absurd to ask me to marry you," she had declared. "I like you awfully well, Will, but I must respect and look up to the man I marry."

"I see," was the light hearted response. "You want to be miserable though married."

Betty frowned again at this exhibition of levity at so important a moment and assured herself that she was right in her refusal to marry Osbon.

Augustus Esterbrooke seemed to answer to Betty's description of an ideal. He was tall, dark, mysterious and handsome in a saturnine way. No one ever dreamed of addressing him as "Gus," and he moved majestically in a little world of his own, where the cares and worries of everyday existence were not permitted to intrude. Esterbrooke had inherited wealth and estates, wherefore he despised the little things of prosaic everyday life.

It was characteristic of Osbon that he smiled as he saw the majestic Esterbrooke escorting Betty down the dock at the end of which lay the little steamer chartered for the Sunday school excursion down the lake.

Osbon was keenly conscious that he wanted Betty to be his companion, as she had always been in those early years when they had eaten a mixture of cake and sandwiches and deviled eggs out of the same shoe box and had been supremely content.

It was all different now. Esterbrooke's man solemnly bore an English lunch hamper and rugs and wraps enough for a score.

Betty smiled in friendly fashion upon Osbon, who was darting from crowd to crowd, exchanging a jest here, giving a word of greeting there and doing his best to inspire the holiday spirit.

He paused for a moment to exchange a word with Betty; then Esterbrooke led her off to the upper deck, where they could make themselves comfortable in the shade of the pilothouse. Passengers were not allowed on the upper deck, but Esterbrooke held a block of stock in the transportation company owning the fleet of three steamers plying the lake, and he was a privileged person.

The pair were not again visible to the rest of the picnickers until the grove was reached; then the servant spread the rugs, made coffee by the aid of an alcohol stove and served the lunch.

Esterbrooke and Betty wandered away to escape the crowd, and they did not reappear until the boat was ready to leave. Esterbrooke hated crowds, and he had come merely because Betty insisted. He argued to himself that there would be time enough after marriage to bend her to his ways.

When they reached the upper deck he directed the captain to take the back channel on the way home.

"It's a beastly bore to repeat the scenery," he offered in explanation. "The back channel will be a little different."

"The lake is at a pretty low stage," objected the captain. "There are some pretty nasty rocks in the channel, Mr. Esterbrooke."

"Of course if you are afraid"— he began and smiled softly to himself as the captain brought his teeth together with a snap and stepped inside the pilothouse. Esterbrooke had caused the discharge of one of the oldest men in the employ of the line for less than this, and the employees feared and hated him.

Presently the steamer entered the back channel, and Osbon came hurrying up to remonstrate at the risk. He was familiar with the lake, and as the chairman of the excursion committee it was his province to interfere.

The captain referred him to Esterbrooke, and the later smiled as he reminded him that the charter did not specify any particular route. Osbon, beaten, still smiled as he descended the gangway, but half an hour later the steamer struck a reef and held fast.

As the keel grated along the rocky ridge all was confusion, but in the midst of the confusion Osbon's voice rang out clear.

"No danger!" he shouted. "You can get shipwrecked without extra charge, and we'll get our names in the papers! There's a desert island within wading distance, and if we have to we'll all turn Robinson Crusoes."

The joke was inane enough, but it served its point. The confusion died down, and when it was found that the boat was not sinking every one decided to accept the happening as a huge lark.

One of the boats put off with men to wire that the steamer was safe, and Esterbrooke suggested to Betty that they go with the boat. "We can get a rig somewhere and drive into the nearest town," he explained, "and get the night express home. We are a good four miles from shore, and the rest of the party cannot be taken off until the Champion comes along in the morning. There is no steamer at this end of the lake."

"We will stay with the others," she declared, and with no very good grace Esterbrooke led the way back to the upper deck.

"We might as well have some supper," he declared as he motioned to his man, and presently they were lunching off the remnants of the hamper's contents.

The evening fell, and Betty insisted upon going below. Esterbrooke held back as they entered the saloon. Here was a babel of sound. Babies and children cried through hunger and fear, and tired mothers sought ineffectually to secure quiet.

Through the confusion Osbon passed with the assurance that two rowboats had been sent out to forage and that food would presently arrive. His good humor had not failed him, and wherever he passed he left a trail of smiles behind.

At the sight of the mass of rugs borne by Esterbrooke's man Osbon's eye brightened, and after seeing that Betty was made comfortable the rest were commandeered for the women and children. Esterbrooke ventured a protest, but for once Osbon forgot to smile.

"Your order got us into this hole," he said fiercely. "If I hear another word from you I'll throw you overboard."

He looked as though he longed to do it, and Esterbrooke subsided with a suddenness that was surprising.

The return of the boats with such stores as they could obtain helped to lessen the discomfort. Osbon dealt out the supplies with a careful hand and a cheery word, and presently the women and children sought rest on the saloon floor. The men gathered on the lower deck and smoked and slept as their fancy dictated.

Esterbrooke, finding the situation intolerable, at last engaged some of the crew to put him ashore. When the morning sun began to paint the east and Betty came out of the cabin for a breath of fresh air she found Osbon leaning against a pillar and searching the horizon for the smoke that should signal the advent of the rescuing steamer.

"You have been up all night?" she asked, with quick sympathy.

Osbon nodded.

"I never did like to sleep in a coal bin," he explained. "This was hard coal too."

"How did Mr. Esterbrooke stand it?" she asked.

"He went ashore," explained Osbon. "He felt assured that you would be looked after."

"With you on board," assented Betty tenderly. "You were a host in yourself, dear. I—I guess I love you even if you are not romantic."

"Good humor is better than romance sometimes," he said softly as he took her in his arms. "But I never thought that it would win you for me, dear."

Betty looked into the heavy lidded eyes, now glowing with affection, and saw the man behind the boyishness.

"I'm glad it did," she simply said. And to that Osbon added "Amen."

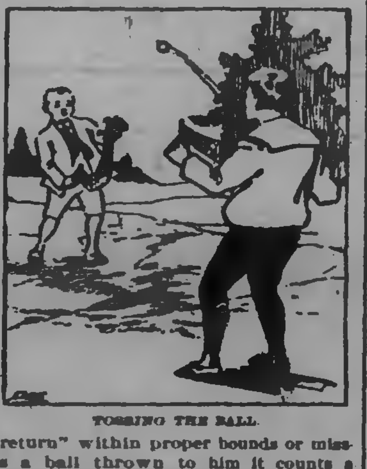
A NEW BALL GAME.

Played With Nets and Remotely Resembles Tennis.

This is one of the very newest games. A popularity greater even than that of "diabolo" is predicted for it.

Net ball resembles in some slight degree both diabolo and tennis. Each player (there are usually two in a game) is provided with a little net fastened between two sticks. When the sticks are held wide apart the net is extended, and presents a surface similar to that of a lawn tennis racket. When the net is held loose it forms a pocket in which the ball may be deftly caught.

Two balls (a lawn tennis ball may well be used) are continually kept in motion, being tossed between the two players. Whenever a player fails to "return" within proper bounds or misses a ball thrown to him it counts a point for his adversary.



TOSSING THE BALL.

While it is easy to catch the ball in the net, it is rather difficult to make the right sort of "return." This latter is done by tossing the net forward and at the same time jerking the sticks as far apart as possible. When you become very skillful you may use your net just as a tennis racket is used, not employing the "pocket" at all. This, of course, gives you a great advantage over an adversary who has to catch it each time in the pocket before returning.

Net ball was born in England and is already becoming quite the vogue in France.—Philadelphia North American

A MONSTER SPIDER.

Ceylon Insect Spins a Web Strong Enough to Hold a Bird.

Travelers in the mountains of Ceylon and India speak of a gigantic spider that is to be found there. It measures about six inches across and is quite handsome—if a spider can be that. The under part of the body is either bright gold or scarlet, and the upper part is covered with a delicate slate colored fur. The web spun by it is like yellow silk, with a central net five feet in length. The web is strong enough to catch and hold a good sized bird. Sometimes a man rides into one of them without seeing it, and the threads wrap about his face like the silk cords of a real net.

Having spun its web the spider sits motionless, waiting for its victim. Presently some large insect or perhaps a bird comes flying against it and is at once caught in the meshes. Then the monster runs fast across the net and begins throwing the coils around the captive. It works rapidly and soon has the head completely wrapped up, so that the captive is first blinded and then choked.

The bite of this spider is not poisonous, like that of the tarantula, but a man who ran into one of these webs and got nipped in the nose by the watchful owner says its jaws are as strong as the beak of a bird. Here and there in the forest may be found skeletons of birds hanging in the webs, the threads of which are strong enough to retain the bones after the weather has destroyed the flesh and blown away the feathers.—Chicago News.

My Ship.

This game may be played by any number of persons, some of whom should not have taken part in it before. Each player is asked what his ship is laden with, and must mention an article beginning with the first letter of either of his names. Thus, if his name is John Smith, he may say, for instance, jewsharps, sunfish, jelly or saurkraut. Those who have not played before are not told of this condition, and whenever they mention something beginning with the wrong letter are told that the ship cannot enter port with such a cargo. They are usually much puzzled by observing that a cargo proper for one person is not allowable for another.

The game is played under different names. In one form, each is asked, "What will you take to the picnic?" and if the answer does not begin with the proper letter the player is told that he will not be allowed to go.

Riddles.

There are innumerable riddles about birds. Two may be quoted as among the best. "Which animals eat most food?" "Fowls, because they take hundreds of pecks a day."

"When may a canary be said to smoke?" "When it indulges in a short pipe."

The anxious inquirer as to "how to make a coat last" is informed that he should make the trousers and waistcoat first."

THREE TRAINMEN ARE KILLED BURNING BRIDGE COLLAPSES

Engineer McFadden and Fireman Brown and Yardmaster Maloney Are Burned to Death in Blazing Ruins—Maloney Was Returning From Funeral.

Hamilton, Sept. 28.—The worst wreck in the history of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway occurred about 6 o'clock yesterday morning near Mineral Springs, a short distance east of Copetown. A bridge, which had been burning, crushed through beneath the weight of the freight train.

Three men were killed and one seriously injured and thousands of dollars' of rolling stock and freight were destroyed. The killed are: Robert McFadden, engineer, 151 South Queen street; Ed. Brown, fireman, 14 Hill street; Wm. Maloney, yardmaster at the International Harvester works. The injured man is Sam W. Dickenson, 72 Poulette street, brakeman. He leg is badly cut.

The wrecked train was a way freight which left Hamilton on Saturday night for Brantford, and left the latter place about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. It was in charge of Conductor R. J. Martin of Waterford, and, in addition to the dead and injured men, Brakeman John McKenna.

Maloney had been in Brantford attending the funeral of his brother, and was returning in the cab with Brown, his brother-in-law.

There is a steep grade where the accident happened, and the train was proceeding along slowly owing to the dense fog. The fog prevented the train crew from seeing any distance ahead of them. For the same reason it was impossible to see the flames or smoke from the burning bridge, and not until the crash came did the trainmen have any intimation of danger.

The engine had just cleared the bridge, which was about 45 feet long, when the bridge suddenly gave way, and engine, tender and seven freight cars were plunged into the creek, about 40 feet below.

Soon after the crash occurred there was a terrific explosion, the engine boiler having blown up and immediately the whole mass of wreckage took fire.

Brakeman Dickenson was on top of the third box car from the engine, and Brakeman McKenna and Conductor Martin were near the end of the train. Dickenson tried to jump, but slipped and was thrown headfirst into the pile of debris. His escape was miraculous. Martin and McKenna kept their bearings and ran to his assistance. He was pinned between two cars, but they managed to extricate him and carried him, seriously injured, to a farm house near by.

There was no sign of the men in the engine, as they were buried beneath the cars, which burned rapidly.

All that was found of the bodies of the trainmen was a few bones and some charred remains.

THIS SWINDLER A CLEVER ONE

Londoner Victimizes Eight Branch Banks in Single Morning.

London, Sept. 28.—The detectives of Scotland Yard are at present engaged in searching for an adroit swindler, who in the course of a single morning victimized not less than eight branches of the London & Southwestern Bank, and got away with several thousand pounds.

The managers of the various branches each received information from a suburban branch of the bank of the transfer of a customer's account, and each branch accordingly credited the client named in the transfer note with the amount specified therein. The swindler, posing as the new client, made a tour of the eight branches in an automobile, signing at each a check for a goodly amount. He then disappeared without leaving any clue.

GOLDWIN SMITH WRITES ON "WAR"

In October Number of the Canadian Magazine

"War," is the title of an important contribution by Professor Goldwin Smith to the Canadian Magazine for October. It has long been known that this sage observer of events is strongly opposed to war in any form. He concludes his paper as follows;—

"For the wiriter, a look at the contents of a field hospital, which he chanced to see after an engagement, was enough. Not all the soldiers who slay and burn are fightin gfor their country. Some are mere mercenaries, slaying and burning for hire. Sir John Macdonald told the writer that there had been 40,000 Canadian enlistments in the American Civil war.

"That war will soon cease and give place to rational modes of settling questions between nations is more than can be hoped. But we may learn to think seriously of war as the curse it really is, and to abstain from invoking or applauding it. There need be no detraction from the honor due to the genuine soldier, who goes forth at the bidding of his country, and is responsible neither for the cause of war nor for its inevitable consequences. But we need not cultivate militarism."

Washington, Sept. 28.—President Gompers of the Federation of Labor Saturday closed his testimony before Examiner Harper in the labor contempt proceedings with the denial of a statement attributed to Broughton Brandenburg of New York to the effect that he (Gompers) had attempted to bribe Brandenburg rather than that he (Brandenburg) had attempted to bribe Gompers. HAD ONE MEAL IN FOUR DAYS

Sunford, Ont., Man Found Exhausted After 50 Mile Trip.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—While the residents of the district were sitting in to enjoy a comfortable evening meal at 5.45 yesterday afternoon, Laurence Stand, poor and friendless, lay exhausted in Leslie Grove for want of food. He was in a pitiable condition when P. C. Stroud came upon him as he lay almost unable to move.

He told the constable in rambling sentences that he had tramped fifty miles in the past four days and that he had not had a meal during that time, and had only had one since last Monday. Stroud at once sent a hurry-up call for the police ambulance and the man was removed to the General Hospital where, after light food had been given him, he revived sufficiently to tell the doctors that he came from Sunford, Ont., and that he was an Englishman by birth. He had walked all the way and had sunk exhausted in the park to take a short rest, but could not get any further.

Challenge For a Death Race.

Buffalo, Sept. 28.—"Bobby" Leach of Chippawa, Ont., a character well-known along the frontier, Saturday issued a challenge to "any person of nerve" to go over the Horseshoe Falls in a barrel. If Leach cannot find any one to take the death race with him, he declares he will go over alone as soon as he can find some one to take the short end of a $1,000 to $500 wager.

Several persons have gone over the falls in barrels, but the only one who lived is Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, who is now selling souvenirs at Niagara Falls.

THE NEW ANGLICAN HYMNAL IS APPROVED BY THE SYNOD

It Contains 749 Hymns Against 643 in Present Collection and Congregations May Use it or Not, as They Choose—Protest Against Romanism.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—After full discussion the general Anglican synod on Saturday gave its full approval to the new church hymnal, which has been prepared by a committee of which J. E. Jones of Toronto was chairman. The synod decided to permit the use of the hymnal in Canadian churches. The publication will be known as "The book of common-praise," and contains 749 hymns as against 643 in the hymnal now in use. The American hymnal, it may be mentioned as a matter of comparison, contains 679 hymns, and the Methodist hymn book 936.

A section of the lower house, led by Venerable Archdeacon Armitage of Halifax, fought against the acceptance of the new book, declaring that it set forth doctrines that were repudiated by thirty-nine articles which the beliefs of the Anglican Church. They asserted that some of the hymns were distinctly Roman Catholic in their teachings.

The resolution for the adoption of the hymnal contained a provision that nothing in the hymnal should be considered as an authoritative pronouncement upon any doctrine of the church, and this stipulation satisfied a majority of the delegates.

The new hymnal will not be forced upon the people. It shall be optional with each congregation whether or not they will adopt it. However, the synod hopes that the new hymnal, which is considered to be much better and brighter than the one at present in use, will supersede it everywhere within a short time.

Ven. Archdeacon Armitage wished to introduce a minority report on the hymnal, but he was ruled out of order.

The nineteen bishops and two archbishops composing the upper house of the synod on Saturday afternoon passed an important resolution strongly approving of the work of the Lord's Day Alliance and making to that effect recommendations to the Anglican community throughout the Dominion.

ONE KILLED IN COLLISION TWO OTHERS ARE INJURED

Head-on Smash Near Islington—Heavy Fog Enveloped Everything in Inky Darkness.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—At an early hour on Saturday morning two C.P.R. freight trains, runing in opposite directions on the same track, crashed into each other almost opposite Islington Station. A heavy fog enveloped everything in inky darkness. The two powerful engines struck each other with such impetus that both of them were lifted up clean off the tracks, and twisted into a tangled mass of steel, iron, and hissing steam. The eastbound train, No. 55, a special composed of 42 heavy cars, was going at a good speed when the collision occurred. Train No. 70 moving west was going slowly. Fireman James Kendall of Chatham was killed instantly, being pinned between the boiler and tender of his engine. So badly were the engines wrecked that although two wrecking crews were at work all Saturday morning, the body of the dead man was not recovered from beneath the engine till 3 p.m.

John Bell, the engineer of the westbound train, and Fireman Fred Woodman both jumped when they saw the other engine loom up suddenly out of the fog. Bell's left knee and side were hurt, and he was assisted to the station, some 30 yards distant, where his injuries were atteneded to. Woodman escaped without any injury at all, landing safely on his feet. Albert Eaton, engineer of No. 641, eastward bound, was struck in the left eye by some of the flying pieces of wood and metal, but apart from that he escaped unhurt. The injuries to his eye are not serious.

BLOOD WAS SPILT AT GAME MATCH ENDS IN A FIGHT

One Player Strikes Others While Playing and Bad Feeling Ends in Sanguinary Melee in Which Revolver is Fired—Wanted to Lynch Man.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 28.—The championship lacrosse game of the season between Vancouver and New Westminster (Minto cup winners), at New Westminster Saturday afternoon, broke up in the bloodiest row that has ever disgraced the game.

The fight, which was embellished by one shot from a revolver, occurred at half-time, when Vancouver was hopelessly beaten with the score 8 to 0 against them.

The bad feeling had started earlier in the game, in a blow which Vernon Green of Vancouver is alleged to have dealt Gordon Spring, who was playing in a championship game for the first time.

Later Green laid in a hard one over Wintemute of Westminster, and just before half-time whistle would have sounded he struck Tommy Gifford. Gifford and Green began to mix it up, and in a moment friends of both men rushed from the fence and the riot was on.

From all directions rival players piled into the melee, and in half a minute the blood and sticks and fists were flying and the lacrosse game was completely forgotten. Green was the principal object of the wrath of the Royal City men, and he escaped to the club house. There he was defended by George Paris, colored trainer of the Vancouver team, and a prize-fighter of coast repute.

Paris, however, was so hard pressed that he pulled a revolver. Dave Burnett, a city employe of Westminster, attempted to wrest it from his hand. Burnett snatched the muzzle and held it to the ground, when the first shot went off. The bullet scratched his palm and penetrated his coat.

A dozen men immediately snatched the revolver from Paris, who was turned over to two policemen.

At the moment of the shooting by Paris there were cries of "Lynch him!" "Let us lynch him!" from the crowd which closed around him. Later an attempt was made to get Paris away from the police and the cries of "lynching" were repeated.

In the meantime the riot on the field was somewhat quieted, and Rev. T. M. Henderson, president of the Westminster Lacrosse Club, was able to make himself heard. He endeavored to disperse the crowd, which waited around Vancouver's dressing rooms for the appearance of the visiting players to renew the attack.

To help matters, Gifford entered and shook hands with Green, and with President Henderson, and the police succeeded in getting Green off the grounds without further injury. Somewhere in the fracas Referee Archie McNaughton was hit in the eye with an egg, but was otherwise unhurt. No effort was made to resume the game.

At the police station, Paris' revolver was found to be fully loaded with the exception of the one shot fired. A crowd followed the police to the station, but later dispersed. The car which conveyed the Vancouver players home was spattered with rotten eggs as it left the city.

Beside Body of New York Girl—Suicide Compact.

New York, Sept. 28.—The bodies of Ella and Edwin Soden and of their mother, Mary Soden, were found in their apartment at No. 258 Greene avenue, Brooklyn, Saturday, the mother and son evidently having committed suicide together in their grief over the death from apparently natural causes of Miss Ella Soden.

The body of Ella Soden was found dressed in white and apparently laid out for burial, but it lay in a pool of blood, while the bodies of her brother and mother were found in an inner room on a bed together with the bedclothes pulled over their heads. A strong odor of chloroform pervaded the room.

Heirlooms Were Stolen.

Hamilton, Sept. 28.—M. J. Udvin, an Australian bushranger, reported to the police that a tin box containing $6,000 worth of antique jewelry was stolen from his house. Some watches 200 years old were in the box, and silverware used in England three or four centuries ago.

Queen's Medical Degrees.

Kingston, Sept. 28.—Queen's medical faculty has awarded the degree of doctor of medicine to J. S. Sweeney of Dover, New Hampshire and Andrew Y. Thompson of Strathroy. The latter is a former crack scrimmager of Queen's senior rugby team.

Killed In Runaway.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Hatherton, wife of a market gardener of Merivale, was killed in a runaway while she was returning from the market.

MR. STRATTON'S DEFENCE

It is useless for the Examiner to attack graft in others.

This is the age of graft. The country is full of graft. Even some of the clergymen are becoming tainted with it. The latest humor of graft is bogus money. It is rumored that bogus moneyy is being freely circulated this time in Canada. We are a great people. We are drifting into the condition which the people of the U.S. are rebelling against, viz., the supremacy of the rotten rich. Rich men now hold the nation in the hollows of their hands. Laws of the land are laughed at. The laws of morality are set aside for their especial benefit. Our chief danger lies not in what we don't see, but in what we won't see.

The evidence regarding Mr. Stratton in his own and that of Mr. Pattison and Mr. McCutcheon, both friends. To read this evidence and his own plunging at the present time in the Examiner would be a source of amusement if it were not one calling for pity and regret. Whatever he may say by way of contending against the charge of misappropriating the $10,000 he wisely never attacks the charge of swearing many absolutely contradictory things regarding the manner of payment of the sum to Mr. Pattison. There is no explaining that away on any pretence whatever. The contest in this riding on the part of Mr. Stratton is one in which casting bread upon the waters is the motto. It is expected to return after many days. It is a regretable affair, but it had to come sooner or later.

MORE MARINE SCANDALS

Quebec, Sept. 25.—Nothing has been settled as to when Judge Cassels will commence his investigation into the affairs of the Marine Department in this city. There are many politicians who contemplate the arrival of the judge in Quebec with fear and trembling. The Civil Service Commissioners found a condition of affairs bad enough, indeed, but they barely touched the fringe of rascality which has prevailed in connection with the administration of marine matters in Quebec.

It is reported that Government supplies, purchased and paid for by the people of Canada, were actually diverted to the use of a summer hotel below Quebec, and that Government steamers were regularly used to carry these supplies to the hostelry in question. The stockholders of the hotel are said to be prominent Liberals of this city. Many will find it convenient to be away from Quebec when the Judge puts in his appearance.

THE MONTREAL WITNESS

Montreal, Sept. 25.—The Witness (Liberal) to-night, referring to Premier Roblin's charges regarding the Crow's Nest scandal, says editorially "It is known to all men that the Globe, at the time referred to, blossomed out with broadside after broadside, demanding the subsidies in question.

"It was known that the principal promoters of the Crow's Nest deal were supporters of the Laurier Government. It was understood that the same men financially controlled the Globe.

"The principal of them was president of the Globe Company.

No one could question that the Globe was injured in standing and reputation by this barefaced raid, which bore no resemblance to newspaper advocacy of public interests, and was simply the pushing of a private interest. That that raid had anything to turn public opinion in favor of the deal we cannot imagine. With such an intelligent and high-minded a public as the Globe addresses itself to, the effect must have been precisely the opposite, and must have greatly weakened the allegiance of many to the party which the Globe supported."

TARIFF REFORM VICTORY

London, Sept. 25.—The Newcastle-on-Tyne bye-election resulted as follows:

G. Renwick, Unionist	13,863
Shortt, Liberal	11,720
Hartley, Socialist	2,971

At the last election the results in the two Newcastle seats were:

Hudson, Labor	18,869
T. Cairns, Liberal	18,423
Sir W. Plummer, Con	11,942
Renwick, Con	11,223

The vacancy was caused by the death of Mr. Cairns. The result shows a Liberal majority of 7,200 converted to a Conservative majority in spite of the 2,971 votes given the third candidate, a Socialist.

Mr. Shortt, the Liberal candidate, was a pronounced free trader.

LOWERING OF THE PUBLIC STANDARD

There are so many good reasons for the defeat of the Laurier Government at the coming elections that the supreme issue before the Canadian people is often obscured or overlooked. It is Canadian national life—the character as a people.

The charges against the Laurier Government do not end, unfortunately, with the faults of their administration, their reckless extravagance, their graft and corrupt disposal of the national wealth to political parasites. There is a greater peril in the debasement of public life and the consequent damage to national character in the political methods of the Ottawa regime. The standards and deals of its public life are of the very first importance to any community, for not only is the nation's business and its status among the nations of the world, determined accordingly, but by a relentless law, they are reflected in the social, commercial and private lives of the people.

The Laurier Government has lowered the best traditions of Anglo-Saxon statesmanship, the high minded unselfish devotion into the public service which our fathers, without distinction of party or creed, have handed down. Statesmanship has given place to political jugglery and it is the party's and not the country's good that determines the policy of the Liberal majority. Merit and personal qualifications are no longer of any weight against political appointments. But it is worse still and humiliating that the air is full of charges of graft and rake-off, and of the corrupt scrabbling of Liberal henchmen at the country's cost until good citizens are ashamed of the disgraceful disclosures which each session of Parliament spreads broadcast through the land, and that rumors of coarse, vulgar immorality which would exclude those concerned from the company of clean and decent people are of common circulation and have necessarily been made the subject of discussion on the floors of Parliament.

These things are of incalculable evil to the country; and no good citizen can afford to be indifferent to them. To the nation, as to the individual, character is all in all. And it can be safely charged that the tone of our Canadian public life has been sensibly lowered during the twelve years of the Liberal Government, and that they are not entitled to support from the better elements of the Canadian people.— Owen Sound Times.

MR. ROLLAND'S ADDRESS

THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY.

"The condition of the woollen industry was still in a serious condition, owing to the competition of foreign materials, a result of the lack of protection. Unless a helping hand were stretched forth, that industry must suffer; it is, in fact, doomed. Greater protection for this, as for several other leading Canadian industries, was absolutely necessary.

THE LABOR SITUATION.

One of the most conspicuous and at the same time one of the most regrettable features of Canadian industrial life was the present labor situation. A year ago manufacturers in all lines were complaining of the scarcity of skilled help, but with the cancellation of orders and the curtailment of production this had all changed. It was inevitable under these circumstances that the workmen should suffer.

TRANSPORTATION.

The transportation interests constituted one of the most important elements in the industrial life of Canada. The fact that Canadian railways had received in lands or cash the sum of $233,000,000 for subsidies, or almost one-fifth of the combined share capital and funded debt of all the railways in Canada put together. "With such an investment," said the president, "it is no wonder that we as Canadians take the deepest interest in the progress of our railways. But what is the situation confronting us? Our northwestern provinces are rapidly being covered with railways leading to the border. We must turn the trade east and west, and keep our products within our own borders, and handled by our own transportation companies," was his conclusion."

The above significant extract is taken from the address of Mr. Rolland, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

G. T. P. ESSAY COMPETITION

The Review G.T.P. Essay Competition, will continue open, by request, till October 17th. The time has been considered too short from the date of the competition's becoming generally known. The advertisement detailing subject, prizes, etc., appears in another column, hence it will not be necessary to repeat the items here.

EDITORIAL NOTES

When criticized as severely as Mr. Stratton has been, for him to try to take refuge behind "private business," is PRETTY WEAK.

Does it not strike Mr. Stratton as ridiculous for him to contend that the Home Life affair was "private business" when it all comes from a public parliamentary blue book? Is this gentleman to be above the law? Are the public companies which the public is invited to join, merely "private business?" A little common sense. The Ontario Bank, the Sovereign Bank, the Home Life, etc., etc., show that if the people are not BETTER protected they will be made "private business" all right.

POLITICAL NOTES

The money that comes from unworthy sources is the direct product of shame and no amount of bluff can excuse the acceptance of it.

The following has been contributed by an admirer:

"Midst pleasures and palaces
There's no place we roam,
Be it ever so humble,
There's no place like HOME,
A charm from the skies,
Seems to hallow PEOPLE there,
TEN THOUSAND the rake-off,
Is ne'er met with elsewhere,
HOME, HOME,
Sweet, Sweet HOME.
TEN THOUSAND, the rake-off,
There's no place like HOME."

"The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $80,000 and no more".—(Extract from Royal Commission's Report)

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. BUFFALO RUN A GARDEN.

Indian Bison Shambles Is Now a Fruitful Garden.

At Shaganappi point, three miles west of Calgary, the Indians used to herd the buffalo over the cut bank, where they would pile up in a pitiful heap of misery. It was great sport for the Indians, and from it they derived a handsome profit by taking the robes of the slaughtered animals.

About the time the buffalo became extinct, an Englishman, J. Lauri, wandered across the plain, and settled on the point, where he engaged in truck farming in a small way, bringing his green stuff into the military post with an old white horse, that still lives at the point.

The log huts built by the pioneer truck gardener are still there, and are being preserved by the present owners, John and Henry Williams. The Williams boys, nephews of the pioneer, inherited the place after the old man's death, and only three years ago came over from England to investigate its value. They are making it produce profit, but in a vastly more civilized way than did the aborigines. This spring they sold 500 dozen heads of lettuce to the people of Calgary. Recently they have marketed here a quantity of this year's green crops, including first prize radishes at twenty-eight days from the seed. They have in crop twenty-two acres, comprising every variety of garden vegetable ever grown anywhere in this latitude, and the growth is so uniformly rank as to prove conclusively that the Calgary district need not look beyond its borders for its vegetable supply.

Round about are thousand of buffalo skeletons now nearly assimilated by the earth and it is these carcases that have made Shaganappi one of the richest gardens in the West. Old "Shaganappi" Lauri was wiser than men thought.

Salmon Run Is Good.

The run of spring salmon in British Columbia has sufficiently far advanced to enable one to form some idea of its quantity and quality, and so far, without being in any way phenomenal, the local men have done much better than they expected. The traps have been in operation since the beginning of June, and up to date about 375 tons of spring salmon have been salt-cured by one firm for the European trade. This only includes salmon over 15 pounds in weight, the smaller ones being either canned or sold on the local market.

The spring salmon is the most valuable of all the different varieties of salmon, and is not canned like the sockeye. It is cut open and cleaned and lightly salted. Then the fish are packed in tierces and put in cold storage and shipped to Europe. On arrival they are treated once more by a method which gets rid of the salt, and they are sold in their natural state as fresh fish, from which they are indistinguishable, and fetch high prices. They are sold chiefly on the German market, but also to some extent in England.

Epidemic of Suicide.

John Henry, originally arrested on suspicion of highway robbery, and held for deportation, twice attempted to hang himself, and a third time climbed to the ceiling by the iron bars and threw himself to the floor, sustaining injury to the skull.

William Long, a dipsomaniac, under the impression that he was to be hanged, broke a window in the cell and cut his neck with pieces of glass. Later he attempted to butt his brains out against the cell wall.

John Irving, who for years brought in the meals to the prisoners incarcerated for mental trouble, refused to eat for several days and had to be fed forcibly with milk through a tube.

HUNTING BIG HORN.

Sportsman Tells Story of Death of Splendid Rocky Mountain Ram.

I was certainly anxious and excited, says a writer in Forest and Stream, describing a big horn hunt in the Canadian Rockies, especially when they halted three hundred and fifty yards distant, and I saw they were all rams. I counted twenty of them. They were led by a kingly old monster who sprang upon a large rock, sniffed the air uneasily and looked behind him.

I was in a quandary. I had a beautiful muzzle rest on a limb, was seated with an elbow resting upon each knee, and was pretty certain I could hit that ram, but if I missed a standing shot it was certain I could not make a running shot afterward at that distance. I decided to wait and was rewarded by seeing the leader spring down and come directly toward me at a trot, followed pell mell by the rest of the band. My heart fairly leaped into my throat as I shifted the rifle from the limb and waited for the time to fire. Nearer and nearer they came, gradually slackening their pace to a walk. Now was my time, and just as I shifted my rifle toward them a puff of wind wafted the scent of the Indians below to the leader, who sprang into the air as though shot and started off at a gallop. My first shot, fired hastily, kicked up the dust under him, and followed by the entire band he disappeared in the thick pines before I could even eject the empty shell. I sprang up and rushed around the pines to where the open slope stretched below me, just in time to see the band stop three hundred and fifty yards distant and look back before their plunge into the gulch below. My last chance had come. Steadying myself as best I could, I held the gold bead on the shoulder of the leader and pressed the trigger. Instantly the sheep disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened up and swallowed them. Half dazed by the suddenness of it all, I ran forward to the ledge half blinded by the wind in my face, and there lay the grand old leader on his side, his eyes already glazed with death, his magnificent horns, fourteen and one-half inches, and more than a full circle, making me realise my hunt for the finest trophy our country has to offer was over, and I was satisfied.

HOW SPITTAL LOST.

Ottawa Marksman Tells Story of His Coming Second For King's Prize.

Lieut. Spittal of Ottawa, who came so near winning the King's Prize of $1,250 at Bisley, England, is home and tells how he missed the King's Prize as follows:

"When we got to the third stage Gray and myself were about tied at the 800 yards. I beat him at 900 by two points and thus had a lead. Then at the 1,000 yards range he fired first, missing the target. I fired again, getting another bull's-eye. Then the trouble started by the range officer interfering and claiming I was resting the butt of the rifle on the ground. There was an argument which lasted some ten minutes. I explained to him that I was in no way breaking the regulations, and asked him to 'take a walk' and look at the rule book. I reminded him that I, as a competitor, had some rights. He replied something to the effect 'that I did not know anything about shooting.' It, of course, angered me somewhat to hear him say that, and know that he was interfering at an exceedingly critical moment. The two officers (placed there, I was later on told, by the range officer's orders), were put near me, one on either side."

While Spittal regrets that he did not win the King's Prize, he says he did his best and believes that his friends will exonerate him of any disposition to win by unfair means. He does not charge that there was deliberate interference to rob Canada of the honor of winning the King's Prize, but the course taken by the range officer undoubtedly had this effect.

For one thing, it caused him to forget to look through his telescope and see how the wind was blowing; and after he shot he realised what this oversight had meant.

Wants Grain-Fed Cattle.

Important proposals in relation to stock-breeding are being urged upon Alberta stock-raisers by Mr. W. F. Stevens, the newly-appointed live stock commissioner. He recommends that cattle should be marketed all the year round, and points out that this could be accomplished by grain-feeding. Meantime, indications are favorable for better prices for beef cattle, a shortage being reported from all over the world. Western Ontario, which in the past has been the principal producer of high class export cattle in Canada, is now turning its attention to the dairy business, and exporters complain that more and more of the dairy class of beef is being marketed, and this is detrimental to the industry in that province. Alberta will doubtless take all means in her power to share in the advantages to be derived from this situation.

Montreal's Arabic Newspaper.

Montreal has the only Arabic newspaper in Canada, The Aah-Shahab, of The Star. The proprietor is M. N. Zarbatany, who is also the editor; he hails from Damascus.

The paper has a very fair circulation in the city, as there are no less than 3,000 Syrians and kindred tribesmen speaking Arabic in Montreal alone. It is published twice a week. Besides its local circulation, the paper has a large circulation in Canada generally, and in the United States. Also large numbers are shipped to Syria and the neighboring provinces for distribution.

A New Swindle.

A clever swindler is working a new game in Toronto, with which he has been fairly successful during busy hours. He gives a ten-dollar bill and spends 5c. or 10c., and then finds he has some loose change, and asks for his $10 back again. In handing back the change he extracts a bill.

CLASS CONSCIOUSNESS.

Pilkins, full of petty hauteur,
Bought a yellow auto motor—
Think of it, a yellow!—
And its tawdry tints bedizen
Half the world and its horizon.
How I hate the fellow!
For his pesky "honk" comes bossing
Every time I touch a crossing,
And in automobilese
There's no bonk for "If you please."

So I (by financial rigor)
Bought a yellower and bigger—
Faster also when it pleases
And the chap who used to blind me
Wallows in the dust behind me.
He's the fellow now who sneezes!
And my "honk" is quite as raucous
In the automobile caucus,
So I wave my hand and bow
Quite politely to him now.

Unpleasant Experience of Show Man at Lindsay

There was doings at the snake menagerie on the fair grounds Friday afternoon. LONDON FIRE RATES GO UP

Underwriters have Decided upon a Substantial Increase

London, Ont., September 28.—The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association on Saturday notified local fire insurance agents of an increase in the insurance rates over practically the whole of the mercantile and manufacturing districts of the city of 50 cents upon the hundred dollars of insurance. Outside of the special area all mercantile and manufacturing rates are increased 25 cents. It is estimated that the increase in the rates means a loss to the business men and manufacturers of $20,000 yearly. The reason given in the circulars sent to the local agents is simply that the increases are demanded in consequence of the report of the underwriters' inspector, Mr. Howe, who found an absence of fire fighting appliances and shortage of water in a test or series of tests recently made here.

FRUIT HAS BEEN HANDLED WELL

Has Arrived Here in Much Better Condition Than in Former Years

Regarding the item which appeared in last Thursday's issue in reference to the number of baskets of fruit arriving here daily, the Review conveyed the impression to the public that the Canadian Express Co. did not handle much fruit, as the facilities for transferring it were not as good as the Dominion Co. Mr. F. Skitch agent for the Canadian Co., informed the Review this morning that they had handled large quantities of fruit this season, and that in getting it here only one transfer had to be made. It was at Belleville. Patrons of both companies have complimented them upon the good condition in which their fruit had been taken care of this season.

COLLIE DOG POISONED YESTERDAY

Valuable Animal of Mr. H. P. Kennedy Meets Death

A valuable collie dog, the property of Max Kennedy, the young son of Mr. H. P. Kennedy, was poisoned yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy and little son left their home for Sunday School about half past two. When they returned shortly after four o'clock the dog was dead. A piece of poisoned meat was picked up in the yard by Mr. Kennedy and it could be seen that the animal had eaten a portion of it. It had evidently been thrown over the fence. The loss is keenly felt by its owner.

AN IRISHMAN SPEAKS

To the Editor of The Review

Sir,—Whoever heard of a good story in which Pat and Mike were not mentioned! We all know that the Irishman is one of the best and wittiest mortals in this world, and are found to be some of the brightest lights of our great nation. Surely Pat and Mike think it an honor and not a discredit to themselves when a good story is told. I am confident that Mr. Roblin does not desire to throw discredit or humiliate any true Irishman, or anyone else for that matter.

As one of the true-hearted Irishmen of this riding, I shall, with many others, enjoy the honor and privilege of marking my ballot in favor of those who were instrumental in securing a secret ballot for the suffrage of this election.

Mr. Burnham has the highest esteem and admiration of a large number of the Irish electorate, and who know that he will fight a clean and manly contest.

What does an Irishman do when he tells a story? Where does he get his witty material!

I have the honor to be, Mr. Editor, one of your supporters,

AN IRISHMAN.

BOYS' WORK OF LOCAL Y.M.C.A. IS BEING WELL ORGANIZED

Prospects are the Brightest—Some Information for the Public of Peterborough.

The boys' work of the Y.M.C.A. is getting well under way, and the best year in the history of the Association is hoped for. Up to a year ago the boys' work has been kept in the dark to a certain extent, but in the last three years the work among the boys of the Y.M.C.A. has taken rapid strides to the front, and to-day is placed on an equal standing with the work of the senior department. The officers of the Association, and the public as a whole, have begun to realize that the boy of to-day is the man of to-morrow. More stress is being put on the work with the boys.

The boys' work of the local Association, under the direction of Geo. T. Evans, is being organized. Mr. Evans reports the prospects for the coming season very bright. A Boys' Managing Committee, composed of prominent men of the city, has been formed for the purpose of supervising the work in the Boys' Department, raising finances, and bring the boys' work before the public more than it has been in the past. Dr. J. W. E. Middleton as chairman of this committee and he represents it on the Board of Directors.

The boys' cabinet, composed of older boys, has been formed to do the work in the rooms and make recommendations to the Boys' Managing Committee. Each member of the cabinet is a member of a sub-committee. The cabinet is as follows;—

Wallace Armstrong, chairman; Max Dobbin, Ray Scott, Fred Hall, Mitchell Hart, Herb Johnston, George Martin.

The department wish to thank Mr. Warne for the clock which he presented to the boys' department.

The membership campaign to be held on Sept. 29th, 30th and Oct. 1st, promises to bring in a lot of new members. Three teams have been selected. The captains are Max Dobbin, Fred Hall and Mitchell Hart. The object is to get in 100 new members. There will be a meeting of all the members of the teams to-night at the Y.M.C.A. at 7.45 for the purpose of receiving instructions and suggestions, and every member is requested to attend.

THE POISON IVY SHOULD BE CUT

Bunch of it on the River Bank at Inverlea Park and at Other Places

On the bank of the river at a point above the bridge at Inverlea Park, there is a large bunch of poison ivey, that might as well be cut away and destroyed. The dry weather has turned the leaves a brilliant red, and it may easily be identified. Nevertheless it should be cut away, and at once.

There is another big bunch of the poison at the entrance of the Barnardo Home, along the Grand Trunk track, and another one in the old Methodist cemetery. School children have frequently been poisoned while passing along the railway track. Many of them do not know the poison ivy when they see it, and are not aware of the danger.

Edgar Selwyn, who appeared in Toronto last week in "Pierre of the Plains," is an old Toronto boy, and, in an interesting interview which appeared in the Saturday edition of the Toronto Star, tells of his early stage difficulties. He was once associated with William Gillette, the famous actor and author of "All the Comforts of Home," and other successes. Gillette released him from his cast and Selwyn said he would make good and Gillette would yet acknowledge his success. His rise was somewhat slow for a time, but he eventually achieved a marked triumph and again joined Gillette's company, this time at a salary of $150 a week. Since then he has had a splendid career, and is held in the highest esteem by both the public and profession.

OUTBREAK OF FIRE CAUSED MUCH ALARM AT HAVELOCK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, September 28 —A fire which created a good deal of excitement in town and which if it had not been isolated from other buildings might have done a great deal of damage occurred Saturday evening at about seven o'clock.

The citizens of town had just finished their evening meal and were having a quiet rest when upon the still and silent air the cry of fire arose. The yard engine broke forth in a deafening whistle that brought everyone to their feet, followed immediately the bell alarm.

There was at once a rush to the scene of action, the house occupied by Mr. J. Reid, and situated at the west end of the town. To those at the east end it looked as if the whole west end was on fire, as it threw a flickering light along the whole length of cars stretching from the station to the west end crossing.

The fire started in the back kitchen which adjoins the main building and is supposed to have originated from a spark from the chimney. It had a good start before even the occupants of the house knew anything about it. It was useless then to try to save the house as the wood was so dry that it easily spread.

The house was isolated fairly well from other buildings and only the one building was destroyed.

The door adjoining the back kitchen was shut on the first outbreak of fire, thus keeping it back while the neighbors removed most of the furniture down stairs.

There was no wind at all, and thus it burnt slowly while the sparks flew straight into the air and came down near the burning building. There was quite a struggle in saving the barn belonging to H. Peters to the west, but there was a good bucket brigade on hand.

What the fire would have done if it had started in a place surrounded by buildings, can be easily imagined as everything is so dry and water is very scarce.

The house is owned by Mr. Robt. Graham of Norwood and is partially insured. It is valued at about $900. Mr. Reid has his furniture partly insured.

SPORTING NEWS

HARRISON HAS CHALLENED SLATER TO 10-HOUR WALK

Wants it to Take Place Here—Thinks He Can Defeat the American Ped—Would Like to Try Jimmy Reynolds' Walk.

Jim Harrison has forwarded a challenge to Tom Slater, in which he asks the latter to meet him in a ten hour walk, the match to take place here at the Brock street rink. He has not yet received a reply from the American crack.

The local man is in good turn and can get into the pink of condition on short notice. He thinks he can defeat Slater and is getting speedier all the time.

When Slater was in Port Hope, he said nothing would suit him better than a ten hour race with Harrison and informed the sporting editor of the Review, that he would start fast and strong. He was twenty pounds overweight in Port Hope and was not in a condition to do his best. At that he made a good showing. With both men in the pink a ten hour go should prove the most exciting bit of walking ever seen here.

"I would like to do that walk of Jimmy Reynold's from Port Hope to Toronto and return. I am sure I can do it in the 33 hours and should be able to get lots of backing against any of those who think I can't do the distance in the time which the barber has so often failed to make it in."

If any Port Hope sports would like to take Harrison up on the proposition there seems no doubt that they would be accommodated by local men.

HURTUBISE AND MOHL TO MEET ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Peterboro Boy Will Tackle Buffalo Man on an Even Footing—Two Fast Boxing Bouts for Preliminaries.

The sporting fraternity of Peterborough will have another opportunity of seeing something good in the wrestling line on Friday night of this week when Gene Hurtubise will go up against Fritz Mohl, of Buffalo, at the Brook street rink. Gene has a big proposition ahead of him, and it looks as if he would have a hard time with the big German, but the local boy has shown that he knows a thing or two about the mat game, and can be depended upon to give Mohl a lively argument. If Mohl wins he takes fifty per cent. of the gross receipts and twenty-five if he loses. If Hurtubise wins he gets fifty per cent., but gets nothing if he fails to beat the Buffaloman. The match is best two out of three falls.

The preliminaries will be two boxing bouts, and they will be good ones, too. Corney Burns, who is as clever with the gloves as most of them, will meet Tommy Daly, of Brantford, in a four-round go. Daly has appeared here before, and is a clever exponent of the fistic game. The boys will put up a great bout.

Two local boys will furnish the other preliminary. George Lillie will meet another good one in a four-round argument. Lillie is fast and scientific with the mitts and will stack up against a clever opponent.

It will be an evening of great sport and should draw a capacity house.

THE RING

Bill Papke and Stanley Ketchel will likely be seen in another bout on the coast. Papke has expressed a willingness to meet the Grand Rapids fighter again. Ketchel does not believe that Papke is his master, despite the terrible beating he received at the hands of the Thunderbolt. Billy, on the other hand, thinks he would have no trouble in gaining another victory over Ketchel. When the two men meet again there will unquestionably be a great crowd to see the go. Ketchel and Papke are both fighters of high class and a fierce struggle is a certainty. There are many critics who hold the opinion that Papke cannot repeat his victory, although it is the invariable history of the prize ring that a defeated man never comes back and whips his conqueror.

PETE'S PLAYED REAL BALL AND SHUT OUT ST. ANDREWS

Locals Had No Difficulty in Trimming Toronto Team—Cobean Pitched for Visitors—Burridge's Good Work.

The Peterborough baseball team, after having been hidden from view for about two months, by the lack of games and the smoke, bobbed up serenely at Riverside park on Saturday afternoon and took a fall out of the St. Andrews of Toronto. The score was 7-0. It was the first of a series of games for the championship of Ontario and the locals made the visitors look like Billy Noggon at the walking match —badly outclassed. The Petes were reinforced by Harry Burridge and Walter Jayes and they were both much to the chocolate. Harry caught a faultless game and watched the second sack so nicely that not one of the fleet footed Saints was able to pilfer a base. Walter Jayes, late of the Wilmington team of the Carolina league, showed himself a classy player. He hasn't been doing anything at the game for about three weeks but he did everything that was expected of him. Although he did not hit safely he got on the second time he was at bat and crossed the pan for the first run.

Mr. Hawkins, who did the twirling for the Petes is some pitcher. He only allowed one hit, gave no charities, only three men got to first base and only two to second. In seven innings he struck out the side in one, two, three order.

Sam Cobean, late of the Toronto Eastern League team, did the heaving for the Saints, and before the Petes got through with him he was about as brilliant as a black cat on a dark night. He kept his hits down to four, two of these being two baggers, but walked two men and hit one, and had two errors, all of which helped in the run-getting. Fred Hickey, was also along. Fred has been doing good work with the Toronto Eastern Leaguers and will be remembered as the young man with the large chest who did things to the Petes at Cobourg last September. That was when they lost the Midland League championship. Fred played at short and had an error as his chief asset. He got the only hit credited to the Saints. Cobean is a southpaw and didn't appear to have anything worth writing home about. The team behind him had five errors besides the two Sam wants credit for and every little bit helped in giving the Petes the seven runs.

On the other hand the Petes only had two errors and they were not costly. Hawkins had the Toronto bunch looking like dried apples all the time and seemed to take much pleasure out of it. Harry Burridge and Walter Jayes were among those who received ovations from the stand when they went to bat. Incidentally the stand contained about 400 spectators and they saw the best ball game of the season. There should have been a thousand on hand. There was plenty of excitement all the time and it was a treat to see Sam Cobean "wiping off his chin," when prompted to do so by the fans. All the locals played real baseball and were full of ginger all the time.

HOW THEY SCORED

The Petes got two run in the third innings. Edmunds drew a base on balls. Lawson sacrificed and Cobean threw the ball over McGee's head and it went to the grandstand. Edmunds scored and Lawson reached third. The ball was thrown there but went wide and Dave made the plate.

Two more across in the fourth. After Burridge had dropped a fly to Currie, Jayes drove the ball to the right field. Wrist did not hold it and the visitor from Buffalo made third. Maddock sacrificed and Jayes scored. Shea drew a base on balls and scored on Currie letting the ball get away from him at second in attempting to head off a steal.

In the seventh, Edmunds hit for two sacks and Lawson scored him with a single. Hawkins sacrificed and was safe on a bad throw by Cobean. Lawson scored. A single by Burns scored Hawkins.

"Ned" Fitzpatrick was umpire and gave perfect satisfaction.

HAMILTON PAPERS TELL ABOUT THE MATCH THERE

Hurtubise Was Much Too Strong For Conkle and Had no Difficulty in Breaking the Holds—Peterboro Man Got Fine Reception.

The enthusiasts took kindly to the boxing and wrestling programme put on last night at the armory rink, and despite the heat, a good crowd was in attendance. The handicap wrestling match between Charlie Conkle, of Hamilton, and Gene Hurtubise, of Peterborough, best known as the Gridiron Giant, was the feature of the evening, and for an hour the pair rolled and tossed on the mat, Hurtubise defying all of Conkle's efforts to get even one fall, although the little fellow was called upon to throw his opponent twice in an hour. Conkle has thrown Hurtubise but the latter has greatly improved in the past year, and Charlie found himself up against a pretty stiff proposition. The big chap weighed 200 pounds, which, in addition to his huge strength, was too much for Conkle's 145 pounds, although the latter was much more versed in the science of the game. At that however, the little fellow put up a game scrap, the bout resolving itself into a battle between brute strength and a fair knowledge of the game and science and ability.

Although Hurtubise demonstrated from the outset that he was a little too much for the local man on the handicap arranged, the match was exciting from start to finish and not one minute of the sixty lagged. Time and time again Conkle had the big fellow in difficulties only to have him wiggle out, to the keen delight of the crowd, who showed great impartiality. Hurtubise was forced to withstand everything in Conkle's repertoire, and to say that he did, and very successfully at that, is proof of the big chap's gameness.

When Conkle and Hurtubise stood up to shake hands at the beginning of the bout the disparity between their heights was noticeable and aroused comment.

Billy Carroll, who was referee, announced that Conkle might be able to give an illustration of the Gotch toe hold. Charlie may have this grip in his repertoire but he did not play it last night, owing to the Peterborough boy's length of limb.

Conkle was early the aggressor and several times with half Nelsons, was levering Hurtubise in the right direction. The easy way the holds were snapped was ignored at first, but it soon became apparent to the crowd that the local boy's strength was not on a par with his antagonist's. After a spell of attacking Conkle took the bottom berth and gave a great exhibition of dodging holds. Hurtubise tried repeatedly to fix a half-nelson or a hammer lock on him, but Charlie was too slippery. The Peterborough boy was frequently nonplussed at the successful opposition put up, and when at a loss what to do, resorted to gruelling tactics.

When Conkle was upper man again things began to move some, though a fall seemed as far off as ever. Conkle tried a hammer lock, and was robbed of a good position by being too near the edge of the mat. A little later the pair fell out of the ring and while on the floor, Conkle pinned Hurtubise.

Billy Carroll was compelled to draw their attention to the fact that the ring was the place to pull off falls in.

After thirty minutes of wrestling the honors being about even, the Peterborough boy took the upper berth and made his best bid for the victory. He could not get a Nelson hold, but nearly succeeded with an arm lock and a crotch hold, but Charlie twisted around and affixed one on Hurtubise and the latter had to break away.

The gong found Conkle working like a beaver, at Hurtubise, with the latter comfortably killing time. He got a great reception as he passed through the crowd to his dressing room.

The Hamilton Times says:

As was anticipated, Charlie Conkle bit off more than he could chew when he undertook to throw Hurtubise, the Peterborough grappler, twice in an hour. Charlie put up a game scrap but did not succeed in putting the footballer's shoulders to the mat even once. It was a battle between brute strength, size and weight, on Hurtubise's part against science and agility on Conkle's part.

Though it was fairly plain from the outset that Conkle could not accomplish the task he had set his shoulder too, unless an accident happened, the match was not without excitement.

Time and time again Conkle had his man in difficulties, but he always broke out of them with apparent ease and defied holds that would have been the end of a smaller and weaker man.

When Conkle and Hurtubise stood up to shake hands at the beginning of the bout the disparity between their heights was noticeable and aroused comment. Billy Conkle, who was referee announced that Conkle might be able to give an illustration of the Gotch toe hold. Charlie may have this grip in his repertoire, but he did not play it last night, owing to the Peterborough boy's length of limb. Conkle was early the aggressor and several times, with half nelsons, was levering Hurtubise in the right direction.

The easy way in which the holds were ignored at first, became apparent to the crowd, that the local boy's strength was not on a par with his antagonist's. After a spell of attacking Conkle took the bottom berth and gave a great illustration of dodging holds.

After thirty minutes of wrestling the honors being about even, Conkle escaping from tight places by skill and his antagonist by strength, the Peterborough boy took the upper berth and made his best bid for the victory.

He could not get a nelson hold, but nearly succeeded with an arm-lock and a crotch hold.

Later he fixed on Charlie a dangerous leg hold, but Conkle twisted around and affixed one on Hurtubise and the latter had to break away.

The gong found Conkle working like a beaver, at Hurtubise, with the latter comfortably killing time. He got a great reception as he passed through the crowd to his dressing room.

"I'LL BE SLEEPING" SAYS MR. CONKLE

Hamilton Man Refuses to Accept Yankee Rogers' Challenge --Is Wise

According to the Hamilton Spectator, Yankee Rogers will not be able to get a match with Charlie Conkle. The Hamilton grappler has some fears of "Yank and declines to meet him. Incidentally Charlie shows a good deal of sense. The Spectator says;

"In reply to the Yankee Rogers challenge, Conkle says that Yankee has a fine chance to connect with him. When Yankee hooks up with me I'll be sleeping," says Charlie."

THE HARRIERS TO HAVE RUN

First of the Season Will be Held To-night

The Y.M.C.A. Harriers will hold their first run of the season to-night at nine o'clock. This will give all the new men a good chance to develop, as the run will not be fast. Now is the time to start and train.

Charlie Conkle found himself up against it last night when he undertook to throw Gene Hurtubise twice in an hour. The latter is a greatly improved Gene, and will take some tall mauling this winter.—Hamilton Spectator.

ATHLETICS

The latest entry received for the Ward Marathon is that of Dominic Speziali, an Italian runner. In a practice run the other night at the Exhibition grounds he covered ten miles in 59 minutes. This Canadian Dorando is about Billy Sherring's build and is 18 years of age. This is his first attempt at long distance running, and he seems confident of making a good showing.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letter.

Mrs. Letitia Blair, Cannifton, Ont., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was sick for five years. One doctor told me it was ulceration, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor, and advised an operation. No one knows what I suffered, and the bearing down pains were terrible.

"I wrote to my sister about it, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It has cured me of all my troubles, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me to pass safely through Change of Life."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SPORTING

GOT WHAT WAS COMING TO HIM

Richard Carman is an astute horseman, and seldom makes mistakes, as his wonderful success on the turf will exemplify, but recently he used such good judgment that his friends were somewhat amazed. His lack of foresight as well as his greediness to pull down a $500 purse cost him a race horse worth easily $5,000 for a paltry $400.

The horse in question was Col. Jack. So hungry was Mr. Carman to add a few more dollars to his already fattened exchequer that he entered this gelding in a race calling for $400 selling conditions. Mr. Carman evidently felt that, as it was very unusual to boost horses at Toronto, that the chances he was taking were at a minimum.

But he reckoned without his host, for Charles Bowman, whose Belmere ran second, was on the job when Col. Jack was offered for sale, and hoisted Mr. Carman's horse to $2,300, at which figure he obtained him. The actual cost was $1,350, as he received $950 of the run-up. The association received the other $950, and Mr. Carman but a measly $400.

Very little sympathy is expressed for Mr. Carman. It is just such practices as this that keeps many owners down to the grindstone. Selling races are framed to give a poor owner an equal chance with a rich one, and when a man runs a $5,000 horse in a $400 selling race, he deserves to lose him.—Toronto News.

THE RING

London, Sept. 26.—Having met with another disappointment in his efforts to get a match with Tommy Burns, Jack Johnston, the colored scrapper, has abandoned all hope of inducing Burns to meet him, and to-day began active training for his fight with Sam Langford, the dusty fighter from Boston, which will take place before the National Sporting Club, Nov. 4.

What the outcome of a fight between Burns and Johnston would be is hard to say at this time, writes Jim Corbett. Of course my sympathies would be with Burns, but I happen to know that if Johnson is right he would come closer to whipping Burns than any other pugilist in the game to-day. Burns, I think, as a rule, is underestimated by the fighting fans. Tommy, for his inches, is one of the greatest fighting machines in the world. He knows both how to attack an opponent and how to defend himself when he has to. And as for either Ketchel or Papke being able to lick him at this stage of the game it seems almost out of the question.

Joe Gans may be seen in six-round battles, despite his declaration that he is through with boxing for good. The eastern managers, particularly those in New York, believe that Joe would be a great card in short bouts. The "old master" should be able to go six rounds as fast as any boxer now before the public. It is not believed that there is a lightweight in the country who can whip old Joe over this distance. Gans is in pretty good shape financially at present. He has $35,000 planted in Baltimore, exclusive of the money he earned in his last two fights with Nelson. Joe has been offered six-round matches with Murphy, McFarland, Cross and Keyes.

Eddie Hanlon has been matched with Owen Moran. The bout is set for Sept. 30th, a date whereon Freddie Welsh was originally carded to meet Hanlon. Sam Berger, who is conducting the bout, had planned to have the two light-weights come together, but it seems as if he should make a good showing against Eddie, who is on the down grade. Owen had a bit of trouble in getting down to the featherweight class.

Battling Nelson, light-weight champion of the world, is the one man in the business who has no need for a manager, a press agent or other paid booster. The Dane knows the game from A to Z and clear back across the alphabet again. One hour after the Battler had arrived in Los Angeles for his fight with Gans the fact was as well known as though he had been in the city a week. Talk about action! Here is what Nelson did during the first two hours he was there: Visited the offices of five different newspapers and gave each sporting writer an entirely different and "exclusive" line of talk. Called on Referee Charley Eyton, Jim Jeffries, Uncle Tom McCarey, Al Greenwald, Hen Berry, Aaron Long, Jim Flynn and Al Kaufmann. Held a five-minute conversation over the long-distance telephone with Willie Britt at San Francisco, instructing Willie on the line of punk to be handed the northern parts. Wrote five letters and then remarked that things seemed sort of quiet in the old town.

RUGBY

Evidently W. Milton Gladysh, of Toronto, secretary of the O.R.F.U., has been indulging in a large pipe-dream. The result came in the shape of a telegram to Stanley Trotter this morning, which read, "First game yours. Write Toronto regarding other senior game. Gladysh."

Have the O.R.F.U. officials not yet got wise to the fact that there will be neither senior, intermediate or junior teams here this year? If not will some one kindly whisper it in their ears, and end this awful suspense.—Kingston Standard.

New York, Sept. 23.—Representatives of all the New England and Eastern colleges met at the Murray Hill Hotel here last night to discuss possible amendments in the playing rules for this season's football.

Walter Camp, of Yale, acted as chairman. The meeting was held under the auspices of the central board of officials of the American Inter-Collegiate Football Rules Committee.

The chief point under discussion was the rule governing the forward pass. After argument had been heard from a number of prominent coaches on the subject, it was decided that the rule as interpreted last year would be preserved in its integrity, the tendency to frequent changing of the rules being unanimously condemned.

RARE PLANTS ARE ON EXHIBITION

Cactus Plants can be Seen in the Window of Chief Blackcloud's office

Chief Blackcloud, the Indian Medicine man, has a unique display in the window of his office on Water street, below Mason's greenhouse. It consists of an unusually fine display of the rarest parts of cactus plants which are from all parts of the world. Curious thorny plants are seen, such as grow on the barren veldts of South Africa, strange specimens of columnar shape from the slopes of the Andes in South America, neat little pincushion varieties, such as are found in profusion on the sand hills of our own Canadian Northwest, and magnificent globular parts from the burning Alkali plains of the Southern States and Mexico. A great oddity, called the fish-hook cactus, is a natural producer of this indispensible article to the fisherman. The hooks are extremely strong and about two to four inches long. The same plant is called the water barrel of the desert. It attains a large size, about the dimensions of a wash-tub, and the thirsty traveller can hollow out the crown and procure a drink from the juice which quickly gathers there. As a window display it is an effective one, and has attracted considerable attention from passers by. The collection is probably unequalled in Canada for rarity, and number of fine specimens.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Saving Explained by a Peterborough Citizen Who Knows From Experience.

Many Peterborough people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help.

Sick kidneys are responsible for a great amount of suffering and ill health.

The reason so many use Booth's Kidney Pills is their quick relief for all kidney weakness. Here is what a Peterborough citizen says;

Mrs. George Hawes, of 857 Water St. Peterborough, says:

"I had suffered for some time with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble and although I had tried many remedies and doctors I found little or no relief. My back was weak and a dull, bearing down pain settled across the small of it and extended into my shoulders and around my sides. I was weak and languid and the least exertion would tire me out. Dizzy spells were frequent and often I would awake with a severe headache. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills through an advertisement at McDermid and Jury's pharmacy. I soon found them to benefit me and continued their use. In a comparatively short time I was as well and strong as ever and without a symptom of the painful and long-standing disease."

Sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd, Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian agents.

Fort William will ask Andrew Carnegie for $60,000 for a library.

WIRE ON THE ROOF CAUSED FIRE AT GREEN'S FOUNDRY

Charged Sheeting on Roof and Current Spread Through Building—Shavings Caught Fire But Blaze Was Soon Put Out—Men and Horses Received Shock.

At 1.30 this afternoon a call was received by phone for the fire brigade to respond to a call for a blaze from Green's foundry, corner Park and McDonnel streets. A power wire which was strung across the building charged the sheeting with electricity and the current spread through the entire building. The shavings at the foot of the hoist used for carrying them caught on fire and the flames shot up the hoist shaft.

The brigade as usual acted with great expedience and by the employment of the hose and chemicals the flames were extinguished with comparatively little loss.

The current spread to the sidewalk on McDonnel street and three of the men from the foundry were knocked down by the shock.

The fire team also received a shock while going along the road and ran away breaking a whiffletree.

"INDIAN LIST" IN THIS CITY IS RAPIDLY INCREASING

It is a Great Affair—Under the New Act Many Questions Seem to be Impertment—Inspector Kept Busy.

"What's your name."
"Where do you live."
"Are you married."
"Is your wife living."
"Have you any children."

No; these are not the questions that form part of an insurance blank for life insurance, or a civil service position, but what the barkeeper may fire at you when you go for a little nip of your favorite nipple.

That popular institution known as the "Indian list" is likely to make the presentation of credentials necessary if it continues to grow at the alarming rate that it has during the past couple of weeks.

Inspector Stewart has twenty-five names on it and the list is growing every week.

The bartenders are nearly distracted over its length. Every time a stranger enters he has to be scrutinized carefully and eyed with suspicion lest he be on the index expurgatoria, and in order to be certain that they are standing within the law a short catechism similar to the one printed above may have to be put into operation before the cooling stream will flow down red lane.

Inspector Stewart is also having a busy time registering the names and circulating the lists to the hotelmen of those whose "licker" is to be cut off.

The complaints are usually made by the wives whose husbands spend their wages in the hotels to the neglect of them and their children, and some pathetic tales of the abuse and misery that follow an immoderate love of the bottle are poured into the inspector's ears by those who suffer.

WALTER H. CLUXTON, THE LEAD IN BIG VAUDEVILLE FEATURE

Walter H. Cluxton, a Peterborough boy, is rapidly advancing in the comedy world. He is at the head of a clever company, putting on "An Old Man's Darling," a vaudeville playlet of merit. The part is prominently featured in the theatrical advertisements in newspapers and the press comments are most favorable.

"The Chronicle," of Perth Amboy, N.Y., says in its edition of Sept. 21st;—

"Cluxton and Anderson have a comedy dramatic sketch entitled 'An Old Man's Darling' that is somewhat out of the ordinary. Mr. Cluxton plays the characters of 'Davy' and the old Scotchman in a remarkably clever way, while Miss Anderson as the lovesick wife is pretty and clever. The act is well staged, nicely dressed and artistically interpreted, taking three curtain calls last night. The act is extremely good."

BUILDING TRADE IN CITY SHOWS MUCH IMPROVEMENT

Mr. B. Paquette is building four brick veneer houses on Patterson st. They will all be in the same locality and will cost, according to the permits issued at the City Hall, $700 each. Work on them will be started at once.

Mr. H. M. Moore has taken out a permit for a brick veneer house on Aylmer street. It will cost $1,500. The contract has been let to Mr. T. J. Moore.

Mr. Henry Rose has taken out a permit for a solid brick house on Sherbrooke street, to cost $1,000.

A meeting of the Association will be held to-night at Mac's barber shop at 8.30 o'clock.

RUGBY PLAYERS GETTING IN SHAPE FOR SEASON

Rugby had the call on Saturday and at Riverside park and Nicholls oval big squads were working out. It was somewhat unique to see a baseball match followed by a rugby practice at Riverside, and in truth, the weather was more suitable for baseball than for the autumn game. A number of last year's seniors and a bunch of new material worked out at Riverside park, and went at it in lively fashion despite the heat. Clarke, Crough, Quinlan, and Fitzpatrick were among those out.

The Y.M.C.A. had over a dozen men at work at the oval. They worked strenuously and Physical Director Collings is well pleased over the material he has in hand. The Association should be able to develop a husky team.

The Collegiate Institute boys also practiced at the oval and made a promising looking lot of players.

Apparently the City League is going to be a big success.

HAS ONLY BEEN ONE RAIN IN A PERIOD OF 46 DAYS

"How beautiful is the rain,
After the dust and the heat,"

Many people who have heretofore been unable to see any real truth in the above poetical quotation realize today that there is a good deal in it.

The long promised rain has come at last and everybody is thankful, for there has been no descent of moisture for lo, these many moons.

The rain will be of inestimable value to the country but it will take a good downpour to make much of an impression. In addition to benefitting the vegetation the rain will stamp out the bush fires and prevent any further destruction of the woods, and relieve the anxiety that has been felt for several weeks. The atmosphere will also be cleared of the smoke that has hung over the land like a pall for over a month.

Of course there was a slight shower a week ago Friday afternoon, but it did not amount to a great deal.

Who remembers when there was any rain before September 18th. It seems so long ago that many may not remember it.

It was on August 13th. There was a good shower that day. Since August 13th there has therefore only been one rain—one rain in forty-six days.

That's a record that will hold for a [illegible].

FOR THE VISIT OF THE FIREMEN

YOU may be very careful yourself on your own premises. You may not allow smoking, or the striking of matches, or the careless handling of combustibles, but how do you know whether your neighbors are equally as careful? Even with the greatest of precautions fire is apt to break out just where and when least expected, and that is why the wise should come and take out a Fire Insurance Policy with us, in a Company such as the LIVERPOOL & LONDON & GLOBE, SUN, NORTHERN, ALLIANCE, and such other first class British, American and Canadian Companies which we represent.

FAREWELL SERMON OF REV. WM. MAJOR AT ALL SAINTS'

Church Was Crowded to the Doors Last Evening—Eloquent Sermon by the Departing Rector—Leaves Shortly for Montreal.

All Saints' church was crowded to the doors and many were unable to gain standing room last evening, the occasion being the farewell sermon of the rector, Rev. Wm. Major, who leaves shortly for Montreal where he will be curate of St. George's church in that city.

During the four years of Rev. Mr. Major's rectorship, the congregation of All Saints' has steadily increased and the church is now strong financially. Many have been benefitted and no one could fail to be impressed by Rev. Mr. Major's eloquent sermons. His departure will be greatly regretted not only by his congregation, but by the people of Peterborough in general.

The text of Rev. Mr. Major's sermon was taken from II Cor. 13; 11 "Finally, brethren, farewell, be perfect, be of good comfrot, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

In opening, the retiring rector said that on this, the last occasion he would occupy the pulpit as rector, he did not propose to come with a mournful or tearful message. He had strong antipathy to the usual so-called farewell sermons and he did not believe the people cared for it. On the other hand his new field of labor was not so far away but that he could come back occasionally and talk to them. He proposed to give and did give a sermon which was lasting and helpful to all who were present.

His first point was "Be perfect." This was impossible in itself, but if one had no ideal to work for, there would be no improvement. Thus perfection has been recognized from the early ages was evidenced by the fact of the world's progress in every line. The ideal of perfection for Christmas was found only in Jesus Christ. If one flaw could be found in that life, then everything was reimaging for us all.

The second point was "Be of good comfort; be of one mind; live in peace." The relationship which had existed between him as rector and the congregation had always been peaceful; it has been harmonious, but it has not reached perfection. He urged the members of the congregation to band together, to be of one mind and to live in peace. It was only in this way that the work of God could be successful.

In closing he urged his hearers to look to Christ for their ideal and to strive to attain His perfection.

REV. DR. FOSTER SAID FAREWELL LAST EVENING

To the Congregation of St. John's Church—Left To-day for Stubenville, Ohio

Rev. Dr. Foster concluded his ministration in St. John's church last evening. He left the city this morning by C.P.R. train at 8 a.m., for Steubenville, Ohio, via Toronto and Pittsburg. Among the friends who assembled to wish him goodbye and God-speed were Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer, Mr. C. H. Mitchell, Warden, Mr. B. J. Devey, organist, and Messrs. W. J. Johnson and M. Poussette.

The evensong yesterday was fully choral and Dr. Foster presented the service splendidly, the choir responding, bringing out all the beauty of Tallis's setting of the service.

Rev. Dr. Foster heartily thanked the leader and the choir for their faithful service and asked the congregation to remain behind as he wished to shake hands with them all.

Preaching on the miracle of the feeding of the five thousand the preacher noted that those people who were faint were far from home to hear the word of God. He contrasted the attitude of many professing Christians, who are so engrossed in the pursuit of this world's goods for six days that they are too tired to come to God's house for worship on Sunday.

Less than thirty worshippers at eight in the morning, but hundreds at night. The miracles of the Lord shows His power in using humble means to carry out His will.

Arabs never tread under foot scraps of bread but take no thought for tomorrow, saying God will provide.

Rev. Dr. Foster is strongly in favor of the tithe system of giving, and said that we are extravagant for selfish ends but miserly in our giving to God.

Mr. Stratton thought it was great fun poking fun at Mr. Burnham, but now he thinks differently.

That stick of Mr. Burnham's seems to be a source of trouble to Mr. Stratton. The latter will feel the weight of it on October 26th. Anyhow it was a watch.

Have you noticed the smoky atmosphere of late. Must be another of Stratton's cigar industries gone up in smoke.

A ROUSING RALLY PRESAGES VICTORY ON OCTOBER 26TH

Big Turnout of Mr. Burnham's Supporters on Saturday Night—Main Committee Room Was Crowded--Several Good Speeches.

The victory of Mr. Burnham, the Conservative candidate for West Peterborough is assured, and, judging from the enthusiasm shown at the rally at the Young oCnservative Club rooms on Saturday night, the people are with him. The hall was crowded and each speaker was enthusiastically received. The speeches were short and to the point. It was the first rally that had been held. The feeling expressed was one of confidence in Mr. Burnham and his leader, Mr. Borden.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., acted as chairman and was greeted with applause as he rose to speak. The meeting Friday night was a rousing one. It should enthuse everyone to get to work. Every man you meet, speak to him, said Mr. Bradburn and interest him in the cause.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, the Conservative candidate, was the first speaker. He was greeted with continuous applause as he came forward. He was glad to see such a large number of workers present. The Conservatives were splendidly organised for Mr. Bradburn's election, and the same organization was working at the present time. Mr. Stratton and Mr. Hall worked hard to win West Peterborough for Mr. Gillespie, in order to have it clear for them in the Dominion elections. But they were unsuccessful. The magnificent organization of the Conservatives could not be beaten. Mr. Burnham firmly believed that the people were determined to defeat the Laurier Government and Mr. Stratton. (Applause.) The Conservative candidate referred to the lengthy explanation of Mr. Stratton in Saturday's Examiner in answer to the charges made by Mr. Burnham on Friday night. "Mr. Stratton is a worker on explanations", the speaker remarked, "but they are explanations that never explain. He never speaks about swearing to fifty different things. It has been shown that he is not the capable business man that he prides himself on being, and how can he ask the people for their confidence.

Mr. Burnham said that Mr. Stratton would not steal the election this time. "We are fighting a perfectly square fight," he said. "If we cannot win fairly we won't win at all. A man that doesn't act squarely is not fit to associate with the good citizens of Canada. He ought to be behind the walls with persons of his own class."

The speaker thought that, if he guaged public opinion correctly the Conservatives would have an overwhelming majority.

A PROMINENT CONSERVATIVE.

A prominent Conservative, who has taken an active part for many years in elections, was next called upon to make a few remarks. He had been watching things closely during the past few weeks, and he was of the opinion that there would be a landslide in West Peterborough. He had been in touch with a great many men, and a surprisingly large number of Liberals were going to cast their votes for Mr. Burnham. The Laurier Government has outlived its usefulness.

Mr. Burnham, the Conservative candidate, was a man of honesty and integrity. That is a mighty point," added the speaker. He was sorry to say that the same could not be said of his (Mr. Burnham's) opponent. He regretted it because Mr. Stratton was a citizen of Peterborough, but as such could not deservedly command the respect and confidence of the people. He urged the workers not to be idle. "We must see that every vote is polled for Mr Burnham," he said.

In conversation with men from the East, he learned that Mr. Sexsmith would win with 800 of a majority. "We must accomplish the same walkover for Mr. Burnham." Many Liberals had heard Mr. Borden, and they say that he is a man that can be depended upon. If the people are true to themselves Mr. Borden would be the next Premier. (Applause.) He referred to an item he had read recently of where the Minister of Marine had been addressing the Liberals of Quebec. The Minister said that there was no time as the present that the Reformers were required to stand firmly together. If they lost ten seats in Quebec, he said, the party was lost. That shows how the Liberal party stands, and the speaker believed that the Conservatives would carry the country.

MR. THOS. WILSON.

Mr. Thomas Wilson, chairman of No. One Ward, was the next speaker. He said that he was in Toronto a short while ago. In conversation with two prominent men of that city they asked, "Are you going to put that Ross Government man in power? Those outside of Peterborough don't want him, and the people of Peterborough surely don't. He ruined the Ross Government. We have a man of honest principles and integrity", said Mr. Wilson, and we are going to put him in.

This evening the first meeting of No. One Ward will be held, and that all those in that ward come out and get down to work.

Mr. Robert Hamilton, of No. Five, said that they had everything ready and prospects were bright in his district for a majority for Mr. Burnham.

MR. E. A. PECK.

Mr. E. A. Peck, on coming forward, was enthusiastically received. He said that the Borden meeting on Friday night was the best he had ever been at. It was a good omen of what was going to happen on election day. The architect in designing the opera house, he said, could not have had in mind a Conservative meeting, or he would have made it larger. He said that at the gathering he had heard Mr. Burnham say that he had some faults. "But," said Mr. Peck, "I don't think he has. (Applause.) His life has been one of honesty and integrity." Mr. Peck said that he did not think that any man in Mr. Stratton's committee rooms could get up and say the same about Mr. Stratton, and be speaking the truth.

MR. KENDRY.

Mr. Kendry was very pleased to be present and support Mr. Burnham. He said that a few days ago Mr. Stratton went to a man in the north end of the city and asked him to vote for him, stating that it was the most critical time in his (Mr. Stratton's) life, and Mr. Kendry was of the opinion that it was the most critical time.

Every man must put his shoulder to the wheel, remarked Mr. Kendry, and work hard. In Mr. Burnham Peterborough was going to have one of the best members they ever had. (Applause.)

Mr. Kendry spoke of the grafters at Ottawa, and said that they had them right here in Peterborough. "What was the Trent Canal staff," he asked. "Are they not all grafters?"

Careful, vigilant scrutineers must be appointed and instructed, Mr. Kendry continued. The riding is not to be stolen this time. To the young men, he hoped that they would work hard. Stratton will be beaten. He never won an election that he didn't steal. "We are here to elect Mr. Burnham, and we are going to with a big majority."

PETER GARDINER.

Mr. Peter Gardiner said that he had been out in Smith. A number of Liberals out there were either going to vote for Mr. Burnham or refrain from voting. Smith, he said, would go Conservative.

MR. JOS. JONES.

Mr. Jos. Jones was greeted with great applause as he came forward to speak. He had attended a meeting of Mr. Borden's in Wayham, Man. People came miles to hear him. The rink was crowded. They were all for Mr. Borden. He was warmly received. The speaker felt confident of Mr. Borden's victory. He was honest and straightforward. He hoped that everyone would work hard and return Mr. Burnham. Mr. Stratton would leave nothing undone to win but he hoped that there was no one who called himself a man would accept a cent for his vote.

MR. JAMES EDGAR.

Mr. James Edgar, chairman of Ward Two, hoped that every man would be around at the committee rooms every night and work to win their division.

Mr. W. A. Kindred was called. He said that he had been away from the city and had only got back yesterday. He started right in to work. This election will be a feat. The country must be won for Mr. Borden. Honest, clean men must be returned. The graft and corruption now in power must be put out. We want in our Dominion good clean government like what we have in Ontario", he added. He would work hard for Mr. Burnham, and he urged every good, honest man to do the same.

MR. A. ALLISON.

Mr. A. Allison said that he was at the meeting on Friday night. He heard Mr. Burnham's address, and several complimentary remarks were passed on it on Saturday morning. Mr. Burnham is our ideal, and no stone will be left unturned or word unspoken, on my part, to make him member for West Peterborough. He will then show J. R. Stratton what he can do in a right, honest way.

MR. W. J. KEARNS.

Mr. W. J. Kearns was called upon to say a few words. He said that he had been a citizen of this city for fifty-one years. He had known Mr. Stratton and Mr. Burnham since infancy. He knew their reputations and he would support Mr. Burnham. The Liberals at Ottawa did not want Mr. Stratton.

MR. A. H. WEBB.

Mr. A. H. Webb was the next speaker. He said that he had been trying to compare the two candidates. He thought that the way things looked now, Mr. Burnham would be elected on October 26th. He heard Mr. Stratton remark in his committee rooms that he did not know how Mr. Burnham could ask any man for a vote. Some one asked why? He answered "because he could not smile." If that is all that he has against Mr. Burnham, he must be all right," said Mr. Webb.

The Laurier Government had brought out Englishmen in large numbers to this country. They encouraged immigration. They brought them out here to starve or beg on the streets. They were afraid to have another registration before election. They knew too well that every Englishman would vote against their Government. A watchful eye would have to be kept on the polling booths. Fellows not registered would be brought in to vote on dead men's names. He was confident of Mr. Burnham's election. In electing him they would be voting for a good, honest administration.

MR. W. H. G. ARMSTRONG.

Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong said that he had not taken any part in party politics, but he thought the time had arrived for every Canadian to rise and put out that disreputable Government.

The meeting was closed with the usual cheers.

Mrs. Edward Hardeson, of Niagara Falls, committed suicide by jumping into the Niagara River at Chippewa.

VOL. LVII. No. 75. PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1908 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

SETTLEMENT IS IN SIGHT BETWEEN C.P.R. AND STRIKERS

Bell-Hardy Makes Hurried and Secret Trip From Montreal to Meet William Whyte, With Whom He Has Been Talking Over Situation.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—While no definite announcement has been made, there appears good grounds for expecting that the next forty-eight hours will bring about a settlement of the C.P.R. mechanics' strike.

Bell Hardy of Montreal, chairman of the strikers' union, has for some days been quietly conferring with Second Vice-President Wm. Whyte, and the transference of negotiations to the western management appears a good indication of the disposition of the company to reach an early settlement.

The company has so far succeeded in holding its own and replacing strikers that it can make concessions with good grace, and the move would no doubt be popular generally, as well as highly gratifying to political interests, both federal and provincial, which much desire a speedy settlement.

WILLIAM WHYTE.

"It is probable that the men would consent to go back to work conditionally on the whole question being reopened later at a date to be named, and on the status of their union being safeguarded.

With the exception of one regrettable incident the strike generally has been conducted here with moderation and courtesy on both sides.

West Toronto, Sept. 29.—The local union officials last night were quite jubilant about the latest developments in the C. P. R. strike, as everything points to a speedy termination of the struggle.

"Negotiations are on in Winnipeg," said a prominent official, "and Bell Hardy, general chairman of the federated trades of the C.P.R., left Montreal for Winnipeg last week in response to a telegram from the strike leaders in the west.

"We have no definite information, yet as to what is happening there, but certain facts which we have learned to-day make us feel very hopeful of the result."

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 29.—That the settlement of the C.P.R. strike is likely to be reached about Wednesday or Thursday is the general opinion among the striking mechanics in this city. One of the leaders among the strikers said yesterday:

"Things look more favorable toward a settlement at present than they have since the commencement of the strike.

"A C.P.R. official who attended the smoker given by the trainmen of the city on Saturday night, congratulated us on the clean and gentlemanly manner in which the strike had been conducted throughout, and assured us that although we had not received word there was something going to happen about Wednesday. Although he did not say what, we concluded that the company had decided what it was going to do, and was to do it about Wednesday."

A Russian Train Robbery.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—A successful train robbery of $100,000 has been executed by a band of thirty men near Vilna.

The guard on board the train consisted of six men only. The robbers took possession of a small station before the arrival of the train and shot down the train guards as the engine slowed up.

RAIN GETS AFTER GRITS AT JACKSON'S POINT MEETING

Downpour of Rain Cuts Speeches Short—Laurier and Graham Were Principal Speakers.

Jackson's Point, Sept. 29.—Protected by a small bodyguard of Liberal stalwarts, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was for 20 minutes yesterday afternoon protected from injury in a crush of humanity which overran and crowded to the point of positive danger the platform from which he had been addressing the audience when the steady rain that had been falling suddenly broke into a wind-driven deluge, which the people could not withstand.

Hundreds scrambled over the platform to get under the shelter of the temporary roof which protected it. The Prime Minister stepped from under the canopy, which no longer afforded shelter, and was followed by Senator Cox, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and others. They were immediately caught in the shoving, pushing, pulling mass of humanity, and the situation was replete with grim possibilities.

The day was full of incidents. As Sir Wilfrid spoke from the main stand, Hon. Geo. P. Graham stirred the crowd to enthusiasm under a large dining tent. Later Sir Wilfrid finished his address under this tent, though his voice could be heard not more than twenty feet, because of the incessant clamor of half or wholly drenched people.

Sir Wilfrid had been speaking probably 15 minutes to the dripping crowd, whose interest in the proceedings was remarkable, when the rain became a downpour and, driven by a wind, put the crowd to a test which proved beyond their endurance. Over the stand they scrambled, threatening the structure with collapse. The builder had done well, however, and the Prime Minister suffered only, what he assured many, of having the pleasure of being shoulder to shoulder with his own people.

Sir Wilfrid and party passed through Toronto last night for Ottawa. On Wednesday night he speaks in the big rink at Cornwall, and on Thursday will conclude his tour of Ontario in Russell. Next week he will open the campaign in the city of Quebec.

SYSTEMATIC DISTRIBUTION OF RELIEF IN THE CITY

Efforts to Have it all Done Through Relief Officer Miller Meeting of Charity Board.

In order that the distribution of charity in Peterborough this winter may be on a more systematic basis than in the past, it is proposed to have it all done through the relief officer of the Central Charity Board, Mr. F. W. Miller.

The Charity Board met in the city clerk's office last night, when two or three cases were disposed of, and then the relief officer, Mr. F. W. Miller, reported to the board that representatives of the King's Daughters had been to see him in reference to the charity question. They stated that last year there was far too much overlapping, and they would like to have the work done this year systematically. They suggested that a joint meeting be held and some plan agreed upon.

The chairman of the board said that two or three years ago, Mr. Miller had advocated that policy, but that the other societies refused to fall in with the idea. He would be pleased to have a joint meeting, not only with the King's Daughters, but with all the charitable institutions in the city.

It was therefore decided that the chairman should arrange for such a gathering and also that the ministers of all the churches be requested to attend. The object is for all institutions or churches or individuals who have charity to send it to Mr. Miller, or to communicate with him so that he can keep a record of those being benefitted. Last year a grocer sent assistance to one man, and when his driver arrived at the house it was found that the party had some nine fowl, turkeys, chickens and ducks, hanging in the woodshed. Needless to say, the driver returned with his provisions. A great deal of this kind of thing existed last year, and while some were in need, others lived almost in luxury.

LINDSAY YOUNG MAN IN TROUBLE

Came to Peterboro' and Got Drunk —Fined Two Dollars

Wm. Eagleson, was fined two dollars at the police court this morning for being drunk in a public place. Eagleson's home is in Sonya, a country district eight miles from Lindsay. He had been attending the Lindsay fair, but, instead of returning home, he came to Peterborough and got into the above trouble.

SHOOTS HERSELF CHILD IS BORN

Despondent Mother and Babe Are Both Doing Well.

Welland, Sept. 29.—Carmela Barsella, an Italian girl, aged 20, tried to commit suicide by shooting. A few minutes afterwards she was delivered of a son. Last night she was making satisfactory progress towards recovery, though the bullet entered her left ear and is now lodged in her neck.

The young woman came from Italy only three months ago. Deserted by her lover she joined her father and brother here. The latter went out for a walk, and in their absence the girl pried open a trunk and took out the weapon.

The child is quite strong and healthy.

Whitney Is Home.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Premier Whitney returned home last night, after nearly two months' absence in England. He is looking remarkably well after his trip, though naturally a little fatigued after the all-day railway journey from New York yesterday. The voyage in the Campania had been rough, three days strong westerly gales and more or less fog all the way contributing to a slow passage.

He will join Mr. Borden's tour soon.

Copy Books Cheaper.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Another important reduction in text books was announced by the Ontario Government yesterday.

The Minister of Education has just completed a contract with the E. H. Harcourt Co. of Toronto for the printing and publishing of the new series of copy books for the schools of the province. These copy books, which have hitherto cost the school children 7 cents each, will in future be supplied for 2 cents each.

BURNED BRIDGE THE SOLE CAUSE

Fire Was to Blame for the Wreck on the T.H. & B. Railway.

Hamilton, Sept. 29.—The enquiry into the T., H. & B. accident Sunday morning in which the three trainmen lost their lives will be held Tuesday evening. E. E. Fisher, the superintendent of the railway, gave out the following statement concerning the accident:

"The lamentable accident at the bridge, west of Mineral Springs, was due solely to fire, which burned the floor system and piling between the passage of a light engine at 11.40 p.m. Saturday night and the arrival of train No. 60 at eight minutes after 6 a.m. Sunday."

The few bones that remain of the victims will be distributed in three caskets and buried in a plot, a Catholic priest joining in the ceremony.

Engineer McFadden was a prominent Conservative, and a warm personal friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald.

Villages Wiped Out.

Thompsonville, Mich., Sept. 29.—Forest fires Sunday completely destroyed the village of Homestead, 8 miles north of this place. The losses will exceed $60,000, and twenty families were rendered homeless.

Bach, a small village near Vassar, was devastated by fire on Sunday.

Twenty Drown In Wreck.

Launceton, Tasmania, Sept. 29.—The British ship Loch Finlas, from Port Pirie, South Australia, for Callao, was wrecked off Foster Island at daylight Sunday, and twenty of the crew of twenty-four were drowned.

Killed by Crane.

Stratford, Sept. 29.—An Englishman, Wm. Nichols, 21 years of age, was instantly killed in G.T.R. shops at noon yesterday, being struck by a traveling crane.

LARGE CROWDS IN OXFORD MR. BORDEN'S FINE RECEPTION

Conservative Campaign Party Also Visits Galt and is Given Ovation—Despite Downpour of Rain Three Thousand Attend Ingersoll Gathering.

Ingersoll, Sept. 29.—More welcome even than the leader of a political party was a great downpour of rain which began early yesterday and thoroughly soaked the parched fields of Oxford.

The meeting was held in the rink. The downpour was heaviest just before the hour announced, but nearly 3,000 turned out and gave the Conservative leader and his platform colleague, Hon. W. J. Hanna, a welcome remarkable for its heartiness, in view of the strong Liberal tendencies of Oxford County.

In his speech, which was a strong condemnation of the Government for its toleration of grafting friends, Mr. Borden enlarged upon his policy of Government ownership of the Grand Trunk and the elimination of political influence from the management of the I.C.R.; touched upon the all-red project, and described the bungling in connection with construction of the Quebec bridge.

Mr. Borden, who is hoarse from much recent speaking, began his address by appealing to Liberals and Independent men to join with the Conservatives in bringing about a new era in Canada. The Liberal platform of 1893, said Mr. Borden, must be in a good state of preservation, because it was never used. The only pledge laid down in 1893 which had been fulfilled was that they would repeal the Franchise Act, and during the past session they had attempted to go back on that.

Dealing with Sir Richard Cartwright's complaint, that the Conservative Government bled the people white with an unjust taxation, Mr. Borden said the present Government had increased the taxation 150 per cent., and the expenditures had increased beyond all bounds without evidence of any great work having been undertaken.

"Look around and tell me where that money has gone," said Mr. Borden.

"To the grafters," answered an auditor.

Hon. W. J. Hanna and W. F. Cockshutt also spoke.

Galt, Sept. 29.—Galt last night gave R. L. Borden one of the best receptions of his tour.

Mr. Borden took for his text some of the mottoes on the walls. "Give work to the unemployed and bring back prosperity" was the first. Sir John A. Macdonald's conception of the National Policy was to foster home industry that our workmen would not be driven into competition with the cheap labor of other countries, and in this connection he spoke of the allied question of immigration. We should see to it that the quality of our immigrants was of the highest and most desirable type. On his tour of the west he had seen men who were most desirable.

Another motto was: "Has the Laurier Government made you rich?" It would depend upon to whom the question was addressed. If to the western land grabbers or the middlemen in the east the answer would be in the affirmative, but if to the great mass of the people they would have to return a decided "No."

J. P. Downey, W. J. Hanna and F. S. Scott and George Clare, the local candidate, also spoke.

Big Lumber Fire.

North Bay, Sept. 29.—About eight o'clock Sunday evening fire spread from the bush fires that raged all afternoon, from Powassan to Callander, to the lumber yards of Thomas Darling & Sons, and the sawmill and about 300,000 feet of lumber was destroyed. Several small dwellings and a store were also destroyed.

Slander Action Fails.

Stratford, Sept. 29.—The case of McLagan v. Pringle, an action for libel, was dismissed by Chief Justice Mulock at the opening of the fall Assizes yesterday afternoon. George McLagan of the McLagan Manufacturing Co., sued for slander against James Pringle, a retired wheat buyer, charging that the latter made certain statements in a letter to local papers defamatory to plaintiff's character. Each party pays his own costs.

Freight Trains Collide.

Rome, N.Y., Sept. 29.—In a rear-end collison of freight trains on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad in the yard here early yesterday, Fred C. Chaufty, of Lacona, a locomotive fireman, was instantly killed.

Boys Burglarize Church.

HE JUMPED INTO THE SEA LEE JOHNSON DISAPPEARS

Husband of Former Belle M. Gilchrist Caught After Three Years' Chase Charged With Murdering Wife Leaped Overboard in Unimaka Pass.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 29.—Joel Warren, formerly chief of police of Spokane, now special agent of the Department of Justice for the Second Alaska District, who is in the city with Mrs. Warren visiting friends, has received advices that Lee H. Johnson escaped from his guards while on the way from Seattle to Nome by jumping overboard from the steamship Victoria while going through Unimaka Pass, 700 miles north of Nome.

It is not believed the man reached shore, as the pass is 12 miles wide.

Johnson was run down after a chase of three years by Special Agent Warren on the charge of having murdered his wife, who was formerly Belle M. Gilchrist, of Glengarry, in the Province of Ontario, at Nome in October, 1905.

Johnson maintained when arrested that his wife committed suicide by taking cynacide of potassium, and that he had concealed the body and the fact of her death in accordance with her request, contained in a note which she left. He confessed that he cut up the body and hid it under the shack in which they lived, and that the next spring he took the remains and buried them. He partly destroyed the fragments by saturating them with kerosene and setting fire to them.

Johnson kept up a line of deception nearly three years to make the relatives of the dead woman believe that she was alive and well. He wrote letters to them purporting to have been dictated by her. At Nome he told his friends his wife had gone to the States, and when he was out of Alaska he said she was there.

With a power of attorney, afterwards declared a forgery, made apparently to him by his wife, he sold a house belonging to her in Ontario, and by a written order which he made in her name on an attorney in Butte, with whom he had left $4,000 to invest, he secured the money. It was while attempting to get the balance of his victim's property that he was taken into custody. He was at the time living at Seattle with Cora Tasch, who he pretended was his wife.

"I am sorry that Johnson finished his career before the Government could do it for him," said Mr. Warren. "I sent him from Seattle for Nome in charge of two guards on the Victoria, which left Sept. 6. I cautioned the guards to be careful and give him no chance. The woman, Tasch, said to him just before he was taken aboard the Victoria: 'If you are guilty, Lee, jump overboard.' While I believe that Johnson drowned, there will always remain an uncertainty of it."

FIELDING WON'T DISCUSS THEM

Refuses to Meet Scandal Charges at Sarnia Meeting.

Sarnia, Sept. 29.—Hon. Mr. Fielding spoke at a meeting held in Victoria Opera House last night in the interests of F. F. Pardee, Liberal candidate in West Lambton. There was a good attendance.

The Minister said he would not attempt to meet the scandal charges, as these had been disproven in the committees of the House.

He dealt at some length with the finances of the country, and instanced the postoffice with its surpluses as an example of successful management.

Dr. Logie of Sarnia acted as chairman, and other speakers were Dr. Fairbanks of Petrolea, Liberal candidate in East Lambton, and R. L. Towers, who opposed Hon. W. J. Hanna in the last provincial contest.

Coal Mine Fatalities.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Accidents in coal mines of the United States during the last calendar year resulted in the death of 3,125 men and injury to 5,316.

Anti-License Bill Demonstration.

London, Sept. 29.—Of the great demonstrations held in Hyde Park in recent years, that of Sunday to protest against the licensing bill was by far the largest, but it lacked the enthusiasm which was manifest at the other gatherings, particularly that of the suffragettes. The crowd was estimated at 300,000. There were 200 special trains, fourteen processions, 100 bands and ninety speakers connected with the demonstration.

At a bugle sound a resolution condemning the bill was proposed and carried with a great outburst of cheering.

A Fiendish Assault.

New York, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Mary Sample, 64 years of age, was attacked by two women and a man at the door of her apartments in Brooklyn and so seriously injured that she will be probably disfigured for life. Red pepper was thrown into her eyes to blind and then acid was poured over her face and body.

The police are looking for a man known in the neighborhood as "Jimmie." This man had been a frequent visitor at the Sample apartments and is said to have borrowed from Mrs. Sample more than $1,000. She recently tried to recover the money.

Robbed and Murdered.

Watertown, N.Y., Sept. 29.—Harry Hosmer, aged 31, while walking from Fine, St. Lawrence County, to his home, a mile distant, late Sunday night, was held up by a highwayman who took from him his watch and money, gagged him and made him walk through the woods and there shot him to death.

Leslie Combs, aged 18, who was released from the state prison at Dannemora, after serving two years for burglary, confessed the crime to his parents, who surrendered the lad to the police.

Unconscious From Morphine.

Brantford, Sept. 29.—William Doolin, a colored employe of the Warren Paving Co., who came here from Chatham, is lying at the hospital in a critical condition as a result of taking a dose of pills on Saturday. The preparation contained morphine.

He sank into a state of coma, and all efforts thus far have failed to revive him.

FINED FOR NET FISHING

Capt. A. Hunter, of this city, Game and Fishery Inspector, on Friday, at Picton, had three parties before him charged with infringement of the fishing law. They were fishing with nets. In all the cases the charges were proven and fines ranging from $5 to $20 were imposed.—Belleville Intelligencer.

FOUR PERSONS ARE MASSACRED

Drunken Men Kill Four in Front of Tennessee Church.

Jellico, Tenn., Sept. 29.—One of the bloodiest affairs in the history of East Tennessee, occurred near the Tennessee-Kentucky line north of Anthras postoffice on Sunday.

The scene was a little Baptist Church within 50 yards of which is a "blind tiger," which has been operated for months.

The service had closed and nearly the entire congregation had emerged from the church when a crowd of drunken men who had visited the "blind tiger" began firing into the worshippers with pistols. Three were shot down at the church door and died almost instantly. The preacher was shot and mortally wounded, falling in the church yard. Another worshipper was shot, but not dangerously hurt.

NEWSY BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES

Paragraphed Pointers From all Over the Continent.

Several dental offices at St. Catharines were entered by burglars on Sunday.

The wife of George Albert Davies has written the mayor from South End on Sea, Eng., asking for assistance in locating her husband, who was last heard from in West Toronto.

Political disturbances have begun to assume some gravity in Cuba. A Conservative meeting at Sancti Spiritus in Santa Clara Province, was the occasion of a riot at which many were injured.

The report of the Canadian Real Properties, Limited, London, Eng., states that the land sold averaged $126 an acre, notwithstanding the depression in Canada; all expenditure was met by revenue.

The will of the late James McDougall, C.E., county engineer of York, has been filed by his friend, A. G. F. Lawrence. The estate totals $3,394.58, and is all personalty, save a town lot in Warman, Sask., valued at $200. Four nieces divide the estate.

The 22 medical students who wrote at the supplementary examinations have presented a protest to the medical faculty against what the students call unfair treatment, with special reference to the chemistry paper, which has been criticized as unduly severe.

After Stock Yards.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—It is currently reported that since the recent fire a proposition has been made through the medium of a local broker for the purchase of the Union Stock Yards at West Toronto.

It is understood the offer emanates from some of the railway or packing firms and if such be the case it is to be hoped that the best possible use will be made of these splendid yards towards concentrating the live stock trade at Toronto instead of letting it gradually drift to other centres.

State Overcharged.

Guthrie, Okla., Sept. 29.—Governor Haskell on behalf of the state, filed suit here yesterday in the District Court against the State Capital Printing Co. Congressman B. S. McGuire and Dennis T. Flynn, former delegate in Congress, for the recovery of $126,-[illegible]02.18, an alleged overcharge in the state printing from 1891 to 1907.

Cholera Kills Thousands.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—Since the beginning of the epidemic there have been 15,683 cases of Asiatic cholera reported in Russia and 9,102 deaths. In St. Petersburg alone since the presence of the disease was officially admitted, Sept. 8, there have been 4,931 cases and 1,875 deaths reported.

Mrs. James Hetherington, of Ottawa was killed by her horse running away.

BUSY FACTORIES

"The truth is," says the Toronto Globe, "that with the sole exception of the woollen trade, all sections of the industries of Canada have done more business and made more money under the moderate Fielding tariff, than under the boasted national policy. That is why the factory workers and factory owners will vote for Laurier and tariff stability."

To substantiate these assertions the Globe prints the following figures.

	1896	1906
Iron and steel	849,000	1,269,000
Cottons	809,000	1,971,000
Paper	3,593	1,971,000
Boots and shoes	75,000	133,000
Leather	1,907,848	1,861,000
Agricultural implements	593,000	2,497,000
Musical instruments	742,000	281,000
Bacon and hams	4,381,000	12,080,000
Wood pulp	675,000	3,478,000
Whiskey	374,000	943,000
Copper in ore and pigs	194,000	7,148,000
Nickel	486,000	2,166,000
Silver and silver ore	1,695,000	4,310,000
Pig lead		118,000

They do make an attractive picture for the eye, but that attractiveness is speedily dissipated when they are placed under examination for the purpose of discovering wherein that development owes anything to the Laurier Government. Take them on the aggregate for instance and what do they show. In 1896 the total exports of the lines given above amounted to $10,984,000. Of this amount $3,580,000 or 35 per cent. were shipped to the United States. In 1906 the total of the same goods amounted to $39,510,000 and of this $16,935,000 were sent to the United States or 43 per cent of the total. The showing therefore is that out of the total increase in the exports in these lines no less than fifty per cent went to the United States. What has the Laurier government done to increase Canada's trade with the States. Nothing. Yet the gain with the United States was equal to the gain with the other countries combined.

Examine individual items. Take those with the large increases. Paper is first on the list. The largest exporter of paper is a company that came into existence before the Laurier Government. That company and another large concern which supply the greater portion of the reported output were the result of natural conditions. They owe nothing whatever to the government. The case in regard to agricultural implements is the best the Government has. Yet here the Government only achieved success by adopting the policy of its predecessors.

The gain in the exports of bacon and hams has been very large. But how much does the trade owe the Government. There may be a feeling that it was due to the British preference in part at least. Such an impression is utterly without foundation in fact. Britain's imports of bacon and bacon during the period in question increased by $34,850,000 and of this Canada only got $7,705,000. There is nothing very wonderful about that increase, considering that in recent years the United States has had a shortage for export, due to increased home consumption. We have not fared as well as little Denmark. Of our increased exports of whiskey, over 80 per cent went to the United States. Ninety per cent of our increased exports of the metals mentioned also went to the United States in crude for refining purposes. The pig lead item is, comparatively speaking, insignificant. This, then is the result. That out of a selected list of manufacturing enterprises selected by the chief Liberal organ, the great proportion of the exports went into a channel the Government attempted to close; another considerable percentage was due to the development of natural resources, under way when the Government came into power, a fraction of the increased market available, the greater portion of which was captured by a foreign competitor and the remaining items actually show decrease or negligible increases.

Canadian factories have been busy not because the Fielding tariff did anything for them but because it left them in the enjoyment of the protection accorded by the national policy. In one instance in which the tariff was changed the Globe admits that disaster followed. The working men of Canada will do well to remember the fate of the woollen workers. There may be the next industry to suffer annihilation at the hands of a cabinet which makes its tariffs on lines of spite, malice and self advertising.—Montreal Gazette.

THE FORAKER REVELATIONS

Mr. Hearst's publication of certain letters which passed between Senator Foraker and John D. Archbold, of Standard Oil, is at the present showing regarded by the press as a death-blow to the Senator's public career. It is at the same time a source of serious embarrassment at Republican headquarters, coming as it does on the heels of the Ohio love-feast. One of these letters, written from 26 Broadway, New York, dated February 16, 1900, and addressed to Senator Foraker in Washington, says in part;—

"My Dear Senator,—Here is still another very objectionable bill. It is so absurd as to be ridiculous. But it needs to be the twenty-fifth of the following month, according to Mr. Hearst, Mr. Archibold wrote to Senator Foraker as follows;—

"My Dear Senator,—I venture to write you a word regarding the bill introduced by Senator Jones, of Arkansas, known as 'S. 649,' intended to amended the act to 'protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies, introduced by him December 4. It really seems as though this bill was very unnecessarily severe and even vicious.

"Is it not much better to test the application of the Sherman Act before resorting to a measure of this kind? I hope you will feel so about it and I will be greatly pleased to have a word from you on the subject. (The bill, I believe, is still in committee."

At the same time Mr. Hearst explodes a bomb for the Democratic party in the charge that Governor Haskell, treasurer of the National Committee, is "a political paymaster of the Standard Oil Company." While Governor Haskell denies this charge, saying it is a case of mistaken identity, Senator Foraker admits that he was employed by the Standard Oil Company, but asserts that this employment was legitimate and open. When the matter was first called to his attention he said;—

"I do not know whether the letters given out by Mr. Hearst are true copies or not, but I assume they are, for I was then engaged in the practise of the law and was employed by the Standard Oil Company as one of its counsel in connection with its affairs in Ohio, where it was attacked in the courts, and in the legislature. While I do not now recall the details, I remember that I rendered the company such service as I could, charged for it, and was paid.

"The employment had no reference, whatever, to anything pending in Congress, or to anything in which the Federal Government had the slightest interest."

Mr. Archbold makes the same assertion. Says the New York Evening Post (Ind.);—

"The openness may have been apparent to both of them, but it seems not to have been evident in the State of Ohio any more than in the newspaper offices of New York City, and the additional letters given out by Mr. Hearst last night make nonsense of the Senator's statement that the correspondence did not relate to any matters of national legislation. These latest epistles do bear on national matters, and with one of them went a check for $50,000. All of this is damaging beyond the repairing of either Mr. Foraker or Mr. Archbold. The latter may think that these transactions were legitimate; the public never will. No one has ever supposed for an instant that Senator Foraker would barter his Senatorial votes for filthy lucre, and no one can deny that Senator Foraker's legal abilities are worthy of the hire of the Standard Oil or of any other law-breaking or law-abiding corporation. But the question remains whether it is proper for a United States Senator to receive, in any capacity whatever, money from a corporation of this character—one that has for years been under suspicion, and was at the time of Mr. Foraker's employment actually being prosecuted for misdemeanors by the State of Ohio."

According to Mr. Hearst's American, "Senator Foraker never set foot in any court as the representative of Standard Oil." In the same paper we read: "Senator Foraker has said his anti-Roosevelt feeling was because of Brownsville. There is reason to know now that the reason as Standard Oil."

As to the check for $50,000, Senator Foraker explains that it was a loan made by Standard Oil toward the purchase of the Ohio State Journal of Columbus, and that, the plans for buying this paper falling through, the money was returned to Mr. Archbold. Many editors think that even so the transaction is open to criticism. A despatch from Cincinnati to the New York Sun, which has always championed the Senator in his opposition to President Roosevelt, says in part:—"The Senator, in representing the Standard Oil Co, might have acted entirely within his rights, yet the public is in no mood to split hairs in regard to Standard Oil affairs, and the one impression that will stick is that the Senator accepted $29,500 for killing legislation inimical to the company in Ohio."—Literary Digest.

"PRIVATE BUSINESS"

The charge made by Hearst against Senator Foraker, of having accepted bribes from the Standard Oil Company is a startling episode in connection with the presidential fight at present going on in the United States. Hearst's charge is that the Standard Oil Co. gave Foraker $50,000 towards the purchase of the Ohio State Journal of Commerce. Foraker admits having received it, but says it was returned to the company. As a result of this charge, Foraker has been obliged to withdraw from taking any part in the presidential campaign.—Kingston Standard.

How glad Senator Foraker would have been to have been able to put up his hands and cry "private business!" But they "ain't built' that way" in Yankeeland. It's not a new idea that private crookedness is better kept private. We have heard of it before.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Stratton relies upon the people "forgetting some things."

The bond deposits are increasing by just so much as the discount loans are called in. Unhappily, there is no genuine increase in bank deposits. Railway receipts, bank clearings, etc., trade returns, all show the year's decline. But national extravagance shows a steady increase.

When you do anything the public won't stand for, just say it's "private business," and perhaps they won't take any notice of it—perhaps. The same way with a minister. If he does anything wrong in private life, what do they say of his fitness to serve the public?

"The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $50,000 and no more".—(Extract from Royal Commission's Report)

It was decided to take immediate steps to secure local option, and the council will be requested to submit the by-law at the January elections.

LAURIER ADMINISTRATION DENOUNCED BY THOS. MURRAY

Former Liberal M.P. Alleges Corruption, Dishonesty and Extravagance—Hot Meeting at North Bay.

North Bay, September 28—A thousand people crowded into the new Royal theatre here Saturday night to hear the Liberal administration denounced by Mr. Thomas Murray, ex-M. P. of Pembroke. He has been dissatisfied with the actions of the Laurier Government for some time but gave North Bay the pleasure of hearing his first public denunciation of the party by reason of the number of friends he has here on the Liberal side and also from his early associations with the town, he having been one of its founders.

Mr Murray said he had no axe to grind, nor was he a disappointed office seeker but his sole reason for making the change were the corruption, dishonesty and extravagance of his former associates and his loss of confidence in Sir Wilfrid, whom he referred to as a weakling. He had been elected as representative of the Liberal party for the county of Pontiac in 1896, his policy being the Liberal platform of 1893, but was surprised, disappointed, and laughed at when he would urge in Ottawa that the pledges given to the people on the hustings should be carried out.

He was then and still is, strongly in favor of senate reform, but on bringing up the question in caucus, presided over by Senator Edwards, as chairman, this gentleman stated that Providence was doing the reforming in taking off the Conservative members one by one and that the Liberal senators were now in the majority and this was his interpretation of the plank in the Liberal platform. He also paid his respects to Murphy the new cabinet minister. Mr. Murray is himself an Irish Roman Catholic but he deplored the fact that it should be so constantly kept before the people by Sir Wilfrid that some man must always be in the cabinet whose chief qualification was his religion.

Irish Catholics as a whole did not care if the entire cabinet were Protestant as long as the business of the country was conducted honestly.

In any event who is Mr. Murphy. He has never been heard of as occupying a prominent position in his profession. He has no public experience, not even as a municipal councillor; he cannot get a seat in Ottawa, his place of residence and where he is best know, nor can he even get an Irish Catholic constituency in any part of the Dominion, but must seek election in the county of Russell, which is overwhelmingly French.

FAST MOTOR LAUNCH HAS BEEN BUILT AT KINGSTON

Kingston, Sept. 28.—Kingston motor boat sports can now boast of having by great odds the fastest all-Canadian built motor-boat, which has just been completed and tested by the Davis Dry-Dock Company. Two years ago this company built a 25 foot by 4 foot fast launch of eighteen miles speed, and since that have been carefully studying the designing and building of motors and boats, and the present boat is the result of their labors.

The hull, which is thirty-six feet long and four and one-half feet beam, is very fine lined, built with white oak keel, stem, ribbing and British Columbia planking, with a quartered oak covering board and mahogany decks and wash strake. All the work is brass-screw fastened and the hull is nicely finished and polished, and with the brass trimmings gives a very neat and racy appearance. The hull is of the French torpedo stern type with an easy entrance, and was designed by R. Davis, who designed and built a great many boats of various classes.

The boat is driven by a six-cylinder, four cycle engine of the opposed valve type, the first of its kind to be built in Canada, which is capable of developing sixty to sixty-five horse-power. The engine was designed and built under the personal supervision of J. H. Davis, who has had a large experience both in steam and gasoline engine building and operating.

Gasoline is supplied from a fifty-gallon tank placed in the centre of the boat aft of the operators' seat and the engine and steering wheel apparatus are so arranged as to be controlled by one person when necessary. The outfit is equipped with electric lighting system, and the whole is a very fine piece of work.

The boat has already attained a speed of at least 26 miles per hour, and Mr. Davis expects that with the improved wheel from experimental tests, which are being made to get at least twenty-eight miles an hour.

USED "MALES" FOR BUREAU

Woman Matrimonial Agent Must Explain Her Methods to the Police

Fresno, Cal., September 29 — Mrs. Margaret Walder, a blonde, aged 26, is in jail here today, facing a charge of misusing the United States mails as the result of operating a little matrimonial bureau she conducted all by herself.

The officers declare that she has done a big business for the past few years and she will be called upon to explain her bureau.

The arrest of Mrs. Walder came about through a deal with Mr. S. R. Johnson, jr., of Guthrie, Okla. Johnson claims that he made an agreement to marry the woman and give her an $15,000 ranch. He wrote a check for that amount and neglected to write "jr" after his name.

The check was returned and the owner of the ranch placed the affair in the hands of a local constable.

Johnson was exonerated and the woman arrested.

The officers claim that she has been writing to prospective "husbands" and asking for train fare and then keeping the money.

WATER FLOWED LIKE A RIVER

At Charlotte and Bethune Streets Yesterday—Residents Complain

The usual occurrence took place yesterday evening at Charlotte and Bethune streets during the heavy rainstorm and as one resident in the vicinity put it, the river again overflowed its banks. The people living around there complain that every time it rains the water flows over the street several inches deep and pedestrians have to wade through water nearly to their boot tops. The gates in the street do not carry the water off quickly enough and are not sufficient for all the water that flows down to this point. The people think that the town should provide some other means of drainage.

COULDN'T DO MUCH AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

Owing to the Fact That all Accounts in Connection With Fair are not Yet in

A meeting of the Peterborough Fair directors was held last night, but owing to the fact that all the accounts were not yet in it was impossible to settle up.

The secretary read over the bills he had received, but there are others. There are also some monies to collect yet, and a financial statement will not be presented until the next meeting, although the secretary will send a copy of the finances of the fair to each director.

A vote of thanks was passed by the directors to the local press for the good service rendered through their news columns.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Peterborough Light and Power Co., for services rendered.

There was considerable discussion as to special attractions for next year and fire works and a military tatoo were among the features mentioned.

Geo. Gibson was killed, his team was killed and his waggon demolished by being struck by an M. C. R. flyer near Mull.

HE GOT AFTER THE HYPNOTIST

Kingston Father Made "Professor" Wake up Sleeping Son

Kingston, September 28—On Saturday afternoon it was advertised that a hypnotist performing in a local five cent theatorium would put a young man to sleep in a store window on Princess street. The act had just been successfully done when the father of the subject appeared on the scene. On beholding his son lying in the window he went into the store and threatened to make "mince meat" out of the professor if he did not revive his son at once. The hypnotist, after an attempt at parley, did as he was requested. The incident caused great excitement, the street being packed with people.

Is Being Held at Campbellford To-day—Local Ministers in Attendance

A meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough is being held at Campbellford to-day and the local Presbyterian ministers and several elders are in attendance. One of the matters to come up at the meeting is the request of the Omemee congregation to have Rev Mr. Peckover remain as their minister. It is understood, however, that Mr. Peckover has decided to remove to Toronto, and the Presbytery will likely sanction the transfer.

THE SIMCOE ST. FARCE

Regularly as Saturday night returns, Mr. Stratton gathers a few faithful party men together and, to the sound of a brass band, marches into his committee rooms. There a few of the few proceed to remark that taking money that is charged up to somebody else, is really no offence. Now Mr. Burnham has repeatedly challenged Mr. Stratton to debate the question of the latter's guilt or innocence of graft and false swearing in a public place, but a pair of horses could not get him out of the security of his own committee rooms. He hangs to them like the drowning man to the straw and for the same reason. Failing to get Mr. Stratton to respond to his challenge, Mr. Burnham made his charge, as becomes a man making so grave a charge, straight from the public platform. There was no mistaking what he said. Two thousand witnesses heard it and believed it. Once again Mr. Burnham challenges Mr. Stratton to debate the question in public — the opera house preferred. Mr. Burnham is aware that if he fails to make good he can not expect the electors to vote for him and, that if he fails to make good it will virtually clear Mr. Stratton. He would gladly clear Mr. Stratton if he could, but the evidence upon which Mr. Stratton stands convicted is largely [illegible]. There is no escape. Committee room talk is neither brave nor useful. Every man should bear the brunt of his own sins and like a man. That a man is rich is becoming too largely an excuse for all sorts of misdoings. Fair play to all, rich and poor alike. Mr. Burnham stands ready to make good his charges against Mr. Stratton in public, or to abide by the inevitable result. Come, Mr. Stratton, Face the music. Mr. Burnham will also inform him what Mr. Borden thinks of him, as the Examiner requests.

Mr. DeNoyer has gathered about him a lot of clever vaudeville artists, and will no doubt draw a large house at each performance. They present Ten Large Acts, each one a specialty in itself, which will furnish much amusement and high-class entertainment to all patrons of the theatre. This is the first appearance of this popular company in Peterborough, and from the class of entertainment which will be furnished we expect the public will be eager for a return engagement.

A Bed Outfit Worth While

We have had a number of travellers lately trying to secure our patronage for their beds, which are very inferior articles to the ones which we now sell, and in combination with the cheapest spring and mattress we could sell the outfit for $5.00. We prefer to give our customers an outfit that will not only look well now, but will hold their patronage for years to come. Our bed is a much more rigid style than what was offered us. The top is heavier and does not look like "enamelled wire". The finish is as good as the high priced beds. Our springs are heavy hardwood framed, coiled steel wire reinforced. The mattress is seagrass with wool tufting and good ticking cover Altogether an A1 outfit In the Annex, Wednesday 5.98

WEDDING BELLS

JONES—MOFFAT

The marriage took place at St. Andrew's manse last night at seven o'clock of Miss Janet Moffat of this city to Mr. Amos Walker Jones, also of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, in the presence of immediate relatives. The young couple were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside on Hilliard street.

HUFFMAN—ARMSTRONG

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Rev. J. R. Webb, Aylmer street, last evening when Miss Angela Armstrong, Waterford street, was united in marriage to Mr. Alf. Huffman, of Millbrook. The bride was dressed in pink cashmere with a grey hat to match. She was assisted by Miss Maggie Sharpe, of this city, who was becomingly attired in white. The groom was supported by Mr. Alf. Huffman, jr., of this city.

After the ceremony, a sumptuous supper was partaken of at the home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman will reside in Millbrook.

TROTTER—GERRARD

A very pretty wedding was celebrated in Clydesdale Presbyterian church on Wednesday, September 16, when Miss Sarah A. Gerrard, daughter of Mrs. Robert Gerrard of Clydesdale and Mr. Thomas Trotter, son of Mr James Trotter, of Clydesdale, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Mr. Garbutt.

The bride was prettily attired in a charming costume of cream silk voille trimmed with satin ribbon and applique to harmonize. Miss Ellen Gerrard of Peterborough, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid, was also dressed in cream voille trimmed with lace and applique. Mr. Joseph Tedford, of Warsaw, cousin of the groom, was best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Fred Rannington.

After the ceremony was performed the happy pair drove to the residence of the bride's mother, where a dainty tea was served to a number of guests. Many costly gifts were presented and in the evening the young people of the neighborhood spent a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Trotter will reside in Clydesdale.

Edna Hillier, of Kingston, is in a critical condition from drinking oil of cider by mistake.

ATTACKED AND BADLY BEATEN

Row on Aylmer Street—Victim Makes a Threat to do Some Shooting

Yesterday afternoon a lively fracas occurred between three men on Aylmer street at the corner of Charlotte and near Greenslade's shop. Two of the men attacked another, rolling him on the ground and beating him brutally.

The assailed one made all kinds of threats of vengeance, saying he would get a 32 revolver and fix them last night. Up to the present no "fixing" has been reported, either from a public source or from police quarters.

MACHINERY FROM PETERBOROUGH

Being Secured by Lindsay to Make Connection in Waterworks

Mr. Hammond, superintendent of the waterworks, will go to Peterborough to-morrow for the special filling and connecting apparatus owned by the Water Commissioners of that city. A hydrant is to be installed in front of the power house and the pipe leading to the building must be cut. Another 8-in connection has to be made at the waterworks for Mr. Bridge and this machine will also have to be used there. The main feature about this apparatus is the short space of time that it takes to do the work, and the good results secured and that the connection can be made with the full pressure on.—Lindsay Free Press.

FACILITIES FOR JUVENILE COURT

Conditions That are Necessary to its Establishment

Under the Juvenile Delinquents Act, passed last session, power was given the Federal Government to establish juvenile courts without reference to provincial authority, if satisfied that proper facilities have been provided by the municipal authorities. These "proper facilities" are now defined by order-in-council to be as follows:

"That a proper detention home has been established and will be maintained for the temporary confinement of juvenile delinquents or of children charged with delinquency. The institution should be conducted more like a family home than like a penal institution, and must not be under the same roof as, or in the immediate vicinity of, any police station, jail, lock-up or other place in which adults are or may be imprisoned. That an industrial school exists to which juvenile delinquents may be committed.

"That there is a judge or justice in the municipality willing to act as juvenile court judge without cost to the Federal authority.

"That remuneration for an adequate staff of probation officers has been provided by municipal grant, public subscription or otherwise.

"That some society or committee is ready to act as the juvenile court committee."

THE W.A.A. READING CLUB HAS HAD MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Interesting Studies in Art Were Taken up—Library of Books From McGill University—Subject of Study for Coming Year Selected.

An interesting feature of the W.A.A. in Peterborough, during the past year, was the Reading Circle, which met weekly in the parlor of the Y.W.C.A. A committee, under the direction of Miss Bennett outlined a most interesting course of study. During the year this outline, covering the Italian artists of the Renaissance, was followed with considerable interest, and much benefit by the members of the Circle. The papers read at the evening gatherings gave evidence of careful study, and wide reading, and were much appreciated.

A library of selected books dealing with the subject of study was loaned by McGill University, and circulated among the members of the Circle by Mrs. McCullough, who kindly acted as librarian. Photo-paintings of Renaissance artists were obtained from Toronto and proved a helpful and interesting feature of the work. At the last meeting of the season Mrs. Palmer was elected leader for the coming year.

The subject of study decided upon was great artists immediately following the Italian Renaissance, commencing with the Flemish school. Books and photographs dealing with this course will again be obtained, and it is hoped that the coming season's study will prove unusually interesting.

A SKETCH MODEL IN CLAY OF THE LATE MRS. NICHOLLS

A sketch model in clay of a proposed monument to the late Mrs. Nicholls, the work of Miss K. Wallis, sculptress of Paris, France but who is at present visiting here, will be on exhibition at the tea to be given by the King's Daughters of St. John's church on Thursday from four to six o'clock.

Miss Wallis had made a proposal to the city of Peterborough to make a life size monument of the late Mrs. Nicholls in bronze on a pedicel of granite.

The sketch model is a portrait figure. Miss Wallis experienced great difficulty in doing the work as the photos from which it was made were old ones. Friends of the late Mrs. Nicholls, who have seen the model, state that Miss Wallis has got the deceased lady's character and that was all that was aimed at in the sketch.

Miss Wallis stated to the Review that if the city took up her proposal, she would carry out the work at her studio in Paris, France, where she has all the appliances necessary.

In Paris, she would also have the advantages of the criticisms of the greatest living portraitist and sculpturor, M. Oscar Waldmann.

MORE MEN IN THE WEST THAN THERE IS WORK FOR

Mr. Albert Parker Returned Last Evening After a Month in Alberta—Speaks of the Conditions There—Depredations of Harvesters on the Trains.

Of all the people who returned home, enthusiastic in their opinion of the Canadian west, there is one, who arrived in the city last evening, who is not so optimistic over the Northwest that he will return again. In fact his remarks about Manitoba and Alberta are not very complimentary and it is most unlikely that he will ever pay another visit to the west.

The man referred to is Mr. Albert Parker of this city, who was one of those who took in the harvesters' excursion and incidently one of those who was thoroughly disgusted with the excursion and his trip in general. Mr. Parker's destination was Lethbridge. He remained there thirty days, patiently awaiting the time to start for home. "On a square in Lethbridge, which consists of five acres," said Mr. Parker, "you could hardly walk over it without stepping on a man." There were ten men in Lethbridge to every one that there was required." Mr. Parker admitted that the west was a great wheat country, but he remarked that they had more people than there was work for.

Speaking of the trip out there Mr. Parker told the Review of the rioting and depredations committed by the Nova Scotia harvesters, two of which were sentenced to twenty years in prison at Winnipeg.

"Their train was just ahead of ours," said Mr. Parker. "There were between four and five hundred of them. At High River they got off their train, taking the water tanks with them, and marching into the hotels of that town, they filled the tanks with beer and whiskey. A wire was sent on to Winnipeg to arrest them on their arrival there."

The condition on Mr. Parker's train, while pretty bad, did not result in any riots or disorderly conduct. For some distance of the journey they could get no water and many of the passengers had nothing to eat. The railway officials refused to stop the train and it was not until the conductor was informed that there would be trouble if a stop was not made somewhere to allow the people to get something to eat and drink.

Mr. Parker is glad to get home again, his trip not being one of much pleasure.

BURNS WON FROM SYRIAN IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS; ABDALLAH UNDER WEATHER

Special Correspondence.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 28.—On Saturday night at Lewiston, Maine, Hassan Abdallah, the Syrian mat artist, met defeat at the hands of Cyclone Burns, the acknowledged Canadian and English champion. Abdullah had been heralded as a world beater and great things were expected of him. He did make a magnificent showing for the first fifteen minutes and had things all his own way. He repeatedly heaved Burns over his body on the well-known Graeco-Roman body lift, and smashed his shoulders to the mat, but it was only for a rolling fall, as Burns wriggled away successfully. The crowd was on tip-toe expecting a fall at any minute, but Burns came back strong after the Syrian had pounded him about and worked on the aggressive. By a fluke as much as anything else Abdallah slipped and lost his balance, the Cyclone suddenly put a flying move on him and hurled him off the stage. It was a hard toss and everybody thought the Sultan's wrestler was seriously injured, but he wasn't jarred much. Burns got the first fall in 16 minutes on a crotch and wrist hold.

The second fall was short and fierce. After two and a half minutes of wrestling Burns set his opponent on his back with a half strangle and leg hold, throwing his man from his feet.

Abdallah seems to be affected by the American climate and has not been feeling well for the last three weeks or so. He was in the finest of condition when he came from Brazil after winning the international tournament there and disposed of some recognized wrestlers at Columbia Theatre, Boston, in quick fashion. After the sunny lands he has been used to, however, the weather conditions in this country are beginning to wear him out and he is training under the greatest disadvantage. It is expected, however, that he will become climatized shortly and then his manager is confident he will be able to give a great account of himself.

MOHL THINKS HURTUBISE MADE A CLEVER SHOWING

Sporting Editor Review

Dear Sir,—I am in the very best of shape for my match with Hurtubise, and the good people of Peterborough may rest assured that I will do my best to win.

Yankee Rogers thinks I can beat Gene but he also thought that Conkle would be able to turn the Peterborough man twice in an hour and the former was unable to do so. In fact, from what I read of the match in the Hamilton papers Hurtubise could probably throw Conkle in a straight match. I was much surprised to learn of his fine showing and greatly pleased as well. Of course Hurtubise had it on his opponent in weight but he has not had the experience or training the Hamilton man whom I regard as one of the most marvellous performers of his weight that the wrestling world has ever known and in view of this Hurtubise's showing was a remarkably clever one.

I shall be on hand for my bout in your city soon and hope to renew my pleasant acquaintances there.

Yours very truly,
FRITZ MOHL.

YANKEE ROGERS TO BEGIN ANOTHER TOUR NEXT WEEK

Yankee Rogers will begin big tour next week, the route being Quebec, Campbellton, Chatham, Newcastle, N.B.; Moncton, Amherst, Springhill Mines, and St. Johns, then over to Boston for the 23rd. Lewiston, Maine, and Lowell, Mass.

Opponents include Cyclone Burns, Abdallah, Chas. Westergaarde, Frug, of Germany, Chas. Hackenschmidt, and probably Mohl, in Lowell, Mass.

The tour is arranged by W. B. Naylor, Rogers' manager, and will be personally conducted by him. He is getting Abdallah into condition and wants to see just how good he will be with a world beater like Rogers, after the Syrian has found his feet in this country.

FRITZ MOHL IS WINNING ALL HIS WRESTLING MATCHES

Fritz Mohl, who wrestles Hurtubise here on Friday has figured in two matches since he last met Rogers in Peterborough and won them both. The first was with Rooney the big policeman grappler. He gave Fritz a big argument getting the first fall but the former German champion obtained the next two getting the last in quick order.

Reference is made of his other match in tonight's issue. He won it in two straight falls. Some misunderstanding arose concerning the first match as it appeared on the Review bulletin that Fritz Mohl was defeated by Rooney, at Chicago, when it should have read that Fritz Mohl defeated Rooney at Chicago, little 'by' making the statement read the opposite to what it should have.

However the report of the match was published correctly in the paper.

Mohl is by no means boastful but feels that he can defeat Hurtubise in a straight match. It is the general opinion that Gene is taking on somewhat of a big undertaking when he meets Mohl in a best two out of three match but it is generally thought that he will give the Teuton a great bout.

Hurtubise himself expects to win. Mohl is in better shape than he has been this year and says he cannot afford to be beaten by the local heavyweight.

A wrestling bout and two boxing contests will be the preliminaries and red hot set to's in all three are promised. The wrestlers will be featherweights who have had somewhat of a grudge against each other for some time and have chosen the mat as the place to settle their superiority.

PETERBOROUGH HORSES IN RACES AT LINDSAY FAIR

Speaking of the horse races at the third day of the Lindsay fair Saturday, the Free Press says:

The last heat of the 2.22 horse race which was held over until Saturday afternoon, was finished in a close race between Walter G. and Patterson, the former winning out in a sensational manner.

The tally for the 2.22 race is as follows:

Walter G., Tom Hodgson, Orillia	1	3	1	2	2	1
Patterson, J. A. Leatherby, Midland	2	4	2	1	1	1
Fox Prize, Jas. Noble, Toronto	3	1	5	4	4	x
Bossett Billy, W. Gilks, Barrie	4	2	3	3	3	x
Hazel Bell, R. McArthur, Toronto	5	5	4	5	5	x

Horses apparently were out to win, and the work done by the drivers to make a win proved very interesting to the large crowd.

2.40 CLASS

Togo, Geo. Powell, of Peterborough	5	3	1	5	2
Lou Keswick, Mr. Ashmore, town	6	x	5	3	3
Minnie G., Mr. Payette, Penetanguishene	2	1	3	2	5
Commodore B., Geo. Dettman, Kinmount	3	2	4	1	4
Lulu Obinnes, Thos. McIvor, Peterborough	4	x	x	x	x
Harry K., Dr. Cowan, town	1	x	1	1	1

A discussion took place between Mr. Ashmore, owner of Lou Keswick and the judges, on the unfairness of the race, but the officials did not see it in that light.

FREE-FOR-ALL

The free-for-all race proved very exciting, only 3 entries, Gracey Pointer, Captain Sphinks and Orillia Bell, these three being closely matched. Gracey Pointer, however, every heat would come in about two feet, while Captain Sphinks would be only a few feet ahead of Orillia Bell, giving the horses the same time as follows:

First heat—half mile made in 1.08; mile, 2.16 3-4.

Second heat—half mile made in 1.70; mile 2.15 1-2.

Third heat—half mile made in 1.07; mile, 2.16.

The racing tally was as follows:

Gracey Pointer, J. Noble, Toronto	1	1	1
Captain Sphinks, R. McGirr, Meaford	2	2	2
Orillia Bell, Geo. Powell, Peterborough	3	3	3

A deep discussion took place on the Peterborough grounds about the horse Walter G., owned by Mr. T. Hodgins, of Orillia, and also on the Lindsay grounds between the horsemen. They seem to think this horse, which resembles Little Hector, formerly of Fenelon Falls, which a few years ago was disqualified, should not be allowed to race. Several of the horsemen asked for the papers which he had not with him, but when shown later will throw a light on this horse's past history. Further announcements will throw light on this mysterious horse.

WON'T BE ANOTHER WALK HELD UNTIL NEXT SPRING

W. A. Hoagland, the champion walker, is quite anxious that another walk be held in Peterborough this fall. He thinks it would pay extremely well and there seems to be no doubt that it could be made just as big a success as the one of this spring. He has written to Mr. C. Graham, requesting him to act as promoter and manager, and, with Chris taking an active interest in the matter, it certainly should be a profitable venture financially, as well as a sporting attraction of unusual interest.

There are some drawbacks to having the walk this fall, however. In the first place, the wrestling matches have provided quite a lot of sport on a big scale and along professional lines, and another big thing to consider is that Jim Stacey, of Toronto, the speedy Irish Canadian man, has been forbidden by his physician to do any more walking this year, but he will probably be strong and well by spring. With Hoagland and Stacey racing the excitement would be at a fever pitch, as they would appear to be on pretty even terms in the matter of speed. Without Stacey it would probably be all Hoagland for first place; and without any walking during the winter months, the public would probably be quite hungry to see the footmen at it. So in April or May next year a walk will in all likelihood be held in Peterborough and now that the public know how interesting a game it is, the patronage should be capacity from the first night to the last, and the receipts should be even greater than the last walk brought. The sporting fraternity is glad to hear from Hoagland and is pleased to know, that he thinks so much of this city and has such confidence in the local promoters of sport.

SPORTING COMMENT

The Y.M.C.A. rugby team will practise at Central Park to-morrow evening.

The prolonged drought was no doubt accountable for a lot of the dry humor which appeared in the "Swing of the Hammer."

"Is Walter G. Little Hector?" This question is on a par with "How old is Ann." There are a great many horsemen who laugh at the contention that Walter G. is a ringer.—Lindsay Post.

Word has been brought from London in the Woods by a retired runner—Charley McLaughlin—that Harry Moir, the modest sporting editor of the Advertiser, is now a benedict. The more Moirs the merrier.—Hamilton Times.

The Toronto Telegram says that there is enough cordwood in the head of the sporting editor of the News to make several platforms. And from the looks of it one would judge that it must be a wood cut of Mr. Hewitt that appears over his daily sporting dope. The word dope is used advisedly.

Billy Foran just trotted out some sections of his Olympic team at Montreal Saturday, and they went against a bunch of mixed riders, so as to get the actual strength of the team the match can be thrown out. Still the team as a whole looks good, and backed by the eloquence of a Foran, the silvery tones of a Lally and the megaphone of a Murphy it should be heard from in England.—Toronto Telegram.

Hamilton Spectator says: The knocking habit has spread, and now Peterborough is throwing choice tidbits at Tigerville, the latest sections from the backwoods being:

Gene Hurtubise is wrestling at Hamilton tonight. No doubt the mountaineers will be glad of the diversion. Their principal pastime, when they are not down at the station looking at the trains has been watching the rugby practices.

A kick comes from Hamilton that the verandahs there encroach too much on the streets. Probably these are interfering with the growth of the hay.—Peterborough Examiner.

Josh Gray is the author of the beautiful bits of prose. Josh evidently overlooked the suggestiveness of his name.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY OF SPORTS

Of All Saints' and Knox Boys Clubs Will be Held on October 17th

The annual field day of sports of the Boys' Clubs of All Saints' and Knox churches will be held on Saturday, October 17th, at Nicholls Oval. The programme of sports which is being arranged should provide some interesting competition. The fight for the all-round championship is expected to be very keen. Both clubs have a large number of athletically inclined members, and a big day of sports is being looked forward to. The boys are already in active training.

BASEBALL

CLOSE OF SEASON

New York, September 29— With the end of the baseball season two weeks away and less than a dozen points separating the three leading teams in the two big leagues, the remaining games in the seasons series will be followed by baseball enthusiasts with impatient interest. Any day may bring about a radical change in the standing of both leagues.

In the National League, New York holds the place of honor by a single point over Chicago, and Pittsburg is only seven points behind the second club.

Today New York, playing on her home grounds, meets Philadelphia, and Pittsburg, also at home, will cross bats with St. Louis. Chicago will play a game with Cleveland in the Ohio city.

The race for leadership in the American League is even closer than that of the National only four points separating the three leaders.

Today, Detroit will play Washington at Detroit; Chicago plays Boston, at Chicago; Cleveland meets Philadelphia, at Cleveland, and St. Louis playing also on her home grounds, meets New York.

MADE A LOT OF MONEY.

New York, Sept. 25.—Napoleon Lajoie will in all probability have made as much money out of baseball as any other player in the business by the time he is ready to quit. In his 12 years of big league baseball playing he has netted about $83,000, and since the Nap manager and second baseman appears to be of a careful nature, he is probably well off in this world's goods.

His various contracts since the time he made his debut as a big leaguer with the Philadelphia Nationals in 1896, show that he has gathered in that amount on the salaries. He drew $2,100 his first year, $3,500 the next, $4,000 in the succeeding season, $4,500 for 1899, and 1900 all the while being with the same club. In 1901 he joined the Philadelphia Athletics, and during that year and 1902 he received $5,500 each season for his services. Then Cleveland secured him under a three-year contract for $26,000, which agreement was renewed under another three-year clause at $28,000.

Since 1905 Lajoie has managed the Cleveland team, and while he has never won a championship, his club has always finished well up in the standing.

Mr. H. Wagner, of Pittsburg, a well-known gentleman of German proclivities, heads the National League batsmen. This is not a new situation for Mr. Wagner. He has done it nearly all season, did it last year, and has been in the habit of so doing quite frequently. None of Mr. Wagner's contemporaries seems at all likely to disturb him in his occupancy of first position, even the estimable Mr. Cransfield, who was coming up with such a rush a week ago having quieted down, while Mr. M. Donlin is apparently contented with a position near, but not at top. New York leads in team batting, Chicago is second. Pittsburg excels in long hits and Chicago in team fielding. Five pitchers have unjolted fielding records. Bergen heads the catchers, and Gill the first basemen. Knabe excels at second, and Devlin prevails at third. Tinker heads the shortstops and Schulte the outfielders.

ATHLETICS

Speaking of the C.A.A.U. meet at Toronto, the Telegram says:

There were many features but the best of them all was Bobby Kerr's successful assault on the 220 yards record. When it was announced that Kerr had won in the record time of 21 3-5 seconds, the stands broke out into a mighty cheer for the Olympic victory. Kerr also won the 100 yard dash, equalling the Canadian record, 9 4-5 seconds.

The mile run was a walk-over for Chuck Skene, of the Irish Canadians. He not only won but made a new Canadian record of 4 minutes and 32 seconds. He beat Jack Tait's time by 3-5 seconds, made last year over the same course.

In the three mile walk, Goulding of Central, won by 75 yards in the fast time of 22 minutes and 32 seconds. On the last lap McDonald had a lead of 30 yards on Skene for second place, but Chuck caught him at the head of the stretch and beat him by inches. It was a thrilling finish and although Skene only got second place he was the hero of the race.

THE COMMON APPLE A GREAT SOURCE OF HEALTH

The Juice of the Ordinary Apple is One of the Best Things in the World For Keeping the Blood Pure.

Few people there are but enjoy a ripe, juicy apple. But how many realize that it is a medicine as well as a treat?

Apple juice has a very marked effect on the kidneys, increasing their power to throw off the waste products of the body, called urea, and thus prevent Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, and similar troubles that come from poisoned blood.

Similarly, other fruits stimulate the action of the liver and bowels—others of the skin. Combined, they keep the blood pure—the body clean and healthy.

To get this effect, however, one must eat a great deal of fruit, or better, eat a little fruit and take "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" are tablets in which the juices of ripe fruits with their medicinal value intensified, are combined with valuable tonics. They act directly on Bowels, Kidneys and Skin and put them in perfect condition — thus ensuring the thorough elimination of all waste matter and poisons from the body. Trial box 25c. Regular size 50c.—6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BOWLING AT THE LOCAL Y.M.C.A.

New Alleys Were Opened Last Night by Mayor Rush and Mr. V. Eastwood

The new bowling alleys at the Y. M.C.A. were opened last night, and all evening the balls were trundled down them. His Worship Mayor Rush and Mr. Vincent Eastwood, Vice-President of the Association, sent down the first balls, and both played havoc with the pins. There was a big crowd on hand to witness the opening, and try their hand at the game.

The alleys are as good as any in Canada and the Y.M.C.A. is to be congratulated on having them. They were put in by Reid Bros., of Toronto, and everything in connection with them is of the latest design.

CANADIANS WERE THE WINNERS

Rome, September 28—In the gymnastic competition, Canada made 19 points, Ireland 18 1-2. France, Italy and Belgium also competed.

Rome, September 28—Although the full list of the prize winners at the gymnastic contest held in honor of the Pope's jubilee, will not be made public until tomorrow it is known that the Canadian team has captured first prize. A special exhibition will be given by one of the Italian athletic societies tomorrow in honor of the Canadians who have become very popular here.

THEY WANT TO MEET WINNERS

Palmerston Baseball Team Think They are Some Champions

W. M. Fulton, secretary of the Palmerstone Club, sends this challenge to the Mail and Empire:

Palmerstone Baseball Club hereby challenge winner of the Peterborough-St. Andrews series to play a game or series, to decide the Ontario championship, time and place to be mutually agreed upon.

WRESTLING

Fred Sullivan and Ken Morris will wrestle in the preliminary to the Mohl-Hurtubise bout. It will be for the 118 pound championship of Peterborough. The bout is exciting quite a little interest here.

THE HOOK

Last call for the straw hat.

This is the open season for politicians.

Why not get Tom Longboat to run in some constituency.

Nearly every school boy belongs to the black hand brigade.

The "Hammer" would swing better if some axle grease were applied to it.

Good thing the bush fires are out or there would be no tall timbers for the Grits to take to on October 26th.

There is no denial to the statement that W. A. Bailey has something to do with "The Swing of the Hammer."

Mrs. Egerton Blunt—"But why did you leave your last place?"

Applicant—"I couldn't stand the way the mistress and master used to quarrel, mum."

Mrs. E. B. (shocked)—"Dear me! Did they quarrel very much, then?"

Applicant—"Yes, mum; when it wasn't me an' 'im, it was me an' 'er."

FACTORIES THAT SHIPPED TO-DAY

SAID FAREWELL TO THEIR RECTOR

Rev. Wm. Major Presented With Address and Roll Top Desk

The congregation of All Saints' Church gathered to say farewell to Rev. Wm. Major last night previous to his departure for Montreal. Mr. Major has been rector of All Saints' for the past four years and his ministry has been attended by much success. His departure is much regretted. The members of the congregation appreciated his efforts here and, as a mark of their esteem, took occasion last night to present him with a handsome roll top desk, and an address. The address and presentation were made by the wardens, Mr. Edgar and Mr. Dawson. Mr. Major in reply, thanked the congregation of All Saints and made a very impressive address. Refreshments were then served and a couple of hours were spent in social chat and saying good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. Major.

WATER WATER EVERYWHERE

And Lady Found Herself in Awkward Predicament at Street Corner

An amusing sight was afforded a number of spectators at the corner of George and Hunter streets last evening when the rain was pouring down as if it were coming out of a barrel. A lady who was armed with an umbrella, attempted to cross from the Bank of Toronto corner to the corner at Tully's drug store. The the way looked clear, but when she reached the centre of the street she noticed that her forward journey was cut off by a stream of water several inches deep. She looked back from whence she had come, but another stream had taken a swerve and cut off her retreat. On all sides of the lady were streams of water, shutting off her escape on every side. The lady paused for a moment and then waded through to dry land, the water being over her boot-tops.

"THE WITNESS" SHEDS LIGHT ON THE ROBLIN CHARGES

Is This Private Business Too?—Does Private Business Excuse Public Plunder?—The Witness Calls it "A Barefaced Raid"

There is a very interesting situation in Toronto. The Rev. J. A. MacDonald, the editor of the Globe newspaper, says he will resign his chair if Mr. Roblin's charges against the Globe are true. What Mr. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, charged at Massey Hall, was in these words, as reported in the Toronto Daily News: "That when the Liberal Government in 1896 were considering the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway it was to be at an outlay of $1,850,000, and was so inserted in their charter. This paper commenced a deliberate and systematic agitation to have the grants of this railway increased to $11,000 per mile, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a pliant, plastic tool in the hands of the Globe, consented, and this railway was built at a cost to the country of $2,000,000 in excess of the original contract. As a result of their agitation, there was given to the Toronto Globe 250,000 acres of the best coal land in America. I charge the Toronto Globe that they used their influence to rob the country, that Robert Jaffray and his associates behind the Globe might obtain money." Mr. Macdonald says that if Mr. Willison declares these charges to be true he will resign. Mr. Willison was editor of the Globe at the time of the episode referred to. He was sitting on the platform beside Mr. Roblin when he made the charges, which are above reported from the paper of which Mr. Willison is now the editor. Exactly to what extent Mr. Macdonald denies the charges will come out in the further controversy. He says his associates declare them false in every detail.

If is known to all men that the Globe at the time referred to blossomed out with broadside after broadside demanding the subsidies in question. It was known that the principal promoters of the Crow's Nest deal were supporters of the Laurier Government. It was understood that the same men financially controlled The Globe. The principal of them was president of the Globe company. No one could question that the Globe was injured in standing and reputation by this barefaced raid, which bore no semblance to newspaper advocacy of a public interest, and was simply the pushing of a private interest. That the raid did anything to turn public opinion in favor of the deal we cannot imagine. With such an intelligent and high-minded public as the Globe addresses itself to the effect must have been precisely the opposite, and must have greatly weakened the allegiance of many to the party which the Globe supported. An illustration of this we thought we observed in the then editor of the Globe, who was up till then — shall we say after that — an enthusiastic supporter of the Liberal party and of its leader. We should have been more convinced of this had Mr. Willison not changed his views on questions of abstract principle as well as on the merits of parties and leaders. Without waiting for what Mr. Willison may have to say by way of explanation, we may say that the broadsides in question were not editorial, and may have been looked on as advertisements to be paid for, as Mr. Roblin avers they were paid for in a very unusual way and on a very unusual scale. In so far as the proprietors of the one enterprise were also proprietors of the other, that was simply transferring values from one pocket to the other, possibly to a pocket with holes in it. It is also to be said for Mr. Willison that whether he did or did not at the time hand in his resignation, he did some time after tran fer his services."—The Montreal Witness.

A TIMELY REMINDER FROM THE MONTREAL STAR; IS CANADIAN CONSCIENCE DEAD?

The following is the leading article of the Montreal Star for Monday, September 28.

Senator Foraker received several letters from John D. Archbold, Vice-President of the Standard Oil Company, two of which ran as follows:

"26 Broadway,
New York, February 16, 1900.

"My Dear Senator,—Here is still another very objectionable bill. It is so outrageous as to be ridiculous; but it needs to be looked after, and I hope there will be no difficulty in killing it. Am anxious to hear from you as to the situation as a whole.

Yours very truly,
JOHN D. ARCHBOLD.

"Hon. J. B. Foraker, 1500 Sixteenth St., Washington, D.C.'"

St., Washington, D.C.'"
"26 Broadway.

"My Dear Senator,—I enclose you certificate of deposit to your favor of $14,500.0 We are really at a loss in the matter but I send this, and will be glad to have a very frank talk with you when opportunity offers if you desire. I need scarcely again express our great gratification over the favorable outcome of affairs.

New, York, April 17th, 1900.
Yours very truly,
JOHN D. ARCHBOLD.

"Hon J. B. Foraker, 1500 Sixteenth

Mr Hearst read these letters to a public meeting and immediately Senator Foraker was compelled to sever all public connection with the Republican campaign. His speaking engagements were cancelled; he was openly denounced by President Roosevelt; and it is believed that his political career is at an end.

Mr. Lefurgey, M.P., received a letter from George W. Fowler, M. P., which ran as follows;

"Dear Lefurgey,— We have succeeded beyond our widest hopes. We wired D.M. (Dan Mann) and he met us at the train, Toronto and took us to his office and gave us the route, as far as located; of course, under cover of the strictest secrecy so keep it mum, except to Borden, Bennett and yourself. We expect to have a wealthy Englishman named Lister and Col. Pellatt in the combine with us. We have increased the thing to 200,000 acres. On arriving here we interviewed Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, and have every reason to expect most generous treatment as to terms and price. He said we should get the best that was going. We want to arrange a meeting there, when the party returns to Montreal. Tell Messrs. Borden and Bennet about the meeting. It will be necessary for at least two of us to go this fall and locate as it could not be done in the spring and that is one of the things that must be arranged at the meeting.

GEO. W. FOWLER.

Mr. Lefurgey is today the Conservative candidate for Prince County, Prince Edward Island. Mr. Fowler is the Conservative candidate for Kings-Albert, N.B.. Mr. Bennett is the Conservative candidate for East Simcoe Ont. Mr. Borden was not included in the deal.

Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, was accused at the same time that the Foraker letter was made public of having been concerned in an attempt by the Standard Oil Company to bribe Ohio officials to have certain suits pending against the Standard Oil Company before the Supreme Court of Ohio set aside. He absolutely denied the truth of the charge, but so fearful were the Democratic leaders of the effect of these allegations upon the American people that he was persuaded to resign his position as Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

The Hon. J. R. Stratton was accused by Mr. Gamey a member of the Ontario Legislature with an attempt to bribe him to betray his constituents who had elected him as a Conservative and give his support to the then moribund Ross Government. These charges were tried by a Royal Commission, and though Mr Stratton was not found guilty he felt it necessary to give up his position in the Provincial Administration. To-day. Mr. Stratton is the Liberal candidate in West Peterborough.

The question arises in connection with such cases as these whether the Canadian political conscience is tougher than the American. We have been accustomed to flatter ourselves that we followed higher political ideals in this country and that our standards of political decency were more elevated than they are across the border. But, in view of such contrasts as these are we so confident that our public life is cleaner and that our people are readier to resent corrupt conduct or persistent alliance with tainted candidates.

If an American Senator must be eliminated from the presidential campaign because he is suspected of receiving favors from a powerful corporation while Canadian members of Parliament are kept to the forefront, though it is proven that they sought favors from two powerful corporations, what are lovers of honest government to think? If an American politician must give up his position on a campaign committee because he is accused of an attempt to bribe, while a Canadian Minister who resigned his post under the shadow of another accusation of an attempt to bribe is renominated boldly for parliament, which people is paid the compliment of being credited with the more sensitive political conscience?

The fact is that our politicians have come to the conclusion that the Canadian people when inflamed by party feeling at the approach of an election will swallow anything. They believe that we are such mad partisans that we are only anxious lest too much emphasis be placed upon the rottenness of our tainted candidates with the result that some "weak-kneed" members of the party may funk and allow them to be beaten. We may talk a bit between elections; but, when the bell sounds for the race, we are in for a party victory, neck or nothing, and dread nothing so much as that our manly outspokenness in the past may now work damage to the convicted "grafter" who is carrying our flag. That is what the politicians think; and who can say that they are without justification?

A year or two ago we were outraged at the effrontery of the members of Parliament on both sides of the house who joined in a "speakeasy" conspiracy to loot the public treasury of an additional thousand a year indemnity for each member. It was a case of the watchdogs going in with the thieves to plunder the pantry. The public opinion of the country was unanimously against it. The politicians were so much alarmed that they threw overboard the pension scheme for ex-Ministers, though that was the smallest parcel of the loot they had "lifted." But what they really calculated on was the forgetfulness of the voters. They said that, when we became immersed in the excitement of the next campaign we would only be too glad to pretend to forget that our particular member had anything to do with this open and barefaced act of pillage.

And were they not right? Who is now talking of the Indemnity Grab? What member is in danger of losing his seat because he joined in this act of defiance of the public will—in this indecent employment of a position of trust to pocket a part of the trust funds? But there were so many sinners in this case that the people probably despaired of dealing out even-handed justice to all concerned. At all events, they appear to have abandoned the task in the nominating conventions where it should have been accomplished. But this can hardly be pleaded in extenuation of the deadness of the Canadian conscience when the Liberals dare to revive J. R. Stratton as a candidate for Parliament when Burrows and Turriff are renominated for Western constituencies, and when the Conservatives invite us to vote for Foster, Fowler and Lefurgey.

"SHOW ME" PROOF

That is What Hyomei Will do in All Forms of Catarrh and Troubles of the Breathing Organs

It's not a question of Hyomei having cured someone else, but will it reach your own particular case. If its Cold in the head, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Croup or any affection of the breathing organs, W. Medill, druggist, corner of Hunter and George street, Peterborough, says yes, and will refund the money if it fails. No other preparation for the same purpose can successfully do this, because the Hyomei system of treatment is different from anything else.

You simply breathe and inhale its medication in dry air from which destroys the germ life that causes oppressed breathing, Nasal Catarrh, Throat Irritation and Lung Troubles. It brings to these suffering organs the balsam laden air they would get in the Pine and Eucalyptus forests. The air that stamps out Bronchial troubles.

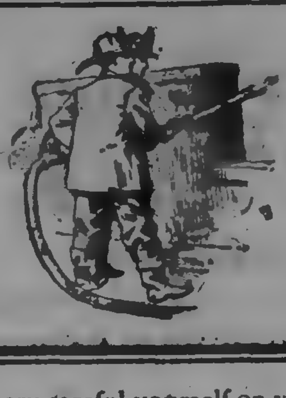
CASH REGISTER ON THE ROUGH

A George street business man had an annoying experience with his cash register last night. Something went wrong with the mechanism and the proprietor could not get it open. Like an actress behind in her salary, the register refused to act and the business man in question worked on it until one o'clock in the morning.

BE PREPARED
FOR THE VISIT OF THE FIREMEN



YOU may be very careful yourself on your own premises. You may not allow smoking, or the striking of matches, or the careless handling of combustibles, but how do you know whether your neighbors are equally as careful? Even with the greatest of precautions fire is apt to break out just where and when least expected, and that is why the wise should come and take out a Fire Insurance Policy with us, in a Company such as the LIVERPOOL & LONDON & GLOBE, SUN, NORTHERN, ALLIANCE, and such other first class British, American and Canadian Companies which we represent.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WOMENS' ART ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Women's Art Association of Canada was held Monday afternoon. Owing to the great downpour of rain, the attendance was small, but the members present showed great enthusiasm and interest in the works of the branch.

After the reading of the various reports and the election of officers, for the coming year, a short talk was given by Miss Wallis, which was listened to with great pleasure and profit by those fortunate enough to be present.

The treasurer's report showed a substantial balance

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

During the season of 1907-8 there were four executive meetings held, at which there was a good attendance. The principal event in the history of the Peterborough branch was the exhibition of Dutch water colors and engravings. Through the courtesy of Mr. A. Montizambert, of the Bank of Montreal, the building formerly occupied by the bank was placed at the disposal of the Association for a week, lighted and heated free of charge. The exhibition was held in February and, on the opening night we were pleased to have with us again our president, Mrs. Dignam. She very kindly gave us a short history of what the modern Dutch school of painters is doing for art to-day. During the season the meetings of the Art Club reading circle were held regularly, once a fortnight, the members taking great interest in the subject, "The Art of the Early Italian Renaissance." The interest was much stimulated by the books of the travelling library procured from McGill University.

The medal offered by our Branch, for the best original drawing, to be competed for by the pupils of the public schools and collegiate institute, aroused great interest and was won by Master Harold Lynn. The medal was the gift of Mrs. J. R. Stratton.

The "International Studio" was subscribed to, and, after being distributed among the members, was placed in the reading room of the Y. W. C. A.

The thanks of the Branch are due to the Board of Management of the Y. W. C. A. for many courtesies shown.

An interesting exhibit of homespuns, laces and other home industries also took place during the winter. The season was brought to a close by a lecture given by Miss Roberts on "Westward the Empire Takes its Way," held in St. John's school house, which was also placed at our disposal free of charge.

Special Meeting of the County County Council This Morning—By-law Borrowing $6,000 Passed—Deputation Heard

A special meeting of the County Council for the purpose of giving the by-law to provide for the borrowing of $6,000, by debentures, its final reading and passing of the same said money for the purpose of bridge building, was held in the Council Chamber this morning. Warden Thompson was in the chair, and all the members were present.

On motion of Messrs. Oakman and Russell, the above by-law was read a third time, and passed and duly signed and stamped with the corporate seal.

On motion of Messrs. Cohen and Hales, the Council adjourned to go into regular session at the request of the Warden.

REGULAR SESSION.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, Esq., with other speakers, from the sections interested addressed the Council.

On motion of the Council, it was referred to a committee of the whole to deal with the matter, Mr. Kilian being chairman of the Standing School Committee.

FINE DISPLAY OF NORTHERN LIGHTS SEEN LAST NIGHT

Whole Northern Sky Lit Up By Streams of Greenish Hued Light.

The "merry dancers" were in the sky last night, translucent and tremulous, and brighter and in greater profusion than they have been seen in these parts for years.

The phenomenon, more commonly known as the "Aurora Borealis," the boreal of the northern dawn, manifested itself in streams of gauzy light ascending toward the zenith from a dusky line of cloud or haze, a few degrees above the horizon, and stretching from the north towards the east and west, forming an arc, or canopy of pearly, waving festoons.

The night was an exceedingly beautiful one, and attracted the attention of everyone on the street. The display was at its best about eleven o'clock.

MATRICULATION CLASSES MAY BE FORMED AT Y. M. C. A.

If a class of eight can be secured a matriculation course will be put on at the local Y.M.C.A. At a meeting of the Educational Committee last night the matter was talked over and it was decided that a class of matriculation students would be a good feature. It was pointed out that there are likely many in the city who would like to matriculate, but who are past the age of going to school, or who are situated in such a way that it is impossible for them to do so. It was decided to go ahead with the project if a class of eight or more can be secured.

PETERBOROUGH STUDENTS RETURNING TO COLLEGES

Large Number at Toronto University and Queen's This Year—Some of Those in Attendance.

With the opening of the colleges on the first of next week, many Peterborough students will be leaving the city to resume their courses of study at the different institutions. Some have already left to resume their studies and others will be going during the remaining days of the present week. The majority of local students taking advanced work attend Toronto University, but Queen's College, of Kingston, also claims a good number.

Mr Max Yelland returns to Toronto for his second year in medicine, and Mr. Burritt Mann, of Bridgenorth, for his third year. Mr. Stanley Madill will take his second year in dentistry, and Messrs. W. Huston and B Quinn have already gone to Toronto to attend the College of Pharmacy. Mr. H. Hall returns to Toronto for his third year in the School of Practical Science and Messrs. R. L. Dobbin and Allan Munro for their second year. Mr. H. Blackwell, of this city, will be one of the freshmen at the School of Science this fall.

Among the Peterborough boys at Osgoode Hall will be Messrs. Basil Hall and Herbert and Arthur Wood.

Those who have left for Queen's are Miss Mattie B. Robertson, second year; Miss Jean Campbell, second year; Miss Helen Denne, second year, goes later; Miss Hazel Sanderson third year; Miss Lenore Sanderson, first year; for St. Hilda's Trinity Toronto, Miss Marion Denne, second year; Miss Gene Harstone, first year; Miss Gladys Crane, first year, goes later; for Victoria, Toronto, Miss Lexa Denne, final year.

TWENTY-THREE MEN ATTENDING THE NORMAL SCHOOL HERE

There are 162 students in attendance at the Peterborough Normal School at present. Of these 23 are young men. The number is rather significant as it implies the classic injunction to "Skiddoo," but of course it's only a coincidence.

At the London Normal School where Mr. D. Walker was a member of the staff last year there were 13 young men in attendance but despite that the year was one of the most successful in the history of the school.

The work at the local Normal school is progressing very favorably.

VANCOUVER PAPER CRITICISES OFFER OF THEODORE LUDGATE

To Sell Deadman's Island to City of Vancouver—Mr. Ludgate Does Not Know What to do With Island.

The Vancouver World says editorially:—In a timely letter, published in another column, Mr. Frank Burnett draws attention to the latest attempt to raid the civic treasury, the offer of Deadman's Island to the Vancouver authorities for $230,000 by Mr. Theodore Ludgate. The history of the transactions which resulted in the granting of this lease in the first place does not reflect much credit on the Dominion authorities, but, nevertheless, it rather looks now as though Mr. Ludgate had taken very little by his brilliant strategy. First and last the island must have cost him a pretty penny and it is not easy to see how he is going to recoup himself. We agree with Mr. Burnett in dismissing without further consideration the offers Mr. Ludgate says he has received for the site. Deadman's Island would be a very convenient spot on which to erect a sawmill, but its advantages are not so transcendent as to make it worth an unproductive expenditure of ten or fifteen thousand dollars a year, the interest on the capital sum demanded by Mr. Ludgate. Nor need we fear that promoters of other untried industries will ever seriously think of saddling themselves with any such tremendous handicap. The fact is that Mr. Ludgate, now that he has got the island, does not know what to do with it. He is quite aware that the city will never permit a sawmill there, except under such regulations as regards fire protection as would prevent it competing with other sawmills, and his original designs have therefore gone by the board. His right hand, however, has not forgotten its cunning, and the skill which was so effectively employed in obtaining the lease is now directed for selling it for a handsome sum to the city. We shall be very much surprised if he finds the ratepayers of Vancouver as easy as the Ottawa bureaucracy.

CREIGHTON IS ARRAIGNED SLEW HIS WIFE AND GIRLS

Intention of Defence Seems to be to Argue Insanity and Experts Will be Called—Prisoner Appears in Court Room Long Enough to Plead "Not Guilty."

Owen Sound, Sept. 30.—What may prove one of the most notable criminal cases in Canadian records opened here yesterday afternoon, when James Creighton, self-confessed murderer of his wife, Lillie Eliza Creighton, and her two daughters, Katherine Belle Chapman and Claire Belle Chapman, by a previous marriage, on May 26 last, at their home on Union street hill, was placed on trial.

The Assizes opened with every seat in the court-room filled, while the aisles and corridors were packed with humanity eager to get a glimpse of the prisoner and listen to any evidence which might be offered. Though there is an extensive docket, that of Creighton is the only criminal case to be heard.

Justice Riddell opened the court promptly at 2 and after a few explicit instructions to the grand jury, left the case with them.

It was only a short time before the grand jurors returned a true bill in each of the three separate charges of murdering the mother and her two daughters.

Creighton was then brought up from the cells, and as he was led between two constables a more dejected spectacle could scarcely be found. Trembling, he was led to the prisoner's dock where, when the indictments were read he entered the plea of not guilty. He wore a bandage over the eye where the self-inflicted wound was made after he despatched his three victims.

The prisoner was not detained any length of time and was led back to his cell, where he has been guarded day and night since his commitment.

The evident intention of the defence is to plead insanity and several experts will be called, among them being Dr. Beemer of Mimico Asylum; Dr. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons and asylums; Dr. J. M. Cotton and Dr. Clark of Toronto Asylum. Several local doctors have also been summoned, though not as expert witnesses.

George Tate Blackstock, K.C., is conducting the case for the crown, and A. G. MacKay, K.C., M.P.P., for the prisoner.

SIXTY VESSELS WERE TIED UP IN THE ST. LAWRENCE

Between Montreal and Quebec Last Week on Account of the Fog—Mr. R. J. Winch Home From Trip to Ottawa and Montreal.

Mr. R. J. Winch has returned to the city after spending a week at Ottawa and Montreal. He attended the fair at Ottawa last week and states that the show was a most successful one.

Mr. Winch says that the smoke and fog are much more dense in Ottawa and Montreal than at Peterborough. At Ottawa it was almost impossible to see across the street, the smoke coming down in great clouds from the bush fires in the Gatineau district.

At Montreal navigation was completely tied up for several days. There were sixty vessels between Quebec and Montreal last week unable to proceed owing to the heavy pall of smoke and fog that hung over the river. The Virginian was to have sailed from Montreal on Friday morning but was unable to leave the dock till Monday evening. Other vessels were tied up in a similar manner.

While in Montreal Mr. Winch was the guest of his son and had a most enjoyable time.

REV. DR. PRINGLE COMMENDED FOR STAND HE HAS TAKEN

In Connection With Social Conditions in the Yukon—Westminster Presbytery Passes Resolution.

The Vancouver World says:

The Westminster Presbytery, in a resolution passed at a meeting held at Eburne on Tuesday, strongly vindicated the work of the late Rev. John Pringle on behalf of moral reform in the Yukon.

The resolution was moved by Rev. Dr. Peter Wright and seconded by Rev. J. Knox Wright. It was in the following terms;

"Whereas Rev. Dr. John Pringle, late Presbyterian missionary in the Yukon has been fiercely assailed for his fearless exposure of social crimes in the city of Dawson, therefore Resolved, —1—That this presbytery does hereby place on record its entire confidence in Dr. Pringle's manly Christian character and its unqualified appreciation of his courageous efforts to elevate the social life and promote civic righteousness.

2—That this presbytery records its gratitude to God for the heroic spirit with which He has inspired Dr. Pringle and many other missionaries in their stern conflict with the forces of evil in the newer parts of our land, and for the mighty influence they have wielded in the cause of civic, social and domestic purity thus becoming a terror to evil doers while earning the grateful praise of all good citizens, and

3—This presbytery rejoices in the well attested fact that the earnest struggles on behalf of social purity and civic righteousness in that far north land have been so conspicuously fruitful in blessing that a new and remote city like Dawson compares favorably today for its observance of law and order with many of the older cities of our Dominion, and that this moral and social uplift has been achieved largely through the self-denying and persistent efforts of Rev. Dr. Pringle and other faithful ministers and missionaries of our church in the Yukon."

LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY HAS MADE A PROPOSITION

To the Fire, Water and Light Committee Regarding Placing Street Lights on Arms—A Meeting Was Held Last Night.

A meeting of the Fire, Water and Light committee was held last night at which there were present, Ald. Johnston, chairman; Mayor Rush and Aldermen Buller, Turner and McIntyre.

A letter was received from the Davis Thompson Co., in reference to insurance on horses and live stock of all kinds.

The clerk was instructed to write the Davis Thompson Company, and ask for full particulars re the insurance of horses.

At a recent meeting the chairman was authorized to interview the Light and Power Co., re the price of having several street lamps on arms reaching out over the street. Chairman Johnston said he had seen the Company and had received a letter in reply. The company proposed to put the lamps on arms for the cost of two dollars per year per lamp, above the regular cost. The matter was left over for the time being.

A petition was received asking that lights be placed at the corner of Smith and Park streets, and Smith and Froeburn streets. A petition was put in some time ago and the council granted it but so far no lights have been put up. The writer of the last petition had gone to the Smith township council and that body had consented to pay one-third the cost.

The difficulty is that the distance from the nearest lamp is over 800 feet, and the council cannot compel the company to put one there. It will be necessary to place two lights up.

On motion the council will be recommended to place a lamp at the corner of Smith and Park streets, and another at the corner of Smith and Froeburn streets, providing that Smith township pays one-third of the cost of the latter lamp for five years.

Another petition for a light at the north end of Charles St. was received.

Ravages of Consumption in U.S.

Yale Professor Makes Startling Statement at Tuberculosis Conference.

Washington, Sept. 30.—That 5,000,000 people now living in the United States are doomed to fill consumptives' graves unless something is done to prevent it, was the startling declaration of Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University, in an address on "The Cost of Tuberculosis," before the International Congress on Tuberculosis yesterday. Prof. Fisher's address, which was the feature of the day, created a sensation among the hundreds who listened to his statements. Prof. Fisher further declared that the 138,000 persons who die of consumption annually in this country cost in hard cash over one billion dollars a year.

Surgeon-General Simon Von Unterberger of St. Petersburg, honorary physician at the Czar's Court, contributed his views of "Heredity in Tuberculosis." "All tendency to disease appears in any individual," asserts Dr. Unterberger, "is to be regarded as hereditary, whether or not the corresponding disease can be traced back each time to parents or ancestors. The tendency to consumption is inherited and may be developed by various agencies. Numerous autopsies show that every man over thirty years of age has old remains of a tuberculous infection. These facts show how comparatively easily the human organism can overcome the tubercule bacilli and give us the indication for our treatment, the strengthening of the organism by hygienic and dietetic means."

TO CARRY THE EAST

Mr. Sexsmith's Election Assured

First Meeting of Campaign Held Last Night at Zion—Party is United

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, the Conservative candidate in the East Riding, is conducting a vigorous campaign and there is every assurance that the East will be a Conservative gain on October 26th. A series of meetings in the interest of the Conservative candidate, have been arranged, the first being held in Zion hall last night. Mr. Joshua Smithson was in the chair and made a telling speech against the administration of the Laurier Government.

Mr. Sexsmith was given a fine hearing, as he pointed out many reasons why there should be a change at Ottawa. He charged the Liberals with wasteful expenditure of public money, poor administration and grafting.

The meeting was well attended, many Liberals being present. A number of them assured Mr. Sexsmith that they would support him on October 26th.

The Conservative party is united behind Mr. Sexsmith and there is no doubt but that he will have a handsome majority over Mr. Tanner. The Candidature of the Liberal candidate is not arousing much enthusiasm.

BORDEN HAS A BUSY DAY. LEADER'S TRIUMPHANT TOUR

Was to Have Been Day of Rest But Impromptu Visits Are Paid to Berlin, Preston, Galt, Hespeler and Waterloo Winding up With Big Rally in Guelph.

Guelph, Sept. 30.—Yesterday was to have been a day of rest for Mr. Borden, but it turned out to be one of the busiest of his Ontario campaign.

It included two impromptu meetings and a round of visits, which kept him on the move through the group of Waterloo County manufacturing towns, and concluded with a big meeting in the opera house here last night.

Early in the afternoon the touring Conservatives were taken from Galt to Berlin by trolley. There a reception was held in the Berlin Club and and a visit made to St. Jerome's Catholic College. Afterwards the chief places of interest in the town were inspected.

By auto the trip was made to Waterloo, and although there had been no notice of a meeting, a crowd filled the council chamber and Mr. Borden and Mr. Hanna made brief speeches.

Mr. Seagram, the former member, introduced Mr. Borden. Every meeting, said the Conservative leader, from Halifax to Waterloo, has justified the prediction that the Government would be defeated on Oct. 26. The group of towns visited during the day—Galt, Berlin, Preston, Hespeler and Waterloo, were object lessons of the benefit of the National Policy.

Mr. Borden declared that the Liberals had not abolished the principle of protection, but there was the difficulty that though they practiced it they did not believe in it, except for party expediency, and they could not be expected to give the full benefit that should be derived from it.

A telephone message was sent to Hespeler that Mr. Borden would speak there in an hour's time, and when the party arrived they found the hall crowded.

Z. A. Hall, who presided, struck the note that "Hespeler wants more adequate protection," and Mr. Borden, in his ten-minutes' speech took this for a text. He said the Conservatives in the House of Commons had been preaching adequate protection. For some years, when everything was going on swimmingly, perhaps, they imagined that the people did not pay sufficient attention, but they went on preaching the same doctrine in every part of the country. On the other hand the Liberals were protectionists in one place and free-traders in another.

EFFORT TO HAVE MINIMUM SALARY $900 PER ANNUM

At the meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough at Campbellford yesterday, the elders present took steps towards increasing the stipends of ministers in some rural districts. In some congregations the ministers are receiving less than $900 a year and it is in cases like these that it is hoped to make an improvement. The elders met at the Presbytery yesterday and decided to do what they could to have $900 the minimum salary.

TO HAVE THIS CITY IN CLASS "A" AS REGARDS INSURANCE

Board of Trade Recommends City Council to Look Into the Matter and Take Plebiscite of Ratepayers.

Appointment of an Inspector of Electric Wiring Also Recommended.

Chief Howard Reads Interesting Paper on Fire Protection and Prevention Before Board of Trade—Carelessness the Cause of Many Fires—Chemical Hose Waggon Needed.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. R. M. Roy, "that it is the opinion of this meeting that the City Council should appoint an inspector of electric wiring."

Moved by Mr. Robt. Fair, seconded by Ald. Neill, "that the City Council be requested to take a plebiscite of the citizens of Peterborough as to the advisability of spending such a sum of money of money so as to further equipment of the fire department in order to raise the present rate of insurance from class "B" to "A".

The two resolutions given above, were passed at a meeting of the Board of Trade last night and were the unanimous opinion of a representative gathering of citizens. The president, M. A. Morrison, was in the chair and over thirty members of the board were present. The meeting was called to hear a paper on "Fire Protection and Prevention," by Fire Chief Howard. Mr. Howard had prepared an excellent summary of his subject and the members of the board were much profited by it. The resolutions passed grew out of the discussion which followed the reading of the paper.

Mr. Morrison, in opening the meeting expressed his pleasure at having the Chief of the fire brigade present to give a paper on fire protection and prevention. Although a comparative stranger in the city, Mr. Howard had shown himself a worthy and popular citizen.

He then called upon Mr. Howard to present his paper.

THE CHIEF'S PAPER.

One of the necessary qualifications for good citizenship is a constant desire on the part of individuals to protect their fellows from harm. The greatest that can visit any people is fire. hundreds of persons are burned to death annually, and thousands of successful business men are ruined and becomes bankrupt and numberless happy homes crumble and fall, never to be rebuilt by their former occupants.

The public press is constantly reporting whole communities that have been wiped out of existence. In nearly every instance the cause of these terrible disasters can be traced to the careless handling of fire.

Quite fresh in our memory is the terrible Iroquois theatre disaster, where hundreds of women and children lost their lives in the stampede that occurred. The fire loss was a mere bagatelle but no one can estimate the actual value of the lives that were lost.

During the first three months of the present year, there occurred fifty-eight fires, in schools, in the United States and Canada; and in these fires over two hundred lives were lost, and upwards of five hundred children were injured more or less seriously.

In nearly every case the cause of fire can be traced to the carelessness of some one who should have taken the proper precaution to safeguard the lives entrusted to their care. In many instances we find that persons in charge of the public buildings, do not realise the tremendous responsibilities they are compelled to assume. The same can be said of business men, manufacturers, managers, and superintendents of large concerns. They allow their whole time to be occupied by the financial end of their business and neglect keeping a constant watch upon their employes; and thereby permit carelessness to exist on the premises of which they have the management.

Too often business men are compelled to leave the care and protection of their building to some trusted employee who is overworked. Two-thirds of the fires that occur, start in the basements of buildings, or in the garret, where accumulation of combustible rubbish is premitted, such as waste paper, broken boxes, etc. As a rule people are very careful when handling gunpowder and other explosives, but are very indifferent about this waste paper business, that has such a horror for the average fireman.

A common saying of today is, "we live in the electric age." Public speakers frequently make use of the term, and it is generally conceded to be a fact. But fire chiefs put it differently, we say "We are living in the cigarette age." The expression may seem humorous to the average person but it has a very serious side for the firemen.

The cigarette and the combustible rubbish have been the means of starting some of the most disastrous fires that have occurred on the continent of America within the last ten years. It is a deadly combination that the people should be taught to fear.

The cigarette habit may be beyond our control, and we may not be able to legislate against it but it is possible for each and every one of us, as citizens to remove every particle of combustible rubbish from the buildings and premises where we have the management. And by so doing, we remove a portion of the danger that exists by the careless handling of fire.

One cannot lay too much stress upon this very important question and it is the duty of every good citizen to exercise his authority and influence to safeguard the lives and property of his fellow citizens. In some cases it may mean a financial sacrifice, but it is our honest and lawful duty. Fire protection and prevention is a subject worthy of much thought.

Your representatives to the municipal council have within the last two years made an earnest endeavor to improve the fire fighting facilities in this city and therefore are deserving of this encouragement, and co-operation of every public spirited citizen.

The judicious expenditure of public money for fire protection will, in many instances prevent disastrous fires, which so often prostrate business and retard prosperity, and if properly managed will prove a profitable investment.

Within the last twenty-five years there have been many clever inventions for the prevention and extinguishing of fire. Some of the brightest and brainiest men of the country have given their time and talent to invent efficient appliances, such as the modern fire engine, the chemical fire extinguisher, the quick hoisting device of the aerial ladder, the sprinkler system, the automatic fire doors, the high pressure system, and many other devices too numerous to mention.

Some of these inventions are beyond our reach financially, but quite within the reach of every man is the spirit of caution, and if this spirit is cultivated along the line of fire prevention it will be productive of much good; and when we endeavor to prevent fire in or about our own premises we are not only acting honestly towards ourselves, but doing our duty to our neighbors and the whole community.

I trust the few suggestions and hints I have given will be in a

A FAMILY QUARREL

The Toronto Globe devotes about five columns of its space in to-day's issue to dabbling with the dirty linen long since discarded by the Liberals of East Elgin. It is an elaborate resume of the Hepburn-Butler case, in which one Liberal preferred grave charges against another Liberal, the latter the candidate of the party. Butler was fined for keeping a disorderly house and his license revoked as a result of the trial of the case before a Liberal magistrate, County Magistrate Hunt. This decision was afterward sustained by Judge Colter whose Liberal proclivities are no secret. Judge Colter, too, in handing down judgment in the case, absolved both Mr. Marshall and Mr. Brewer of any instrumentality in the matter in the following language:

"Though Butler mentioned the names of Mr. Marshall and Mr. Brewer in his conversation with Mr. Hepburn as implicated in such a plot, I have no hesitation in saying that men of their high standing and character in the estimation of the public were not responsible directly or indirectly in such a base scheme."

Then what grounds has the Globe for characterizing the affair as a "Foul Political Plot hatched in East Elgin?" Who hatched it? If it was a "foul political plot" does not Judge Colter place the onus upon Butler, and was not Butler, according to the Globe's own story, a man friendly to Hepburn in politics? It was obviously a mess concocted by and involving only the Liberals. Therefore, what the Globe hopes to gain what political capital it hopes to make, by spreading the unsavoury doings of unsavoury people before the public, and again ventilating the whole disgraceful scandal, is difficult to understand.—St. Thomas Times.

CROW'S NEST PASS

As an accompaniment to the Globe's policy on the Crow's Nest Pass question the Globe's friends received ownership in 250,000 acres of coal lands.

As an accompaniment to the Globe policy on the Crow's Nest Pass question the C.P.R. received a charter entitling it to build the British Columbia Southern Railway.

As an accompaniment to the Globe policy on the Crow's Nest Pass question THE COUNTRY received 50,000 acres of coal lands and the job of paying out $3,300,000 to build a railway for the C.P.R.

These coal lands that went to the Globe's friends constituted the bulk of the reward British Columbia offered to the builders of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway.

As an accompaniment to the Globe policy on the Crow's Nest Pass question the Globe's friends financially built nothing and received 250,000 acres of coal lands.

AS A CONSEQUENCE of the Globe's policy on the Crow's Nest Pass question William Mulock was tied to the chariot wheels of Clifford Sifton. James F. Lister was disgusted and driven into the retirement of the judiciary. Ontario Liberalism went into moral bankruptcy, and has stayed there ever since, and the Globe became a millstone round the neck of its party.—Toronto Telegram.

A RECORD OF SCANDAL

A valuable commentary upon the manner in which Canada's public domains are being manipulated for the enrichment of the Government's friends was revealed by the searchlight thrown on a recent timber deal at Ottawa. The exposure was outlined in the Herald's news columns on Friday. It was an action by an Aylmer man to recover an interest in certain timber limits acquired in 1901 from the Ottawa government.

First let it be made clear that the defendant or one of them, was Mr. A. W. Fraser, K.C., ex-president of the Ottawa Liberal Association and one of the candidates for the city. At tonight here he also stated that Mr. Fraser is a most lucky man in securing timber limits. He, together with other land speculators, including Senator T. O. Davis, A. J. Adamson, M.P., Alexander Smith, formerly organizer of the Government party in Ontario, and certain joint stock companies whose composition is still concealed, have been granted 3,400 square miles, or 396,000 acres of selected Northwest timber.

Just what these speculators paid for the big block of the people's land, may be judged by Mr. Fraser's statement in court that the amount paid for the particular limit upon which the action was based was $1,650. What the limit was worth is another question which the Government never bothered its head about. It was admitted, however, in court that the speculators who bought the timber land for $1,650 sold it to an American firm for $108,000. Such figures are those quoted are an object lesson in finance as to the imbecility of the Ottawa Government when it comes to protecting the interests of the country.

Cases of a similar nature might be multiplied. Since 1896, 5,400 square miles or 4,896,000 acres of timber races have been granted, without proper public competition the greater portion to speculators, mostly political supporters and favorites of the Government.

Gradually but surely the available future sources of supply through the Northwest have been given over to and tied up by the fortunate ones.

An instance is Theo. A. Burrows, a brother in law of Mr. Sifton, the late Minister of the Interior. He has had particular opportunities of becoming acquainted with timber areas and has been particularly fortunate in acquiring in his own name and in the name of others an immense estate in timber lands.

The following list of his benefits all granted since the Laurier Government came into office:

No. 814, granted May 30, 1898, 15 square miles.

No. 827, granted Sept. 6, 1898, 14 square miles.

No. 906, granted Sept. 6th, 1898, 50 square miles.

No. 992, granted Dec. 20th, 1901, 60 square miles.

No. 1000, granted Feb. 20, 1902, 5 square miles.

No. 1,061, granted Dec. 19, 11902, 6 square miles.

No. 1062, granted Dec. 19, 1902, 4 square miles.

No. 1046, granted March 7, 1903, 40 square miles.

No. 1047, granted March 7, 1903, 50 square miles.

No. 1054, granted April 9, 1903, 1 square mile.

No. 1,066, granted June 24, 1903, 5 1-4 square miles.

No. 1073, granted July 15, 1903, 20 square miles.

No. 1093, granted Nov. 11, 1903, 12 square miles.

No. 1094, granted Nov. 11, 1903, 27 square miles.

No. 1099 granted Nov. 11, 1903, 44 square miles.

No. 1120, granted Jan 27, 1904, 15 square miles.

No. 1191, granted Dec. 7, 1904, 50 square miles.

No. 1192, granted Dec. 7, 1904, 50 square miles.

The total of the acres detailed is 487 1-4 square miles, but Mr. Burrows holds in all 549 square miles, or 351,360 acres, besides his partnership interest.

To the Imperial Pulp Company, as ascertained with great difficulty to be composed of Sir Daniel McMillan, Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba and T. A. Burrows, M.P., before mentioned, have been granted 288,870 acres of timber limits obtained without real competition, selected in the best timber regions from Lake Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains and held for speculative purposes. Three lots, which cost in the aggregate $12,500 are held and offered at $1,500,000.

The Ottawa Government has been a true friend to their partisan speculators — always partisans, mind you, for the strange thing about it all is that none but Liberals ever find their ventures successful. It has even gone out of its way to enrich them. Before 1903 all timber land leases were subject to yearly revision of rental and royalty were open to reservation for settlement and adjacent settlers were allowed to cut fuel and building timber therefrom for their own use.

On April 14th, 1903, the minister of the Interior changed all that. The leases were to be renewable year after year, "whilst merchantable timber remains on the area licensed," and the privilege to settlers described above was rescinded.

This practically makes the lease irreversible and adds vastly to the value.

No wonder the exposures are sinking so deeply into the minds of Westerners because they can appreciate what this wholesale despoliation of the people really means. No wonder, with such evidences before the electors the prospects for a clean sweep for R. L. Borden, seems so promising. He has promised and he is a man to keep his word, that public lands which can be saved or restored to the people will be so done. That is why his policy of restitution appeals so forcibly to Westerners, and for very shame honest Liberals the Dominion over cannot but agree that such things cannot be tolerated and the Dominion Government deserves obliteration for having allowed the people to be deprived of their rightful domains without reasonable return therefor. A vote for Mayor Newstead will help.—Guelph Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Burrows is nominated for Parliament by the Liberals of his old constituency. Nothing like graft.

"To get into the United States, an immigrant was forced to pay $4, but we, the people of Canada, possessing our great heritage, and living in a land of religious and social freedom, were paying to have people come here. "Is it necessary that there should be this $9 difference between Canada and the United States in the matter of immigration?" asked the speaker. Records showed that the United States collected $2,000,000 through its immigration taxation. He had opposed the Government's immigration policy. His resolution regarding immigration houses had excluded all but two classes, while the government's policy paid a bonus on all immigrants. And yet the 'Expositor' had said that his immigration policy agreed with that of the government."

"The trend of the evidence as first submitted to the Commission was cautiously confined to the terms of an arrangement involving the payment of $60,000 and no more".—(Extract from Royal Commission's Report)

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Mr. Reid is the Conservative candidate in North Waterloo. He is a nephew of Mr. Joshua Smithson, of Otonabee. Mr. Reid is principal of King Edward School, Berlin, which position he has held for over 20 years. Mackenzie King was a pupil of his. "ME AND CANADA."

Mr. Richard Scott could not continue in the position in which he has given me and the country such valuable service.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at North Bay.

Imagine the scornful laughter that would greet even Theodore Roosevelt if he alluded in public to "me and the United States."

And Right Hon. H. H. Asquith would be laughed out of the three kingdoms if he acknowledged the services of a retiring colleague to "me and Great Britain."

Poor old Sir Charles Tupper could not address the electors in 1896 without occasionally using the letter "I." Consequently his speeches were interrupted with a chorus of "I," "I," "I," "I," from the ribald Liberals who scoffed at the sound of apparent egotism in the remarks of the old knight.

These Liberals might vainly search the most self-appreciative speeches of Sir Charles Tupper for anything quite so egotistical as Sir Wilfrid Laurier's iterated allusions to "ME and the country."—Toronto Telegram.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures sick women.

Miss M. R. Morin, 335 Ontario St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was in very poor health and doctored for months, receiving very little benefit. I had lost all ambition, was nervous, and subject to dizzy spells and painful periods each month.

"A friend suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the proper medicine for me. I procured a bottle of this remedy and began taking, and before it was finished, I felt so much better that I continued its use and gave it a thorough test, with the result I am to-day well and a much healthier girl than I was three years ago. I have no more painful periods, dizziness or nervous troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. SINGING IN GOD'S ACRES

Out yonder in the moonlight, wherein God's acre lies,
Go angels walking to and fro, singing their lullabies.
Their radiant wings are folded, and their eyes are bended low,
As they sing among the beds wherein the flowers delight to grow—
Sleep, O sleep!
The Shepherd guardeth His sheep,
Fast speedeth the night away,
Soon cometh the glorious day;
Sleep, weary ones, while ye may—
Sleep, O sleep!

The flowers within God's acre see that fair and wondrous sight,
And hear the angels singing to the sleepers through the night.
And lo! throughout the hours of day those gentle flowers prolong
The music of the angels in that tender slumber song—
Sleep, O sleep!
The Shepherd loveth His sheep;
He that guardeth His flock the best
Hath folded them to His loving breast—
So sleep ye, now, and take your rest
Sleep, O sleep!

From angels and from flowers the years have learned that soothing song,
And with its heavenly music speed the days and nights along,
So through all time, when flight the Shepherd's vigils glorify,
God's acre slumbereth in the grace of that sweet lullaby—
Sleep, O sleep!
The Shepherd loveth His sheep;
Fast speedeth the night away,
Soon cometh the glorious day;
Sleep, weary ones, while ye may—
Sleep, O sleep!"

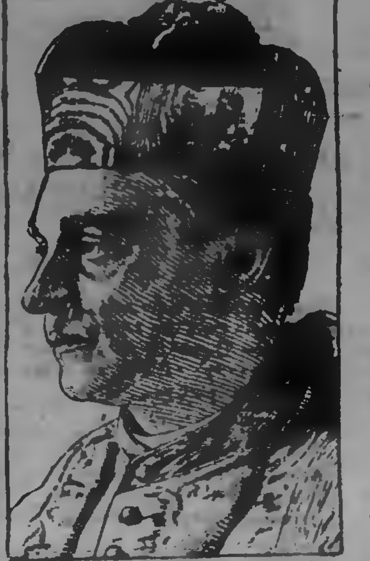
MERRY DEL VAL TO RETIRE.

Anti-Modernist Attitude to Blame It Is Said.

Rome, Sept. 30.—According to the Vanati, Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, is about to retire.

This step is supposed to be an outcome of the representations made to the Vatican by American and English prelates, but particularly Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland, who objected to the secretary's deliverance against modernism.



CARDINAL MERRY DEL VAL,
Who, It Is Rumored, Is to Be Succeeded by Cardinal Rampolla.

Merry del Val probably will be succeeded by Cardinal Rampolla, who had formerly held that office.

Rampolla's return to power will mean a policy of dignified conciliation with regard to France, and an attitude of greater reserve toward Italy.

Merry del Val is well-known in Canada because of his part in the settlement of the remedial bill embroglio.

HUNDREDS DROWNED.

Floods In India Cause Terrific Devastation.

Bombay, Sept. 30.—Thousands of native houses have been washed away and hundreds of lives lost in the Hyderabad and Deccan Districts as a result of floods which followed an unprecedented rainfall. The river rose sixty feet; all the bridges were carried away and the country was devastated for many miles in either direction.

Corpses are strewn everywhere and scores of bodies have been found stranded high in the branches of trees, where they were lodged by the swollen waters. The native hospital at Hyderabad was undermined by the waters and collapsed and all the inmates were buried in the wreckage.

Miss Barrymore's Peril.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 30.—The Diamond Special, southbound, on the Illinois Central Railroad, ran into an open switch at Diveron, 20 miles south of Springfield. The locomotive plunged into a ditch and was demolished. Elizabeth McGuire, 7 years old, was playing in a yard near the tracks, and flying fragments of the demolished locomotive killed her.

Ethel Barrymore was on the train. She could not get out of the coach door and a porter pulled her through a window.

Oldest Mason, a Canadian.

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 30.—Possibly the oldest member of any secret order in the United States died Monday at Lynden. He was the Rev. For 40 years he was a frontier preacher, leaving the Catholic Church at the age of 21 to join the Methodists. He was born in Canada of Scotch and French parentage.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green Celebrating Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage To-day

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green, 326 Water street, are today celebrating their golden wedding. Both are hale and hearty although Mr. Green was eighty-three years old on January 30th last and Mrs. Green eighty-three years of age on May 24th. Notwithstanding her age Mrs. Green is able to read, write, sew, etc., without the use of glasses, and although crippled by an accident through a fall on the sidewalk several years ago, is able to walk up street and do her own shopping, and was also one of the congregation at the re-opening of the George St. Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Green are numbered among Peterborough's oldest residents having lived here continuously since the date of their marriage, on September 30th, 1858.

TO HAVE THIS CITY IN CLASS "A"

measure either directly or indirectly beneficial to the citizens of Peterborough.

I thank you, Mr. President and gentlemen, for your patient hearing; and in conclusion I desire to solicit your co-operation in the matter.

COMMITTEE'S GOOD WORK.

Dr. Morrison said that, personally, he had been much interested in the new fire brigade, and in the work of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. He believed that the committe had done excellent work, especially in the inauguration of a paid fire brigade and the increased efficiency for fighting fires. He then asked for a discussion on the chief's paper.

THE MAYOR'S OPINION.

Mayor Rush said he concurred in what the chief had said about many fires being caused by carelessness in throwing away cigarette and cigar stubs and also of lighted matches. He knew of several fires that had been caused in this way. He believed that the time had been ripe for a change in the fire brigade of Peterborough when the new system was introduced. The volunteer firemen had been good servants of the city, but there comes a time when the influence of certain institutions passes away. The growth and progress of a city makes this the case. The mayor wished the new fire brigade every success.

MR. DUMBLE'S VIEWS

Mr. D. W. Dumble said that he had looked into fire fighting conditions in several American and Canadian cities at one time, and found that from seventy to eighty per cent, of the fires were extinguished by the chemical hose waggon. This being the case, it would pay every municipality to have the proper appliances to fight fires and also competent men to operate them. Mr. Dumble spoke of the danger of paper accumulating in windows and in cellars and he was glad to see that the new chief was taking steps to improve conditions in this respect. Mr. Dumble also referred to the danger from defective electric wiring. There was a large amount of improper wiring going on and the speaker believed that much of this was due to unqualified workmen. There was an inspector of plumbing; there should be an inspector of electric wiring and the people should impress this on the council. Mr. Dumble then took up the matter of poorly built chimneys. Many fires were caused by chimneys that were not constructed properly. There should be caution in this connection and it would be well to have an inspector to see that all chimneys were built properly.

WOODEN FIRE TRAPS

Mr. J. Coyle Brown said there were a large number of good brick buildings in the city with wooden fire-traps in the rear. The council should see that such were prevented.

A REASON PRESENTED.

Mr. Walter Stocker said that much of the defective wiring was due to people jewing down the electricians in price. He knew of two houses that had been wired for the same price as one other house had cost. An electric fire inspector was needed.

GOOD BRIGADE WANTED.

Chief Howard said the fire brigade should be a city's most valuable asset. It might seem that there was to the brigade but outlay, but when the matter was looked into it would be seen that the brigade was a municipality's most valuable asset.

"Make your fire brigade as perfect as it can be made," said the chief, "and get a reduction in the rate of fire insurance, say ten cents a hundred, and you will save $11,000 per year in insurance rates."

Applause greeted this statement.

ALD. NEILL SPEAKS.

Ald. Robt. Neill concurred with what Chief Howard had said in regard to insurance rates. Mr. Robertson, of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, had told the speaker some time ago that Peterborough's rate was very low and would be raised if certain improvements were not made.

Mr. Robert Fair said he had been delighted with the chief's paper, and hoped it would be published in full in the press. He would also recommend that it be printed as a circular and a copy put in every home in the city. He was sure it would be of much good to the community. Mr. Fair said that the brigade should be put in that condition that would entitle the city to a reduction in the fire rates.

Dr. Morrison asked Chief Howard what would have to be done to give the city a reduction in the rates.

The chief replied that it would be necessary to instal a chemical engine which would cost about $3,000, and which, with horses and their equipment, would cost about $5,000. To give the city a first-class rate it would be necessary to have one permanent fireman for every 1,000 of population, or sixteen for the city of Peterborough. The Underwriters required a water pressure of 80 pounds per square inch at the hydrants.

Mr. Henderson said that at the present time there was a water pressure of from 65 to 75 pounds, and it was increased to 100 pounds when an alarm was sent in.

Mr. R. M. Roy said Mr. Dumble's remarks were just to the point. The man who put in electric wires was just as responsible for the fires of people that might be endangered thereby as the engineer on a railway train or steamboat. An engineer could not run an engine on a small boat unless he had his papers. Mr. Roy believed the city had secured the right man in Chief Howard and approved of the change in the fire brigade, although he realized that the old brigade had done good work.

ALD. JOHNSTON'S VIEWS.

Ald. Johnston said he believed that with fire an ounce of prevention was worth a whole bushel of cure. He referred to the great loss that had been incurred from fire at the village of Stirling this summer. The loss was about $100,000. The heavy destruction was largely due to the lack of proper equipment for fighting fires. The people at Stirling were now thoroughly aware of the necessity of having proper fire-fighting appliances.

Ald. Buller said that, while he was in favor of a good brigade, it might not be well to do too many things in one year.

Ald. Phelan concurred with the views of the other speakers and wished the brigade every success.

Plumbing Inspector Thompson and Mr. Dodds were also among the speakers.

Mr. Robert Fair came out in favor of a plebiscite to be taken at the elections in January. There were three classes of citizens, merchants, manufacturers and private citizens. They should all be consulted in a matter of this kind. The Council should call a meeting and find out the views of all classes of citizens.

Mr. Fair asked the Fire Chief if moving into Class "A" would have much effect on property outside the business section?

"Not a great deal," said Mr. Howard. The reduction in the rate will be of the most benefit in the business section.

The two resolutions were then presented to the meeting and carried unanimously.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. GANTHONY

Leading Man in "Tyranny of Tears" Gives Review Interesting Talk

Mr. Ganthony?

You are playing here in "The Tyr. That is my patronymic cognorany of Tears?"

I conclude so from the advertisements, and I feel happy about it, as I have a company wonderfully fitted for their respective roles, and shall give an excellent representation of this charming comedy. Miss Stanmore plays the secretary; Miss Cross, Mrs. Parbury and Mr. Harry E. DeLasaux and Mr. Walter Brooks are clever artists, who know how to give points to the refined satire of a refined comedy like this.

How long do you propose touring "The Tyranny of Tears?"

Until our printing — oh, the worry there is about printing — is ready and our scenery made for "A Brace of Partridges," in which I have in Spiffins, a part suited to my style; and in Mr. DeLasaux, a comedian who will effectively play the brace, as Miss Stanmore will make a sweet and sympathetic Peggy.

After that?

Ah, then we will begin business, with my new Canadian play or another in which I have arranged to star a great Canadian favorite who backed by myself and company, will give a fine performance of a comedy that I believe will please more than "A Brace of Partridges."

That's saying a great deal.

It is, but I say it—and I say it with conviction. Now you must let me off; my success depends on sticking to my business and play producing is exacting work. But I mean to win the confidence of those who like refined farce with a well sustained plot, good acting and genuine humor. I am wanted on the 'phone; good bye.

WHAT ARE THEY THERE FOR?

What are they there for?

Why, but for the offices.

When the Liberal party came into power in 1896, it did so on the strength of its pledges and promises.

It pledged itself among other things to lighten the burden of taxation, which it declared to be grievous, and during its twelve years of office the rate of taxation has increased from $5.46 per head in 1896 to $11.70 per head in 1908.

It pledged itself to reduce the expenditure of the country which it declared to be ruinous, and during its ten years of office the expenditure of the government has been over $23F-000,000 in excess of the expenditure of the Conservative government during their previous ten years of office.

It pledged itself to reduce the public debt, which was viewed with alarm and the public debt has been increased by over $30,000,000; and when the cost of the Government share of construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway is added, the public debt will have been increased by over $130,000,000.

It pledged itself to preserve our millions of acres of fertile lands, thousands of square miles, of valuable timber lands, miles of valuable coal deposits and mineral lands for nothing or at merely nominal prices to political friends and parasites, and seriously reduced our capital.

It pledged itself to reform in the Civil Service, and witness the Departments of the Minister of the Interior, the Minister of Fisheries, and the report of the Civil Service Commission.

It pledged itself to purity in elections and in the conduct of the government, and witness the appointments of Jackson, of Leach, of Preston, and men of like principle to lucrative and honorable positions in the Federal employ.

Never has there been such a government which has so wofully failed to keep faith with the people in the carrying out of its election pledges.

Never has there been a government which has departed so far from the principles advocated by it when it first entered office.

Never in the history of this country has there been a government which comes so openly and dafingly before the people to ask to be retained in office simply because they want the offices.

The practical question to be determined on election day, is this— Is it safe to entrust the affairs of this country for four years more to men who have failed to carry out the solemn pledges on which they obtained power.

What assurance can you have as to will or will not do if you again entrust them with power.

FIREMEN PUT OUT THE FIRE AT GAS WORKS

A fire broke out in the roof of the gas works about 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Now, the roof of the gas works is a very dangerous place for a fire to start, and had it not been for the remarkably quick work of the brigade there might have been a San Francisco on a small scale.

The firemen, however, were on the spot in the quickest possible order and soon had the flames under control.

SPORTING NEWS

SOME MORE CHALLENGES FOR THE PETERBORO HEAVYWEIGHT

Hurtubise is getting in great demand as a wrestler. His manager, Chris Graham, has received a letter from George Kennedy, of Montreal, who is prominent in wrestling circles in Montreal. He was seen here some time ago in a match which he lost to Max Wiley.

Kennedy wants to know how a bout would be between Hurtubise and some celebrated wrestling lights he mentioned.

Among them are Eugene Tremblay lightweight champion of the world, Chas. Westergaard, Young Kackenschmidt, Sinard, the husky French Canadian and others.

The men named are certainly in the top ranks and the distinction Gene has been achieving is becoming quite widespread.

At present the local heavyweight is very busily engaged in getting into trim for his bout with Mohl on Friday night and his manager will consider Kennedy's proposition if his man comes out all right with the German champion.

GERMAN CHAMPION IS ALWAYS IN THE BEST OF CONDITION

It is quite fortunate for Hurtubise that he wasn't in any way injured during his bout with Hassan Abdallah. He has not a bruise on him and is otherwise in the finest of shape for his match with Mohl on Friday night at the Brock Street rink. He will need it all, however, as Mohl is always fit and is a man who wrestles to win. The big German makes it a point to keep in condition all the time and neither smokes nor drinks, besides working out in the Buffalo gymnasium all the time with well known mat men.

A fact that might be noted is that Mohl has never smoked or drank in his life, realizing that these habits are detrimental to his athletic success. It is somewhat peculiar that this also applies to Hurtubise.

BURNS AND DALY WILL MIX IT UP

Main Preliminary Should be an Unusually Good go---Both Men are Clever

When Corney Burns meets Tommy Daly of Brantford, on Friday night, in the main preliminary to the wrestling bout between Hurtubise and Mohl he won't be up against one of those easy marks whom he can show up by slapping him around with open gloves, but he will have to be right on his mettle all four rounds. Daly is a clever boxer and carries a slumberland punch which he often passes over at the most unexpected time.

Both boys will be in fighting trim and a fast mill is anticipated.

SPORTING COMMENT

Mellon, the local basket ball player last year with Detroit, goes to Pittsburg this winter, where he will play pro. ball at $22 per, as a start, and if he makes good he will receive $3 a week.—Hamilton Spectator.

TURF

New York, September 29 — This is the day of the thoroughbred owners' discontent and financial loss. At the Aqueduct track yesterday a six-day race meeting began with poverty purses of $380—a sum so low that after the jockey fees, the trainers' perquisites and the entrance money to the sweepstakes are paid, the owner will scarcely receive enough money to pay for a good supper for four at a first class hotel.

The drop in the value of added money in some races to $380 marks a new era in local turf affairs. It tells plainer than words that the racing magnates, the men who have waxed wealthy on the sport with incomes from the sport rivalling that paid out to stockholders of the Standard Oil Company, are not willing to pay out of their pockets of the dollars they have made in order to keep racing on a high plane until the end of the gradin.

This cut in the value of the sweepstakes is made in the face of the fact that the Queen County Jockey Club that controls the Aqueduct track had a most profitable spring meeting and cleared a large amount.

Cobalt shipped 20 cars of ore last week, totalling 1,190,770 pounds.

TIGERS TO TAKE A TRIP NORTH

Will Play at Orillia and Midland in November

The Tigers, champions of last year's city basketball league, will meet to-night at the Y.M.C.A. at 7.30 o'clock to arrange for the season's program and especially for a trip to be taken at Thanksgiving.

The Tigers will play at Orillia on Saturday night and at Midland on Monday, Thanksgiving night. An enjoyable trip is being looked forward to. All the members of the team are asked to be on hand at 7.30 o'clock to-night.

BASEBALL

New York, Sept. 29.—The tip is out that Frank Bowerman, the ex-Giant, will succeed Joe Kelley as manager of the Boston Nationals. Owner Dovey, of the Boston team, intends to clean house this fall and several players are marked for dismissal.

Kelley and Dovey are not so thick as they were last spring when Joe was hailed as a great manager because he won the pennant at Toronto. Dovey thinks "Kel" has dug up nothing but dead ones, and he particularly blames Joe for letting Bridwell get away.

CONTRACT FOR TWO YEARS.

But Kelley has an iron-bound two-year contract. He can force Dovey to retain him another season or pay him a season's salary at least, but it is rumored Kelley will go back to Toronto and that Bowerman will be put in charge at Boston.

THE RING

New York, Sept. 29.—Since "Jack" Johnston started for Australia to fight a long-promised bout with Tommy Burns, the cracklers who predicted that Burns never would go into the ring with the big negro have maintained an undignified silence, says a local paper. In justice to the white champion they should have made open confession that when they asserted the champion was afraid of the negro they did not know what they were talking about. They should frankly admit they had an entirely wrong estimate of the Canadian, and that when he said he would fight Johnston in his own good time he meant exactly what he said.

When Burns refused the $12,500 purse offered in England for a bout with Johnston, the enemies of the champion laughed boisterously and said that was exactly what they expected. And when Burns, still in quest of gold, hiked to Australia, it was declared that he had run away again from his black Nemesis. Burns' speedy victories over Bill Squires and Lang, and the accumulation of much more currency, brought forth derisive laughter from the incredulous Johnson boomers, and it was intimated that Burns would make a tour of all the foreign countries, fighting the alleged champion of each, and postponing the promised bout with Johnson till such time as the black fellow had become an inmate of the Home for Aged Zulus.

But just at that interesting period Burns scraped up in Australia exactly the sort of purse he wanted and sent for Johnston to sail. While the details of the match are not yet at hand, the chances are that Burns will win or draw in a twenty-round bout. If it is a longer bout, Burns doubtless will outgame the negro and win by a knockout. In any event, Burns has shown that he is not afraid of the negro and also that when he says he wants a purse of a certain size he will have it, even if he has to go to Australia for it.

Meantime in the absence of Johnson and Burns from Europe, Sam McVey, a negro who has convinced Parisians that he is the greatest fighter on earth, and who has given his admirers to understand that he has mowed down Jeffries, Fitzsimmons and a few others of that caliber has made formal claim to the title of heavyweight champion of Europe. McVey recently got some foreign lobster into the ring with him, advertised the bout as being for the championship of Europe, and won in a punch. McVey probably will pull in his horns when a real good scrapper comes along and plead illness.

CHARLIE CONKLE AND TREMBLAY

Charlie Conkle, the Hamilton, Ont., wrestler, who has made a name for himself in the welterweight class, will be Tremblay's opponent at Sohmer Park next Friday night.

Conkle defeated Tremblay at Kansas City last season, but the French-Canadian wrestler, who will have to give Conkle over ten pounds this time, feels confident that he can turn the tables on the Ontario boy and beat him out.

The match will be catch-as-catch-can style, the best two falls out of three with only the strangle hold barred.

Conkle is one of the best in his class, but Tremblay is not content with lightweight honors, and is now after the welterweight championship and his contest with Conkle will prove whether or not he is of the calibre to add another championship to that of the lightweight title.—Montreal Star.

LONGBOAT IS TOLD TO QUIT RUNNING

The career of Tom Longboat as a Marathon runner is about at an end. Dr. Wilson informed him yesterday that he must stop running long distances owing to an affection of the heart. It has therefore been decided that this fall shall see the end of the Marathon career of the greatest distance runner who ever appeared before the public. Longboat will run in the Ward, Hamilton Herald and Montreal Star Marathons, which latter will be his last. The trouble from which he is suffering is the outcome of his numerous races over great distances of ground. Dr. Wilson contends that two or three long races are all that a man should undertake, whereas Longboat has run in and won about fifteen.

It will not be necessary for the Indian to forsake the cinder path altogether and he will continue to run three and five mile races if his condition grows no worse. His physician says that he will enjoy a full measure of health if he takes care of himself and runs no more long races, his affection not being at all serious in its present stage. Tom wants to win the three Marathons this fall as a fitting close to his campaign in long races. At a meeting of the Irish-Canadian Athletic Club it was decided to see that the great runner is not neglected when he quits racing.

Longboat will pay a personal call on Controller Ward to try and have the latter adhere to the course over which the Ward Marathon was run last year. The first race was a distance of 15 miles, the second 18 miles and 750 yards, and this year Mr. Ward wants to make it twenty miles. Longboat wants to set a new record for the eighteen and one-half mile course.

DIFFERENCE IN YIELD OF MILK

Some Information Gathered by Dominion Department of Agriculture

In one British Columbia Cow Testing Association last month the average yield of one herd of 10 cows was 1143 lb. milk, 39.2 lb fat each.

Another herd of eight cows gave an average of only 569 lb. milk, 20.5 lb fat, or only a fraction over half as much.

The highest individual yield from any single cow was 1580 lb milk, testing 3.4; the lowest yield was 209 lb. milk, testing 5.2

One herd of 27 cows had an average production of 1034 lb milk each, testing 3.3. The lowest yield in the herd was 465 lb milk, testing 3.5.

In thirteen out of nineteen herds were several individual cows giving from 1000 to 1500 lb. milk, each in the month.

Several cows gave less than 400 lb milk each.

The general average production of all the 260 cows recorded in this association was 812 lb. milk, 3.5 test, 29.7 lb. fat.

This last statement it will be observed, completely obscures the individual extremes noted above.

Although a good average and one full of encouragement to dairymen, it is manifestly only valuable in so far as it is typical of general results in nineteen herds.

The shrewd dairyman goes much further; he inquires into and ascertains the ability and performances of each individual cow in the herd for the whole year, then he uses the information gained, and retains in the stable only such cows as attains an economical and profitable standard of production.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

But Find the Way to Digest What You Do Eat.

The first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, then the food digests readily and you begin to get the full benefit from what you eat.

Use Mi-o-na whenever you have sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

W. Madill, druggist, corner of Hunter and George streets, Peterborough gives with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-na a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

WEDDING BELLS

NIBLETT—LUSH

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. N. Lush, 399 Aylmer street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when his daughter, Miss Florence, was united in marriage to Mr. James Gordon Niblett, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Charlotte street Methodist church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of raw silk trimmed with blue. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was assisted by Miss F. Smith, of this city, who wore a dress of pale blue and carried pink carnations. The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. Wm. Niblett, of Toronto. After the ceremony had been performed and hearty congratulations bestowed upon the bride and groom, a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Niblett will reside at 645 Aylmer street.

THE HOOK

Although the fog has cleared away the jokes in the "Fixing of the Hammer" are still somewhat obscure.

"Do you believe that love makes the world go round?" queried the sentimental maid in the big touring car.

"I don't know about that," replied the practical young man at the steering wheel, "but it is gasoline that makes the wheels go round on a grade like this."

And realizing that it was a hopeless case the maid closed her face and proceeded to get interested in the scenery.

The fog and the Grits' hopes of victory disappeared about the same time.

TEMPERANCE MORAL REFORM LEAGUE OF PETERBOROUGH HAS PLANNED BUSY YEAR

The Temperance Moral Reform League of Peterborough is preparing to carry on a vigorous campaign in connection with the cause of temperance. This active and highly useful organisation has planned a busy season, and a number of important and interesting meetings will be held under its auspices.

Arrangements have been made to hold a meeting on Friday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. parlors. A full attendance is requested of all those interested in the forward movement along temperance lines. Dr. Kettlewell, field secretary of the Dominion Alliance, will meet with the workers and discuss temperance with them.

The first of a series of public meetings to be held during the winter will take place on Tuesday, Oct. 13th. Dr. H. S. McGill, of Toronto, Field Secretary of the Moral and Social Reform Board of the Methodist Church, will be the speaker.

A meeting in November will be addressed by Dr. Helen MacMurchy, of Bloor street, Toronto, who has an appointment under the Ontario Government for the care of the feeble minded. Dr. MacMurchy will speak on "The Cause and Care of the Feeble Minded." These meetings will be of general interest, and as they are open to the public, no doubt a wide interest will be taken in them. The date of the November meeting will be made known later.

BIG REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF TRUANCY CASES HERE

There is a gratifying improvement in the city regarding the attendance at the schools. Truancy is on the decrease so much so that Truant Officer Cochrane is not so busy in this connection as was formerly the case.

Mr. Cochrane informed the Review today that there are very few truants now and few complaints from the schools about pupils being absent.

There are very few boys and girls of school age walking the streets during school hours.

Mr. Cochrane found two boys on the street a few days ago and took them in hand to find out why they were not at school. It turned out that their names were not on the rolls at any of the schools and the necessary steps were taken to have them sent to school.

Before Mr. Cochrane was appointed truant officer pupils were playing "hookey" every day.

HERE IS A POSER FOR THE HON. MR. STRATTON

A Correspondent Endorses Making the Personal Character of the Liberal Candidate a Direct Issue.

To the Editor of The Review.

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that so many of our young men will cast their first Dominion election vote on October 26th, it does seem to the writer that the time has come for some plain speaking in regard to the so-called "personal element" that has entered into the campaign. The Liberal candidate and his friends, if they are correctly reported in the Examiner, take the ground that the whole matter is outside of politics and should not enter into election discussions at all. Mr. McFarlane is quoted as saying on Saturday night in Mr. Stratton's committee rooms: "The whole transaction was a perfectly legitimate business transaction; the money was Mr. Stratton's own, and he had a perfect right to do what he chose with it." But what about Mr. Stratton's examination before the Commission? Was he under oath or was he not? If he was under oath, why do his statements conflict with each other? If "truth" means an exact adherence to facts as they really exist—and I fancy that even Mr. Stratton can find no fault with such a definition of truth—and the facts are as stated by Mr. Stratton, and immediately following on the street, and in the committee rooms, then why, in the name of common sense, did he not state these facts at his first examination? If the money was his own and the transaction perfectly legitimate, only an insane man would meet his examination in the way it was met by Mr. Stratton. If there was nothing to cover up, why not state the plain facts and be done with it? The most serious accusation made by Mr. Burnham against Mr. Stratton at the Opera House, was that he made some five different statements under oath about the same transaction. This charge made by Mr. Burnham seems to be completely ignored by Mr. Stratton and his followers as though it were a very small matter indeed, and should not enter into the politics of the campaign now on in this constituency. Mr. Gillespie, in speaking of Mr. Stratton on Saturday night, said, "his word was as good as another man's bond." How could he truthfully make such a statement in face of the finding of the Commission and the unrefuted charge made publicly only the night before in the Opera House to hundreds of people? I am not Mr. Burnham's advocate, nor am I accusing Mr. Stratton. If Mr. Burnham's charges are false, Mr. Stratton owes it to himself and the people whom he is seeking election from, to refute them by the weapon of the law; if they are true, then, dare any man say that this is a personal matter and has no place in politics? If the ballot box is to be divorced from the Ten Commandments, then God help this young country. If Mr. Burnham's charges are true, then he is quite within his right in making the personal character of the Liberal candidate a direct issue. It requires some courage to do this, and in doing it he may lose the support even of some of his friends, but what of that.

"While timid sailors reef and tack
And hug the sheltering lee,
The boats that bring a wide world back
Put bravely out to sea."

Now, Mr. Editor, I would sign my name to this letter if I thought by doing so it would be more effective, but this, in my judgment, would not be best.

OBSERVER

THROWN FROM THE STEPS OF MOVING CAR LAST NIGHT AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

While stepping off a south bound George street car last night, about 10.30 o'clock Mr. W. A. Edwards, Dalhousie St., proprietor of the Crystal, met with a most painful and somewhat serious accident. He was going home at the time and, although he did not ring the bell for the car to stop, at the Dalhousie street crossing, he expected that it would be stopped and, consequently stepped off. At the time the car was going at full speed and Mr. Edwards was hurled violently to the ground. His head was badly cut, and as his right hand plowed over the hard clay, it was gashed to the bone. The shock was a severe one, and the victim of the accident suffered from internal injuries of a distressing character.

He was rendered unconscious by the fall the wounds bleeding freely. Some persons nearby at the time, assisted him to his home which is only about one hundred yards from the scene of the accident. His injuries were attended to by Dr. King. Mr. Edwards attaches no blame to the conductor or motorman of the car for its failure to stop.

It is somewhat peculiar that no later than yesterday afternoon Mr. Edwards took out an accident policy for $2,000.

PRESBYTERY OF PETERBORO IN SESSION YESTERDAY

Resignation of Rev. H. Peckover, Omemee, Accepted—Rev. Dr. Pidgeon of Toronto, in Attendance—Rev. R. Pogue Appointed Interim Moderator.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met at Campbellford yesterday, and had a most interesting gathering. Rev. H. E. Abraham, Moderator, occupied the chair. Rev. Messrs. Wm. Johnston, Millbrook; D. A. McKenzie, Centreville; H. E. Abraham, Port Hope; W. H. Brokenshire, Port Hope; James Skene, Baltimore; Jas. G. Potter, H. J. Keith, Peterborough; Dr. Marsh, Springville; E. S. Burns, Lakefield; Horace Peckover, Omemee; G. A. McLennan, Norwood; D. D. McDonald, Keene; A. C. Reeves, Campbellford; G. A. Gouin, Pontypool; J. E. Smith, Seymour; Jacob Steele Campbellford; D. A. Thompson, Hastings.

The elders present were;—J. F. Clark, Port Hope; Rev. A. McNaughton and D. Laurie, Port Hope; Bruce Miller, Knoxville; R. Campbell, Roseneath; Wm. Madill, Robert Hamson, Peterborough; John McIntosh, Springville; Jonathan Smith, Peterborough; A. Bennett, Omemee.

The Rev. George C. Pigeon, D.D., of Toronto Junction, convenor of the General Assembly's Committee on Moral and Social Reform, was also present and took an interesting part in the discussion of important questions.

The congregations of Roseneath and Bethesda will be placed under the charge of Rev. Wm. Beattie, of [illegible], as interim moderator, until [illegible] secure a settled pastor.

[illegible] resignation of the Rev. Horace [illegible]over as pastor of Omemee, Lake[illegible] and Mount Pleasant, was accepted, to take effect after October 11th. The Rev. Robert Pogue, of St. Paul's, Peterborough, was appointed interim moderator, and the pulpit will be declared vacant Oct. 18th.

The Home Mission Committee reported regarding the congregations under its care, and from the reports of the visitors to the different mission circuits throughout the Presbytery excellent work had been done by Mr. F. D. Robinson at Marmora and Cordova, Mr. A. McKenzie at Apsley and Clydesdale, and Mr. Duncan at Harvey. These students were certified to their various colleges.

At three o'clock a public conference was held, when addresses were given on special phases of work adopted by the General Assembly, held in Winnipeg in June last.

The Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough, referred to the work of the committee on church life and work as showing most gratifying results throughout the Dominion. All along the line ministers and workers were standing for a righteousness that exalted a nation.

The work of the board on social and moral reform was emphatically commended, and the scope of its influence outlined. Mr. Potter referred particularly to the splendid work being done in the foreign mission field of the church. The Presbyterian Church in Canada, eastern and western sections, are at work in New Hebrides, North Formosa, Central India, Honan, China, Macao, China, Shanghai, China. Among the Indians and Chinese of the Dominion, and among the Jews of Toronto. The agencies that seemed destined to move the church of the future to larger missionary enterprise are the Young People's missionary movement and the laymen's movement.

The Rev. H. J. Keith followed with a very interesting address on church union. Mr. Keith held that while there did not seem to be as much enthusiasm over organic union as existed a few years ago, such influences as the Young People's and Laymen's missionary movements were in reality forcing the hands of the churches towards practical union. He urged co-operation in the home and foreign mission work.

Mr. J. F. Clarke, of Port Hope, gave an exceedingly useful address on the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund. Mr. Clarke is evidently alive to this important department of the church's work, and in view of the importance of Mr. Clarke's presentation, the Presbytery decided that the address be published in all the church papers.

REV. ROBT. POGUE

Pastor of St. Paul's, Interim Moderator of Presbytery of Peterborough.

Dr. Pigeon then gave a racy speech on the work of the Moral and Social Reform Board. He said that while the work of ministers was to sow the seed of the kingdom, they had as wise men to see that the conditions for growth were also favorable, and in this his committee had already done a great deal of good work. Their great policy was to get all the churches to unite on a strong policy in which they were all agreed, and it was most encouraging to note that a large number in all the churches of the Dominion who were willing to stand together in the suppression of vice and public wrong.

On resuming business again the Presbytery in view of the increased work of the clerk of the Presbytery, the Rev. D. A. Thompson, decided to increase his salary from $100 to $120 per annum, and to install in the manse at Hastings a telephone.

Dr. Pigeon appeared before the Presbytery to urge definite interest in the objects of the Laymen's Missionary movement. He stated as a matter of great moment, the fact that the world was organized as never before for evangelization. The representatives of all the Protestant churches had met and arranged a system that should prevent overlapping, and at the same time give as a special charge some section of the heathen world. To the Presbyterian Church in Canada had been given the care of 12,000,000 souls. All that this would mean to our people throughout the church would be 25 cents per family a week, or 10 cents per communicant. The Presbytery of Peterborough might look upon its share of the amount required as $81,000.

REV. H. J. KEITH

Who Spoke at Presbytery Meeting Yesterday—His Topic Was "Church Union".

All the members were deeply interested in the address, and in a resolution of thanks to the speaker. It was decided to aim at the sum suggested. The matter was given into the hands of a committee, of which Dr. Marsh, of Springville, is the convenor.

The Presbytery then adjourned to meet in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on Tuesday, December 15th at 9 a.m.

WEDDING BELLS

ALLISON—VANSTONE

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday, September 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Jas. Vanstone, Wellington [illegible] when her daughter, Gertrude, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. R. Allison, of the Listowel-Linwood branch of the C.P.R., formerly of Peterborough. Rev. Mr. Price of the Baptist church tied the knot in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The bride looked very pretty in a navy blue travelling suit and cream taffeta silk waist with over-lace. The numerous presents attested the bride's popularity. The groom's gift is a handsome Morris piano. The Standard joins in congratulations and good wishes to the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Allison will reside in Listowel. —Listowel Standard.

McMILNE—JOHNSTON

A pretty house wedding was solemnized at the residence of Dr. T. Johnston, V.S., corner of Brown St. and Monaghan road this afternoon at two o'clock when his eldest daughter, Miss Effa M. Johnston was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert McMilne, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major, of All Saints' church in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away, entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Addie Dixon, cousin of the groom. The bride and groom were unattended. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of navy blue broad cloth, with hat to match.

After the ceremony had been performed and hearty congratulations had been bestowed upon the young couple, a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of.

A large number of beautiful and costly presents were received, testifying to the high esteem in which the bride and groom were held.

Mr. and Mrs. McMilne left on the 4.38 train for Toronto and Buffalo, and on their return to the city, will reside on Rogers St., Ashburnham.

LONDERVILLE—HUBBLE

This morning at ten o'clock a quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Jas. Anderson, 170 Perry street, Mrs. May Hubble, of Round Lake, Ont., and Mr. John Londerville, of Peterborough, being the contracting parties. Rev. E. A. Pearson, of the George street Methodist church, was the officiating clergyman. Miss Laura Manley was bridesmaid, and Mr. Corney Burns acted as the best man.

The bridal couple left on a short honeymoon trip, and on their return will take up their residence in Peterborough.

On October 28 the Synod for the Diocese of Montreal will meet to select a successor to the late Bishop Carmichael.

NAVIGATION WAS SUSPENDED IN GULF OF ST. LAWRENCE

Vessels Had to Anchor on Account of Fog and Smoke—Rev. Canon Davidson Arrived Home Last Evening—Welcomed by Wardens and Other Officials of the Church.

After four months and a half in England, Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church returned to the city last evening. He was met at the station by the wardens and some of the members of his congregation. The flag on the church was raised in honor of the much esteemed rector's return.

To the Review this morning, Rev. Canon Davidson gave a short interview but it is expected that tonight at a congregational reception he will give an address on some features of his visit in the Old Land.

He sailed from Liverpool on the steamship Kensington on the 17th of September. They had a fairly good passage save for several detentions on account of the thick fog and smoke that hung over the St. Lawrence gulf and river like a pall. Navigation had almost to be suspended. The Kensington was anchored for forty hours and all around them were other ships lying, unable to make any progress. On the arrival of the vessel at Quebec, on Monday, Canon Davidson took the train for home, reaching here on the 4.38 train yesterday evening.

During Canon Davidson's long absence in England, where he went as a delegate to the Pan Anglican Congress in London, he has had a number of interesting and remarkable experiences. After the close of the conference, Canon Davidson travelled in different parts of England. On the return voyage he was appointed ship chaplain, holding services on the two Sundays on board. His duty was also to advise the immigrants on their future life and work in Canada.

Canon Davidson also had a sad duty to perform on board ship. He officiated at the burial of a little baby of one of the foreign immigrants.

Among the cabin passengers were a number of University professors returning to Canada.

SPEND IT ON THE FARMERS SAYS CONSERVATIVE LEADER

Declares That it is Government's Duty to Make Conditions Better for Agricultural Classes—Government Has Been Flagrantly Extravagant.

St. Mary's, Ont., Oct. 1.—Into the home of J. H. McIntyre, South Perth's representative in the last Parliament, came R. L. Borden and his platform colleagues yesterday.

The meeting was held in the opera house, which was full to the doors at 7.30, and overflowing at 8 o'clock, when the Conservative chieftain arrived. Mayor Willard was chairman.

Dr. Steele, the Conservative candidate, condemned the extravagance of the Government, pointing to an expenditure of $644,000 in the riding of Bonaventure, as a sample. The $47,000 postoffice in St. Mary's was also an example of money improperly spent.

The Conservative leader received a warm reception.

Mr. Borden discoursed on the duty of true Canadians to maintain the principles of honest government. There would be differences of opinion as to the tariff or public ownership, but on the question of morality in public life, honest and capable administration, there could be no two opinions.

The Government had wantonly, unblushingly and audaciously misspent the money of the people of Canada and outraged public decency.

It was no answer to the people of Canada to say that the Opposition were muck-rakers. Describing his own efforts to have the Marine Department investigated and Sir Wilfrid's characterization of his allegations as "froth and wild talk." Mr. Borden exclaimed "that is the man who is the guardian of the public honor of Canada and of the public treasury as well."

"We believe that the resources of this country could be used for no better purpose than to make the conditions of living and production more favorable to the farmer of this country," said Mr. Borden.

The tendency, he said, was towards the city. This could be overcome and Mr. Borden looked forward to the day when the home of every farmer would be attended by all the comforts and conveniences of modern civilization.

Col. Hugh Clark said if the Whitney Government had adopted the Laurier system in disposing of Cobalt Lake it would have received only $11,000, instead of $1,085,000.

People who condemned the Whitney Government for raising the salaries of the school teachers had not a word to say about the Turriffs, the Burrows and the Frasers and others of that class.

Hon. Mr. Hanna declared there was not much in the Liberal platform of 1893 about which fault could be found. But there was not a plank that had not been broken, and, in addition, he might say the Liberal Government had broken every one of the ten commandments.

PESTILENCE AFTER FLOOD INDIA'S PERIL OF PLAGUE

Hyderabad, India, Oct. 1.—It is feared that pestilence will follow the floods that have occurred in the Hyderabad and Deccan districts as a result of the unprecedented rainfall of the past few weeks.

The waters subsided Tuesday and the country is strewn with unburied bodies estimated to number not less than 1,000.

Most of the corpses are those of women and children. They are decomposing already, and as it will be impossible to get them under ground promptly an outbreak of illness is feared.

Many elephants are at present employed in removing the dead.

Later reports from the flooded districts point to a much heavier mortality than was at first supposed.

The rescuers up to the present time have only touched the edge of the desolated area, but from the numbers of bodies already found it is feared that the fatalities will total several thousand.

One report places the death list at 10,000. The Village of Ghouligooda, which consisted of one thousand houses on the bank of the River Musi, has been entirely engulfed in the mud.

The catastrophe that overwhelmed Hyderabad, the capital of the Nizam's dominions, was one of the most sudden and most appalling of many visitations on India.

In the Nizam's dominions are many tanks or lakes, the largest of which communicates with the River Musi. Tremendous rains caused the lake to river, which in turn burst its banks. overflow into the river, which in turn burst its banks.
swept down upon the city, carrying everything before it, and completely devastating several quarters of the city. The flood actually wiped out a district a mile long and half a mile wide.

BIG GUNS AT CORNWALL PREMIER WELCOMED THERE

Cornwall, Oct. 1.—The Liberals of the county opened their campaign here last night with heavy artillery.

The speakers were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. G. P. Graham, Hon. Chas. Murphy, Col. R. Smith, the Liberal candidate in Stormont; John A. McMillan, ex-M.P.P., the Liberal standard bearer in Glengarry, and W. J. McCarthy. The latter acted as chairman.

The first two speakers were Col. R. Smith and J. A. McMillan.

Then came Mr. Murphy, the new Secretary of State, who said that Col. Smith's greatest claim on them was the record of the Liberal Government. He made light of the charges of scandal against the Government and ridiculed the Conservatives for talking of purity in elections.

Sir Wilfrid, who is a personal favorite in Cornwall, was introduced through the medium of an address from the Stormont Liberal Association.

Referring to Mr. Foster's charge of extravagance, he claimed that while Mr. Foster had a succession of deficits, his Government had one surplus after another, the last amounting to $19,000,000. He regretted that the financial depression in neighboring countries had prevented him from having his way in the matter of deepening the Welland Canal.

He expressed his appreciation of Hon. G. P. Graham and Mr. Murphy, the youngest member of his Cabinet, and took unto himself considerable credit for selecting good men, among them being the late Mr. Blair, the late Mr. Tarte and Mr. Fielding. He concluded with a few remarks in French.

Hon. Mr. Graham pointed to the quick work in fixing the break of the Cornwall Canal as an evidence of the business-like administration of the present Government.

TAGGART DID NOT PRACTICE MEDICINE UNLAWFULLY

Case of Charles Rose Against A. A. Taggart Dismissed in Police Court To-day—Magistrate Dumble's Judgment.

The case of Charles Rose acting on behalf of the Medical Council against A. A. Taggart, of this city, charging the defendant with practicing medicine between April 1st and Aug. 26th, 1908, for hire, gain or hope of reward, without being registered as a medical practitioner, was dismissed by Magistrate Dumble, at the Police Court this morning. The informant has to pay the costs, which amounted to five dollars and sixty-five cents.

His Worship's judgment is as follows:

This charge is laid by Charles Rose, a man in the employment of the Medical Council, charging the defendant with practicing medicine between April 1st, 1908, and 26th Aug., 1908, for hire, gain or hope of reward, without being registered as a medical practitioner.

The particulars allege practicing on "one Bolton Cunningham, of Peterborough, and others, to wit, one Edward Walton."

There was evidence that Taggart once gave Cunningham from his pocket a headache tablet, when Cunningham told him his head ached. No charge was made and nothing was paid.

This under the authorities was not practicing medicine for hire, gain or hope of reward.

The charge then fails as to Cunningham. There are authorities establishing that when the information charges practicing on a person named and others, and the proof fails as to the named person the charge drops. I think it very doubtful if this charge could be supported by proof of practicing on Edwin Walton.

There was evidence that Taggart gave Edwin Walton a bottle of pellets out of his own pocket on the street when Walton complained that he had a pain in his stomach and wanted something to help him; and the defendant, when put in the box by the prosecution, stated he gave medicine to Cunningham's wife and daughter and charged for it, but he could not fix the date.

There is no evidence that the medicine was given to Walton or to Cunningham's wife and daughter within the dates alleged in the information or within one year of the date of the information as required by the act to create liability under the act, under which the information is laid.

I must therefore dismiss this charge with costs to be paid by the informant.

October 1st, 1908.

AN AWFUL TRAGEDY NEAR STRATFORD

Mrs. William Peak, Living Near Stratford, is Assaulted and Killed by Black Tramp Who Had Been Loitering in Vicinity.

Stratford, Oct. 1.—A terrible tragedy occurred yesterday afternoon at the rural home of William Peak, a farmer living on lot 11, con. 1, Downie, about two miles from this city.

While the husband and two sons were absent from the house a tramp negro named Frank Roghmond entered the house and, it is believed, outraged Mrs. Peak, the woman being found about four o'clock lying dead on the cellar floor.

Roghmond was also lying asleep in the cellar, his hands, face and clothing spotted with blood, while blood covered the face of the victim. Marks would indicate that the woman had been choked and that a hemorrhage resulted.

The tragedy happened between noon and four o'clock. Mr. Peak and the boys, George and John, had gone to work. About four o'clock John returned to the house to get a jug of cider, and arriving at the cellar he saw the form of the sleeping negro. Rushing to the field he informed his brother that a negro was asleep in the cellar. Both returned to the house, when the horrible discovery was made that their mother was lying dead with a portion of her face covered with blood.

George hurried across the road to a neighbor's, Robert McIntosh, saying "Hurry over, Bob, I believe mother is dead." Other nearby neighbors were soon on the scene, while John Peak was despatched to Stratford for Chief McCarthy.

Before the chief arrived, however, the negro awakened and tried to escape from the house. He was pounced upon by the brawny and incensed farmers, while Robert Fuller placed the noose of a heavy rope over his body, pinioning his arms to his side.

Roghmond told a very unlikely story to the effect that he had been carried to the cellar by three men and robbed of $15.

Roghmond is about 33 years old. He was found loitering around Stratford Tuesday night and jailed by the police and arraigned yesteray morning on a charge of vagrancy. He was given a couple of hours to get out of town, but before he left he purloined a coat belonging to one of the police officers, which he wore when caught. The farmers who gathered at the Peak household were infuriated, and there were murmurs of lynching.

Mrs. Peak was 60 years of age.

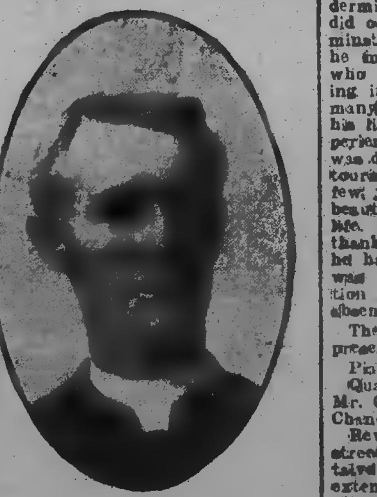
CONGREGATION'S HEARTY WELCOME TO THEIR RECTOR

Enjoyable Function at St. John's Church Last Evening in Honor of Rev. Canon Davidson's Return From the Old Country—Remarks of the Reverend Gentleman—An Excellent Programme.

The Sunday school of St. John's church was well filled last evening on the occasion of the reception to Rev. Canon Davidson, who, Tuesday evening returned from a four months' and a half visit to the old land. Canon Davidson's remarks proved very interesting and an excellent musical programme was given. Altogether the evening was a most enjoyable one and will be long remembered in the history of the congregation.

Mr. Mills, the Rector's Warden, occupied the chair, and in a few well-chosen remarks, called upon Dr. Boucher to extend the welcome of the congregation to the Rector.

Dr. Boucher, upon behalf of St. John's congregation, extended a hearty welcome to Rev. Canon Davidson. He hoped that the Rector had had a pleasant time. He added that if he felt as well as he looked he would be physically much improved. He was glad that Canon Davidson had had the honor of attending the Pan-Anglican Congress.



REV. CANON DAVIDSON.

Rev. Canon Davidson was warmly welcomed when he arose to speak. He said he greatly appreciated the welcome home and the reception he had received. It would be an inspiration for him in his future work. He was glad to see so many present and he was glad that so many had welcomed him back to the city. He stated that he would not touch upon the Pan-Anglican Congress at this time, as it was too great a subject and he would take it up later. It was the greatest religious gathering ever attempted in the world. In preparing for the Conference the committee sent out requests for those in England, who wished to entertain the visiting delegates to send in their addresses, and it was in this way that all were so well looked after. In addition to this over 4,000 invitations were received from different parts of the country for the clergymen of other countries to visit at their homes.

At Weston-Super-Mare, a watering place in the West of England, where Canon Davidson spent some days, the whole town was decorated in honor of the Canadian bowlers.

Through the kindness of Rev. T. D. Pierce, brother of Miss Pierce, Superintendent of the Barnardo Home, in this city, Rev. Canon Davidson was presented to the Princess of Wales at the Royal reception at Marlborough House. There were over six thousand guests at the garden party. Their Royal Highnesses, the King and Queen, graced the occasion, with their presence.

Wherever he visited he placed Peterborough before the people and discouraged undesirable immigration to Canada.

Lieut. Col. Miller and Col. Stevenson of the 57th Regiment were present at the reception to their Chaplain, Canon Davidson, last evening.

There were only 1,200 clergymen from other countries, and consequently many invitations could not be accepted. The speaker, however, was able to remain in England for some time, and he gave a brief review of the many places he had the pleasure of visiting. He also spoke of the several palacial homes where he had been entertained, and one of the greatest pleasures of his trip was the Sunday he spent in Kidderminster. He was requested and did occupy the pulpit in the Kidderminster church. After the service he met many people in the vestry who had friends and relatives living in Peterborough. He also met many at their homes later. In all his life he had not had such an experience as his trip to England. It was different to that of the ordinary tourist. He saw England as very few visitors see it. The glory and beauty of England lies in its home life. In closing he expressed his thanks again for the warm reception he had received, and stated that he was indeed glad that the congregation got along so well during his absence.

The following programme was then presented;—

Piano Duet—Misses Gladman.

Quartette—Tell her I love her.—Mr. Greenhalgh, Mrs. Devey, Mr. Chandler, Mrs. Seward.

Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of Murray street Baptist church, and representative of the Ministerial Association, extended upon behalf of the Association, a hearty welcome.

Piano Solo—Miss Gladys Seward.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Chandler, with flute and piano accompaniment.

Rev. Mr. Frewer, father of Capt. Frewer and his brother, sent a beautiful flag by Rev. Canon Davidson, to be presented by the boys to St. John's church, Peterborough. The flag was unfurled by the church wardens and was admired by all present.

A vote of thanks was moved by Wardens Mitchell and Mills to Rev. Mr. Frewer for his handsome gift.

EXPERTS DO NOT AGREE AT CREIGHTON MURDER TRIAL

As to James Creighton's Responsibility—Evidence is all in—Dr. Beemer Says Prisoner is Quite Crazed But Dr. Bruce Smith and Others Maintain He Was Aware of What He Was Doing.

Owen Sound, Oct. 1.—The evidence for the crown at the Creighton murder trial yesterday led up to practically no new developments other than were given at the coroner's inquest and the preliminary hearing before the magistrate.

The empanelling of the jury occupied a much shorter time than was anticipated. For the crown only three were challenged, while for the defence 13 were rejected.

Several witnesses called for both sides gave evidence regarding the incidents leading up to and surrounding the crime and tending to show the prisoner's state of mind. Those called for the defence testified that he had frequently threatened suicide.

Dr. Beemer, medical superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane at Mimico, had found the prisoner insane, suffering from a morbid melancholy and narrated incidents which occurred while the prisoner was under observation and hallucinations, with which the prisoner was possessed. He did not think that the prisoner knew what he was doing when he committed the crime.

Cross-questioned by Justice Riddell, he admitted that Creighton had known that he was doing wrong.

Dr. McWilliams of Dundalk, Dr. Jamieson, M.P.P., of Durham, and Dr. Cotton of Toronto stated that they thought that the prisoner had been overcome by an irresistable impulse, and was not aware of what he was doing.

As additional evidence for the crown, Isaac Dixon, milkman, stated that he called at the house at 5.15 on the morning of the tragedy and saw accused in the backyard and there were no marks of blood about him. The prisoner spoke to him quite rational.

The crown called Drs. Allan Cameron, T. H. Middlebro, H. D. Comper of Owen Sound, and Dr. Charles Clark, superintendent of the Toronto Asylum, and Dr. J. Bruce Smith, inspector of asylums and prisons. The evidence of the Owen Sound medical men was that the prisoner was quite rational, while the Toronto experts both claimed that they had not the slightest doubt in their minds, but that the prisoner was perfectly aware of what he was doing when he killed his three victims.

Rigid cross-examination by A. G. Mackay, K.C., failed to shake this contention, and this concluded the evidence. The jury were then locked up for the night, and to-day counsel are delivering their addresses.

The intense interest in the trial was manifested by the hundreds who wished to gain admittance to the court room.

ALL RECORDS FOR ATTENDANCE BROKEN AT LAKEFIELD FAIR

Receipts Yesterday Were Largest in History of the Society—Display in all Departments Highly Creditable—Races Were Interesting.

With favorable weather, and no other attraction to interfere the Lakefield fall fair held on Wednesday, September 30th, was a splendid success and the attendance reached a figure that established a record for the exhibition.

Almost 1000 entries in all classes, made up an exhibit of great diversity, and there was a uniform good quality noticeable in all departments. In the main building all space was filled, the centre of attraction being the ladies work which occupied all of one side. Fruit and flowers made the center tables attractive, and vegetables roots and grain filled all other available space.

Horses, in all classes were the banner entry, every section being well filled with such strong candidates for the honors, that competition was close and the rivalry keen though friendly. The entry in teams both heavy and light was large, and the judges had a hard task in placing the awards. A big field of single roadsters, as usual, made the Lakefield fair the scene of the annual meet, and in the lot there was not a horse that anyone need be ashamed to drive, though of course all could not receive the coveted ribbons. Mr. J. Storey's fine driver, which won first place a few days ago at Peterborough, could only get second prize at Lakefield, the first honors going to a handsome brown driven by another Mr. Storey.

Several classes of cattle were represented, but no large herds were present.

In sheep the entry was good, all the accommodations that were provided being required to hold them.

Not much inducement was held out to the hog breeders by the prizes offered, and only a few of medium quality were present.

A good display of fowl, completed the live stock, and proved a centre of attraction to many.

THE RACES

The horse races were one of the main attractions. They were watched with the greatest interest by a big crowd of spectators and the finishes were close enough to make the excitement keen.

The green race resulted as follows:
1st—N. A. Nicholls.
2nd—W. A. McIlmoyle.
3rd—G. G. Hendren.

J. A. Storey's trotter cleaned up the free for all with N. Nicholls second and D. W. Jones third. There were just three starters.

In addition to the horse races, there were two other good events in the athletic line, a men's race, and a boy's race over a mile course.

W. Carveth won the men's race, with W. Johnston, of Chemong, second and E. Blewett third. Blewett set the pace for nearly the whole distance but was beaten by Carveth in the last few hundred yards. Carveth made a great finish.

W. Kenneally won the boys's race, W. Quinn was second and A. Tripp third. L. Armstrong finished fourth. Fast time was made.

"THE NIGGER IN THE WOOD-PILE"

Thousands of people go through life feeling more or less miserable without ever knowing the reason. They suffer from headaches, indigestion, pains in the back, and at the slightest chill get rheumatism or neuralgia.

They try to cure these separate outbreaks, never suspecting that the root of the whole trouble is the failure of the bowels to move regularly, and in many cases the sluggish action of kidneys and skin. The result, of course, is that the whole system gets clogged with impurities, which soon turn to poison, and show their presence in various ways.

"Fruit-a-tives"—or fruit juice tablets—promptly stir up the sluggish liver, regulate the bowels, and stimulate the kidneys and skin to do their work properly. Thus they cure all these troubles by removing the cause, and make it possible to really enjoy life. 50c a box—6 boxes for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The Daily Review

THURSDAY, OCT. 1, 1908.

AT OTTAWA

So the strenuous accusations of the Opposition have at last received their reward. Mr. A. W. Fraser, K.C., the Liberal candidate there, he who "got" a limit for half of $1,650, and made a hundred thousand out of it, has been compelled to retire. It is a great triumps for the Conservatives and for the country. How nice and respeatable it would have been to say nothing about it; merely let it all go through, "no personalities, you know." These plunderers of the public domain are not punished half often enough. But this instance on the eve of an election is both dramatic and sensational.

A DEPARTMENT WITHOUT A CONSCIENCE

The Department of Marine and Fisheries offers numerous and startling illustrations of graft and extravagance. Many scandals brought to light during the Sessions of 1906, 1907 and 1908 were connected with this department. These instances go to show that the astonishing increase in Marine expenditure is largely due to negligence, extravagance and waste, and perhaps still more largely to methodical, systematic and continued plunder.

After some examinatoin of the condition of this department, Mr. Thos. Fyshe and Mr. P. J. Bazin, Royal Civil Service Commissioners, both lifelong Liberals, reported that "zeal for the public service and regard for economy are conspicuous by their absence;" that there was no sign of "an intelligent purpose, unless it be that of spending as much money as possible;" that there was "a lack of conscience;" that "Government officers were serving two masters."

Let us see how much the expenditure in this department through its various branches has increased during the decade. (Public Accounts, 1907, pages 62 to 66, and Estimates and Supplementary Estimates of 1908.)

1896	$427,251	$466,057	$36,683	$181,452	$26,321	$1,137,764

There is a great amount of patronage in an expenditure of five or six millions a year, most of it controlled by the Minister and his friends, and practically all except the salaries were paid out to favored persons without tender or competition.

FAIRPLAY

The "averaged man" has for years suspected that the press was institutes to be bought. This is not correct. It is true that men of wealth if not of moral or intellectual power have a considerable influence with the press but it is by means of "friends." These are employed to bring to bear upon the honourable editors the concentrated weight of their opinion so that the editor may be led to suppose that public opinion is against an exposure. The average man knows this or at least suspects it. He fails to see why when he himself does wrong he is made to pay the penalty of an outraged public opinion while others with more money can practically do as they please under cover of a convenient or "respectable" silence or some pretence which should not shelter even a bad little boy at school. The disposition to attack the press for suppressing these things is not justified as a perusal of the party journals will show. This is one of the advantages of party politics. A sense of justice, natural justice, prompts men to resent the wrong doing of a certain class being passed over as high finance or dementia Americana. The present disposition of the American mind is logical and correct. It demands that a man be held responsible for what he does deliberately. There can be no Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde life nowadays. A man is either one thing or the other—straight or crooked. As the Montreal Star was led to exclaim "Is the Canadian conscience dead." This is the question of the hour. If the authorities governmental or otherwise cannot straighten all these things out the "people" will. There need be no fear of that. They will stand for no fooling or hypocrisy. Throwing a cloak over a "friend's offences may be charity but that virtue is supposed to begin at home and so many think. However, the attack on the press is unwarranted. There is always a demand for a journal that will tell the whole truth and not merely part of it. It is the disregard of the amenities of life that has produced the wholesale corruption of the present time. The people are demanding fair play. All offenders should be treated alike.

THE LIBERAL MACHINE

The frequency with which Liberal conventions are switching candidates, dropping the old and taking up the new suggests the possibility that even the machine can feel that the people are beginning to think and that the man who can appeal to them with any show of confidence must have something better to command him than an unbroken record for voting with the government.—Ottawa Journal.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Horace Greeley used to say, "Go west, young man." Another has said, "Can't you forget some things!

A commercial traveler who traveled from Pembroke to Windsor, during the past month, tells me that Borden will be premier in a few days. The people of Ontario want clean government, as shown by the last two provincial elections.

Mr. Burnham begins his meetings in the riding at Benstort on October 8. He is at Bailieboro on the 9th; Galway (Swamp Lake) on the 13th; Ennismore on the 14th, and then he goes into North Monaghan, Harvey and Smith. He will be accompanied by other speakers.

A Liberal candidate in Ottawa has been obliged to step down because he made too much money out of one of the Government's wasteful Western land deal. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is said to have forced him out. And yet Ministers continue to deny the alienation of great tracts of the public domain charged by the Opposition against Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues.—Toronto News.

Mackenzie King, formerly Deputy Minister of Labor, now Liberal candidate in Waterloo, reputed to be one of the strongest Liberal candidates, a man largely respected apart from his politics, is the latest prophet of Liberal disaster at the polls.

He asks the electors of Waterloo to sympathize with him and vote for him on account of his great sacrifice in giving up his government post. Now Mackenzie King knows, and we all know that should Laurier be returned to power he will be made a minister, if elected—if not elected he will be given back his old position. Mackenzie King likewise knows, and the country is beginning to appreciate the fact, that Laurier is not going to be returned to power — that, therefore, Mr. King, if elected, will simply be a private member in opposition, without post; hence, Mr. King's feeling, voiced, as he touchingly put it, "in the presence of his father and mother and brothers and sisters," that he has in very truth found out that instead of bettering himself he has in reality been called upon by his leader to make a sacrifice in the forlorn hope of trying to rally the ranks of the faithful around the discredited Laurier Government.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW

This is what the Montreal Star has to say about the situation in West Peterborough:

"What are we to think of a party which goes out of its way to bring J. R. Stratton into parliament, and which is still running Mr. Emmerson in New Brunswick?

Oh, for one clean and honest party!"

BRITAIN'S UNEMPLOYED.

Approaching Winter Promises to Bring Great Distress.

London, Sept. 30.—The problem of dealing with the unemployed in the great centres of population throughout the United Kingdom is being seriously considered by the Government authorities, all of whom agree that the number of persons out of work will be greater the coming winter than in many years before. No estimate has been made of the unemployed in London, but a census taken by the newspapers of provincial cities shows alarming numbers.

The conditions at Glasgow are probably worse than in most of the other cities, there being 22,000 men now seeking work at that place. Sunderland has 13,000 unemployed, Birmingham 10,000, Liverpool 14,000, Manchester 8,000 and other cities from 1,000 to 5,000 each. These figures do not include the great army of strikers in the Lancashire cotton trade. Distress funds are now being raised throughout the country.

Accident at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 30.—The steamer Lyman C. Smith of the United States Transportation Co., struck the south pier at the Canadian canal yesterday morning and stove a hole in her starboard bow 14 feet long. Canal traffic is impeded. The steamer was down bound, laden with ore. The Lyman C. Smith is 525 feet long and 52 feet beam.

Temple For Theosophists.

Boston, Sept. 30.—Miss Eva Fay, the "medium," who has been appearing on the stage for several years, announced yesterday through her lawyers that she had purchased an estate near Melrose, Mass., where she would erect a temple for theosophists. According to the present plan it will be both a school and a home for theosophists.

KILLED BY BLAST.

One Is Dead and Another Badly Hurt Near Kingston.

Kingston, Oct. 1.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Westbrook, seven miles from here, when Henry Smith was killed by explosion while blasting, and his brother Alfred Smith badly injured.

He was brought to the General Hospital here, where the right arm was amputated. He will recover.

The young men's mother died a few days ago.

Henry Smith lives at Collins Bay, and his brother belongs to Cleveland, having been called here to attend his mother's funeral.

Mrs. Alfred Smith has been in the hospital several weeks undergoing an operation and has not been told the awful story. Henry Smith's body was terribly mutilated. There will be no inquest.

An American Camel.

Amherst, Mass., Oct. 1.—Professor Frederic E Loomis of Amherst College has just returned from the west with a perfect skeleton of a new series of dwarf camel about the size of a goat, which he discovered imbedded in sandstone near Lusk, Wyoming.

This find is claimed to establish the fact that the camel originated on the North American plains a million and a half years ago. He has many more imperfect skeletons and the bones of scores of camels.

Strike Situation Quiet.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—There has not been any new move in the present efforts to end the strike on the C.P.R. yesterday.

It was, however, stated yesterday evening by James O'Connell, president of the metal workers' section of the International Union of Railway Mechanics, that a prominent Canadian was now interested as intermediary between the men and the company, and that he would very speedily open negotiations.

Human Freak Dead.

Kansas City, Oct. 1.—With his body full of holes and scars, the result of many years of feats such as sticking pins, needles and sharp instruments through the face, neck and arms and swallowing of tacks, broken glass, rough on rats and other deadly poisons, Henry J. Johnson, "human freak" and strong man, was found dead in bed in a rooming-house here Tuesday night. Physicians attribute his death to rupture of the heart.

To Wed St. Louis Girl.

New York, Oct. 1.—The Hon. Henry Cowper Gollan, Chief Justice of Bermuda for the British Government, having picked out an American girl for a bride, went to the City Hall on Tuesday and secured a marriage license.

Drowns In Bath Tub.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Seized with an epileptic fit while in the bath, Miss Alice Hughston, aged 18, was found drowned at 253 Westmoreland avenue yesterday morning.

With her father and three sisters she was only a short time out from England.

Fierce Storm at Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, B.C., Oct. 1.—One of the worst storms that has occurred for months on the northern British Columbia coast has been raging for days, and so far shows little sign of abating.

There has been a perfect deluge of rain, which at times changed to hail, and a terrific wind blowing forced it through the smallest crevice, until the lightly built houses leaked like sieves. Many of the houses were severely damaged.

Contractors are having difficulty in holding their men on the railway construction of the G.T.P. owing to the unusually wet and rough weather.

Thinks Thaw Dangerous Lunatic.

New York, Oct. 1.—Sheriff Lane of West Chester County, yesterday, at White Plains, declared he would refuse to deliver over Harry K. Thaw to Federal authorities of Pittsburg, even should they send for the prisoner with an order of a Pittsburg Federal judge.

"I will have the matter adjudicated in the state courts here," said the sheriff. "I will exhaust every possible recourse I have in the state courts before I will permit him to go to Pittsburg.

"I consider him a dangerous lunatic."

Fight to the Death.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—As the result of a jealous quarrel, David D. Reardon, office manager for the Electric Transfer Co., is dead, and Thomas Fox, a mica expert, lies in the hospital probably fatally injured. The two men fought on the edge of the cliff known as Primrose Hill, in the western end of the city, and fell over the brink in a clinch. The woman in the case has not been located.

Dickering For C. & G. W.

London, Oct. 1.—The correspondent of The Financial News declares that despite Shaughnessy's denial the company is negotiating for the purchase and control of the Chicago & Great Western Railway in London. A chartered accountant is now examining the figures to this end.

Smyrna, Oct. 1.—A Turkish steamship ran down the steam ferryboat Stambul outside the harbor yesterday. One hundred and forty persons were drowned.

Ocean Mail Will Be Big.

London, Oct. 1.—The Postoffice Department is prepared to handle a largely increased mail from the United States, resulting from the introduction of penny postage.

It is expected that this week's mails will be particularly large.

The Philatelic Society has issued commemorative envelopes as souvenirs of the occasion. The decorations on the envelopes include the arms of the two countries, with the dates of important postal reforms.

Burned Bridge Caused Wreck.

Hamilton, Oct. 1.—It was shown at the inquest into the Mineral Springs disaster, in which Engineer McFadden, Fireman Brown and Yardmaster Maloney were killed on Sunday, that the bridge collapsed through the supports being burned during the night. The company proved conclusively that the bridge had burned during the night, and that it was impossible for it to have caught from the engine after it broke through. A verdict was rendered accordingly.

Son Cut Off In Will.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The will of Leslie Carter, once a millionaire, was filed for probate yesterday, disposing of an estate of $75,000. The estate is divided between a sister and a brother, thus disinheriting a son. Of the son, the will says: "I leave nothing to my son, Leslie Dudley Carter, for the reason that he has left the home which I maintained for him without cause or justification. This, I believe, can result only to his personal injury, if not his ruin."

Took Boat Too Far.

Belleville, Oct. 1.—In the Police Court yesterday morning Capt. Roys of the steamer Aletha was fined $175 and costs for taking his boat, which only had a bay and river permit, to Cobourg on Lake Ontario, last summer, without permission. Three charges of overloading were dismissed.

I.C.R. Arbitration Successful.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—The conciliation board appointed by the Dominion Government to hear the grievances of the station clerks and freight handlers on the Intercolonial Railway will send in a unanimous report.

The board secured an amicable arrangement regarding the organization of the work. The equally important matter of wages will be reported to the Government before the details are announced, but it is considered that the men made a strong case and that this feature will be adjusted. The scale of wages was very low, averaging less than $500 a year.

The arbitration of the grievances of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen made against the C.P.R. will not be taken up until November.

Shoots Girl and Self.

Central City, Col., Oct. 1.—Christopher Crezise, treasurer of Gilpin County, early yesterday shot and mortally wounded Jeannie Hicks, the 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Addie Hicks, at whose house he boarded, and then committed suicide.

Following the shooting Mrs. Hicks became hysterical, but it was gleaned from her incoherent statements that Crezise entered her home and the shooting followed refusal of a demand made by him.

Ice Famine In Brockville.

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 1.—Though a supply larger than usual was harvested last winter the source of the local ice supply is well nigh exhausted.

The excessive hot dry summer increased the demand and in addition to this much melted away in the storehouses. The hospitals have the first call on what is left and the stock is being conserved for these institutions, leaving little for the general public.

The same conditions are said to prevail in many places in this district.

Hit Over Head With Bottle.

Hamilton, Oct. 1.—Sheridan Randall, a colored stableman, says he was struck over the head with a bottle, held up and robbed, near the racetrack last night. He was taken to the city hospital with a broken nose. His story is that he was sent to an hotel to get a bottle of whisky, and in making the purchase got a $10 bill changed. When he got outside he claims that a gang set upon him, knocked him down and robbed him.

Strike-Breaker Shoots.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—What might have been fatal shooting took place about 9 o'clock last evening on the corner of Main and McDermott streets within a stone's throw of "Newspaper Row," when Archie McKay, a strike-breaker, pulled a gun on strikers who were threatening to hustle him. He fired three shots, one of which struck a foreigner in the foot. McKay was arrested.

CAPTAIN OF "ALETHA" HAS TO PAY FINE

For Taking Trip Without Permit He will Have to Pay $175 and Costs

Belleville, Sept. 30.—The case against Captain Roys, of the steamer Aletha, who was charged with going to Cobourg without a permit, and upon three occasions overloading the steamer with passengers, were were this mornin disposed of by Magistrate Masson.

Mr. E. F. Butler, prosecuting counsel, did not offer any evidence on the two remaining charges of overcrowding, and consented to their being dismissed, which was done.

On the charge of going to Cobourg without a permit, it was clearly proven; in fact, the defendant virtually admitted the offence. A fine of $175 and costs was imposed. In this case the minimum fine is $100 and the maximum $500. Mr. Carnew appeared for Capt. Roys, who was not able to appear in court today owing to illness.

OBITUARY

JOHN WILLIAMSON.

The late Mr. Williamson was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and was in his 76th year.

Those left to mourn the death of their father are two sons and three daughters, namely, Miss Agnes Williamson, formerly kindergarten directress of this city, and now of Moosejew; Mrs A. Cunningham, Moosejaw, Sask.; Mrs. Wm. Davidson, Otonabee, Ont.; Mr. D. Williamson, New Liskeard, and Mr. R. G. Williamson, Toronto, Ont., besides the sons and daughters Mr. Williamson leaves his aged father, who celebrated his 98th birthday in June of this year, and is hale and hearty and whom many of the Keene and Allendale people will remember in the early days and who now resides at Pilot Butte, Sask., together with three sisters of the deceased. He also leaves one brother, Dr. W. T. Williamson, of Portland, Oregon.

The remains of the late Mr. Williamson will arrive in the city via C.P.R. local this evening, and will leave the undertaking establishment of Mr. D. Belleghem, at 1.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon to Little Lake cemetery.

THEATRICAL

TYRANNY OF TEARS.

Robert Ganthony, who appeared in "The Tyranny of Tears," at the Grand opera house last night, is an author of more than average ability. "The Tyranny of Tears," is among the most cleverly constructed plays that has been seen here for some time, and, while Mr. Ganthony did excellent work in the leading role, one is apt to wonder if he was not at his best. It seemed to some of those present that the part does not exactly fit him — that he might do even better in a role that afforded more opportunity for comedy work. He has a splendid supporting company, and "The Tyranny of Tears" as presented last night, is pleasing in every respect. Miss Cross, as the weeping wife, was very artistic, and Miss Haze Stanmore who played the role of the secretary, showed much cleverness in the delineation of the role. Harry E. De Lesaux, as Mr. Gunning, a cynic, who was reformed by falling in love, showed histrionic ability of a high order and his work was received with enthusiasm.

The other members of the cast were good, very good, in fact.

There was a fair-sized audience, and Messrs. Turner would do well to secure a return engagement.

TAKEN OVER BY CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

John and Philip Russell are Incorrigble Boys...Appeared in Court Recently

John and Philip Russell, who a week or so ago were convicted of stealing large quantities of honey, before County Magistrate Edmison, were taken over by the Children's Aid Society this morning. These boys have a widowed mother who was quite willing that the Society take them over, as she admitted being incapable of looking after them. They are incorrigible and utterly beyond their mother's control. They were taken to the House of Providence as wards of the Children's Aid. They are seven and ten years of age respectively.

NEUTRAL SHADES PREDOMINATE

Soft Smoke, Stone, Green and Grey Blues are in Favor for Hats This Season

Every day shows some new millinery kind. The neutral shade, such as fumee, so soft smoke color, and a grey inclining towards green, are sensible choices with satin so fashionable as the covering for hat shapes, for be the reason this or that there is undoubted success in the tints indicated. Perhaps their refinement is their most valuable merit.

A wide and spreading brim and a low crown are the signs patent of the smart autumn hat. It is a pretty notion, and a novel one, to mass the crown with ostrich fronds, beneath which may appear, if flowers are wanted, a wreath of velvet petaled chrysanthemums. With a veil added, delicately fine and chosen with an eye to some subtle addition of colour if the hat be of a neutral tint, such a scheme recommends itself for autumn wear.

More elaborate hats there are than the satin ones. A shape covered with damas des Indes, striped green and white, with a glint of gold thread through it, trimmed with the handsomest of green ostrich plumes a yard and a half in length, is not for ordinary occasions.

Rough felt hats are introduced for autumn wear, some of which are swathed with crepe de chine. The plumage harmonizes with the hat and its drapery, and is pretty, developed in tawny brown orange shades.

The reign of plumage, by the bye, shows no signs of coming to an end, and few are the flowers that are allowed to make any attempt to rival wings and ostrich feathers out in all manner and fantastic shapes. Yet there is much to be said in favor of the cactus dahlia as a hat adornment, seeing that it can be rendered in velvet of such beautiful mellow shades as a rich deep damask shading to palest coral and purple fading away to pink.

LEOPARDS FIGHT IN MENAGERIE

New York, Sept. 23.—Nigger, a black female leopard, has been killed by her cage mate, the Devil, after a desperate battle in the lion house of the Bronx menagerie. Hundreds of persons, including women and children, watched the combat. The keepers made vigorous efforts to separate the fighters, but could do nothing with them.

For a week or more the couple had not been on good terms and Nigger carefully kept to the corner of the cage, avoiding her angry spouse.

Then when the lion house was crowded with visitors, the female leopard ambled across the cage to where her mate lay and began to scratch her back against the bars. The Devil instantly resented this by lifting one of his paws and knocking her down. There was no further attempt at friendliness by Nigger. She leaped at him and they rolled over the floor of the cage, clawing and snarling. The clamor aroused the other animals and the roar of the lions and tigers was soon shaking the building.

George Engleholm, one of the keepers, procured an iron spoke and tried to pry the animals apart. His efforts were of no avail and he was joined by three other keepers, similarly armed, but the combined forces was futile.

For nearly twenty minutes the battle continued. Then the Devil, by a deft flank movement, sank his fangs into Nigger's throat and a minute later she fell over dead.

BROWN HAT AND BOTTLE OF WHISKEY LYING ON ROADSIDE

A brown Derby hat and an unopened bottle of Seagram's whiskey lying side by side in a Smith township road may be the clue to a mystery. The discovery was made by a Peterborough man who was driving on the road between the 2nd and 3rd concessions of Smith. The bottle had never been opened—that is until it was found. It is somewhat of a mystery where the bottle and hat came from as it is rather unusual to find a bottle of spirits by the roadside in a local option township. The owner of the hat can secure it by calling at 388 Water street.

AUTUMN

By Henry Ward Beecher.

From the "Star Papers," originally published in book form in 1855.

One who breaks off in summer, and returns in autumn to the hills, needs almost to come to a new acquaintance with the most familiar things. It is another world; or it is the old world a-masquerading; and you halt, like one scrutinizing a disguised friend, between the obvious dissemblance and the subtle likeness.

Southward of our front door there stood two elms, leaning their branches toward each other, forming a glorious arch of green. Now, in faint yellow, they grow attenuated and seem as if departing; they are losing their leaves and fading out of sight, as trees do in twilight. Yonder, over against that young growth of birch and evergreen, stood, all summer long, a perfect maple tree, rounded out on every side, thick with luxuriant foliage, and dark with greenness, save where the morning sun, streaming through it, sent transparency to its very heart. Now it is a tower of gorgeous red. So sombre and solemn did it seem all summer, that I should think as soon to see a prophet dancing at a peasant's holiday, as it transfigured to such intense gayety! Its fellows, too, the birches and walnuts, burn from head to foot with fires that burn and never consume.

But these holiday hills! Have the evening clouds, suffused with sunset, dropped down and become fixed into solid forms? Have the rainbows that followed autumn storms faded upon the mountains and left their mantles there? Yet, with all their brilliancy, how modest do they seem; how patient when bare, or burdened with winter; how cheerful when flushed with summer green; and how modest when they lift up their wreathed and crowned heads in the resplendent days of autumn!

Such days fill one with pleasant sadness. How sweet a pleasure is there in sadness! It is not sorrow; it is not despondency; it is not gloom! It is one of the moods of joy. At any rate I am very happy, and yet it is sober and very sad happiness: it is the shadow of joy upon the soul! I can reason about these changes; I can hover over the dying leaves with imaginations as bright as their own hues; and, by Christian faith, transfigure the whole scene with a blessed vision of joyous dying and glorious resurrection. But what then? Such thoughts glow like evening clouds and not far beneath them are the evening twilights, into whose dusk they will soon melt away. And all communions and all admirations, and all associations, celestial or terrene, come alike into a pensive sadness, that is even sweeter than our joy. It is the minor key of the thoughts.

SPORTING NEWS

SEVERAL CHANGES TAKE PLACE IN LOCAL RUGBY SITUATION

Senior Series Dropped, But Good Junior Series is Left—Teams May be Placed in Junior Series of O.R.F.U. and I.P.U.

Affairs shaped definitely at the meeting of the City Rugby League last night at the Examiner office, and a three-team junior series was formed. The teams entered are the T.A.S. Athletic Association, Rough Riders and P.C.I. The Crescents, who thought of entering a team in the junior division have withdrawn. There may be four teams in the series, the entry of the Y.M.C.A.'s being the one required to make the the quartette. It would seem that the "Y" should be able to get a husky aggregation together for the junior division, and their entrance into the ranks is looked for. There will be no senior series, as the T.A.S. Athletic Association and Y.M.C.A. are thinking of placing teams in the junior series of the O.R.F.U. or Inter-Provincial.

The question will be taken up by the temperance players at a meeting on Monday night, when the Y.M.C.A. will also decide what steps they will take in the matter.

OPENING OF SEASON.

Saturday next will see the opening of the rugby season in Peterborough, when the Rough Riders play the Collegiates at three o'clock at Riverside Park in the first championship game of the junior series. The game will doubtless be fast and interesting, and as it will set the season going, a big attendance seems assured. A nominal admission fee of ten cents will be charged, and with the price so extremely reasonable, a big gate is anticipated.

Those in attendance at last night's meeting were enthusiastic over the prospects and the clubs are pleased that such a healthy interest is being taken in city rugby this year. The club representatives at the meeting were: Y.M.C.A., C. Sisson; T.A.S. Athletic Association, J. Deanard; Peterborough Collegiate Institute, Norman Geale; Rough Riders, Park Porter and L. Giroux. Mr. R. F. McWilliams was in the chair, and Secretary Clarke was there in his capacity.

TROPHY PRESENTED.

A handsome silver cup has been donated by the H. Love Sporting Goods House, Toronto, and will be the championship trophy of the junior series.

BOXING PRELIMINARIES WILL BE INTERESTING

The management have done well in getting two boxing bouts as preliminaries to the match between Hurtubise and Mohl tomorrow night. Both should be very interesting and a large turnout of those interested in the matt game is expected.

The top liner will be a four round go between Tommy Daly of Brantford and Corney Burns of the Petes. Daly is a professional performer and is regarded as one of the best boxers in the province. The mill will be for a purse and a decision.

Lillie and Kid Turner are booked for the other boxing match and as both have had considerable experience, a red hot go is assured. Both men are training hard and are out to land the honors.

Ken Morris and Fred Sullivan will settle a dispute that has arisen among their backers as to which is the better man when they meet in a fifteen minute catch as catch can wrestling bout.

The preliminary events are certainly choice ones and together with the big bout should provide the best evening of boxing and wrestling ever held in Peterborough. The first go will be called at 8.15 and the big fellows will get into action at nine o'clock.

SPORTING COMMENT

Gene Hurtubise, the big "rastler" who was here last week, is tackling Fritz Mohl in Peterborough on Friday evening, while Charlie Conkle travels to Montreal for a go with Tremblay. The wrestling game is sure picking up some. — Hamilton Spectator.

RUGBY

All the Y.M.C.A. rugby players, especially the younger men, are requested to meet in the Y.M.C.A. parlors on Friday evening at 7.15.

HURTUBISE WILL MEET ANY OF THEM IN STRAIGHT BOUTS EXCEPT ROGERS AND GOTCH

Gene Hurtubise was met by a Review representative as the big wrestler was returning from work yesterday evening. He stated he was in fine shape for his battle with Mohl on Friday night.

"Do you think you can beat Mohl," he was asked.

"Well if I don't win Mohl will have an awful time to get the best of me," he replied. "I am feeling strong and well and am in shape to wrestle for two hours straight if I have to. I never felt better in my life."

"This Mohl's a pretty dangerous man."

"I know, but there are only two in America that I won't meet in a straight match, and they are Yankee Rogers and Gotch. I am willing to meet either one of those in a handicap match."

"I know Mohl is a hard man," he said, "but he hasn't got me frightened any."

MOHL ALWAYS PURSUES A STRICT COURSE OF TRAINING

Fritz Mohl has wired that he will not be here until to-morrow at noon for his bout with Hurtubise at the Brock street rink to-morrow night. He was to have come to-night on the midnight, but prefers to rest up well in his own quarters before taking on the Peterborough heavyweight. He has been working out with the best of them at the Buffalo Gymnasium and, besides his indoor exercise, has been doing a lot of road work. Although a more than ordinarily big man, Mohl can cover five miles in mighty quick fashion, as anyone who has seen him flashing around on the mat will be quite willing to believe. He is also quite a devotee of skipping the rope, and goes through this form of exercise regularly while training.

Mohl is careful as to his diet and is quite strict in this respect. Smoking and drinking he taboos entirely both in training and out.

COLLEGIATE FIELD DAY OF SPORTS ON OCT. 16TH

The annual field day of sports of the Collegiate Institute will be held on Friday, Oct. 16, at Nicholls Oval in the afternoon. The cross country run will be held on Monday afternoon Oct. 12th, at 4.15 o'clock. The course will be from the Collegiate Institute, along McDonnel street to the boundary and up the boundary to Smith, to Water, down Water street to McDonnel street and thence to the school. There promises to be a large number of entries and the race will be decidedly interesting. On Wednesday, the fourteenth, the jumps will be run off at Riverside Park.

Great interest in the different events is being manifested and they will no doubt be keenly contested.

QUITE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER THE C.A.A.U. TOURNAMENT

Peterborough,
October, 2, 1908.

Sporting Editor Review.

Dear Sir,—I saw by an article in your paper a short time ago that there was a possibility of the C.A.A.U. wrestling championships being secured for Peterborough. I was somewhat surprised to see the announcement, as I thought Toronto was a fixed place for holding them, but if there is any chance of having them here, I think no efforts to go them should be spared.

I always make it a point to attend the bouts, if possible, and they are most interesting and scientific. It would be quite a stroke for Peterborough in a sporting way if the tourney could be held here.

I understand the Y.M.C.A. has the possible opportunity of having the bouts conducted under their auspices and would like to see them make every effort to get them.

Yours very truly.
W. A. McNEILL.

SAW MOHL GO WITH ROONEY IN CHICAGO

Mr. Jules Edgar, representative of the Wilson Manufacturing Company, Chicago, was in the city to-day, coming on last night's midnight. He registered at the Oriental.

Mr. Edgar saw Fritz Mohl wrestle with Rooney in the Auditorium Hall, Chicago, a short time ago.

Mohl was the winner and showed great form.

"I would like very much to see the bout between the German and Hurtubise to-morrow night," said Mr. Edgar, "but I must go east this evening."

He is quite a wrestling and boxing enthusiast, and whenever possible sees the matches of importance.

LOTS DOING IN "Y" ATHLETICS THIS SEASON

There is going to be a particularly active season in athletics and gymnasium at the Y.M.C.A. this fall. In the latter department the increasing interest is very noticeable and all the gym. classes have a good membership. Under the capable instruction of Mr. Collings, Peterborough should have one of the best physical departments of any branch in the province.

The Harriers had a splendid run last night, about fifteen men being out. The rugby team also had a good workout at Central Park.

BASKETBALL WILL FLOURISH

League will be Formed Again at the Y.M.C.A.

A basketball league will be formed in the city in connection with the Y.M.C.A. There will likely be four good teams and some fast ball is assured. In addition to the first league there will be a scratch league for players who are just beginning the game. In this way everybody will have a chance to play and enjoy the sport. The physical work of the association is going ahead very rapidly.

SEATS FOR BOUT

At the wrestling match on Friday night there will be 330 seats at 25 cents; 350 at 35 cents; 500 at 50 cents and 200 at 75 cents.

ARE WAITING FOR EDMONTON

Wanderers will Play Them for the Stanley Cup

Montreal, Sept. 30.—That the western team will put up a big fight for the Stanley Cup this season, is now very evident. Lester Patrick, of Nelson one of the foremost exponents of Canada's great winter pastime, is reported to be bubbling over with enthusiasm this fall and is getting together a team which he hopes will be able to wrest the mug from the clutches of the Wanderers. The nucleus of the cup team is already in Nelson and Patrick believes that the material for such a team can be found without going outside of British Columbia. Frank Patrick, a brother of Lester, and a former Victoria team man, and one of the best defence men in the game, is a sure player along with other famous western players.

The Edmonton hockey team, champions of the Inter-provincial Hockey League, Alberta and Saskatchewan, already have their challenge for a series with the Wanderers in and accepted by the trustees. The definite arrangements for this series for the coveted mug are left to be decided upon by the two clubs themselves.

Two letters have not long since been received by the Wanderer Hockey Club from the trustees; one a copy of the letter to the Edmonton Hockey Club accepting their challenge and the other a letter to the Wanderers asking the present cup holders to see that necessary time is allowed for this series when the league schedule is being drawn up for the season.

In his letter to the Edmonton Hockey Club in referring to the challenge Mr. W. M. Foran, on behalf of the trustees, says in part:

"I now beg to inform you that the said challenge has been accepted by the trustees and that the Wanderer Hockey Club, the present holders of the cup, have been notified. The trustees have decided that matches must be played prior to the opening of the regular hockey season in the Eastern Canada Hockey League, but have not deemed it advisable to fix any particular date, preferring to leave this, as well as all other arrangements for the proposed series, to be mutually agreed upon between the two clubs."

The Wanderers are now awaiting some communication from the Edmonton Club, but as yet no word has been received from the Stanley cup seekers.

WATER POLO TO BE INTRODUCED

Another Game to be Added to the List in Peterborough

The very interesting game of water polo is about to be introduced in this city. A number of Y.M.C.A. members are making all necessary arrangements and it is expected that some very interesting play will be witnessed. Any person wishing to take part on any of the teams, kindly hand in names to the secretary.

Elopes With Chauffeur.

Atlanta, Sept. 30.—The greatest sensation in Atlanta society for many years came yesterday in the announcement of the marriage of Silver Speer, granddaughter of one of the wealthiest and best known men in Atlanta, now dead, to Russel Thomas, the chauffeur of her family. The license was procured by the father of the bridegroom and the marriage was performed by the Rev. Henry Atkinson.

Mrs. Thomas is just 17 years old. She is worth anywhere from $600,000 to $1,000,000 in her own right, the fortune to come to her when she is 21. The young couple are on the way to Washington. The bride's family is furious, and lawyers have been employed on both sides.

To Fight White Plague.

Newfoundland has suffered so heavily in the past and is suffering so heavily now from the inroads of tuberculosis that a society has been formed to begin a campaign during the present summer. The Newfoundland Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has statistics which show that at the present time one out of every five of the population of the island dies from tuberculosis. The especially alarming fact about the Newfoundland death rate from tuberculosis is that it has actually gone up as much as fifty per cent. in the last six years. The Newfoundland Society has invited Mr. Alexander Wilson, superintendent of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, to visit the island. One of the most interesting happenings in the forward movement is a Teachers' Tuberculosis Convention to be held in St. John's. The Newfoundland Government has made a grant of money large enough to bring all the teachers of the island to the convention to educate them for service in the campaign.

Moose In City Streets.

Chased through city streets of St. John, N.B., by a crowd of boys, a two-year-old cow moose which had wandered in from the woods near the city took refuge in the old burying ground in the centre of the city a few days ago, and fell exhausted in an attempt to mount a hill in the graveyard. A crowd pressed around and after an ineffectual effort to regain its feet the animal fell over and died. The moose in its flight ran into a woman wheeling a baby carriage in Waterloo street, but caused no injury. A few days ago a full grown cow moose was encountered three miles from the city by a driving party.

PURELY "PRIVATE BUSINESS" WOMEN, WINE AND GRAFT

CHARGES AGAINST MEMBERS.

"The wine, women and graft" discussion, culminating in two or three remarkable episodes in political history, resulted from various offensive remarks and interruptions thrown across the House from the Government side during the early part of the session, under cover of the insurance investigation insinuations were made against several members of Parliament, including Mr. Foster, Mr. Fowler, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Lefurgey. Mr. Foster took the earliest opportunity to demand the fullest possible Parliamentary investigation of any charges that might be made against him, and after waiting until the Insurance Commission had reported he brought up the whole matter himself, and opened the discussion on it. In the end the Prime Minister stated that no charges had been made against Mr. Foster, and none were preferred in the House.

CHARGES WITHDRAWN, ABANDONED OR REFUTED.

Mr. Bennett and Mr. Lefurgey, whose only offence was that they had bought in the open market certain lands in the North-West owned by private parties, and had re-sold them at a profit, challenged the Government party to specify the charges against them. Towards the close of the session Mr. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, stated in his place in the House (Hansard, 1907, 6,336) that nothing in the land transactions mentioned was in any degree to the discredit of Mr. Bennett. The Minister's remarks applied equally to Mr. Lefurgey, who was in the same position. It may be said also that Mr. Aylesworth, who took upon himself the task of defending the report of the Insurance Commission, found nothing to say in criticism of Mr. Fowler's conduct.

Mr. Foster's statement in regard to the insurance transaction is before the public and is a complete vindication of his conduct.

A CONSPIRACY OF INSINUATIONS.

But notwithstanding the failure of Government members to sustain the undefined, undesired and insinuated charges against Mr. Foster, notwithstanding the practical withdrawal of all intimated charges against Mr. Fowler, and the admission that the other two members had done no wrong, the first half of the season was characterized by continual jeers and offensive insinuations of a personal character directed against the members mentioned. These usually came from the back benches, and always from members who would not take the responsibility of rising in their place and making a direct statement. It was plain that Ministers encouraged these attacks, for they were made by members who would not think of offending or disobeying a Minister. It was, in fact, a conspiracy, deliberately organized and regularly operated for the purpose of annoying the Opposition, interfering with its regular work and duty, and making life unpleasant for Conservatives who ventured to criticize the Government.

THE "WOMEN, WINE AND GRAFT" EPISODE.

On the 19th day of February, Geo. W. Fowler, member for King's and Albert, New Brunswick, was discussing Mr. Lemieux's Conciliation bill, taking the ground that the Government ought to consider carefully the objections which the railway men had raised against it. In the course of the discussion Mr. Duncan Ross, member for Cariboo, intimated that Mr. Fowler might have been poorer "if everybody got a square deal." There had been other insinuations of this kind from the Ministerialists, referring to private affairs of Mr. Fowler. Referring to these Mr. Fowler now said:

"Up to this time I have not referred to private matters; but I want this House and the First Minister and the Government to understand that if matters in connection with my private business are to be discussed in this House, I shall take an opportunity to discuss the private character of members of this Administration and members on that side. I want to say to hon. gentlemen opposite that I shall discuss these without fear or favor, that I shall call a spade a spade, and when I speak of the indisposition of an Hon. Minister which keeps him out of this House, I shall tell exactly what it was and how it was brought on. I shall allow no man to make an attack on me or my character without retorting. I shall discuss the character of hon. members opposite, whether they be Ministers or private members, and their connection with women, wine and graft."

MR. FOWLER'S CHALLENGE.

After referring to threats that had been made of an attack on him, and to the abuse and insinuations which had been thrown out from the Government side, Mr. Fowler said:

"I do not believe in this sort of thing. And, sir, who is responsible for it? The Prime Minister is the man in whose hands rests the honor of this House and who is responsible for the tone of the debate on this floor. The Prime Minister can prevent that sort of attack. If he thinks it good politics to authorise that kind of attack; let him go ahead, he is responsible, not I. But I should be a poltroon if, when I am attacked, I did not defend myself, and not only defend myself, but having the material, if I did not use that material to carry the attack into the other side. Now, as I say, let these charges, let this scandal—this alleged scandal—if you have any with respect to me, be brought forward. You cannot bring it on too soon. I have never in my public, or in my private capacity, done anything of which I am ashamed or of which I have need to be ashamed, or of which any honest, decent man should be ashamed. Let them bring on their scandal, let them produce their witnesses and their evidence. But let me tell you, if I am attacked I shall defend myself, and not only defend myself, but also will lead an attack."—Hansard, 1907, pages 3318-19.

MR. BOURASSA CALLS FOR INQUIRY.

Two days later Mr. Henri Bourassa, member for Labelle, a Liberal, who has lately shown a good deal of independence, called the attention of the House to Mr. Fowler's statements, and to accusations that had been made or suggested in the chamber against Conservative members. He declared that charges, insinuations, and reflections had gone far enough, and that the time had come for investigation. He held that public confidence in public men was shaken by these reflections, and by the growing opinion that the two parties were conspiring to suppress damaging facts.

"It is high time," he said, "that the Government and Parliament should take the matter into their own hands and clear the atmosphere; and if there are unworthy men in this House, whether they be Conservative or Liberal, their conduct should be probed to the bottom and they should be punished."

SIR WILFRID OBJECTS TO INVESTIGATION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not welcome this suggestion. He said that Mr. Fowler's words were probably spoken in haste and anger, and that there was nothing before the public in the way of a charge against the Conservative members. The insurance report had not then come down, and the Premier thought that any discussion of insurance matters at that stage would be premature. He regretted that the press had made any reflections upon any member in connection with insurance. The Premier said, however, that before the session closed the matter which Mr. Bourassa had brought forward must come to the attention of the House.

MR. BORDEN PREPARED TO ASSIST INQUIRY.

While the Prime Minister thus evaded and postponed the question, Mr. Borden the Opposition leader, spoke out plainly and decisively. He declared that there had not been and would not be any agreement or arrangement between the Conservatives and the Government for the suppression of any facts or the prevention of any investigation. Mr. Borden used the following language—Hansard, 1907, page 3508:

If there is any charge contained in the evidence taken before Insurance Commission, or if there should be any charge in the report of that commission against the public honor of any man on this side of the House, standing here, as I do, and the position I occupy, I pledge myself that I will give to the Prime Minister of this country and to this Parliament the best of my assistance to probe such a charge to the very bottom. That is all I have to say about that. I agree with the Prime Minister that it is impossible that the session should close until any charges which have been insinuated are either withdrawn or brought on for discussion and consideration. So far as I am concerned—and I speak for every man this side of the House, in that regard—we do not propose that this session shall end until this matter has been disposed and until that investigation has been made. That is all it is necessary to say as to that at this moment.

AN ASTONISHING CHANGE.

From this time forward there was a remarkable change in the conduct of members supporting the Government. After Mr. Fowler had given notice, as quoted above, there were no more reflections passed across the Chamber in his direction. The member for King's was treated thereafter with extreme courtesy, and even with distinguished consideration by members of Parliament on the other side, though he was abused more vigorously than ever by the Government press. It soon became evident that the Government party in Parliament had found one clear line of policy. That was to be kind and polite to Mr. George W. Fowler. A marked improvement also took place in the treatment of Mr. Foster and other Conservatives.

NO CHARGES RESPECTING INSURANCE.

In due time the insurance report came down, and after waiting for the Government or some Government supporter to bring before the House the matters contained in it, or to make some charge based upon the report, Mr. Foster himself, brought up the question and made his own vindication, while he exposed the misrepresentation of the commissioners and the falsehoods contained in the alleged findings. Though the Minister of Justice undertook to defend the Commission, no charge was made in the House against Mr. Foster or any other member, and the Government majority voted down without further discussion, two motions moved by Opposition members condemning the insurance report. This insurance matter is mentioned here to show how the Government party failed to proceed with any charges, or even to make a declaration of censure when brought to face with the issue. The first of these insurance debates took place on April 10th and 11th and the second on April 17th. In the first case the Government was wholly on the defensive, in the second it was silent under attack.

But on March 26th, Mr. Bourassa forced to an issue the question which he had raised on the 21st of February. On a Government motion to go into supply he moved the following resolution which was seconded by Mr. Armand Lavergne, another Liberal with independent leanings:

That the report of the Royal Commission on Life Insurance and the evidence connected therewith have made public various transactions in which members of the House participated,—namely, the hon. member for North Toronto, Mr. Foster, the hon. member for King's, New Brunswick, (Mr. Fowler), the hon. member for East Simcoe (Mr. Bennett), the hon. member for Prince, Prince Edward Island, (Mr. Lefurgey);

That such transactions have been commented upon by several organs of public opinion, in terms reflecting upon the honor, the integrity and the independence of the above named gentlemen;

The references to such transactions have been made in this House during the present session —namely, by the hon. member for Carleton, New Brunswick, (Mr. Carvell), on the 7th and 21st days of February and by the hon. member for Yale Cariboo, (Mr. Ross), on the 19th day of February, —in terms indicating that, in the opinion of those two hon. gentlemen the above named members are guilty of improper conduct;

That on the 26th day of November last, the hon. member for Wright, (Mr. Devlin), referred to the hon. member for North Toronto as being unworthy of a seat in this House on account of the transactions above mentioned;

That on the 19th of February last, the hon. member for King's, New Brunswick, (Mr. Fowler), addressing the hon. member for Yale-Cariboo, (Mr Ross) stated; "We will show your connection with Mr Hill—and we will give you the true insight of the Hyman story, too," and added, "I shall discuss the character of the hon. members opposite, whether they be ministers or private members, and the connection of them with women, wine and graft,"

That these statements have become a matter of general comment and have aroused public opinion throughout the country so that an immediate inquiry is imperative;

That the Prime Minister and his colleagues being the principal guardians of the honor of parliament, should take the initiative in such an inquiry;

That the Government should therefore ask the House to constitute a special committee to conduct a strict and impartial inquiry as to whether any Ministers of the Crown or members of Parliament have improperly made use of their positions as such for their private gain or have otherwise been guilty of personal misconduct under such circumstances or of such a character as to justify the intervention and censure of this House;

That any charges that may be preferred against any member of the Government or of the House should be formulated before that committee, and that members of this House or other persons who have material or data at their disposal with reference thereto should divulge them to that committee;

That such committee have power to employ and hear counsel, to send for persons, papers and records, to examine witnesses on oath or affirmation, and to report to the House during the present session.

AN INDEPENDENT LIBERAL VIEW.

Notice had been given of this motion, and the galleries were crowded while Mr. Bourassa addressed the House. He declared that he brought the question forward to give voice in Parliament to the clamor of public opinion, which was losing confidence in the integrity of Canadian representative institutions. Mr. Bourassa recalled the statement of the Premier that Parliament would have to take action during the session upon the insurance charges and upon the matters mentioned by Mr. Fowler. Yet the Premier was now taking the ground that there were no charges against anybody and no matter requiring investigation. Mr. Bourassa said he was not posing as a censor, adding:

"If I were to reveal the names of all my friends, either on the Liberal or Conservative side, who have asked me to press this matter forward although they will vote against me, it would be easy to prove that public sentiment, both in this House, and out of it, is in favor of an investigation."

Before Parliament met there had been many threats of what was to take place after the meeting. The whole Ministerial press and several members on the Government side had announced that they were going to bring honorable gentlemen before the bar of public opinion. Mr. Carvell had intimated that charges would be made against Mr. Bennett. But Mr. Bennett had twice during the session demanded an investigation and Mr. Lefurgey had done the same. No response had followed.

Mr. Bourassa, reciting these facts, demanded an inquiry under the initiative of the Government, paying this compliment to the late Conservative Government at the time of the McGreevy investigation, page 5423;

I know very well that when a government wants to block an enquiry it can always do it—and this has been done in the past. I know very well that when the whole Liberal party attempted to bring to task an ex-Minister of Public Works, the member for Quebec West in the late Conservative government, they would never have succeeded had they not been helped publicly and privately by members of the Conservative government who gave them papers to go on, and then lent them the help of the Justice Department to complete their investigation.

Accordingly Mr. Bourassa demanded that the machinery of the Department of Justice be put into action with earnestness and good faith, as was done in 1891.

"Sir," he said, "I note a strange coincidence in the different attitudes the difference between ferocious attacks that have been made during the last six months against the members of the Opposition and the present mild attitude on the Ministerial benches; where they seem willing to allow these gentlemen to go scott free, coinciding with the attack that was made by the member for King's. (Mr. Fowler.)" Mr. Bourassa asked;

"What is the true inside of the Hyman story. A Minister of the Crown resigns and goes to the South for his health. He is asked by the Prime Minister to retain his seat in the Cabinet. Various transactions and sessions of the Committee go on for three months and the hon. member for London or the Minister of Public Works is still where he was at the beginning, and here is a member of Parliament standing up in this House saying that he knows the true inside of the Hyman story. Does he mean that the Minister of Public Works has been derelict in his duties, or that he has been guilty of improper conduct. I do not know. The member for King's knows, and unless the member for King's is given an opportunity of formulating his charges we should not know."

ASKS WOMEN TO STAND ON HEADS

Joker in Pittsburg Has Leaders of the Four Hundred Afraid to Answer Telephone

A Pittsburg despatch says; A telephone joker has the rich women of the social belt afraid to go near their own phones. The game is to call up a fashionable home and insist on having the lady of the house at the phone, herself. She is told that it is a tester from the phone company and she will please assist him in testing the phone property.

"Please talk standing a little to the left of the transmitter," is usually the first request followed by speaking from the right side. Then she talks from immediately in front of the receiver, and if she be good-natured says "boo" real loud into the receiver at the request of the pleasant "tester" at the other end.

The lady of the house usually gets interested in the game and when the joke-smith comes back with "Now please try it standing on your head" or, "Won't you please hold up your right foot and bark?" there is usually a case of hysterics.

They effect us as a blow,
One of these is that loud screaming,

Only get 'm. Get 'm low.

BIRD HUNTING BOYS WILL BE PROSECUTED IF FOUND

On nearly ever street of the city every day can be seen boys armed with small air rifles or sling shots, endeavoring to kill birds. As there is a severe penalty attached to a conviction for killing any of the song birds parents of boys will do well to confiscate any of the weapons used for that purpose. Teachers in all the schools would also be adding to their usefulness if they impressed on their pupils the evil of wanting to kill or abuse bird or animals. Just a few minutes devoted to this every day would soon accomplish wonderful results. A boy is liable to arrest if seen trying to kill a song bird. The police are also on the watch constantly and will arrest any person whom they see trying to kill birds.

THERE IS SOME CLASS TO THIS WIRE WALKER'S NAME

Professor Charles Octavius Cogan, a slack wire walker whose ability to perform on the line is only exceeded by the length of his whiskers, drifted into the city this morning and will give an exhibition at some place to-morrow, if permission can be secured from the civic authorities. He came to Peterborough from Bobcaygeon, where he performed at the fair yesterday and astounded the natives with his feats. Next to his volubility, the most striking thing about the wire walker with the classic name, is his beard. It is something gorgeous to behold and one seeing the professor, might be tempted to ask what was behind the brush. Mr. Cogan was busy this afternoon seeing if there were any objections from the city officials and if the way is clear and there is no license fee, the professor will perform to-morrow.

Bobcaygeon fair was held yesterday and was the biggest success ever. About 3000 people were in attendance, the number including several from Peterborough.

There was a good display of products of the field and garden and the exhibit of live stock was also very creditable. A parade was held early in the afternoon, one of the features being a team of oxen attached to a waggon. They were a fine pair and attracted a lot of attention.

With the coming of October, the social season is renewed and the lady who calls and receives finds the days and weeks growing all too short to accomplish all that is desired. By a smile on their face and the merry twinkle in their eye, the farmers showed that they had a glad heart on Tuesday morning after the night's rain and they were not the only persons who were glad that rain had really arrived at last.

On Monday about noon the long dry spell that has caused so much trouble in this part of the country was broken by a gentle rain. Before this the ground had been baked into a hard cake that put no nourishment into the grass or flowers at all. Wells and streams were dry, causing all kinds of inconveniences and danger and damage. Fire for six weeks had been destroying the valuable timber lands to the north and keeping the farmer continually on the lookout. In other places hay had been burnt and trees uprooted by the fire working underground.

The rain kept coming on harder and on Tuesday morning when it stopped, it had soaked the soil for four or five inches down, enabling the farmers to plow and causing the grass to look green. It filled wells, rain barrels and creeks, that had been dry for weeks, and best of all, it washed the frown off the farmer's face that people had expected would never come off.

Although there has not been near enough rain to soak the ground as it should be, it has nevertheless filled the farmers heart with hope as they had begun to wonder if it really could rain.

It stopped a lot of fire, although a few which cannot do any damage for the present, continue to burn and the people are thankful.

Mrs. Chapman, who left for Toronto on Monday morning where she will reside in the future was tendered a reception on Friday night last by the members of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's church at the residence of Rev. Mrs. Caplan.

Mrs. Chapman was presented with a silver fern bowl and beautiful cut glass fruit dish. The large number present wished Mrs. Chapman a happy time in her new home and hoped that she would soon return to visit her many friends.

Mr. Chapman, who is now running out of Toronto on the C.P.R. was here last week moving his household effects. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman and Messrs. HE FELL TO DEATH

Two Men at Ottawa Fought Over Girl and One is Killed.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—An extraordinary affair occurred to-night as a result of which, D. D. Reardon, a driver for the Electric Transfer Company, is dead, and Thomas Fox, a laborer, residing at 64 Percy street, is dying. It seems that both men were paying attention to the same girl, whose identity for the present is unknown.

Reardon was walking with the young lady to-night on Ashburnham Hill, at the extreme end of Laurier avenue west, in the vicinity of St. Jean Baptiste church, where the roadway abruptly terminates at a sharp, rocky point, fully forty feet above the street level. Fox had been following the couple, and, overtaking them, he got into an altercation with Reardon, which led to blows and a struggle, each man trying to throw the other over the cliff. The result was that both men went over, Reardon falling on the jagged rocks, with Fox on top of him. Reardon's skull was crushed in, and Fox's injuries are of such a nature that he is not likely to recover.

When the men commenced fighting the girl in the case, who is reputed to be very pretty, and with many admirers, ran home.

The grist mill of J. Whytock & Sons at Madoc was gutted by fire, and the loss is over $5,000.

BORDEN'S MEETINGS

Strenuous Day in Perth County.

Talks in Stratford, Listowel, Hanover and Durham---Gets Fine Reception.

Hanover, Oct. 2.—Though only one meeting was on the program for yesterday, Mr. Borden found it impossible to escape the task of addressing no less than four, in the ridings of North Perth and South Grey. He also was seen and acclaimed as he touched the fringe of North Wellington and South Bruce.

The day's work began immediately after breakfast at Stratford, where a meeting was held in the City Hall and later in the morning a rousing gathering was held at Listowel.

The afternoon meeting was in a stronghold of Liberalism, but in the way of interest and enthusiasm nothing was wanting.

At Listowel several hundred gathered at the depot at noon, although it was raining heavily. Mr. Borden was invited to address the meeting in the freight shed and this commodious building was crowded. Both Mr. Borden and Mr. Hanna spoke briefly. Benjamin Rothewell was chairman.

There was a short stop at Palmerston.

At Stratford, A. F. McLaren, the Conservative candidate, brought down to the depot at 8 o'clock in the morning the regimental band and several hundred people, and a procession was formed, Mr. Borden, Mr. Hanna and Col. Clark being escorted to the City Hall, J. J. Coughlin presided. Mr. Hanna made a strong protectionist speech. Col. Clark declared the Laurier Government was on the defensive. Mr. Borden declared that the Conservative platform, which had been characterized by Liberal papers, subsidized to the extent of six million dollars, as an insane policy, had been put to greater use than the Liberal platform of 1894. Why shouldn't the people of Canada manage their state-owned railways as they are managed in Australia and New Zealand? asked Mr. Borden, discussing the management of the Intercolonial.

At Hanover, in the riding of South Grey, Mr. Borden addressed a meeting, which was held during a drizzling rain in the agricultural hall. It was largely attended and enthusiastic and Mr. Borden was given a splendid reception.

Mr. Borden discussed the principle of protection, claiming that the fostering of home industries was bound to have a beneficial effect upon the development of the interests of the farming community. Passing from this to immigration, Mr. Borden mentioned Alfred Jury's characterization of the North Atlantic Trading Co.'s as "One of W. T. R. Preston's gold mines." This company was one of the "most gigantic and barefaced swindles" that had been uncovered up to the present.

Another meeting was held last night at Durham.

REARDON AT FAULT

Girl at Ottawa Says He Was Responsible for Fight.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—A warrant was issued by the police yesterday for the arrest of Thomas Fox on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the tragedy of Wednesday night, whereby David Reardon, assistant manager of the Electric Transfer Co. of Ottawa, lost his life. Further details of the quarrel between the two men show that, according to the story told by Ellena Williams, the girl in the case, Reardon approached her and Fox while they were sitting near the edge of the cliff behind the convent on Primrose avenue, and told Fox he was a private detective and the latter had better move on and do his courting in a less public place. Fox moved away, and Reardon, it is said, insulted the girl. Fox then came back and attacked Reardon. In the fight which followed both men fell over the cliff, which at this point is forty feet high. Reardon was almost instantly killed, but Fox, who is 33 years of age, and an employe of the Laurentide Mica Co., escaped with a compound fracture of the right arm and a few bruises. He is now in the hospital. The girl is an English immigrant, and is being held by the police as a witness.

Hamilton's Population.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—The official returns were given out by Assessment Commissioner McLeod last evening. They show that the population of Hamilton is now 66,967, or an increase of 2,909 over last year.

One Was Shot.

Trenton, Oct. 2.—In a row between negro and Italian laborers at Frankford, in which the Italians claim they were set upon to be robbed, one negro sustained a slight bullet wound and another was cut.

Cuba Wants Canadian Potatoes.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 2.—A Cuban merchant, Bartole Quig, of Havana, is in New Brunswick looking for potatoes, and will likely visit Prince Edward Island.

Above will be found a summarized statement of some of the principal features of the assessors' rolls which have been handed over to City Clerk Armstrong. The assessors, Messrs McGrath and McGregor have completed their work with the exception of a few minor details. The total assessment shows an increase of $84,500 over last year but of course it has still to be revised. Last year a big slice was taken off by the Court of Revision the largest in the history of the city. It is not likely that the reduction this year will be so large. The population shows an increase of 491 over 1907, which is larger than many expected.

It is impossible to make any comparisons regarding the population and assessments of the different wards, with the figures of 1907 as the boundaries of the wards have been changed since the last assessment was taken. The taxation is levied upon the assessment on taxable real property, business assessment and income assessment. The assessment on the three sections mentioned this year totals $9,137,818. The assessment on the same last year after the Court of Revision had completed its work was $8,552,105.

A HEALTHY WARD.

An interesting feature in connection with the assessment is that there were only three deaths in the South Ward during the year, while the number of births was the greatest, thirty-nine. From this it would appear that the South Ward is the healthiest locality. Ashburnham comes next with five deaths and 31 births. The largest number of deaths was in the North Ward, 19. LOST A PURSE IN OTONABEE RIVER

Pocketbook Blew Out of a Woman's Hand on Bridge This Morning

A lady going across the Otonabee bridge this morning had the misfortune to lose her pocketbook containing a large sum of money. She was walking along when the purse was blown out of her hand into the river. She watched it floating down the river for some distance. One of the employees on the dredge went out in a boat to try and get it, but failed.

CREIGHTON TO DIE DEC. 3RD JURY FINDS HE IS GUILTY

After Two Hours's Deliberation Slayer of Wife and Step-Daughters is Adjudged Sane and Responsible for Deed—Justice Riddell Agrees With Verdict.

Owen Sound, Oct. 2.—The result of the trial of James Farish Creighton, who was accused of having on the 26th of May last murdered his wife and two step-daughters, is that, unless he obtains a reprieve he will be executed on Thursday Dec. 3.

He was found guilty by the jury after two hours' deliberation and sentence was pronounced upon him at 8.30 last night.

Justice Riddell in passing sentance said that the accused had been guilty of one of the most atrocious crimes known to law. The prosecution had been fairly conducted and the defence brilliantly and skilfully conducted. No stone had been left unturned, no research had been too much, to bring forth anything which would assist the prisoner in his defence. But it was plain that no twelve honest men could have found a different verdict.

The prisoner's career in this world would probably be short. He could hold out no hopes of clemency. He would not, he ought not to say that there was any hope for him in this world. In the short time that was left to the prisoner he could adjure him to prepare for the next world. While there was no hope for mercy or pity here, there was no chance of mercy being refused if he sought it at the proper place.

The judge then put on the black cap and sentenced the prisoner to be executed on Thursday, Dec. 3.

The prisoner, on receiving sentence, broke down completely, and had to be practically carried out of the court by his guards.

FIELDING WON'T TALK SCANDAL AYLESWORTH ATTACKS FOSTER

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Hon. W. S. Fielding reviewed the business policy of the Laurier administration in Massey Hall last night. The speakers generally repudiated the campaign of abuse and slander.

"You hear something about someone paying two cents a pound more for tobacco on an Arctic expedition, or something of that sort, but you hear nothing of the story of the splendid progress of Canada," said Mr. Fielding, referring to the speeches of the Conservative leaders.

"In the game of politics — a noble game as long as properly played—there is a rule laid down for guidance," remarked Mr. Fielding. "Find out what your opponents want you to do—and then don't do it."

"The Conservatives wanted them to discuss scandals and he proposed to stick to the achievements of the Laurier Government. No charge of corruption had yet been levied against any member of the Laurier administration," he repeated amid cheers. He repudiated the spoils system and lauded that "grand, clean Canadian, Sir Wilfrid," and took credit for the fact that men of different creeds and races came together and lived in peace and harmony in Canada. The east had formerly cared for the west, and now he thought the farmers of the west should consider the manufacturers of the east. The French and other treaties and the preferential tariff were shown by statistics to have contributed to the welfare of trade, and the tariff was asserted to be 2 per cent. lower than in 1896.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's address was rather well padded out after Mr. Fielding's able address to hold the audience, which slowly melted away. He had a good reception, however, and spoke without any evidence of ill-health. He was the only speaker to indulge in personalities and his assault on Hon. Mr. Foster was only of a general character.

MOREHOUSE'S COMET

Morehouse's comet couldb e observed last night. It was at a right ascension fo ,21 hours, 7 minutesand a declination of 7 degrees. It will be about 18 degrees above the north star to-night at 9 o'clock, but Dr. Marsh states it will be too faint to be seen with a field glass. A three inch telescope will permit the observer to see it.

A FAMOUS INVENTOR OF TELESCOPES TO SPEAK HERE

Mr. W. R. Warner, of Cleveland, the inventor of world's greatest telescopes, Yerkes and Lick, is coming to Peterborough on November 17 when he will deliver an address under the auspices of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Peterborough Centre A large hall is being arranged for in order that the public may have the opportunity of hearing this widely known man speak.

The Royal Astronomical Society is to be congretulated upon being able to get him to come here and it is expected that a general interest will be manifested by the Peterborough people. Owing to his long research into matters astronomical and his wide knowledge Mr. Warner will give an address of a very interesting nature.

MANY LIBERALS WILL MARK THEIR BALLOTS FOR SEXSMITH

A rousing meeting was held last night in the hall at Stewart's, Otonabee. Although the locality has always been regarded as Liberal over 150 were in attendance at the meeting and the criticisms by the different speakers of the mal-administration of the Laurier government were greeted with applause.

Mr. Frank Kitney was chairman and expressed himself as pleased with the prospects of a change at Ottawa. It was badly needed.

Besides Mr. Sexsmith, the speakers were Mr. E. A. Peck and Col. J.W. Miller.

Mr. Peck, dealt largely with the financial standing of the country. He charged the government with wasteful expenditure of the public money, showing the great increase in expenditure since 1896 when the Liberals came into power, an increase that was far from being justified by the revenue. Mr. Peck made a very strong case and was given an excellent hearing.

Col. Miller arraigned the government for its broken promises. Much had been promised in 1896 but little had been done. The Conservatives had a policy and if given the reins of power would carry out their promises as they had done in the parliament of Ontario

Mr. Sexsmith was given an enthusiastic reception and gave a fine address. He took up the immigration question very fully and showed how Canada was being filled with an undesirable clas sof settlers on account of the lax methods regarding immigration.

It is confidently expected that Mr Sexsmith will have a majority at Stewart's, which in the past has been a Liberal stronghold.

TELEPHONE SERVICE FOR A SECTION OF OTONABEE

Another meeting was held in the Union Hall, Stewart's Settlement, Otonabee, last night regarding the proposed telephone service between that part of the township and Peterborough city.

Mr. Doan, local manager of the Bell Telephone Co., and Mr. Hill, one of the company's inspectors, were present, and Mr. Hill outlined the proposed scheme to give Otonabee a telephone service. A large number were present and the project was looked upon very favorably. A committee was appointed to take steps to form a company and go ahead with the matter. The committee consists of Messrs. Bruce Savigny, chairman; Melville Stewart, Wm. Stewart, E. Doyell and O. Giles.

ASHBURNHAM BOY ALMOST DROWNED THIS MORNING

While playing at Burnham's Point this morning, little Freddie Hunt, of Ashburnham, had a very narrow escape from drowning in the Otonabee. Some of the earth on the bank of the river gave way and he went in over his head. A teamster, who was working near by, heard him shouting for help and pulled him out as he was coming up for the second time.

The little fellow, who is only six years of age, was very much frightened and was chilled to the bone.

ITALIAN WAS DISCHARGED

Proven That Man Arrested was Not One Who Did Stabbing at Fenelon Falls

Special to the Review.

Lindsay, Oct. 2.—Vito Spino, an Italian, who was charged with stabbing a fellow countryman, Patzi Marcoreti, at Fenelon Falls some weeks ago, was discharged by Judge Harding to-ay, after a lengthy trial. It was proven that Spino was not the man who did the stabbing, and that the real culprit mingled with the crowd at the time and escaped.

The injured man got out of the hospital only the other day, a long gash having been inflicted in his stomach.

Alf Dunlop, of Montreal, was reelected president of the Architectural Institute of Canada.

The Simon Fraser monument at New Westminster was unveiled yesterday.

EXPRESS WRECKED

C. P. R. Train Plunged Into Freight.

Engineer is Killed and Two Others Injured in Wreck at Mimico.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Through the neglect, supposedly, of an oprator, Nicholas Taggart, or McTaggart, the C.P.R. express, Hamilton bound, dashed into an open switch at Mimico last evening and crashd into a G.T.R. shunting engine.

Th collision brought instant death to the C.P.R. engineer, Wm. Quinn, of West Toronto, while his fireman, Willis Jarvis, also of the suburb city, is now in the Western Hospital in a serious condition with a broken and scalded legs.

Jarvis was held in the wreckage for some time. He was suffering the excruciating pain, and to relieve the suffering Dr. Godfrey, M.P.P., pluckily crawled twice into the debris and administer an anaesthetic.

The operator could not be found after the accident. One report has it that last night was his first on the job, but this an official denies, and says he has been on that duty for a fortnight. He came from Teeswater.

It is claimed that Taggart (or McTaggart) acting as a sort of combination switchman, operator and yardman, and stationed some 200 yards from the scene of the wreck, left the switch open and the express took to the siding on which G.T.R. engine 931 happened to be. The impact sent the latter engine 250 yards along the track while the shock threw Quinn from his cab a distance of some 20 feet. His skull was fractured and he died instantly.

The fireman, though suffering intensely, displayed signal heroism. Between his cries of pain, he directed those without how to release him. Every effort was made to break into the collapsed cab, and finally the wreckage was pulled away.

The screams of the fireman were agonizing and Dr. Forbes Godfrey crawled in through the narrowed window of the engine cab and gave a hyperdermic injection to the fireman's leg, which lay roasting against the firebox. The screams continued and again the doctor made the dangerous trip in through the clouds of escaping steam to the suffering man and administered an anaesthetic.

INQUEST OPENED

Into Death of Stratford Women.

Who Was Brutally Assaulted by Tramp---Post-Mortem Performed.

Stratford, Oct. 2.—The post-mortem in the case of Mrs. William Peak who was murdered on Wednesday, revealed that the victim had been ravished after she had been done to death. There was no evidence of death from strangulation, death being rather due to shock.

The theory that the negro, Roghmond, her alleged assailant, is partially insane is discredited at the jail, where during twenty days' imprisonment, he gave evidence of being a remarkably shrewd chap and chatted intelligently.

He carried on a running conversation in French occasionally. He claims to have hailed from Three Rivers, Que.

Feeling against the prisoner, who is now locked up at the county jail, is running high.

Blind Pigs Raided.

Cobalt, Oct. 2.—Provincial License Inspector George E. Morrison, together with Chief Calbeck and assistants and Inspector Blackwell, made a thorough round of the highways here Wednesday afternoon, and the result is 27 "blind pigs" in the toils. About a dozen keepers and frequenters spent the night in the cells. Eleven cases have so far been dealt with. Fines of $75 to $100 and costs for each offence were imposed.

Bad Fire at Bradford.

Bradford, Ont., Oct. 2.—About 3 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the John Hill Carriage Works and spread rapidly, so that the buildings and contents are a total loss. Adjoining dwellings, owned by W. B. Scott, R. McKintry and Harry Parler, with all outbuildings, were also destroyed. The total loss is $10,500, with partial insurance. It is not known how the fire originated.

British Cruiser Refloated.

Portsmouth, Oct. 2.—The British cruiser Gladiator, on which salvagers have been at work ever since she was sunk April 25 off the Isle of Wight by the liner St. Paul, was refloated yesterday afternoon. The cruiser will be docked here. The work of salvaging her has cost between $250,000 and $300,000. Many experts are of the opinion that the vessel can never be used again.

MR. AMES AND MR. FRASER

Coincident with the announcement that Mr. Ames, M.P., will be in Ottawa a fortnight hence to exhibit the cinematograph record of Mr. Argus Fraser's timber limit deals, rumor has become very insistent that the English speaking Liberal candidate purposes to take to the tall timbers and abandon the fight. In order to cover his retreat and save the face of the local Liberal association, it is announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not stand for Mr. Fraser being a candidate in this riding. This is hardly complimentary to either Mr. Fraser or the association who selected him as a candidate but it is the best excuse which can be put up under the circumstances. But Mr Fresar declares or his personal following declares for him, that he won't stand for a freeze out. At the same time he finds himself in the uncomfortable position of being between Mr. Ames, M.P., and the deep sea of political oblivion. If he steps down and out ostensibly at the demand of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he must confess himself a really very undesirable personage. His sense of injustice must be aggravated by the spectacle of various other candidates upholding the milk white flag of Liberalism in various other constituencies whose grafting operations have been on a far larger and more extensive scale, not excluding members of Sir Wilfrid's own cabinet. We can easily imagine that Mr Fraser would object to playing the little Tommy Peastcakes to Sir Wilfrid's Pied Piper in a political version of De Wolf Hopper's play with this sophisticated Capital in the role of the City of Innocence. It may be possible that his naughtiness has given Sir Wilfrid a pain, but there are others. On the other hand Mr. Ames is approaching with his X-ray and we can appreciate Mr. Fraser's attitude of standing with reluctant feet in a torment of indecision whether to run for the constituency or the tall timbers. Altogether the situation of our political opponents in Ottawa must be highly undesirable and uncomfortable, and whatever the solution of the complication may be, it is a foregone conclusion that, with a solid and well organized Conservative party and a disgruntled and disorganized Liberal machine, the event in Ottawa is a foregone conclusion. Should Mr. Fraser be forced into retirement, as Mr. Stewart has been, their respective followings are going to be antagonized against the candidate who may be preferred against them on account of his spotless virtue; and even the Liberal association will not feel too enthusiastic after being subjected to such a snub.—Ottawa Citizen.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

The question of great importance in the Province of Ontario shortly before the Ross Government was turned out of office was, "Where did the money come from?" Mr. J. R. Stratton knew, but did not answer. The people answered the question for themselves. Mr. Stratton retired from public life. Mr. Ross, after a short term as leader of the Opposition, found refuge in the Senate. A new era dawned with Mr. Whitney's accession, and Ontario now enjoys honest Government. Why not bring about a similar result at Ottawa?

The alarming increase in the public debt, and the undisputed fact that Mr. Fielding's gross estimates for 1908-9 amount to $168,000,000 notwithstanding that Canada's revenue is just now falling at the rate of $20,000,000 per annum, suggests another question of far greater and more general importance, "Where does the money go?"

In 1896 Sir Wilfrid Laurier used these words: "I promise you that that if you put our party into power we will reduce the annual expenditure by two or three million dollars per annum;" and Sir Richard Cartwright was won't to say that it was a disgrace and a shame to the Conservative Government that they should ask for an expenditure of $38,000,000 a year for Federal purposes.

It is fair to take the Department of Marine and Fisheries as an example of all the other departments, because that department has lately received special attention from Messrs. Courtney, Fyshe, and Basin in their report on the Civil Service. It should never be forgotten that these gentlemen are all strong Liberals. These Commissioners find that the only purpose which seems to actuate the Marine and Fisheries Department is "that of spending as much money as possible. Zeal for economy and good management is not visible. There is not only a lack of efficient organization and method in the Department, but there would seem to be an utter lack of conscience."

The report directly charges the officials of the Department with assisting supporters of the government to get better prices from the Government than they could get from anybody else. "In other words, some of the Government's officers are serving two masters, and apparently succeeding with both—scripture notwithstanding."

George T. Merwin had, previous to 1908, been selling supplies to the Marine Department, and apparently enjoyed all the patronage that was dealt out in the class of supplies sold nearly $1,000,000 of goods to the Department, but when Conservative members asked for particulars of the transaction the Liberal majority burked the inquiry, and Merwin was excused from answering questions to show his profits. It subsequently appeared however, that Merwin paid in Montreal something over $11,000 for supplies which he sold to the Marine Department for over $18,000 making as his rake-off over $6,000—over 50 per cent profit. It is manifest that the Department could have bought the supplies just as cheaply as Merwin bought them. It is this sort of thingthing that explains why for every dollar spent by the Marine and Fisheries Department during the last year of Conservative rule, over four dollars is now spent by Mr. Brodeur and his staff.

Can anybody of sense doubt what this means? Is it not perfectly plain that the people of Canada are being robbed, and that their money has gone, and will go still if they do not bestir themselves, to fatten the hungry hordes of party followers who are Liberals for revenue only, and to secure their votes to perpetuate this iniquitous system of graft?

THE COMMISSION'S REPORT

On page 163 of the Civil Service Commission's report we find the following:

"March—18—L. M. S. Company have shipped to British Columbia one No. 3 1-2 automatic gas and bell buoy for spare. We have notified Capt. Gaudin of this shipment.

The department is evidently determined to make the B.C. agency a dumping ground for all the buoys Willson can wheedle them into buying, whether they are wanted or not."

It is impossible to ignore the caustic references of the Commission to the way in which our money is spent, to the manifest interest of gangs of people who are feeding on the body politic like wolves on a stricken deer. It must be remembered that there is no going behind such a comment as that in parenthesis in the above extract on p. 163 of the Report. The Commissioners are all Liberals. If any excuse could be found for the "loose" methods of those concurring and assisting in the looting of the public treasury it would be found. The whole report is a scathing condemnation. Why then, pray, does Sir Wilfrid ignore it?

EDITORIAL NOTES

The editor of the Globe, still writing over his own signature, accepts the statement of Editor Willison of the News as a triumphant vindication and turns from expressions of satisfaction at the completeness thereof to hurl such endearing epithets as "coward," and "slanderer" at Premier Roblin. Meanwhile, the Globe editorially or through its proprietors has not a word to say in its own defense. —Ottawa Citizen.

When the Ontario government's hydro-electric policy was announced, the Liberals scoffed at the idea that it would ever go into force. When the Ontario Government pledged itself to reduce the cost of school books, the Liberals who had been allowing their grafting friends to rob the parents of the school children of the province predicted that the reduction in price would never take place, and when it did take place, that it would only last a short time. The children of Ontario are getting cheap school books, and now it is announced that the Minister of Education has signed a contract for copy books which will be sold at two cents, as compared with the former price of seven cents, and will be of superior quality. The children of Ontario use 150,000 of these books per year, so that this one act alone will save the parents of these children $7,500 per year. That amount, through the connivance of the former Liberal government in Ontario, was taken out of the pockets of the parents of our children as an item of graft for the political friends of the Ross government, and the item of copy books is probably one of the smallest in connection with the school expenses of the children of Ontario — Ottawa Citizen.

"Neither my voice nor my course of policy shall be changed."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sorel, Sept. 5, 1908.

IN THE ARENA OF POLITICS

Messrs. R. A. Mulholland, H. A. Ward, M.P., J. J. Preston, M.L.A., and C. J. Thornton, went to Peterborough, Toronto and Bowmanville, to attend Borden's and Bowser's meetings.—Port Hope Times.

What does the Grit party think of the Fraser timber limit deal where the Ottawa Grit politician got a timber limit for $1,650 which he sold later on for $100,000. Is that a square and honest deal to the people, the real owners of the timber. — Brockville Times.

The Goderich Star, speaking of the decorations used at Clinton on the occasion of Laurier's recent visit, says;—

"The decorations were pretty partizan property, paid out of party funds, the most of which were removed Wednesday afternoon and shipped to Berlin or elsewhere to do further party service."

The privilege of catching a limited supply of fish for their own use, recently granted the farmers of the Bay of Quinte district, was secured by Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., who already in more ways than one showed that the electors made a wise choice when they placed him at the head of the polls at the recent election.—Belleville Intelligencer.

George Taylor, chief Conservative whip, is confident that R. L. Borden will have a majority of 40 in the next House. He estimates that the Opposition will carry 19 seats in Quebec, 66 in Ontario, 9 in New Brunswick, 9 in Nova Scotia, 4 in Prince Edward Island, 8 in Manitoba, 8 in Alberta and Saskatchewan combined, 6 in British Columbia, and 1 in the Yukon.

WERE LOCKED IN CHILLY PRISON

Stockton Society Ladies Not Garbed for Experience in Refrigerator

Stockton, Cal., Oct. 2.—Eleven women of Stockton's younger society set are thawing out to-day after a two hours sojourn in an immense refrigerator. The young ladies had been invited to attend a party at Mrs. W. H. Chestnut Woods, whose husband is stewart at the state hospital. Miss Ada Bell Wing, sister of Mrs. Chestnut Woods, piloted an expedition into the refrigerator to remove several water melons, which were to be served at the luncheon.

When the girls were inside of the refrigerator, selecting the luscious melons, an attache of the hospital passed the door of the ice box and closed it without knowing of the presence of anyone within. The girls at first thought that some one was playing a practical joke on them, but after remaining in the ice box for a few minutes they began to become chilled, as they were dressed in summer apparel. Nine of the girls became frantic, but fortunately two of them were sufficiently self-possessed to spend the two hours in beating a tattoo on the door of the refrigerator. When finally Mrs. Chestnut Woods missed her fair guests, a search was made and in passing the refrigerator, the pounding on the door was heard.

The girls were soon released from their chilly prison, very cold and badly frightened

TO RESIDE IN PETERBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove of Millbrook Coming to This City

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Snelgrove and children left town last week to take up their residence in Peterborough. Mr. Snelgrove has carried on a successful bakery and confectionery business for some years, but owing to failing health he decided to sell out and rest awhile before entering into business again. He was desirous of remaining in Millbrook, but could not get a residence, and he decided to move to Peterborough, where he has purchased a good house. Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove will be greatly missed in the active work of the Methodist church and S. S. Mrs. Snelgrove was a very active member of the Ladies Aid. The C.O.F. will lose a good officer by the departure of Mr. Snelgrove.—Millbrook Mirror.

AFTERNOON TEA BY KING'S DAUGHTERS

Was Well Attended Yesterday Afternoon—Model Sketch in Clay of Late Mrs. Nicholls, Much Admired

Yesterday afternoon, the tea room in the old Bank of Montreal building was opened, a large number of ladies availing themselves of the opportunity to enjoy some light refreshments while down town. The tea is held from four to six o'clock each afternoon during the fall and winter months. It is conducted by the King's Daughters of St. John's church, who have always been noted for their many acts of charity throughout the city. The proceeds derived from these teas will be donated to the relief of deserving families in Peterborough.

The ladies of this splendid organization are to be greatly commended for the grand work they are undertaking.

The model sketch in clay of the late Mrs. Nicholls, the work of Miss, Wal'-tenday and many of the older res-is, sculpturess, was on exhibition yes-dents of Peterborough who knew Mrs Nicholls, recognized in the model, her features and character.

HORSES KILLED ON THE TRACK

Struck by Fast Express Between Lindsay and Janetville

Millbrook, October 1. — Dr. Alf. Russell of Baillieboro, was driving to town on Saturday and, on coming down Allen's hill, his horse began to kick. To avoid being injured, the doctor jumped from the rig, and the horse ran against and broke through Coun. Needham's fence. About thirteen dozen eggs, which the doctor was bringing home, were smashed. The doctor fortunately escaped with very slight injuries, considering the terrible wreckage of the vehicle, and it is well that he didn't have his wife and child with him in the buggy.

DEPUTATION FOR LINDSAY

Peterborough Men Will Inspect Ozone Filtration Plant in That Town

Lindsay, October 1—According to a letter received by Mr. Ray, secretary of the Water Commission, from City Clerk Armstrong, of Peterborough, a deputation is being arranged for in that city to visit Lindsay as soon as the ozone filtration plant is ready, for the purpose of inspecting it.

It will be remembered that previous to the installation of the local plant Mr. Bridge went to Peterborough and brought the matter up before the Board there. They assured him that his system would receive due consideration before they made a change in their present plant. The commissioners of that city seem to be very much interested in the ozonizing process and no doubt will follow Lindsay's example and be the next municipality to instal the system.

"KING AND QUEEN OF THE HARVEST"

Entertainment Repeated to Large Audience at S. A. Barracks Last Evening

The Salvation Army barracks were again crowded last evening on the occasion of the second presentation of the harvest home entertainment by the juniors. The little piece entitled the "King and Queen of the Harvest," was repeated by special request and was greeted with vociferous applause. Little Willie Leaman and Elsie Northcote took the parts of King and Queen, admirably.

Staff Capt. Gordon occupied the chair and opened the proceedings in a few well chosen remarks. The other numbers on the programme were:

Cornet solo—Mr. Wm. Ford.
Trombone solo—Mr. B. Moynes.
Vocal solo—Miss Leaman.
Recitation—"The Veteran's Corner," Mr. F. Gray.

DEMONSTRATION OF COOKING LAST EVENING

At the Y. W. C. A. Many Ladies Witnessed Miss Johnston's Practical Work

Most successful and entertaining was the cooking demonstration last evening by Miss Johnston, of Rochester, N.Y., at the YWCA. The one hundred or more ladies who attended no doubt went away feeling farther advanced in their education of domestic science. Miss Johnston is a graduate of Mechanics' Institute, Rochester, and the cooking classes under her direction will be well conducted and her pupils will be carefully instructed in the art of cooking.

Her demonstration last evening, consisted of the making of maple cream candy prepared in the chafing dish and the preparation of cocoled eggs. A table prettily arranged with salads and other choice eatables, was put up by Miss Johnston.

Mrs. Roger in well chosen remarks introduced Miss Johnston, who afterwards proceeded with her demonstration.

Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe and Mrs. Sutcliffe of Manchester, England, who are visiting in the city, were present, and Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe made a few remarks. Miss McCaffa, the new general secretary also spoke a few words. A splendidly executed piano solo was given by Miss Gladys Seward. Miss Lillian Rush acted as pianiste for the evening.

Each one present was given a piece of Miss Johnston's candy. The evening closed with the National Anthem.

JUBILEE HOTEL HAS BEEN CLOSED

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Returned to the City Last Evening — A Successful Season

The Jubilee Point hotel was closed for the season last night and Mr. and Mrs. John Gilman have returned to the city. Mr. Gilman reports having a very successful season, the hotel being filled throughout the whole summer. Jubilee is becoming more popular each year. A large number of Americans were there this last summer and three came up with Mr. Gilman last night. They would have stayed longer had not Mr. Gilman decided to close the hotel.

The fishing at Jubilee Point was exceptionally good and many fine catches were made. September was too warm for duck shooting, Mr. Gilman remarked, but this month the shooting of ducks ought to be excellent.

BEAR HUNT AT A DOURO FARM

Bruin was in Orchard But Got Away From Prospective Captors

On Wednesday evening of last week an exciting bear hunt took place near Mr. H. Abbott's farm in Douro. Two young men were out at the farm in question that evening, and hearing a suspicious noise in the orchard, went out to investigate. They found evidence that a bear had been in the orchard only a few minutes before and returned to the house to arm themselves. One procured a garden rake and the other a pick-axe, while the owner of the house procured a lantern. Off they started after bruin but unfortunately the animal had secured a good start and they were unable to track him down owing to the darkness. Judging by the size of the tracks on the road, the bear was a very large one.

HAS BOUGHT BUSINESS

Mr. G. W. Sayles, of Peterborough, has purchased the bakery and confectionary business of Mr. W. Snelgrove, and has engaged a first class baker, Mr. W. Foy, who has no superior as an all round baker.— Millbrook Reporter.

ROORBACKS.

The ways of election time are often peculiar. Mr. Burnham received a warning recently that it was being said of him that he spent two-thirds of his time in bowling alleys; also that he was in favour of prohibition; also that he was a "whiskey swigger." There will probably be more of this sort of thing, no doubt, gradually increasing in violence as the campaign proceeds and gets more precarious for the other side. However, Mr. Burnham is afraid of nothing that can be said about his public, or for that matter, his private character and rather enjoys the rumors that are set afloat, than otherwise. People are not to be caught by roorbacks nowadays. There was a time when eleventh hour shockers played havoc with a candidate, but they are so often merely malicious and foundationless lies that the public demands time for reply. It is a bit cowardly, however, to circulate privately what the circulators are afraid to say openly, and it is judged accordingly.

IMPROVEMENT AT THE MARKET

New Sidewalk Has Been Laid and is Splendid Piece of Work

The new granolithic sidewalk around the market square is almost completed. It will all be laid this afternoon and everything will be ready for to-morrow's market. The work was done under the foremanship of Mr. J. Thirnbeck and is being pronounced on all sides a splendid piece of work. Rapid progress was made and no doubt the improvement will be greatly appreciated by all who visit the market.

EXPERT SLACK WIRE WALKER

Prof. Cogan Gave Exhibition To-day—Will also Perform To-night

Professor Octavius Charles Cogan gave his first exhibition of slack wire walking this afternoon on a wire erected just to the south of J. J. Turner's tent factory. A large number gathered to witness the man with the South African giant beard do his stunts. He walked up and down the wire several times, but will do several miraculous feats to-night. He will be here for several days.

LOCAL ARTISTS AT LAKEFIELD

The concert given under the auspices of the King's Daughters' Mission Band of the Presbyterian church, in the town hall on Wednesday evening, was a most gratifying success, the hall being well filled with an appreciative audience. Miss Reesor and Miss Choate made a very favorable impression, and their singing and playing delighted the audience.—Lakefield News.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Special to the Review.

New York, October 2— The early trading was very dull with about the only feature among the rails Rock Island preferred which was very firm. There was a sharp upward movement in Canadian preferred and a few other industrials. Very good buying took place in the Harriman stocks and they scored a general advance and short covering was very evident. London did an unexpectedly large amount of selling in this market in the early dealings, disposing of at least 20,000 shares, principally Harriman and Steel stocks. Commission houses, especially those with western connections were liberal buyers today. The buying appears to be growing more aggressive, and we look for this manipulation to carry the active stocks several points higher, but in such event would advise profit taking on long stock. The closing was strong at nearly the best of the day.

POLITIAL NOTES

This reminds us of a conversation overheard by a friend sojourning in Australia. An old Swede was holding forth to a crowd of his chums, all gold miners. When I first landed in this country, said Oley, boastfully, I'd scarcely a rag to me back; an' look at me now, I'm covered wid 'em.

The fact that election day is also wash day augurs well for Canada. The electorate will make a clean-up of the grafters.

"The announced retirement of Mr A. W. Fraser as Liberal candidate in Ottawa is a recognition of public feeling. If this is the work of Sir Wilfrid Laurier he has shown himself at least an astute politician and a ready reader of citizen opinion. But he should visit some other constituencies outside of the Capital. He ought to have his attention called to the fact that Burrows and Turriff are still running in the West, that J. R. Stratton has been exhumed to bear the Liberal banner in Peterborough, that H. R. Emmerson is to the fore in New Brunswick, that Sir Frederick Borden is making the defence of his character a part of the Liberal platform in Nova Scotia There is plenty of room for house cleaning if he is minded to undertake the task."— Montreal Star.

"If Ottawa will not have Mr. Fraser what are we to say of the people who are judged willing to have Mr. Emmerson, Sir Frederick Borden or J. R. Stratton." —Montreal Star.

THE LIBERAL MACHINE

The frequency with which Liberal conventions are switching candidates, dropping the old and taking up the new, suggests the possibility that even the machine can feel that the people are beginning to think and that the man who can appeal to them with any show of confidence must have something better to command him than an unbroken record for voting with the government.—Ottawa Journal.

Gregory's sawmill at Lepreaux, N.B., was burned on Sunday.

Hamilton Canadian Club will banquet Lieut.-Governor Gibson.

COTTAGE PRAYER MEETING

The weekly cottage prayer meeting of Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will be held on October 8th, at the residence of Mr. John Michels, Otonabee.

ALL ABOUT THE RACE HORSES

Lindsay Warder Has Some Comment About Lindsay and Peterborough Steppers

The Lindsay Warder says; — A writer in the Peterborough Examiner recently scores the Warder for stating that the Peterborough race horses were never regarded with "fear and trembling" where horsemen congregate and maintained that the horses in that city had beaten Lindsay horses. The author of the letter was also piqued over the statement that George Powell had raised the level of the class or horses in Peterborough.

Just as it happens Orillia Belle the good old mare owned by George Powell, can beat anything in Peterborough at present. What does Dr. Johnson or anybody else in the Otonabee town own that can show its heels to her? In some way the old campaigner was done out of entering the race with Harry Direct and others during the last fair—a second or so put on the limit of the time over which the horses had to be marked before they could enter, and the Belle with a mark of 2.15 1.4, was ineligible. Rather queer, eh?

True, Hazel Belle beat Joe Allan and Dr. Mack last July, but when Joe Allan beat her time and again on the Peterborough track, too, it looks mighty funny. Lindsayites saw Hazel Belle go here last fall and her work did not cause a great deal of enthusiasm.

When Geo. Powell dropped into Peterborough last spring he had with him Orillia Belle, Togo, Lulu Chimes and City Queen, a bunch that would add to the racing reputation of any burg. However, the Warder isnt' Geo. Powell's champion.

To put in a word for Lindsay, there are few towns that have turned out such renowned horses. Their name is legion. At present there are a bunch of lively-looking young horses in town. Charlie O'Neill's Minnie G., Dr. Cowan's Harry K., Ab. Ashmore's Lou Keswick, a 3-year-old of Geo. Curtis', and several more. Can Peterborough show as good a string? We think not.

RUNNING

A ten-mile road race, under sanction of the C.A.A.U., will be held at Beaverton on October 7th. Prizes, a silver cup and three medals. Longboat, Sellen, Pierce and Cotter are down to start, along with about fifteen lesser lights, including Henry Jackson and Jimmy George (Indians), Robertson, Elliott, Martin and E. Reilly.

TRYING TO FORM A ROLLER TEAM

Jack Seymour at Head of Movement in Lindsay

Some time ago it was suggested that a roller hockey team be formed in Lindsay, and although nothing definite was done the question was discussed considerably in sporting circles. If such a club is going to be formed the boys want to get busy right away. The cold weather is upon us, and before a team can be formed properly, we will have ice. All those interested should see Jack Seymour, floor manager of the rink, and arrange with him for the first meeting.—Lindsay Free Press.

TEDDY'S PARTNER ON THE COAST

Captain Duncan Ross Heard of for First Time in a Long While—Duncan Well Known Here

Seattle, Oct. 2.—Duncan C. Ross, in his time one of the greatest athletes in the world, is now visiting Seattle on his way from Vancouver to San Francisco, where he has some property interests. Mr. Ross now makes his home in New York City, and this is his first visit to the coast in years.

Twenty years ago Ross was champion mixed style wrestler of the world, and he also has a trunk full of medals he won as a broadswordsman. He is now 63 years old and looks half that age. He has not a gray hair in his head and he has the color of a well-preserved man of 35. While here Mr. Ross would not be adverse to giving an exhibition with the broadsword if any man wants to tackle him.

So the omnipresent Duncan, who styled himself "the side partner of Teddy Roosevelt," is well known in Peterborough. He is somewhat of a four flusher and makes a much louder noise than either his accomplishments or ability as a wrestler warrant. He may be a good one with the boardsword, but no one in these parts knows a boardsword from a canthook; he didn't have a chance to scientilate. He was to have taken on George Gauthier to throw him three times in an hour in the days when "Geke" was a good 'un, but the match didn't take place. However, he staked up against a hay buyer in these parts, Wilson by name, and the said Wilson most inconsiderately blew out the captain's lamp of fame. The captain also blew out and has not been heard of since.

SEATS FOR BOUT

At the wrestling match on Friday night there will be 350 seats at 25 cents; 350 at 35 cents; 500 at 50 cents and 200 at 75 cents.

Mohl Here in Great Trim for His Match with Hurtubise—Both Are Eager for the Struggle—Preliminaries of Unusual Merit

Looking to be in the best condition he has been in for any of his matches here, Fritz Mohl arrived in the city from Buffalo this morning. He has wrestled two matches since his last match with Rogers in Peterborough, and won them both. The first was with Rooney of Chicago, and the second with Demetral, the well known Greek Graeco-Roman wrestler. His victory over Rooney was not unexpected, but when he beat Demetral in the easy fashion he did, it almost took the breath away from the spectators.

"What do you think of your chances to-night," the German champion was asked; to which he replied; "I think I should win;" but as Mohl is by no means of a boastful or talkative disposition, he wouldn't express himself further.

Hurtubise is aware that he is tackling a man who got a fall on Yankee Rogers when the two met in a Graeco-Roman match. However, he seems to think well of his chances and will go on to win. "If I win, I win, and if I lose, I lose," was Gene's philosophical summing up of the situation. "Such fine condition I never was in, in my life, as I am forthis bout. It is the go of a lifetime as far as I am concerned and I will put up an awful fight before I will let Mohl pin me."

THE ARTICLES

Memorandum of agreement between Fritz Mohl, of Buffalo, N.Y., and C. G. Graham, of Peterborough, Ont., dated this 26th day of September, 1908;

That a wrestling match between Gene Hurtubise and Fritz Mohl shall take place in the Brick street rink, Peterborough, Ont., on the second day of October.

The style to be catch-as-catch-can. Pin falls of THREE seconds to count. Strangle holds barred.

The terms upon which this match will be contested will be; If Mohl wins he is to receive 50 per cent. of the gross gate and if he loses, he shall receive 25 per cent. of the gross gate. T. G. Graham guarantees that 25 per cent shall equal $50.

FRITZ MOHL,
C. G. GRAHAM,
Mgr. Gene Hurtubise

THE PRELIMINARIES

The preliminaries to-night are certain to be much more interesting than any seen here for many moons. The one that is creating the most talk is the go between Tommy Daly of Brantford and Corney Burns of Peterborough. Daly arrived in the city last night and says he is in fine shape. He certainly looks the part. At the eleventh hour an additional boxing bout has been arranged with O'Toole and Patterson, the principals. They will mix it for three rounds. This gives three boxing bouts, the other one being between Geo. Lillie and Kid Turner. A preliminary wrestling bout of fifteen minutes will be pulled off between Ken. Morris and Fred Sullivan.

THE PROGRAMME

Three-round boxing bout, O'Toole vs. Patterson.

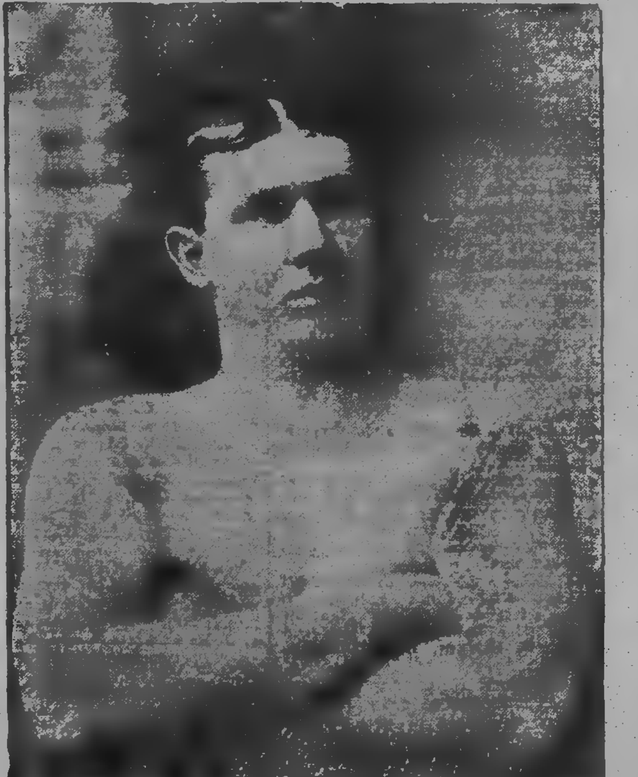
Main preliminary, 4-round boxing bout, Tommy Daly of Brantford, vs. Corney Burns of Peterborough.

The main bout, Fritz Mohl, champion of Germany, vs. Eugene Hurtubise, Canadian champion.

Mr. Geo. N. Graham will referee the preliminaries and A. C. Yokome, sporting editor of The Review, has been agreed upon to officiate in that capacity for the main bout.



FRITZ MOHL, CHAMPION OF GERMANY

Whose Bout with Hurtubise To-night will show just about what Gene's wrestling future will amount to.

SILVER MEDALS FOR BOYS' ATHLETIC COMPETITION AT PETERBORO' Y.M.C.A.

The Y.M.C.A. Business Boys played off their first game of basket ball last evening, R. Hutchinson's team winning both games. The line-up for the teams being Hutchinson, centre; W. Haste and R. Hunter, forward and Laing and W. Kerr playing defence.

The first game between Hutchinson's and E. Hamwell's resulted in a score of 4—2 in favor of Hutchinson's five. The winners then played A. McWilliam's team with the same result, 8—0; thus making two wins in one evening.

The boys are taking a great interest in the game and the same teams will line-up on Tuesday evening after class, being given up to the game.

BOY'S COMPETITION.

Every Thursday evening beginning on Oct. 8th, and running until Dec. 10th, a series of athletic events will be run off, one event each evening, for which silver medals have been donated for the first three boys making the highest number of points at the first of the events. The events are as follows:

Fifty yards, 220 yards, one mile, on the track.

Running high jump.
Running broad jump.
Standing high jump.
Standing broad jump.
Sixty yards potato race.
Fence vault.
Eight pound shot put.

This ought to give the boys a great chance to develope along this line and also awaken a spirit of friendly competition.

ST. ANDREWS RESORT TO SOME CHILDISH STATEMENTS

Peterborough are showing a very selfish disposition in the Ontario championship games with St. Andrews, winners of the Senior Amateur League of this city. It was arranged to play the first game in Peterborough, the second in Lindsay and if necessary a third in Cobourg. After the Saints performed in Peterborough, the latter refused to play in Lindsay, and wished all games to be played on their own sand pit. The Saints, like good sports, after losing the first to Peterborough, will go back a week from to-morrow and indeed it is hoped they will trim the moon sports good and proper.—Toronto World.

The World is sadly misinformed in printing the above, but it is quite easy to believe that any team that would mislead a newspaper by deliberately giving a score of 3—1, when it should have been 7—0, would almost resort to anything to put themselves in the most advantageous light. The playing spirit of the Potes is too well known to the citizens to believe that they are flunkers in any respect. The statement of the St. Andrews are absurd on face of them. A fuller explanation of the situation will be made in to-morrow's issue.

LADIES WILL WALK AGAIN

Toronto Newspaper Arranges Second Annual Walking Race for Fair Sex

The Star's ladies' walking race, which was the hit of the season last fall, will be followed up by another contest this season.

This year's race will be held on October 31, and the course will be between six and eight miles. Last year's course was from Dundas car barns, through High Park, and out to Lambton, via High Park avenue and Dundas street, returning over the same route. The distance was eight and one-quarter miles.

This year the course will be changed, and a loop will be substituted. Last year those who were distanced by the early speed of some of the lady contestants were much discouraged by meeting the leaders on the return journey when they were still some distance from the turning point.

Last year there were 102 official entries, eighty-four starters, and seventy-four finishers.

The race will be a walking contest—all contestants must utilize the true heel and toe walk, that is the heel of one foot and the toe of the other must always be upon the ground, and the knees must lock with each step. In other words, there must be no gliding, "goose trotting," hitching, or anything that is not a true walk. Competent judges will be in charge of the contest, and any contestant found progressing by anything else than a true walk will be twice warned and then asked to leave the course.

The distance will be from six to eight miles.

The course will be on the road.

It will take place Saturday, Oct. 31st, weather permitting.

ANNUAL SPORTS NEXT FRIDAY

The annual field day of sports of the Collegiate Institute will be held at Nicholls oval on Friday afternoon, October 9th. The jumps will take place on Wednesday, October 7th and the cross country run on Monday, October 5th.

THE RING

Boston, Oct. 1—Tommy Murphy, of New York, fought 12 rounds with Matty Baldwin, of this city, at the Armory A. C. last night, and at the end of the battle Referee Donnelly called the contest a draw although it seemed to the spectators as if the New Yorker was entitled to the decision. Murphy scored three knockdowns during the contest, but Baldwin did great work at close range fighting. Tommy scored his knockdowns in the eighth, tenth and eleventh rounds.

TURF

The track record was smashed at the Oshawa Exhibition last week, Van Woodruff's Johnny, driven by L. Johnson, of Brantford, ran a mile in 2.15, clipping 3 3-4 seconds from the record on the half-mile track.

"HE'S MARRIED NOW"

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 29.—"no wedding bells for the Tigers." That was Hughey Jenning's declaration today as he announced that Ty. Cobb may be benched. Hereafter any member of the Detroit ball club desirous of committing matrimony must not do so during the period he is under contract to play ball for Detroit.

Marriage and the accompanying honeymoon have no place in the baseball season. Jennings was moved to the suppression of matrimony during the playing season by the falldown of Ty Cobb.

Ever since his wedding this summer Tyrus has not taken the same interest in the game, and his batting has been steadily falling away.

SECRET SERVICE

While opinions may differ as to the efficiency of Government control of industry and commerce generally, one department has been discovered in which Government control has been remarkable for its activity and success. In this particular branch of commerce the zeal of the Government was not lessened by the fact that they had absolutely no competition. In it even the minor officials were thoroughly trained by an elaborate course of instruction, and competent authorities sent out from headquarters tested their fitness for their task by a regular system of competitive examinations. The department of ballot switching and vote buying, of which Mr. J. G. Pritchett was the able Deputy Minister, was distinguished from the Department of Marine and Fisheries by the capacity of its officials and the careful administration of its finances. When examined in regard to his work Mr. Pritchett in 1906 testified in the Toronto Police Court that in West Huron, West Elgin, Brockville, North Grey and other constituencies, he had carefully instructed deputy returning officers in the arts of ballot-switching, had arranged for the purchase of ballots at rock-bottom prices, had deliberately frustrated the will of the voters and robbed them of their rights. This man's powers of persuasion exceeded those of the greatest orators, for whenever he operated, life-long Conservatives voted Liberal, and Liberal members sat in Parliament to represent Conservative constituencies.

Mr. Pritchett was attended by unseen agents whither he went. He seems to have acquired the habit of searching under the bed upon entering his room, and no matter in what part of the country he found himself, his researches were rewarded by the discovery of bundles of bogus ballots (indispensible in his opinion to every well-furnished apartment) deposited by the invisible guardians of the interests of the Liberal party. This mysterious gift, appearing like the manna which sustained the ancient Israelites, gave new vigor to the Liberals fainting in the desert of popular disapproval, and enabled them to reach the Promised Land of Patronage and Power.

All the deputy returning officers did not succeed in qualifying as ballot-switchers. Mr. Pritchett demanded not only zeal and unscrupulousness, but also nerve and skill. The examinations were difficult; but the successful were rewarded by lucrative and easy positions. To experts Mr. Pritchett paid prices varying from a straight rate of five dollars per switched ballot to a bargain rate of fifteen dollars per twenty ballots according to the avarice of the deputy returning officer. By this system these patriotic gentlemen in some cases made over $100 by their day's devotion to Liberalism.

THE SALMON PACK.

Fraser River Will Produce 75,000 Cases This Year.

The pack of sockeye salmon on the Fraser river this season will be larger than that of last year. Of this there is no question in the minds of the cannerymen who are operating, but they state that the excess will not be great, probably between 10,000 and 20,000 cases; it might have been larger but for the fact that only a limited number of cans are available, and there is no tinplate on hand for the manufacture of other cans.

It is estimated that the pack of the Fraser this year will be approximately 75,000 cases of sockeyes. This pack will be put up by eight canneries. The total pack to Aug. 1 approximated 23,000. Last year the 22 canneries in operation only packed 60,000 cases of sockeyes, and there was no encouragement to many of the canners to operate this year, when an even poorer run was looked for.

A peculiar feature of the run of fish this year is the fact that many are smaller than usual. A prominent canner to-day accounted for this with the theory that in all probability the small sockeyes were three-year fish, being a small percentage of the great output of the hatcheries in 1905. The fish, while many of them are smaller than usual, are of a much finer quality than is generally the case.

The run of fish on the river a few days ago was better than at any previous time this season, and it is reported that the average catch per boat was in the neighborhood of 100 fish.

One reason for the expectation of a very poor run of sockeye this season was the fact that the hatcheries in 1904 only put out 9,400,000 fry. In 1905 the output was 97,600,000 fry, but these fish are not due to return to the Fraser till next season. It is possible that some of them became mixed in their dates and arrived this year—a theory which would account both for the improved run and the general smallness of the fish.

SHE GOT HER BEAR.

Prodded Him Out With Her Scissors, Then Tomahawked Him.

As for that grit of women—meaning Indian women—which has been celebrated in a well known book, there is a story in Fur News which is good evidence of their physical courage.

A dealer in skins tells of a squaw who was walking along on her snowshoes one day when her small boy saw a bear curled up under the snow in his winter sleep. She could not kill him where she was, so she lashing a pair of scissors to a sapling, prodded him out and smashed his head in with a tomahawk as he emerged.

"I gave her $10 for the skin," writes the dealer, "so it was not a bad morning's work. Another ingenious piece of hunting that I remember was accomplished by an Indian who found two moose in a yard—that is, the snow clearing which the animals make when the frosts are breaking up and the snow is too sharp and brittle for their comfort.

"He crept up and got the female with his tomahawk. The male was driven to fury and it was unsafe to approach him. The stroke of a hoof would have put the Indian out of business in close order.

"Having no gun, he improvised a bow and arrow from the trees, stuck a sharp file into the point of the arrow, made a bowstring with the laces of his moccasins, and shot the beast through the heart."

Where Was It Made.

A picture postcard showing the Stars and Stripes floating from the flagstaff in Queen's Park, Toronto, was found in the outgoing mail at the postoffice in the Parliament buildings recently by Major Joseph Beck, who reported the matter at once to the Attorney-General's Department. The card was being sent, it was stated, by a clerk in the building to a relative in Cleveland. Inquiry as to where the card was published discovered only the monogram "N. & Co." The card is similar to one of which a number of copies were held up two years ago, on which the U. S. flag was shown floating over the Toronto Armories. Those cards were found to have been manufactured in Germany, and as soon as the local dealers had their attention called to the matter they cancelled further orders. The Attorney-General's Department does not think any action can be taken unless by the Dominion postoffice authorities.

Did Prince Intercede?

So far as can be learned, there is no truth in the story emanating from Quebec that the Prince of Wales used his influence with Sir Wilfrid Laurier to procure the commutation of the death sentence pronounced upon Omer Rochette, the wife murderer.

The Quebec story is that during the prince's visit to Quebec he visited the seminary at St. Joachim, dining with the priests, among them being some of the faculty of Laval University.

It so happens that upon the Laval faculty is a man who married Rochette's sister, and it was whispered to the prince during the course of the entertainment that they would deem it a great favor if he would intercede for the murderer. This, it appears, he did, cabling his father the King, and the sentence of death was commuted to one of imprisonment for life.

Descendant of George III.

Col. Sir Augustus Charles Frederick Fitzgeorge, K. C. V. O., who recently visited Toronto at the King Edward Hotel, is a direct representative of English royalty. Sir Augustus is the third son of the late Duke of Cambridge, grandson of His Majesty George III. of pious memory, and cousin once removed to the late Queen Victoria and the present King. He is a man of very bright and original standing, and for years was the constant and faithful attendant of his father, the hard-working but choleric commander-in-chief of the British army for so many years.

HON. MR. FIELDING'S EXCUSE FOR THE COST OF THE G. T. P.

Says the Cost of Material Has Increased—Seems to Forget That This Statement Condemns His Own Policy—If a Free Trade Country is Not Cheap What Use is it?

The character of the Laurier Government as a business administration is beautifully illustrated by a comparison of the present estimated cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific with the statements made by Ministers when the contract was carried through the House, and with declarations of the Premier and his supporters in the election campaign of 1904.

The Transcontinental Railway programme was the chief issue in which the Government appealed to the people in the last election. These declarations of ministers, made in the most emphatic and authoritative way, were a pledge to the people of Canada, as to the amount of obligation and outlays involved. The campaign literature of the Government party was based on the statements of Ministers. Electors who supported the Government undoubtedly gave full weight to these solemn undertakings.

$13,000,000 WOULD PAY FOR ALL

What were these pledges?

The Premier's emphatic statement in Parliament, many times repeated on the platform was that;

The sum total of the money to be paid by the Government for the construction of the line from Moncton to the Pacific will be in the neighbourhood of $12,000,000 or $13,000,000 and not a cent more.—Hansard, 1903, page 7691.

The campaign pamphlet on the subject had for its head line;

"A transcontinental railway for $13,000,000," and in the text this authorized publication said: "It is an actual fact; an indisputable fact, that $13,000,000 will cover every cent of the Country's expenditure in connection with the railway."

Mr. Fielding, in parliament, quoted the premier's statement and declared that it was substantially correct as to the $13,000,000.

MULTIPLIED BY THREE

In the session of 1908 the Minister of Railways and the Minister of Finance made new statements in the light of their present knowledge, giving the cost to the people of Canada of this railway, on the same basis as the $13,000,000 statement of 1903 and 1904.

But so great has been the increase of cost over the estimates of four and five years before that instead of $12,000,000 or $13,000,000, Mr. Graham now makes the ultimate cost to the people on this basis $36,263,976.—Hansard, 1908, page 12,675.

Mr. Fielding, in the same discussion, endorses this announcement. But in Mr. Fielding's statement of 1903 he included in the charge the interest on four-ninths of the cost of the Quebec Bridge. In 1905 he left that out thus reducing his estimate of the interest charge by more than a million.

Here we have the two estimates on the same basis, made by the same Ministry, in a period of five years, one of $13,000,000 and one of $36,000,000, or, adding the bridge, between $39,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Yet the section to be built by the Government is probably not a quarter completed, and a large part of it was only placed under contract in July, 1908, while the mountain section is only partially located. What will the estimate be when the road approaches completion?

THE REAL OBLIGATION

Turning now from the frivolous and misleading $13,000,000 statements, we take up the actual cost and obligation which the people of Canada are to pay and assume in respect of this undertaking. They were set forth by Mr. Borden in a statement made in the House, July 7th, 1908, and recorded in Hansard, page 12,243. Before giving this, it would be well to print the return of the Minister of Railways, upon which Mr. Borden's statement is based. This is found in a sessional paper brought down by Mr. Graham, and recorded in Hansard on pages 12,238 to 12,242:

Length of the road from Moncton to Winnipeg, 1,808.55 miles
Estimated cost per mile	$ 63,427
Transcontinental share of the cost of Moncton shops	750,000
Terminals at Quebec	2,000,000
Winnipeg shops	1,500,000
Winnipeg terminals, joint arrangement with Canadian Northern—
Prairie section ......916 miles
Mountain section ...839 miles
Estimated cost of the mountain section	$61,520,000

Take now Mr. Borden's statement of the outlay and obligations of Canada in connection with this road, as based upon the Minister's latest statement:

EASTERN DIVISION

Construction of railway from Moncton to Winnipeg, 1,808.65 miles at estimated cost of $63,427 per mile	$114,393,765
Allowing five years for period of construction, there will be an average of 2 1-2 years simple interest at 3 1-2 per cent. during construction, or $4,003,781.67 per year for 2 1-2 years	10,009,454
Cost of Eastern Division at completion will thus be	124,403,219
To this must be added 7 years' interest at 3 per cent. (not compounded) after completion, during which G. T. P. is to pay no rent	26,124,676
Also interest at 3 per cent for three years additional during which no rent is collectable unless earnings are sufficient	11,196,290
	$161,724,185

QUEBEC BRIDGE

Cost of Quebec Bridge up to March 1st, 1907 (government return)	5,422,238
Estimated cost of completion	9,000,000
	$14,422,238

TERMINALS

Estimated cost of our share of terminals at Quebec, Winnipeg and Moncton and shops east of Winnipeg	5,470,000

Hon Mr Field take 2 for Saturday.

MOUNTAIN SECTION.

Cost of Mountain Section (839 miles) as stated in return brought down	$ 61,520,000
Seventy-five per cent. of the above $46,140,000 to be guaranteed by the Government for construction of Mountain Section.
And the Government agrees to pay without recourse the interest on bonds so guaranteed for 7 years, which at 3 1-2 per cent. amounts to	11,304,300

RECAPITULATION ON CASH EXPENDITURE.

Total cash expenditure and interest in respect of Eastern Division as above	124,403,219
To this must be added 7 years' interest at 3 per cent. (not compounded) after completion, during which G.T.P. is to pay rent	26,124,676
Also interest at 3 per cent. for three years additional during which time no rent is collectable unless earnings are sufficient	11,196,290
Cost of Quebec Bridge as estimated	14,422,238
Cost of terminals at Moncton, Quebec and Winnipeg and shops east of Winnipeg	5,470,000
Interest to be paid by the Government without recourse on Mountain section	11,304,300
To cash expenditure	$192,920,723

BOND GARUANTEE.

In addition to the above cash expenditure the Government incurs the following obligations on its guarantee of bonds:

Guarantee on bond issue on Mountain Section as above	46,140,000
Gurantee on bond issue on Prairie Section, 916 miles at $13,000 per mile	11,908 000
Cash expenditure	$192,920,733
Bond guarantee	58,048,000
Total	$250,966,725

ADMITS $230,000,000.

After Mr. Borden made this statement, Mr. Graham and Mr. Fielding took four days to study it over and then make their criticisms. Mr. Graham ventured to dispute only three items. One was the charge for terminals at Winnipeg, concerning which the Minister's own statement had been ambiguous. Assuming his objections to be correct, there would be a reduction of $878,750. The Minister also objected to the inclusion of the Quebec Bridge in the statement, though the bridge will be part of the G.T.P., and Mr. Fielding himself, in 1903, stated that four-ninths of the costs should be charged to the Transcontinental. The only other item to which Mr. Graham objected was the $11,196,290 interest on the cost of the eastern section for the three years during which no rent is collectable unless the earnings are sufficient. Mr. Graham believed that the earnings would be sufficient, and Mr. Fielding contended that the amount would in any case be charged against the Company. Any one who believes that the G.T.P. Company will admit that it earns sufficient to pay this rental may strike out $11,196,290. Even then if only the share of the Quebec bridge which Mr. Fielding wished to include in 1903 is allowed, the costs and obligations will still exceed $230,000,000.

A FEW COMPARISONS.

Take now the statement of construction cost as made by Ministers in 1903 and 1908.

In 1903 Mr. Fielding made an elaborate statement, said by him to be on high authority, and repeated in 1904. He declared that the road from Moncton to Winnipeg would be built for 51,300,000. (Hansard page 8,584.)

Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways, now places the cost at $114,393,765.

In 1903 Mr. Fielding computed the interest during construction at $3,309,676.

Mr. Graham now says that this interest will amount to $10,009,754.

In 1903 Mr. Fielding estimated the seven years' interest at $11,468,030.

Mr. Graham now admits that this interest will be $26,124,676.

In 1903 Mr. Fielding declared that the guarantee by the Government on the Mountain section "cannot exceed $14,400,000."

Mr. Graham now gives the cost of the Mountain section at $61,520,000, and makes the Government guarantee $46,140,000.

Mr. Fielding and all the other Ministers in their calculations of 1903 and 1904 left out the cost of terminals in the Eastern division, which they now estimate between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

In 1903 Mr. Fielding gave the cost of the Quebec Bridge at $4,500,000.

The Government is already liable for more than $6,000,000 in respect to this enterprise, and the bridge is yet to be built.

In 1903 the Ministers estimated the cost of the road from Quebec to Winnipeg at $28,000 per mile.

They now admit it will cost $63,000 per mile.

The Ministers procured official statements that the road from Quebec to Moncton would cost only $25,000 a mile, and only be 400 miles in length.

The Transcontinental Commission now estimates the cost of one division at $32,573, one at $42,000, one at $45,000, one at $51,000, one at $65,000, one at $83,000, and one at $110,000. The distance is increased to 456 miles and over part of the distance there is a "pusher grade," requiring an extra engine to push the train up.

The total estimated cost in 1903 of the Quebec to Moncton section was $10,000,000.

On the present estimate the cost will be in the neighborhood of $25,000,000.

Such were the pledges on which the Government secured the assent of Parliament and the consent of the country to the Grand Trunk Pacific contract.

Such are the admissions which the Ministers now make of the absolute worthlessness of these pledges and declarations.

THE HOOK

It is evidently useless to tell Professor Octavius to 'wipe off his chin."

A man who steals may live to regret it. This applies to a man who steals kisses from his wife during their courtship days.

A young lady named Trotter, has been elected secretary of the Girls' Athletic Association of Port Hope High School. She ought to make good on the Port Hope-Toronto return trip.

The Port Hope Times says that "boys will be boys," and as far as we can recollect we never heard of them being anything else.

The sporting editor of the Hamilton Herald comes from Port Hope. Outside of that he's a pretty decent sort of chap.

His preference for false alarms is no doubt why the editor of the Post remains among Lindsay citizens.

The Ottawa Citizen has the following item;—"The departure of Mr. Lee Mong Kow, of Victoria, B.C. Chinese interpreter, with party, for Victoria from the Central station caused considerable interest this morning. The party, which consisted of Mr. Kow, Miss Mong Kow, Miss Lee Gam Yu, Mrs. Sam Kee, and Mr. Lam Y. Bang, left on the transcontinental at 1 p.m."

Judging from their names this party ought to have a slap bang kind of a time.

SOME ROYCROFT PHILOSOPHY

Written in a sincere and kindly desire to help the young who do not know, and the older ones who sometimes forget.—Elbert Hubbard.

Inform your friends that you do not care to have them call you during working hours. All your time belongs to your employer.

Be absolutely honest with yourself and the institution of whom you are a part. Defend it, if need be, with a right swing.

When you come to your work in the morning or at noon, go directly to your desk and prepare for your day's work.

Do not talk during working hours except on business, and then only to the head of your division or the head of the department.

Do not refuse to do what you are told, nor do it grudgingly, simply because you do not understand the reason for it. If the one who tells you makes a mistake, he is the one who will suffer for it, not you.

The man who is worthy of being a leader of men will never complain of the stupidity of his helpers, of the ingratitude of mankind, nor of the inappreciation of the public. These things are all a part of the great game of life, and to meet them and not go down before them in discouragement and defeat is the final proof of power.

The first item in the commonsense creed is obedience.

Do your work with a heart! Revolt is sometimes necessary. But the man who mixes revolt and obedience is doomed to disappointment himself and everybody with whom he has dealings. To flavor work with protest is to fail absolutely.

When you revolt, why revolt — climb, get out, hike, defy—tell everybody and everything to go to limbo! That disposes of the case.

You thus separate yourself entirely from those who have served, no one misunderstands you — you have declared yourself.

But to pretend to obey, and yet carry in your heart the spirit of revolt, is to do half-hearted and slipshod work.

If revolt and obedience are equal, your engine will stop on the centre and you benefit nobody, not even yourself.

The spirit of obedience is the controlling impulse of the receptive mind and the hospitable heart.

There are boats that mind the helm and boats that don't. Those that don't get holes knocked in them sooner or later. To keep off the rocks obey the rudder.

Obedience is not to slavishly obey this man or that, but it is that cheerful mental condition which responds to the necessity of the case, and does the thing.

Obedience to the institution—loyalty! The man who has not learned to obey has trouble ahead of him every step of the way—the world has it in for him because he has it in for the world.

The man who does not know how to receive orders is not fit to issue them. But he who knows how to execute orders is preparing the way to give them, and better still—to have them obeyed.

ROLAND BOSWELL DEFENDANT IN BREACH OF PROMISE CASE

Neglected Appointment to Wed Miss Cummings and She Wants $20,000—Boswell Visited Here.

Toronto, October 1st. — A writ for $20,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage was yesterday served on Roland Boswell, of Elora, the complainant in the case being Miss Wilhelmina Cummings, of Union West Toronto.

The circumstances will be well remembered. On June 30th last Boswell was to have married Miss Cummings. All preparations had been made, the bridal party were at the bride's home in West Toronto waiting for Boswell. The minister, Rev. Mr. Hazelwood, was ready to perform the ceremony. But Boswell never came. Later it was found that he had left on the day the wedding was to have taken place with a party for England on one of Cuthbert's tours.

He has just returned from his trip and Miss Cummings has immediately taken steps to recompense herself for the damage to her feelings occasioned by Boswell's desertion.

The heartless nature of the defaulting bridegroom's conduct caused much indignation at the time. No reason could be found for it, Miss Cummings being an attractive young lady of twenty-one, while Boswell was only twenty-two ears of age.

He has plenty of money, it is said and, in fact, has a cot endowed in his name in the Sick Children's Hospital.

It will be remembered that Boswell came to Peterborough when he did not show up for the marriage in Toronto. He was the guest of friends here before sailing for the Old Country.

PAID PASTORAL VISIT TO KIRKFIELD AND VICTORIA

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor Confirmed Fifty Children at Victoria Road.

Lindsay, October 1—His Lordship Bishop O'Connor made his pastoral visit to Victoria road and Kirkfield parish Saturday and Sunday last. His Lordship said the early mass in Kirkfield and gave a most practical instruction. At 10.30 o'clock Father O'Sullivan said high mass at Victoria road, after which His Lordship preached a most eloquent sermon, taking for his text, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap" — Galatians 6.7. After the sermon Bishop O'Connor said he was very much delighted at the great improvements made since his last visit to the parish, and highly appreciated the innumerable efforts put forth by the pastor, Father O'Sullivan. His Lordship spoke in most praiseworthy terms of the chief benefactress and the cooperation of the whole parish.

Miss Gallagher sang the solemn high mass. Solos were beautifully rendered by Miss Shields, accompanied by Miss Graham which was followed by the confirmation of fifty children, who marched from the presbytery to the church singing, "Come, Holy Ghost" the little girls looking very sweet in their wreaths and veils.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament took place at four o'clock p.m., at which Father O'Sullivan addressed the children.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS, YOUNG MAN HELD UP LAST NIGHT

Raymond Perry, the seventeen year old son of Mrs. M. E. Perry, 231 Hunter street, was the victim of a hold up on Aylmer street just north of the tannery, last evening about half past seven. This morning the young fellow was still in a semi-conscious condition and was unable to give the particulars of the affair.

He was found shortly after ten o'clock lying unconscious at the north side of the tannery. He was carried into the office of Dr. Leach. Dr. Marshall was called. The young man must have received a severe blow on the back of the head which stunned him. When he partially recovered he found that his watch had been taken.

The police were notified and are working on the case. As the particulars of the affair gained from the victim were not very vague, not much clue was given them to work on.

BROKE WINDOWS

On Friday night, about midnight, some parties supposed to be returning from Frankford fair, stopped in front of Mr. R. W. Warrants have been issued for the guilty persons, but at latest accounts, no arrests had been made.

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS.

With the coming of October, the social season is renewed and the lady who calls and receives finds the days and weeks growing all too short to accomplish all that is desired. The task of keeping accurate dates as to the reception days and addresses of her acquaintances becomes one of considerable importance. In fact, it is impossible to do so unless one has some system, whereby it may be seen at a glance just who may be receiving upon a certain day. The visiting list records published by the Review, are invaluable for the society lady, and they may be secured at all bookstores and at the Review Office, for fifty cents.

WEDDING BELLS

UMPHREY—WILSON

A wedding of considerable local interest took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. W. E. Wilson, of Russell street, when Miss Martha A. Wilson was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. W. Umphrey, of East Toronto, and formerly of Lindsay.

On account of the illness of the bride's brother, the wedding was a very quiet one and only the immediate relatives of the contracting couple were present. Rev. J. R. Real performed the ceremony. Miss Alice Stanton, of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Stanley Umphrey, of Burnt River, supported the groom.

The bride was dressed in cream point d'esprit over cream taffeta silk trimmed with Irish point lace and ribbon, and the bridesmaid in cream raw silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Umphrey left on the 6.23 train for Stratford, where they will spend a few weeks. After their return they will take up residence at 223 Gerrard street, East Toronto.—Lindsay Warder.

McMILLAN—JOHNSTON

A pretty house wedding was solemnized at the residence of Dr. T. Johnston, V.S., corner of Brown St. and Monaghan road this afternoon at two o'clock when his eldest daughter, Miss Effa M. Johnston was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert McMillan of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major, of All Saints church in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father who gave her away, entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding-march played by Miss Addie Dixon, cousin of the bride. The bride and groom were unattended. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of navy blue broad cloth, with hat to match.

After the ceremony had been performed and hearty congratulations had been bestowed upon the young couple a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of.

A large number of beautiful and costly presents were received, testifying to the high esteem in which the bride and groom were held.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillan left on the 4.38 train for Toronto and Buffalo, and on their return to the city will reside on Rogers St., Ashburnham.

HORSE KICKED; BUGGY SMASHED

Dr. Russell of Bailieboro' Had Exciting Experience

Wednesday evening, while the C.P.R. regular 7.30 train was travelling at a speed of about 50 miles an hour between Janetville and Lindsay three fine large horses were struck by the engine and two were killed.

The engineer saw three horses on the track and put on the brakes, endeavoring to stop the train, but he was too late. After the engine came to a standstill it was found that two of the animals were killed. The first one hit was knocked about 20 feet and alighted in a neighboring field, while the other was found wedged between the iron supports of the cow-catcher. The third was found lying helpless at the side of the rails with two of its legs broken and other parts of its body badly torn.

With the assistance of some of the passengers and trainmen the animals were removed from the track to a ditch near by.

SLAUGHTER OF MOUNTAIN GOATS

Killed in Droves When They are Caught Below the Snow Line

Bellingham, October 2— Mountain goats are not only being shot out of season but killed in droves when they are caught below the snow line by hunters on Mount Baker, according to the statement of eye witnesses who have seen bales of their hides shipped in from the hills. Game Warden Loomis is on the trail of the lawless game butchers, and states that he will prosecute them to the full extent of the law if he can catch them with the relics of the chase in their possession.

The state game law protects the female goats at all season of the year, and the males at all times excepting during the deer season. The law is now off on the bucks, but the kill of local hunters is declared to have included species of both sexes. One instance cited as particularly flagrant is that of a party of three hunters shooting eight at one stand and boldly packing their hides in on the Bellingham Bay and British Columbia train yesterday.

VOL. LVII., No. 79. PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1908 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

AGENT IS STILL MISSING AND WARRANT IS ISSUED

Fear is Expressed That Lorne McTaggart Has Committed Suicide Because of Disaster—Is an Orphan and New at the Work.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of young McTaggart, the operator who neglected to close the switch at Mimico, which let the C.P.R. express crash into a Grand Trunk transfer engine on a siding night before last, resulting in the death of Engineer Quinn and injury to two other men.

McTaggart, who is only 19, has not been heard of in the city since the accident. His uncle, W. O. McTaggort, real estate and insurance broker, spent yesterday telephoning and telegraphing to all points where the young man might be likely to go, but to no avail.

While half believing that his nephew, who was last seen Thursday night making toward the lake, may have made away with himself in the stress of emotion consequent upon the accident. Mr. McTaggart is nourishing a hope that he will yet turn up among relatives in Western Ontario.

The fugitive is an orphan, and his uncle thinks that probably on this account he fears to brave an investigation, thinking that nobody would concern himself in his behalf. But his uncle is very anxious that the boy should be found, and declaring that he will personally stand by him through the difficulty.

The lad has been a qualified telegraph operator only since Aug. 19. He passed the Grand Trunk telegraphers' examination the last week in June, and went on as a relief night operator at South Parkdale about the middle of July. Then he was sent to Bronte as a full-fledged operator, from where he was removed to Mimico the night before the tragedy to fill a vacancy occasioned by the illness of the regular day operator and station agent.

According to Fireman Jarvis, who was seen in Western Hospital yesterday, it was only due to the heroism and presence of mind of the dead engineer that a great many passengers were not probably killed or maimed. After the express had plunged into the open switch, and while he might have taken a chance and jumped before his engine collided with the Grand Trunk engine, he remained to throw on the emergency brakes, and, as a consequence, the train stopped without a single car leaving the rails.

INCANDESCENT LAMP SET FIRE TO THE BED CLOTHES

A youn man who resides on Aylmer street had a somewhat narrow escape from being badly burned on Thursday night. Going home about 11 o'clock, he hung an incandescent lamp over his head that he might read the paper. He soon fell asleep and shortly afterwards the lamp got loose from its insecure nail and fell into the bed. It was heated very hot and soon set the clothing on fire. The young man was burned on the knee and soon the room was full of smoke. Being a cool chap, the young man tried to smother the fire with the rest of the bedding, but being unable to do so, was forced to use water to extinguish the flames. The people in the house were aroused by the battle against the flames and considerable excitement prevailed for a time.

CORNER STONE TO BE LAID NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The date has been decided upon for the laying of the corner stone of St. James' church, the new Methodist church in the south end of the city. This important event will take place on Saturday, October the 10th, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Hon. Senator Cox has promised to be present and will lay the stone. Rev. R. McCullough, of Omemee, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, take the ritual part of the ceremony. All the ministers of the city have been invited to be present.

It is expected that the new edifice will be completed about the first of next March. Services will be continued in the tent as long as the weather permits and until suitable quarters have been obtained to hold them in, until the new building is ready.

SAW GIRL KILLED BY CAR IN STREET IN CHICAGO

Mr. Frank Simpson of this city has returned home from a holiday trip to Grand Rapids, Chicago and several other American cities. While in Chicago Mr. Simpson saw a girl run over and killed by a street car. The accident took place on Canal street, at a point where traffic was very congested. The unfortunate girl attempted to cross the street and was struck by a large automobile and thrown under a passing street car. The girl was badly mangled and death followed almost instantaneously.

Mr. Simpson says that the big departmental store of Marshall Field and Company now have a room fitted up in their premises where marriages are performed. A minister is on hand to perform the ceremony and everything can be secured on the premises to furnish a home except a wife.

STORY IS FEARFUL

Fifty Thousand Dead at Bombay.

Newspaper Correspondent Has Managed to Reach Hyderabad and Says City is in Terrible State.

Bombay, Oct. 3.—The correspondent of a local newspaper who has reached Hyderabad, the capital of the flooded district, describes that city as a vast grave.

The streets and bazaars have been transformed into a gruesome mass of stone and mud and decomposed flesh.

It is impossible accurately to estimate the death roll in the stricken region, the correspondent declares, but some natives put it as high as fifty thousand.

Six hundred corpses were taken out of the mud at one spot Thursday. The funeral pyres are burning day and night.

The damage is estimated at two hundred million rupees.

Hurricane in Bahamas.

Nassau, New Providence, Bahamas, Oct. 3.—A hurricane swept over New Providence Thursday. There was no serious damage ashore, but several vessels were blown out to sea and it is estimated that six lives were lost.

Caught In Shafting.

Kingston, Oct. 3.—John Lillon, aged 65, was terribly injured at the locomotive works and may not recover. He was caught while oiling machinery in the shafting. He has four ribs broken, as well as other injuries.

ADRIFT ON LAKE

Toronto Clergyman's Exciting Experience at Lake Simcoe.

Lindsay, Oct. 3.—A Lindsay citizen who has been in Orillia for a few days, tells of a thrilling predicament in which a Toronto clergyman was placed while fishing at Roach's Point, Lake Simcoe, recently.

Rev. Peter Addison, of Toronto, an old gentleman 80 years of age, had an experience last week which luckily did not end disastrously. Mr. Addison had been camping at Roach's Point all summer, and on Saturday afternoon about one o'clock he went out to catch a few fish. After fishing for an hour or so he started for shore, but, there being a fog, he evidently took the wrong direction. A heavy sea was running on Lake Simcoe at the time, accompanied by a stiff north breeze. After a few hours' struggle the old gentleman still found himself on the open lake, into which he was carried further and further by the long rolling waves. He spent Saturday night in the boat and on Sunday renewed his efforts to reach shore. He could still see nothing but the water and the wall of impenetrable fog. All day Sunday he drifted and rowed although by this time having had no food since noon the day before, he was in a rather weak condition. Night again closed down upon him. On Monday morning he caught sight of land for the first time and landed at Mooley Point, near Uptergrove. He made his way to the house of Mr. Jackson, where he arrived in a rather precarious condition, after spending two nights and two days on the lake. During the 48 hours he drifted 25 miles.

WHY THERE IS A POOR PROSPECT OF WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

The Increased Payment of Canadian Money for Foreign-made Goods is the Liberal Idea of Increase in Trade—Enormous Amount of Money Gone Out of the Country to Foreign or British Workmen.

The following table shows the increase since 1896 of imports in some particular lines. The comparison would be still more striking if the figures for 1907 could be used, but the change in the fiscal year makes this impossible.

Imports	1896	1906
Breadstuffs	$6,417,767	10,955,499
Brick, clays and tiles	261,000	1,220,912
Carriages	1,410,473	1,003,022
Cement	252,882	4,462,095
Cocoa, chocolate, etc	1,049,433	4,462,095
Twine of all kinds	261,032	2,013,091
Cottons	5,229,059	10,745,206
Earthenware	566,393	1,674,817
Fish and their products	947,068	1,996,527
Flax, hemp, and mfs of	2,745,582	5,212,231
Gloves and mitts	636,618	1,167,094
Hats, caps and bonnets	1,485,742	2,690,839
Leather and mfs of	1,243,113	3,031,569
Brass and manufacures	542,874	1,938,169
Copper and mfs of	295,054	3,102,736
Agricultural implements	469,875	1,615,123
Iron and steel manfs	10,203,052	44,975,607
Minerals and manfs of	14,550,251	59,839,930
Paper and manfs of	1,002,434	3,176,955
Provisions	1,228,041	3,189,704
Vegetables	298,861	936,154
Wood and manfs of	2,904,196	8,656,370
Manufacturers of wool	8,773,857	17,892,398

This table deserves attention. Canada is a food producing country, yet it nearly doubled its imports of breadstuffs in ten years. Cement is one of our natural industries and the importation is nearly quadrupled. The Canadian twine industry has remained stagnant in spite of the greatly increased demand, whilst imports have increased eightfold. Our cotton factories are not getting their share of the increased business and imports have doubled. We have more than doubled our importations of leather goods. While we talk of shipping agricultural implements to France under the new treaty, we have trebled our imports of those articles. We are sending pulpwood to the United States and importing three times as much paper as we did twelve years ago. Our imports of wood manufactures have increased threefold and while our woollen industry is having the struggle of its life, imports have more than doubled.

BATHING PLACE AT INVERLEA PARK IS NEARLY FINISHED

The idea of having a public bathing place in this city is a good one, and although it may not appeal very strongly to citizens during the present cold weather next summer it will be greatly appreciated by picknickers and visitors to Inverlea park.

When the proposition was brought up to fix up a suitable place for bathing it was agreed by the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company and the Park Commissioners that the former construct the cement wall, hemming in the water set apart for bathing purposes. The concrete work has been completed. It is built thirty feet from the shore and about fifteen inches in thickness.

The Park Commissioners will fill it in with sand and thus an ideal bathing spot will be made. A public swimming place has been needed in this city for some time and the one now being put into shape will no doubt be well patronized, especially by the women and children. It will be perfectly safe, as the water is not deep and children's lives will not be endangered by playing there.

FELL OFF SIDEWALK INTO DEEP DITCH AND BADLY HURT

When returning home last evening about nine o'clock, along Smith street, Joseph Williams had an experience which he will not soon forget. Near the railway track at the side of the street is quite a deep ditch filled with brush and other rubbish. It is rather dark at this point, and Mr. Williams, who is a man well up in years, stumbled and fell over into the gully below.

Mr. Williams laid there for some time before he succeeded in getting anyone to his assistance. Shortly after ten o'clock a young man passing by, heard someone yelling and went to see what was the matter. He found the old gentleman lying in the brush. His face was badly scratched and his clothing was torn. He was pretty well shaken up and likely would have laid there for hours had not this young man found him.

He was taken to his home, but fortunately his injuries are not of a serious nature.

LEADER VISITS SIMCOE AND ADDRESSES BIG GATHERING

Forty-five Hundred Join in Giving Borden a Big Reception—Candidate McCall Favors Public Ownership—Laurier Has Thrown Away Opportunities.

Simcoe, Oct. 3.—The largest meeting outside of Toronto of the tour of the Conservative leader was held here last night.

Mr. Borden came to town at noon from Durham and spent the afternoon in company with the party of stalwarts viewing the points of interest. Last night the new rink, which has accommodation for 6,000 persons, was three-quarters filled. Special trains brought in several hundred people. With the Tillsonburg band three hundred came from Delhi and Courtland, 150 from Port Rowan and equal number from Port Dover.

H. Harding, president of the Norfolk Conservative Association, was in the chair. He had on the platform with him, beside the visiting speakers, Hon. David Tisdale, the late member, Alex. McCall, the candidate in this contest; Hugh P. Innes and A. C. Pratt, the members-elect of the Legislature.

Mr. McCall, the candidate, made a straight cut declaration in favor of public ownership. He said he was squarely behind Mr. Borden, who was the first leader of a political party to come out in favor of reforms the country had been waiting for for years.

"We must," he said, "commence to apply public ownership to the people's services. It is only protection people have against extortion."

The Conservative leader was given a splendid reception.

Passing to a consideration of public questions, Mr. Borden discussed the preference, charging Sir Wilfrid Laurier with having thrown away the chance of securing concessions in the British market. This mutual preference would, in his opinion, make the products of every Norfolk County farm worth at least 25 per cent. more. The action of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a distinct violation of a distinct engagement made with the people of this country, "and I venture to think," he said, "that the mutual preference will one day be accomplished."

BULGARIA GETTING READY FOR WAR WITH SOMEBODY

London, Oct. 3.—A news agency despatch from Sofia says it is officially announced there that M. Malinoff, president of the council, has telegraphed Prince Ferdinand, who is making a tour of Europe, requesting him to return to Sofia. The message is said to intimate the urgency of the situation. It is stated that Prince Ferdinand received the telegram, and that his immediate return is expected.

All the factories capable of supplying war material, the despatch adds, are working day and night, and preparations for mobilization are being openly pushed forward.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The Lokal Anzeiger's Constantinople correspondent has had an interview with Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister, on the subject of the controversy between Bulgaria and Turkey, which is regarded as having taken a serious turn in consequence of Russia's note demanding the giving up of that portion of the Oriental Railway that Bulgaria recently seized.

In the course of the interview, the Foreign Minister said: "Russia has taken energetic steps against Sofia in regard to the matter. In fact, so much foreign capital is invested in the Oriental Railway, its seizure was really robbery, but the restoration of former conditions will prove a hard task for the powers. I do not, however, expect complications for Turkey.

"Regarding the independence of Bulgaria, there is no hurry. Turkey will take up this subject from a legal standpoint, which the powers also recognize."

DEPORTING OFFICER HERE TO TAKE ENGLISH FAMILY

Mr. Devlin, the deporting officer from Ottawa, was in the city yesterday afternoon, making arrangements for the deporting of an Englishman, his wife and family. He will call here the latter part of next week and take them to Montreal.

The man is unable to get work here and he and his family have been of some expense to the city.

Charity agent, Mr. Finch Miller, related an example of the impertinence of some of the English immigrant families in the city.

A man who has been living with the one to be deported called on him yesterday and told him that when his friend is gone he would most likely be turned into the street.

"And if I am," he said, "I will bring my wife and children to you, for the town to support."

Mr. Miller informed him that he better not try anything like that or he would throw them all on the street.

This Englishman is not working and has apparently nothing to live on.

THREE LITTLE MAIDS COMING BACK TO CITY

Return Engagement of the "Three Little Maids" Company on Thursday, Oct. 8th.

The "Three Little Maids," the charming English musical comedy which achieved a world-wide reputation and popularity when it was presented at the Prince of Wales Theatre and Appollo Theatre, in London, for two years, and then in New York, at Daly's Theatre for two hundred and twenty nights after which the production toured Australia for a year.

In planning an elaborate and sumptuous revival of this gem of light opera the management has spared no expense to make the production as complete as the original one that was given in the larger cities. He has been fortunate enough to secure several English players who were in the original cast in London, and has augmented the cast by the addition of a number of actors well known in both continents.

This is the first time in several years that the music-loving patrons of this city have had a chance to see a really first-class production, and it is to be hoped that the general public will appreciate the enterprise of the local manager and turn out in numbers sufficient to justify him in keeping up this standard of attractions.

HAVELOCK GROWING RAPIDLY NEW BUILDINGS GOING UP

Havelock, Oct. 3rd. — Although to a certain degree, stopped by the recent fire, Havelock stil continues to grow and expand. Buildings are going up on every hand and, step by step, foot by foot, this busy railroad town is still growing from a small village covering a few acres of ground into a place with a population of 1600 and an assessment of $235,000, which shows that it is far superior to the surrounding villages and is bound to beat them all in the race to one of the leading centres of population.

Take the Village of Norwood, to the west. It was incorporated in 1876, while Havelock was not until 1891. Now the population of Havelock is 1600, while that of Norwood is but 1100.

Building operations in Havelock have been very brisk all summer and still continue; and the town is piercing farther and farther into the land which were, but a few years ago, covered with forest.

The recent fire, which in a small space of time wiped out $45,000 of property, is the cause of the recent activity in building operations.

Mr. S. S. Joyce's building is nearing completion and will present a good appearance on the corner of George and Oak streets. All the debris of the fire has been cleaned away and Mr. J. V. A. Coon is erecting a new brick veneer store 45 x 50 feet on the site of his old store. Mr. Jas. Thompson is erecting a new store adjoining his present one, and Mr. Jas. Watson's, which will be 38 x 60 feet and be brick veneered. It will be brick veneer. It will be occupied by Mr. McGregor, baker, and Mr. V. McKay, Tailor. Mr. McGregor will discontinue baking until the new building is completed, but Mr. V. McKay has found apartments in Dr. Dunkle's old stand.

The Daily Review
SATURDAY, OCT. 3, 1908.

DENOUNCED BY A FRIEND

Ald. Bengough has plunged into the campaign on behalf of the Ottawa grafters. He is issuing cartoons, in which he represents the leaders of the Conservative party as dealing in slanders and lies. The Conservative party is represented by him as a vixen shouting nothing but falsehood. This is not the first time, however, that City Father Bengough has spoken upon this grafting business.

Two years ago Mr. Bengough wrote a letter to Sir Wilfrid Laurier drawing his attention to it, and suggesting that it be stopped. He told Sir Wilfrid he had been reading the advertisements of the Saskatchewan Land Company—the company organized by Mr. Adamson, M.P., to which the Laurier Government had given 250,000 acres of land at $1 an acre—and he said that the feeling he experienced when he read the announcements was one of mingled pity and indignation—

"Pity for the incoming thousands of honest souls to whom we look for the building up of our glorious western country, and indignation against the mistaken statesmanship which has made the existence of such middlemen companies or land speculators possible." The scheme, he proceeded to explain, was one through which the speculators would make millions out of the actual settler. He continued;—

"I find it difficult to express my sense of the folly and wickedness of the policy now in vogue—a policy which deliberately puts the public heritage in the hands of outsiders so that the drones may legally absorb the natural revenue." . . . "Can any man allege that these land companies perform any useful function? Are they not simply parasites? Can genuine statesmanship tolerate their existence?

"I do not know what the feeling of your own heart may be on this subject—the greatest by far that is before our country to-day in real importance—but for my part, as a lover of my country, and of the men and women who are coming into it to be my fellow-Canadians, I denounce in the name of God and humanity this legalized system of robbery."

The facts concerning the matter which called forth Mr. Bengough's protest have since been made public. It is not known that "the drones" who are absorbing the natural revenue are politicians of the Sifton type, and that the "folly and wickedness" which has established the system of "legalized robbery" which Mr. Bengough denounces, not only in the name of humanity, but also in the name of the Almighty, is the folly and wickedness of the men whom he asks the people to retain in office.

The Laurier Government, Ald. Bengough admits, is robbing the people in its land transactions. But it does not stop here. It taxes the people in the purchase of lumber and of fuel, in the interests of Burrows and Fraser. It taxes them again when they purchase on behalf of the coal barons. It even given politicians a "rake-off" on the fish that are caught in the West. And with his own letter in his mind, Ald. Bengough has the daring to picture the enemies of the "folly and wickedness" he has condemned as slanderers. —The Mail and Empire.

THESE ARE NOT CONSERVATIVES

Mr. Fielding took up the parable in Nova Scotia this week where he made the audacious statement that all the offences brought home to public officers were committed by appointees of the Conservative Government. Even Mr. Fielding's Transcontinental estimates were not so ridiculously false. Does Mr. Fielding say that the emergency food was perpetrated by a Conservative? On the contrary, it was an old official who warned the Government in vain that the food was bogus and comparatively worthless. Mr. Nixon, perpetrator of frauds in the land office, is not a Conservative, but was twice a Liberal appointee, once before the offence and once at a higher salary afterwards. Philip Wagner, swindler of the poor Galician immigrants, who put in his own pocket the hard savings entrusted to him by simple, confiding people, is also doubly a Liberal appointee, having been placed in office first by Mr. Oliver, and replaced at double the former salary after two terms in gaol. The immigration commissioner who "made money on the side" was a Liberal appointee, and has since been promoted. The postmaster who was dismissed on the Inspector's recommendation for taking public money, and who after additional campaign service, was restored to office and paid for the whole time he was out, was not a Conservative appointment. Dredging Inspector Eastwood, who took $3 a day for his services, farmed out the job at $1.25 a day to another inspector, whose whole time was paid for by the Government, and then went off to his private employment, ingeniously charging the Government for imaginary boat hire and extra hours, was appointed by the Laurier Government and has never been asked to return the stolen money. The other inspector, who secretly took this extra pay, was an active Liberal.

THESE ARE ALL LIBERALS.

The Commissioner who gave the middlemen $122,000 rake-off on St. Boniface land was a recent appointment of the Laurier Government. It was a member of the Laurier Government who ordered and authorized two Moncton land deals, the Truro deal and the Halifax deal. The officer of the Militia Department, who by forgery, took from $50,000 to $100,000 out of the Treasury, had been recently foisted on the Department by the Laurier machine and rapidly promoted over the heads of old officers. One officer now under suspension in connection with the lighthouse department contracts, was appointed originally by the Conservatives. But he was a young temporary clerk at $2 a day when the change of Government came. Afterwards he was suddenly picked up and pushed to the very head of his branch by the present Government, and the Chief Engineer of the Department has sworn to the belief that his promotion was made by the influence of contractors over the Ministers. It need hardly be said that Hug-the-Machine Preston, of the North Atlantic scandal, was not appointed by the Conservatives. The officials who have distributed the Western land, timber, coal and fisheries among political heelers, including their own family connections were not placed in office by Conservatives. The officials who have distributed the Western land, timber, coal and fisheries, among political heelers, including their own family connections, were not placed in office by Conservatives. "The Big Four" of the Northwest land grabbing combination, are all in Parliament voting for the Government. Mr. Stratton, of the Gamey conspiracy, is a candidate for Parliament, but not on the Opposition side. A. W. Fraser, the bidder under borrowed names for timber limits, is a Government candidate in Ottawa. Mr. Fielding and his associates are supported by the whole gang of political dredging contractors, East and West.

A CONFESSION

It seems that in Ottawa, Mr. A. W. Fraser has been compelled to resign the Liberal candidature for the Commons. Mr. Fraser is one of the partisans who has been exceedingly fortunate in timber dealings with the Government. But, as the Ottawa Journal points out, Mr. Fraser is a lawyer whose calling does not extend to any special knowledge of timber or lumber, and who is not, and never has been in the lumber manufacturing business. In 1901, however, he obtained from the Ottawa Government, for a sum between $1,650 and $4,000, certain timber limits, which he sold for $100,000. This is a transaction which would do credit to any timber expert, however the proceeding may be regarded from the standpoint of the country.

Mr. Fraser was also the chief figure in another transaction. In September, 1903, he made application to the Government for sixty square miles of timber around Cedar Lake, north of Lake Winnipegosis, or rather to have this limit put up for tender. The application, as has been said, was made in September, 1903. On October 12th the Department called for tenders to be received by December 2nd, and placed advertisements to this effect in one newspaper at Dauphin and one at Winnipeg. It was necessary, therefore, that tenders should be in within a few weeks after the Government had reached its decision of Mr. Fraser's application, and within still less time after the appearance of the advertisements. Few persons would see the advertisements, and no one could examine the limit. Before Lake Winnipeg could be reached, the steamers on that body of water would be stopped for the season. It was too late for canoe travel and too early for travel on the ice. It is a natural assumption that Mr. Fraser and his associates had obtained all necessary knowledge of the limit before application was made to the Department, while the conditions of tender made intelligent competition by practical lumbermen impossible.

As would be expected, and as would seem to have been intended, there was no competition. There was only one bid and that was from Mr. Fraser himself. He put in a tender of $500 and obtained the limit. He got an increase of thirty miles, without any addition to the $500 bonus. He was permitted to select his ninety miles over a large region, and was given four years to pick out his lands and file his surveys. But, as the Ottawa Journal, in a very clear statement of the transaction, is careful to point out, the Government conceived that it had to sell the property in six weeks and at a season of the year singularly unfavorable to competitive bidding! Mr. Fraser and his associates next proceeded to offer the limits for sale and an extract from the prospectus issued by real estate agents at Winnipeg reads as follows: "Cedar Lake, which is situated on Saskatchewan waters, is comprised of something over 100 square miles, and is estimated at 250,000,000 feet. The timber on this berth would work to advantage in connection with the former berth. As you will notice by the accompanying plan, there is one short portage to land the logs from Cedar Lake to Lake Winnipegosis, a distance of from two and a half to three miles. The waters in both lakes are of the same level and the country lying in between the two lakes is of a low, flat nature. The timber is immediately surrounding the shores of the lake stated, for sixty square miles, together with the islands or portions of the islands that have been selected. The survey has been made, but up to the present time I am not in possession of the plans. The timber is of good quality and fairly clean, more so than the timber in the Erwood and Red Deer districts, but not quite so large. The price for this block is $500,000."

The net result is that a limit which Mr. Fraser obtained for $500 is offered for $500,000, and good arguments are advanced to show that the property is worth the money. In view of all the facts, the Journal asks if Mr. Fraser should be sent to parliament and made a public trustee of what is left of the national estate. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has evidently been forced to decide otherwise, and in the effort to save the Ottawa seats for the Government he himself will appear as a candidate at the capital. What the country needs to remember, however, is that this and other similar transactions were exposed by the Opposition, that Mr. Ames, at his own expense, was obliged to make investigation into these Western timber dealings, and that he was required to make a desperate fight in order to get his evidence before parliament and the country. In the United States Mr. Roosevelt and the Washington Administration energetically co-operated with the Western communities in order to reclaim lands and timber which had been rashly and improperly alienated, while in Canada the contest had to be carried on against a hostile Government and desperate partisan blockers in the Parliamentary committees. Not another word is necessary to establish the guilt and weakness of the Government and the necessity for a change at Ottawa—Toronto News.

EDITORIAL NOTES

How is Laurier to continue his policy if there is a huge deficit now accumulating for this year?

"We should not tolerate any man in a public position who, by his acts, brings shame upon the community and its civilization."—Catholic Record.

Mr. Fraser's retirement possibly will help the Government in Ottawa, but it is a pretty frank confession by the Government that the operations in western timber which the Government defend in Parliament will not bear investigation before the people. Mr. Fraser is simply a member of a group. He is not the only beneficiary of a vicious system. If the other members of the group are not disciplined as Mr. Fraser has been disciplined, it is because they seem to the Government to have a better chance of winning than would be possible in a constituency as reasonably well enlightened as Ottawa is.—Ottawa Journal.

Financier Attaches City Property For Debt, But Loses It Again.

Saskatoon, Oct. 3.—Some time ago a financier sold half a million worth of town bonds in London, for which he sent in a bill for $5,000.

The council being dilatory in paying, he garnisheed the town account. In the absence of the city solicitor, he obtained judgment by default for the amount, and the sheriff seized all movable city property, including the fire engines, etc.

But this is where the Gilbertian side of the affair comes in. James Flanagan, a prominent local hotel man, was owed some $5,000 by the financier, and promptly garnisheed his seizure to cover this debt, so he is now no better off than before.

No One to Blame.

Brantford, Oct. 3.—No one is blamed for the explosion disaster. After sitting all night the coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict in connection with the recent explosion which wrecked Colborne street buildings and caused two deaths. The verdict was that the explosion was due to natural gas, which had been ignited by either Holstock or Blayborough, one of whom lighted a match while the two were sitting on the steps in front of the theatorium. Further it was held that gas had leaked into the theatorium cellar through a dead end pipe which had been connected with the new main by mistake.

The jury did not refer to the responsibility or place the blame.
